

COURT REFUSES TO ACCEPT VERDICT ON I. W. W.

SOME FREED OTHERS ARE CONVICTED OF MURDERS

Two Acquitted, One Inane, Seven Found Guilty
JUDGE TELLS JURY TO TRY IT AGAIN
Refuses to Accept Third Degree Murder Verdict on Two

GRAYS HARBOR COURT HOUSE, MONESANO, Wash., March 13.—Seven of the ten defendants in the Centralia murder trial were found guilty of murder in the second degree at 3:45 to night.

Two men, Elmer Smith and Mike Sheehan were acquitted, while one, Robert Roberts was found to be insane.

Those found guilty of second degree murder of Warren O. Grimm, former lieutenant in the United States army, are: Bert Smith, I. W. W. secretary, Bert Brand, O. C. (Commander) Bland, James McNetney, Ray Becker, Eugene Burnett, John Immediately following the receipt of the verdict acquitting Elmer Smith and Mike Sheehan they were immediately arrested by Sheriff Beaman of Lewis county on warrants charging them with the murder of Arthur McBreath, one of the soldiers slain at Avonlea free day.

The special verdict returned in the case of Robert Roberts which had been in his hands for a long time directed that he be confined to an asylum.

Defense Counsel Vanderveer's motion the verdict returned be set aside on the grounds that they are not regular, was denied by Judge W. A. Babcock.

Vanderveer also would introduce evidence for a law trial on the grounds that the second degree verdict returned was a legal error.

There was no objection as is shown by the fact that the jury found one of the defendants guilty of first degree murder than a second degree verdict was returned.

The new attorney retained by the defense of Elmer Smith and Mike Sheehan was unjust.

The shooting of Grimm and of Arthur McBreath was a "one man" fight, he said. "His accipit to fight alone," he said. "His accipit to fight alone," he said. "His accipit to fight alone," he said.

Canal Company Is Again Overuled in Election Controversy By Court

Judge W. A. Babcock, sitting in district court yesterday afternoon, overruled the demurrer presented by the Twin Falls Canal company to the amended petition of Frank DeKlotz and others against the Canal company seeking to set aside the recent canal election in which D. P. Detweiler was defeated, on the grounds that ballots were illegally cast.

Von Kapp Bitter Enemy Of America Says Writer

By EDWARD T. HEYN, (Former Berlin Journalist) Written for the United Press, NEW YORK, March 13.—Dr. Wolfgang von Kapp, the new German chancellor, is one of the most bitter enemies of the United States.

A few years ago von Kapp wrote a pamphlet in which he attacked the then chancellor, Bethmann-Hollweg, for the latter's alleged conciliatory American policy. The chancellor replied that he was not a pirate of public opinion.

Last week the chief of the Fatherland party, which during the war favored unrestricted submarine warfare and annexation of Belgium, held a "business meeting" in Berlin.

Dr. von Kapp is the son of Dr. Friedrich Kapp, one of the greatest authorities on American history and the author of a book on the United States which he wrote in 1904.

On the contrary, Wolfgang von Kapp has had anti-American leanings since his youth. He was closely allied with Herr von Westarp and Herr von Heydendorff, leaders of the anti-American conservative aristocratic party.

Peace Treaty Will Be Scrap of Paper, Feared

PARIS, March 13.—If the German military clause is able to organize a dictatorship as it now seems to be doing, it is feared that the peace treaty will be a scrap of paper.

It is not probable that the former Kaiser will be "retained," the official said. "There probably will be either a resignation or a new election."

The incidents are similar to those which preceded the outbreak of the revolution in 1918. The German people are being misled by the press and the radio.

CEMENT FLOOR AT NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING CRASHES TO FLOOR BELOW—DAMAGES HEAVY—WORKMEN HAD GONE

Damage variously estimated at from $200 to $500 was caused by the collapse of a stucco-bearing cement floor at the new high school addition, which allowed its heavy burden to crash down to the floor below.

Cement had just been poured into the form and the workmen were ready to leave. Shortly after they had departed the surprise came way in the floor below.

The Federal Farm Loan Act, passed by congress June 28, 1916, and signed by President Woodrow Wilson July 17, 1916, and became a law.

It consists of three parts, as follows: 1. The Federal Farm Loan Board, consisting of four members, named by the president, and the secretary.

