The program was last evening by the Chamber of Commerce to the following: Addison T. Smith, and Secretary of Agriculture E. T. Morris. Laboring Men And Chamber Talk Unions

Conference on Open Shop Has Good Results

Discussion of the impending "open shop" controversy in this city was conducted with apparently favorable results last evening between the Chamber of Commerce directors and a delegation from the Building Trades Council. A better understanding of each other and of the latter's position was admitted following the conference and another meeting has been called to discuss the situation further.

The labor delegation appeared before the chamber to present a defense of trade unionism and to take up the "open shop" idea that has appeared here. The conference discussion was devoted chiefly to principles of organized labor and the right of unionism and its aims and the methods governing employment and discharge. They expressed the wish of organized labor to maintain its principle here without discord or antagonism.

Chamber of Commerce directors present were: E. Thomas, M. J. Crowley, Smith, Jackson, Baran, J. Morse, Asher, W. Wilson, R. H. Stevenson, and Hal G. Hill. The labor delegation included Messrs. WIDESPREAD OUTBREAK OF REDS AVERTED BY RAIDS SAYS ATTORNEY GENERAL

Repressive Legislation Not Wise, but Some Laws Are Needed, Official Declares, Protesting at Charge of Hysteria

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Only a vigorous enforcement of "such laws as we have" has prevented a general and widespread outbreak of "red" propaganda in this country, Attorney General Palmer told the house judiciary committee today. "Red uprisings," listed for last June, deferred until September and again postponed, have been checked by vigorous action by the attorney general's office and the department of justice, Palmer declared.

"A national reaction has set in," Attorney General Palmer continued. "Many loyal patriotic citizens, now feeling safe and secure, say we are excited and hysterical and mildly worried when we asked for legislation to further empower us to proceed against those seeking to overthrow the government by force and violence."

FLU-CASES ON STAT TRADE CRUSADE

LONDON, Feb. 4.—In a citation blank through the British press Sir Thomas Greenwood, John Bull's official export trade booster, has proclaimed that Britain's world trade crusade in 1920 will blanket the earth. Barring strikes, he says this year promises to be one when the nation's export goes forth upon the seven seas and "brings home the bacon."

Britons seldom talk in a bragging strain, and when they boast, there generally is excellent reason for concealing they are not "talking through their hats."

Sir Marmar, M. P., and secretary to the department of overseas trade of the British Government, says Britain this year will strike a great blow at "the fetter of German cheapness." This will be accomplished by sending out great touring exhibits of British goods to South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and Canada. The scheme has received Treasury sanction.

British trade thoroughly boosted in the dominions, Sir Hamar then will direct these touring exhibitions to the eastern trade, to South America and the United States.

"The only limits to British trade overseas," says Sir Hamar, "are the limitations of human and mechanical production."

There is no single industry manufacturing for export that cannot look forward to a long period of prosperity. Shipping facilities are improving and many ports of the world are settling down to normal conditions of life, but all with busily higher standards of comfort, which mean an increasing demand for manufactured articles.

Britain's pre-war share in the war has improved her position in every corner in the world, including the many countries. This helps the British trader, who always has had the best goods and who is now getting the warmest welcome.

Sir Hamar Greenwood is a Canadian with typical American "zip." That's why he's been about the job of boosting British exports. He now tries to convince manufacturers, or, if he should, despite heavy home orders, apportion some of the product to foreign markets.

"I want to make London the commercial centre of the world for all time," he said.

"I am for friendly commercial invasion of the United States. Some of our products are in greater demand there than ever before, and the United States has a productive capacity which is the only limit to our export trade to the United States."

Sir Hamar believes the higher class luxury articles can be easily marketed in America.

Details of the touring exhibits will be sent to the U. S. in each "trade circuit," each exhibitor showing about three of his best articles. One salesman will represent about twenty-five firms.

ENTIRE COMPANY GOING BACK AGAIN

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 4.—A trip to Europe in 1921 is being planned by the Cleveland Grays, who formed Company E, 11th Infantry, Thirty-seventh Division, and saw hard fighting in the Escarpat sector, the Argonne and Belgium. They may charter an entire steamer.

Members of the Grays have acted as escorts for diversities in Canada and Mexico and were once chosen to be the "king of the Mardi Gras in New Orleans."

Planned Trip in 1914

Mal. L. S. Conolly in looking over the old records recently recalled that the organization was considering a trip to Europe when war broke out in 1914. Many Grays did go to Europe and they met the German military—but in a different manner than originally planned.

