25 PER CENT RAISE BUT NO REDUCTION IN HOURS GRANTED IN COAL WAGE CASE

Commission's Report Is Being Studied by President

MINER REFUSING TO SIGN REPORT

Price of Coal to Public

WASHINGTON, March 11.—President Wilson is now studying the final report of the coal commission which is expected to be made public within a day or so.

It was learned authoritatively that the report recommends: A 25 per cent wage increase; no reduction in working hours; employers to use the check off system for the collection of union dues.

The report covers several thousand words and is framed in firm language. John P. White, who represented the miners on the commission, did not sign the report. He may make a minority report.

The wage increase recommended is approximately 25 per cent for all classes of mine labor. The 14 per cent increase granted by the British government in the 25 per cent increase. The increases are not retroactive.

Special commissions to take up the differences in the central committee field will be submitted to a special commission, to be appointed by the next joint conference of miners and employers.

Increased prices in coal to the public are approved by the report of the commission. The increase in selling prices, however, should not be more than enough to absorb the difference between a 25 per cent advance in wages and the 14 per cent increase in wages allowed by Dr. Gifford, according to the report.

Commissioner White insisted upon the 7-hour day and a wage increase of 31.25 per cent. He made heated charges during the closing hours of the conference which began today. It was learned, and threatened to go before the president and congress with his protest.

White finally joins in the report there is grave doubt here whether the report of the commission will be accepted by the United Mine Workers.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 11.—The grand jury which just completed a three-month investigation of the coal industry, may report to Judge A. D. Anderson tonight. It was said, at the federal building today.

To investigate alleged conspiracy to restrict the output of coal just prohibited of collusion between miners and operators to curtail mine output were objects of the jury's investigation.

As a result of a division of opinion in the coal commission the entire bituminous wage controversy again will be referred to a special commission to accept either the majority or minority report. It is believed that the president will not mediate the differences within the commission and secure an unanimous decision in the matter.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Anthracite miners and operators now conferring here on a new wage agreement. The two sides are in disagreement of differences, following Washington dispatches telling of the completion of the anthracite commission report.

All the differences in the anthracite wage case are being referred to a special commission, together with the minority report of John P. White which was made a basis for the anthracite report. There was general disappointment among the miners delegates here today.

Income Tax Facts You Should Know

INCOME TAX ON SALE PROFITS The big profits realized in 1919 by sales of dwellings, apartment houses, ranches, farm lands, and other property are subject to the income tax. Every citizen or resident who made such sales must now figure up the gains, as prescribed in Form 1040 or 1040-A, and transfer this profit together with other income and income in determining the liability for a return and a tax.

The sale of part of a farm or part of a parcel of land brings with it the responsibility of figuring equitably the gain realized. Consideration must be given, not only to average, but to the quality or desirability of the part sold, in relation to the entire tract or farm. Many returns for 1919 were disallowed during 1919. Any gains or losses in such transactions affect the net income.

If the profits from sales, plus other income, received in 1919 by an unmarried person was $1000 or more, a return is due. A married couple must file a return if profits from sales plus other income was $2000 or more.

Returns and payments must reach the collector of internal revenue by March 15, 1920.

Ludendorff Supporting Hindenburg's Campaign For German Presidency

BERLIN, March 11.—General Ludendorff has come out in support of the presidential candidacy of Field Marshal von Hindenburg who is being supported by the nationalists. He is now chief of staff to Hindenburg during the war, is quoted as saying that "the field marshal is the best incumbent since the Germans have no monarch."

A campaign receiving the hottest political fight the "United States" has known in its prospect before the presidential election is held next fall. The leaders of the Democratic party at a special meeting decided to support the candidacy of Hindenburg if he ran and file of the party kept in line it will probably win Hindenburg's defeat as the supporters of the veteran's candidacy were relying upon the votes of the Democrats and conservatives to elect him.

"It seems certain now that Hindenburg will accept the nomination of the national party," it was declared today by George Goethel, floor leader of the Democratic party in the national assembly.

"General Ludendorff has already declared at a public meeting that Hindenburg is the best man for the place under the circumstances. This demonstrates that, from the beginning, Hindenburg's candidacy has been popular with the militarists and monarchists."

"Despite the unhappy outcome of the war for the Germans Hindenburg is a man who has been a good general but a politician. There have always been politicians among a popular general who are interested in a high political job. Look back to the time of Wellington after the Napoleonic wars, the French had a similar experience when General Chateaubriand was elected president of the republic."

