LABOR QUESTION IS PROBLEM IN RAILROAD BILLS

Anti-Strike Provisions of Senate Bill Not Acceptable to House Members.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Conferees working on the Cummins and Eech bills for the return of the railroads today stated that their biggest difficulty would be found in the anti-strike provisions of the bills.

Proposals have been made for changes in the personnel of the wage adjustment board, provided by the Cummins bill.

BOOZE BARRED ON U. S. SHIPS

Protest Entered That Order Will Kill Off All Passengers—It's a Severe Blow.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—A serious situation has been created in the U. S. Navy by the decision of the board of officers to prohibit the sale of liquor on any of its vessels, anywhere, on the high seas.

Other laws, operating ships for the board, have also restricted their contacts with Chairman John Barton Payne.

It was officially stated at the shipping board that the ruling will not apply to American ships of private ownership.

De Valera Hopes to Float Bond Issue

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Eamon de Valera, president of the Irish republic, who is spending the holidays with his mother, Mrs. Kate Wright of No. 18, Brighton street, is planning to raise $1,000,000 from here to complete details of the $5,000,000 bond issue which he hopes to float in this country.

PRESS DEMANDS FOR WAGE INCREASES BEFORE THE ROADS ARE GIVEN BACK

Chiefs of Railroad Brotherhood Invited to Conference in Washington With Heads of Unions Affiliated With A. F. of L. in Effort to Work Out Wage Adjustments

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Railroad employers will press their demands for increased wages before the roads are returned to their private owners.

It was announced today that the chiefs of the four railroad brotherhoods have been called to Washington to meet tomorrow and Sunday with the heads of the railroad unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

The management was made of the American Federation of Labor leaders, and that the railroad chiefs had been invited by telegram to join with the heads of railroad unions and that it was expected that the conference would open tomorrow.

The railroad unions are to have a conference with the railroad employers either tomorrow or early next week to discuss their demands that wages be increased to meet the cost of living.

Leaders today were reluctant to predict that there would be a general railroad strike, although those who believe that they believe such a strike is possible if working conditions are not improved before the roads go back to private owners.

Some labor leaders here believe that the return of the railroads on March 1 will be to their advantage for they are confident that unless Congress enacts some protective legislation that the government will be forced to take the roads back to its control.

Glenn F. Plumb will attend the conference of the railroad chiefs and the heads of the railroad unions of the American Federation of Labor.

WAR COUNCIL SAVED EUROPE

Bliss Gives Credit for Winning War to Foch, Clemenceau, Lloyd George, U. S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—If the supposing war council had been created at the outbreak of the war, instead of during the last year of the war, the military struggle would have been of much shorter duration, according to an opinion expressed today by General Tanker H. Bliss, who was the United States representative on the council.

"Had the council been in existence early in the war, the Russian debacle would never have happened, the allies could have utilized the plentiful resources of Russia, and the disasters suffered by the allied armies would never have happened," said General Bliss, in a statement to newspapers.

"In my opinion, Foch, Clemenceau, and Lloyd George won the war (of the world) by their decision to concentrate their efforts on the one object of defeating the enemy. When the United States came in it overruled the balance of power that Germany held in a war to give the death blow. So from the point of view those three strong men of Europe won the war, and we won the war," he added.

General Bliss made it plain that he could not say anything about the peace treaty, but he answered questions bearing on the European situation. Asked as to the state of morale in Europe, General Bliss said that the situation was such that while morale possibly was low in some sections, it was high in others.

"Morale is largely tied up with the economic situation and naturally, the economic situation is in many sections," he stated. "The producing part of Europe has been severely reduced by the war, so as many millions of men have been lost in the struggle. I would say that the morale of France is the best. It has a great deal of doubt how the soldier would go. While the men are away to war they were given the best ration to be had. The soldiers have been living better since the war than they did before, and there was a guarantee that when the war was over the government was sustained overhauled."

"Production in France is way below normal," General Bliss said. "In whole districts in France there has been no cultivation of the soil in five years."

"Europe as a whole is suffering greatly, and will suffer more for lack of food supplies," the general added. "The great economic trouble in lack of food supplies is the most serious of all. If there was a man over there like Herbert Hoover and another man of recognized ability as a relief man, to control families and distribute the problem of supply would be largely met. One great difficulty is the complete loss of rolling stock. Taken as a unit the transportation system is badly handled. When so many European countries were cut up into smaller nations, each tried to get their own supplies, each rolling stock and materials as it could. As a result the transportation question became serious."