"The object of the trip was to meet the Kaiser's military staff, not only to meet European friends, but to visit the places where so many of our members saw actual and heavy fighting."

UNITED STATES ARMY builder of MEN

TEN years ago it was necessary for the United States Army to argue men into its ranks.

But, today the Army like every other great university, points with pride to its graduates.

Four million of the nation's choicest young men were entrusted to the Army's care.

MOST of them are back in the ranks of industry today; and every parent in America, every employer, every teacher knows that they are better, abler men for their experience.

They stand straight upon their feet, a symbol of physical fitness.

They have learned how to execute orders, and how to give them.

THERE is, in their characters, a maturity beyond their years, a vision and a self-confidence that are fundamentals of success.

The months that they gave to the Army were not lost months; the records of the future will show more rapid progress for them because of the qualities which those months developed.

Where the U. S. Army serves

American troops are serving in Panama, Hawaii, the Philippines, Alaska, China, Germany, Siberia and here in the U. S. A. The Recruiting Sergeant will gladly give you all the details.

Lab every one else in the Army! You can't be a Buck Private, you're under orders and if your outfit moves and you're needed elsewhere, your duty is to go.

THE United States Army is open for enlistments today. It wants no inferior applicants; it seeks young men of character and purpose; and it promises those young men that the term of their enlistment will be fruitful years.

They will come back to civil life in perfect health—their muscles, their eyes, their bearing all evidencing the finest professional care.

IT IS the purpose of the War Department to develop in the American soldier those qualities which are the essentials to success in any trade or business and are the prime requisites in an American citizen.

Congress has appropriated $2,000,000.00 to be used in Educational work in the Army Schools. In many camps and posts men are being trained in the skilled trades and at practically all Army stations, schools are in operation in which the soldier can improve his education.

Through enlistment the United States Army offers opportunities to travel. It provides good food, good clothes and good care. It gives a training which brings health—physical development—mental quickness and self-confidence. It sends you back to civil life better equipped for American citizenship than when you enlisted.

The Times Does Job Printing Right

ANNOUNCEMENT

In these days of extremely high prices, are you interested in the idea of starting a Rochdale co-operative store? The real center of the Rochdale plan, which has been so successfully carried out for many years in other places, is the return of all net profits above expenditure and interest on stock to the patrons in proportion to the amount of business they have given to the store. The Twin Falls County Farmers' Association unanimously think that the time has arrived to start this movement, and upon the suggestion of the Department of Agriculture are sponsoring the movement. At two recent meetings of farmers held in Twin Falls some $10,000 was pledged, the general opinion prevailing at both meetings that at least $80,000 should be collected before making a start.

Do you believe that we could, as farmers, deal collectively for our Groceries, perhaps Shoes and Clothing, Hardware, Lumber, Tires, Sacks, Coal, etc., and thereby make a saving through collective bargaining?

Do you believe that such a store could help us as farmers in selling some of our products to better advantage?

If so, are you willing to do your bit to start the ball rolling?

Are you willing to buy stock at $10.00 a share and not more than 10 shares, the same to draw the legal rate of interest providing enough shares are sold to assure its success from the start?

If so, sign the attached coupon stating the number of shares you would like to have. In order to get this store started we must act quickly, as many as possible must take the limit of 10 shares.

At any rate, please sign the coupon and let us know what you think of the plan.

JOHN E. WHITE, Secretary.

FILL IN AND RETURN THIS COUPON TO DR. JOHN E. WHITE, SECRETARY, P. O. BOX 447, TWIN FALLS.

LEGION FAVORS RECLAMATION OF ALL LANDS

Local Post Adopts Resolution to Work in Harmony With Other Posts

A resolution in favor of reclamation in general and one whereby that of the Bureau or any one project was adopted last evening at a meeting of the local American Legion at which Martin J. Sweeney, chairman of the reclamation bureau of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, gave an address on the reclamation of arid lands.

The members of the local legion voiced approval in the reclamation of any arid lands and pledged the support of the post. Mr. Sweeney said that if there were controversies over the opening of any certain tract, no lands would be reclaimed. A few amendments were proposed at this meeting, which was largely attended. The resolution adopted is as follows:

Whereas certain posts of the American Legion in the state have recently taken action in regard to the reclamation enterprise generally known as the reclamation of arid lands, and whereas it is the duty of the legion to stand unitedly in support of the carrying out of existing plans relating thereto; and whereas the members of the legion are based on the lack of laws and regulations giving preferential rights to returned service men and women.

