$32,900 More Stock to Be Sold Immediately—Will Begin Year Out of Debt, Belief

The directors of the Twin Falls Dehydrating company met yesterday afternoon and organized for the coming year. Plans for 1926 were outlined and much business of a general nature was taken up and discussed. At a meeting of the company several days ago which was called to consider the matter of continuing or suspending operation of the plant, it was decided to continue the business with $32,900 of stock which will be subscribed by the present stockholders, this being done as an evidence of good faith. When two Wives Meet

Secretly, every wife is fiercely ambitious for her husband—his success, appearance, strength—his standing among his fellow men.

Be worthy of that wife of yours. Keep healthy! Strength, appearance, success depend on health. Living habits today are largely artificial—indoor—sedentary. To be healthy, we must regard Nature's laws. And one of the first of her laws is "Avoid Constipation." Keep the poisons of intestinal matter moving out of your body.

By an entirely new principle Nujol will keep the poisonous waste moving out of the body. Every other form of treatment either irritates or forces the system. Nujol works on the waste matter instead of on the system.

Nujol prevents constipation by keeping the food waste soft, thus helping Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take—try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only bearing Nujol trade mark. Write: Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger."

A New Method of Treating an Old Complaint

REAL COMMUNITY BUILDING

Consider the tumbledweed and the oak. For a season the tumbledweed grows green. It flourishes in spring and summer. Then come the fall and the early days of winter. What of the tumbledweed? Hither and yon it flies across the prairies, the report of every vagrant breeze. No wind is too light for it, no current too small to hurt it.

But, does the oak go swirling around, a moving part of the autumnal landscape? Not that any one has noticed. The oak stays put. It roots deep in the soil. It is a member of a colony of oaks that have grown up together, that have weathered the winds of winter together.

The tumbledweed serves a purpose if it calls attention to the permanence of the oak, and if it drives home the fact that the practice of rooting deep into the soil has its virtues. In these times it seems to be a great many men of the tumbledweed variety being swept hither and thither. There are so many tumbledweeds swarming about that the oaks may be overlooked. Start to count them though and there are plenty of oaks men who have struck their roots deep into their home soil.

One of the present day problems is whether it is worth while to attempt the task of increasing the number of oaks and decreasing the number of tumbledweeds. The first thing to be noticed about the oak is that it is of slow growth. It does not spring up in a day. The next thing is that it establishes itself by taking root. Community building and raising colonies of tumbledweeds will not do the trick. Before men begin to root deeply in a community they must have an abiding interest in it. That community must be more than a chance to get into which they have been whirled. Too many communities are simply stopping places for the people that live in them. In driving home the fact that community building brought about by a real community life is a constructive work, the present day Community Service movement is performing a distinct service. Community building means more oaks. A lack of it means more tumbledweeds.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

People have to live first before they can see, and they don't think until they are fed. One needs variety to have had enough turnips and cabbage to trade with the rest of the world. So, in order to see in their pie-making except food—Mrs. Wilkins.

PIE GREAT AMERICAN DELSSERT.

No matter what filling a pie contains, if the shell or crust is not flaky, rich and tasty the pie is not a culture.

A Good Plain Paste.

Use one and one-half cupsful of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, six tablespoonfuls of fat and just cold water—enough to mix well. Cut into the fat with knives until it is fine and well mixed. Blend a half cupful of this mixture and add the water to the rest; roll out a piece large enough to take the half cupful of mixture over it, then fold over to the center, then roll out to the center, and cut in halves. Roll out the under crust, add the filling and put on the thinly rolled upper crust. This method gives a very flaky crust with less than the usual pastry.

Mother's Apple Pie.

Fill the prepared pastry shell with sliced apples, add two or three tablespoonfuls of water and place the top crust. Bake and then carefully with a sharp knife cut around the crust and remove the top. Add sugar, apples, a tablespoonful of butter and roll over the top. This pie will never run over and lose its sweetness on the oven bottom.

Fruit Pie.

This pie is best made with fresh fruit, but a cupful and a half of currants, raspberries, blueberries, or, in fact, any kind of fruit, has been put up uncooked will do. The recipe calls for one cupful of crushed fruit, one cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of flour, the yolk of two eggs and a little salt; put into the shell and bake, cover with a meringue made from the whites. If the shell may be baked, the fruit cooked, then the meringue placed on top and browned and the pie is ready to serve. Butter mixture will result in a good pie.