"Nor can Americans review the presidency of General Grant with pride and pleasure," Gostain editorial.

WEST VIRGINIA WOMEN, SUFFRAGISTS SURE VICTORY WILL COME BY 23RD OF MARCH

Washington and Delaware Are Next Objectives and the Women Are Busy

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Suffrage for women will be an actuality by March 23, according to the predictions made today by suffrage leaders after the ratification of the suffrage amendment by the West Virginia legislature last night.

"We expect ratification to follow immediately upon the convening of the legislature on March 22 in Washington and Delaware said Miss Alice Paul, leader of the National Woman's party. "The full approval of Washington will be secured promptly. In Delaware we believe our majority is safe though not overwhelming. The large proportion of suffragists in the legislature of that state makes the responsibility clear."

There was jubilation about suffrage headquarters here today over the victory in West Virginia. The West Virginia legislature had not prevented the laying of plans for the final effort. Already there are a large number of suffrage workers in the state of Delaware and other Delaware towns and cities to launch a great campaign in favor of the suffrage. A large campaign fund has been organized.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 11.—Charles E. Bricker, one of the Republican senators joining the new West Virginia suffrage fight were present at the legislature today. Two Republican senators joined the new West Virginia suffrage fight were present at the legislature today. "I shall continue the fight for ratification until the last vote is taken," Senator Ashurst, democrat, of Arizona, scored "politicians in and out of the house" who, he charged, are signing the treaty in a screen to keep themselves from having to face the real issue.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—A test of strength was imminent today between administration senators standing by the president, and the growing opposition to the treaty. William Jennings Bryan's position that to make Article 10 a campaign issue would be suicidal for the democratic party.

CHICAGO, March 11.—The United States will undertake the conquest of Mexico soon after the next presidential election, it was announced today by the editor of the Chicago Tribune, who declared today by Professor Frederick Starr, noted anthropologist and authority on Mexican affairs, in an address given at the University of Chicago.

"I am justified," said Prof. Starr. "There is a great movement afoot recognized at Paris, whereby the United States is to invade Mexico and absorb that country. I believe that hostilities will begin as soon as the new president is elected."

"There are only three handout groups left in Mexico now, and only one of these is doing any great harm that of the petroleum interests."

WILLESWAY THE ELECTION

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The women are the silent vote. They will decide the election without any doubt. This is the opinion of Miss Florence King, president of the National Woman's Association of Commerce, of Chicago, who has asked the democratic and republican national committees to send a speaker to the annual convention of the business women of the country, which is to be held at Columbus, Ohio, next July.

King is a diligent attorney, and the only woman who ever was a case before the Supreme Court of the United States. This is the first time a convention of business women has asked the two political parties to participate.

In sending invitations to the national committee to visit their own cities, Miss King announces that the high cost of living is the issue.

"The cartoonists and the propagandists doubtless will have a lot of fun with me when I say the women constitute the great silent vote in the coming election," said Miss King. However, the real fun will come when that silent vote is counted.

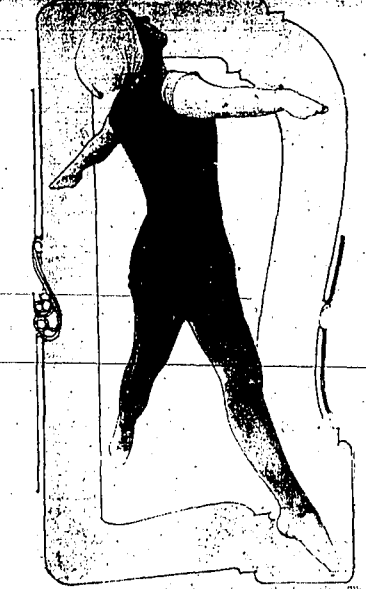

"I refer to the woman who is engaged in the greatest business in the world—that of keeping an American home together. I mean the woman who has a dinner pail to fill six mouths a week and three children to get 'r to school five mornings a week. Just how should be made as easy as possible for her, but we seem to be doing everything possible to make it as hard as possible. These are the women whose votes are going to count in the coming election."

"This issue will be the first dinner pail, and I do not believe the politicians will be able to sidestep it with any arguments or theories in regard to the League of Nations, the railroads, the railroads, or any other subject that do not touch this high cost of living. The women of the country will have the next election on March 15, 1917. We business women want to hear what the party platform makers have to say."

