ROAD BUILDING IN 1920 WILL BE TREMENDOUS

Expert of Bureau of Public Roads Gives Facts and Figures of Next Year's Activities

Washington, October 27, 1914.—To the State Highway Department, the following report on the state highway departments may take a large measure of satisfaction that road building is the one big public activity which will occur early in 1915, which opened a large field for unemployed labor, which offered a market for construction material, and which has continued to increase in volume as the months have passed. It is too early to have definite figures available for this year's production of roads and their cost, but it is estimated that the expenditures in 1915 for hard surfaced highways, exclusive of sand-stay and similar roads, will total approximately $125,000,000. The largest previous year's total expenditures for like purposes in 1914, was $135,000,000.

But the test of the building or nonbuilding is ahead. The estimated summary of the funds which will be available for highway work in 1920 for the construction of surfaced highways is as follows:

Brought forward from unfinished work 1919 1,715,000,000

Total 1,715,000,000

Less available from state and county taxes and federal aid 275,000,000

One-third of the available balance of state and county bond issues not before available 200,000,000

One-third of the available balance of state and county bond issues previously available 650,000,000

Available from new bond issues to be voted the fall of 1919 and spring of 1920 100,000,000

Total 1,420,000,000

This large total is more than four times the amount of money that has been expended during any previous year for the purpose of accomplishing the physical undertaking of putting into actual road construction this sum or anywhere near this sum in any previous year. It is so much greater than any program that has heretofore been attempted that a great increase in the principal factors controlling the entire production of high way is absolutely essential. These principal factors are material supply, shipping facilities, labor supply and organization.

The acute deficiency of open top cars demands that our first attention be directed towards increasing shipping facilities for road materials. These facilities may be increased by two methods; first, by the more efficient use of open top car equipment, and second, by a large increase in the supply of new cars. During frequent conferences with the railroad administration it has become apparent that a more efficient use may be made of the present open top car equipment by starting the shipping season earlier than has been the general practice in the past. It has been customary to wait until contractors' organizations were ready to begin work before starting the shipping season. Under these conditions well over a million thousands of open top cars have been idle during the latter part of February, all of March, and the earlier part of April. In the spring of 1913, the number of open top cars that were idle totaled more than 250,000.

As the season advanced and road contracts were actually under way, the car shortage manifested itself here and there almost continuously, but at three different times complaints received at the department were such that we must recognize that if a strike threatens the railroads, road material will not be moved because it is not profitable. If the movement of road materials is stopped, there will be a shortage of cars for the movement of road materials. The importance of the matter is so obvious that it must be pressed upon the public and the railroads, and for the present the road builders must coordinate their calls for service so far as possible with the situation which exists, that at any critical moment when shipping facilities are involved, road materials will be the first to suffer.

Therefore, everything possible must be done to facilitate transportation of road materials under these handicaps. Railroad transportation has become too important a factor in the amount of work that can be accomplished to allow it longer to be regarded as incidental. It has become the biggest item in road production. Contracts should be awarded as early as possible that the contractors may know the amount of material they will require at different points and there should be encouraged to place their orders for the material required well in advance of the time they will be actually required to be used. The placing of material in storage packages is more expensive, but this expense is small in comparison to the expense of a large stock market when the contractor's organization is waiting.

From the experience of the past year it is evident that the contractors' organizations that contract when they are awarded during the winter months will have the opportunity to be supplied with material which requires little handling. Some contracts should be awarded early and some later, though it is not possible to place their orders at the same time. The contractors' organizations should be encouraged to place their orders as early as possible, and to place their orders as late as possible, so that they will have had their material in the year and material supplies have not been used during the winter months. The contractors' organizations should be encouraged to place their orders as early as possible, and to place their orders as late as possible, so that they will have had their material in the year and material supplies have not been used during the winter months.

