Large Tracts Have Recently Been Bought by Agents

HERNANDEZ, Mexico, Jan. 28.—Frederick Wilhelm Hohenzollern, the crown prince of Saxony, is coming to Mexico, according to a statement made here today by Rudolph Mählner, a former attaché to the German legation in Mexico City.

Mählner declared that the ex-crown prince will leave Europe early in the spring and will arrive in Mexico in the latter part of the year. He will make his headquarters in Mexico City. Frederick Wilhelm's prime purpose in coming to Mexico, according to Mählner, is to establish a German colony in the state of Queretaro where Germanists recently have taken up on a large tract of fertile lands in the vicinity of San Cristobal. Queretaro is the native state of President Carranza.

Frederick Wilhelm will be followed shortly by Prince Oscar, another son of the Kaiser, who plans to establish himself in the state of Oaxaca, Salvador, in Central America, declared Mählner. German agents have recently purchased large plantations in that district.

Wilson Asks Congress to Help Europe

Financial Relief Must Be Offered, Declares the President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—President Wilson today sent to Secretary of the Treasury Charles U. Fisher a letter asking Congress to take immediate steps to pass an appropriation for relief in Europe.

"It is unthinkably to me that we should withhold relief from these people," President Wilson said. "This prosperous republic ought not to hear any part of the responsibility for the moral and material chaos that must result from an unwillingness on our part to aid these people in their distress," the president declared.

The president's letter follows: "My dear Mr. Secretary: With cordial regards to you I have noted from the press that Congress is delaying the granting of authority for the extension of prompt and generous relief to the stricken nations of Europe, the urgency and importance of which, especially in respect to Poland, Austria, and Armenia, you have fully explained to the ways and means committee. It is unthinkable to me that we should withhold from those people who are in such mental and physical distress the assistance which can be rendered by making available, on credit, a small proportion of our exportable surplus of food which would alleviate the situation.

"This prosperous republic ought not to hear any part of the responsibility for the moral and material chaos that must result from an unwillingness on our part to aid these people in their distress," the president declared.

Newberry Wins Legal Skirmish in Trial of Fraud Charge

GRAND JAMES, Jan. 28.—Court for United States Senator Truman H. Newberry and his 124 campaign lieutenants, charged with election fraud in the campaign of 1918, closed the trial of the opening of their trial today.

Over the objection of government attorneys, they were permitted to question, through their own knowledge of Henry Ford, "propaganda," the Chase S. Osborne literature and the open letter from Lieut. Colonel George Dickerson to Newberry calling the latter's attention to the huge campaign expenditures and asking him to quit the race.

The government counsel, headed by Attorney W. A. Eberhart, raised objections continuously in this line of questioning, but Judge Clarence Sessions, who presided in the city yesterday, let it proceed Attorney George Nichols led the questioning for the defense.

Twelve witnesses were called to the stand before the questioning started. Judge Sessions explained that the government would be allowed six per century challenges, and the defense, collectively, two.

One of the witnesses called to the stand was John J. McLaughlin, who testified that he had seen Newberry at the time of the election.

More than 500 attendance boosters were in attendance at the meeting yesterday. Twin Falls led in representation, while large delegations were also present from Huhl, Kimberly, American Falls, Rupert, Oakley, and other points. Numerous resolutions were adopted, and the program for discussion, the program being carried out as scheduled.

The state will plan its credit and financial policy for the year which is the leading factor in its development, was a plan offered by former Senator N. J. Sweetley in a speech before the state meeting, which closed yesterday.

BIG RESERVOIR PROJECT IS APPROVED

HULLHAVEN, Jan. 28.—Favorable endorsement of the proposed contract with the government for erecting the first unit of a gigantic reservoir in American Falls was given in this city yesterday by the big reclamation meeting which adopted a resolution in support of the project.

The proposal offered is to construct the first unit without state or federal aid to show the determination and good faith of the people of Idaho in carrying the reservoir project through, and to large foundations were also present.

The estimated maximum cost of such a project is $10 per acre foot, which would total $2,000,000 for the 200,000 acre foot desired. A canvass of the territory already shows that there are already approximately 200,000 acre feet of land available for the project.

Gain Opening to Show Split With the Left Wing

ALBANY, Jan. 28.—Attorneys for the five socialist assemblies who are facing dismissal from the state supreme court are able today to introduce testimony that there are different branches of socialism, that the socialist party split up into three distinct parts some time last year and that the five assemblies on trial cannot be blamed for the beliefs and plans of all branches of socialism in the United States.

