Insurgents Claim Move Will Spread--Situation Rapidly Becoming Acute

Chicago's Industries Face Shut Down and Food Famine Imminent--Other Cities Are Now Affected by Rail Walkout

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The senate interstate commerce committee would be directed to begin an investigation into "any existing strike of interstate railroad employees not authorized by any recognized organization of railroad employees," under a resolution to be introduced by Senator McCormick of Illinois this afternoon.

CHICAGO, April 8.—The menace of a national railroad strike grew more threatening than ever today.

Defying President Wilson by declaring that they would spurn his proposal for the appointment of a wage board to settle their differences with their employers, Chicago's striking railroad workers announced that they would not return to work until their demands have been complied with, regardless of the consequences to industry and the general public.

In the meantime, the strike continued to spread to other cities. More than 5000 men walked out at Kansas City, Los Angeles, Toledo and Fort Wayne. In St. Louis the railroad workers held another meeting to determine whether they would join the strike, and at Milwaukee agitators continued to urge the men to go out.

At Fort Wayne a class of railroad workers new to the strike, the railroad shopmen, went out. This was regarded by the strikers as the first move in an attempt to induce 400,000 of the shopmen throughout the country to join the strike.

Hour by hour the situation grew more serious in Chicago. Not only did the strikers declare their intention of making a finish fight of it, in defiance of the government and their own brotherhood chiefs, but 6500 of them—switchmen, engineers and firemen—seceded from the brotherhoods to which they belonged and joined the new "outlaw" union responsible for the strike, the Yarden's Association of America.

The transfer from one organization to the other was accomplished by the strikers on mass, as each local went over, except the charter given it by the Brotherhood, the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung, and Stripes unfurled over the new charters of the Yarden's Association.

While this was going on, a number of clerks employed in the various railroad offices, members of the Railway Clerks' union, went out on strike, and it is believed they would join the strike unless their wages are raised immediately.

Thus far the burning of several freight cars has been the only violence traced as due to the strike. The police are investigating a riot at St. Louis, where two men were killed and a third had both legs broken.

At least 100,000 men in Chicago and nearby cities have been thrown out of their jobs because of the closing down of industries as the result of the strike, and their number will be augmented by thousands each day, as the strike continues.

TIMES ISSUES TODAY WITH FOUR SECTIONS, 28 PAGES MAKING NEW RECORD HERE

Today's issue of the Times, forming a fourth section of twenty-eight pages, sets a new Twin Falls record. The circulation not only represents a notable mechanical feat for a city of this size, but also testifies to the demand for 'Times' circulation by a result there.

Every one of the twenty-eight pages contains interesting material. The 'Times' edition will be found a wealth of news of the shops and stores, and of the many profitable opportunities which are being played public. The Times is glad to report that good advertising is being done in today's issue in proportion to the number of pages.

Another addition to the strike was reported from Champaign, Ill., where 150 switchmen employed by the Illinois Central and the Four railroads went out on strike, completely paralyzing operation in the freight yards.

Washington took a hand in the strike by sending 'Assistant' Commissioner of the United States Department of Justice to investigate here. He is expected merely to investigate the situation and report to the president and congress without making any effort to settle the strike, however.

That the railroads cannot pay the wages increases demanded by strikers was the main part of a statement made by Judge C. A. Proctor, director of valuation of the interstate commerce commission. He said that all provisions of wage control which have been passed on by the wage board provided for in the Buchanan bill, if they were not yet been appointed, and termed the strike as hopeless.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 8.—Four hundred switchmen employed on nine of thirteen railroads entering Kansas City today went out on strike. The operations in the yards of the affected roads virtually are at a standstill.

The roads so far affected are the Santa Fe, Burlington, Chicago and Great Western, Chicago & Alton, St. Louis and San Francisco, Kansas City Southern, Kansas City, Tex. and Missouri Pacific and Washakie.

No definite information as to whether the strike was obtained from the union leaders by the committee. However, it was that the Chicago strike, and also a move either to increase wages or reduced cost of living.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—President Wilson may appoint a railroad labor board, provided for by the Cummins-Buch bill, within 24 hours in an effort to relieve the Chicago strike situation. It was stated at the White House today.

Strong pressure is being brought upon the president for quick action in this matter of affording a possible means of settling the strike which is described as serious.

Another addition to the strike was reported from Champaign, Ill., where 150 switchmen employed by the Illinois Central and the Four railroads went out on strike, completely paralyzing operation in the freight yards.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Senator James W. Wadsworth, chairman of the senate military affairs committee, this afternoon revealed the defeat of the compulsory military training plan which he announced he would propose including the volunteer system.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Defeat of the compulsory military training provision of the Wadsworth army reorganization bill was predicted this afternoon by its opponents when the senate resumed consideration of the measure.

A poll of the senate today by Senator McClellan of Tennessee, leader of the opposition on the Democratic side, showed that at least 40 Democrats and 14 Republicans would vote against the proposition.

CARNOTTE IS PLENTIFUL IN THE WEST

State Geologist Says Colorado Has Enormous Quantities of Precious Ore

DENVER, April 8.—That there are enormous quantities of precious metal sufficient to triple the world's present supply in Colorado is the statement of Professor H. D. George, state geologist, who has just completed a geological survey of Colorado.

The Colorado beds of Carnotite, which are scattered in the western part of the state, and according to Professor George, they are "by far the most valuable source of uranium that has been discovered in the world."

"Lack of transportation is what hinders in making these great deposits available to the world," declared Professor George. "I think that we know how to get uranium in quantities far beyond what we are presently extracting. The same is true of other types of uranium, which we are not so positive as to the quantity."

Mississippi Is Flooding Farms on Iowa's Bank

MUSCATINE, Ia., April 8.—With more than 25,000 acres of farm lands covered by the rising water of the Mississippi, the result of the heavy rains in the north and south of Muscatine, hundreds of refugees flooded into Muscatine today, by empty available road.

Every available man is engaged in strengthening the levees along Muscatine. Should these give way, the city would be flooded. The river continues to rise slowly. Several thousand persons in the town of Muscatine are preparing to abandon their homes.

A bulletin from the Treasury department received from the local Red Cross chapter states that the period of congestion, resulting from the big volume of work suddenly thrown up by the mobilization of armaments during the past year, is virtually at an end. It further states that former service men are assured that they will be called upon for positions which will be sent to them within a few days from the date of the original receipt of the remittance. Also detailed list of appointments will be given to those who have been selected.

RETURNERS STILL COMING DETROIT, April 8.—Returns from the rural district on Monday's primary continue to come in slowly and not over 1,750, a prediction of 2,421 repeating the vote gave Senator Hiram Johnson a lead of 45,000 over Major General Wood.

PAISH REPORTS BRITAIN NEEDS U. S. GOOD WILL

Billion Dollar Reconstruction Fund Depends on How This Country Feels

WASHINGTON, April 8.—In Sir George Paish's report to the British government proposing the creation of a "reconstruction fund" of a billion dollars in the United States for the reconstruction of Europe, three things are mentioned as essential to the success of the scheme:

- 1.—The co-operation of the American government.
- 2.—The co-operation of the American congress.
- 3.—The good-will of the American people.

The first of these Sir George expressed himself as believing absolutely essential. The second and third, however, seemed to him to present no serious difficulties, but which might be overcome if the nations of Europe would go about it in the right way. And, in his opinion, the best way is for the old world to stand by the principles for which the war was fought.

The granting of "a generous measure of home rule for Ireland," is one of the suggestions he made to the United States.

"The entire cooperation," he said, "of the United States in the reconstruction of Europe is essential to the latter but the spirit of the fourteenth century. Great Britain in particular should stand firmly and strongly for the principles for which the war was fought and upon which the peace was supposed to be based."

"Probably the grant of a generous measure of home rule in Ireland, without further delay, would do much to increase in the United States the sympathy of the British people. But one such would be ineffective."

"Sir George made it plain in his report that nothing short of a real application of the 'principles upon which the peace was supposed to be based' would have the desired effect of keeping the United States interested in Europe."

"The active assistance of the American government and congress is absolutely essential," Paish reported, "and every reasonable measure must be taken by the people and congress to secure to the United States the right to be heard in the reconstruction of Europe."

"While he declared he had been given 'assurance from the highest sources that official and financial America will co-operate to put the billion dollar league of nations revolving fund plan through,' in the opinion of the British financier, something more is needed."

"Indeed," he declared, "an atmosphere must be created in America which will be even more enthusiastic than was the atmosphere of enthusiasm created there during the war, and

FROM THE PRESS BOX JUG

Boxing as an indoor sport has been falling out of favor in this country. It was a fact, even when the sport with little girls present, and the fact that the program was rich with action but a pleasant taste in the mouth of the fans. A good boxing program was added to the attraction which is being exposed in sport circles today.

There were no high bids, taking part in the triple-fights last night. Although Bill Woodhead, the local man, was manhandled by his youthful, but heavy opponent, Nelson of Boise, their twelve rounds were full of hand-to-hand action. Nelson's superior class was evident when the judges disagreed on the decision at the finish, they were considered superior. Referee Muser of Elmer gave the decision to Nelson with popular approval. Woodhead put up a game scrap but was unable to jar Nelson with his punches. It must be the rounds he was out for but still within the limit of the rules.

The preliminaries continued plenty of them to the evening also. Alexander of Twin Falls, retired local reputation, somewhat in gaining a Tom punch decision over Harold Gray, a USA boxer. In the second round of the semi final bout, Kid Pierce struck a smashing blow with his jaw against the chest of Walfingford Walford, the Bull Terrier. The kid took slight injury in the neck and the arm which followed. He was returning to the hospital afterward.

The Legionnaires were present in force and observed the canisters with impartial interest. They were well pleased with the card and with reason. Last night's program indicated a popular career for the Twin Falls Athletic club. It is something we have needed for a long time.

It is much more difficult to find money in peace than in war. It is a fact that we are not getting it as fast as we need it.

Senator Weeks' plan, which is being considered by the House, is a plan to raise money in peace time by selling the surplus of the government.

FRENCH COOKS NOW CALLED COUSINS

Relationship Claimed to Evade Law Which Taxes Domestic Luxuries

By NEWTON G. PARKER, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, April 8.—"Marie" said a typical middle-class French woman to cook this morning. "You are no longer my servant. You are my cousin."

