Cabinet Takes Up Question of Railroad Wage Increase

Irish Prisoners Are Given Freedom--Soviet Formed

Sim Feiners in Mount Joy Prison Released by Protest Strike, Is Report--Britain Draws in Horns and Gives Better Treatment

LONDON, April 14.—The Sinn Fein prisoners in the Mount Joy Jail at Dublin will be released immediately, according to a dispatch from Dublin this afternoon. The Irish general strike was called as a protest against the British government's treatment of these prisoners.

There was a great demonstration at Dublin today with thousands of people parading through the streets. There were fears of a collision between the crowds and troops. Crowds gathered outside of the Mount Joy Jail but were urged by Archbishop Walsh to return home.

A. Bonar Law announced this morning in common the following: "The Irish general strike is a protest against the British government's treatment of these prisoners. It is a protest against the British government's treatment of these prisoners. It is a protest against the British government's treatment of these prisoners."

The press continues to take a nervous view of the situation. "The occasion is an exceptional and momentous that we look for the continuation of the cabinet meeting."

The decision announced by A. Bonar Law is that the government will not interfere in the treatment of Sinn Fein prisoners in any way. It is in his conception and it is wrong," said The Times. "We ought to demonstrate that, behind the new home rule proposals, lie the confidence and good will of Great Britain."

The press continues to take a nervous view of the situation. "The occasion is an exceptional and momentous that we look for the continuation of the cabinet meeting."

UNIONS DENOUNCE STRIKE

SETTLEMENT IS NOW UP TO NEW BOARD--PALMER SHOUTING REDS

Wilson Has Fine Spirits in Meeting With New Family

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Settlement of the nationwide railroad strike now rests with the railroad labor board, appointed by the president Wilson under the "anti-trust" act.

President Wilson today telegraphed to the members to come to Washington immediately. This action, it was announced, was the direct result of the cabinet meeting this morning.

It is understood that the cabinet proposed a plan for an immediate meeting of the board with Secretary of Labor Wilson and Attorney General Palmer to agree upon temporary wage adjustments which shall be effective immediately.

"Such an adjustment," it is declared, would allow unrest and would result in many of the strikes returning to their normal status.

The board this afternoon confirmed the nomination of the railroad labor board.

Members of the board telegraphed the members of the railroad labor board to come to Washington at once in order to form their organization and begin their work as they are confirmed by the senate.

Nominations made by the president for the board were: Attorney General Palmer, Secretary of Labor Wilson, and Attorney General Palmer.

The senate resolved itself into a special session to consider the nominations.

All cabinet members agreed that the president comes up to his full stature. He appeared very well and in a happy frame of mind. He joked with the members of his official family as in the old days.

FOOD SHORTAGE THREATENS POPULATION CENTERS WITH STARVATION--BIG PRODUCE LOSS CAUSED BY WALKOUT

WASHINGTON, April 14.—With the food producing areas isolated by the railroad strike, the big population centers of the country are facing a threatened food shortage, while the producers stand to lose hundreds of thousands in money, according to figures from the bureau of markets here today.

Summed up the situation is based on these factors: The three biggest market centers of the east, New York, Philadelphia and Boston, are shut off from the food producing areas by the railroad strike and local hoards are up.

In the south and west are the big "produce" producing areas of the country. Included in these districts, isolated in these districts, include such fruits, are being forced to go to waste because they cannot be moved. Coupled with the waste in food, the produce of these crops are facing the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The bureau of markets is receiving scores of messages as to what transportation may be available. In Texas between 7000 and 8000 carloads of wheat are awaiting shipment. In eastern track centers, such as South Carolina, lettuce and other crops are being held up for shipment in carload lots, and no transportation is available. In addition to the perishable food, the stock shipments have been curtailed to a point where some of the trucking plants have ceased butchering.

To offset the expected food shortage, the war department has resolved to allocate its surplus food stocks to the various population centers.