Whereas the matter has been taken up, discussed and considered by the members of this post, and whereas the members of this post, No. 7 of the American Legion as follows:

That we strongly urge that in relation to all matters which look to the reclamation of public lands, whether by government or state aid or private capital, laws and regulations be so changed and applied as to insure preferential rights as to entries to returned service men and women, with times and amounts of payment to be fixed so as to make it practically to acquire lands and water rights and pay therefor by the return therefrom.

That while arid and hoping for the desired favors we realize that under existing conditions these cannot be immediately granted and it is our wish in this regard stand in the way of the early and substantial development of the resources of our state and which would tend to the benefit of the public good.

That although we entertain our own notions as to what portions of the state can best be reclaimed and what project should be favored we believe that controversies relating to them which give rise to local and sectional jealousies and criticisms will retard the progress of our state and make probable the defeat of the very measures in which we are all vitally interested.

That our loyalty to the state of Idaho as a whole and our interest in the general welfare prompt us to declare our entire confidence in the public officials of the state and nation under whose jurisdiction the matters relating to reclamation of public lands and which are dependent upon to whatever they adopt and whatever plans they believe should be followed.

O WISE KING

As kings become scarce in this golden age of democracy, when monarchs remain in displaying such wisdom as they possess, Madrid announces that King Alfonso dispensed with the usual pomp during the festivities commemorating his name day, January 23. The king explained that he did not desire any display of luxury during these times of social unrest.

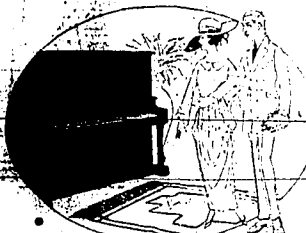

While Alfonso may only be adopting safety-first measures, it is pleasant to think that kings actually do possess brains and know how to use them. History, even very recent history, is filled with incidents tending to show that wearers of the purple often lack even common horse sense. If Alfonso maintains an attitude so commendable, he may actually die upon a throne that will last long enough to be handed on to his son. And for these days that would be quite a royal achievement.

A wool merchant from South America says that there is more wool there than America and Europe together can possibly use. He adds that an increase in the price of clothing for Americans is almost unnecessary. It sounds fine, but the average American is inclined to fear that it doesn't mean anything.

The Scandinavian committee entrusted with the distribution of Nobel prizes has awarded the chemistry prize to the German who perfected poison gas. Now, why not let the literature prize to Gen. Bernhard, and the peace prize to "Gandhi" Hohenzollern.

An impressive answer to the question why the cost of living did not go down last year is found in the statement that the United States produced a smaller volume of the necessities of life last year than it did in 1914. Prices cannot go down until production goes up.

Everybody says he didn't make much money last year. And yet everybody's been spending a lot of money. Where did it come from? Oh, is it all a delusion—a matter of credit—everybody trusting everybody else for everything?

LOCALS WILL PLAY OAKLEY HERE FRIDAY

The Twin Falls high school basketball team will meet the local club from Oakley Friday evening in the local high school gymnasium. While the locals trained the final basketball game last week, the team was coached by Edward J. Naylor of the Twin Falls squad does not mean to rest on the laurels won on that date, but will practice this week in preparation for the fray. If the Oakley team is as powerful an aggregation as that which represented the town at a tournament here a few years ago, the locals will need to make good use of their time if victory proves on their shoulders after the final whistle. The team from Oakley always give a good account of themselves, regardless of the opposing aggregation. The line-up for the contest has not yet been announced, but it will be substantially that of the previous year. Krengle is showing up better than ever as a center in attracting much attention. Bailey and Taylor are noted for their tenacity in guarding, and their presence in the line-up, suggests ill for the opposition. There is also a dependable man and is expected to aid materially in the remainder of the game. The injured line knew in one of the games and has been unable to do the work of which he is capable. Volten temporarily has lost his basket eye but is still able to give opposing guards many sleepless nights. Competing on ways to circumvent him, he is a tricky forward who is continually doing the unexpected. The locals are eagerly looking forward to the tournament to be held here the latter part of February. Volten games will occupy the greater part of two days and are expected to draw large crowds. The best teams competing will strive for a silver cup, while those defeated in the first days play will contend for the consolation cup, usually a bronze or wooden model one. The large crowd witnessing the events have been a pleasant feature and there has been a full list of local supporters present each time.