General Bliss said there was a lot of exaggerated talk about Germany's industrial revival. "There is no doubt if Germany had enough raw materials and had coal enough to operate, the plants, the common sense of the men, people would prompt them to go to work," he said. "Here again comes the question of coal. It is not in Germany as it was in the first part of the war as the other European nations," he added.

"As to whether any new alliance has been contemplated among the allies," General Bliss said he did not think it, but added that it would be difficult for any one to say just now if there would be new alliances.

SKILLFUL IN USE OF POISON

South African Bushmen Had Weapon Which Has Been Invented

The bushmen, Arctian pygmies of the South, who succeeded so quickly to civilization, are becoming rarer every day. Finally, wars and the white man's encroachments have killed an thousand.

The great achievement of these children of the woods is their skillful use of poison. In the hands of a modern hunter the poisoned arrow might have been an invaluable weapon, but for the bushmen it only delayed their fatal death.

The bushman's arrow is a toy of light wood and he knows it has a certain death dealer by covering the tip with one of his favorite poisons. He uses a mixture of snake and spider poisons, and leaves all vital parts of the arrow to the use of these.

Several times of the tribe prepare the poisons for their purpose, usually heating them in a dish before applying the dirt to them. While waiting for the poisons to dry, the poison containers are placed over the fire in order to keep them from getting too hot. The bushman in brilliant silence upon a lightning enemy, they suddenly leap and discharge the fatal arrow. After a while they shift only to the left of the victim, and write and howl with all the agony of the hunted. The victim and the completion of the poison put an end to this vivid re-creation.

Most Socialists of Birds

The house wren is one of the most sociable and chattering of birds. In fact, on this account, wrens will build their nest in little houses that are built for them, so that those who close they are to a human habitation, says American Birding association, Washington that a first house building contest that 100,000 wrens were interested in among school children throughout the nation in bird life and preservation. Furthermore, the wren is one of the most valuable of birds for it looks on the facts and thus helps to save the trees and the equilibrium in the garden from the weeds which would eat them. The wren's birds' nest of grass or weeds stuffed into any crevice that takes it.

Opin Heats Keep Young

The mind rests upon the body, and keeps it young. Those who grumble at everything, who nurse resentments, and who let their troubles sour them, look, and actually grow, old sooner than they should. It is a very beautiful thing to see those who have not many years in life, but who have turned their troubles into a happy habit, and who are cheerful for all about them. And even when the hair turns gray, and the first youth has passed, they do not grow old. They themselves and those whose life touches theirs—a young mind.

MR. HOMESEAKER

Were you one of those who bought land here before it went up? Would you like to find another place where you could do as well as has been done here? And can get started on a small amount of money? I think I know where it can be done. It is in the Goose Lake Valley Southern Oregon. Climate conditions, water, crops etc. Seems to be about the same as they are here. I and others started farming there a year ago. We raised from 40 to 60 bushels of wheat to the acre. We get 20c a bushel more for it there than here. There are some natural advantages not to be found here. There may be some disadvantages too. But it looks like the Twin Falls country will over again to me. Let me give you more particulars. # Perils Far Below Sea Level

Forbidding Death Valley, in California, Was Formerly the Bed of a Salt Lake.

Death valley, California, is said to be the lowest dry land in the United States; it is 275 feet below sea level, the name of Death valley is given because in itself, but to enhance this effect the mountains themselves are called the Funeral range.

While Death valley is the lowest dry land in the country Mount Whitney, which is less than eighty miles from the point of lowest depression, is one of the highest points of land in the United States; its summit being 14,500 feet above sea level.

Death valley was formerly the bed of a salt lake and is 150 miles in length. A small salt marsh still occupies a part of it. There are few places in Death valley where fresh water is obtainable. The best known are some of the salt marsh springs.