RADICALS ARE OUT VOTED IN CONVENTION'S STRIKE EDICT

Announcement of New Labor Board Swings Decision

KANSAS CITY, April 14.—Having court and difficulty against the outlay strike which has paralyzed transportation in many parts of the country, the 700 delegates to the thirtieth annual convention of the Railway Department of the American Federation of Labor representing more than 700,000 railroad employees, preparing their wage increase program for submission to the new labor board.

It was learned today that the delegates sought for as long as January 1919 and still pending before the board, will be prepared to keep pace with the steadily mounting cost of living since the request for increases was first made. The delegates are now in a state of waiting.

The general chairman of the sixteen recognized railroad organizations will submit their wage claims to the board on April 23. No chairman is prepared to accept any settlement that does not grant the requests in full.

The decision of the railroads to be made known to the general officers of the department in later than they have been.

The strike controversy will be thrown into the hands of the president's newly appointed labor board.

The delegates to the convention of the department and one of the members of the board, announced last night that $10,000 had been spent for the services of a nationally recognized law firm to handle the legal aspects of the increasing living cost with particular reference to prohibition.

The outlay strike issue provided an all day battle behind the locked doors of the convention hall. The central element was surprisingly strong and there were many wild demonstrations favoring the insurance. The general officers, led by William Green, had difficulty in keeping the meeting in hand.

A group from Chicago and other Illinois cities, on the attack upon the law and order plan.

The fight over the resolution had reached its sharpest pitch when news came that the board had been set in Washington was finished by a meeting by the International News Service, Jewell came out of the room and was stopped by one of the president's appointees. He carried it back into the meeting and made the announcement. It brought a renewed outburst of cheering and the strike strongly turned and from then on it ran strongly in favor of the conservative.

The vote was taken a few minutes before 6 o'clock and was two to one against the strike.

Although the tone of the resolution was one of compromise, it was a step toward preventing the strike's further spread through the recognized railroad organizations, the officers being only one step away from a tendency toward bringing back into the fold members of the affiliated organizations who have already gone out.

The resolution, which states that the members of the department are not to become involved in any stoppage of service, was adopted by a vote of 700 to 100.

Wharton announced today that with the back of the railroad movement broken the convention will proceed to carry out its duties without anticipating any further disturbances. Wharton may be called upon to meet the board of the department. At that event, Jewell will again become acting president of the department.

Johnson Is Sensation of Illinois State Primaries

Over 40,000 in Cook County Alone Write in Californian's Name on Ballot--Louden Beats Wood in Total Votes Received

CHICAGO, April 14.—Governor Frank O. Louden today in the winner of the presidential endorsement of the republican party in Illinois, his plurality in Tuesday's primaries in more than 80,000, according to the latest returns.

The victory over General Leonard Wood, his nearest competitor, is a clean one, however. Governor Louden's victory was not a clean one, however. Governor Louden's victory was not a clean one, however.

In the democratic primaries, Louden won by a plurality of 27,221 over Wood. The delegates follow the preference vote cast:

Candidate	Wood	Louden	Johnson
Wood	87,511	18,200	105,877
Louden	64,241	14,000	78,241
Johnson	27,221	5,200	40,421

The following are complete returns from the Cook County ten congressional districts, which include the majority of Illinois' big manufacturing plants:

Wood 87,511
Louden 64,241
Johnson 27,221

Eight delegates at large remain to be named by the state G. O. P. convention to be held at Springfield on May 10. They will probably elect by the preferential vote and indirect election.

Another powerful factor enters into the situation, however. In the sweepstakes registered by Mayor Thompson and his city hall machine in Chicago, the Thompson candidates for ward committees won in all but one of the thirty-five wards of the city, a landslide. It is declared that the Thompson machine is in control of G. O. P. political machinery in the state and his re-election as republican national committee chairman is a foregone conclusion.

Bitter Warfare Cannot Be Avoided In Sonora

NOGALES, Ariz., April 14.—All hope of a peaceful settlement of the rebellion of Mexico without bitter revolutionary warfare was given up by the American government today. Heavy mobilization of the Sonoran state troops and wholesale confiscation of all manner of supplies for the "red" army are in progress.