It was George H. Lunn of Schoonhoven, once a socialist, who served the purpose of the socialist lawyers. Under him as a witness, Lunn had been called by lawyers for the state, Seymour Stadman for the socialist, brought out the fact that the socialist were divided into several camps.

Evidence along this line was also extracted from Julius Gerber, secretary of the New York state socialist party. Up to now, the socialist lawyers have not found an opportunity to bring out the facts about the party split and attorneys for the state have tried to prevent them from doing so.

It was a direct question by Chairman Martin of the judiciary committee, which is taking evidence against the socialist, that made it possible for to break up in the ranks of socialism to be introduced.

Mayor Lunn told how he made a list of socialist assemblies in the state, the bank collection system but lost out. He branded the system as un-American and said that his financial records were divided into several camps.

That the state will plan its credit and financial policy for the year which is the leading factor in its development, was a plan offered by former Senator N. J. Sweetley in a speech before the state meeting, which closed yesterday.

LEGION POST OFFERS BELT

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Jimmy Bronson, manager of Bob Martin, A. E. P. and Inter-Alleed heavyweight champion, is ready to bet Martin tracks Georges Carpentier, if the two can be matched.

The action of the Probin, Col. Post of the American Legion, which recently went on record as opposed to the Dempsey-Carpentier match in the United States, caused Bronson to come out with the statement that Martin is ready if the American Legion wants the match and can make it. An offer from Fred Dixon, and Morris Penter, Pueblo promoters, who are prepared to give $16,000 for a Martin-Carpentier match, is also being favorably considered by Bronson.

Bronson says that the American Legion proposes to offer a championship belt to the winner of a match between Martin and Carpentier, and that the Pueblo and Denver Post have placed resolutions condemning the Dempsey-Carpentier match before every American Legion Post in the United States. It is expected, says Bronson, that other posts will take similar action. The Colorado resolution follows:

"Be it resolved that we condemn the holding of the proposed Dempsey-Carpentier match in any city in Colorado."

"Be it further resolved, we condemn Jack Dempsey's participation in any match in America, the man's war record proving him a slacker."

"Be it further resolved, we recommend the meeting of Bob Martin, A. E. P. champion, a man who has won the highest respect of all Americans and Georges Carpentier, whose service record is a brilliant page in the history of the World War."

"Be it further resolved, that we do all in our power to secure the support of every post in Colorado and throughout the nation to take similar action."

"Proty strong words, these," says Bronson, "and they come without any solicitation on Bob Martin's part. It is a big percentage of other posts throughout the country take similar action do you think promoters will go on with their plans?"

"Bob Martin is ready to fight Carpentier. We will accept the offer of the Colorado promoters if the American Legion is favorable to that plan. But we understand the American Legion wants to take the prize itself by assessing each member a dollar. In that event we will hearken to their wishes."

Mr. Stanfield replied to Stedman saying that all statements of the socialist party must be taken as representing the views of the party and its members.

"On what theory does Waldman believe it possible for that 'Martin belt'?" demanded Stedman. "He had nothing to do with the letter. The people who wrote it are not his friends or associates. We should not be required to defend ourselves against such evasions as this."

Chairman Martin of the Industrial Committee overruled Mr. Stedman's motion for the withdrawal of the evidence in question.

Stedman then evidently and deliberately misled the committee, which was being delivered at the meeting where "Trachtenberg spoke to us."

"We don't want just one feature of that meeting put before the public. We want to have the entire nature of that meeting in New York November 7 shown in its entirety."

"Oh, I don't see how a right to say what evidence we shall put in," said Stedman.

Chairman Martin stated that it would not be necessary to read all of the speeches, though shorthand copies are said to be in possession of the bank promoters.

Anna Stern, secretary of the Industrial Committee, also called to the stand to present pamphlets alleged to be part of the socialist propaganda. One pamphlet contained the manifesto of the socialist national convention in Chicago last September in which the league of nations is called "black internationalism."

Julius Gerber testified that he heard Mr. Hilsch, one of the lawyers retained to defend the socialist convention in Chicago.

"We pledge our support to the socialist republic of Russia," was one pledge which Mr. Stanfield read from the manifesto. There was a question as to whether the convention had adopted the phrase in its manifesto or had subscribed to its solidarity with the Russian soviet.

The former phrase was claimed by the socialist as the official.

The solidarity phrase appeared in rough draft of the manifesto to which the newspapers got, but the convention itself struck out the phrase about solidarity and adopted the pledge of severation at headwaters was endorsed at the meeting.

