RADICALS AND MOONSHINERS CAUSE TROUBLE

Attorney General in Annual Report Says Anti-Trust Activities in Full Swing

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Radical agitators and "moonshiners" have given the department of justice the greatest trouble during the year, according to the annual report of the attorney general made public today.

Although there have been but a few indictments against radical agitators, the report said, there has been a great result from the activities of the department against these persons. Indictments of the law have made it necessary for the department to enter their work upon those who are aliens with the object of deportation in mind.

"Already this policy has shown results, and it is believed that in the near future the country may be free of the presence of considerable number of aliens who have come as moonshiners or under other than proper forms of apprehension," said the attorney general.

The activities of moonshiners have "overlapped" the United States attorney in the past year, and have caused serious congestion in court calendars. There was a total of 67,000 prosecutions of black liquor moonshiners during the year.

Anti-trust activities of the department of justice are in full swing, Attorney General Palmer said.

The activities against trusts during the year was necessarily curtailed by the fact that the government was actively involved itself in the industrial situation.

"The department is now actively engaged in the investigation of a number of complaints of alleged violations of the anti-trust laws," said the report.

"Among other things an exhaustive investigation is being conducted with a view to ascertaining whether or not prevailing high cost of living is brought about by agreement, combination, or monopolization by individuals or corporations engaged in interstate commerce," Attorney General Palmer said.

Among the scope of the inquiry includes clothing and building materials. It is also directed against the patent packers, who by addition to the business, raise the price of practically all kinds of canned goods.

The report stated that profiting from the high prices was made responsible for the present high prices. Number of seizures have been made where hoarding was found and prosecutions for hoarding have been instituted.

"The imposition of jail sentences will undoubtedly have a salutary effect," Attorney General Palmer said.

During the past year there have been five cases under the anti-trust law and there are pending at this date 11 cases, which will result in criminal prosecutions.

PAMPER OLD HUSTON TAVEN CLOSES ITS DOOR

BOSTON, Dec. 8.—H. Alvey bears a woman's atmosphere these "dry" December days.

Pamperly enter the alley from newspaper row, try the dour handle of the famous "Old-Hand" saloon and turn away exclaiming, "Gosh, the old fell's closed."

It's a fact. The old tavern, established back in 1825 by "Old Jimmy" Wilson of Boston town origin, in colonial New England row and run with gin and porter, may has succumbed to prohibition.

Daniel J. O'Connor, manager of the Ballington, says he hopes to reopen. Perhaps a soda fountain will be installed to combat the influence of neighbors, who know.

DEBRIY MAN LONES $2,000 AT OLD SWINDLE GAME

DEBRIY, Conn., Dec. 8.—Steve Stelak, a local liquor dealer, has reported to the police that he was robbed of $2,000 a few days ago by two men who were said to have used a machine contained in a case about the size of a suit case which the demonstrators used, which Stelak says returned out new twenty dollar bills from blank paper.

Stelak took the machine, it is said, after the men had left and found it worthless.

The two men are believed to be members of a gang who have been touring New York State with a similar swindling device.

BALL MAGNATES ARE GATHERING

Fight Among American League Holds Spotlight in Baseball Politics

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—This is going to be a big week for the politicians of baseball and international league magnates are gathering here today for the annual meetings of their respective leagues. The average of the entire major leagues will get together at the council hall tomorrow afternoon. The new international league will meet at the Imperial hotel today.

These two meetings, however, are being crisscrossed from the spotlight by the drama of the starting American League. The American League board for the American League, "The Fighting directors" have called the 30 meetings here and will not go to Chicago. Whether or not this action and his supporters will come here for the meeting, Wednesday morning, is to be seen.

The international league managers will take a new member today, officially admitting Alvin Davis, the place of John Kohn.

The league will take up the matter of electing a president and a secretary to replace David Davis, although he is resigning a formal resignation to the secretary, Robert and the league president.

The matter of the meeting was announced by the league today. It is announced by the league today that George Gibson, former manager of the Boston club, has been in Pittsburgh. It is believed to will succeed Hugo Berlek.

Avery, of Vermont. On the title page are the words, "The Contrast, a comedy, written by a citizen of the United States." Philadelphia, 1790 and an autograph of George Washington. Pasted in the book was a sheet of paper with the Washington signature of the publisher, Thomas Wheat, presenting two copies of the book to Washington.