YARDMEN BODY IS COATED MAY VOTE TO RETURN TO WORK

NEW YORK, April 14.—The long suffering yardmen, satirized in the funny columns, gave a demonstration of their spirit today in the form of a "breaking" the strike in the passenger service department of the Erie and Jersey Central railroads.

Some twenty trains loaded with suburban business men were brought, into the yards of Allentown, Pa., by volunteers—brokers, lawyers, engineers, and other professional men. The trains were loaded with suburban business men.

Prussia's Mailed Fist Is Seen Again On Rhine

FRANKFURT, April 14.—(Belatedly) Leaders of the German government in the Ruhr district are being unmercifully executed as they are captured by the French. Many of the captured leaders are being taken to Belgium where the German government troops began their advance on the Ruhr district.

Elements of the Reichwehr were withdrawn from the Ruhr district for the purpose of "evacuating the Ruhr district whenever they desire." The German government is convinced that the German government troops in the Ruhr district are as long as possible, hoping to prevent French dislocations that may result. The French are tightening their military restrictions at Frankfurt. Franco-Belgian cavalry detachments were reported to have been seen south of the Ruhr.

There has been no further fighting. Most of the arms and ammunition of the communists have been surrendered. The German government troops could withdraw from the Ruhr district immediately if they wanted. The communists are being urged to do to prevent disorders would be to stop the shipment of arms and ammunition to the district.

WOMEN HURRY TO COURT

CHICAGO, April 14.—A feminine jury will hear the "other woman" case which opens in probate court this afternoon when W. H. Shriver told Miss Hilder are brought to trial of a complaint filed by Mrs. Shriver. Miss Hilder, a twin sister of Shriver, was selected for the jury this morning and she will pick the "other woman" who is being accused of seducing Shriver's wife.

According to the sheriff's office the two were getting along nicely with the "other woman" who is being accused of seducing Shriver's wife.

By JACK VEIOCK.
NEW YORK, April 14.—Baseball took the center of the sport again today as the certain word was given for the start of the season in the major leagues. Optimism was the keynote among managers and fans alike.
The successful comeback of the national pastime in 1919 swept aside all doubt regarding the popularity or stability of the world's greatest professional sport and the season which opened today promises a return of the game to the successful plane it occupied before the Federal league and world war dealt it such crushing blows.
Advance reports from the eight major league cities in which opening games were scheduled today indicate that the "teams" will be greeted by capacity crowds, with bright weather prevailing.

In the National League the opening games in New York, Cincinnati and St. Louis were scheduled to open at 7:30 p. m. The Cincinnati game attracted monster crowds. The Giants, always popular, were scheduled to meet the Boston Braves and a turnout of 10,000 was predicted. At the opening of the opening day crowd.
At Cincinnati, the world's champion Reds and Chicago Cubs took the field. Pat Moran's team was assured of a greeting by the biggest meeting in the city.
At St. Louis, the Cardinals and the Browns were scheduled to meet. The Cardinals were expected to draw a large crowd.
At Cleveland, the Indians were expected to draw a large crowd.
At Boston, the Braves were expected to draw a large crowd.
At Philadelphia, the Athletics were expected to draw a large crowd.
At Washington, the Senators were expected to draw a large crowd.
At Chicago, the White Sox were expected to draw a large crowd.
At Detroit, the Tigers were expected to draw a large crowd.
At St. Louis, the Cardinals were expected to draw a large crowd.
At Cincinnati, the Reds were expected to draw a large crowd.
At New York, the Yankees were expected to draw a large crowd.