Substitution of the name of the cuisiniere, who did not understand a bit of what she considered a new kind of joke. But it was to evoke. It was simply a sample of what is happening in abundance of French families where every son counts just now. It is the return of the thrifty French housewife to the now municipal law which imposes a tax of from 40 to 400 francs a year on families who hitherto have been able to afford the luxury of one or more servants.

Housewives who will have their homes and their children and their families dependent on their own resources, but not as servants. They will be cousins, or maiden aunts, or poor relations, and the tax does not affect them.

Placing that the possession of a piano brings a tax of 30 francs a year and that the purchase of a new automobile is taxed at 100 francs a year. The tax on servants and other domestic help is expected to bring in about 160,000,000 francs, if the municipal government can find a way to prevent those who object to it from creating new exemptions.

The tax on servants is due to the imagination of M. Laguerre, one of the members of the bank of France, who is in authority on financial questions. As formulated by him and accepted at the last meeting of the municipal council, the tax will be applied as follows:

- Women Men
 - 1 servant 40 francs 80 francs
 - 2 servants 80 francs 160 francs
 - 3 servants 120 francs 240 francs
 - 4 servants 160 francs 320 francs
 - 5 servants 200 francs 400 francs
- In cases where there is one or more servants, the municipal government is expected to bring in about 160,000,000 francs, if the municipal government can find a way to prevent those who object to it from creating new exemptions.

CONSPIRACY RUSSIANS

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Conspiracy by draft of all labor in Russia has been the subject of a sensational statement at Moscow, the attending to wireless messages to the state department, which originated at the headquarters of the Russian government in Moscow. The draft order was issued on February 7. The entire population of Russia is to be registered as a part of universal labor conscription and the people who are capable of work are to be divided among the various trades, the report said.

MANY "REDS" TO FACE TRIAL FOR CONSPIRACY IN CHICAGO

By GHILIAN PARKER, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Continuation of the trial of the alleged conspirators in the United States or substitution of the red flag and the blood-stained dictatorship of Lenin and Trotsky—the main theme of the trial of the nation to be held here, the trial of 174 members of the Communist party, the Communist Labor party and the I. W. W.

All are charged, according to the indictments against them, with having conspired to overthrow the government of the United States.

But the evidence against them will go even deeper, than that. It will prove, says the prosecution attorneys, that the conspiracy was no mere spreading of "parlor bolshevism," no flare-up campaign of soap box oratory, no pamphleteering of "little-bit" generalities from Greenwich Village. It was a plan to overthrow the government of the United States by force, and to establish a dictatorship in the name of Lenin and Trotsky.

Mr. Comerford was selected to direct the prosecution because of his wide knowledge of radical movements in general, gained as a Chicago attorney who once had occasion to defend several of them and because of his long experience as a prosecutor. He is believed to be the best lawyer in Chicago who has charge of all three trials. Mr. Comerford is a member of the Chicago bar and has been a member of the Chicago bar since 1912.

The trial will be followed by that of those that thirty leaders of the Communist Labor party, the present president among them, William Brewster Lloyd, a wealthy Chicago man, who before he became associated with the Communist movement, was known as "the millionaire socialist."

Finally Reach Fiume Agreement

LONDON, April 8.—After months of negotiations the Italian and British governments have reached an agreement has been reached between Italy and Jugoslavia on the disputed Adriatic territory granting Italy sovereignty over the territory.

A dispatch from Rome quotes the following Milan dispatch to the Matin:

"It is learned that Jugoslavia sources that Rome and Belgrade are in agreement to reach an agreement with the government machinery in open contact. All other methods such as revolutionary use of bourgeois parliamentarism, will be of no account."

This phraseology leaves no doubt as to the nature of the agreement.

The exchange telegraph correspondent at Rome telegraphs as follows:

A newspaper at Zara reports that the Italian and British governments have reached an agreement on these terms:

Italy and Albania shall be Italian; Scutari and Susak shall be Jugoslavia.

The British and Jugoslavia are reported to have sanctioned the agreement.

THREE ARE MISSING

PONCA, Okla., April 8.—Mrs. Viola Ammann and two unknown men, were missing as the result of an explosion which wrecked a cafe and rooming house here early today.

The building was destroyed by fire which followed the explosion. Three adjacent buildings were badly damaged by the explosion.

The explosion is believed to have been caused by exploding gas.

The damage is estimated at $25,000.

as to its meaning, according to Mr. Comerford.

"It means that, because of their pledge to the manifesto all these men are now in a position to be able to bring about a bloody revolution in the United States, to overthrow this government and substitute a new government, the so-called 'proletariat' government."

"The prosecution has evidence to show that this was exactly what these defendants were secretly working toward, and further, that Lenin and Trotsky were constantly kept in touch with every move made, if they did not actually direct them."

"It was Lenin and Trotsky who arranged for the trial of the defendants in the guise of a 'trial' of the 'manifesto' published in German. These were revealed by Nicholas H. Hovvay, the editor of Navy Star, a Russian paper published in New York, and Isaac E. Ferguson, chief counsel for the Communist party."

"Hovvay, who has since admitted Trotsky as a reporter on his paper, published in Ferguson in having the 'manifesto' translated into English. It was then published as a booklet by the Arbeiter Zeitung, a German newspaper in Chicago, and distributed in that city."

"Chicago was chosen by Lenin and Trotsky as the center for the spreading of bolshevism in the United States—the point for marshaling their American forces under the red flag and sending them out when the time should arrive for their revolution against the government. The home of the 'Big Boy' and the headquarters for many radical movements, what more natural than that two active dictators of Soviet Russia should set this city as the scene for their deep laid plot?"

"The first group to be tried, with the trial opening tentatively set for the 15th of April, are the leaders of the Communist party. Prominent among them are Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes, Nicholas L. Hourwich, Isaac E. Ferguson, and other members of the Communist party, including the Chicago group, Alexander Stokolsky of Mexico City. All are members of the organization's national executive committee. These are the thirty-five defendants in this trial."

The trial will be followed by that of those that thirty leaders of the Communist Labor party, the present president among them, William Brewster Lloyd, a wealthy Chicago man, who before he became associated with the Communist movement, was known as "the millionaire socialist."

The last group to be tried will be the thirty-five defendants in this trial, including their commander-in-chief, the 'Big Boy' Haywood.

THE HAPSBURG AGAIN?

Proffer of the throne of Hungary to former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary, by Admiral Horthy at the last of the so-called National Assembly, leads to the pertinent query: What do they think the allies meant when they declared against the restoration of the Hapsburg monarchy? Surely the reactionaries comprising the National Assembly must know that the allied nations cannot recognize a Hapsburg, on any throne, unless it is assumed that the guarantees already given the liberated peoples who formerly suffered under that hateful regime are mere scraps of paper, dishonestly signed.

The National Assembly that makes this offer to Charles holds no mandate from the people of Hungary, anyway. It was elected by dint of imprisoning and interfering the opposition forces, the followers of Count Karolyi and others who sought to found a republic in Hungary. Under cover of alleged persecution of Bohobists, popular frenzy was worked up, Jewish people being slung and imprisoned to provide the campaign with the semblance of reality and to disengage the mind of the people from what was really going on.

Hungary may really want to be a monarchy, but a Hapsburg revival would simply prove that the war was fought and won for nothing at all.

SCHOOLS AND BUSINESS

The Chicago Collegiate Bureau of Occupations, in its report for last year, said there had been a shortage of women workers for business offices.

"This does not mean," the report added, "that employers will take women with inadequate training, or women who do not intend to take their work seriously. Employers are more keen than ever for thoroughly trained women, with college education, special technical equipment and a business like attitude." Evidently most business men seek to maintain high standards of office efficiency in spite of the shortage of helpers. They are willing to pay for the kind of skill they need.

There is, in every community in the land, a shortage of teachers. But the public, the employer of teachers, has not yet aroused itself to the seriousness of the situation. The public is accepting as teachers men and women who are inexperienced, ill prepared, untrained and poorly qualified as to character and temperament. The public, it appears, is not willing to pay for the skill it requires in its teaching force.

Are the schools of so much less importance in the community than business enterprises?

Senator Harding of Ohio, Republican candidate for the presidency, told an audience recently: "My $4.65 hat is in the time to stay!"

Loud Chorus: "Where did you get that hat?"

There is said to be a goose in Portsmouth, O., that is 92 years old and is still laying eggs. Nobody but a goose would keep on working at that age.

An orchestra leader says it takes real art to play jazz music. He says, but does it take jazz music to make real art?

MRS. ROBBINS IN POLITICS TO AID WOMEN

WASHINGTON, April 8. Politics vitally concern working women. That is the chief reason for the interest Mrs. Raymond Robbins, of Chicago, has in politics.

As a leader of activities of women of the Republican party Mrs. Robbins believes that she can combine the many years of service she has to her credit in the interests of working women.

Already Mrs. Robbins is an international figure among working women and she promises to become a great force among women in politics. For many years this Chicago woman has it in mind that many of the women in politics had from Chicago, has used her energies in behalf of women who toil. She has been president of the National Trade Women's League of America, founder of the Women's Municipal League of New York, and a member of the executive board of the Chicago Federation of Labor.

As a member Mrs. Robbins is known even to college professors, which is a fact worthy of mention. Her husband has been a member of the public eye for some time, and she now bids fair to make him strive to maintain his end of the family team. Mrs. Robbins was an industrial worker and did much in organization and practice the women and girls who became such a great factor in the progress of the world when they were called to the "front." She was a member of the vast committee of the National Y. W. C. A. and a leader in the Illinois division of the league.

In her political activities, in the interests of the Republican party, Mrs. Robbins has for her foremost goal the welfare of the working women, who she wishes to see at the helm. She has been chosen for a high place in the Republican ranks. Her activity in the political activity of the day.

JERSEY BIDS FOR BIG BOUT

Increase in Limit of Hours Is Favorable to Chances for Dempsey-Carpenter Go

NEW YORK, April 8. With the limitation of twelve round boxing bouts practically assured in New Jersey, the "Dempsey-Carpenter" match up today as the probable title of the proposed Dempsey-Carpenter contest if it is staged in this country.

An amendment to the Jersey boxing law increasing the limit of bouts from 8 to 12 rounds has passed both houses of the state legislature at Trenton and Governor Edwards is expected to sign it within a few days.

