KELLY-SPRINGFIELD TIRES and TUBES

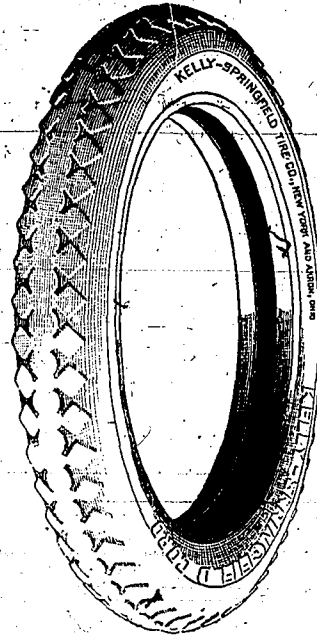

A cheap tube in a costly casing is a speculation. A Kelly tube in a Kelly Tire is an investment, which insures dividends in big mileage.

It is a significant fact that the finest cars in America are equipped with
Kelly-Springfield
Tires

An optimist is one who believes he can get a tire as good as a Kelly-Springfield for less money

You hear a lot about over-size tires. What you hear most about Kelly-Springfields is over-size mileage.

THE DIFFERENCE

Kelly-Springfield
mileage and other tire mileage is the difference between a certified check and a promissory note.

CONSUMER PAYS $7 FOR BREAD FROM $2 WHEAT

Difference Between $2 and $7 Shows Efficiency in Looking After Profits

(By Tom O'Leary, in Denver Post.)—Translated into loaves of bread the cost of a bushel of wheat is $2. It works out this way: The farmer has received for his wheat the average price of $2 a bushel. It takes four and one-half bushels of it to make a barrel of flour. The miller of the barrel of flour 254 loaves of bread, which retail at 10 cents each. This leaves the "bun and shorts," a milling by-product, which is worth about 10 cents an ever barrel of flour milled, making the bread and the by-products from four and one-half bushels of wheat cost approximately $7 a bushel.

Buy-Breast-Scanner of Kansas in preference to this: "Our mills are said to be the most efficient the world has ever known. The makers must have to be added a 'yield' and our retailers—the difference between $2 and $7 speaks for their efficiency in looking after their profits."

Even if, as some people suppose the farmer received the full $2.25 a bushel for his wheat, which he doesn't, only $1.75 a barrel would have to be added. There have been self-acted prophesies all times and our food handlers seem to think that, only manure and chemicals have descended on them. Some of these days they will come out of the cloud from which they emit lightning and patios half-healing a parasite.

"Writing this on Xmas I will recall, remembering that no one can really see themselves exactly. In their eye, no matter how often they ngle, Bobbie Burns' prayer: "Oh, would some power the gift see us. To see ourselves as others see us."

That, however, will be comparatively immaterial in the long run, because this bubble of efficiency must be pricked. We simply can't afford it, no matter how pleasing its tridescence, when the sun makes it so scintillate."

A lot of big manufacturers see the point very clearly, seeing when it was time to talk a few joints ago. They are getting ready to start stores for their employees where prices shall have a real relation to costs of production.

NEW COSTS NEARLY $4 FOR BUSHEL

At first they spent a lot of ink in exposing the inefficiency of the farmer in hiring professors to teach him better ways of viewing the male in the farmer's eye, unable to see the beam in their own, but gradually and slowly, so slowly that one almost despair, they have come to see that there is an upward movement in retail prices in consonance with an upward wage scale and that the profit in the mechanical toy is never any farther ahead of the bounds. Wheat used to be transformed into bread at a differential of 14 cents a bushel or 23 cents a barrel, where it now costs near $4 a bushel. We are overworking with riches between the grower and the consumer there is such a fine mesh net so often interpreted that before those who work at other trades can consume the farmer's product, it costs them a price that is reflected in their product to an extent that threatens to bring us to a standstill.

"If in the year this is passing manufacturers have come to see that they must protect the workman from starvation, 1919 will mark an epoch when insanity shall pass and in 1920 we hope that sanity will at least begin its rule."

How Competition Helps You

The competition that exists among the hundreds of meat distributors, large and small, means

Rivalry in Prices
Rivalry in Service
Rivalry in Economy
Rivalry in Quality

Swift & Company sells meat at the lowest possible price, consistent with quality and service. Our profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound on all products is evidence of keen competition.

Swift & Company sells meat at the best service to your dealer. Or he will buy from our competitors. This means a supply of fine fresh meat always on hand for you at your dealer's.