For the greater part of the ground Death valley is a gigantic furnace of burning hot shifting red dunes. At times the dunes are covered with wonderful flowers. The air is very dry, and at dawn the light is very white and intense. The dunes are very white with that time of day. Generally very faint haze that appears and deepens about the gray-tan dunes. As the sun rises over the dunes, the haze of blue and sand turns into brighter shades until at noon the very atmosphere is almost white. The dunes toward twilight the deep purple and black.

Alone Mail Delivered at Sea.

The first aerial mail delivery to a ship at sea was accomplished August 14, 1910, when an airplane flying boat dropped a sack of European mail on the deck of the White Star liner "Adriatic" leaving New York. The experiment was an official test undertaken at the request of the post office department and was a great success. After circling around the liner a few times, the pilot, C. J. Zimmerman, came down within 50 feet of the ship's mast and dropped the mail bag. Some 500 passengers crowded the promenade deck of the boat and watched the experiment. Their cheers echoed down the bay as the bag was successfully hauled aboard.—Motor's Weekly.

What It Cost Him.

"My darling," she murmured, "you were so grand, so noble, when you proposed to me that day in the taxi stand if I ever forget how fondly you spoke of your future, of the sacrifices you would make for me? It must have cost you something to speak those words." "It did," he replied, "the young man, a shadow creeping over his face. "It cost me about two weeks' salary for the hire of that taxi."

From Bock Creek—Miss Nora Pliner, who teaches at Bock Creek, is spending the Christmas vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Graham. Later she will visit near Fliler before returning to her home.

Ensemble—The Baptist choir will give their Christmas cantata Sunday evening at the church parlors. The cantata is made up of quartet, duo and ensemble numbers that are unusual and particularly appropriate for Yuletide.

From Caldwell—Miss Leah Woods who is employed at Caldwell with a sister, is spending the Christmas vacation in Twin Falls at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. A. Woods and sister, Mrs. Leonard Wood. She returned yesterday.

Funeral—The funeral of Mrs. M. A. Wiker, who was killed in an auto accident several days ago in California, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Presbyterian church with Rev. Asher Harland Dismal officiating. Burial will be in the Twin Falls cemetery.

Christmas Dance—The Christmas dance held last evening in the Layton pavilion was a success in every way. An immense crowd, even for a holiday, was present, and everyone had a good time. The music was good and lively and the colored spot lights turned on from time to time attracted many.

Not to Move—The report has been pretty generally circulated that Don Lyman is planning on leaving Twin Falls to make his home elsewhere. This report probably came about through Mr. Lyman selling off some of his furniture. He wishes to emphatically deny the story as he has no idea of leaving.

Program—The Christmas program given last evening by the young people of the Baptist church was very successful. The Christmas costumes were especially appropriate and best of all the program was an enjoyable one throughout. There were pretty musical numbers and a few readings given. A large crowd was present.

Glee Club—The University of Idaho Glee club will give a performance in Twin Falls February 4. It has been arranged for the club to perform in the auditorium under the auspices of the high school. It is reported to be a well-balanced organization and worthy of a good patronage. Solo quartet and duet, as well as ensemble work will make up the program. A number of instrumental features will be given.

MESSIAH PROGRAM MARKS NEW STEP IN LOCAL MUSIC EFFORT

Wonderful Program Given by Ascension Choir Last Evening Is Pioneer Move Toward Better Standards of Music for Twin Falls—Gaul's Holy City Will Be Presented This Spring.

Earning the admiration of an audience that jammed the Episcopal church to its capacity Christmas eve, the Messiah program presented by Ascension choir under direction of Mr. Harry Barratt took rank as the most notable musical occasion in the history of the city. Hundreds who crowded the impressive production were gripped with wonder at its beauty.

A splendid arrangement of solos, in connection with the program itself, Mr. Barratt gave a brief talk on the history of the Messiah and of its composer, Handel. He announced that Gaul's "Holy City" will be offered in the spring, being presented as a complimentary affair without reference to the impressive production were gripped with wonder at its beauty.

In the city, he gave an invitation to join the preparation which will commence within a few days. The Holy City has been handled as a direct result of last evening's program. The ensemble numbers were the best that he has ever handled as a director, he said, in praising the choir for its work. Mr. Barratt is looking forward with high anticipation to the presentation of "The Holy City" with the Christmas eve program. It is a pioneer effort he is making toward establishing a new order of things in the musical circles of Twin Falls.