"The best figures obtainable prior to the census just being tabulated, showed Miss King, show that all progressive women will in this election register. With these women thinking alike on any one national issue, it is easy to see that they will decide the next presidential election."

"I want to see that the candidates for office say something on the high cost of living, and say it in good big block letters," she said.

Miss King, "for I am confident that the man who can prove his serious intentions on the subject will be the one who will be elected when assembled on the east front of the capitol on or about noon of March 3, 1917."

"Doubt" Van Camp and his attorney declared the case would go appealed. The cruelty charge was based on Van Camp's alleged persistent attentions to his stenographer after his wife had protested against him taking her on automobile rides and eating lunch with her.

In support of their contention they point to a "petition" signed by members of the student body, requesting that the heads of the sisters be cut off.

When the petition was circulated, explanation was made that it asked for a holiday on Washington's birthday. The petition was worded: "A holiday has been granted on February 22 in commemoration of our first president. This could be fittingly observed on the campus. We ask that a chapel service be ceremoniously observed with a view to our own inspiration and quiet meditation on this national holiday."

KING WOULD BE SLAVE

BOSTON, March 11.—"Does anybody want a slave client?" This was the query made by Samuel H. Hadji-Bira, grandson of the great Mitha of Hadji-Bira, one-time king of Albania. A story with a happy ending of an Albanian fight with the U. S. L. is thrown in, and tempered by the hard knocks of a hard city—the Hadji-Bira told who he stepped into the office of a Boston newspaper.

"I want no money," said he. "Just a room and board, I guarantee my master from $100 to $300 a week's revenue from my patients."

He landed in New York over a year ago and rented a studio, where he painted. He has sold portraits to American tourists and made a deal with him from Albania about $10,000. Of this he gave $5,000 to a "king friend" who was going to make him rich quick on "the Albanian friends" (he says, "instead he lost $10,000").

He then loaned $2,000 to another friend to start him in business. "That friend would pay me back," says Hadji-Bira, "only his brother-in-law would. When my friend he will. In the meantime Hadji-Bira's allowance from Albania was stopped."

"In South Albania, near Scyruis, we have an estate worth $200,000 in your money," he said. "I used to have herds of sheep, but my constant get any money for it now as the herds perished in the war. My people so comfortable before, are now as poor as the poorest peasants."

Bad days in New York came to Hadji-Bira and he was evicted from his studio just as he was on the threshold of important commissions. He came to Boston. Hadji went to work. For two hours, without food, he traipsed the streets.

"A painter, I must work," said he. "I want no charity. In a fortnight I will be able to work, that is, to bring my old man, I tried to be a dish washer, but the man to whom I applied said he wanted only professional assistance."

"Dr. Elwood Worcester, of the Emmanuel Church, who heard of the case of Hadji, secured for me a commission to paint the little Boston lady, twelve years old. With renewed courage Hadji started going about to assemble the paints and canvases necessary, the funds for which a Boston sponsor has supplied."

"This may be the beginning of getting on my feet again," observed the King's descendant, gratefully.

CAME PREPARED 11 YEARS IN BURLINGTON AT WEDDING

ST. LOUIS, March 11.—The report that a fourteen-year-old wedding cake was to be served at the impromptu breakfast of Miss Geraldine Isabelle Buchanan and Lieutenant Austin, then South Park, the wedding cake was preserved in brandy.

The cake was made from a recipe for a Chinese fruit cake and "pickled" by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Buchanan, parents of the bride, in their home at California, Mo., to be served at the first wedding in the city.

War rumors added interest to the ceremony. Miss Buchanan, as a war worker, met Lieutenant Austin, then an artillery officer at the Harvard canteen in New York. The groom's home is in Greenville, N. C., and he is a member of the Greenville-New York bank and brokerage firm.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 10—Paul H. King, manager of the Newberry senatorial campaign of 1918 and now principal witness in the Newberry trial, was unable to resume his testimony today, as the result of his collapse on Tuesday.

Milton Oakman, Detroit politician charged with boasting of having received $20,000 of Newberry money, sought tentatively to place his wife, who he said was with him at the time he is alleged to have made the deposit, on the witness stand. Judge Stevenson explained the federal court ruling denying a wife the right to testify in behalf of the husband.