WOMEN IN WAR JOBS HAVE HARD TIME HOLDING THEM

LONDON, Dec. 8.—Women who went out and got war-time jobs to supplement their domestic incomes are finding it hard to keep a hold on their positions. Men are pushing women out wherever they can, especially in offices. Complaints are being made from clerks on all sides. A guild that studies the interests of these bank clerks has decided that women should be discharged with courtesy in all London banks, and the matter will soon be brought before the bank directors. Women workers, who say they don't want their future from choice, but because of their men, are increased.

Mrs. Taber Reveals Strange Death Pact

YERKA, Cal., Dec. 8.—Mrs. Sarah Taber, whose explanation of the finding of the body of her daughter Maudie in a trunk in Lawton, Mich., reveals a strange death pact, called awaited here today the arrival of Michigan officers. She will return with them, she says, and explain "everything."

Mrs. Taber told authorities here that she and her daughter had agreed to be buried at the same time. Whoever died first was to be embalmed and preserved until the other died.

"My beloved daughter, whose whole soul was being wrung in mine, died in my own arms at Lawton in June, 1918. She had taken an overdose of chloroform, which she employed to allay an erratic. No one was present but my darling girl and myself."

"The pact was made," she said. I merely obeyed it, as she would have done if I had died first. I feel that I have done no wrong. On the contrary, morally at least, I have kept a sacred vow. If I have violated the pact in any way, then I assume an responsibility. My son Walter, arrested here with me, knew nothing of the pact and believed his sister had died in Chicago Springs.

OLDFATHER HAS NO PLACE FOR GERMAN LABOR

SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 8.—Oldfather has no place for German labor at present.

In a letter to State Immigration Commissioner Edward D. Porter the report was made for labor conditions in the Central states. "Judging that you fully appreciate the value of German labor, the good general education, decent customs, etc., of the German people, I could be under great obligation if you would kindly let me know whether German labor is wanted in Colorado," wrote John Stahl, a colonization agent in Baltimore, Germany.

Porter informed the writer that no policy regarding German labor could be considered until the United States had formally announced that the state of war between the two countries has ceased to exist.

MANY SHARE IN FRICK FORTUNE

More Than Hundred Million Dollars to Charitable and Educational Institutions

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—Of the vast fortune piled up by Henry Clay Frick, who died in New York Tuesday, $111,500,000, is bequeathed to public charitable and educational institutions. The remaining $25,000,000 of the total, wife and steel magnate's estate is given to his family, friends and employees.

SEEMINGLY NO AGE LIMIT

Applicants for Divorce Are by No Means Always in the Days of Their Calfow Youth.

There is no age limit in divorce. In Oregon a woman at the age of eighty years is suing for a divorce from her husband, who is a well-to-do physician. It is the only case of its kind in the state. The wife asserts that her husband's love has been abandoned and understood through the words of his attorney. He is now ninety-four years old and has never told her his age. They have been married some ten years now, and the wife said that when the husband took her money to buy a new car for his motor car, she asked him for his wife's life. She knew that his job was dead. When she reconstituted the husband's only interest her that she could have the house. When the wife said that the house was her own and bought with her own money, the husband replied that might be so, but he had thoughtfully had the deed recorded in his own name. Now she has appeal to the court. It is the other case when a girl of eighty-two has to compete with a ninety-four year old mother in law for the affections of her husband.

MOTOR TRUCKS MAY SAVE DAY

Council of National Defense Says
If Railroads Quit for Lack of Coal, Use Autos

(As a precaution against the possible loss of the railroads in transportation of the country for the want of coal, the council of national defense has prepared a statement for the war department showing the use of motor trucks in approximately 320,000 motor trucks belonging to the government or that may be commandeered.

Motor trucks saved the day in England during a railroad strike and assembled everyone in the country by carrying home in record time the people worked in the city during the Chicago street car strike.

Statistics prepared by the department of agriculture show that there are 620,000 trucks in the United States, but there are less than 100,000 trucks in use on farms.

The figures emphasize the fact that the motor truck is coming into its own and will face the biggest year in its history during 1931.

While it is not regarded possible to use motor transport in substitution for mill-tires freight in the export of goods from Great Britain during the strike of railway operatives, nevertheless the 320,000 trucks of various sizes may be expected to relieve to a considerable degree the elimination of rail facilities.

One of the most popular long haul motor trucks is in motor transport is a truck designed by the Goodyear, Wyco and Rubber company Akron, Ohio, and used exclusively by that company on its Akron to Boston express line. These trucks are being used all over the country to demonstrate motor truck efficiency and economy of operation.