New York's chances of landing the big fight plan has apparently been swept away as the Walker bill, calling for 15 rounds, has been introduced in the assembly rules committee. The Walker bill was supported by the army, navy and civilian board of boxing control and the International Sporting club, which has held the inside track in the race for the Dempsey-Carpenter match up to now. The heavy financial underpinning in the planning of a bout between Jack Dempsey and Carpenter makes it imperative that the contest be staged near one of the great centers of population and Newark or Jersey City, considering their close proximity to New York, would appear to be ideal spots for the big fight, which 12 rounds would be enough to satisfy.

MANURING IN COLD WEATHER

Particularly Advisable to Make Application in Winter, Says Purdue University.

The Purdue university extension department particularly advises application of manure in winter when it contains a great amount of straw and undecomposed matter. The loss of plant food because of the leaching of the manure will be offset by the advantage of winter application. As far as possible cover manures should be applied to the heavier clay soils, since these will respond in fertility and will be made more mellow and porous.

BOISE MATMEN ARE NO MATCH FOR LOCALS

Twin Falls Lads Throw Five of Six Boise Wrestlers at Boise Tourney

(By Oh Henry)

By throwing 5 out of a possible 6 Boise wrestlers at the Capital City Monday night the Twin Falls mat men met with a smashing success with the evening's matches, overpowered with glory, won the full praise of the local mat men and their appreciation is fully sustained their reputation established at the first tournament here, several weeks ago.

According to Coach J. I. Robey of the local squad, to whom great credit is due for the splendid showing of the Pacific City boys, his men went into the ring with blood in their eyes and, although the bouts were more evenly contested than the one which would indicate, they by no means found their match and had no great trouble in winning. The mat men of the Twin Falls were the largest crowd that ever thronged the home high school gymnasium.

The Boise lads were in better condition than when here and gave a better account of themselves to match, which they did without a struggle although properly equipped Twin Falls men were superior to his opponent.

The first match staged was between McEats of Twin Falls, weight 141½, and McCool of Boise, 141½, this setting the record in a double victory for the Boise man, he being unable to throw McEats. According to Mr. Robey, McEats is a terrific wrestler, but a good account of himself, following his unusual custom of taking the defensive most of the contest.

The second match was between Hodge of Twin Falls, weight 137, and Penno of Boise, 147, in the second period of the bout, the total time being 11 minutes and 45 seconds. Hodge was one of the most brilliant mat demonstrations of the evening, his cleverness, aggressiveness and all round ability being highly appreciated by the critics.

Jake Irwin and Lloyd Garrison, both Boise men, were taken to Boise but did not wrestle because suitable opponents could not be found for them. At the journey here, Irwin and Garrison threw his man and he was one of the best of the Twin team.

Signs Dempsey to Fight July Fifth at Benton Harbor

CHICAGO, April 8.—Jack Dempsey is going to return to the ring, and defend his title on July 5 at Benton Harbor, Mich. against the best heavy weight obtainable. Fred Fulton, Will McLean, Billy Mike, Bill Brennan and Tony Melchior are the men from whom his opponent will be picked. Jack has accepted the date and only an accident ending of his trial can prevent the match going through. In the event the government holds this over, Benny Leonard and Little Mike will fight on the date.

This was the first fight to be fought by Floyd Fitzsimmons, promoter of Benton Harbor, Mich. Floyd has just returned from Los Angeles where, he is reported, Dempsey is eager to defend his title, eager to get back into the ring. He said, according to Fitzsimmons, that he would like to fight than pick up the easy money of the week.

Fitzsimmons, who has been staying in Benton Harbor for the past ten years, already has the permission of the Michigan state boxing commission for the staging of either ten matches and also has the assistance and co-operation of the city and county officials. It is his plan to hold the match along with a fight at Benton Harbor, and it is estimated that the crowd could number 10,000 people. A good July Fourth celebration is planned for the night of the fight, and it is expected that it will draw from six or seven states in the area.

VALUE OF OLYMPIC GAMES

LONDON, April 8.—Are the Olympic games worth while? Do they engender the proper international feeling? Are they "beneficial"? Are they properly "regulated"?

These pertinent questions regarding the Olympics are rapidly discussed by the British former president of the Cambridge University Athletic Club and an extract in the Olympic magazine published in 1912. In a recent interview Mr. Baker said: "Preparations for the revived Olympic games to be held at Antwerp next summer are being made by the Olympic committee, but I have no doubt that the necessary support for British athletes will be given by the British Olympic committee."

"So far as the past is concerned, there are three main repeated arguments in regard to them. Personally, I am in favor of them, but they have been immensely worth while and that in the future they may become an international festival of the highest significance."

"The third argument is that the games are organized and carried out in a manner inconsistent with amateur ideals. I would ask for just one specific example of what they mean. I am confident they could not give one from the Stockholm games, and I am sure that, if you were to inquire into the matter, it would be found to be the same on the other side."

PROSPECTS FOR THE WOOL MARKET SEEN BY COLEMAN

"I've met many a hard-bullied guy in my day," said Jim Humphreys the "bor night," but the champ nickel runner of all is from Danbury, Conn. This guy wanted to run the fight and came down to New York to see about the match. I met him with Joe Mitchell, the Danbury fighter, and we got on a street car to ride uptown. Noted Racetrack to Be Demolished

By JACK WICKOFF
NEW YORK, April 8.—The noted racetrack built some 35 years ago by the Brooklyn Jockey club, is to be a memory today.

The noted racetrack in which the noted Dwyer brothers, Philip J. and Michael P., were the principal stockholders, is to be demolished. The property was sold recently by the Brooklyn Jockey club for $25,000.

Gravesend was the last of three former tracks in Kings county, N. Y., which were closed after the expiry of the "Purdy-Grey" law and the subsequent administration of Governor Hughes. The other two were Brighton Beach and Sheepshead Bay. The ground on which the latter track stood was occupied until recently by the Sheepshead Bay Automobile Speedway, but the rest of the remaining property was too great and the Harkness estate sold it, after which the ground was sold and another stand was erected.

Many thrilling races were run over the old Gravesend course. One of the most notable was the Brooklyn Handicap of 1887, in which Dry Monopole, Dry Wing and Hildago were entered. Dry Monopole won this race by a nose after one of the greatest of grandstand finishes, the three horses coming in the home stretch almost of each other in a driving finish.

It was at the old Gravesend track that Miles-Three became known as one of the greatest players in the history of the American turf. On one occasion he scored $50,000 on his horse Kingston to win a race and stood to win but $1,000. "He lost the wager. When he did Mike Dwyer was probably broken, but his brother, Philip, who never let himself be a poor fortune. Before they became interested in racing the Dwyer brothers used to run a butcher shop in Brooklyn. The majority of Gravesend recall the really golden days of the turf in New York when the bookies piled their trade without interference and the crowds of as many as 45,000 people frequently swamped the betting rings.

TAD'S TID BITS

The greatest, fighter He Ever Saw Say: "Appropos of your 'greatest fighter I ever saw' discussion, allow me, as a reader of your column, to stick my neck into the proceedings of a bird whom I consider the greatest thing that ever flitted to the mathematical eloquence of any third guy in the ring."

It was at one of the clubs around New York, where I live, that my Champ was discovered. He was a husky and better, if ever we were, and one night was put on in one of the prelims of the club's show. The first of the club's society show, it was customary to hold dances at this club on other nights, and as some sort of a masked ball had been held a few nights previous, someone discovered a world-famous false face in the dressing room. Intent on giving the boys out a laugh, the guy who made the front boys suggested to my Champ that it would be a good idea to wear the mask into the ring to land the fans a laugh and, thereby become a popular one.

My Champ went out—colder than a landlord's heart. This departed from pugilistic excellence "Falsa Pace." Doyle, the greatest fighter I ever saw. Yours truly, JACOB BLANKEN.

In manufacturing, for instance, examples are the joining together of the metal parts of automobile bodies, railroad coaches and Pullman cars, funnels and stoves, oil pipe lines, gas and water mains, metal furniture, and even cooking utensils. Perhaps most important of all, in the construction of steel ships without rivets. Such ships are already afloat and successful; more than 240 hours were saved in the construction of the first one welded, and an economy of metal was effected by the absence of such rivets. Riveting has been the most costly item of structural work at shipyards. It has been estimated that the labor cost of riveting is 40 per cent of the total labor cost of building the structure of a steel cargo carrier.

In repair work and salvaging, the oxygen torch performs a service as notable as it does in manufacturing.

For instance, in an automobile shop for welding broken crank cases, cracked frames and frozen cylinder blocks. In machine shops, for all kinds of repairing and reclaiming. On farms for welding broken parts of tractors and farm machinery on the spot.

FRANCE'S GIFT TO AMERICA WEE CONSIDERED AS 'AMERICA'S GIFT TO FRANCE'

This little Miss America toddled far to the United States Sub-treasury in New York to exchange a nickel for five bright pennies to contribute to America's gift to France. Her enthusiasm won her a visit to the coin room of Uncle Sam's strong-box, where she is shown surrounded by approximately $250,000 worth of coin, the estimated cost of the Marne memorial.

The wealthiest funders of the statue will step aside for the young philanthropists of the garden and public schools in America, who, during the days from March 22 to March 27, the young stars of the nation will provide the greater part of a fund for one of the world's colossal masterpieces. KLEM COACHES PITCHERS ON NEW RULES

Veteran Umpire Visits Training Camps to Explain Changes in Playing Code

By JACK VERHOEF, (International News-Sports Editor) NEW YORK, April 8.—John Klem, all-rounder, made a long drive when he left Chicago for the National League training camps to announce the new rules.

He is a former pitcher. He knows the habits of players and their ways by heart. In fact, he can say it backward. And he foresees that which the pitchers were given the longest of long drives regarding what will be expected of them when the season opens. There would be plenty of trouble for the umpires.

So Bill Klem was sent to the National League's official headquarters of new rules, which took effect on April 1, and when the National's 1929 campaign gets under way, all the part of the matter will be quite out of order.

The National League intends to stick to the new rules. From the start, there will be no infraction, not if Klem and his competent staff of umpires can help it, and the pitcher who stands on the mound will hope the ball will find its way back to the pitcher's hand.

The pitcher also will be on through the coming season. After that, he will be out of all the trouble in the professional world, unless the day comes when he can't get any more out of his arm. It has been pointed out by some baseball writers that the pitchers probably will attempt to substitute the "clean ball" for the "iron ball" as far as the National League is concerned. They will not get away with it.