The Messiah set a standard that will be difficult to maintain but he is confident the future will find it even improved. The work of Mr. Barratt since becoming director of Ascension Episcopal choir has been a success. It has given him confidence at the brightest of musical prospects in the city fully justified and cannot but be shared by those familiar with his work.

The program was ended shortly after midnight, with a sevenfold benediction following a short prayer service. The audience had stood with the choir gave the last ensemble number, "The Hallelujah Chorus," which led the crowding list of responses to three months of careful training.

Following appreciation of a box of benediction goods intended as a Christmas cheer some local exhibitors. Sheriff Uppigro yesterday intercepted another Yuletide gift that was expressed in the city. It consisted of 18 barrels in a union setting, occupying two hot-water bags. The sender evidently considered this fire water naturally hot, so rubber containers were selected as appropriate. No arrests have been made.

Gift Day Celebrated With Music And Turkey—Dance Ending Festivities

Christmas passed off quietly in Twin Falls, most people contenting themselves with carving the family turkey and finishing with the customary plum pudding. Christmas day over, people returned to work happy but not so full of the spirit as they were. The Christmas tree left many of the stores in great disorder. Involving is coming on and, all in all, there is plenty of work for everybody.

Of course, there were many private dinners, people entertaining their relatives and friends from near and afar but the real Christmas observance was staged at the church, where the birth of Christ was commemorated with speaking and singing.

Three masses were held at the Catholic church, one at eight o'clock, one at 9:30 and the third at 10:30. Services, which were largely attended. Special Christmas services were held at the Methodist and Baptist churches.

Knights Templar Enjoy Christmas With a Program

An especially attractive Christmas observance was that of the Knights Templar yesterday morning when a strong program of music and speaking was presented.

An address by Dr. Alexander Bennett, pastor of the M. E. church, was a feature. His subject, "History of the Knights Templar and What the Order Stands for in a Christian Way," dealt with the Crusades and the Holy Land.

The speaker mentioned that the first governor of Idaho-Idaho was then governed by a special warrant, Miss Irene Carlson, Mrs. J. E. Byers, Harry Barrett and Elmer Olson, whose work was of a very high order.

A number of toasts, offered under the ritual, gave added interest to the occasion and much enthusiasm was aroused by a musical program rendered by a special quartet, Miss Irene Carlson, Mrs. J. E. Byers, Harry Barrett and Elmer Olson, whose work was of a very high order.

The above telegram received by The Times from U. S. District Attorney McClear at Boise in answer to a request for definite information as to the rumors being circulated in this city, tends to discredit stories of an investigation being made of local profiteers.

The rumors have been persistent during the last few days, even going to the extent of definitely naming certain merchants and describing supposed visits of federal agents to local stores. It was widely rumored that three merchants had been called to Boise to explain exorbitant profits on merchandise.

In order to secure positive information that would either verify or disprove the reports, The Times wired to Judge McClear, the federal district attorney at Boise. It is quite improbable that any such hearings as described would be made through any other office than that of the district attorney and his message, quoted above, apparently stamps the rumors as groundless.

There was once a Derelict whose hand was against every man and against whom was every man's hand. The heavy paw of the law was constantly showing him from place to place, and he had arrived at the state of mind where it mattered to him not at all just what happened to him. Into his life came a Girl. She was a Daughter of the Rich and her life had been sheltered and happy. Her automobile brushed the Derelict. The Derelict removed the chauffeur from the seat and spanked him soundly. The police came and would have removed the Derelict. But the girl intervened in his behalf and he was allowed to remain.

Said the Girl to him, eyeing him with calm interest: "You are the dirtiest man I ever saw. Take this get clean, and stay clean!"

The Derelict purchased soap and got clean. From then on it was his ambition to climb. That he had to use as stepping stones the Anarchist, a dark, intense woman who loved him, the man who loved her and various and sundry others, encountered in the upward journey, mattered not at all. He wanted the girl.

ARMENIAN SEER HELPED KAISER

Had Mysterious Influence on Imperial Mind, Says Attendant Upon Emperor.

BERLIN, Dec. 24.—How a mysterious Armenian, known as Karamandjan, wielded a strange occult influence over the ex-Emperor, just as the Russian monk Rasputin held a peculiar sway over the mind of the late Emperor of Russia, was revealed today.