2. How much may I borrow? You may borrow up to 20 per cent of the appraised value of the land not exceeding $100 per acre, plus 20 per cent of the appraised value of the insured improvements.

3. How much does it cost to get a loan, and how much my monthly payments? The first part of the question is answered thus: You pay the local association in writing 1/2 per cent of your loan, plus $2.00 for appraisal.

4. For what purpose may I borrow? The money may be used for any existing indebtedness; for the purchase of land, and for the purchase of livestock, or for any kind of property.

ARREST ALL MEMBERS OF OVERTHROWN GOVERNMENT

Ebert, Noske Arrested at Dresden by Rebels
ASSURES TREATY TO BE OBSERVED

People Notified That Order Will Be Preserved

BERLIN, March 13.—President Ebert, Gustav Noske, minister of defense, and other members of the overthrown German government, were arrested at Dresden today, according to advices here this afternoon.

Chancellor Gustav Bauer, who remained in Berlin, placed himself at the disposal of the new revolutionary regime, which overthrew the government this morning.

BERLIN, March 13.—Germany witnessed a bloodless but effective revolution today.

The government of President Ebert, first president of the German republic, was overthrown by revolutionary troops, presumably as part of an extensive reaction.

The coup was carried out without a hitch. Troops were circulated yesterday of the impending event, and nobody guessed the lightning revolution which would be so consummated.

The government party met the approaching force just outside Berlin. They conferred with Commandant Ebert, who had been in the city, and argued them to return by their barracks, warning them that the government would be restored.

The commanders, curiously refusing the general's request, continued their march. The troops reached the station railway station at 2 a. m. Their leader immediately called upon the government to resign.

After consultation, the government refused and the revolutionaries began occupying strategic points.

Major General Ebert, minister of defense, had been ordered to furnish the military force necessary to uphold the government, had deserted his post.

The greatest confusion prevailed in the city. It was reported to have been a bloodless revolution, and the government was restored.

The people in various parts of the world have expressed their sympathy for the German revolution.

ILLNESS COSTS U. S. WAGE EARNERS OVER BILLION DOLLARS EVERY TWELVE MONTHS

The annual sick bill of 30,000,000 American wage earners is over $1,000,000,000. The time clock of the nation shows that each worker, through sickness, loses an average of nine working days of the nation's production each year. This means that the nation's production is decreased by more than $10,000,000,000 annually. The sick bill represents the bill for lost wages, medical and nursing care, hospital care, and other expenses. It is the largest item in the cost of doing business in the United States for all philanthropic purposes. It is estimated that about 100,000,000 people are required to conduct the business of the National Government the year before the war.

 SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 12.—Several workers were killed when a mob attempting to liberate three labor agitators from the state penitentiary, Pueblo, Mexico, was charged by Carranza troops. It was learned from an official source here that the attack on the penitentiary followed a meeting at the Hidalgo after by several hundred clothing workers who broke into a cell of the prison for "free Russia" at the hotel owned by the Mexican government. It was also learned that the mob was also headed by the Mexican government.

 William H. Torgoth became county champion at Chicago in the 2000 yard race, a few weeks ago and put the best midnight marriages, which had made Clayton famous as a Great Green. "There hadn't been any excitement in Clayton since, until the other morning when—"
 "What a marriage license," the phone said.
 "Can't you see it; there's a hen on midnight marriages now," answered the disgusted official.
 "Yes, but it isn't midnight. We've waited until dawn," said the phone.
 Deputy Recorder Stevens scratched his head, but he couldn't remember anything about the matter. That was a marriage, so he tied to the courthouse.
 "And a few minutes later, after Justice Fletcher had been shown a newspaper report, and Miss Emmette Dugan, of Richmond, had been informed an alliance in the fight on the high cost of living."

KAISER IS A WRECK
 CHICAGO, March 14.—That the former German Kaiser has become a wreck is wholly inescapable of retaining his former place as the head of the German nation was the substance of an interview obtained here today from Dr. H. Polster, the Dutch consul general in the United States declaring he had had luncheon with Wilhelm at Amersfoort several weeks ago. Dr. Polster described the former Kaiser as a "mumbling, feeble old man."
 "The Kaiser is no longer a menace to civilization," said Dr. Polster. "All through the luncheon he mumbled numerous phrases that I could not understand, and all his talk was of petty, uninteresting occurrences at Amersfoort."
 "This white haired, old, feeble old man," he said, "came out of the castle at Amersfoort and had given away a 'mud not capable of thinking. All he can do now is to keep on coughing, coughing. His memory has faded away with his physical faculties. And he gives great satisfaction of being wholly unfit to represent the German nation."