"There will be no ball pitched in our league," said President Klem. If the pitchers entertain the idea that any such thing will be tolerated, they had best get rid of it. Our umpires will start the season with instructions covering the most possible emergencies of this kind and the National League will back up their action to the hilt.

It may sometimes be difficult for an umpire to determine whether a pitcher is trying to give a batsman a new ball or whether his inaccuracy in pitching is due to poor control. But any time a pitcher takes the ball at the bat, a new ball there will be no question. It is trying to do it, I am sure that a fine and an indefinite suspension would soon eradicate any such practice.

Klem's tone of the camps calls for a visit to every National League training camp with the exception of Fenway Park, where the Cubs hold their camp. Klem will have a conference with the club members in Chicago prior to the opening of the season.

There is much speculation among baseball fans throughout the country regarding what effect the new pitching rule will have on hitting. Many baseball fans are inclined to believe that the abolition of the "frank" will result in increased hitting, and that the batsman will be confident in himself if the one who gets the most hits and the best of the "frank" should find him confident.

CRUSADE OF DEPORTATION IN COLLAPSE

Communists Still Among Us in Spite of Grand Stand Flourishes

NEW YORK, April 8.—The department of justice campaign launched last January on the communist party in America, with the express purpose of deporting every possible number, has practically collapsed without achieving its goal.

There has not been a single communist deported to date and immigration officials frankly declare that there is not any possibility of general deportations within three months, admitted maybe not at all. The efforts of the Division and of those communists arrested in the operation have been fruitless, have been released under bonds, because they were freed, while a waiting list is held at various immigration stations pending conclusion of their hearings.

There likewise will be no "Hofstad" or "Soviet Ark" as the effort by the government to proceed easily and untroubled. If there are any, will be made only after a hearing has been officially opened to Russia and other officials.

N. D. VOTERS PASS FOUR AMENDMENTS

League Took No Part in the Presidential Primaries—Johnson Won

FARGO, N. D., April 8.—Four constitutional amendments submitted by the Non-Partisan League Legislature were ratified by overwhelming popular vote at the North Dakota non-partisan primary election. The amendments provide for a change in the method of electing public officials.

Ballot municipal ownership of public utilities was approved. Also, the age of state court judges was lowered from 70 to 65. The amendments were approved by a vote of 70 to 30.

Look no part in any other matter passed upon at the election. Leading League leaders, however, were credited with credit in supporting the campaign of Hugh Johnson for the Republican presidential nomination, and McE. Hagan for the Democratic presidential nomination. Both Johnson and Hagan were over-achievers and North Dakota delegates to the national convention were elected to vote for these candidates.

PLAN TO WIN AT ANTWERP

Athletes of United States Eager to Repeat Successes at Olympiad

NEW YORK, April 8.—Your Uncle Sam, the greatest athlete in the world, has started active preparations for the seventh revival of the classic Olympic games to be held at Antwerp, Belgium, during the Spring and Summer.

The seventh revival of the games was originally scheduled for Berlin, but the gods of war or Chaos decided that Berlin was no place for the world's athletic club and caused the Kaiser to stomp his toe, whereupon Belgium drew the lot.

But to get back to the subject—Uncle Sam is the champion of champions. Americans held practically every Olympic record until the recent inter-allied games in France. Uncle Sam's boys cleaned up the boards and made it plain to the world our good allies of the fact that the United States is the big brother father of all sports and that the Yank is an athlete, first, and all the time.

And at that the soldier boys who cleaned up the inter-allied games were not, in the athletic sense, the pick of the talent that may be found under the shadow of the Stars and Stripes, though many of them, of course, are true athletes.

The American Olympic Committee, which recently held an important meeting here, has set its maximum in motion and last plans are being worked out by the various officials of National sport-controlling bodies.

There is a special section of the collection of America's very best athletes in every branch of Olympic sport.

The United States has been a competitor in the modern Olympic since their inception in 1896. To date there have been six Olympiads held and all Olympiads the best athletes of the world have competed in a total of 145 events and that of the annual total America has captured ninety-two, almost twice as many as all other nations combined.

There are a few "world's" marks at metric distances that are held by European athletes. These events are seldom competed by Americans. However, and Uncle Sam should fret about metric marks.

"Among the world's records that are not held by the Yanks and there are but few—are the two ten-mile running records held up by Alfred Brierley and the 100-mile record, more than fifteen years ago.

George Goulding, the veteran Canadian walker, and G. E. Larmer, English walker, hold several world's records. Pat O'Connor's broad jump mark of 24 feet 11.24 inches made in Dublin some twenty years ago, still stands, and the javelin record is held by Lemming of Sweden.

Germany, by the way, holds one world's athletic mark. Just before the war, Mäklar, a German, broke that world's figure for 1,000 metres. It is said of good authority that shortly before the signing of the armistice the Germans broke a number of world's running records for one hundred yards to one hundred miles, but these were not officially clocked nor run according to Hoyle, so they don't count.

Uncle Sam not only leads the world in track and field athletics, but in yachting, cycling, swimming, rowing, and billiards, all metric and non-metric. And don't forget the seven classes of boxing, from the class of Jack Dempsey down to the class of the little fellows. American boxing has a long and illustrious record. Little Jimmy Wilde is welcome to and deserving of his fly-weight crown.

In golf and polo the British have something of an edge on the rest of the world just at present, and the Canadian hockey players are a little better, considered somewhat superior to Americans. But your Uncle Sam surely holds his own in the amphibious, alpine, and ball or grabbing mark, and since 1920 fades out unless present limitations go away.

WHO RAISED PRICE OF CABBAGE? GEORGE MC MANUS AND MR. JIGGS

'Sa Fact, Commission Merchant Avers, That Demand Leaps Every Time Cartoon Character Has Banquet on That Delicacy

PREMIER NITTI

An increase of 22 per cent in the price of cabbage, announced by the government for January, may be traced directly to the "Sluggo and Jiggs" comic feature, says a Twin Falls columnist.

"It's a case of psychology, the power of suggestion and the power of advertisement," declared this merchant.

"More than 20,000 persons every night read the 'Times.' Most of them are interested in the doings of Sluggo and Jiggs. In 'Bringing Up Father' and all are in sympathy with Jiggs' fight to get control of his own kitchen on the table. Intentionally or not, ten men get hungry for corned beef or ham and cabbage whenever the subject is mentioned. Did you ever go to the theatre and see a meal served on the stage? Didn't your mouth water for some of the 'beefsteak' or 'old-fashioned' or 'frequently described in such outlets'?"

"It is true, and if one notices it carefully he will know that the day following a chicken or turkey dinner when ham and cabbage is mentioned, the demand for cabbage on the Twin Falls market takes a long jump.

"One may in particular remember when orders for cabbage came in from all sides? Remember couldn't you get a cabbage for less than a 'season.' Accidentally I picked up 'The Times' from the day before, and I found my reason. Jiggs, on that day, had broken away from a flock of high-browed persons, made his way to the kitchen and enjoyed life for a few minutes, seated at a table with the cook, a policeman and a man of ham and cabbage.

"Well, the cabbage looked so good that I ordered my wife to go out to have a mess the next day. Incidentally, I understood my every groceryman in the city was howling for more cabbage.

"If the cost of cabbage goes up, 'win Fall' people can't blame anyone but the 'Times' and the phony book 'Up a Nuthin' Burgers for cabbage.' If he doesn't let up we'll be known as a nation of cabbage eaters."

Plan to Rush the Peace Resolution

WASHINGTON, April 8.—With the treaty revival and restrictive war laws as their main aim, republican house leaders had completed plans for a bill to be introduced in the House of Representatives this week, a joint resolution declaring peace between the United States and Germany.

The bill was introduced by Speaker Gillett and Republican leader Mundt that sentiment for a straight-out peace resolution is strong in the senate that it can be passed with little delay. Close political friends of President Wilson have not approved of the plan and a fight involving the peace habits of the senate may ensue.

The "Times" committee is expected today to make it in order for Congress to carry out the peace treaty.

According to the program outlined by Mundt, the resolution will be submitted to the foreign affairs committee today.

Leaders now have before the republicans a bill to make it in order for Congress to carry out the peace treaty.

This animal has produced a total for the year was $80.97 pounds, and her milk production reached 21,299 pounds, or approximately 10 and one-half tons.

RASPBERRIES, BLACKBERRIES, AND DEWBERRIES

TIME OF PLANTING.—March and April.

Location in the garden.—The plants do well in a cool shady section of the garden. They could be planted next to the fence, or in corners not used for the growing of vegetable crops.

Preparation of soil.—Like strawberries these fruits grow best in well drained, carefully prepared garden soil.

Setting the plants.—The rows should be 4 feet apart, and the plants placed 2 feet apart in the rows. The plants grow readily and would soon crowd out the back of the runner black raspberries and blackberries are planted as follows: The tops of the new canes are cut back to 4 feet. During the early part of the summer black raspberries and blackberries are pruned as follows: The tops of the new canes are cut back 2 inches when the canes are 3 feet high. This is done to make the canes branch. A branched cane will produce more fruit than a straight cane. Since all the new canes will not reach the desired height at the same time, the patch must be gone over more than once. The canes should be thinned out to 6 canes to each plant. Very little pruning is required for dewberries.

Propagating.—Red raspberries and blackberries send up shoots from the horizontal roots. These shoots make new plants and can be transplanted into new rows in the garden. In raspberries, in digging in the plants care should be taken to remove a part of the horizontal root.

Planting.—If the tips of the long canes of black raspberries and dewberries are covered with mellow soil the last of August, they will take root and produce new plants that could be transplanted into rows in the garden the following spring.

Diseases.—These fruits have a number of diseases and insect enemies. These can be partially controlled by cutting out and burning all the old canes and any new ones that are diseased. Spraying with Bordeaux mixture is also practical. The first application should be made when the new canes are 6 inches high. A second and third application should be made at intervals of 10 to 14 days.

Control of garden insects. will tell how to make Bordeaux mixture.

Harvesting.—Berry patches carefully cared for should bear for 10 to 15 years.

PACKERS RAISE FUNDS FOR ILLINOIS LEGION

Swift and Company Agent Solicits $10,000 in Stockyards District

CHICAGO, April 8.—In its issue for March 20, the April 5, official magazine of the Chicago Labor party, makes public a letter by an agent of Swift & Co., listing contributions on other stockyards interests for the American Legion.

