of Agreement on Railroad Wages

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—There is little likelihood that Congress will agree to a general agreement that will allow a prompt disposition of the question of wage demands of the railroad workers, declared a letter submitted to President Wilson today by a committee of three representatives of the railroad labor organizations.

Our analysis of the labor problem of the hour and the reasons, coupled with our hours of practical application and experience in negotiating wage adjustments, which in the United States need no legislation to warrant the definite conclusion that the congress has not provided a method of procedure acceptable to both sides and entirely adequate to meet the present situation, declared the letter.

POOR POSTAL SERVICE
Protest against the deplorable condition of the United States mail service and a demand for a congressional investigation of its "breakdown" have been made at Washington. The initial movement is made by the Merchants Association of New York, which naturally takes its action upon the deterioration of the first-class service.

Whether the business men of New York, by this direct method, had any more results than have been attained by more restrained attacks on the part of the press remains to be seen. For several years the inefficiency of the postoffice department has been the target of editorial writers, paragraphers and joke-writers. During that period the service has grown progressively worse. From the seemingly trivial attention given the matter by the press, it might be supposed that the publishers have been but little affected. As a matter of fact no section of the public and no business in the country has been so extensively inconvenienced and so drastically damaged.

The first-class mail service is probably in as deplorable a state as is the second class. At least, the New York merchants think it is. They declare the third and fourth classes to be "subject to gross irregularities, often as extreme as to destroy usefulness." If the delay of third and fourth-class mail is greater than that of second class, a condition scarcely to be credited as possible, then certainly that service has lost its usefulness.

Under second class privileges daily newspapers are delivered from two to ten days late, and magazines from two weeks to a month behind schedule. There are cases known where the January number of a magazine was delivered to subscribers just as the February number appeared on the news stands. That number, in turn, will reach its paid-in-advance subscribers when the March number is made available for the delectation of news stand purchasers. By this means subscriptions are rendered worse than useless and the publishers are suffering accordingly. When the squeeze on their pockets becomes so great as to overcome their fear of the government, there will be reflected in the press a storm of protest against the derelictions of the postoffice.

THE CLUB OR THE GANG

A young lad was sent to the reform farm. The chief officer welcomed him kindly, and said, "You won't feel very lonesome here, Jim; there are 30 other boys from your neighborhood here already." "Yes," said the boy, "I know them all; but there are 70 boys in our gang."

The 70 boys had lived in the sort of neighborhood which exists in almost every community, a neighborhood of squalid houses, dark and ill-ventilated, of narrow streets, and of families in which the parents were pitifully poor and either pitifully lazy or pitifully hard-working. The mothers almost without exception had been forced out to work to earn money for the family needs, and the sort of work which women of this class can get to do is always that entailing long hours away from home. The children grew up forlorn, neglected, with no place to play but the dirty streets, with few outlets but evil ones for their natural activities. It is no wonder they ended in prison.

TRADEY DELAY HURTS TRADE.
A. F. Parker Desires Unrestrained Legislation.

To the Editor of The Times:
The logical interpretation and conclusion of the opposition to the league of nations covenant amounts to this: The United States is the only government which is to be deprived of its inherent right of self-determination and self-government under its long established constitution if it joins the league.

By what perjury of politics the hostile senators claim that the people and the government of the United States are to be deprived of their constitutional powers in deciding war and peace powers without their consent of any other nation, is a misunderstanding. The United States will in any case act only on congress authorized action.

When President Wilson first returned from the peace conference he brought the message of the proposed treaty and league of nations, which he submitted to the foreign relations committee of the senate. Then democracy was elected to the senate.

I have called attention to the fact that a Republican senator attacked the treaty which ex-President McKinley had negotiated after our fuss with Spain and that like Wilson he was accused of surrendering all the fruits of the treaty. It is alleged we are technically at war with Germany, and consequently our commercial relations remain undisturbed. Before the war Germany was our second largest customer for our raw materials and manufactured products. Our late associates in the war have resumed commercial relations with the foe and are rapidly capturing our German trade to the great detriment of our national industries.