THE CURE FOR CLASS TYRANNY

"By slow but decisive processes," says Attorney General Palmer, "the arrogance of capital in this country has been broken. But now we see in many lines labor grown so strong, so powerful, that it threatens to become arrogant, and during the past year capital has had to plead on its knees to labor for a chance to be heard and the right to have its difficulties with labor arbitrated."

This will strike most people as a fair statement of the situation. Disinterested observers—those who have no special affiliation with either class—cannot help recognizing that the danger at the present time is that the tyranny of capital, now near its end, shall give way to a tyranny of labor. Either is intolerable, and there is ground for hope, in the present state of public enlightenment, that both can be prevented from now on.

How to prevent such class tyranny, however, remains a problem. Mr. Palmer professes to believe, with many other public men, that inasmuch as "public opinion is the only monarch in this country," it is following that "an informed public opinion will always secure justice, to both sides in industrial controversies."

So it will, without doubt—in the end. But with our present machinery for the formulation and expression of public opinion, it sometimes takes a pestilently long time for it to take effect. It is imaginable that a great strike might wreck American industry and commerce while the public is learning the facts and, making up its mind and persuading the parties involved to accept its judgment.

We do not operate by such a slow, cumbersome process in other disputes between citizens, individually or collectively; we delegate to courts the power to decide and to enforce the decisions. Shall we not come to that eventually in labor disputes, too?

THE UNCOMFORTABLE OLD HOUSE

George Bernard Shaw, the English playwright, has put himself on record as favoring the destruction of most of the old English cottages so famous in history and fiction. "After living in one of these 'literary and artistic' houses," says Mr. Shaw, "with an exalted sense of doing the right thing, one realizes that all the time one has been living in a sort of architectural hell."

To the reader whose imagination has been stirred, or the traveler whose eye has been delighted, this attack upon the ancient and honorable English cottage will come as something of a shock. But there is a good deal of common sense in the contention that an old house which is not comfortable and sanitary for living purposes had better be destroyed and make way for the more desirable modern structure.

It does not make any difference whether it is Elizabethan English or Colonial American or even of more recent date, the house which does not admit light and sunshine, which cannot be made convenient for housework, and sanitary in every respect, is not fit for human habitation. A house may be pleasing to look at, but if every time the housekeeper goes from the dining room to the kitchen she must take an upward or downward step, that house is of the infernal type described by Shaw.

Houses are made to live in. If they are so constructed that living in them is a hardship, neither age nor beauty can recommend them.

A TEST OF PRIVATE CONTROL

"The return of the railways to the owners," says Herbert Hoover, "places predominantly private operation upon its final trial. If instant energy, courage and brave vision in the owners should prove lacking in meeting the immediate situation, we will be faced with a reaction that will drive the country to some other form of control."

It is a timely warning. There seems to be, lately, an impression that the formal transfer of the railroads back to their owners, with such guarantees and restrictions as appear to meet the situation, is all that is necessary—that all our national problems will soon be straightened out. This very thing may happen, if the new railroad legislation is wise, and the governmental machinery provided by it functions properly. But it will not be true necessarily.

Private operation, as well as public operation, has had its defects in the past. They have not, less in the main, the same kind of defects, but they have been had enough. It is to be seen now whether the present generation of transportation men is capable of rising to the height of business statesmanship required for the proper control and development of our vast railroad system.

The nation is expecting much of them—perhaps too much. If they disappoint, there may soon be a swing back from "predominantly private" operation to a demand for operation, or even ownership, that is "predominantly public."

SCHOLARSHIP TO BE HONORED

A new system of rewards for scholarship is to be installed at Columbia university, which it is hoped will tend to stimulate interest in the academic side of education and establish a sort of aristocracy of learning.

In these days when the tendency is away from the literary side of education, and toward the more technical and practical, it is a pleasure to find one of the great universities taking steps to keep "book" learning in the honorable place which it deserves.

