MEXICO VOLCANO GASSES SCORES

Escape Flow of Lava and Mud Only to Be Poisonous in Clouds of Toxic Vapors

MANY VILLAGES ARE WIPED OUT

Rebel Bands in District Surrender With Declaration That They Would Rather Be Shot Than Try to Live Among Strangers

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10.—Scores of persons literally were gassed to death in the volcanic districts of Vera Cruz, according to dispatches here today. When the new volcano of San Miguel began its new eruption many people of villagers who escaped the streams of lava and lava were caught in great clouds of poisonous gas and killed. Other look things in trees along the roadside, but were overcome by gas and fell into the breach. Their bodies were washed away in the current. Ashes from the volcano were reported to have fallen as far away as Coahuila, over 100 miles from the crater near Cordoba. Many rebel bands which have infested this district were reported approaching the center and surrounding, declaring they would rather be shot than hide in the volcano district. Wiping out of many villages in the district around Jaupa was confirmed by dispatches today. Only one family survived in Barroco, Grande, it was said. Official figures show 72 killed at Coahuila and 33 at Toluca. Twenty bodies were recovered from the district near Coahuila. The bodies also were wrecked in this district. Bands attempted to ambush General Canedo, Agrilar, former militia chief, and governor of Vera Cruz while he was leading a relief party into the volcanic district, but were repulsed by Mexican troops.

SPAIN ADOPTS RUTHLESSNESS

Government Adopts Strong Measures to Put Down Extremist Disorders and Strikes

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Delayed dispatches from Madrid tonight indicate that the radical outbreak occurred in several parts of Spain this week and only was put down after the authorities had adopted the most ruthless measures. The government has adopted strong measures to put down the disorders and strikes. The government has adopted strong measures to put down the disorders and strikes.

Say Evidence Shows Grafting in Drying Up City of Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Profiteering prohibitionists will charge its violation before a grand jury here next week, it was pronounced here tonight. Federal officials, including representatives of the revenue department and the department of justice, reported they had evidence to show grafting in the process of making Chicago dry. According to these officials evidence was obtained to show that racketeers of liquor stores have been staged, that protection money was paid and that employees of the revenue department were discharged two weeks ago on such complaint.

British Railroaders Raise Grave Questions

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Sir Eric Geddes, minister of transportation, has indicated a President of the railway men's union, that the union's demands had raised issues of such importance that it would be necessary for him to consult the cabinet before making a reply. He hoped to be able to make a statement to the union early next week. The railway men previously had refused the government's offer of a sliding scale of wages.

Strike and Lockout Threaten in Germany

BERLIN, Jan. 9. (Delayed).—Some uneasiness was felt here tonight over the political and economic situation in view of recently expressed threats of a general strike. There were suggestions in some quarters that big industrial plants might shut down if the workers' committee is passed as drafted, while radical labor leaders hinted they may call a general strike if the law is considered so it is unsatisfactory to them.

COMMANDER OF LEGION URGES LABOR TO JOIN

Says Union Members Who Joined Colors Appreciate Responsibilities as Citizens

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 10.—Franklin D. Oiler, national commander of the American Legion, has issued a statement regarding the attitude of the Legion toward organized labor, which also was wrecked in this district. Bands attempted to ambush General Canedo, Agrilar, former militia chief, and governor of Vera Cruz while he was leading a relief party into the volcanic district, but were repulsed by Mexican troops.

PEACE TREATY RATIFICATIONS ARE EXCHANGED

Allied Nations, Except United States, Are Now at Peace With Germany

UNEFFECTED CLAUSES OF TREATY POINTED OUT

If Germany Falls to Fulfill Demands, Coercive Measures Will Be Applied

PARIS, Jan. 10.—Germany was at peace with the allies tonight. The treaty of Versailles completed after months of labor last June, was declared formally in effect late today. Exchange of ratification was completed this afternoon. Although he might have been present as a witness to the ceremony, Hugh Wallace, the American ambassador did not appear. Since the United States has not accepted the treaty, it was assumed that Wallace felt he should not be a witness to the ceremony unless specifically instructed by his government.

Following the ceremony, several of the allied delegates bowed to the Germans but did not shake hands with them. Exchanging ratifications were Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Guatemala, Peru, Poland, Spain, Czechoslovakia, Uruguay and Germany. In announcing final ratifications of the Versailles pact, Premier Clemenceau invited Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Spain, Ecuador, Ecuador, Haiti, Honduras, Iceland, Panama, Venezuela, and the Scandinavian nations to become members of the "league of nations."