It is useless to make acrimonious charges against the hostile senators who delay peace materially injuring our foreign trade and unaccepting our domestic conditions, already in unenviable position. The league is not a god-given authority but the executive branches is

Turns Over a New Leaf

On March 1st this store will go on a CASH BASIS. We make this change after due consideration and experience of three months in business in Twin Falls.

We absolutely know that by adopting the cash system we will be able to offer groceries at a greater saving to our patrons than it would be possible for us to do were we to continue the credit system.

By adopting the cash system, we eliminate almost half of our running expense. That means at least a saving of seven per cent on your grocery bill. As every merchant will tell you that their running expenses are from 15 to 20 per cent. And that must be added to your groceries.

A number of our town customers have discontinued their credit and are paying cash or asking us to send their bills C. O. D., and while we have a large farmer trade, we are glad to say that almost every farmer that comes into our store pays cash for everything he buys. And we feel that it is an injustice to our people and our patrons that pay cash to charge them an excessive price that naturally must be and will be charged by every merchant who operates on a credit basis.

"STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL" NEW MADGE KENNEDY VEHICLE

There were twenty-three servants in the house where Fanny O'Grann, erstwhile musical-comedy favorite came to live as the wife of the young and handsome Lord Bantock. And every one of them were relatives of hers. And just think of it, Fanny was an honest-to-goodness Lord and all his aunts and uncles were a coat of arms on their handkerchiefs. What did she do? See delightful Madge Kennedy in "Strictly Confidential," a festival of fun and romance, it's a Gaiety Picture.

Tomorrow Holds More Than Yesterday If You Act Today...The Gove Maxim

Tomorrow and the part it plays in a man's life fix his character, his destiny. "Manana," "tomorrow" is the refuge the shiftless Mexican takes when urged to do something. No surer mark of weakness is put on a young fellow than the disposition to postpone duties, especially the harder ones, till tomorrow. The successful men are the ones who do what is to be done when it should be done, which is today oftener than any other time. In matters of investment, of grasping of opportunity above all, the man who makes up his mind and then does it is the man who succeeds. Many men make up their minds, are convinced on a proposition, and then let it get cold and die and so lose any possible benefit.

Holds doesn't simply promise. Has it to give definitely to the man who demands it. It is truer than death's approach that there is a law which works to the end that the man who has it fixed in his mind, shows in his attitude, manner, actions, that he knows that this world HOLDS things for him and must give them to him if he but follow a sane course, give his best and have unwavering faith. The eyes, the voice, the little acts of the fellow that does not think this, all tell the world what he thinks is a secret. And the world takes him at his own estimate, albeit he never puts it in speech.

More Than yesterday. When our salesmen refer to what men have done in this same automobile and truck business, which is eminently fair and natural, then they are trying to get in with the GOVE sell-off. "Oh, yes, those fellows made it all right." But things ain't like they used to be. No such chances today." That reply is given more frequently, with more finality, than any other single counter. They don't realize that when Noah told it to the creatures that story had new features, that Solomon wrote it at the end of fifty years with 100 writers that men of this generation can recall when it was said that the Vanderbilt and Gould fortunes—why, there were miles and miles of wise writings all affirming this just before the war, saying that the day of rapid fortunes was gone forever. And they are still explaining Noah and Solomon over in the gossip column. Paul and Gary Jordan and his laboring cohorts' odds why? It is still true, or had or there. There will be millions made by men who are using a tenpenny nail for suspenders right now and in the Automobile $10,000 for the $100 he puts in GOVE MOTOR CAR stock as there was in the business. There is just as good chance and a bit better for a man to make Ford or the Chalmers or any of the household examples of success.

Yesterday is worshipped by the Chinese as a nation and by the fossils scattered throughout Idaho and the country at large as individuals. It is of value only to display what can be done, what man can accomplish. Whenever it is dragged from this high pedestal to block the way of action and progress it is not an inspiration but a stifler. When it is used as a barrier to buying any good enterprise which deals with the essential of life it argues stagnation and that means death.