In it Nathan B. Higbie, purchasing agent for Swift & Co., says that other stockyard interests voted to raise $10,000 for the Legion in Illinois and holds up as a reason for contributing the use that can be made by the Legion.

The Legion in Illinois may not have been aware that the fund being raised for it had such strings attached, and the letter might not have been so widely distributed if the contributors had been aware of the fact that they were contributing to a fund that would be used to pay the rich packers would get credit for.

THE LETTER IN FULL

The Higbie letter, in full, is as follows:

"Gentlemen: At a meeting held on December 21, 1919, presided over by Mr. Thomas K. Wilson, there were present representatives of the different stockyard interests and it was voted that they contribute $10,000 toward a campaign for funds for the American Legion.

"A national drive is being made for the Legion and the amount asked in Illinois is $100,000. Mr. James H. Ford, chairman of the First National bank, being treasurer of the fund for Illinois.

"The Illinois enrollment in the Legion is comparatively small and the amount is very much less than it should be. We are all interested in the Legion, the results it will obtain, and the ultimate effect in helping to effect radicalism.

"It is very important that we assist in this worthy work and at the meeting I was asked by the chairman to write to the different stockyard interests for their contribution.

"In preparing the amount, it was suggested that we use an arbitrary percentage as a basis and the amount you are asked to contribute is $100.

"Will you please make check for this amount payable to Mr. Thomas K. Wilson, Chairman."

"Kindly send me copy of your letter to Mr. Wilson.

"VERY TRULY YOURS,"

PAINTS VIENNA FORLORN CITY

Polish Artist Tells of Misery, Especially Among Middle Classes.

FOOD OUT OF THEIR REACH

Workers Make Apparently Huge Amounts, but Are Obligated to Spend It All on Their Living—Children Suffer Most.

New York.—Nicol Schatenstein, a Polish portrait painter, who has just arrived from Vienna, says that the reason why he left the Austrian capital to come to America was because of the misery he had witnessed for four years and his desire to join his family, who are American citizens. He expects to become an American citizen, too.

"The worst sufferers in Vienna," the painter said in an interview, "are those of the middle class, because they cannot afford to pay the high prices demanded for food. The working man is well paid, but he has to spend it on food to keep himself and his family. Thousands of the children of the masses have been sent to Italy and Switzerland to be fed, but the unfortunate children of the middle class remain in Vienna to share the hunger of their parents. When I passed through Holland last week, I saw that poor people there were giving one gulder, or 40 cents American money, for the starving children of Vienna.

Pay Master More Than Professor. Mr. Schatenstein continued, "I received 40,000 kroner a year (about $1,000 in our days) and had my money to live in an ordinary way. Compare this with the 12,000 kroner paid to professors of the universities in America and the 8,000 to 8,000 kroner a year paid to schoolmasters and office clerks. How can they exist in a city where food is so scarce and dear? It is in New York? I had plenty of money, but did not have an egg once a month. Milk I never saw. Butter was rare and dear. Meat could be had in the restaurants in small portions and potatoes on rare occasions. Bread was scarce and so poor that only persons with the digestion of an ostrich could eat it. I could never find out exactly what it was composed of except that there was scarcely any flour. Wood, straw, rye and other things were all chopped up and baked into a hard cake to be sold as bread.

"The poor could not do any work, and the rich could buy food, but I could never acquire myself to eat each food. Instead, I went hungry often with money in my pocket. "During one of the winter months in the city last winter, I saw the mob knock a police officer off his horse and shoot the animal. Half an hour later the carcass had been cut up and carried off by the famine-stricken citizens.

Lack of Coal Causes Misery.

"One chief source of the misery in Vienna was the lack of coal, because the poor could have neither heat nor light. The glassware, porcelain and leather factories were unable to keep going because there was no fuel to drive their machinery. Only the wealthy have a coal stove once a week and burn one electric light for five hours a day when there is enough coal to drive the dynamo in the power houses. Millions of people told me that I was a fortunate man when I was leaving for America. "I was not in sympathy with Austria in the war, but I think that in the name of our common humanity something should be done for the starving men, women and children of Vienna, especially the middle class, who are the greatest sufferers. "The doctors in the capital city on strike because scrubwomen received higher pay than physicians or surgeons.

The peasants in the country have food, but they will not send it to Vienna because they do not like a socialist form of government. Some of the best stores in Vienna keep open in the daytime and have fine articles and clothes displayed in the windows, but if one enters to buy them the proprietor, or one of his clerks, says that they are not for sale. The stores are closed for goods to be delivered when coal arrives and the factories start up again."

Tells Secret of Smoke Screens Used in War

Clean Up Around The Place

Decorate Your Home with a New Coat of Paint

Get the clean up habit, and help beautify this city. Get the backyard in as neat and presentable condition as your own front lawn. Get the rake out and gather all the old dead leaves, twigs and branches that have lain there during the winter. Trim the hedge and the lawn around the house and curb, and edges of flower plants. But, first of all get the necessary tools. You will need rakes, hoes, spades, shovels and trowels and in order to make the work more pleasant you will need good tools. The tools that we carry are of the best, are substantial and designed for hard service. Treat 'em rough and they will be the same good friends as when new.

You've no idea how much finer, prosperous and consequential your home will look with a new Spring coat of paint. You'll appreciate how seedy it really looks now with its present veneer of soft coal soot and the traces of winter's thaw.

And if your neighbor "paints up" as he probably will, your house will suffer by the contrast. Then, too, there is an economy consideration as well as one of pride. Your house will deteriorate less in appearance, in wear and in value if you keep it in good condition—protected from decline by our rain-resisting, sun-fast paints—

FRENCH URGED TO REBUILD OWN TOWNS

Newspaper Writer Says France Must Do Own Share of Reconstruction Work

PARIS, April 3.—M. Bluet-Vallée, a widely-known Parisian newspaper writer, has undertaken a campaign to demonstrate to the French people that they cannot expect Americans to contribute funds for the reconstruction of the devastated areas of northern France unless the French people themselves take the initiative.

"The American people are inspired by real friendship for us," he writes in La Liberté, "and this friendship does not rest on any political basis. We must make this friendship grow. We can do so by showing that we are ready to do our share in rebuilding the ruined towns and villages."

M. Bluet-Vallée quotes from a letter from a resident of Havre, showing what the people of that city did for the villages they adopted. He says: "From December, 1918, Havre residents decided on the formation of a society called 'Havre's Help to the Devastated Regions.' The subscription gave remarkable results—the city itself gave a sum of 100,000 francs, and we were soon able to have a fund of over 500,000 francs. The committee, desiring of helping as much as possible, sent three delegates to the district of Pas-de-Calais and the Somme. After an inspection of the region between Peronne and Lens, our delegates, in January, 1919, selected this village situated between Amiens and Peronne, which we adopted.

"It will give you now the results of the work done": In Bayevillers, 66 houses have been definitely rebuilt by workmen which number between 20 and 45 many-story windows of material of all kinds have been sent from Havre and other producing areas, and the village which had 700 inhabitants before the war now has 600. Normal life is now in full swing. In La Croix-Saint-Pierre, and in Warfoux, Amiens, wood-burners have been erected, each with double walls and two or three rooms, with a cellar, and these have been given to the farmers. Besides, twelve huts have been attributed to the workmen. There is also a school with 100 for the teacher and a church with lodging for the curate. On the other hand, the generous aid of the banks "Banque" of Havre has been able to distribute lots of furniture to the families most in need. Books have been given to the schools, even at Christmas. Our subscriptions are now up to 500,000 francs, which have been entirely spent, and all well, for the reconstruction of the village. And the subscription is still working.

"What has been done by Havre in the north of France, and each district of Paris could do at a cost of two or three million francs."

Traction Company Adopts Profit-Sharing Plan

PITTSBURGH, March 29.—What is said to be the first profit-sharing plan ever adopted for traction employees in America and the most radical of any yet into operation by any corporation is to be given a temporary trial by the Pittsburgh Traction Company, which operates interurban lines in western Pennsylvania.

The plan provides for the distribution of $1,000,000 worth of stock among the 600 employees and allows the employees to be represented on the board of directors by three of the number chosen by the men themselves. In addition, an old-age pension fund and a sick benefit fund are to be established.

David I. McCull, who controls the company, explained the plan as follows: "One million dollars face value of the

ENGLISH LEARN TO DANCE

Shortage of Eligible Young Men Puts Crimp in Dancing Aspirations of Many English Dames—Report on "Paid Escort."

London.—"Making a night of it" became almost a lost art in England during the late war. The owl and the nightingale were scarcely on speaking terms.

In the first place, it wasn't profitable to "stay out at night." There was the absence of lights, the shortage of taxis, the loss of dancing and the cost. No night was spent in bed, and the only time a Londoner saw the sun rise was when he got up early to work in his allotment.

London, once the gayest of cities, became a silent tomb of somber grays and deep shadows after nine o'clock at night. It can be remembered when it was actually a penal offense to strike a match in the street. But those who only saw it in wartime wouldn't know the old place now.

The grays are purple now and the night is bright and red, and the Londoners are dancing again. It is a scene that is a far cry from the days of the "paid escort."

MAN HUNT IN ARIZONA

TODDINGTON, Ark., March 29.—In a bitter cold and snow deputy sheriffs started across the desert on a hunt for a man named Sheriff McDonald, who had been reported to have fled from the state.

The man hunt started when two Mexicans, Zarcero and Marquez, and the other unidentified, broke last at a point near the border. Sheriff McDonald was seen to have fled from the head with the butt of a gun, knocking the men down.

Taking Wooten's men there, the sheriff's party started on a hunt for the man. "Come on, boys, the man is here," shouted Marquez and then fled through the desert, leaving the sheriff's party in the dark.

DO YOU KNOW?

Would you believe it? The first New York automobile show was held in 1900. In 1905 gasoline used for one gallon. The first four cylinder car was built in 1904. In 1906 Harlow & Heston introduced the first car with a steering wheel. In 1909 G.M. Duesenberg and John Duesenberg were judges of the automobile show in New York. There were only four automobiles in the United States in 1896. In 1902 the Duesenberg Three and Four cylinder models made their debut. The first long distance race from New York to San Francisco was made in two weeks. Since July 1st, auto stores have been out of favor. In fact it is doubtful if any of them will make a profit in 1920. There were only four automobiles in the United States in 1896. There's a Little Babies' Fairyland in an Illinois Town

A Group of Little Ones Enjoying the Camera—It Was Meant That They Should Enjoy Their Afternoon Milk, but They Could Not Be Made to Drink While the Camera-Man was Around.