The address by Engineer Dibble on "The Program of Storage Development" was one of the features of the day. Mr. Dibble is manager of the United States Reclamation project and his talk was inspiring and enthusiastic. He said:

"The American Falls dam at tomorrow's capacity can be made to hold 2,000,000 more feet. If this amount were stored it would be the largest reservoir in the world.

"The ordinary flow of the Snake river would fill the reservoir with from 2,500,000 to 5,000,000 acre feet a year. There is enough water in the Snake river, if properly used, to irrigate every acre tract in the western country."

The government has... I don't know who owns it. I am impressed, examined and re-examined, informed, required and commanded, so I don't know who owns or who it is for. All I know is I am supposed to be an irresponsible... I have been held up, held down, sandbagged, walked on, sat on, flattened out and squeezed. First by the United States Government for federal war tax, excess profits tax, Liberty Loan bonds, draft stamps, capital stock tax, merchant's license and auto tax, and by every agency and organization that the inventive mind of man can invent, to extract what I may or may not possess.

REAL PROHIBITION AT LAST.

The prohibition era has now definitely arrived. War prohibition, a temporary measure, has given way to the more substantial avenue of prohibition under federal amendment. The liquor traffic is now barred by the Constitution of the United States.

There must be no more trifling with his business, on the part of either public officials or private citizens. A very considerable authority do not like prohibition. But it represents the will of the country, and the majority must rule. Good sportsmanship and good citizenship alike demand the fullest acquiescence in the law and in the regulations adapted to enforce it, and strict punishment for a short time.

Not only because it is the law and the will of the nation, but because it affords so remarkable an opportunity for experimentation, prohibition must be made fully effective. Thus we shall learn precisely what are the effects upon a whole nation of prolonged, complete abstinence from alcohol. In all history there has been no such trial. After a few years, then, if the nation is not satisfied, it can go back to its booze.

AIRPLANES IN THE WEST.

An oil man from Tulsa, Okla., recently placed the biggest order for commercial airplanes yet on record. His bill will total $2,500,000. The order includes 200 planes of the Orville and Staggall type, three engine biplanes and flying boats, and 247 training planes.

It is interesting to find the biggest use of commercial planes in America in the wide, open areas of the near southwest instead of in the crowded valleys of the east. Perhaps the sheep and cattle of the western plains will some day be herded by cowboys in whirling airplanes, and picturesque up-to-date will be restored to the cattle industry.

We respectfully suggest that the Republican and Democratic parties send representatives to Paris (E.S.) and negotiate a peace treaty.

Col. Scott Outlines Plans for Bringing Corps of Workers to Twin Falls

Col. Scott, commander of the Salvation Army in the Northwest, gave a most interesting address last evening in the Elks club rooms before the members of the Salvation Legion, the regular meeting of which was cut short to permit Col. Scott's address. The speaker told in a very thorough way the work done by the Salvation Army during the war and outlined the plans of the organization during peace time. His insight into the work of the Salvation Army was early apparent as he told in his usual, interesting way the purposes and success of that organization.

As he told the story of the Salvation Army from the organization to the present time, the audience was moved almost to tears. The work of this organization is both social and spiritual in nature and while many people have a general idea of the work done, they are usually ignorant of the big tasks accomplished. The work among girls, particularly those residing in the large cities, is very important and the Salvation Army, according to Col. Scott, has gone into the slums of the cities, without regard to themselves, and rendered much aid to those stricken with some great calamity. The work of blind balling is known to too well known, how she went to the very depths of the slums, rescued human wrecks, in many cases bring-

There are many other notable Salvation Army workers and women who, by their unselfishness and desire to aid others, make their lives in the slums of the large cities, where there was a big work for those who had the endurance, inclination and the bravery to undergo the hardships for the betterment of mankind.

The lines of work carried on by the Salvation Army are varied but all are commendable. Col. Scott outlined them all and presented the facts so forcibly that the audience could feel the blessedness and necessity of the great work.

The speaker also told of the great work of the Salvation Army in the fields of war. No man who fought in the European conflict will ever forget the dogmatism that brightened the lives of the soldiers of the allied nations. The American people subscribed a large sum for purchasing materials with which to make dough-

The GEM THEATRE TODAY AND TOMORROW

Every girl has felt the pre-natal influences that ruled Mary Regan:

Big Company of specially selected artists who live, rather than act their thrilling roles.

7 Reels of Swift Action

Mary Regan is one of the most popular heroines of modern fiction. Her adventures have been published in Cosmopolitan Magazine, hundreds of newspapers and the complete novel was one of the year's best sellers.