Ethelred Apple Pie.

Take eight large tart apples and put them through a sieve, chill, then add three-fourths of a cupful of sugar and the whites of two eggs to the eggs when beaten. Add to

THE Clark Double Acting Disc Harrow

The real Double Acting Disc Harrow cuts a furrow every three inches instead of every six inches, as does a disc harrow with a trailer behind, as both sections are held on a rigid frame, very simple, and built to stand lots of hard usage.

You cannot afford to be without one of these on your farm.

CITY CAMPS

Municipally owned camp sites are becoming fashionable. Last summer several cities in the northwest established sites for the benefit of automobile tourists from other parts of the country.

The system proved so useful and pleasant that it is to be extended this coming summer. New camping sites are to be provided and no effort spared to make visitors as comfortable as campers can be.

To a few other cities both in the east and the west have undertaken to establish camping grounds, not for travelers, but for their own citizens. These places are not so close to the cities. One California town has located the camp some distance away in the mountains.

Both sorts of city-owned camps are worth developing. Many city dwellers would like to get into the woods or open country for holiday outings in the summer, but do not know where to go. Commercialized summer resorts are generally quite as hot and crowded as the city. A real camping site, laid out with thought and care for health and comfort, but with as few signs of civilization as possible, would prove a blessing to many citizens.

LUCKIER THAN NAPOLEON

The precedent of St. Helena may be followed, after all. The Hague reports that the Allies are now suggesting that the former German emperor, instead of being tried as a common-or rather as a most uncommon-criminal, may be interned in some Dutch island in the East Indies.

That would mean better fortune than Napoleon's. St. Helena, volcanic rock in the South Atlantic, is an island without charm, a bleak and chilly port of call for occasional steamers which require coal or water, but no place which any exile might enjoy.

The Dutch East Indian islands, on the other hand, are for the most part green fairyland set in a summer sea-islands of the kind romantics love to tell of, islands whose beauties stir for all time the memory of those so fortunate as to view them.

Perhaps it is consideration for Wilhelm's health that leads to this decision. Perhaps it is the confident belief that Wilhelm's thoughts will make any spot a place of torment. The world will not care.

All it asks, now, is that the former German emperor be put somewhere in safe-keeping and denied the chance again to disturb by word or deed the peace of the world.

The world, indeed, would welcome the opportunity to forget him, and his kind.

WHISKY STATIONS

It has been suggested to the internal revenue commissioner at Washington that government "whisky stations" be established in order to supply medicinal whisky to the public at fair prices. Complaint is made in various quarters that at present druggists are often inadequately supplied with whisky, that when they have it, they charge profiteering prices, and that the quality of what they sell is often poor. The government stations would be expected to dispense only whisky of good quality, taken from bonded warehouses at fair prices.

In some ways the proposal sounds quite reasonable. Two factors, however, are likely to militate against it. One is that a public which, on the whole, is pretty strongly prohibitionist, might not risk the notion of the government embarking in the whisky business just now for any purpose whatever. The other is that the medicinal value of whisky is now questioned by many medical authorities. Before the government opened whisky dispensaries, it might be held desirable that there be some agreement on the part of the medical profession as to the desirability of such a step.

WHAT IS AHEAD OF US?

The greatest war in the world's history is now at its end. A new era has dawned, but what will the day bring forth? Social conditions are in a turmoil the world over and while nations no longer fight nations the struggle between classes of society is sharper than ever before.

The idea of civil equality has been attained and realized by man. But from that point on the shadows of the future loomed upon us, a grander hope: a new era, a new ideal, a new social order of a greater degree of a better social equality, an equality of opportunity for all the sons of God. To take this step is to meet the new social ideal is the challenge of the future to America and the world.

The idea of social inequality is becoming every day more pronounced. It is a terrible significance better understood. Dark clouds of discontent are gathering. Dark flashes portend the coming storm, and every mark the relations between the extremes of society.

Many of us fail to see the full significance of the conflict and refuse to believe that the common of America have entered upon a second great war independent of the first.

Wealth is power and the unjust and unlawful use of power is tyranny and to me the times are pregnant with signs of a new conscience that will control the economic problems.

EMPLOYERS' TRAINING BITTER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Committee on unemployment training, has been sub-tracked probably for the present session by the house military affairs committee.

