The Most Reliable Harvesting and Haying Machines

The Most Efficient Tractors and Power Machines

The Most Popular Plows and Tillage Implements

YOU know these trade names. Your father and grandfather knew three of them. They knew in their time, and you know today that these names stand for the highest quality farm machinery in the world. McCormick built the first practical reaper, Deering sold the first twine binder and was a good-twine pioneer, and William Parlin was one of the first steel plow pioneers. The lines of harvesting machines and plows started by these farm machine builders have been growing and developing ever since. Other machines have been invented and developed by the same manufacturers, and every new machine and implement has had built into the years of manufacturing experience and farm knowledge accumulated by McCormick, Deering, Parlin and their successors. Now all of these machines and implements have been merged into one line—the International Harvester. The reputation of every machine and implement in this line is the same.

We Sell the International Line

What does this mean to you as a farmer? It means, first of all, that you can buy any farm machine or implement you may need, right here, in this town, without taking chances on experiments or implements that might be "orphaned" one or two years after you buy them—because of the manufacturer going out of business. You can always get repairs for any machine or implement in the International line because the Harvester Company will never go out of business. You are assured of reliable machines because every machine in the Harvester line is tried out and tested under actual farm conditions, before being offered for sale to the farmer. The Experimental Department of the Harvester Company is the most thorough and active institution of its kind.

on all of these machines through one concern—us. You don't have to go to the bother and inconvenience of trying to get repairs and service from half a dozen or more different companies. You won't be taking chances on expensive delays waiting for repairs during the busy seasons because we are going to carry a big stock of repairs on hand and any repairs that we might not have we can get for you in a hurry by a phone call to the International Harvester branch house.

Tack this advertisement up in your machine shed so that whenever you need repairs for any of your International machines you will know where to go. Also, you will know where to go when you are in the market for new machines or implements of real quality and the highest operating efficiency.

It means, second, that you can get repairs and repair service

Murray & Son & Hopkins, auctioneers of this place, have been very busy. They have had a number of sales and reports wonderful results and were Washington is expected the probability they realize the value of their advertisement is evidenced by their advertisement in today's issue of the Times.

ANOTHER VIT HOPE VANISHES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Another hope of the "vite" has vanished. J. Harry Baber, secretary to Governor Edward of New Jersey, who came to Washington to examine the probability of their work, after a determination was made that there were flaws in it which might be used as a basis to declare the law void, under the "vite" secretary. It is thought that the "vite" secretary will be used to delay the proclamation of the law.

Paper Has Not One Subscriber

It has been the intention of the Imperial family of Japan, says a writer in East and West News, to send all newspapers and magazines from their members until they attain their eighteenth year, but the rule was waived in the case of Hirohito, the present crown prince. Four months before his twelfth birthday he was allowed to begin reading a specially prepared journal.

High Temperature May Mislead

High temperature does not always mean fever, for the body heat may be increased by exercise or outdoor activity as well as by the sun. It is a fact that a high temperature does not necessarily indicate a fever. The physician is not to be misled by the thermometer.

His Mistake.
"I thought you knew my wife and her sister," said very much alike.
"Yes, why, the other day I got a note in a crowded trolley car, and when I got out my checkbook was also getting off the same car and she gave me half a dollar for not getting up and offering her my seat."
"Well, why didn't you offer her your seat? Didn't you know her?"
"No, I didn't. I only thought it was my wife's," said the Statesman.

Very Much Convinced.
"I have had the shopping cough, and so was not invited to her little friend Margaret's birthday party, though the list included all the other children in the neighborhood. On the morning of the affair the telephone girl might have conveyed the following conversation:
"Hello, is this Margaret Hilditch's house?"
"Yes, who is this?"
"Yes, it is Helen Marten. You are going to have a birthday party today, aren't you?"
"Well, yes, Margaret. I'm all over the shopping cough now."

Origin of "Fossiliferous."
"The name 'fossiliferous' was originally applied to New York city by the mineralogical police assistant. The credit of naming it is attributed to Capt. Alexander Williams, who was placed in command of the product September 20, 1875. When he took charge he was asked how he liked the change. "Great," was the response. "I've come from a tramp district (on east side district) to the fossiliferous," and underlain it has remained ever since. This was a great day for the city, following the example of the New York journals in so designating similar districts of their own cities.