STIMULATING INTEREST IN JUNIOR CLUBS

County Club Leader O'Reilly May Take Trip To Oregon To Buy Cattle. County Club Leader A. O'Reilly is trying to stimulate interest among the boys and girls of the county in the junior club work. Letters have been sent to the leaders of 1919 as well as the club members of last year. O'Reilly offers to go to Oregon and buy tubercular tested Jersey or Guernsey calves provided the youngsters display interest enough to warrant such action. The exact cost of the animals is unknown, according to O'Reilly, but it would be in the neighborhood of $200, some seeing more.

APPROVES RESERVOIR CONTRACTS

Secretary of Interior Favors Agreement With Canal Companies Here. The Secretary of the Interior has approved a tentative contract between the United States and the local companies and irrigation interests interested in the storage and complete utilization of the flood and normal flow of the Snake river in Idaho. The contract of this great river will increase the construction of numerous storage dams and a large amount of important and costly engineering work. At meetings of the land owners in the valley during the past few months a general plan of organization was formulated and the necessary steps have been taken to cooperate with the federal government in the possession of the work. One of the most important engineering structures will be located at American Falls, where it is proposed to construct a high dam across Snake river which will create one of the largest irrigation reservoirs in the United States. The construction of this dam will necessitate the removal of the town of American Falls from its present site to a tract of the local subdivision nearby. The present headquarters of the Short Line railway must be changed to higher ground, and the large power plant now located in the middle of the river at this point may also be affected. Plans are now being worked out in cooperation with the various interests so that the climate of the district of American Falls and the cost of this work may be submitted at an early date. If these organizations are successful it is probable that the Reclamation Service will be called upon to supervise and construct the larger works and to have charge of the distribution of the waters stored in the reservoirs. At the present time the Reclamation Service is distributing in numerous water companies in the state a large amount of water into Wyoming, so that the plans are really an extension on a large scale of the work already completed. Priscilla Sewing Club - Mrs. Barrer will entertain the Priscilla Sewing Club tomorrow at her home.

Mexican Probe Gets Under Way

EL PASO, Feb. 3.—The Fall senate subcommittee opened its local investigation into Mexican conditions here today.

Senator Marcus Smith presided at the opening session of the committee. Senator Fall did not arrive until late this afternoon.

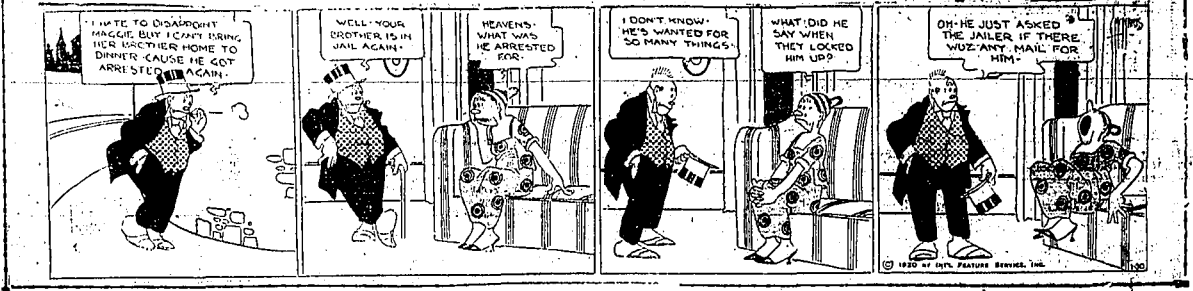

Capt. R. U. Voster described the tragedies occurring among the Mormon colonies during the Mexican revolution. E. E. Clark told of bandit outrages in western Chihuahua.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 3.—Within less than two years after the beginning of the Mexican revolution, the six Mormon colonies in western Chihuahua with a population of between 150 and 1,000 had been stripped of everything portable, and their inhabitants expelled or forced to flee to the mountains to escape massacre.

This was the testimony today of Captain R. U. Voster, a resident of Chihuahua for nine years, before the Fall senate subcommittee investigating Mexican affairs.

Captain Voster told the committee the outrages against Americans in Chihuahua during the Mexican revolution on the part of the Mexicans for the successful colonists. The Americans,

BRINGING UP FATHER

he said, were in every instance law-abiding and had paid the Mexican good wages for assisting them on their ranches.