A History of the Beginning of Labor Troubles in Twin Falls, Idaho, and Their Status at the Present Time.

One bright sunny day about three months ago a gentleman by the name of Myers drove into our beautiful city, registered at one of our local hotels, and immediately started out upon his mission of trying to disrupt the tranquility of our little family of employer and employee, who, heretofore, had been able to adjust our differences in an amicable manner. He interviewed a few of the shining lights, whose yearly payroll can be enumerated in very small figures, and unfolded to them a wonderful plan by which he, a first-class disrupter, could turn our City up side down and create a class hatred which would further the end of the world-be capitalists, namely the plan of creating a class hatred toward the "vile organization" known as UNION LABOR.

On January 1, 1920, the plumbers, after a notice of ninety days to the Master Plumbers Association asked for an increase of from eight dollars per day to nine dollars per day, which the Master Plumbers accepted and paid, until the third week in January when one of them discriminated against one man who had been in his employ for two years. Upon the pay check for the third week this man was reduced to the old scale and thereupon fellow workmen held a conference with the boss, in which they tried to adjust the difference, allowing him to pay the three dollars in dispute and dismiss the man from his service, which he refused to do.

As we were, at the time, building an addition to our High School with which to furnish the coming generation with better facilities for their education in the citizenship upon which they are about to enter, this master plumber was sent into the excavation to do some minor work which was unneeded at the time, anticipating that the laborers employed would strike the job and refuse to work with an unfair man.

TO OUR EMPLOYERS:

After carefully considering the industrial conditions which up to the present time have obtained in our establishment where our business is at all times at the mercy of the union controlled employees who are always willing to strike in sympathy with other strikers, no matter what injury they may entail upon our business, we have decided to enter into the following agreement with the other Employers of Twin Falls:

We, the Employers Association of Twin Falls, Idaho hereby associate ourselves together for the purpose of promoting mutually satisfactory industrial conditions in our establishments. We agree that we hereby agree to adopt what is known as the American Plan, and we pledge ourselves to protect in every way the firm whose signature is hereto attached.

EMPLOYERS ASSOCIATION OF IDAHO

We sincerely hope that you will remain in our employ. We intend to deal with you fairly, to pay you a living wage and to treat you as a man and as an American Citizen. All we ask in return is that you work steadily and honestly for our interest which, in the end means your own.

To further describe the above, the title is "AMERICAN PLAN", printed at the top in big red letters. It is in the northeast corner was printed in colors OLD GLORY, the flag for which so many of our patriotic sons and daughters have gone to the four corners of the earth and there drenched with their precious blood.

On the following morning a committee of three, including our president, mayor, and political ally, all of whom were members of the union, were called into the following meeting to discuss the American Plan. The union men were reluctant, they scattered this placard of class hatred in a few of the business houses. Next came re-improvements in the way of a committee of bankers who threatened to cut off the credit of all the struggling merchants whom they had in their financial grip if they refused to accept this Un-American policy.

At this time the Chamber of Commerce, in what we believe to be at least by some of its members, a well meaning effort to bring about a conciliation of the employer and employee, and the city of Twin Falls, which some about eleven hundred paid up cards, invited the Executive Board of the Building Trades Council to lay before them their side of the controversy, which they did, gladly. After a session which lasted about two hours during which every conceivable question was asked by some of the biggest light lights of our City, the committee from the Building Trades Council left with the assurance that a like committee from the employers side would be called into conference with the end in view that a committee from each side might be brought together and an honest effort made to rectify any misunderstandings and thereby bring about a peaceful and sensible settlement in which the big mammoth building boom which was contemplated for the coming year might be carried out to a successful termination thereby making this City one of the most prosperous and best cities in the whole West.

The union men of Twin Falls met and after careful consideration refused to call a general strike as had been expected. They decided that a mere declaration of an open shop meant nothing and voted to stay on the job and sign their names to the union constitution. They then three weeks later there have been taken under the American Federation banner, one hundred and twenty-six uncolored new members, a great majority of them giving as their reason for coming in that they felt that placard was stamping them as Un-American and that they wished to identify themselves with an organization who had the power to stamp out for all time these unscrupulous capitalists who wish to exterminate organized labor, and then threaten to sue and take advantage of this fact, thereby robbing us of a hardship upon the poor uncolored men who had been coerced into breaking the law.