Athletics are not to be neglected, under the Columbia plan, nor the practicalities, but classic education is to be emphasized also as an essential of all well balanced growth.

If it had not been for the men and women who abandoned worldly gain for study, the world would not have advanced much from primitive times. Every industry, every practical trade, every bit of machinery, even the development of athletics and physical culture, has behind it the book student.

Public Forum

ALAS, FOR THE HAPPY OF THEE

We have read with more than ordinary interest the different views expressed in The Times Forum in regard to the "All Night Party."

Had this been "A Slumber Party" and taken in by the "upper crust" of society, we would have seen the item in the society news.

If the society these young people have had to endure is a house of their own, and in other young folks, we feel that the publicity has not been in vain.

We are glad such things are pointed out, and we hope they have never been seen in the least to discriminate. Why should he? The position with our girl and our boy, who are so near to each other, is a very different one. This little episode will put numbers on their card, and God knows no many mothers ever seem to care where their children dress or when they return. "Out of sight, out of mind," that these young folks were not children by any means.

It is the height of folly for young people to think they can carry on an "all night" party. They are not.

We have no patience with those who would seek to make light of the affair and give the girl hand with a good blessing.

November 11 is an abolition in the Lord's sight to uphold the wicked, whether you live in the west or east, to be a narrow hide-bound easterner. We too love the west, but we have with us the devil, but we compromise with sin and the devil.

The church has a perfect right to condemn sin in the world, and to show their indignation and follow the ways of the world. How we wish our young men could be "knights" instead of the true knights in the west and only protects our dear girls from others, but from himself as well.

Yet the real world man and woman can save the young man, and while the parents are sorrowing and wondering what of the future for their little ones.

We notice that most of the writers on this subject have used the same passage of Scripture to prove their cause. Look further at this text please, for you will not find an exact first verse. "This part of the text repeats those men, justly so, and they stick away. But what of the rest of the text which minister and man failed to give. "Neither do I condemn thee. Go all sin no more."

Notice that this part of the text was said with more emphasis than the other, and by the way this part is always left out by the would-be hypocrites.

To my mind this is the most important part of the Scripture. "Sin no more, lest a worse thing come upon thee." Christ did not want the woman in his presence and she like the others slinks away. Purgatory and hell, condemned. Yet, for Christ came not into the world to condemn the world, but that the world might be saved through him. Yet he condemned sin in the world and his followers are to do the same. This

NEWBERRY TRIAL TO PROCEED

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 12.—The government today waived its privilege of cross examining Paul H. King, star witness for the defense in the Newberry-Verne fraud and conspiracy trial.

This means that the testimony of King before his dramatic collapse in court yesterday will be allowed to stand final that the trial will proceed to a conclusion. Brief rebuttal testimony will be offered by the government later today, and arguments which will close the case and place the fate of Senator Newberry and his 34 co-defendants in the hands of the jury will be heard Monday.

TAKE OVER OIL PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON, March 12.—A movement has been started for the government to take over the entire oil production of the Osage Indian nation in Oklahoma. ### LONGSHOREMEN ON STRIKE

NEW YORK, March 12.—It is estimated that the dock strike called in New York will affect between 5,000 and 7,000 men. Should the strike become general along the Atlantic coast several thousand more would be involved.

The longshoremen are demanding a wage scale of $1 per hour with $2.50 per hour for overtime. They are now paid 65 cents per hour for a basic 4-hour day and $1 per hour for overtime. The demands of the checkers are for a reduction of the working week from 48 to 44 hours and an increase in weekly pay from $25 to $30.00.

At present 50 workers affiliated with the marine unions are involved but it is understood 500 union harbor workers have demanded that the railroads take action on their request for a 30 per cent wage increase by Monday. If the railroads do not agree to a conference with wages before the end of next week leaders of the marine workers said today, without dockmen, captains and pilots also will go on a strike.

T. V. O'Connor, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, was asked by local officials to come to New York and take charge of the strike.

RUTH TELLS SECRET OF BATTING

Home Run King Says "Keep Your Eye on the Ball"

New York Yankee's Newly Acquired Pitcher and Outfielder Tries to Follow Advice Given Him by Veteran Player.