Much of the day's session was spent in reading more Newberry-Ring correspondence into the records. In one letter Senator Newberry expressed the hope that Michigan farmers "would realize how Ford kept his own hands on the funds could make more money while the farmers' sons had to enter the war no matter how badly the farms required their presence."

WILSON NOT ANGRY PARIS

PARIS, March 10.—President Wilson's implicit charge that France is militaristic is conclusive proof that he is not yet returned to health," said the Paris Mail today in commenting on Wilson's note to democratic senators.

The Mail attacks the allies' captivation on the question of German war criminals, "allowing Germany to run away with the idea that the passing conversations of statesmen represent the general policy of the allies." The newspaper adds:

"President Wilson's letter is a rare in point. Germany will think that France never wants to claim reparations from Germany. Will our allies allow Germany to defy us three months after the peace treaty is in force?"

COLBY STILL HELD UP

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The senate foreign relations committee re-affirmed today to take any action on the nomination of Blairbridge Colby for secretary of state.

The cost of picking and shipping is about the same for fine tea as for common tea—more than twice the tea-garden cost of the tea itself.

The extra cost of shipping tea is paid by the young tender leaf and of fine tea flavor instead of the older leaf, which has a lot of tannin in it, with very little tea flavor, and costs at that.

It is worth your while to pay the high transportation and other costs that all tea must bear, and get only weak tannin-laden tea.

There are four factors of Schilling Tea—Java, Ceylon, India, Ceylon. Each factor is selected for its own special qualities and is carefully blended to produce a perfect tea.

WOMEN CRITICIZE CONGRESS
 Congress is tired of being criticized, and gets rather callous about it. But a certain line of criticism to which congress is now being subjected is likely to prove more effective than usual, because it comes from women—from whom congress in the past has heard little, and who are going to cast some 20,000,000 ballots or so in the coming election.

And what do the women say? Well, first of all, that the lawmakers are guilty of idle chattering. Hear Mrs. Maud Wood Park, head of the National League of Women Voters:
 "Congress consists mostly of lawyers, a body of men trained to controversial talking, a fact which helps to explain why there is so much more talk than action to the square inch in Washington."
 This is surely the unkindest cut of all, and none the less poignant because the women may well be considered good judges of controversial talk.

Follows then an arraignment of congressional economy. Congress is criticized by Mrs. Park for the time and money wasted in futile roll-calls, for the wasteful abuse of the postoffice franking privilege, for pork barrel legislation and for lack of a budget system.

And these, too, are subjects in which feminine critics are on a familiar ground. With nearly all the intelligent women of America putting their "dime" on a budget system, how can women voters be expected to tolerate the lack of one in governmental housekeeping?
 How can a woman who practices thrift in her own family's use of postage stamps see with equanimity one congressman, in one day, for political purposes, mailing five 60-cent packages of government publications, each of which costs the government 45 cents to transport and deliver?—Or how can a woman who knows the value of her sex's out-a-time per hour in the kitchen patiently endure the sight of a whole capital full of public servants wasting their time? How can a woman skilled in the economy of the flour barrel and the garbage can find excuse for the Washingtonian "pork barrel"?

The women are right after those congressmen, and they are going to keep right after them, with the hearty approval of the male voters. It always pleases a man, anyway, to see a woman doing something he always wanted to do, but found too troublesome.

WEATHER MAN HAS HIS WISDOM
 Why should the weather man rely on "scientific" observations and tests for his prognostications when he has simple and sure means closer at hand? This is the query suggested by the writer of a letter published in an eastern paper.

Practically everyone will admit that the winter we have just passed through—we believe the worst is over now—is a trying one. We might have been both mentally and physically prepared for it, however, says the correspondent, if we had but heeded nature's intimations last summer. Hibernating animals dug deeper holes, than usual, squirrels stored away larger quantities of nuts. These things meant a hard winter, said the natural-method weather prophets. We scoffed at them then; but who will not thank them now?
 Of course there were other prophets who read signs with just the reverse meaning, but it ill befits us to recall them in the face of the other, and accurate, prophecies. Far better to heed the warning, and learn to use the daily weather signs which greet us on every side.

Although Kipling's cat had no antipathy to the "wild, wild woods," it is said that the nod in house cat refuses to leave home for the night if it is going to rain before morning. Starlings and black-bird sparrows are reputed to prepare for a rain storm by gathering in great crowds for feeding several hours before the storm appears.