"Karamandjan had not been expelled from Germany the house of Hohenzollern would still have looked the world proudly in the face," said Herr Leopold Roth, formerly a personal attendant upon the ex-emperor and now a resident in Berlin. Roth told an astounding story of the mysterious Armenian. His remarkable statement follows:

"Karamandjan first appeared upon the scene shortly after General Ludendorff's departure as general adjutant of the German army. The ex-Kaiser, who had been notoriously friendly toward Pohl, Marshal von Hindenburg and other military leaders, once again outgeneraled his master at maneuvers, vented his displeasure on Ludendorff. The general regarded the situation as a serious one and was only prevented by the mediation of Dr. Goens, the chief army chaplain, who was continuously pouring oil upon the troubled waters.

"Dr. Goens introduced to Ludendorff the mysterious Armenian, ostensibly as a masseur, and Karamandjan became a person of great importance through his influence. I was invariably present at the ex-emperor's side at all times, excepting during the official council, never saw Karamandjan act as a masseur.

"Karamandjan would force the former Kaiser to speak in an unknown tongue. After a few minutes Wilhelm would extend his hand, while the Armenian, without speaking, would take a position at the Kaiser's side. At all events from the moment of the appearance of Karamandjan the relations between Wilhelm and Ludendorff had become strained.

"When Kaiser's War Great. History for many years G. K. tells us that the people of Korea were once a people of great civilization. About the year 1037 a general by the name of Li built the first Buddhist temple in Korea. It was a temple of the same style as the one at the top of Mt. Fuji in Japan. Because of the proximity of the Korean peninsula to Japan, the Japanese had long been aware of the existence of the Korean people. However, it was in the year 1592 that the Japanese, who have never forgotten that terrible lesson given to them by a high civilization, happy and prosperous people.

Denies Listening at White House Keyhole.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Samuel Rosen, indignantly denied today that he "snaked" into the white house through the back door and listened at the key hole while the president and great business heads exchange confidence.

"An unauthenticated falsehood," in the way he today branded a statement to that effect made by Great Britain's ambassador, the chief clerk of Pittsburgh, Pa.

"The snatching of dough had for its purpose a direct unimpeachable thing at the president of the United States," says in a telegram to the organ, "I am protesting against this kind of intrusion. I do not even know what the president has a back door to his private office," he says further.

"I have never entered the white house without having some previously arranged engagement accounted for by the president, except upon the second or third day of his residence in the city called at the white house, saw Dr. Grayson, the president's physician, and inquired after the president's health."

"To suggest, much less to assert that I would be guilty of such conduct as to 'snake' into the white house, is to me, the most unpalatable of his own mental attitude and moral code."

Portland is unable at the present moment to satisfy all demands for housing facilities and a great problem is before the city to know where they are going to place their headquarters. A committee from the Shiriners is already busy here securing contracts for rooms from hotels, private homes, clubs and troupes. J. P. Lacey, in charge of the housing of the Shiriners, said:

"When the Shiriners come to take possession of Portland next June they will be occupied there will be Shiriners encamped from Lampton, entering the limbs of trees, boarding the streets and hanging from hooks in every corner."

MISSING GERMAN VESSEL FOUND IN HOLLAND. ANTWERP, Dec. 26.—The Belgian newspaper La Courriere tells a curious story of the way in which the Belgian government succeeded in discovering the whereabouts of part of the German fleet squadron of torpedo boats, submarines and launches and other small craft which were sent by Germany from Antwerp to Holland a few days before the armistice.

Some time ago a Belgian agent at Dutch port helped a disguised German bluejacket to embark for America. In return the German told him that the hidden and recoverable craft were in dock at Helvoetsluis, and handed him a photograph which was sent to Brussels. A fresh demand for the missing craft was made at Helvoetsluis when a negative answer was sent and the photograph was produced. It is expected that the matter will now be settled.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 28

THE TRAINING OF PETER AND JOHN. GOLDEN TEXT—Ye shall sit upon twelve seats in judgment. JOHN 1:19-22. PETER AND JOHN. PETER AND JOHN. PETER AND JOHN.