The Jazz Spirit.
"Wasn't that Gladland crazy over jazz music?"
"Indeed, indeed."
"Yes, I heard that when I took her on a sight-seeing trip through the biggest bottle shop in town that day."
"I don't get the connection."
"As soon as we entered and Gerty heard the term, she grabbed my arm and said, 'Gee, Gladland's crazy over jazz music.'"

Even the Seal.
It is one of the disillusionments experienced by most newcomers on this planet that the wonderful pieces of childhood's enjoyment are found to have shrank amazingly on being revisited in after years. Even the small people, find that imagination plays truant with them, and are driven to some such remark as that of the girl who, on being taken back to the seaside after two years or so, exclaimed: "It's not the same, humbug fishing. It's gone out of shape."

Farm Lands Grow in Value.
The value of farm lands is increasing steadily in the United States, the average for average grade plow lands being about $7.25 per acre on March 1, as compared with $6.28 a year ago, $6.17 two years ago, and $5.23 three years ago.

MATURE PLANS FOR SEED SHOW AT POCATELLO

Speakers of Repute to Address Gathering of Agricultural Men This Month

Plans are rapidly nearing completion for the Annual Joint Agricultural Conference and Seed Show which is to be held at Pocatello, Idaho, on January 12th to the 16th.

Plans are rapidly nearing completion for the Annual Joint Agricultural Conference and Seed Show which is to be held at Pocatello, Idaho, on January 12th to the 16th.

Great care has been taken in making these seed selections and a great opportunity will be afforded to those wishing to purchase high class purebred stock.

To encourage the production of better seed and to promote the standardization of the same, the Idaho legislature has appropriated $1500 to be used as seed premiums at the Annual State Seed Show which is connected with the Joint Conference.

Following is the daily program: Monday, January 11—Opening meeting in charge of Pocatello Commercial club. Stock Show grounds open.

Tuesday, January 12—Frigidation Day, a Conservation of Water and topics of live interest on the development of new areas in Idaho.

Wednesday, January 13—Special day included among the speakers will be Prof. C. H. Hyslop, chief in farm crops at Oregon State Agricultural college, L. F. Gruber of Wisconsin, specialist in small seeds; H. A. Oakley, head of seed work in the U. S. department of agriculture; and H. P. Sheehan, Idaho state seed commissioner.

Thursday, January 14—Hereford and Swiss day—speakers will be "Breeds" of the "International" Idaho A. E. O'Connell, editor of the Idaho Farmer; John T. Kane, a noted Hereford breeder; and others to be arranged for. The stock sales will be held in the afternoon.

Friday, January 15—Short-horn, Dairy, Farm Bureau and Boys and Girls Club day. One hundred boys

ALICE JOYCE

Before the names of players were featured on the screen, Alice Joyce was known as "the Kalam girl." Each company had its "girl" and she was the "Vignette Girl," the "Elegant Girl" and the "Selling Girl" and the "Wilson Girl." Of all these reigning favorites of the early days, Alice Joyce alone shines as a star today, but now as the daughter of Vitaphone instead of Kalam.

With such notable plays as Charles Klein's "The Lion and the Mouse" and "The Third Degree" which she has entered as a star, Alice Joyce has entered an era of steadily increasing popularity. Her historical melodramas, in "The Black Mission" recently released, have placed her among the rulers of the screen.

The "Winner Woman," by Charles Slaton Wood, has been completed and will present her in a type of part which she has not been accustomed to play. Her next picture, "The Adventure," Vitaphone will issue one of the most pretentious productions it has created in some time.

Throughout the week in addition to the above program there will be demonstrations and talks on garment-making, home improvement and many other topics of live interest to the women.

A SARDONY ESCAPE (Continued) On Monday of this week, six boys, Newell Ward, Paul Whitehead, Tom Brown, Jerome Cleveland and Lowell Starnum, took a hike to the river, contemplating bringing home some ducks.

The hunting party was broken up by the boys from the west returned to the falls. They found the tracks of the missing boys and followed them almost to Shoshone falls when they came to the top of the trail. They then backed tracked for a short distance and climbed the steep, icy canyon and returned to Pillar falls where they settled until dark for the missing boys, who did not return.