"Keep your eye on the ball!" sounds a little like the advice of a leading manufacturer of home runs, who was speaking about baseball. Babe, who was recently purchased by the New York Yankees from the Boston Red Sox, doesn't do much batting off the field. He doesn't believe in trying to see how his hits with his club, but every once in a while he can be persuaded to go to bat in the controversial league, and when he does he generally strikes a couple of virtuous home runs.

Naturally, the all-important question for Babe to answer is "What is the secret of successful batting?" It was to reply that Ruth unhesitatingly answered:

"When a pitcher is preparing to deliver a ball try to guess what he intends to throw, a curve or a fast one," continued Ruth, "but just because you have made up your mind he is going to throw a curve do not be too sure of it. Always remember the pitcher is also trying to outguess the batter. That is part of a pitcher's work. Once he releases the ball never take your eye off it. If you do you are gone. Watch it all the way. Watch it as it breaks and watch it as you curve your swing. The batter watches the ball only part of the way in its flight to the plate which becomes a good hitter, for if the pitcher is throwing a curve it seldom breaks until it is within a few feet of the plate. It is almost impossible to tell whether a thrown ball is going to curve until the actual break occurs. For this reason it is necessary for a batter never to take his eye off the ball.

"What I was a youngster just beginning to play any kind of ball baseball a veteran player impressed upon me the necessity of keeping my eye on the ball, and I have never forgotten it. It has become second nature with me, and yet I never step to the plate that the warning 'Keep your eye on the ball' does not flash through my mind.

"Next to keeping his eye on the ball a batter must learn to hit with a freer and easy swing. Getting started quickly toward first base is something that distinguishes a good batter. A loose hit has been lost by a slow start from the plate and many a base hit has been made by getting away quick.

"There are many more things about batting, but these are the chief things to remember and practice."

How to Keep Baby Smiling and Well

See that the daily functions are regular and normal

YOU can't expect the little one to be happy and playful when the food, food and the stomach interfere. The normal habit of children is to be happy and when you notice them cross and fretful you will usually find constipation is responsible.

Perhaps they have missed that daily function so necessary to comfort and health. Look at the "teeth" and see if the little one is not. Watch for belching. These are the tell-tale symptoms of constipation. Tonight, give a little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which you can buy at any drug store, and it will set in the morning and the troublesome symptoms promptly disappear.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. Unlike the harsher purgatives it acts without griping so that while growing up can use it freely it can also be given to a baby with perfect safety. Thousands of American families would not think of being without a bottle in the house for the emergency price almost daily when it is needed.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington St., Mendocino, Illinois.

A. G. Meek & Sons of Homestead, Idaho, who recently shipped a carload of stallions and jacks to Twin Falls report several sales. Mr. Walter, who recently located here from Iowa (the home of the good horse) has purchased a Percheron and Shire stallions. These are two wonderful stallions; the Percheron a big tom horse with plenty of bone, a good movement and more quality than the average horse; the Shire is a grand stallion on the same line.

Mr. Walter believes that the good horse is a money-maker and will gladly take the time to raise the carrier of former cowboys, all of whom will be located on the Walter farm in the valley of the Snake. The public is cordially invited to inspect these stallions at any time.

VENEREAL DISEASES and MARRIAGE

When do you realize that venereal diseases are the most widespread of all the venereal diseases and the future welfare of this as well as of the generation to come, will depend upon the efforts made to eradicate these as to the far-reaching, harmful, effects of these diseases on mankind. The carelessness of the man or woman who contracts these diseases should receive more than passing notice. The thought should be for those with whom they live and associate. The next step is to consult a competent physician; one who is qualified in the treatment of these disorders; one who gives a thorough examination by the aid of all microscopical and blood examinations. However, one who will not rest his patient by merely administering drugs but one who will give personal treatment and attention throughout the course of the disease, not dismissing his patient until repeated examinations by microscope and examination of the blood have proven the disease eliminated.

An syphilis is extended to call on you if you are suffering with any venereal disease or complications. You may feel assured that you will be given every care and consideration from the beginning of the treatment until you are well.

Many inquiries are received in regard to home treatment. We wish to state that we do not, nor have we in the several years have not been, damaged or treated anyone without first having a thorough examination at our offices.

We dispense our own medicines. Consultation free.