If is another of those words that outstanding men and the "comers" as well never permit to sway them. This tribe don't have any "ifs." "Be the fellow who says," "Well, I think this Gove stock is a good thing, and I could raise a little money and all you say is true about there being no chance to double or quadruple my money and I'd sure go if" — why, that fellow had just as well have saved his breath and the salesman's time. If he said the truth it would have run this way: "I'd like to get in on something where I could get big returns, but I'm too cowardly, too miserly, too much of a worshipping of the filthy lucre to let it get out from under me. I go down and see it and float over it and have a happy time—only I'd sell my soul to get more of it without putting up any of that I've got. Those first pioneers, Ford, Grey, Willys, Chalmers were entitled to get thousands for one. They took a chance, went with their last dollar and debts on their backs into an untamed wilderness. Now the way is blazed the man who enters this field can't mark an unblazed. A thousand dollars in the GOVE MOTOR CAR COMPANY is an investment guaranteed by the demand, the need of our product, the experience of others, the development of this section which we feel that we can command. It should expand as did the thousand dollars that made millions for those brave pioneers.

You get that "you." Not what some other fellow thinks, plans, figures out, for you, but what you do for yourself is the attainment of the stature of a full man in the world of money as in all other worthy spheres of action. Advice is good, sometimes, but you are going to be thrown back on your own honors and stay there some day if you do nothing through another man's brain and rig up a steering gear on your back for some other fellow to operate. It is curious, too, how many Jacobites spring up in a fellow's neighborhood when the news gets out that he's going to take stock in something farther off than the town pump. Think for yourself, be boss of "you."

Act like Charles Schwab did. When the war broke out in Europe began to burn the wires of America, with order. Heads of great works hesitated. They held conferences and director boards had waiting meetings. Meanwhile Pennsylvania Ditchman had taken a few lines to Europe, was booking every last order that had anybody of standing behind it and simply took all the money and Europe had in its hand. When this was known every big and little jack in the steel and auto and such enterprises as could compress order, jumped out after orders. He acted and made more money for himself and his stockholders than was ever made in history in the same time. Act—the war's over as to shipping block, but the industrial war is still on. What means that men are going to make each other faster in this car and truck business, and in every other line as well, that there was ever made in the history of these industries. And that will be going some.

Today is the time, the only time, to put your money where it will give the highest rewards. That is to buy GOVE MOTOR CAR COMPANY stock. It is now Ten Dollars. It will go to fifteen Dollars in sixty days. We are jubilant over the outlook. Dealers in the mountain counties, towns and paying cash, good-sized cash, for the cars, rights to handle our product. The people throughout the state are buying our offering of stock well. We see our way to making close to a million a year. Take that little motto—made in this day and age—business and set it if it doesn't put you on the road to fortune, it will do more than yesterday if you act today.

BRINGING UP FATHER

News from the WORLD OF SPORTS

FROM THE PRESS BOX JUG

When the chamber of commerce walking delegates start out, presumably, this week, to find out what the population thinks of playing a team in the South Idaho League, it behoves friends of baseball to wear an encouraging smile and slap the proposition enthusiastically on the back. The chamber of commerce, lacking enthusiasm itself, can't help but agree to find out what the public thinks about it and act only in case there seems to be a demand. It may take a considerable amount of time to impress the chamber so the fans must make ready with the spittle and the hose.

It will be easy for the fans to make a noise, if they will but keep in mind a picture of what the town will be like if the baseball proposal falls through. That much thought should be given solemnly to the proposal, but there is a business and public-spirited side of it as well. Many columns of invaluable advertising were won by Barley and Rupert last summer through the exploits of their clubs. Many dollars were drawn to those cities with the fans who came to witness their splendid teams in action.