By JESSIE B. PAYNE

If "Little Orphan Annie" had been recruited early enough and taken in by the Deaconess Baby Fold at Normal, Illinois, there wouldn't have been any need to write poems about her.

They call the big rambling house in the Illinois town the Mason Deaconess Home, and then they make it sound all cozy, as it is, by nick-naming it "The Baby Fold."

Around the big house are ten city lots (hearken, all city children!) for doll lawns and lawns. Then back to that are twenty acres of grazing land used as pasture for cows that furnish Grade A milk twice a day for the babies.

At present there are forty blue, black and brown-eyed babies in the Deaconess Baby Fold. And, if the Interchurch World Movement can propitiously carry it, it will not be long before there will be room for more so that fewer tiny candidates will be turned away.

Such real homes for babies are considered so tremendously worth while by the investigators of the Interchurch organization that the example set by the Deaconesses of the Methodist Episcopal church is likely to be copied all over the land. With the combined Protestant churches of America desisting on the baby-fold campaign, one of these days there will be no doubt about it.

Wants U. S. Navy Second to None

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Advocating a navy second to none in this world and asking that appropriations be provided to make such a navy possible, Secretary of Navy Daniels appeared before the senate affairs committee yesterday.

The program submitted by the secretary includes the completion of the United States naval fleet by 1916 and partially postponed before the situation of additional ships to meet the United States naval fleet balanced in every respect and authorized additional ships of greater size.

The house in passing the naval appropriation bill provided for the completion of the present authorized program and some additional ships but did not do all the secretary desired. It was to have his full program authorized that the secretary addressed his appeal to the senate committee.

POLITICAL TWIST GIVEN MEETING OF CHURCHMEN

ON BOARD HOCKEYELLER SPECIAL, PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 8. Members of the Hockefeller party are worried over the political twist which was given to the banquet of the Interchurch world movement at Washington last night.

The speakers to Lansing and the remarks of Dr. John H. Mott, which were taken by the Washington audience as a criticism of President Wilson, disturbed the members of the party. Dr. Mott left the Hockefeller tour at Washington at midnight and returned to New York City. The others came on to Pittsburgh for a day of mass meetings.

"It is sad that no one at the banquet intended to make a political attack out of it," said one of the church leaders on the train. "Washington gave a political interpretation on everything it hears and we can't help but the audience read into Dr. Mott's statements."

Mott's approval of Lansing during his one hour address was studied and deliberate. Lansing, who is chairman of the executive committee of the interchurch world movement, was adversely affected. Mott's description of Lansing as messenger of the great international mission in the world and being one of the great Christian men in America, said: "He is a man in whom we will put our trust." "The applause lasted for three minutes."

Though the audience took a strong interest in the President's Mexican policy, it is explained by one party that Dr. Taylor had no such purpose in mind. There is on the screen a statement which declared that six per cent interest on the money which the United States spends on the border is more than Mexico spends on schools. He said: "I think the addition of the Mexican problem to schools, churches and hospitals. That's the only way to settle affairs down there." The applause which followed was long and vigorous. One thousand applause men heard John D. Hockefeller Jr., tell of the purposes of the interchurch at a Monday banquet at the William Penn hotel.

Offer Resolution Declaring Peace

WASHINGTON, April 8.—On the third anniversary of the declaration of war against Germany by the United States, Chairman Porter of the House foreign affairs committee today filed with the House a report supporting a resolution declaring existence of a state of peace with Germany.

The resolution is to be called up in the House Thursday for debate and a vote on its passage to be had Friday. It will require almost unanimous support from the republican majority of the house and may get some democratic support. President Wilson has by his followers understood that he is opposed to passage of the resolution.

While conceding that the resolution is without precedent in the American congress, the Porter report contended that the resolution is constitutional in that it does not take the treaty-making power of the president or the senate, and that it is simply declaratory of a state of peace, which is an existing fact and admitted by President Wilson's communication to congress and by official utterances.

The majority democratic report on the resolution, drafted by Representative Ploof and his democratic colleague of the foreign affairs committee, with the sanction of Representative Hallstone of Alabama, claims that the resolution is unconstitutional; that congress cannot make peace and that the resolution constitutes an unwarranted invasion of the powers of the executive and of the senate.

DEBORAH AND BARAK DELIVER ISRAEL

ISRAEL TOOK TO their arms and strength, a very brave help in trouble—
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL— Judges 4:10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

The book of Judges covers the period from the conquest of Canaan and death of Joshua to the judgeship of Samson. While Joshua and the elders of his generation lived the people in some measure remained faithful to God in obedience to His Word and the very next generation went into apostasy. Their decision may be accounted for as follows:

1. Failure to drive the Canaanites from their midst.
2. Their amalgamation with the Canaanites, their close proximity to the people had its leavening effect, for they soon intermarried with the heathen. Tolerance with the heathen soon followed by union therewith, and quick disaster comes in the wake of such unions.
3. Idolatry. Inter-marriage with the heathen was soon followed by the worship of the heathen gods. This is Israel's lower and gradually weakened, so that instead of being conquerors they became the conquered.

In chapter 2:25 is given a synopsis of the book of Judges:

1. The sin of the people (iv. 1-3).
2. God's judgment for their sin (iv. 11, 12).
3. Repentance of the people (iv. 23).
4. God's deliverance at the hands of the Judges (iv. 24-30).
5. Repetition of sin, oppression by the enemy, repentance on the part of the people, and God's deliverance, is the story of the book of Judges.

1. The name means "He," suggesting orderly instincts. As suggested by another, "she answered her name by her industry, energy, and great use to the people." The period was marked by awful oppression. The Israelites were helpless, for the enemy had 300 chariots of iron. Deborah was an unique character. God raised her up for such a time as this. Under a palm tree she held an open court for the administration of justice.

11. Deborah Summons Barak (4: 6-10).

Barak means "lightning." Deborah, being a prophetess, was able to select the man whose gifts would enable him to rally the forces needed to gain the victory over the formidable foe.

1. Deborah's call (iv. 6, 7). It was God's call through her, she gave the simple instruction as to the number of men and the strategy to be employed, warning Barak that God would deliver Sisera, the captain of Jabin's army, into his hand.

2. Barak's reply (iv. 8). Expression of unwillingness to go unless Deborah would go with him should hardly be considered as cowardice or weakness, as it is a well-understood fact that the presence of a woman, especially the prophetess, would inspire courage on the part of the warriors. However, he should have believed God's ability to give the victory without the aid of a woman.

3. Barak's rebuke (iv. 9, 10). Deborah yielded his request, but made it plain to him that it would detract from his honor as a conqueror. "For the Lord shall sell Sisera into the hand of a woman."

4. The Defeat of Jabin's Army (iv. 11-14).

Sisera, the captain, gathered a mighty army and went forth with full assurance of victory, but he made a fatal mistake; he did not consider that it was the Lord's battle (v. 15). At the psychological moment Deborah gave the signal to charge, warning Barak that the Lord would give the victory (v. 14). Through supernatural justification the enemy became insignificant.

15. Sisera Killed by a Woman (iv. 17-21).

In his flight he took refuge in Jael's tent. Under the guise of friendship, she committed the most heinous murder. She fastened his head to the ground by means of a tent pin.

16. Deborah and Barak's Song of Victory (chap. 5).

This was composed and sung in celebration of the baroness's victory which God had wrought.

Take A New Lease On Your Clothes

On March 1st we went on a strictly cash business. This enabled us to give you 20 per cent more for your money than if we extended credit. We can give you better work, turn it out in shorter time and give better satisfaction to you. By eliminating the credit business we cut out bad accounts, and the expense of a bookkeeper.

Your Garments Insured Against Fire While in Our Care

We carry a sufficient amount of insurance to cover all wraps and garments left in our plant. In case of fire you lose nothing, for we have your interests at heart and have protected you. This is quite an item to consider when you send your clothes to the cleaner. By sending your work here you know you are protected against this risk:

LATEST METHODS USED

We use nothing but the latest and approved methods in dry cleaning. This process, which is used in all the large eastern plants, leaves the clothes odorless and spotless.

ALL WORK DONE IN OUR PLANT

We are equipped to do all kinds of dry-cleaning, hatting, tailoring and dyeing right here in our own establishment. You do not need to wait for days to get your garments back, for we do not need to send a thing to Salt Lake City, Portland or Seattle to have it done. Every method known to increase efficiency and high class workmanship is used by us.

Our Dye Department Is Prepared to Turn Out Work on Short Notice

We are thoroughly equipped with modern methods and machinery to turn out dye work of the very best kind in from two to five days. It is not necessary for you to send your work to others who in turn send it to Salt Lake City, for it takes from two to four weeks to get anything back from there and our dyeing is superior to theirs.

All Work Done in Our Plant. We Do Not Have to Send Work to Salt Lake City or Other Towns.

You Get Nothing but Actual Work at Our Plant.
No Newspaper Promises

What is a guarantee? We give you a guarantee that is really a guarantee. Others may guarantee, but no matter how much they try to please their inexperience will not make up for their promises. What we promise we do.

VETERAN IS OPPOSED TO SHORTER CONTEST

Coach Jim Rice Believes Four Miles Better Test.

Reduction in Length of Collegiate Race Would Eliminate All Opportunity for Strategy and Brain Work by the Coxswain.

One of those who are opposed to shortening the annual collegiate race on the Hudson river at Poughkeepsie is Jim Rice, former coach of Columbia university. He believes four miles is a better test for the colleges and is not so exhausting to the men. Rice is opposed to the reduction in the length of the varsity race, despite the unanimous verdict of the stewards at their meeting for the shorter contest. The Columbia coach for many years led the opposition to this move, and still maintains that it will result in less physical strain on the men. He contends that the tendency of all crews will be to hit a high stroke from the first gun and maintain the clip throughout the race. There will be none of the old strategy and no opporunity for brain work by either the coxswain or stroke. To prove his point that a fast three-mile race will be more wearing than the four-mile distance, Rice cites the case of Columbia and Cornell several years ago, when after each crew had "cooked" the other by a continuous spurt, Syracuse came to the fore and carried off first honors. Under the three-mile conditions, says Rice, every crew will be "cooked" and at the end of the race will be more exhausted and worn than in the longer distance. A longer, instead of a shorter, training period will be necessary in his opinion.