When Big Business, seeking relaxation, squanders its swollen profits on Big Pleasure, New York's whole glittering underworld dances to its whim.

Strong men craving excitement, cunning men of doubtful past, beautiful women without memories or hopes swirl through the shining palaces of night, recklessly squandering health, morals, reputations, and hard earned fortunes.

To play with the devotees of Big Pleasure means the opening of the Golden Doors to the woman who has brains, beauty and nerve.

PLAY SHOSHONE HERE THURSDAY

Northsiders Crossing the River to Get Revenge for Defeat Handed Them Recently

The Twin Falls high school basketball team will meet the hoop aggregation from Shoshone tomorrow evening in the high school gymnasium. While the Blue and White defeated the northsiders quite handily at Shoshone a few days ago, a spirited contest is anticipated as the visitors have been practicing hard for the coming fray on local territory.

Potter has not yet recovered sufficiently to be back in the lineup for tomorrow's game but the other members have been working hard and expect to reap the long end of the victory.

Coach E. P. Saffell has been putting his men through strenuous practice this week in an effort to perfect team work and gain peak condition. The line-up of the local team will probably be as follows: Forwards, Walter Krenke, "Dope" Newman and "Jackie" Yukon; center, Ward Carter; and guards, Bert Bailey and Chas. Taylor.

All officers and men except "back" privates and apprentices seamen are included in the increase.

HER AGE NO BARRIER TO LONG BENTON TRAVEL

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 28.—Travel would seem now is no barrier to long distance travel. Application was made here by Mrs. Gerda D. Vandoren, seventy, for a passport to Brazil and she is planning to make the trip alone. A statement of an exact date by a son who recently died at San Paulo, Brazil, is the aged woman's reason for making the long journey.

"WALKING DAIRY" MILKED AT CUSTOMER'S DOORSTEP'S

WAINESBORO, Pa., Jan. 28.—A "walking dairy" is the innovation of a Streez Cresser, a farmer and stock dealer. He not only serves milk at the door fresh from the cow, but carries the cow along and draws the milk while his customers wait. He carries his milking stool, bucket and tin pails along and does the milking at the curb in front of the home of the customer.

Shred says his customers have many advantages from his system, as milk comes not only direct and warm from the cow, but is sure to be absolutely free of water.

ENGLAND IS HEAVILY IN DEBT BUT STILL CLAIMS COMMERCIAL SUPREMACY ABROAD

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The per capita debt of Great Britain was estimated today at about $1,000. While bearing the load of Great Britain's heavy debt, the most tremendous financial burden in her history, leading statesmen and financial magnates claim that the country is still commercially supreme.

British business men, however, do not share this intense American and Japanese complacency. The sumner, who has just returned from Germany, begins to absorb some of the weight of Russia. German resources and competition will expand.

The peace treaty has given Great Britain's business interests a far better place from a competitive standpoint than they occupied before the war, owing to the demand for interlocking and subsidized German trade methods.

German manufacturers, before the war, were aided by special railway rates. Hereafter British firms will enjoy the same privileges. Britain's increasing a gigantic mercantile fleet, almost all of Germany's ships today are under 1,600 tons.

NO CHANGES IN HOUSTON DEPARTMENT

NEW SECRETARY OF TREASURY TO RETAIN OLD ORGANIZATION AS FAR AS POSSIBLE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—News soon as David P. Houston is confirmed by the senate as secretary of the treasury, his first step will be to sanction together the officials in high executive posts and give assurance that the official personnel is to remain undisturbed. All of the present assistant secretaries are expected to continue in service for some time.

Contrary to reports current yesterday, Assistant Secretary Roland C. Lettingwell is expected to continue in office indefinitely.

Some of the important features of the financial program, engineered by him since the beginning of the war, are expected to continue. Mr. Lettingwell, although mentioned prominently in connection with the post vacated by Mr. Glass, never actually was candidate for the job. He is said to have no sense disappointed therefore that he was not selected.

Assistant Secretary Lettingwell has been very busy in connection with the issue of treasury certificates. Other matters equally important engage his attention, but it is understood that Secretary Houston will urge Mr. Lettingwell to retain his treasury connection as long as it may be possible for him to do so, without prejudice to his extensive business interests.

SAVING THE OFF-PARSONS WOULD HAVE NO EFFECTS

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Hereafter, the law will be made over the poverty of the clergy. It is a true complaint. The distress of the clergy is a serious one. The other day suggested a clerical strike, but to withdraw the suggestion on the ground that the public would not perhaps feel their sympathy involuntarily by such a withdrawal of labor.