Swift & Company must keep down manufacturing and selling costs, and use all by-products to avoid waste, or else lose money meeting the prices of competitors' who do.

Swift & Company must make its products of the highest quality, or see you turn to others. This means better meat for you and a greater variety of appetizing, wholesome food.

We are as glad for this competition as you should be. It helps to keep us on our mettle.

Swift & Company, U.S.A.

FIGHTING ALWAYS HAD BEEN HIS CREED. Then Marie came into his life like the light of sunshine that streamed down through the branches of the tall fir and played he grew so well. He had devoted weakness of dry kind, and Gabriel a startling, had been an object of contempt to his school. But one day Hugo the Mighty came to the conclusion that Marie loved Gabriel. His heart grew heavy, but he determined he would make of Gabriel a man worthy of such a girl. He forgot his contempt for weakness and took Gabriel in hand. Out into the hills, over dangerous precipices, into the wild places they went. Hugo teaching the youth the things he needed to know to fight a sense fight in the world. Hugo grew in time to believe the youth would make good. They then, one day the test came. They were in a pair of "tin woods" where he needed strong hearts and souls as well as limbs. Gabriel started, but the test was too severe and the yellow in him showed. Then, when Hugo went back to the girl. He saw the conclusion of the story in "Hugo the Mighty," the "Hugo the Mighty" in five reels, which come to the Orpheum theatre on Thursday and Friday, with Monroe Salisbury in the title role. The ORPHEUM Theatre THURSDAY & FRIDAY Monroe Salisbury Star of "The Man in the Moonlight" in "Hugon---The Mighty"

A Gripping Story of the Great North Woods, with an appealing love interest. Blessed with great strength, he grew to curse things less strong than he. He could not understand why she did not want the other man killed. A tiny spider defied him and taught him how little his great strength counted against things of God. He loved her and for that reason tried to make a hero of his rival. He battled with the fury and strength of a lion for right and a girl's love. Monroe Salisbury in the greatest of all plays of the great North Woods. He lost, yet he won. Strength was his God and fighting his creed until. Through the great branches of the fir trees came love to a strong man's heart. And the strength of the ages was weakness before her smile.

SMALL SALARIES CAUSE RADICALS SAYS PROFESSOR

Declares Unrest Would Not Have Erupted If Teachers Got Enough to Live On.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—The Association of American Colleges, several hundred small educational institutions, met here today for a three days' convention at which plans will be discussed for securing this year of a $400,000,000 fund to aid smaller colleges throughout the country.

Dr. George L. McInnis, professor of the Michigan college, made a plea for the American people to support the smaller schools.

"The great barrier against both the north and the great strength of democracy," he said, "is the small college. If the time ever comes when democracy reaches the last ditch, it is the small college."

"Hundred of professors and administrators are attending the convention. Many of them are from the north of the small colleges. In fact, unless there is financial betterment, a great deal of the spirit of unrest and agitation throughout the country might never have existed if people had seen in it their needs in schools and colleges were given reasonable salaries," said Dr. McInnis.

The teachers and instructors should be given an opportunity to show them the better side of things."

Joint Conference Will Be Hammer

HOISE, Jan. 2.—Preparations are making for the Idaho seed show and other features of the joint conference of seed growers, irrigation men, home makers and livestock men to be held at Pocatello, January 12 to 16.

Monday, Jan. 12, is to be highway and engineering day. Tuesday, Jan. 13, is at table for the irrigation men. "Water Conservation" is to be featured, and topics of importance to every irrigated section in the west will be discussed.

Wednesday, Jan. 14, is to be featured by the attendees of all county club champions.

Wood's Petition Is Officially Approved

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 2.—Water General Leonard Wood is the first candidate for the Republican presidential nomination to secure approval for the form of his nomination petitions from the secretary of state. The petitions were approved today and will be filed with the secretary of state today.

BRINGING UP FATHER

News from the WORLD of SPORTS

How "how to" is being used in the world of sports. The article discusses the use of "how to" guides in various sports, from baseball to tennis, and how they are being used to improve performance and technique.

Somebody wrote a new song, putting the thing square up to a nut and asking them what are they going to do about it. "How you going to keep them?" the song asks, and that's just what some of us would like to know but it isn't really easy to do.

The answer to all these questions is to offer something attractive and in the case of ball players this means a stimulant applied to the bank roll. Professional ball players appear, somehow, to be enclosed to sentiment. They don't care much about the old home town games liked by its hated rival unless the D. H. P. pays them enough to amuse their sympathy.