WORLD'S BIGGEST NITRATE PLANT

Mammoth Explosives Factory in Alabama Built in Eight Months

ALL SPEED RECORDS BROKEN

Could Supply 13 Per Cent of Allies' Needs Had War Continued

By GARRET SMITH. Lifting the ban of war secrecy has just now brought to light for the first time one of the most stupendous feats of construction in history—the planning and building in less than one year of the largest ammonium nitrate plant in the world and of a city around it for the housing of the 25,000 workmen and their families.

When America entered the world war in April, 1917, the munitions shortage of high explosives necessary to provide the huge army she planned to create in Great Britain and India, led to the decision to manufacture in our own use impossible.

By this process cyanamid was produced by extracting nitrogen from the air and combining it with calcium obtained from limestone rock and carbon from coke. By putting cyanamid through three more processes both ammonia and nitric acid can be extracted from it and combined into the explosive ammonium nitrate.

By this process cyanamid was produced by extracting nitrogen from the air and combining it with calcium obtained from limestone rock and carbon from coke. By putting cyanamid through three more processes both ammonia and nitric acid can be extracted from it and combined into the explosive ammonium nitrate.

It was necessary to build a new town to house the laborers. For this job Warrington's Church Kerr Construction Co. was selected. The new town, which has been called Warrington, has a population of 25,000 inhabitants and has been completed, with lodging, restaurants, stores, electric power headquarters, schools, fire departments, hospitals, motion picture theaters, electric light and sewerage systems.

The construction of the plant proper was begun on February 16, 1918. Just eight months and six days after the plant began a steady output of ammonium nitrate. The plant contains 113 permanent buildings, with a roof area of over 600 acres.

To provide the electric current it was necessary to build a steam power plant. This plant, built by the J. D. White Corporation, is one of the largest steam plants for developing electric power in the world. The output of the plant is 2,000,000 kilowatt-hours per year, and this can be increased to 3,000,000 kilowatt-hours per year.

Work more— Produce more— Save more—

But we can't continue increasing our production unless we continue increasing our railroad facilities.

The farms, mines and factories cannot increase their output beyond the capacity of the railroads to haul their products.

Railroads are now near the peak of their carrying capacity.

Without railroad expansion—more engines, more cars, more tracks, more terminals—there can be little increase in production.

But this country of ours is going to keep right on growing—and the railroads must grow with it.

To command in the investment markets the flow of new capital to expand railroad facilities—and so increase production—there must be public confidence in the future earning power of railroads.

The nation's business can only grow as fast as the railroads grow.

This advertisement is published by the Association of Railway Executives.

ENUMERATORS FOR CENSUS APPOINTED

Work of Taking Census Enacting—Try to Complete Task in Two Weeks in Towns

The enumerators appointed for the taking of the Fourteenth Decennial Census have an important task to perform and there are a number of restrictions placed on them. Each enumerator is required to go to every house in the district in which he is appointed to serve, making the head of the family or a person who is competent to answer questions for the entire family.

Written identification cards and government commissions must be carried by the census takers at all times and in case there is any doubt as to whether or not they are authorized to do the work, they may prove their identity. Those taking the census are warned against the disclosure of any private details of the household.

CRITICISM OF THE HIGHWAY COMMISSION.

III.

The report of the president of the highway commission five months ago to the public utilities committee of the Twin Falls County Farmers association, which waited upon the commission to get a report of the commission's activities in order to quiet growing criticism, especially among the farmers, of the commission's "delay in beginning the building of roads and other matters," describes quite fully the modus operandi of the rock crusher plant, giving its capacity among other details, and winds up the subject by saying:

"We know of no reason why this plant can not be completed and in full operation not later than October 1st."

The following pertinent statements may be found in the report: "To complete the road construction program as outlined within the bond election was held will require 200,000 cubic yards of crushed rock."

"We called for bids for the construction of a crushing plant with a capacity of about 100 tons per hour or 500 cubic yards per day of eight hours."

"The plant is designed to be operated during the winter months when labor is plentiful. The surplus stone not used on the roads will be stored for use in the spring, when the road building starts."