The only beneficial result he sees will be the likelihood of more crews entering the annual classic, Utica, Minn., which three years ago notified the stewards that it would enter a crew in a three-mile distance only. He expected to take part in the 1920 regatta, and Rice looks also for entries from the Pacific coast, which formerly sent one or two, and sometimes, two representatives.

Baptists Transform Saloon Into Temporary House of Worship. Better Days Coming, However

The beer signs have come down. What will take the place of the vacant rooms? What signs will go up and what buildings will occupy the vacant corners? "Here's here," say the Baptists—and the place has a different meaning from the olden days. This building, known as the "Vale and Art," has been taken over by Baptists as a temporary house of worship. Signs and signs at this church leaders say will not be erected after the $100,000 Baptist church, April 25 to

LEADING TURF FIXTURE

Matt J. Winn, vice-president and general manager of the Kentucky Jockey Club, announces that the Kentucky Derby, one of the leading American races, this year will carry $20,000 in added money. Therefore it had an added money value of $20,000. This would indicate that the derby displaces the Breckinridge handicap, which carries $25,000 in added money, as America's leading feature. Mr. Winn intimated that the probable total value of the race might be in excess of $50,000.

Bob Coleman, former Pittsburgh catcher, has taken charge of the Mud club in the Southern association.
Rube Wickert, veteran league hurler, has been signed as manager of the Kalamazoo team of the Central league.
Everything comes to him who waits. Maybe that is why so many are picking the Cleveland Indians to top this year.
Walter Pipp has his job at first with the Yanks waiting for him. The former Catholic university fence batter knows it, too.
Louis Guishe has outbid owner Jim Dunn of the Cleveland club that he would like to play in the Pacific Coast league next season.
Cleveland fans believe that this is Cleveland's year and decline to change the view because the Yanks grabbed Babe Ruth.

'CHIEF' BENDER IS TO PITCH FOR NEW HAVEN AND 'CHIEF' MEYERS TO CATCH

The signing of "Chief" Meyers, former catcher with the New York Giants, means that the New Haven club probably will have the only Indian battery in organized baseball next season. "Chief" Bender, veteran hurler, was recently signed as manager of the team and will play his regular turn on the mound on the days he pitches. Meyers is almost sure to be behind the plate.

Uplifter Leaves Chinese Husband

MOCHEZUMA, Mex., April 8.—Mrs. Sam Joe, formerly Miss Irene Wosner, the daughter of an ex-member of the New York state legislature, hereafter will continue her upbringing of the lovely Southern to Mochezuma, where she never again will see her New York home and her mother after she has converted to the Indian.
She said on Friday, emphatically, while en route to her New York home, that she had decided to leave her husband in the wilds of Mexico. The marriage of Miss Wosner to Sam Joe, a wealthy son of Congress, was the culmination of a romance in a New York Sunday school, and attracted great attention throughout the country. According to the news she fully outlined at the time, she was first going to convert Sam, and then both were going down into the heart of Mexico to convert everybody else.
"But Sam," it appears, from Miss Wosner's disillusioned story today, started off on his Mexican honeymoon ill-unconceived and retaining the peculiar ways of the Heathen Chinese, which—Bret Harte made famous.

Looking Down the Busy Street

The man of style, of pep, of character was seen to attract the admiring gaze of all he chanced to meet.

His clothes played a large part in his and men turned to watch him as he smilingly made his way down the street. His clean-cut appearance attracted even the eyes of women, for one was heard to remark to her husband that, "Jones was such a cheery fellow and so pleasant to meet, and he always dressed so becoming. John, why don't you find out where he buys his clothes, so you can look like that?"

A man's success or failure often hangs on the opinion of others

And the clothing he wears often decides the issue, either for or against him. So take your success in your hands and get out of the rut of common mortals. Get into something snappy, becoming, and start towards the goal of success. Let a man who is experienced in the line of fitting and selling to men fit you out in your new Spring attire. NATURE SPEEDED TO OVERCOME SHORTAGE

Necessary Supply of Flaxseed Grown in Porto Rico.

Brought Back to This Country in Time for Spring Planting—Superior Quality of Flax Produced From Selected Strains.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture. When an improved variety of seed is very badly needed to make up a national shortage of a commodity, the natural increase is not always rapid enough. One way in which the natural speeding up may be secured is shown by the work of the United States department of agriculture with flaxseed. Foreign supplies of that coming into the United States were severely reduced during the war and an increase of flax acreage became imperative. A large number of pedigreed selections and increased yields of the best varieties were grown during the summer of 1919 at the experimental station at Fort Lanning, Mich. In the fall of that year selections of several of various strains were taken to Porto Rico, and an increase crop was grown during the winter. The increased supply of seed thus produced was brought back to the United States in

Demise of Old Man Rum Shifts Cowmen's Evening Round-ups from Saloon to Baptist Service

Does the cowboy like to hear the gospel and sing hymns? We'll say he does. These are all cowboys, dressed for merriment, gathered round the fireplace in the lounging room of a ranch hotel near Granada, Colorado. When the colporteur comes along, the cowboys make it a gala occasion and serve cream and lardies. More colporters will carry their message throughout the ranch, timber and mining lands of America as part of the Northern Baptist New World Movement, for which a $100,000,000 drive will be conducted April 25-May 2.

United States Has One Automobile For Every 14 Persons, Is Estimate

The United States, with 100,000,000 people, has 7,000,000 automobiles—one for every fourteen persons. In the rest of the world there are 1,750,000,000 people owning a total of 75,000,000 automobiles, or one for every 23 1/2 persons. The United States with one-sixteenth the population of the entire world has 100 times as many automobiles as the balance of the world. These startling facts are cited by Harry W. Anderson, general sales manager of the Temple Motors corporation, Cleveland, in refuting a popular expression that the point of saturation has been reached in production of passenger automobiles.

This talk about the point of saturation long being reached is a dream of the "uninitiated," says Anderson, dean of America's automobile sales managers. "The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce estimates that the greatest production of the industry during 1929 will not exceed 4,000,000 passenger cars. This is insufficient to take care of our home demand. "In Iowa there is one automobile for every sixth person. Suppose this were the case in the rest of the country, which will be the case some day, which will be the case some day, which will be the case some day. We will then have a market for 12,000,000 cars, and if you add to this the average of one to six in the United States, or 2,500,000 cars, there is a market for 14,500,000 cars. Not much chance for saturation. "The automobile manufacturer who is afraid we have reached a point of saturation is blinded to opportunity. The point of saturation is not reached and he must allow will ever see the day when more automobiles will be made than can be sold. The only manufacturer who will be the one who does not know the power of advertising, the efficiency of selling or who fails to build a good car."

5368 VOLUME CIRCULATION AT LIBRARY

Recruiting Stations Authorized to Take Men Into Air Service and Regular Army

The Twin Falls Public Library this month has a circulation of 5368 volumes. During this time 112 new members were added to the library. The American Library Association has recently launched a plan to secure adequate library services for the 60,000,000 people in the United States who have inadequate services. This is called the "Enlarged Program" of the American Library Association, or the "Books for Everybody" movement. The association has been inspired to do this through the impetus given it during the war. The work done so far by the American library association factor as never before recognized. State and local library needs are being considered at conferences of library trustees now being held throughout the country by the American Library Association, which is conducting a $2,000,000 "Books for Everybody" movement on a nationwide basis. The money is being raised through the individual efforts of librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries, without resorting to an intensive drive campaign. Five library trustees have been named to attend the conferences by the governors of each state. Hundreds of other trustees are attending the meetings. A successful conference of the trustees from the southwestern states was held at Charleston, S. C., March 15 and 16. The South Central conference takes place at St. Paul, March 19 and 20. The Coast meetings take place at a franchise from March 21 to April 2, and at Los Angeles from April 4 to 10. The New England, Middle Atlantic, Middle Southern and the Central states will hold conferences in the near future. The response to the conference invitations has greatly exceeded the expectations of the Association officers. This is taken as a deep and widespread interest in the movement which has for its chief aim self-education and Americanization through the nation's library facilities.

COLUMBUS HAS A PLAN TO RUN POSTOFFICE

Clyde Has Voice in His Management—Schemes May Become National-wide

COLUMBUS, O., April 8.—Congress will be asked to place demonstration of the postal service on a nation-wide basis if a plan now being tested in the Columbus postoffice, proves successful.

Clerks, carriers and inspectors have a voice in the management of the postoffice here.

Assistant Postmaster Robinson is endeavoring to make the employees of the Columbus office more efficient and better satisfied through the activities of a dozen committees, made up of carriers and clerks, and a "cabinet" comprising representatives of the committees and supervisors.

There are committees on welfare, regulations and orders, relations, standardization, examinations and schemes, efficiency systems, schedules and assignments and furniture and fixtures.

Employees are urged to make suggestions designed to improve the service. Any employee who "speaks up" for or protest on official order. These suggestions and protests are investigated by a controlling committee which reports its conclusions to the "cabinet" which meets on Sundays. If the "cabinet" approves a suggestion or sanctions a protest, Postmaster Kinneer then passes final judgment, withholding the veto or concurring in the "cabinet's" recommendation.

Among the more than one hundred suggestions already on file are: stencils for distributors, medicine cabinet at each station, a survey of the filing system, and that each clerk submit a daily report of performance.

PLAN PEACE-TIME RESERVE OF WOMEN IN ENGLAND

LONDON, April 8.—Women probably will play an even greater part in England's next war than in the last, when they were first formed into companies, brigades and divisions for behind-the-lines service.

Plans are now being canvassed by War Secretary Churchill how best to establish a peace-time reserve of skilled women. The government fully recognized the invaluable work done by Women, Warps and other skilled soldiers.

The reserve will probably be one that can quickly be expanded in case of hostilities. It will be the world's first woman's war reserve.

Mr. Wolfmeyer is the father of the bride and Gertrude Wolfmeyer, daughter of her husband's half brother.

The county attorney's office believes such a marriage is prohibited by the Kansas laws.

Picketers Are Still At Work

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Picketing of the British embassy was resumed this afternoon by women sympathizers for the Irish republic.

Mrs. Honora Walsh and Miss Elaine Barrie, of Germantown, Pa., left the pickets headquarters soon after noon to take up places before the embassy building.