The motor truck so generally used today was first tried out on these Goodyear trucks.

GROSVENOR IS SENTENCED 1 TO 10 YEARS

Murderer of E. L. Van Hiper To Serve Sentence in State Penitentiary

Harry P. Grosvenor, ditch rider, convicted of voluntary manslaughter a few days ago, was sentenced from 1 to 10 years in the state penitentiary this morning by Judge W. A. Bielack.

Grosvenor was found guilty of killing E. L. Van Hiper, of Buhl, with a weed hook in a quarrel over some irrigation water last summer. The murder was prosecuted with attention in the county for the past two days. The sentence was supposed to have been pronounced at 9 o'clock this morning but was deferred until 12:30.

B. Y. P. U. To Oppose Sunday Theatres

A petition against the running of Sunday picture shows was read last evening at the usual meeting of the B. Y. P. U. of the Baptist church. There are already a number of signatures and everyone at the meeting expressed a willingness to sign.

Urban Hoag told of the plans to furnish the church with a fine new cathedral lighting system, and stated that a large amount toward buying the necessary equipment had been raised. The B. Y. P. U. committee also announced to refresh the main church auditorium and though the cost has been heavy, a number of new ideas will be installed soon.

Mr. C. Keselman had the meeting in charge. A program was given and Mrs. Keselman gave a reading which was much enjoyed. It was decided to accept the offer of the Methodists to join in a social of the young people to be held later. The president was authorized to appoint a committee to meet with the Methodists to complete the arrangements.

WAS ALWAYS POPULAR GAME

Those Who Think There Is Anything New In Peppering Hays Another Guess Coming.

The high cost of living was just such a problem in Elizabeth times as it is today. The Rev. William Harrison, as well as a gossip on Pepsy, and equally gifted a chronicler, complained that magistrates in his day winked at merchants who charged more for commodities than they were permitted by law to charge. In that day, as in this, "buggers" thus delightfully descriptive would be the "donkey's ear collars" were allowed to burn up corn and raise the price of it, to carry it home unsold, or to a distant market. If they want more money than the buyer likes to pay; say, they've levied to export it for the benefit of enemies abroad, so as to make more profit.

During the war there was much talk of certain Americans who had helped to destroy crops of potatoes, fogsheads and other vegetables and foodstuffs in order to raise the price of those commodities. Same old story. There's nothing new, remarks J. N. H., in Rochester Post-Express.

Again, to bark back to good Canon Harrison, "neither fens nor purfens" over eggs, chickens, bees, etc.; but men travel about and buy up butter at farmers' houses, and have raised its price from 15¢ to 50¢ a gallon. There's things are ill for the buyer and the poor man, and should not be allowed."

After all about the only thing that is true is that there is no new thing under the sun. Like the poor, the profiteer is always with us.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE PIG PALACE.

"When where we lived," said Sir Perival Pork, one of the pigs who had just come to the barnyard of the barony, "we used to speak of our home as the Pig Palace."

"That was a nice name," said the Hogler Hooter.

"Yes," said old Grandfather Porky, "but that name has been changed."

"Then, let's call our new home something new," said young Piggy.

"I'll call it the Pig Palace," said young Piggy.

"I like the idea," said Master Pig Pink. "I like the idea, and I'm going to it to date."

"You better yourself," said Pinky Pig.

"Oh, well, let him," said Grandfather Porky. "For we have something else to talk about now."

"I would like to see our old home," said Sir Benjamin Bacon.

"The only trouble would be," said Mrs. Pink Pig, "that we don't really live in a palace."

"No," said Mrs. Pink Pig. "We live in a house. I can't believe we would call this a palace."

"Because it isn't a palace. It's a pen," squeaked Miss Ham.

"But we can't make a palace of it," said Mrs. Pink Pig.

"There is no law against it," said Sir Perival Pork, "and if there were I'd do away with that law and choose a new one in its place."

"That's not the way laws are usually made, is it?" asked Mrs. Pink Pig. "By one person doing away with one and then choosing another? I don't know there was any law, but I thought there were laws made as they were needed to keep folks in order."

"That's the old-fashioned way of thinking about laws, but out our way," said Sir Perival Pork.

"Besides," said Sir Benjamin Bacon, "it would be nice to have a new little pig in the place."

"Of course," said Sir Perival Pork. "There have been too many of these pigs." "We had all with counting in beautiful towers and turrets, and beautiful ladies and gorgeous men."

"Now we should have a change. We should have one should have a new little pig in the place."

