Modern Bluebeard Married and Slew Full Score Wives

LOS ANGELES, April 15. J. H. (Blue Beard) Watson, mystery man of many aliases and multifarious wives, will be confronted today with evidence and confounding questions seeking to throw light on the strange disappearance of five or six of the twenty women he is said to have married.

One of the developments most startling today was the addition of another "wife" to those who are believed to have met death at the bluebeard's hands. The woman is Mrs. Florence Sherrill of Spokane, Wash. She married Watson under the name of Lewis some time ago, mortgaged her property in Spokane, and disappeared from sight, as four others appear to have done.

$100 ENOUGH FOR THIS YEAR'S CLOTHES

Detroit Association Finds That Amount is Plenty to Dress Average Man

DETROIT, Mich., April 13.—Replica from sixty questionnaires selected at random from banks sent out some time ago by the Working Housewives' Association, according to Mrs. Hattie C. Lee, head of the association, support the contention that a man in average circumstances can dress for approximately $100 a year, even in these days of the high cost of clothes. The number, on made-out by Mrs. Lee, calls for an overcoat for $28 to last three years, one suit of $25.82, an extra pair of trousers, $16.57; two pairs of overalls, $2.25; two light shirts, $3.98; four colored shirts $4.72; two pairs shoes, $10.24; with $23.99 for repairs, one pair hatters, $1.42; eight pairs socks $2.44; two heavy union suits, $2.44; three light ones, $1.50; two sets sleeping garments, $3.84; suspenders, 60 cents; four collars, $1.20 neckties, $1; one pair gloves, .90 cents; two hats, $6.25; umbrellas, 50 cents. Total, $101.20.

One questionnaire filled out by a salaried man earning $2,060 a year, with an additional income of $21 a month from a house, estimates the amount spent by himself for clothing at $115 a month, with $15 for his wife and $18 for his seventeen-year-old son. This family pays $26 a month house rent, and $60 covers the cost of food in the home, with $45 for outside meals.

A common laborer earning $130 a month has a wife and seven children to support. House rent costs $25. The food estimate is $38 in the home and outside. The billings are divided into $6 a month for the husband, $12 for the wife, and $14.65 for the seven children.

DISPUTES CLAIM MISS ANTHONY WAS THE FIRST ONE TO VOTE

Bay City Man Says Miss Alice Dean Cast Ballot in Michigan in 1872

BAY CITY, Mich., April 13.—James Van Kleeck, of Bay City, doubts the claim that Susan B. Anthony was the first woman voter. He says that if she was it was only because the Rochester, N. Y., election of 1872 was held a few hours earlier than the Michigan election that year.

"At the election of 1872 Miss Alice Dean was the first woman to vote," said Mr. Van Kleeck. "In that year I was a member of the Michigan election board."

Miss Dean, accompanied by her father, appeared at the polls and offered her vote. The question of receiving it was submitted to the board, which decided that Miss Dean was competent to vote as any other man standing around the polls and her vote was received.

"I am the only member of that board who lived to see the state adopt woman suffrage and the United States prepared to do likewise," Mr. Van Kleeck said. "No member of the board ever regretted permitting Miss Dean to vote."

The dramatic effort of Susan B. Anthony to secure what she regarded as her right to vote, following study of the Fourteenth amendment, resulted in her arrest, as well as that of fourteen other women at Rochester in November, 1872. She was held guilty and ordered to furnish $500 bail. Miss Anthony refused and applied for a writ of habeas corpus. She never paid the fine and no effort was made to force her to do so.

POLISH SOLDIERS MARCH TO FRONT BARRICADED

WARSAW, April 13.—The suffering in Poland this winter due to shoe shortage is beyond calculation. In three weeks, the army is exposed, pneumonia and death. The whole leather and boot industry has been wrecked by the war, and even the task of providing footwear for the army is more than the government can handle. Soldiers marching to the front their feet wrapped in straw or rags, are a common sight. Shoes for civilians are almost impossible to buy. One poor woman who had secured a job at shoving sidewalk came to the American Red Cross to ask for shoes. "One would do all right," she meekly explained. "One for my shovelfoot. I have rags now for the left."