Miss Molly Carroll, of New York one of the women leaders in the Irish demonstrations here during the past week, announced that she will fly in an aeroplane over Washington today and toward the White House, the state department and the Capitol with literature asking that the United States recognize the Irish republic.

Within 15 minutes after they had taken up their posts Mrs. Walsh and Miss Barrie were placed under arrest. Two additional pickets were arrested in front of the British embassy this afternoon. They were Miss Kathleen O'Brien, of Philadelphia and Miss Helen O'Brien, of St. Louis.

Following the arrest Mrs. James Walsh, who is in charge of the picketing, announced that no halt will be offered for the release of arrested pickets, in order to force the issue.

WOMEN ASSERT MAN IS NOT NEEDED

French Leaders Say Female of Species Can Get Along Without Male

PARIS, April 8.—Can a woman survive on her life successfully without the aid of a man?

Here is a question which, perhaps, may appear a bit strange in the United States where women have been doing it for decades, but which is nevertheless a very pertinent question in France just now. It develops from the increasing part woman have come to take in public affairs since the beginning of the war last year.

France more than a million males of marriageable age, leaving a great surplus of women who may never hope to marry.

A French newspaper, devoted exclusively to women, is conducting a symposium on this question and naturally it has addressed its queries principally to women who play prominent parts in French affairs. Here are some of the replies:

Mme. Suzanne Giribet, woman lawyer: "The experience I gained while serving in the army during the war, naturally altered their lives, has taught me that those who have had the most fortune to possess a technical or professional knowledge have had little difficulty in carrying on without embarrassment. But many others, suddenly called upon to work, have been compelled to reply: 'But I don't know what to do.' For three the struggle has been very hard, almost overcoming their poor forces, and the results very deceiving. Because I have seen and have advised many women willing to enter their own living, either by necessity or by desire for independence, I do not hesitate to say that in general a woman may, by herself, assure her material existence, but only on condition that she has had some sort of previous training. So my advice to the young girls of France who may never have the opportunity to marry, is this:—Learn how to earn your own money and ever then, after you have gained all the knowledge necessary for a profession you will find many hard days."

Mlle. Guillou, director of a high dressmaking establishment: "Certainly a woman may live without the aid of a man, but it is a bit hard. I know because I began to work on my own living at the age of 15. If she possesses equal courage, energy and willingness to work, a woman may earn her living as well as a man. But there are difficulties unencountered by a woman which a man never has to face. In the first place, whether she is ugly or pretty, that is bound to be a factor in her success. She finds it more difficult to get out. For instance, if her task requires, as it does in our business, that she go to the theatre, to the races and into the city restaurants to study the market, do you think that she finds it as easy as if she were a man? There is a great difference upon which she must count."

Mlle. Mistinguet, leading French music hall actress: "A woman can earn her living without the aid of a man, but only on condition that she possesses a man's qualities; that is, she must not be fragile; she must not be one of those women of 'muslin and silk. There are women who cease and go through life with all the ease of a man and who are willing to go out in the wet without an umbrella. There are others who at the least sign of rain want a rug spread beneath their feet before they will take a step in the street. The difficulties are not so great for a woman who earns her living in commerce or in the affairs. But in the theater, without doubt, it is more difficult for a woman. Still, if she has the right qualities, real talent, she is bound to succeed."

Mme. Colette, well known French writer: "Yes, a woman may live, unaided, without the help of a man. But she has need of masculine aid. Without the aid of a man, a woman is in danger of losing her femininity. She may equal a man in business affairs, may even surpass him, but without the aid of a man, a real companion, she will fail to achieve real happiness. Tenderness is a factor which you cannot leave out of the question. It is the same for a man—he can live alone, but not with genuine happiness. Each sex has need of the other."

WOMEN ARE CHEAPER THAN MEN IN TURKEY

BOSTON, April 8.—Wives are cheaper than males in Turkey. Poor men who cannot afford the boasts of burlesque are buying more wives for fifteen cents and using them as draft animals.

This is the statement of the Independent Movement, which made its appeal for woman suffrage in the city assembly work in the Near East. Many Christian girls who were sold into slavery and are now living in hedonism, need medical care, which they are allowed to receive only from the hands of their own sex.

BIG FLEET OF U. S. SHIPS PLANNED

WASHINGTON, April 8.—An American merchant marine of 120,000 tons, or about 30 per cent of the world's commercial shipping, within three years is the plan towards which shipping authorities are striving, it is indicated here. Under favorable circumstances this goal may be reached, it is said.

The shipping would be all good bottoms adapted to modern trade and would not include the smaller, obsolete ships. The present Shipping Board building program which completed will start out 112,000 tons of tonnage in the next few years.

With this vast tonnage in sight Senator Wesley Jones, of Washington, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, with members of the committee, is seeking to frame constructive legislation which will utilize this asset to the fullest extent under the American flag.

The proposed programme has in view the establishment of advantageous routes to South America, the West Indies and the Caribbean, besides many new lines.

Shipping authorities have revealed to Congress the extent which the big, maritime interests of the world are racing for supremacy in the general distributed conditions due to the war.

At present, it is said, with nearly the same tonnage on the seas as in 1913, the service is only 50 per cent of what it was in pre-war days. The total shipping in the world today is 400,000,000 tons, it is said—and—people will need 50,000,000 tons when the full after-war trade boom sets in.

At present, it is admitted, the shipping of the world, and of the United States in particular, is in a transitory stage. It is hoped to live over this period until normal conditions return, which, experts predict, will be soon.

PARIS DOCTORS' UNION TAKES REVENGE ON R. B. MEN

PARIS, April 8.—The doctors' union of the town of Mont-de-Marsan took sweet revenge on the union railwaymen during the recent general strike in France. When the government reestablished all stores of coal, the doctors had to wait instead of motorcars to keep appointments. They therefore announced that they would not treat sick railwaymen except in the most urgent cases. The doctors joined the doctors and refused to give any aid to suffering strikers.

PARIS DANCE HALLS ARE RESTORED

Americans Control Principal Parlors, and French Dancers Are Perturbed

By NEWTON C. PALMIRE, International News Service Staff Correspondent. PARIS, April 8.—Americans are gradually gaining control of the principal dancing palaces of Paris, and there are indications of discontent among the French dancing amateurs.

The American post office bandaged during the war, when dancing was officially banned but when several clubs and dance places were operated by widely scattered parts of the city. They were for the most part former members of American military units serving with the French army, who established a "Parisian" style of French and French business affairs with considerable knowledge of how to run a dancing place that would attract a crowd of "exiles."

The police made nightly descents upon these dancing and closed them, only to learn that they had reopened in another place a few nights later. Any empty private house with a large ballroom or several rooms furnished with each other was speedily converted into a rendezvous for the early morning tango fiends.

When dancing was officially reinstated Harry Pilgrut, an American, together with a few Americans, took place in the Apollo theatre. Pilgrut's success was so great that dancing began to engage up all over the city. Many of the houses, theatres, skating rinks and even private houses were turned into ballrooms, and one enterprising youth was about to convert an abandoned church into a hot trot parlor when the ex-patriates intervened and stopped him.

The American jazz band stepped right in along with the American dance promoters. The Washington State palace, a big dancing hall in the city, was opened, with several American as part owners. Another dancing hall, with a special Chicago ball room character, was opened in the city. It is now owned by Americans.

In the Montmartre district at least three of the dance-halls at which American and American dance clubs are under American ownership and management.

The greatest fear of protest from the Paris dancing crowd stems from the fact that practically all the after midnight dancing now operated in defiance of police restrictions are controlled by Americans. For more than three months ago dancing clubs, which concealed its real purpose under the name of the "old club," ran their merry night life at 1 o'clock every morning within four blocks of the opera without hindrance by the police. It was owned by Americans.

In the Paris suburbs, within thirty minutes taxi ride from the opera district, are a number of clandestine dancing halls, some of which are open until daylight. In Neuilly the "Aladdin's Lamp Club," run by Americans, "dances" nightly in a dilapidated old family mansion until four o'clock in a park surrounded by a high wall and plenty of trees. Only a string of motor cars serves notice that something is stirring in the old mansion every morning until nearly daylight.

In the suburb of Anville three all-night dancing caverns, though one, known as the "Mr. Will Stay Up Late" club, operated by Ted Kelly of Chicago, is intermittently closed by the police. The other two, one of them is owned by two Americans and are going full blast from midnight until 4 or 5 o'clock every morning, and often it is daylight before they begin to disgorge their guests in evening clothes and top hats.

GEM LANDS

The garden spot of Idaho, producing wonderful crops and a great variety, lower altitude, less wind, earlier springs, longer growing season. Alfalfa hay, at this writing, April 6th, four inches high. These lands will produce from one and one-half to two and one-half more tons of hay per acre than the ordinary lands. What would this mean to you if you were the owner? Very deep soil with no hard pan or lava rock. Generally speaking beautiful laying lands, smooth but just right to irrigate good. This district has been somewhat isolated, but improvements such as $100,000 bridges, electric railroads and steam roads are all a thing of the very near future. Only 40 miles from the capital of our state.

The best of all, these lands have not yet went through a boom period and you can still buy good lands as low as $150 per acre and in some cases this would all be in alfalfa.

I have a few 40 and 80 acre tracts that I can sell you at $200 per acre, no better land any where, as smooth as a table, deep soil, some all in hay with deep wells of fine water with gas engines to pump. Fair improvements. Taxes very low only about $1.00 per acre.

If you are in the market for a piece of land that will surely make a rapid increase in price; and that will produce the biggest crops, that you can buy almost 3 acres for one ordinarily, why not go with me and investigate for yourself? If you are a land seeker it will not cost you a cent to go with me and investigate for yourself. I have a big 7-passenger car and its just a pleasant day's drive, so I say do not let some one that has an axe to grind throw you off the track just see for yourself.

One of the best water rights and there is no cutting down at any season of the year, but you will have a full supply all through July, August and September, just as much as you will have in April, which is all you want and need. Water comes from Snake river and there is enough to water 25 more tracts of 30,000 acres like the Gem.

Come in and arrange to go with me. Go see this beautiful tract just the place to make an ideal home; 12 miles to Caldwell, 15 miles to Nampa, and only 40 miles to Boise or two hours drive with your auto on a good gravelled road all the way.

Come in and see the maps and get first hand information.