The majors were not alone in ushering in the baseball season. The American Association, one of the country's three class A minor leagues, also opened its season today. The association will play one of the longest schedules in its history, having drawn a total of 162 games. The opening games were played with Columbus in Louisville, Toledo in Indianapolis, St. Paul in Milwaukee and Minneapolis in Kansas City.
As the eleven major league teams start their pennant races with millions of fans throughout the country looking on, interest in the pastime reached the highest point. The winning of the 1919 pennant by Wegener's team and the sensational signing of the Cincinnati Reds and Cleveland Indians got away in a flying start. It got away in the hitting counts for Cardinals and Yankees.
The popularity of these two teams, however, has not turned the heads of the big army of seasoned fans, who realize that the Reds will find the team of Claude, Pincus and Heinemann very much in the way of their own team to repeat.
In the American League 10 champions "White Sox" were actually counted out of the running before they have had an opportunity to show their strength. Cleveland, New York and Detroit, out to maintain the crown, will have to contend with the White Sox to hold the title of champions.
Interest in the New York Yankees centered today on the burly shoulders of Babe Ruth, champion swifter of home runs, who made his bow for the first time in a championship game as a member of the New Yorks.
"Tutts" Pennington for working right field with his chances to shatter his own home run record by hitting many long drives into the stands and right field bleachers at the Polo Grounds this season were timely, as they snuff the fans. And fan club did not forget that Ty Cobb and Eddie Rouseff, champion leaders of the major league last year, had to get out to lead all rivals once again in getting the horseshoe.

THE CHALLENGER FROM FRANCE

Being the Story of the Career of Georges Carpentier, Europe's Boxing Idol, Who Has Invaded Our Shores to Seek the Fistic Title Held by Jack Dempsey

SEVENTH INSTALLMENT

By JACK VEIOCK,
International News Service Sporting Editor.

Having conquered the best heavyweights in the world, Carpentier's defense in London. With the ring of the first fight in the district, Carpentier was developed on his own side of the Atlantic determined to annihilate the French who was a target. But before the war was in its first minute of boxing, he made out in 1914 he was destined for a career as a professional boxer. He had two worthy American heavyweights, one of whom defeated him in the first round. He was a native of France, but he had spent much of his life in America. He had been a member of the French army, and he had been a member of the French navy. He had been a member of the French air force. He had been a member of the French coast guard. He had been a member of the French gendarmerie. He had been a member of the French police. He had been a member of the French fire department. He had been a member of the French army of engineers. He had been a member of the French army of medical services. He had been a member of the French army of transport services. He had been a member of the French army of postal services. He had been a member of the French army of telegraph services. He had been a member of the French army of telephone services. He had been a member of the French army of railway services. He had been a member of the French army of postal services. He had been a member of the French army of telegraph services. He had been a member of the French army of telephone services. He had been a member of the French army of railway services.

Following his bout with Jeanette, which taught Carpentier more than he had ever known before about the American style of boxing and tactics, he knocked out three opponents in a row, winning over George Mitchell, Hubert Lee and Phillip Robinson. In a total of seven rounds, he was then matched with Gusman Smith and French boxing was being held in the United States. Carpentier's career was now being watched with great interest in the United States. He was now being watched with great interest in the United States. He was now being watched with great interest in the United States.

When it was announced that Carpentier had agreed to take on Smith, who at the time was the leading "hair hunter" in the world, many thought he had made a serious mistake. Smith was never much of a scientist in the ring, but he was always a rugged, hard hitting, aggressive brawler and a big majority of the devotees on this side of the Atlantic, at least, were anxious to see the "Gonzo's" knock George out.
In England and France, however, some devotees who had seen the French fight and who were not his favorite over Smith in the belt.

After several applications the hair usually stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff. Help your hair grow strong, thick and long and become soft, glossy and twice as beautiful and abundant.

L.O.O.F. LODGE HOLDS MEETING

Plans Outlined for District Convention to Take Place Here April 29

A meeting of Colfax encampment of the Odd Fellows lodge took place last evening in Odd Fellows hall, attended by 11 members of the Haskell lodge, at which a business and social session was held. A good crowd was present.

On April 27 members of the Twin Falls lodge plan to go to Haseton to visit that lodge. A goodly number of the members turned out here last night and the Twin Falls Odd Fellows think they are entitled to a return visit.

Bad Teeth Make Backward Children

MANY diseases from which both old and young suffer are directly or indirectly caused by decayed teeth and diseased gums. Without good teeth, food cannot be properly chewed, and is therefore not properly digested. Indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation and other troubles are often caused by bad teeth. To effect a cure, the mouth must be put in good order.

The best time to begin is childhood. No boy or girl can make progress in school unless the teeth are in a healthful condition. Bad teeth keep anybody from going ahead.