"The commission having chosen an attitude of keeping its own counsel, saying nothing since last August about how things were going, leaves the public to infer that all's well and going smoothly. Now it may be assumed that the rock crusher was completed and placed in full operation on October 1st, that it commenced grinding out 500 cubic yards of crushed rock each eight-hour shift and that this amount is now piled up in storage awaiting spring, when active road building will be commenced."

More than three months have elapsed since the rock crusher was completed, if no reason appeared why it should not have been completed by October 1. If the commission was disappointed in not getting the crusher done at the specified time it has said nothing about it. Figuring 7 working days in the three months, there is a total of 24,500 cubic yards, or 50,000 tons, or 120,000,000 pounds of rock already on hand with which to push work in the spring. It is clear that the quantity necessary for the completion of the program is not available as three months hence, there will be an equal quantity produced, so that one-fourth of the rock necessary for the job will be on hand by the time the spring breezes blow and dry up the roads so they will be in good workable condition.

At that time the force employed at the crusher during the winter, when labor is plentiful, can be transferred from its crushing activities to the actual work of building roads and push the work to rapid completion. That force consists of "one boat man, one master mechanic, one man at the bins and one at the large jaw crusher, making a total of four men for operations of the plant."

These four men, if not qualified for the work of laying the road surface, will come in handy as assistants to the surveyors who doubtless are long will be busy again "checking up" on the surveys that were made a half a dozen times last summer.

AFTER THE PARTY.

The coal strike is dying a natural death, the miners have gone to work, and the outlook for peace and business is better than for a long time.

Our little old friend, increased production, is having a marked softening spell, and if everybody who has a job will go back to it, our little old friend will soon develop into a real convalescence. Every family has had experience with its children on the day after the picnic. Mary is cross, and slaps Willie. The baby cries all day. George won't bring in the coal. Ethel will not do one thing to help mother without so much argument that mother gets sick. The whole thing, spans the baby, sends the boys to bed, tells the father he can't go to the party next Friday night, and ties Mary's shoelace for her because it slipped her little brother. Result, the picnic is a failure.

The same thing has happened to labor and to business in the coal strike. It happens to the children at the picnic. There has been a softening spell, and the profits and wages have been too rich; there has been a picnic. But the results of mother's discipline in the form of full sentences, injunctions and stern public displays are to show, and one by one the untimely members of the picnic party are being brought back to the picnic table.

any general disruption, so every industry which hurds quietly and responsibly to its tasks helps to hold the unruly ones in line.

Every sign indicates that the disorderly reaction is about over, and from now on the family contact will rapidly return to normal. It is a cheering thought for the new year.

FARMERS NEED TO GET TOGETHER.

It is interesting to note that the American Federation of Farmers is preparing to invade Idaho. Just what the federation stands for or against is not clear. But it is apparent that it is either a move recognizing the necessity for farmers to get together for their own protection, or it is a move having in its inception the fact that if farmers do get together the old order will change.

The future of farming success depends largely on the farmers getting together and sticking together, working for co-operation with the thrifty workers, not in making faces at them to the amusement of the exploiters who profit by working one end of productive effort against the other end.

There is something wrong in the many national movements that are springing up all over the country for the purpose of dividing the liberal voters among half a dozen parties, while concentrating the conservative vote in one party. The election of 1912, when Wilson and Roosevelt divided the progressive vote between them, and Taft got the so-called conservative vote, is a lesson which the conservatives are not soon likely to forget. The liberals will be divided into mere hostile camps if old-line standpatism is to triumph. And nobody realizes this more fully than the standpattees themselves.

PLANT A BULB.

One of the joys of winter, as inexpensive as to be possible to everybody, is growing bulbs.

It is not necessary to have a garden or a conservatory, or even a sunning window, for these charming visitors. They require only a pot of dirt, or a few public kept watered, and grow they will in spite of everything.

Narcissus, hyacinth, tulip or iris, any bulbs at all will do. Buy them from the florist or at the corner grocery or from a mail order catalogue. Plant and water them. Keep them in the dark until they sprout. Then place them in whatever window is available, north or south, east or west, and know the delights of watching the steady, daily development of a growing thing. It is a cure for the blues, for unfaith and all the ugly things which make life seem not worth the living.

The bulb, growing, developing, blooming, is the proof of immortality, of a protecting power, of the fact that life is the great principle after all.