Every effort in an administrative organization in the road building organization and to the public confidence which has been shown by the appropriations of large and immediate production of roads as a means for highway improvement, by such as bonds have been voted. The adopting every method that will help, but that more than four times as

Separate Skirts for Late Autumn

The separate skirt recently favored with American women has become a fashion for the advancement. It has in with a new order of things to appear, and that is, the demand for smart, sleeky clothes that remain in form over though they are made of rich or shiny fabrics. But American women don't very decided preferences in the styles they choose; their taste runs toward plain skirts of heavy stiller materials and skirts of goose-rip or organic with wide hems and tucks. The trend is away from frills, and with clever originalities, in details of finishing and making, are all the more appreciated because of this. Paris has presented for fall, somewhat elaborate models of striped and plaid skirt and other materials, and possibly, with the coming of cold weather, we may take up with these.

Here is a skirt for present wear in heavy white crepe material. It has the fashionable length and wide hem, the latter serving to lighten the supple crepe as that it hangs beautifully. Its very wide, folded skirt is loose about the waist but its casual folds are tucked to place. It fastens at the side with snap fasteners under a narrow fold, but two large, handsome buttons make a fine pretense of usefulness, placed over the invisible fasteners.

Little baskets are embedded in brown wool on the skirt, and yellow buttons, that may be transferred, as coming to your imagination, into fruit or flowers, overflow them. These little baskets have handles of the brown wool which serve to emphasize the skirt pockets that slip into the skirt at each side under them. Except for these there would be nothing unusual about this skirt but with them it has the one thing needful to put it in the class of distinctive models.

The blouse worn with this skirt is a tailored model of white crepe de chine, but these handsome skirts are very adaptable to the most with much finer homes that the one pictured when occasion demands them.

Julie Bromley

It is the lowest price and the most efficient expenditure of the money.

One of the greatly enlarged programs of road construction and the large amount of material required, which will have to go over because of lack of road materials, it would be unnecessary to further increase the need for taking advantage of the supply of open top car equipment in February, March and April.

It is apparent that many contractors who have not been so equipped are looking to the highway field, and that the contractors' organizations will be expanded. The need for more open top cars and equipment, and the transportation and the supply of materials cannot be so readily increased, and the rate of the greatly increased needs.

One of the most important steps in the road building organization is to adopt a program of increased production of roads and material supplies have not been used during the winter months. The contractors' organizations should be encouraged to place their orders as early as possible, and to place their orders as late as possible, so that they will have had their material in the year and material supplies have not been used during the winter months.

RED CROSS SEAL SALE FOR WHITE PLAGUE CONTROL

State Association Official Is Here With Word of Drive Starting December 1

"Red Cross Christmas seals are the great driving force behind the movement to combat and control tuberculosis," declared M. S. Parker, field secretary of the Idaho Anti-Tuberculosis Association, today in commenting on the ten-day seal sale which began yesterday a fund of approximately $5,000.00 to fight the disease.

Public health authorities, he explained are given funds for a certain definite purpose and control of tuberculosis. Improvements can be obtained only by appeals and demonstrations which result in additional appropriations. Red Cross seal money in Illinois which brought about an affirmative popular vote for the establishment of a modern tuberculosis hospital, costing in the aggregate several hundred thousand dollars.

Through the Red Cross seal, Mr. Parker said, the efforts of all anti-tuberculosis organizations—national, state and local—are coordinated, working together with money raised by the sale of seals they carry on the fight by demonstrating the value of the visiting nurse, the open air school, the public dispensary and the kind of hospital and sanatorium much money is available for roads, next year has been here heretofore means that these demands will be met. The sale of seals they carry on the fight by demonstrating the value of the visiting nurse, the open air school, the public dispensary and the kind of hospital and sanatorium much money is available for roads, next year has been here heretofore means that these demands will be met.

The only possible relief is to use the present transportation and materials production agencies in the most efficient manner possible, and at the same time bend our efforts to obtain an increased car supply and an increased production of road materials. But these policies, to be effective, must be adopted by the state departments and the federal bureau of highways and collected by one, and the first step is to place under contract during December and January as great a mileage of roads as possible. In doing this the largest wishes to cooperate with and not the states in every way possible.

agencies in preventing, treating and curing tuberculosis. The Red Cross seal, Mr. Parker declared, has steadily improved public health standards. "One of its great tasks," he concluded, "is to induce the community which spends a great cent per capita for public health to add to its investment until it reaches the $1.50 or $2 per capita, which is necessary for adequate protection against pneumonia and diphtheria. This work will be an important part of the intensive campaign which is to be financed through the first-coming lot of seals."