The coming season will require even more hard cash to get results because they will be so many hard cash customers that the preference can be called that way. This will mean a short market before the season opens with a consequent price rise in the financial line to players. To insure protection, at least three moves should be made.

Start out with a reasonable supply of each early in the season before the talent is snatched up. Form your league under the rules and protection of regularly organized baseball so that the frantic gentlemen who show up late with a heavy bank roll cannot lure your players away, without forcing them to take status as outlaws.

These things could be done in Twin Falls. It is presumed, of course, that the town does not intend to let baseball drop and that with lively towns getting such good advertising out of the game. But the lessons of last season show that strong organization is needed to put out a successful club. There are two such organizations in Twin Falls that stand out as better equipped than others to take the matter in hand if they choose. These are the Chamber of Commerce and the Elk's Club. Either organization could probably push the enterprise through handsily, but whatever is done and whoever does it, the time is at hand right now.

BASEBALL TALES FOR STOVE LEAGUE FANS

Larry McLean Drove Ball Through Knot Hole.

Walter Johnson Hit the Pill So Hard That the Cover Was Ripped Off—G. Stange Had a Long Hit—Other Freak Hits.

Some around the freshe the baseball fans young and old, gather and discuss the strange happenings of the year last gone.

One of the classics often talked about is the story of Larry McLean's home run when he was playing in the Pacific Coast league, writes Al Stark in Chicago Evening Post. The time had been a close one up to the time when Larry found against a fast ball and drove it to deep center.

The ball hit the fence all right, but it didn't bounce back. It hit a knot hole and went on through, barely missing a boy who had been watching the game through the hole. Larry kept on running until he made the circuit of the bases.

"Turning the cover off the ball" has been a favorite phrase of the fan since a player made a hit ever three the game was first invented.

Walter Johnson, the mighty fireball pitcher of Washington, literally did not that this season. He led by one of the world's greatest pitchers. It is a matter of so many ability to once get in a batting driver to bag that the cover ripped open and dropped off the ball.

The largest home-run hit on record was made by old Fred Goetz, who landed squarely on the ball, lifting it over the fence. A freight train was possible the ball hit into a coal car. It was found the next day when the train stopped in New York city.

Hans Wagner, the mighty Pittsburgh catcher who was leading the big leagues in batting and fielding when most of the present-day big-league players made a fresh bearing in his home city one day.

GOV. COOLIDGE TELLS HOW TO BE CONTENTED

Suggests Simple Remedies for Industrial Discontent and Wave of Radicalism

BOSTON, Jan. 2.—Governor Calvin Coolidge, president of the Massachusetts Republican convention for the year, said how to attain the state of economic discontent and radicalism prevailing in the country, in his inaugural message to the legislature today.

His suggested remedies are:
1.—Abandon the mad scramble for money and get back to the Plymouth Rock standard of believing that "it do something for some one else" is better than to accumulate wealth.

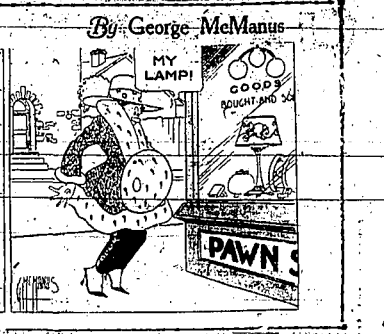

2.—Make the government a human thing, with a heart for the weak and oppressed.

3.—Save the produce and thus solve the shortage of all kinds of materials.

4.—Reduce government expenses from a war to a peace basis, for so long as the cost of government is the cost of living will be high.

5.—Pay off the war obligations and do not impose new burdens, for there is danger that our resources may be taxed out of existence.

6.—Pursue the criminal scoundrel and educate the ignorant who accept the false doctrine.

Will Arraign Prevost for Murder Thursday

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., Jan. 2.—County authorities announced this afternoon that Lloyd Prevost would be arraigned Thursday on the murder charge contained in the warrant issued yesterday and served on Prevost in full today. The warrant charged young Prevost with having shot the "hair-trigger" that he carried in exposed form.

Alvin Mouschoutzen, 22, Grand Ave., was arraigned near his home on Second street, Grandt, when the men leaped from an automobile, grabbed hold of the car and cut off the motor-part of the hair.

Annie Erice, thirteen, daughter of No. 608 Seventh street, Grandt, was in the car when two young men accosted her and cut off her tresses.