He doubted that it is any, whether public or necessary. The real question is this:

Has not the spread of education removed the need, not indeed, for the clergy which is the necessity of the clergy to the minister of grace, at considerable expense, of a special class of men, trained in a special course for the purpose of doing that work?

Could not the work—or the greater part of it—be carried on just as effectively by the ordinary citizen?

Clerical labor is not nowadays in the strict sense of the words, skilled labor.

As far as a skill, involved in conceiving any man or woman in quite capable of doing it for him, and in the ordinary course of the church law that the most critical rites of the church may be performed by laymen if the services of a clergyman cannot be secured.

These things being so, it follows that clerical labor, of all kinds of labor, the one for which it should be necessary to purchase a salary, is a substitute.

If we apply that test of a substitute suggested by the clergyman quoted at the beginning of this article, we find that the most ecclesiastically minded among us a strike of clergyman would present such terms as a strike of policemen, of school-keepers, or of millers.

To say those things is not, of course, to say that the clergyman who does the clergy are doing is useless. Much of it is useful; much of it ought to be done; much of it is being well done. But the question still remains: Do we now that education is so widespread, need a special class of clergyman to do it? In other words: Are parsons necessary?

Suppose the clergy did suddenly disappear! Would the essential part of their work necessarily disappear? Would not the parishes, now that the world is educated, now throw up their own men for doing the social part of it?

Would not the pupils at once be occupied by laymen preaching here and there? Would there be anything to be done? Would the clergyman who does the clergy have accepted the obligation to say something?

And might not the consequent outburst of voluntary activity, which would stimulate that very religious awakening which the clergy themselves are so vainly endeavoring to bring about, be a sufficient answer?

'Cave Man' Burglar Specializes in Young Girls

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 23.—The St. Louis police force has dealt with every possible kind of burglar. It has had its regular quota of ordinary burglars and its quota of "cave men" who steal in the form of wickerburgars, sugar thieves, candy robbers, second-story men who steal and stolen every possible thing, and it is now, the police thought, with a "new one" against several weeks.

He is the most baffling burglar the city has yet had to deal with, and a city-wide dread has been spread for the man.

His latest attempt was at the home of Walter Kirk, No. 2218 DuFour street, where, in the week, small boys, the burglar, stole the Kirk's $100.00. The burglar, who is a "cave man" and has not yet been identified, is a "cave man" and has not yet been identified.

Bryan Declines To Discuss Politics

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 23.—It is hardly coincidental for a man to be always talking for himself, said William Jennings Bryan, when he was asked if he is a candidate for the presidency. He then turned the conversation to the enforcement of prohibition laws, saying he is not under obligation to speak whenever any danger confronted the American people.

Bryan must continue until organized opposition disappears said Mr. Bryan. The anti-prohibition league is going to announce the people's conference here from outside, devoted to the enforcement of state prohibition laws.

Referring to Governor Edwards, Mr. Bryan said he was not sure if the people would be so ready to support him.

NO LABOR NEWS FROM THE UNITED STATES

PARIS, Jan. 23.—The international labor bureau, created by the peace conference, today closed its communications-decisions of the international labor conference only to countries that are represented at the session now being held here. Their application will be left to the league of nations. This excludes the United States from participation, as there are no American delegates here. M. Guerin, of France and M. Carlier, of Belgium representing the employers, objected, contending that only the national parliaments could enforce the decisions in the various countries. This suggestion was made that America have a tentative representation at the labor meeting pending the possible ratification of the treaty and the change of nations by the American state.

The Reason Why We One Kind of Leather in All Styles of Harness

We do not buy a factory made harness shipped in from Denver, Omaha or St. Louis. We do not buy factory made traces and backbands, or in fact any part of a harness simply because the GUARANTEE that we give with every harness we sell, means everything to us, and we cannot give a factory made harness that stamp of our approval.

We use nothing but the famous HEBB MANN OAK LEATHER, the genuine "old fashioned" OAK BARK TAN, and every strap is carefully inspected twice before it is put into a harness. There are no "weak spots" in our harness, because every piece of leather is specially selected with reference to the wear and strain that it will receive.

PRICES ARE NOT HIGH

We buy our leather direct from the tannery, thereby outside our profits to the middleman. We have a well organized force of five expert harness makers work every day. We make half a dozen styles with varying prices, each of which is bound to suit you.

YOU SHALL BE THE JUDGE

Come in and see us, examine our harness. We are willing for you to be the judge, for we are sure you will say as others have, "Such harness is mighty cheap at the price."

We make tent and awnings, porch curtains and lampshades. You will be pleased with our top, if we make it for you.