A good way to review the lessons of the six monthly course of study in the lives of Peter and John will be to arrange them under three heads, as follows: I. Their Call; II. Their Training; III. Their Service. The first half of the studies, the first we have now completed, have had to do with the calling and training of Peter and John. The last half, the lessons for the first half of 1920, will have to do with their service.

1. Their Call. 2. To be disciples (Lesson 1) John 1:19-22. 3. Before Peter's name for service he calls to salvation. 4. To be fishers of men (Lesson 2) Matt. 4:18-22. 5. It would seem that after their conversion the disciples had gone back to their old life. Those who are called to service should go back to their ordinary call in life, if they are honorable, until they are definitely called into special service.

Christ's entry into Peter's home and the healing of his wife's mother should have led to what he was a sympathetic Saviour. 2. A lesson in trust (Lesson 4) Matt. 14:22-33. 3. Peter's great confession (Lesson 6) Matt. 16:13-21. The Lord had been revealing things which were hidden from the disciples. He now examined them to see what they knew about himself, Peter, as spokesman for the rest of the disciples, said, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God."

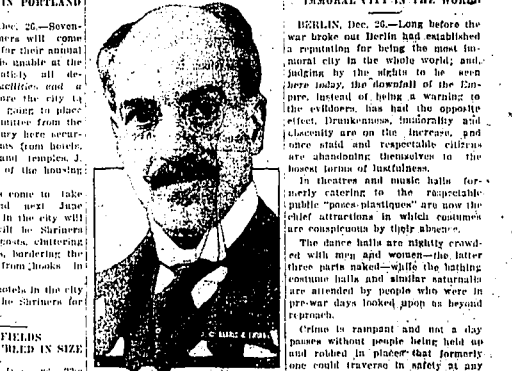

Witness of Christ's glory (Lesson 7) Matt. 16:28-32. The disciples were offended at the revelation of the cross; their hopes were dashed with their eyes turned away beyond the cross. The transfiguration convinced them not only of his eternal glory, but also of his true humanity. Jesus corrects John's narrowness (Lesson 9) Matt. 18:4-6. The disciples need to know that all who are really Jesus' loved ones, and who are really Jesus' loved ones, should be received into fellowship and hidden in His holiness and tolerance in dispensing to Jesus.

Jesus teaches true greatness (Lesson 10) Matt. 23:1-12. The truly great are those who take the lowest place in service for others. Peter and John suffer in Gethsemane (Lesson 11) Matt. 26:36-46. Though Christ was suffering the awful agony in the garden, his disciples were asleep. He was not to be forsaken and they fell into the hour of temptation.

Christ's resurrection and resurrection of Jesus (Lesson 12) John 11:17-18; 11:25-27; 11:31-40; 11:43-44. Peter's commission to feed the sheep (Lesson 13) Matt. 16:17-19. Self-confidence is always followed by unbelief. One who thinks himself strong will go to sleep. Peter is to pray (Mark 14:38). It is the one who relies on his own strength who always seeks the commendation of God in prayer. (1) Zeal without knowledge (Mark 14:47-49). Peter thought now to make up for his lack of watchfulness and prayer by outward acts. Many today are equally ignorant of the will of God. (2) Ignorance of Christ's love for his followers after all, do doubt wondering what would be the outcome. (3) Wanting himself to be a part of the work (Mark 14:54). (4) Open denial (Mark 14:66-72).

Reaching City of Fortune. Would you reach the city of Fortune? Catch the car marked Perseverance. Position in Life. Your position in life is high or low as your faith is high or low. Strength of the Soul. The soul that is not strong in faith is not strong in a word. Frankness. There is no wisdom like frankness—Luther.

RETIRED "BOCH ARDON". SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 26.—"Boch Ardon" is hereby today—permanently. This time "Boch Ardon" is Richard Stinson, who emigrated early in the war and was later reported "killed" in action. Mrs. Beulah Irene Hoover, his wife and the mother of sixteen-year-old Allen Stinson, waited hopefully for verification of her husband's death. It came in the form of letters from those who "saw him alive." All hope apparently gone, Mrs. Stinson was married on June 17, 1919, to G. C. Jackson. A few days ago a telegram reached her from New York and it was signed "Boch." The "killed in action" report was false. The two husbands left the choice to her. Her choice was "Boch," and she has started amicable proceedings against her "raining" husband. The suit is an amicable one, it is understood.