Parents are advised to bring their children to the examination and practice to Registered Dentist using the E. R. Parker System. A little work done early often saves a lot of work being done later, and keeps the child in better health. Neglect never pays.

STANDARDIZED EDUCATION

Standardization of high schools in the territory between Ohio and Colorado, from the Canadian border to as far south as Kentucky and Missouri, was advocated by a convention of college and high school instructors in Chicago recently. The proposal contemplates opening those reforms which every parent will uphold. The high schools of the entire country should be standardized.

Parents moving from one city to another find to their embarrassment that high schools are conducted differently in different places. The curricula vary to such an extent that students are unable to finish the course in the time ordinarily set, or are unable to do so only by dint of excessive study, extra classes, and, in some instances, by costly outside tutoring. Credits are lost because no school does not provide for certain studies which others demand, or because one school gives a certain course in the first year and another offers the same study in the fifth year. In one school one subject is a requirement, in another it is not recognized at all.

In addition, completion of a high school course in one place is the open sesame to certain colleges, while another school is not recognized. This is unfair to the student who is obliged to change schools during his preparatory course.

At high school studies should be standardized, and every school should follow the same course at the same time. Every diploma from a high school should thereupon afford entrance to any college. It is apparent, however, that to get standardized so complete there must be unification of the educational system of the country. This, of course, leads to the problem of a national department of education, with its responsible head a member of the president's cabinet.

The street lighting commissioner in Cleveland complains that automobiles have done $6000 worth of damage to lamp posts the past winter by running into them. We should think he might try putting lights on the posts.

Maybe Mr. Bryan is right when he says he "owes a debt of gratitude to the American people." They've not only let him talk to them, but given him a good living and three homes for doing it.

Congress is now wondering how we're going to make peace with Germany. The way things are drifting, it may soon be a question of making peace with our allies.

Now that the United States senate has recognized Ireland's right to independence, that matter is settled—just as much as the treaty is.

SSK shirts are becoming so common, anybody who wants to be aristocratic will soon have to wear cotton.

Auto-Factories Forced to Close

DETROIT, April 23.—The full import of the railway workers' strike was brought home to industrial Detroit today when half of the largest manufacturing plants were closed down for want of power as a result of the Detroit Edison company cutting off all electricity for its plant on account of lack of fuel.

Among the largest plants today are the Fisher Body corporation, 15,000 men; Hudson Motor Car company, 8500; Cadillac Motor Car company, 6000; Studebaker corporation, 5000; and Thomson Axel corporation, 4500. The Ford plant generates its own power and can continue to operate another week.

The food situation is getting worse hourly. Meats and many vegetables such as potatoes and corn have advanced 100 per cent or more in the last 48 hours. The federal grain jury will convey tomorrow to investigate this profiteering by retailers.

"DRY" DRIVE IS ON IN DUNDEE

Children to Parade in Campaign to Stop Sale of Liquor in Scottish Town

DUNDEE, Scotland, April 23.—Three thousand children, each one with a flag, led by bands and banners, marched through the streets of Dundee, Scotland, today, dressed in white, carrying a banner which has the following inscription: "Vote for 'No License' next time the 'Glasgow' comes."

This is the purpose that we've set before us, and we'll be sure to do it. Sweep out the drink and our city is free."

The "good conduct" party was to do it, too, it was said, but the police there is, indeed, a strong likelihood that Dundee will see a prohibition of some kind in the near future.

Dundee is far from being directly in the number of public houses, but it has a long and a reputation for heavy liquor taking which any inquirer can confirm by observation. There has lately been an increase of drunkenness among the women an advance of 50 per cent over the figures of a year ago. The general class of bar is lower than in any other part of the country. It is possible, understanding how some of them can find customers, so completely unattractive are they and the drink itself. Yet these women are crowded through the licensed hours of opening.

Public houses are being hounded home on the electric by the hanged citizens. Committees have been formed in each ward and 2000 canvassers are going round from house to house talking child welfare, national health, and the civic conduct, and a heavy amount of capricious literature is being distributed. The voters in Dundee number 42,000, of whom 35,000 are women, and the women are going to vote. They will secure practically a solid women's vote.