Immediately after the protocol was signed, the allied leaders handed a memorandum to the German delegates outlining the unfilled clauses of the armistice. These included the delivery of 5,000 locomotives, 150,000 cars, Germany's failure to evacuate all parts of Alsace, the delivery of certain submarines which were to have been turned over to the allies, failure to deliver works of art stolen from Belgium and France, the delivery of certain aircraft, machinery and exportation of certain aeronautical materials in contravention of the agreement with the allies.

The memorandum pointed out that within sixty days Germany must deliver five light cruisers and 400,000 tons of despatch cases, covering the shipping of the intercepted debt at Sapa Flow. Within ten days she must furnish a list of all floating docks, and a list of all floating docks. The memorandum said that the terms of the Sapa Flow fleet, now held prisoners by the allies, will be repatriated. It also stated that the German submarines must be delivered at compensation for sinking of the U.S. against the agreement with the allies. The memorandum also demanded payment for the aeronautical works exported.

In case of failure to fulfill any of the demands, coercive measures will be taken. Premier Clemenceau said a letter regarding the provisions of the protocol, which the allies may be asked to sign, will be sent to the German government. The letter also stated that the German submarines must be delivered at compensation for sinking of the U.S. against the agreement with the allies. The memorandum also demanded payment for the aeronautical works exported.

Wilson Interested in Banquet's Aftermath

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—President Wilson is taking an active interest in the aftermath of the banquet given in honor of the peace treaty, according to a dispatch from the White House.

Commoner Creates Great Enthusiasm by Enunciation of Principles on Which Democracy Should Go Before People

Prohibition Cuts Crime Among Men Says Texas Judge

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 10.—"Prohibition has accomplished all it was expected to accomplish in cutting down crime among men, but I am sorry to say, the increase in crime among juveniles and women has been proportionate," Judge E. H. Reag, of the first district criminal court declared here tonight. "Practically all crimes dealt with in Dallas criminal courts, now are committed by young men, women and juveniles," he declared, deploring the sentiment that has grown up in courts to "let them on the wrist and turn them loose."

Baltimore Hospital Is Wrecked By Fire

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10.—A fire which for a time threatened the main buildings of Johns Hopkins hospital here tonight, broke out in the pathological building. A general alarm was sounded. The building was badly wrecked by the flames, but the fire was under control by midnight.

DENTIST KILLED IN OFFICE

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The throat cut from ear to ear, the eyes plucked out and the skull chopped to pieces, the body of Dr. Jacob D. Henanah, 24 years old, was found lying in the street shortly before noon today. A bloody hatchet lay a few feet away. A paroled convict from Sing Sing, thought to have a grudge against the family, is suspected.

WOOD TRIMS SAILS TO WIN NOMINATION

No Prospect He Will Take Definite Stand on Issue of What to Do With Treaty

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Political interest in Washington tonight swung to the visit here Monday of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of New Hampshire. One of the first things Wood is expected to do is to confer with Senator Moses of New Hampshire, who is to leave charge of his headquarters here over the policy to be followed with regard to making the treaty the big question at the polls.

Senator Walsh, in preparing a letter to Wood asking him how he stands on the league of nations, said he had "definitely known in his reply to the effect that he was in favor of the treaty. He probably will not take any definite stand on this proposition at any early date. There is a tendency to believe that Wood will not take any definite stand on this proposition at any early date. Oh, Yes, War Is Cause for H. C. I.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The high cost of living is one of the inevitable consequences of war, Senator Charles McNary declared today in his speech before the House committee on the bill to amend the act to provide for the relief of the families of the soldiers and sailors who were killed in the war.

Early Part of Address, Devoted to Disposition of Peace Treaty, Received With Only Moderate Enthusiasm—Heavy Artillery Brings Splendid Ovation

M'ADOO'S NAME IS MENTIONED AS LIKELY CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—William Jennings Bryan enunciated a Democratic platform for the 1920 campaign here today in a speech before the Crozier Club. Encountering a spirit of only moderate enthusiasm in the early part of his address, Bryan cut loose with his heavy artillery. With a sudden outburst of enthusiasm the crowd gave him an ovation and during the remainder of his two-hour and fourteen minutes speech he was interrupted incessantly by applause.

SEDITION BILL AIMED AT REDS PASSES SENATE

Body Decisively Defeats Amendment to Punish Advocates of Peaceable Revolution

MUST EXTERMINATE BOMB AND PROTECT THE BALLOT

Senator Walsh Says We Pride Ourselves in Fact That We Can Advocate Changes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Congress today took another step toward stamping out revolutionary violence in the United States. The senate passed the Sterling amendment containing the authority sought by Attorney General Palmer, in his campaign against the "reds." The bill now goes to the house. Should it meet approval there and at the White House, authorities say they will be armed for the final stage of the campaign against subversion in America.