It might be said at this time that the Employers refused to meet a committee from the Organized Labor, sending the reply that "this will be a fight to the bitter end, of either to rule or to ruin".

The Women's International Labor League (Gold Press Union) made a check of the City and tabulated some seventy odd firms who established a union card. A great many of them not being able to succeed in their pressure have turned up their ears and thrown them away, but still such time as they come before the ladies and declare their intentions of loyalty to the Union cause, they will receive no union patronage. The "powers that be" tried to figure out some way to enjoin the association say their numbers slipping they came out in full panache for boycott but could not "make or stick". When the A advertisements in their official newspaper "The Morning Chronicle" had been tried to explain and offer excuses for their money and rights. They have been unable to date to invent any great number of non-sense men even though they have flooded the surrounding cities with advertisements and literature expounding the wonders of Twin Falls. If the result is that the character of our beautiful home city is blackened to the outside world, we leave it to the thinking public to lay the blame.

SAYS DEMPSEY IS FACING REAL OPPONENT

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Jack McAuliffe, the only world's undefeated lightweight champion, believed that Carpenter has more than a "China-man's chance of beating Jack Dempsey."

McAuliffe's opinion is at least interesting, the more so because he takes sides with the minority feeling on the side of the water who believe Jacques Dempsey's crown will be in danger when he meets the man with the Frenchman.

"I understand," said McAuliffe recently, "that there are quite a few fellows on this side of the Atlantic who figure Carpenter is a setup for our great Dempsey. Now, maybe they're right. No one will be able to say nothing about a fellow like Carpenter is a Dempsey setup until after he has met the champion.

"But I want to say one thing in particular here. He's just the kind of a crafty man I've seen in the ring and I've seen a lot of them. He's nobody's fool. And neither is this Dempsey, his manager."

"It is my humble belief that Carpenter has better than a chance with Dempsey. The way I figure him is this: Just like the other fellows at an anchored boat, once the torpedo collides with the boat there is no more boat."

"This Carpenter is a finished boxer. He's more, he knows the American style. He's been boxing like American boxers for a good many years. I think he knows the American game as well as any of the boys. He has been fighting longer and is a very smart lad. Nothing escapes him that he can use to his advantage in the ring."

"Now when these boys meet and they will surely meet within a year, it strikes me that Dempsey will have to win in a hurry if he's going to check up a splendid victory over Carpenter. Dempsey reminds me a whole lot of John L. Sullivan. One of those hurry-hammer types. He's got the lank in his first rush or two that carry the other fellow away in a carry. If he falls to land on the button the fight is over. And if Dempsey's fight with Carpenter lasts after the first few rounds, well, just look out for Carpenter. The old time will take a long vacation on the boulevards of Gay Paree."

"Don't forget that when Dempsey faces this Carpenter he's going to look the fastest fighter of the generation against by the name of Dempsey makes the fastest fighters look slow. That's how speedy he is. And with his speed and his power. Who be his 'em he's 'em here. That's more Georges is a fast thinker."

"When Jess Willard lost to Dempsey in Toledo he overlooked a bet. Had he been a little more careful he would have yelped for Dempsey's disqualification when Jack left the ring, thinking he had won. And Jess would probably have gotten by with it. He wasn't a fast thinker. Nothing slow about the gray matter under Dempsey's bonnet. He'll be thinking a mile a minute before he's even started, and fighting the same way I think he has a good chance."

NEW TYPE TURN-BACK COLLAR

Neck Opening Model is in Shape of Narrow Scarf and May Be Worn High.

A form of high collar which will not more likely be seen on some of the dressy velvet or dressy street frocks. It is the shape of a narrow scarf of the fabric and can be worn high or turned back to disclose the neck.

For afternoon wear there is a wide choice of neck openings, among them the alluring being the square neck which is usually rather large and narrow. A particularly charming development is the one often employed on dark velvet frocks which consists of a deep point in front filled in by a tucker of old lace.

The round and the oblong neckings are with the women designers all to be met with on the informal evening gown which is no important a part of a woman's wardrobe in these days.

With a frock of this sort in which the rather high oblong neck opening is a feature, frequently no sleeve at all or only the most rudimentary ones are provided.

The French short sleeve for street gown is no longer permissible, and we are reduced to the close-fitting plain sleeve or the bell sleeve embroidered at its edge.