UPPER PENINSULA FEARS BEER WILL BE WHEED OUT

SACIT STE MARIE, Mich., Nov. 29.—The greatest venison chase the upper peninsula has ever witnessed here can recently be seen of the opening of the 4,111 seal drive with their guns and other equipment, compared with 2,529 at the beginning of last season. The season's total from Michigan in 1918 was 3,594.

"There is much talk of this being the last season for hunting in the upper peninsula for some time to come. If each hunter here gets his deer the wilds will be so greatly depopulated of game that it will take several years to recuperate."

They are solemnly charged to put into effect in their everyday relationships the doctrine of "do unto others as you would have others do unto you." DAVIES SETS FOLKS RIGHT

Twin Falls, Idaho, Nov. 29, 1919. To the Editor, Twin Falls, Idaho. Dear Sir: It appears that an erroneous impression has become fixed in the minds of many of the taxpayers of the city relative to the filing of protests in the matter of paving the streets in connection with the new paving districts. The impression being prevalent that the time fixed is Monday night, December first. This impression should be corrected. The present situation is as follows: In view of the excess of the bids for paving the engineer's estimates, it became advisable to re-pass the intentional paving ordinance, under which intentional ordinances Monday night, Dec. 1st, was fixed as the time for filing protests not against any proposed assessments, but against the formation of the proposed improvement districts. The protest is due on Monday, December first. The matter of the making up of the assessment rolls, and the protest against the method of assessment, is another matter entirely. Further notice and opportunity will be given to file protests against the assessment rolls as they are made. This date, in due course, will probably be fixed some time after December 15 and prior to January 1, and notice published accordingly. This will be the date in which protesters are interested and which they have misapprehended to be December first. Very truly yours, JOHN E. DAVIES, City Attorney.

GERMANY NOW HATES FRANCE

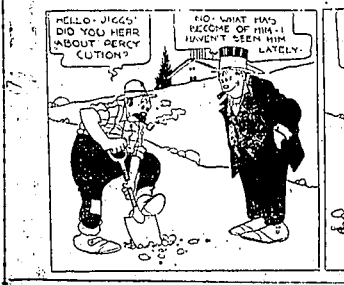

BERLIN, Nov. 29.—German hatred against France has been fanned into a new flame by the French failure to release German prisoners and their insistence upon Germany's acceptance of proposals to the peace treaty, according to interviews given the United Press today. The Germans look upon the holding of war prisoners as an attempt to force Germany to accept the peace treaty, including the surrender of her stocks and shipping to pay for the sinking of the interned German fleet at Scapa Flow. All changes in German stock units are what they consider the latest move in France's determination to crush Germany utterly. Germans literally were singing a new hymn of hate this time against the French instead of British.

ARMY AWDLANES TO PATRIOT CALIFORNIA FORESTS

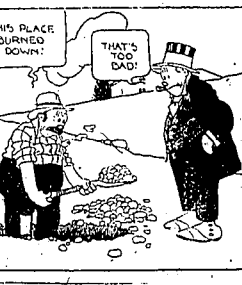

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 29.—According to plans formulated at a recent conference of forestry experts of the western division, held in San Francisco, California, forests will be efficiently guarded by army airplanes. It is certain that plans for eight planes will be approved in Washington. Forest rangers will be especially trained for this aerial work. Colonel Young, commandant of March field, near Riverside, has volunteered to conduct a six-week course in aerial forest patrolling.

Forty thousand spectators, half of whom were exposed to the downpour and stung through the game and at times had to strain their eyes to pierce a haze fog that hung over the gridiron. It was all navy the first period but they lacked the final punch to put across a touch down.

COMMITTEE REPORTS FEASIBILITY OF ADDITIONAL STORAGE WATERS

The final report of the committee, filed yesterday, estimated that $5.45 in the ago to investigate the feasibility and cost of providing additional storage water for the present irrigation project and extensions thereof in Snake River valley, exclusive of North Fork, at a cost of $1,000,000 acre-foot or $1.00 acre-foot.