Large employers of labor are not bearing any conspicuous part in the temperance propaganda, but a number of them are giving financial support. They argue that no public houses will mean more unemployment and more crime than the present Dundee man-made.

The "No License" crusade is only one of the many things which have captured Scotland today. It is to follow, while England is to be attacked in the interval.

At a certain time, it is constantly crossing the trail of America while investigating the claims of Scottish dryness. Overseas forces are not yet in the thick but they are spreading behind the lines; they will come eventually. Various persons from the United States, with strong accents and distinct foreign accents, are appearing around addressing small meetings at Glasgow.

COLLEGE HEN IS SUPERIOR LAYER

Value of Education Demonstrated by Orpington Pullet at State University

MOSKOW, April 11.—Professors in eggs would have their difficulties. If all hens were an Orpington pullet, as in the case of a White Orpington pullet owned by the poultry department of the University of Idaho. Two eggs a day and 22 per cent alcohol in 49 days in this extraordinary hen, carefully authenticated record.

Paul February 17 this P. was kept in a pen with a number of other pullets, but on that date she was separated and transported in order that an honest production record might be kept. The industrious pullet subsisted during three days in the period of her fast, but promptly made her deductions forgotten by producing 20 eggs on succeeding days.

All of this P. eggs have been saved for tests in the poultry department laboratory. If it can be demonstrated that her production is reliable, there may be a tremendous demand for White Orpington pullets from the university flock.

Hubby Held Paposes Squaw Got a Divorce

HONOLULU, Ore., April 23.—Indian marriages, in accordance with the custom of the white man, are unusual in the western country.

And divorce cases among Sandwichers are very rare, indeed.

But Hood River county has one on record, by which Alice Date gained her freedom.

In some respects, however, the case was no more unusual than it was usual.

For Alice—like the ordinary condition of other lines—was received by her husband, Alice Date, and received him.

And the plaintiff's divorce was secured upon the grounds of desertion—and another woman.

A colorful sidelight on the case revealed to the jurist, six Indian women, a single brave and a whole flock of paposes, filed into the courtroom with the copper-colored plaintiff, and when she was summoned to the witness stand, all of the women went with her, leaving the children in the rear of the room with the defendant.

ADVISES PLANTING BEETS FOR H. C. L.

Prices Then, Declares Experts of U. of Idaho

MOSCOW, April 14.—Idahoans who wish to take some of the sting out of high sugar prices by making beet sugar crop for home consumption in the fall should attend at once the planting of beets to market through the University of Idaho's horticultural department.

Early planting is advised particularly in the non-irrigated sections, where it is necessary to take advantage of surface moisture. Ground which is not too rich, fine, firm seed bed, rows 20 inches apart and sowing at a depth of from one-half to an inch are declared to be the essential first steps.

To be made at the university show that a bushel of beets, 30 to 40 pounds, will make approximately three quarts of a high grade sugar which makes a very good eating and drinking beverage. It can be readily substituted for at least a part of the sugar and used in making dark cakes and cookies and certain kinds of preserves.

A circular on the making of both apple and sugar beet sirups is now being prepared by university workers and will be ready for distribution in the near future.

WILL EXPERIMENT CORN BREEDING

Substation at Caldwell Will See Investigation by Professor of Farm Crops Bureau

MOSCOW, April 14.—With the view of producing a high-yielding variety of corn particularly suited to the needs of southwestern Idaho, H. W. Roberts of the University of Idaho farm crops department expects to begin his new venture at the Caldwell substation experiment farm in a series of investigations in corn breeding.

Although it is undoubtedly true that there are a number of good local strains in southwestern Idaho, said Professor Roberts, "we believe that a well-adapted, well-bred variety will prove distinctly valuable. We will attempt to obtain a large number of local strains and grow them side by side for comparative yield and grain yields. Growers who wish to have their own particular strains included in the tests may do so by sending 10 typical ears to the university farm crops department before May 1.

