Plans for the formation of the new party were announced here today by J. A. Hopkins, chairman of the national executive committee of the "48."

Hopkins is to have active charge of the creation of sentiment for the new party, and is to be joined here tomorrow by George L. Record and August Pichot, other leaders of the movement.

SHIPYARD WORKERS CHEER GOMPERS WHEN TOLD TO USE BALLOT IN DRIVING OUT POLITICAL ENEMIES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Delegates representing 40,000 ship workers in the navy yards and government shipyards meeting here to plan cooperation with the government in its program for the merchant marine rose in their feet and cheered as Samuel Gompers, in addressing them today referred to members of congress as "reactionaries, scoundrels and fools."

They cheered wildly as Gompers and James O'Connell, president of the Metal Trades department of the American Federation of Labor, called upon them to unite at the polls to send their "political enemies" out of congress.

"Don't let them fool and coddle you," said O'Connell, a member of the federation's political executive committee, referring to congress. "They won't do anything for you except try to send you to jail."

"It is time to send the 329 lawyers in congress back home and get a few laboring men there," Mr. Gompers said. "They have been too long in congress and next year they'll send you to jail for speaking to another man or for just thinking of speaking to him."

Gompers told the meeting that the war "freedom prevailed in America," but now bills were being passed in congress to invade the constitutional rights of the people.

"In all countries in Europe except Russia," he said, "there has been a liberal course of conduct towards the names of the people, but here since the war we find laws still being passed to prohibit the rights of a free people."

In discussing the political program of the federation, he denied that it was its object to deliver the labor vote at the polls.

"The reactionaries, the scoundrels, the fools in congress say that," he said, "but it's untrue. We could no longer have the labor vote than we could try. What we are doing is appealing to the intelligence of the working man."

Telegrams Show Newberry Was Relied On By State Committee for Finances

Messages Seized by Government Are Brought Into Michigan Fraud Trial—Railroad Man Tells of Support Bought

GRAND RAPIDS, Feb. 10.—A series of telegrams which passed between Senator Truman H. Newberry and his political managers in Michigan, were introduced in the Newberry trial this afternoon by the government. Joseph C. McCornick, Western Union manager at Detroit, and messenger boys and operators from New York were placed on the stand to identify the telegrams which had been selected from the sheet of more than a thousand seized by the government.

The telegrams are said to have given Newberry managers in charging critical words of the activities of the Newberry campaign.

Henry Ford and his activities were frequently mentioned and former Governor Charles S. Doherty, Newberry's primary opponent, was referred to as "the witcher from Soo."

The telegrams brought out the fact that the state Republican committee was "short of funds, and was relying on the Newberry committee to supply the absence of war."

DECIDE NOT TO CLOSE PLACES OF AMUSEMENT IN OUST CASE

Influenza Situation Bad, but Not Serious Enough to Close Shows, Etc.

The city council at their regular Monday night meeting, decided not to close the places of amusement on account of the influenza epidemic. The council recommended that as there were nine deaths in forty-eight hours the influenza and other places of amusement should be closed. It was felt that the city was getting acute but whether or not the condition was serious enough to warrant closing was a question.

"We will not close the places of amusement, no quarantine rules are being observed," County Physician Dr. C. G. McCallin was called in but he did not believe there was any serious condition of influenza in the city. He said that while there were a great many cases, probably 2000 in the county, the number of deaths was exceedingly small and the disease was very light. People were combating it intelligently.

The matter was laid over, the mayor advising that he would call a special session if the disease became serious.

It was decided, however, that the city was in a dangerous position and a quarantine imposed to warn people against entering the city.

SOCIALISTS OPEN SHOW

Four of Five Certain to Lose Seats in N. Y. Assembly

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 10.—The fourth week of the state assembly "trial" of its five socialist members opened here today with the outcome considered in little doubt. Around the capital it is considered certain the socialists, four of the five at least, will lose their seats.