Plant a bulb and watch it grow, and if all things are not added unto you, so many things will be that the things which are denied will seem far less important.

These crafty Germans! Remember how they stirred up trouble between the U. S. and Mexico before the late lamented war! And now they're at it again.

If these women have their way, and take all the tobacco land in this country to raise food, American males may raise a nice man and go on a hunger strike.

PALACE A TOWN IN ITSELF

More Than Fourteen Hundred Rooms in Vienna House of Ex-Empress of Austria.

There are 1,400 rooms in the city palace formerly occupied by the ex-Emperor of Austria, is Vienna. It is also equipped with 100 kitchens and the courtyard covers 25,000 meters. The massive dome columns at the outside entrance were constructed by Peter von Hobbie in 1821-24. Through these one enters the "Palace of Peace" outside the castle ward. A new wing was added here in 1887-94. The inner walls are of the Renaissance style, by Ottoman and Baumann, and were completed in 1917. Further on, toward the eastern side of the ground, is the Heiligenplatz, where stand two exquisite monuments, the largest in the capital. The one on the left is that of Prince Eugene, while that on the right is of the Archduke Charles, who defeated Napoleon at Aspern. A Roman ruin of ancient date is seen in the castle grounds. It is characteristic of the Roman conquerors, but is so disheveled that but two or three of the portals remain, the others being nothing but crumbled stone. A tall arch is the best preserved part of the ruin. Near the Roman ruin is a great obelisk, resembling a needle more than most monuments of the kind. The top is fluted in form. The side bears hieroglyphs of the history of Austria. Near it is the glorious Neptune fountain, and from Sebete Brunner (beautiful fountain) the castle grounds defined their name, Schoenbrunn.

The Times job printing department is thoroughly equipped to do first class work at reasonable prices.

Our Free Service Checks Your Truck Costs

WE will study your trucks, loads and routes to ascertain which type of Goodyear Truck Tire will serve you at the lowest cost per mile.

The selection of the right type and size of truck tire frequently means substantial reductions in tire costs and therefore in truck repair bills.

Then we will submit a report containing our tire equipment recommendations and detailing various steps of the money-saving attention which we are prepared to give to your tires and trucks while tires are being applied and after.

For example, it will explain how we inspect tires regularly and report on their condition, suggesting any treatment needed by injuries such as cuts, cracks and bruises. These, if neglected, develop quickly and frequently result in the failure of otherwise sound tires.

The submitting of this report will help you to find and stop leaks in your cartage account. It involves no obligation. Remember our facilities: a big hydraulic press, a well-equipped work-shop and plenty of parking space. Night or Sunday service by appointment.

TIRES

Barney Oldfield's Message

"Probably I've used more tires than any other living driver, and I've studied tires and experimented with them, to find out what kind of a tire I could absolutely trust.

During my twenty years of hard driving, I've discovered certain principles of tire construction that are more embodied in the Oldfield tire.

I've given these tires the hardest kind of tests and they always stand up, under any conditions. They're trustworthy to the absolute limit.

So I pass them along to you with my personal recommendation, as—"the most trustworthy tire built."

You know me.
BARNEY OLDFIELD.

Surely the tire that Barney Oldfield recommends--and uses himself--as the most Trustworthy--merits your unqualified confidence.

OLDFIELD TIRES are the most trustworthy tires built. That sounds like a very broad statement, but consider that these tires are based on the knowledge and experience of Barney Oldfield, the world's Master Driver. They embody the principles of tire construction that Mr. Oldfield has worked out and tested thoroughly in twenty years of all kinds of driving on race tracks and in cross-country touring.

OLDFIELD TIRES are built with a zinc-tempered, wrapped-tread, and each tire is two-cured. To the average car owner these words may mean little, but ask your tire merchant to explain them and he will tell you that they signify a type of construction which assures dependable miles of service.

OLDFIELD TIRES have made good.

So well have they justified the confidence placed in them that Oldfields are adjusted on 6000 miles for fabric and 8000 miles for cords. The real basis for adjustment is satisfaction to you. Every Oldfield Tire you buy is an investment--not an experiment.

You never had so many reasons for choosing a particular make of tire as you have for riding on OLDFIELDS.