PRINCETON HONORS HER WAR HEROES

D'Olier Gives Address at Unveiling of Tablet in Memory of 146 Dead

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 21.—Old Nassau today paid tribute to the 146 Princeton boys who made the supreme sacrifice in winning the degree of hero in the world war. Memorial services were held here and throughout the country wherever there was a Princeton class. A memorial hall was dedicated here. As President Ilbren pulled the cord that released the American flag covering a tablet on which was inscribed the names of the fourteen thousand undergraduates and alumni bared their heads to the falling snow. Earlier in the day, 14 Princeton men of the class of '18 and '19 who served in the war were graduated in the first mid-care commencement ever held at the university. Their college work was interrupted by their participation in either military or naval service.

PEASANT LAND OWNERS ARE FRANCE'S BULWARK

By HENRY WOOD (United Press Correspondent) PARIS. (By Mail) Thanks to the thousands and thousands of French peasants who were enabled by the war with its increased prices of farm products to become land owners, France no longer fears bolshevism. It was the individual farmers to take tomorrow that the land of France is turned over to the state for distribution according to bolshevik theories, not less than 10,000,000, engaged French peasants would be raised against such a step. And these 10,000,000 French peasants, defending their own little plots of ground would put a very quick crimp in any red army that might be raised against it.

Other statistics show that the agricultural output of France has been usually as successful during the war as in any other year. The number of French peasants who were enabled by the war to become land owners, recent statistics have just been compiled that give at least a fair conception of how large the number should be.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENTS AT THE TIMES

Like Crocuses Peeping Through the Snow, These New Garmets ANNOUNCE THE ADVENT OF SPRING

Practically every Fashion source of consequence in the world is represented in this exhibit. London is amply represented—so is Paris. And New York after grasping the Old World's best ideas, sent us several hundred of the newest, noblest and most winsome

SUITS, COATS, DRESSES, SKIRTS AND BLOUSES FOR WOMEN AND MISSES

It is entirely fitting that the largest and most progressive of Twin Falls stores should undertake by all reasonable methods to be known to its friends and patrons as a reliable authoritative reflector of Fashion's whims and mandates.

Whatever wrinkle Fashion says is so, is here. Whatever worth that fabric and workmanship can give is here. Whatever economy that thorough knowledge of the business can offer is here.

The Beauty of These Coats

Cannot be described by mere words. You will have to see them to appreciate the little bits of appealing interest that make these the choice of discriminating women.

DRESSES In Bewitching Styles

Should your preference be for a long coat, we have them. They, too, have many novel effects incorporated into their makeup, and will appeal to those of you who want "distinction in dress."

In selecting your coat, these materials are most used: Velours, Broadcloth, Polo Cloth, Tweeds and Novelty Cloths.

The prices range from $25 to $80.

Adorable Suits for Spring

These modish and charmingly designed spring suits will make their appeal to women who desire something out of the ordinary. Selected with care and thought, with a feeling over uppermost in our minds, you will realize the unusual activity that these suits will present.

Spring Blouses Delightfully Arrayed

For your inspection. They keep coming in nearly every day. The great variety of styles and colors makes our assortment of blouses unusual. You'll want to see the new PEELEUM Blouse of Georgette, Crepe de Chine and Velle, in all colors—Burnt Orange, Sunset and Turquoise Blue are a few of them.

Priced $3 to $35.

Skirts of Style

With gay colors and beautiful silks, these new skirts are bound to make some woman exclaim, "Oh! What wonderful skirts, they are showing!" Fashioned with new ideas brought over from France, they are a bit newer than others that may be shown you.

GLOVES

You will need to finish your costume. And we have provided for you in a manner that is only befitting a store like this.

Kid Gloves in black, tan, white and blue. Your size also can be found.

Taffeta leads in popularity, though Figured Failard, Georgette and Tricotine are great favorites. Trimmed in beads, yarns, braids and leather variety is the order of the day.

The style of a sleeve, the draping of a skirt, or the trimming used makes these new gowns almost irresistible in their appeal. Selected with your interests in mind the prices quoted are most reasonable.