The senate voted down decisively an amendment proposed by Senator McClellan, Tenn., to punish those advocating peaceable as well as violent revolution. The effect of the senate's action today was to clear up the heretofore hazy line between revolution and reform. They decided that the bomb must be exterminated but that the ballot must be safeguarded. Repeatedly during debate senators declared that the only way the government can effectively protect the ballot is by exterminating the bomb.

Senator Walsh, who cordially progressed must be interposed with care. He said the amendment would not be inserted. He said the amendment would not be inserted. He said the amendment would not be inserted. He said the amendment would not be inserted.

PROTEST ACT OF NEW YORK LEGISLATURE

Socialist Suspended by Body Declares We Live in State of Anarchy, Not Democracy

GOVERNOR DEPLORES ILL-ADVISED ACTION

Says It Is Inconceivable Minority Should Be Deprived of Representation

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 10.—"We will be content unless there is no such thing as democracy in the United States," Argus Claessens, one of the five socialist assemblymen suspended from the New York state legislature, told an open air mass meeting here today. Claessens, who with four other socialists was suspended, spoke in protest of the legislature's action. The meeting started with a few hundred people, but before the speaking was well under way, the crowd was choked in all directions. Three small speakers, straggled and decorated with American flags.

The gathering was bitterly and the big crowd of police reserved had little to do. When a captain of police warned the speakers that they must use only English, Claessens replied: "We will use English. It would be a disgrace to speak Russian. The Russians would bury their languages forever if they were subjected to such conditions as we now suffer here today." Claessens told the crowd he was composed largely of the "proletariat" and that he was a socialist. He said he was a socialist. He said he was a socialist.

"I am a revolutionist," Claessens continued, explaining to the "socialist" internationalists. "We do not know of a revolution of the people. We are living in a democracy but in a state of anarchy." He added: "I am a revolutionist. I am a revolutionist. I am a revolutionist. I am a revolutionist."

CENSORING SHAKESPEARE

The annual campaign against Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" is on again with the radical battles turned against high schools and playhouses.

There is nothing new in the arguments—they are merely the old objections that it is unfitness to study this play in school or present it in public, because Shylock is not representative of his race, and it arouses prejudices against Jews in general. A novel light has been thrown on the controversy, however, by the action of the Scottish Veterans of the World War in Newark, N. J. This organization asks the board of education to drop "Macbeth" from the curriculum if the "Merchant of Venice" is dropped, on the ground that the portrayal of Macbeth as a murderer and a traitor is a libel on the Scottish people.

A sarcastic New York reporter, writing up the matter, remarks that the board has not yet received resolutions from the Moors asking the elimination of "Othello" or from the Danes denouncing "The study of Hamlet."

There is a better case against Shakespeare's Shylock, no doubt, than against any other of his characters. Still, if racial hatred is to be drawn in the study or presentation of dramatic masterpieces, whether Shakespearean or modern, Art is likely to get into all sorts of trouble, and many works of genius are going to be neglected or rearranged beyond recognition.

COMMUNITY SERVICE CONTINUED.

Private subscriptions to the sum of $200,000,000 have been pledged in the state of Connecticut to continue in time of peace the United Community Service, which was such a tremendous factor in preserving the happiness and morals of American soldiers during the war.

A BARONESS STUDIES DEMOCRACY.

A titled woman from Holland, who wished to bring up her child to understand the fullest meaning of the word "democracy," came to this country and has worked as a domestic servant, incognito, in several western families. She thought by doing this she would understand democracy better, and by being able to and if her ladyship happened to work in a household where the cook realized supreme she learned a lot about autonomy that she had only faintly guessed at, for all her patriotic birth.

On the other hand, if she happened to get into one of those families to be found everywhere, where money has accumulated more rapidly than manners, and the idea of elegance is brow-beating the servant, she must have been bewildered indeed.

There is no stratum of American life, where democratic principles are so distinct as in the relations of master and servant. They vary from the familiarity which involves contempt to the most dignified examples of class distinction. Only in a few instances is that happy medium reached in which each accepts and dignifies his place and preserves a decent respect for the other.

If the baroness happened upon such a household, she "should have felt quite at home, for the higher the breeding the simpler are all the relations between servant and served.

She may have learned, much to her surprise that true democracy and true nobility have their roots in the same soil, and that it isn't whether one is a commoner or an aristocrat that matters, but how he conducts himself.

THE TREASURY CRED.