The French short sleeve has revived the charming fashion of wafting dainty underclothes which completely cover the forearm and wrist. This is a comfortable fashion and will be adopted by the woman who makes a business of the nice details of the toilette.

French Sweaters

Some of the new French sweaters are knitted of wool so light and in such soft effects they are called children sweaters. They are usually ornamented with elaborate embroidery in floral design or Chinese effect.

SINGAPORE TO HAVE TAXIS

Far Eastern City Will Abandon the Rickshaw, Long Used as Method of Transportation.

According to advices from Consul General Edwin S. Conant, at Singapore, that city is to have an internal transportation system of thoroughly modern taxicabs.

Whether American automobile manufacturers will secure the order for these motors is problematical, but the most significant part of news is that it marks a further development of the use of modern methods in the far East.

For several years in Singapore there has been a most consistent and vigorous agitation against the institution of the rickshaw, which, though most of this agitation came from the tongue and pen of the educated Chinese, who maintain that the system of rickshaw transportation is a disgrace from the standpoint of the degrading influence which it has on the individuals as well as the harm it is claimed to work upon the cities.

Distances great as in most far Eastern cities, and while the rickshaw makes transportation convenient and comfortable, the rickshaw was not certainly a primitive vehicle and doomed to early abandonment because of the rapid advance now being made in the industrial and social life of the far East.

The new company to operate in Singapore is to be officially known as the Singapore Motor Taxicab and Transport company, Ltd., and will have capital of $200,000. The initial equipment will be made up of 40 landauze taxicabs, five one-ton trucks and a three-quarter-ton truck. Singapore has a population of 200,000.

ANSON MADE VICTIM OF ODD TRICK PLAY

Gore Got Even With Old Boss for Transferring Him.

Performance, Engineered by Center fielder and Duck Ewing, Stood Out as One of Smartest Pieces of Strategy at Time.

There have been many froak and tricky plays in baseball, but few were so popular years ago by the late Buck Ewing and George Gore, two popular Glens of the early eighties in which Pop Anson, the famous old leader of the Chicago White Stockings, fell a victim. The play took place on the old Dubs grounds, then located at the Hundred and Tenth streets and Fifth avenue. The performance consisted of a smart piece of baseball strategy at that time. Gore had been let out for Anson, and he did not object to playing with the Glens, he looked upon his transfer as a reflection on his playing and he was determined to get even with his old boss. He never overlooked a chance when one presented itself.

In the game in which this froaky play was made the score was even at two all. Anson led off in the sixth inning with a two-base hit along the third-base line and then proceeded to take a long lead off second. Ewing was the most batter, and as he was a natural left-field hitter, the outfield was drawn up over in that direction, the right fielder being almost at the back field position, while the center was drawn well in almost back of the inbath, the left fielder, of course, playing his field very deep.

That was the situation, as just hinted, about between second and third, anxious to get off with the crack of the bat. And right there where the cunning Gore and the brilliant Ewing worked the exact trick on the Chicago fans. The spectators were following instructions to Anson.

TRADING WITH SOVIET COMING

Polk Confident That Relations Will Be Resumed Soon by the Allies

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(By Mail)—The relations will be opened between the United States and the allied countries within a short time, according to Secretary of State Polk's statement today at the White House. He stated that he had not yet seen any official declaration from the Soviet government, but he declared Soviet Russia had forwarded to this country. White House officials stated that the peace offer has not arrived at Washington.

While there is every indication that business relations will be established with Soviet Russia, the United States is developing new trade with Russia, in the opinion of Mr. Polk, because Russia has little gold and the exchange rate will be unfavorable. The only trade that is likely to come to this country is that which is by barter.

Fokkers Would Replace Berthas

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—A plan of Germany to discard the extremely long range guns for wireless controlled aerial bombs that could be directed at will against any ship or airplane revealed by the army air service in connection with an announcement that the German Poplar dirigibles of the aviation Poplar department at Lippstadt, Ind.

A. H. Fokker, a Hollander of Amsterdam, the inventor of the Fokker planes, also was asked by Germany to make possible the aerial bombs. The Fokker planes at Indianapolis were turned over to the United States under the armistice and, according to the air service, have brought one great addition to their worth.

Polk in a recent interview stated that in 1918 Germany asked him to construct a very cheap airplane that was capable of four hours' flying, and that could be steered through the air by wireless, the air service announced. It was planned to load the machine with a huge bomb, and send them out under the control of an aviator in a controlling airplane. The aviator would herd this fleet of bombs through the air to the objective, and drop them, either singly, or all together.