The action of the assembly last night on the McLaughlin resolution, which would have excluded from the evidence the socialists' speeches and votes in the house, clearly indicated with what vigor the assembly as a whole is supporting Speaker Sweet in his ouster proceedings.

Eight Democrats and one Republican voted for the McLaughlin resolution as against 31 votes against it. The one Republican who voted the majority was Wm. Utman of New York, of the judicial committee, which is trying the cases, only one member, William Evans of the Bronx, voted for it.

The state was expected to close its case today and leave the rest of the work for the socialists to do. That defense will consist chiefly, according to present plans, of putting each of the five accused men on the stand to submit to examination by the state's counsel.

WINDFALL FOR LEGION FROM Y WAR COUNCIL

More Than Half Million Will Be Held in Trust for Benefit of Service Veterans

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 10.—A fund of more than half a million dollars surplus from the operation of post exchanges in France, was offered to the American Legion in a letter from the national war work council of the Y. M. C. A. today. The legion executive council in France, was offered to hold the fund, to be held in trust for a period of five years and the income to be used in furtherance of activities for the benefit of co-service men and women.

The war work council's letter, signed by William Stinson, chairman, and John B. Holt, secretary, explained that donations were received in France at a total of nearly $1,500,000, but that through the generosity of the French government a surplus in excess of $600,000 was shown. It was pointed out that it was the council's policy to hold no surplus from the operation of the exchanges, which were taken over at the request of General Pershing.

PETITION REJECTED

Chronicle Publisher Is Turned Down on Making Request for Sunday Movies

The city council rejected the petition presented by H. H. Stevenson of The Chronicle for opening the picture shows on Sunday. C. E. Stanton, representing the people opposed to the opening, presented a petition signed by approximately 2000 people, mainly women, while the one presented by Stevenson had only 1000 names on it.

Councilman J. J. Brockenridge moved that the petition favoring the open shows be denied. This was seconded by Councilman C. B. McMartin but C. H. Cannon amended this petition so that the city council should vote on the question. A vote was taken on this matter. McMartin and Brockenridge voted against the amendment. After this the rejection of the petition advocated by Brockenridge was voted on, and the same result was achieved.

Mayor Kridger, and councilmen McMartin and Brockenridge, said they could see no use of putting the question to a vote as the majority of the eligible voters had signed either one petition or the other. They said their wishes in the matter. The cost would be considerable even though it was suggested that the people vote on this question on March 5. They said they were voting on the park bonds.

Mr. Mueson, denouncing the Sunday opening proposal, said it would be a loss for the city. He said that the people would be paying for the opening of the picture shows and not only the local theatre owners. He also said that the opening of the picture shows would be a loss for the city. COME BACK AT PROSECUTION

Show Other Side Also Paid Some Money for Campaign Work in 1918 Election

GHANN (KAPHS), Sitch, Feb. 8.—The prosecution in the trial of Senator Truman H. Newberry and his 122 co-defendants had the first "back-up" in their barrage of testimony today, when J. W. Winny testified he had been paid $10 a day for nine days' political work for Charles E. S. O'Brien, Newberry's opponent in the 1918 senatorial primaries.

Winny's statement came on cross-examination after he had testified to a conversation with Louis Barr, one of the defendants, in which he said Barr admitted that Paul H. King, Newberry's campaign manager, had agreed to pay a $250 fee to those who attended a convention here in the summer of 1918.

A dozen other minor witnesses testified today to having been paid money ranging from $5 to $25 out of the Newberry campaign fund.

Every Possible Effort is Being Made in Affected Localities to Stop Further Spread of Disease.

WORTH FOUND BY CURE PERSONS WHO OATCH COLDS EARLY AND WHO ARE IN RUN-DOWN CONDITION IN GREATEST DANGER.