"We should have a palace of our own," said young Piggy. "I should fuss over it the way some creatures fuss over palaces. We wouldn't bother about sweeping it and polishing the great brass door knockers, for there wouldn't be any brass door knockers."

"But I won't live in a palace which has brass door knockers," said Miss Ham, "and that part of the plan would fall back on me, I suppose."

"Upon me," said Mrs. Pink Pig. "Suppose we had Sir Perival Pork?"

"We wouldn't do such a thing as to ask you to live in the palace," said Mrs. Pink Pig.

"We want a regular pig palace, a new kind, with mud and dirt and nice dirty pigs in it, not any kind of a polished up palace of marble walls and shining wooden floors."

"And will all behave as creatures who like to behave in palaces if only they dared," said Sir Benjamin Bacon.

"Well, yes," said Mrs. Pink Pig.

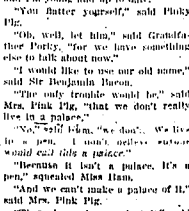

"Well, yes," said young Piggy.

"And will all behave as creatures who like to behave in palaces if only they dared," said Sir Benjamin Bacon.

"Up to date," said young Piggy, "I'm going to it to date."

"Paid in Advance" Said To Be Fine Screen Production

Dorothy Phillips has probably never done anything more pleasing than her characterization of Joan Gray in "Paid in Advance."

One of the incidents, showing the unwritten code of the Candian north-west in the stigma falling on Joan Gray, when a man is killed in a jealous duel because of her.

CHURCH AGAINST SUNDAY MOVIES

Dr. Bennett Says Commercialized Picture Shows Not Helpful to Spiritual Work

"If it is true that the 'Reds' in Twin Falls are making a 'harvest' among folks on our streets Sunday so that the picture shows should be opened to get the people off the streets and out of the reach of such treacherous propaganda, would it not be better to go after the 'Reds' and find and close their headquarters and stop their doings, than to protect our people from cheap speech and their contact?" asked Dr. A. C. Bennett.

"The commercialized Sunday shows enter into direct competition with the Sunday night services of our churches. Our churches have hundreds of thousands of dollars invested in their properties, and are undertaking strenuous programs of music, fratricides, and ministry to attract and help the people in all vices and illnesses; but these enterprises are all jeopardized when Sunday night picture shows prevail in opposition."

"There is grave truth in the saying, 'If the church had not Sunday, she would be swallowed up in the muddy river of the common times.' The protection of the Lord's day is invaluable to her. It is her supreme spiritual opportunity."

FARM BUREAU AIDS FARMERS

Much is Accomplished in 1919 for Farmers of Twin Falls District

The Twin Falls County Farm Bureau has accomplished many things during 1919. The bureau has conducted a number of grain grading schools.

It has been of great benefit to the farmers of the tract by finding markets for their produce, securing workers for them as well as working hard to rid their fruit trees of the pests so common in most sections of the country.

In addition to these things the bureau has brought numerous specialists from the state university here to acquaint the farmers with the latest methods of agriculture.

The college are constantly fielding out new and beneficial things about farming and imparting that knowledge to the farmers. Thousands of squirrels, sparrows and other pests have been poisoned under the supervision of the bureau.

Miss Edna Landig has analyzed the county women in making dress forms, thereby saving the county approximately $3,000. The cleaning of materials as well as the making of garments has been carried on.

The Child Welfare department is providing very successful. Mothers are learning the proper foods for their children and hot lunches are being served to the students of a great many of the rural schools.

The Farm Bureau Junior work has been carried on under the leadership of County Leader A. J. O'Reilly. here have been about 10 clubs formed and the work done has been of a high grade.

Prize winners have been announced and Mr. O'Reilly is looking forward to the continuation of club work next year.

Introducing Mr. Oliver Towne

(ALL OVER TOWN)

I don't think I need an introduction to many of you. Most of you have met me before. Those who have been help-less and those who have been job-less, those who have something to sell, rent, buy or barter, know me pretty well. They know where to find me—on the Want Ad Pages of This Paper—and they call for me there when they need me.

I'm probably the most "paged" man in town. Why I am introducing myself again is just a matter of advertising. I believe in it. Whatever you have to offer in property, service or usefulness, I believe should be advertised—so I advertise myself because I am of such great service and usefulness to every body at some time or other.

I want you to remember me--remember that my line is disposing of what you have to offer at 2 cents per word and I'll do a thorough and satisfying job--carrying your message into every shop, store, home and office all-over town.