Scores Congress for Delaying Bill

CLEVELAND, Feb. 26.—Congress was scored for its delay of action on the Smith-Tower bill, which would add a secretary of education to the present department, and increase the salary to $100,000 annually for schools by speakers before the national educational association's convention here today.

The bill was termed "the one possible way of saving the school system from crumbling." Methods to bring pressure to bear on Congress for early consideration of the measure were dispensed at length.

At the same time plans for combating Bolshevism through the use of school buildings as community centers and the teaching of Americanism in the schools was being discussed before another meeting of the convention.

Japs Give the Reds—The Cold Shoulder

TOKYO, Feb. 26.—(By Mail)—In view of the fact that the Japanese government is expected next to look toward the deportation of the Reds, an accumulation of whom is increasing on the streets of Tokyo, the police authorities in the Yokohama recently announced they would take special precautions to watch the Russians there, paying special attention to those of the Japanese nationality. Many have already been deported, but Japanese authorities have freely stated that more Russians will be sent home.

That many of the Russians in Japan are "undesirables" may be gathered from the statement of a prominent Japanese news writer in Tokyo. "Nearly all the Russians who are deported to Japan," he said, "are taken to the United States or to Europe where they find ready employment in business and professions. Many of those who spend their time in Japan are mostly gamblers."

The first shipment of deported Germans, has left Kobe for some time. The Germans were captured by the Japanese and interned. Many since the island empire first entered the war. They were held in prisoner camps in Japan during the war.

What Are You Going to Do About Your Catarrh?

Improper Treatment Leads to a Serious Stage.

Because you have doubtless been fairly successful through the mild summer months, and free from the soreness and irritation of the membrane, do not make the mistake of thinking that you are rid of your Catarrh. For if you suffer with this disease last winter, it will again be with you in all its severity unless you have eliminated entirely from the blood the germs which cause the disease.

Don't you know that you can use gallons upon gallons of local treatment without the slightest permanent benefit? Don't you see the matter a little clearer? Don't you see that it is a waste of time and money, because you are endangering your health, to continue a method of treatment that does not prevent the bacteria from multiplying and pressing a toward a curative benefit.

Here, on the other hand, you will receive a local application and the transportation of the delicate bacteria from the nose, throat and air passages that you might reasonably expect to be cured by the use of local remedies. But have you ever known of one single person to be freed from the slavery of Catarrh by any kind of local treatment? No, you have not. And if you have overlooked the cause of these symptoms, and hence the treatment, you will never be free from the cause of the clogged up accumulations that choke up your air passages, and they will continue to disappear for good. But no matter how many local applications you use, you can temporarily clear them away, they promptly re-appear, and will continue to do so until their cause is removed.

But if you will take a treatment that goes right down to the very source of the disease and attacks it at its starting point, then you are on the right track, and can expect results. S. S. S., the fine old fifty-year old blood remedy is an antidote to the bacteria of any Catarrh, period with which your blood is infected. Don't waste further time by continuing a treatment that can only be a temporary relief, but begin to take S. S. S. today, and you will receive the same kind that all others have. S. S. Now All You Good Fellows, Come Fill Up Your Pipes

The Velvet tin is twice as big as shown here.

If ever men are "Tom" and "Bill" to each other, it's when good pipes are a-going. If ever good pipes go their best, 'tis when Velvet's in the bowl.

For Velvet is a mighty friendly smoke. Kentucky Burley is the leaf that Nature made for pipes. Wholesome and hearty, honest as the day. And Velvet is that same good Burley leaf, brought to mellow middle age.

For eight long seasons Velvet "meditates" in wooden hogsheads, throwing off the rawness of "young" tobacco—truly "ageing in the wood." Out Velvet comes—cool, calm and generous—the tobacco Nature made good, kept good and made better.

Velvet's sweetness is the sweetness of tobacco, not "put on" like "frosting" on a cake. Its mildness comes from natural ageing, not from having the life baked out. Its fragrance is true tobacco fragrance, not a perfume. And Velvet makes an A Number One cigarette. Roll one.

As good old Velvet Joe says: "Fill yo' nearth with friendly thoughts, Yo' mouth with friendly smoke—An' let the old world wag."

—the friendly tobacco