Influenza continues to spread, and the disease is now prevalent over many sections of the country. It has baffled the medical skill of an unusual extent, and although it has been held in check in most localities it has gotten beyond control elsewhere. The germ has eluded bacteriologists, and medical men now agree that the best cure is prevention. The easiest prevention is to build up the body's powers of resistance, and to see the system into the best physical condition possible. It is now universally agreed that it is possible to prevent the power of resistance of the human system so that it can throw off almost any infection, not excepting influenza.

It has been observed that persons who are weak and run-down are more susceptible than those who are in robust health. If you are in a generally run-down condition and below normal weight this of the land, also to find where or what quarter the moose were working in, as that is the first thing to do when entering a new hunting ground.

All wild animals have their own particular feeding ground, the females (moose) and calves never leave their mothers' territory, and with the bulls they go where they please and many a roval battle is the result of their tramping into forbidden territory. They mark the boundaries of their own chosen ground by rubbing on certain trees and when the other moose in the adjoining feeding grounds see the rubbed trees they start and move along the line to their own quarter. I think all deer have the same habit. Bears have, volants and Texas. I think all wild animals have the same habit except the caribou. They, of course, migrate in great herds, so do they turn either to the right or the left when on the move until they reach their summer or winter feeding ground, then they separate and take up their own feeding ground as well as all other wild creatures. Yes, nature provides for this same thing, yet even old hunters that I have met did not realize until I drew their attention to the fact, that it must be so. If it were not so you would find one part of the country covered with thousands of wolves, then a few hundred miles you would not find a wolf. It is so. It is nature way of keeping the animals distributed or else there would be much confusion among them and it would be very hard on the other animals if thousands of wolves congregated in one place and devoured every living creature.

It is a boy I rode range for five years in the wood and on the Canadian prairie, among flocks of all species in the north, also there were almost any kind of wild animal, and I will admit there that you could find in the north and you may be sure that I searched and studied them all and did not forget a single one. I will admit there is another feature of the case, the solitude. That did you say, too, consistent? You must say, "I would not because I have never seen the best of my boys' and surroundings (as a boy and I am alive to tell the tale). All that peace and happiness there to one that loves animals and the wild world, the smell of the pines and cedar, you can never forget. I have seen even though you have been away leaving the that say young life in the to the great quiet cities, with his nose and stomach busy, nothing but hurry, hurry, hurry, nothing but hurry, for what? The Grave! In the woods there is no need of hurry; go to bed, eat, rest, get up, and make your time all day with no wicked boss hovering over you with his eagle eye.

SEE BIG WATER PROSPECTS IN SNOW REPORTS AT RESERVOIR

According to the report of the superintendent of the Jackson Lake Reservoir the precipitation at Moran, Wyo., for the month of January was 2.57 inches, and the total precipitation since September 1, 1918, amounts to 10.01 inches. This is considerably above the average for the corresponding six-month period since 1912, and nearly equal the total precipitation for all of last year.

The storage in Jackson Lake Reservoir on January 31 was 108,293 acre-feet, as compared with 282,360 acre feet on the same date last year.

"The snow is settled and well packed and the depths in the Jackson Lake watershed are as follows:

Moran	25 inches
Sulphur Station	48 inches
Cascade	44 inches
Canaan divide	28 inches
Loess Lake	44 inches
North-Cross divide	66 inches
Harold divide	72 inches
Lawson Creek divide	78 inches

The prospects are now excellent that the flow of the Snake river during the coming season will be normal and that the irrigation, depending on the Jackson Lake reservoir will have an ample water supply.

N. V. TRAFFIC TIED UP

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—For the first time in its history the volume of street traffic of all New York was at a standstill today by official order.

You must say, "I would not because I have never seen the best of my boys' and surroundings (as a boy and I am alive to tell the tale). THE PEOPLE CAN NOMINATE

One of the queerest things in current political discussion is the way the party organizations seem to take it for granted that they can name the presidential candidates.

Nearly all their words and acts are based apparently on the assumption that, by shrewd maneuvering, they can make the selection of this or that candidate inevitable when the national convention meets.