Such as we are inclined to admire the wonderful intuition of house cats and sparrows, we still cling to official weather reports. If one is perfectly honest he must admit that the weather man hits his facts about as regularly as nature's creatures—and he usually has his facts published a day or so before the birds and beasts have commenced giving their signals.

PATIENCE AND VISION

Link Patience with Vision, work the twin in double harness and they will in the end emerge triumphant from "the crash of systems and the wreck of worlds."
 Vision and Patience stand as a constant rebuke to those who are in much too great a hurry. Haste makes for waste. That is especially true, as far as the problems arising out of our social relations are concerned. And, in this connection, it would probably be found that social problems never present a national crisis unless there are a great many people who are in a very great hurry to do something or other.

Patience and vision are wise. They know that it is not so much by reason of being served as it is by serving that human creatures are brought into normal community relations with their fellows. There is not the secret of Community Service as it is now conceived. It is not so much that through Community Service the individual is ministered to as it is that through Community Service the individual ministers to the community.

Community Service, organized by Patience and Vision, constitutes an open door. Through that door the individual can pass and be something in the community. In order to unite those who may be separated by prejudice, by misunderstanding, it is only necessary to unite them in a common objective. Those who are working for the same end cannot forever continue working against each other.

Can the big home? Not over night, perhaps. Not by day after tomorrow, or after next month. But, in the end—Patience and Vision both answer for it.

LANDLORD'S NEXT MOVE
 Perhaps a little courage and high of purpose is all that is needed on the part of sufferers from high prices and high rents to bring about a more moderate cost of living. Forty Chicago tenants have picketed up heart to try what courage will do, at any rate.

Their landlords met together and decided to "let the tenants march on if they will not pay higher rents." The tenants have decided to march. Also they have refused to pay the increased rents.

WELCOME EUROPE'S SPUDS
 The department of agriculture announces that limited quantities of European vegetables are being shipped to this country and sold at lower prices than the native product. Fresh potatoes, Spanish onions and cabbage are the chief items. So far the importation from all sources forms a very small part of the total supply.

IN CONSTANT USE BY PHYSICIANS EVERY DAY
 Medical Value of S. S. S. is Fully Recognized.
 Almost every human ailment can be traced, one way or another, to impurities in the blood. So you cannot overestimate the importance of keeping your circulation pure and your blood vessels constantly pumping rich, red, life-giving blood in all parts of the system. An impure or impure blood that creeps into the blood is a source of danger, for every portion of the body depends upon the blood supply to properly perform its functions. If you are attacked by practically every one is equally exposed to the attacks of disease. You are just as liable to be attacked as the man or woman sitting next to you on the street car, or on the street.

S. S. S. is a very valuable agent in the treatment of Catarrh, Rheumatism, Eczema, Tetter, Boils, pimples, skin eruptions, malaria, and other disorders that come from impure blood.

MINING STOCK GOES TO 50 CENTS

Operations on Well Known Property to Begin April 1st

The treasury stock of the Sea Foam Gold Mining Co. will, after March 30th, sell at 50c per share. Operations on the well-known property will begin April 1st, and the management believes that this advance in the price of the stock is a reflection of the property owned by Pittsburgh people with a capitalization of $1,000,000 shares, par value, $5.00 per share, and is selling its stock at $20 per share or half par. This proves our contention that the Sea Foam Gold Mining stock is worth more than what we are asking for it.

The sale of three groups of mines containing the Sea Foam Gold Mining Company's property, means the working of other lines, showing the worth of this mining asset.

The Sea Foam Gold Mining Co. will operate four claims right in the heart of this great mining area. Three of these claims have shipped ore from actual development, on which 805 feet of tunnels have been driven. The lowest grade ore shipped averaged 400 ounces to the ton and was sold at silver was averaging about 50c per ounce, making the ore worth $200 per ton. But new silver values have increased the 400 ounce ore, making it worth $250.00 per ton. You can readily see what this means when this ore is shipped this summer.

Send information and ore with map can be had at Room No. 217 Rogers Hotel, J. W. Skilton, Treas.

"The Lash of Power"
In all ages there has been a Superman, who stood head and shoulders above his fellows; from the days of cavemen and gladiators to the present day financial king, politician or crook. But always there is the checking power of RIGHT, VIRTUE and LOVE. "The Lash of Power" is a thrilling, sensational drama of wealth gone mad and of what money cannot buy.