First Alaskan "Baby" Gets Heritage

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 23.—Miss Mae Edgren of this city, the first white child born in Dawson, Alaska, during the gold rush in 1898, has just come into the inheritance provided for her at the time of her birth.

Dawson celebrated Little Mae's arrival. A collection was taken up in the city after the inheritance had been divided along with several revolutionary leaders. The inheritance of death was held up by Frederick Burt, but the soldiers who did the shooting claimed Dennis was trying to escape when they fired.

The bag of gold was left with a Madison bank, in trust when Mae reached 21. The gold was sent to the Federal Mint at Washington and coined. The coins recently reached Miss Edgren.

PYTHIAN CONVENTION AT GOODING IS BRILLIANT EVENT IN HISTORY OF ENTERPRISING NORTHSIDE CITY

Shoshone Team Victor in Contest—Siggins Is Elected Chairman for District—Attend Theater in Evening

Arriving with them report of a "lovely" time, but also of the loss of the "loving cup awarded to the best team of the night to the Historic Knights of Pythias convention at Gooding returned this morning.

The temporary possession of the loving cup was awarded to the Los Angeles of Shoshone. The Shoshone team captured premier honors in the competitive work in the Knight rank, which was a feature of the session.

The Twin Falls team had won possession of the cup the last time. They had only to win the prize this time to obtain permanent possession of it. It is necessary to win first prize three successive times in order to permanently retain possession of the cup.

W. A. Minick, who went to Gooding, stated this morning that the regular Twin Falls team was unable to compete and that a makeshift one contended, this fact accounting for the defeat.

About 150 people were present at the meeting, Shoshone, Gooding, High Falls and the various Pythias lodges delegations. Huper, Talley and Mountain Home were unable to send representatives.

C. C. Siggins was chosen district chairman for the ensuing year, while the late E. H. H. Shoshone was elected vice chairman. Mr. Minick presided over the ball security theater. The next meeting of the lodges of the district will take place at High Falls next year, the exact date not yet being set.

A fine supper was enjoyed at the dining room of the Hotel, which is the new Gooding theater at the request of Frank Gooding. Mr. Minick stated that it was the finest and most elaborately decorated show house that he had ever seen. The lighting system, he said, was particularly noticeable although the entire house would do credit to a town three times the size. The seating capacity, he esti-

Ball Restored to Health Four Years Ago by Taking Tonic—Good Effects Continue

"I was entirely relieved of my troubles four years ago by taking and have enjoyed the best of health ever since," declared Edward J. Hall, a broker farmer who lives on Route 2, Box 8, Duluth, Minn.

"Two years ago I had the usual ailment of indigestion and flatulence," continued Mr. Hall, "what little I managed to eat would sour on my stomach and I was so nauseated after every eating that I could not retain a thing. I would suffer terribly from gas and, in addition to my indigestion, I was filled with rheumatism in my legs, and lame joints and got in such a bad fix I could hardly get up and down.

"After trying a lot of other things which did me no good, I started taking Tonic and, believe me, I soon felt like a new man. My appetite came back and my bowels were regular. I wanted without it hurting me the least bit. The rheumatism left me entirely and, as I stated before, although this was four or five years ago, I have had a trace of bad health since. I always keep Tonic in the house and now in a little take a little of it in my legs, and my joints are in fine shape and I am always recommending it to someone."

How to Keep Baby Smiling and Well

See that the daily functions are regular.

YOU can't expect the little ones to be happy and play full when the liquid feeds dull and the stomach bores. The normal habit of children is to be happy and when you notice them grow away from you usually find constipation is responsible.

Perhaps they have missed that daily function so necessary to comfort and health. Look at the tongue and see if the breath is foul. Watch for belching. Those are the tell-tale symptoms of constipation. Tonight give a little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin which you can buy at any drug store, and it will act in the morning and the troublesome symptoms promptly disappear.

In case of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best liquid laxative in the world, there being over a million bottles sold each year, many who had tried other laxatives had not yet used it. If you have one, send your name and address for a free trial. It can also be given to a tiny baby with perfect safety. Thousands of American families would not think of being without a bottle in the house for the emergency, as it is needed almost daily when it is needed.