It is a good creed suggested by the United States Treasury Department for the new year. The chief items are:

- 1—Believe in the United States of America.
- 2—Believe that her stability and progress rest on the thrift and industry of her people.
- 3—"Therefore I will work hard and live simply."
- 4—"I will spend less than I earn."
- 5—"I will save busidly."
- 6—"To increase the financial strength of my country and myself, I will buy government securities."

It need not be objected that this creed is "purely materialistic." There is more than materialism in work and thrift, particularly when they are meant for national advancement as well as personal advancement. With hard work, thrift living and high purpose, there will be far more chance for spiritual uplift than there has been with the selfishness and purposelessness of the past year.

TELLS HOW TO USE ALL OF THE MILK

Editor The Times,
Twin Falls, Idaho.
Dear Sir:

Here is a way to solve the high cost of milk problem, increase our available human food supply, and at the same time add to the profits of the dairymen. At the present time milk is purchased from the producer on the basis of its butterfat content. Only 4 per cent of fresh milk is butterfat, and yet that is all that is sought by the creameries. The skim milk, containing valuable, electrolytes, protein and mineral salts used by the human body is only considered good enough for feed. The 2-6 per cent of all whole milk produced in this country is devoted to water making, and over 20 million pounds of skim milk are left after the fat is extracted. As most of the creameries buy only butterfat, this skim milk is left with the producer as worthless, and is generally fed to stock, but 2 per cent being made into cottage cheese.

All food chemists say that skim milk is a valuable human food and should be used as such, but it is almost tasteless, thick, and hard to digest. It is in fresh state, by replacing the butterfat extracted with a vegetable oil like coconut oil, and then condensing or evaporating the combined product, a form of food excellent for cooking purposes can be made. Its use in cooking would release for direct consumption the amount of whole milk now used in our kitchens, and the dairy farmers would receive a fair price for their skim milk, far in excess of its value for stock feeding. Washing so much of our milk like cottage out of the best parts of our meat animal and throwing the rest away, our marketing houses now use everything that they get in their cans, why not have our milk?

Yours very truly,

BALL MAGNATES WILL TRY TO CHOOSE BOSS

Will Gather in Chicago in February to Elect Chairman of National Commission

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—It takes only six months to elect a president of the United States when the voters get out. It takes a year to elect a good start toward electing a chairman of the national baseball commission. That is how important baseball

A successor to Gary Herrmann will be named here soon after February 10 on which date Chicago will be the center of the baseball universe. They will be gathered on that date the two major leagues. They will name a president of their commission, fix up their schedules and then mix in with the minor leagues.

The league want representation on the national commission. Therefore, in addition to naming the new chairman there will be the matter of the retaining the "minor" men shall come. After the commission and whether the little fellows shall be permitted to all it.

The big thing will be the election of a chairman. That official will have the task of unrolling down a lot of feeling, clearing out a number of players and dispatching in rapid fire the incidental scandal mongering regarding the late world series.

The new chairman is expected to handle minor details in rapid fire style since he will not be tied to any club or league. The commission, as it existed before Herrmann's resignation, was arranged of lawyers in disposing of matters affecting certain clubs.

In Chicago K. M. Landis is mentioned most frequently as the next chairman. He has indicated his willingness to take the job if he is given a free hand—something he has been accustomed to on the United States beach.

His salary matter will appeal. There are others named but Landis overshadows them all locally where his love of baseball and vigorous ability

LONDON NEWSWORTHY EARN $45,000 PROFIT A YEAR

LONDON, Jan. 30.—"Newspaper boys in London can earn more than $2,000 a year," says Mr. Alexander Macdonald, secretary of the retail newsagents and bookellers.

"One boy, a real plutocrat of the gutter, with a 'nitch' outside a subway bus stop station, is making $5,000 profit a year. I calculate that his wholesale account total $500 weekly, or $25,000 a year; at a moderate level, he makes his profit in 25 per cent, making his yearly income $6,250."

Macdonald protested to the amount of money lost to the community by these retail corner stations, pointing out that if the trade was carried on in shops there would be rates and taxes to be paid on the whole.

Samuel Goldwyn Presents Will Rogers in

"Jubilo"

"Tell them that you lied!"

In addition to being a cowpuncher with a punch, a humorist without effort, a wit without malice, an actor without pose, and an artist with bells on—Will Rogers can also get mad!

As Jubilo he's a hobo, a rough diamond who rubbed up against a job until the sparkle of a man shines through.

Twice he made good! Once when he beat up the cad who lied about Rose Hardy and next when he tried to take the blame for the big train hold-up that they were trying to hang on her father.

See Will Rogers—see his smile—see his titles as he is acting—he's the biggest photo-comedy and since the motion picture was invented!