But what about the people? What about party primaries? It is true that they played a smaller part in the last presidential election than in that of 1912, when they were first used.

The Post Office Department recently sent out a questionnaire to some 200,000 farmers on problems having to do with the high cost of living and wartime questioning for reconstruction.

THE HEAD OF SPY RING

LITTLE, Feb. 8.—Admission made before a court-martial by a Frenchman named Blangnier, accused of intelligence with the enemy, has revealed the existence all through the war of a spy ring organized near Antwerp, the directing spirit of which was a woman, her identity has not yet been ascertained.

Every time he had occasion to go to the front, Blangnier presented himself to the examination of the man, tried to obtain from Blangnier precise information of the location of the Belgian front, where she began her activities soon after the beginning of the war.

Blangnier was one of her principal workmen, and she had a large staff of other agents, including women stenographers and typists, all under the general direction of German staff officers.

Blangnier was arrested in London, and his activities were exposed and even a powerful wireless plant was located on the beach of the Channel.

COMBINATION OF POSITIONS IS ADVOCATED

May Combine Position of Milk Inspector

The meat and milk inspection question of the main topic discussed at the regular meeting of the city council last evening.

An ordinance framed by Dr. W. A. Falson, city meat inspector, outlining the process of inspection and condemnation of meat was read.

Councilman C. B. Chinnel suggested that the position of milk inspector be combined with that of meat inspector. An estimate of the number of animals slaughtered in the city was presented to the council which determined whether or not the two positions could be combined.

The matter was discussed pro and con for some time and Dr. Falson said he did not believe the two positions could be combined due to the large amount of work required in the meat inspection. It was decided by the mayor over said week for further consideration of the ordinance.

Mr. Chinnel's plan would entirely depend on whether or not Dr. Falson would have time to inspect the meat and milk. It was suggested however, that if it were found that the work was too heavy an assistant could be appointed to collect the samples of milk in the city.

ARE YOU GOING TO RAISE WHEAT?

I have two samples of wheat on my desk. They were raised at Goose Lake on land that cost me 150.00 per acre. I made a thorough examination of the acre and I got 20 bushels and the yield was about 40 bushels an acre. The other sample was grown on land at Castleford that I value at $200 an acre. It cost me 100.00 per acre for water, and I got 20 bushels an acre. The yield was about the same as the other, but I got 20 bushels for the same price of about 100.00 per acre. Alberta Seed Takes First Prize

At the Annual Idaho Seed Show at Pocatello, Jan. 12th to 16th, seed grown at Brooks, Alberta, took the first prize for wheat second. The best prices were for "Crown", "Venus", "Weed" and "Alta". The second prize was for "White Clover". Think what it means for a big new country, where quality has been the slogan, to drop down into one of the best seed-growing states, where experts have for years nursed their finest products for show purposes, and carry off the first prizes.

All Brooks they grow, besides "Crown", "Venus", "Weed", "Alta" and "White". These are all kinds of garden truck in quantity and quality that are second to none. It means, further, that you can buy hydrated land in Alberta for $20 per acre that produces on a par with $20 land in Idaho. The terms of this $20 land are most interesting—one-fourth down, second payment due in four years, then sixteen equal annual payments, with interest the first two years at 2 per cent, then 6 per cent.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. will go still further. They will loan $200 for making improvements on the same terms. (An you prefer to let this opportunity to slip by?)

Come in and arrange to make a trip of inspection with us on one.

Jack and Edmo waited at a little distance with their rifles ready to shoot. I prepared a large pole and saved the bear a pink. Did he wake up? Oh, yes, he did. He grabbed the pole, and while I was busy making my getaway he scrambled out of the hole, to be met with two rifle bullets that settled his troubles for all time. Bear poles are fine, but I do not like the odor of the critters or their noise. After drying a bear skin, it takes weeks of fresh air before the bear smell leaves them.