The Idaho Power company has a right to practically all of the winter flow a low year at the American Falls. In order to store any of water users can discuss the matter, and that the Board of Directors of the different companies can proceed to arrange their finances; or, of advice, they can review their subscription lists.

Subjoined is a letter from Morris Iken, which clearly sets forth the cooperation that may be expected from the Reclamation Service in the matter of constructing the controlling works.

Report of Committee
We, your committee, have investigated the feasibility and cost of providing additional storage for present and extensions thereof in Snake River valley, exclusive of the North Fork, respectfully submit the following report:

Requirements to ascertain the storage requirements of the various organizations, blank forms of applications for storage were circulated from the returns of which the following information was obtained:

Organization	Storage Requirement
Popular	500
Progressive	15,000
Farmer's Friend	10,000
Enterprise	10,000
Harrison	45,000
Ruby	5,000
Brands	20,000
Sundvold	8,000
Lunroed	2,000
Corbet Slough	2,000
Hoslan	10
Island	1,700
Ditts	2,000
Hutte and Market Lake	20,000
Nov Sweden	25,000
Idaho	25,000
Woodville	2,000
Snake River Valley	20,000
Hickford	10,000
North Lavalande	4,500
Peoples	32,000
Aberdeen-Springfield	77,515
Corbet Slough	6,000
Trego	2,000

Total for Upper Valley 341,825
Twin Falls North Side 300,000
Twin Falls South Side 100,000
Total for Lower Valley 400,000

Grand Total 741,825
While the above applications are entirely formal and subject to change after further investigation and audit, the respondent fairly indicates the immediate demand for storage for present projects.

Medium for Handling Work—Applications for over 99 per cent of the storage expressed a preference for having the work handled by the U. S. Reclamation Service, which indicates that each organization should raise its own funds and enter into a contract with the Reclamation Service for whatever storage it should need.

Ultimate Plan for Storage—In the opinion of the committee, the following reservoirs should be constructed to take care of the irrigation requirements of the entire Snake River valley: Jackson Lake reservoir, Henry Lake reservoir, Fall River Meadows reservoir, Island Park reservoir, American Falls reservoir, and Jackson Lake reservoir.

The construction of the Fall River Meadows and Henry Lake reservoirs is a capacity of 200,000 and 200,000 acre feet respectively, is being planned by the water users on Fall River and Henry Lake, respectively, of Snake River. It is assumed that these will satisfy their storage requirements.

The Island Park reservoir site now held by the U. S. Reclamation Service should be reserved for additional new lands on the Snake River above American Falls and the North Fork. This reservoir can be constructed to a capacity of about 600,000 acre-foot but can be depended on for safe annual yield of only about 500,000 acre-foot.

The American Falls reservoir should be constructed with sufficient capacity to permit the transfer of all the rights in Jackson Lake reservoir now held in the lower valley to the water users in the upper valley and also take care of additional irrigation requirements below American Falls.

Storage and Construction of the necessary reservoir capacity by the Reclamation Service having been almost unconditionally endorsed by the application for storage, inquiry made of the Reclamation Service as to whether or not it would undertake this project is being made, and estimates of the cost of the required storage at various sites under its control. Correspondence from the Reclamation Service received herewith indicates that it will construct the works provided that the funds are advanced under arrangements similar to those with the Twin Falls companies for the enlargement of the Jackson Lake reservoir and that the estimated cost of storage at the various sites is as follows:

Island Park—Capacity 600,000 acre-foot; yield 500,000 acre-foot depending upon the slope to be cut rock.
American Falls—Capacity 600,000 acre-foot, at $1.50 per acre-foot; capacity 1,000,000 acre-foot at $2.00 per acre-foot.
The Idaho Power company has a right to practically all of the winter flow a low year at the American Falls. In order to store any of water users can discuss the matter, and that the Board of Directors of the different companies can proceed to arrange their finances; or, of advice, they can review their subscription lists.

Damage to power rights on the North Fork have been included in the estimated cost of storage at Island Park but have not been included for any interference with rights for domestic use, if there be any.

In the light of the above information and the general knowledge of your committee members of the various sites it is concluded that the storage required at the time can be produced at the American Falls site more readily and at less cost and more in line with what the ultimate public good is than at any other site, and for these reasons, your committee recommends the selection of this site.