FUTURIST ART PERPLEXES CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 13.—Chicago's art circle is just recovering from the effects of a raging controversy caused by the chief painting in an exhibit of futurist art at the Art Institute here. The painting is one of a pair of unclad young women, both doubled up as though suffering from an attack of acute dyspepsia, and with one of them apparently walking up the other's vertebrae in an effort to stand on her companion's head. A background of multi-colored squares, triangles and other geometric figures, hopelessly entangled, completes the picture.

On receiving the picture the curators of the institute hung it up long white horizontal, and thereupon the debate started. Adam Emory Albright, a well known local artist, maintained that the picture had been designed for the title, "Dynamite Explosion in a Bathhouse," while Walter Wier, another artist, stoutly maintained that it was intended to represent "Nymphs at Leap Frog." Other artists divided into two camps over the argument, and at last the exhibitor was called in to settle it.

"It represents 'The Lure of Water,'" he declared. "And this would have been perfect plain had the picture been hung as it was intended, long and horizontal."

CREDITORS SALVATION ARMY WITH PREVENTING SUICIDES

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 12.—"If you are contemplating suicide call on the Salvation Army—and you'll change your mind," is the advice of police department officials here.

Credit for reducing suicides in St. Louis 75 per cent or more was given the Salvation Army by police and attaches of the coroner's office. Extra uniformed and plain clothes policemen who used to be placed on St. Louis bridges over the Mississippi river to halt people about to take their own lives are not needed any more, it was asserted.

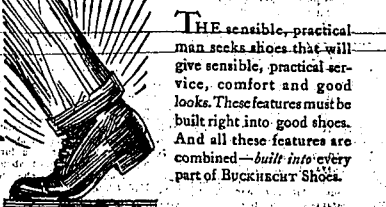

Capt. Vincent Cunningham, head of the Anti-suicide bureau of the Salvation Army here, asserted today that the seven thousand "such" persons throughout the country had averted 100,000 suicides in the last year.

"Suicide is the first treatment given dependents about to 'jump off,'" Cunningham asserted.

What Are You Going to Do About Your Catarrh?

Improper Treatment Leads to a Serious Stage.

Because you have doubtless been fairly comfortable through the mild summer months, and free from the soreness and irritation of the membranes, do not make the mistake of thinking that you are cured of your Catarrh. For if you suffered with this disease last winter, it will again be with you in all its severity unless you have eliminated entirely from the blood the germs which cause the disease.

Are you going to further complicate with a disease that leads to such a serious condition? Don't know that you can use only a few drops upon gallons of local treatment without the slightest permanent benefit? Let give the matter a little careful thought, and you will realize that it is but a waste of time and money, besides seriously jeopardizing your health, to continue a method of treatment that has been proven of little value in making any real progress toward genuine health.

First, of all things, what causes your Catarrh? Is it merely a local irritation and inflammation of the delicate lining of the nose, throat and air passages, then you might reasonably expect to be cured by the use of local remedies. But have you ever known of one single person to be freed from the slavery of Catarrh by any kind of local treatment?

Why? Simply because they have overlooked the cause of these symptoms, and hence the treatment has been misdirected. Remove the cause of the clogged up passages, and the mucus will naturally disappear for good. But no matter how many local applications you use to temporarily effect their away, they promptly reappear and will continue to do so until their cause is removed.

But if you will take a treatment that goes right down to the very source of the disease and attacks it at its starting point, then you are on the right track, and can expect results. S. S. S., the fine old fifty-year old blood remedy is an antidote you use to temporarily effect their away, they promptly reappear and will continue to do so until their cause is removed.

EVENING GOWN SEIZURE FOR ADAM-ER PROBECTION

LONDON, April 13.—A theatrical producer was asked why he had never tried stating any of the intricate plots about the Garden of Eden, says the Daily Mirror, and he replied that the difficulty would be in convincing our parents "before the fact."

"That would be such difficult," said the Mirror again.

"Wouldn't many of the costumes that now pass for dresses do pretty well as the coverings of Adam and Eve?" Why some of the ordinary "one-piece" dresses would almost meet the case."

LIVING COST PERPLEXES ENGLAND

Member of Parliament Says Economic Questions Are Paramount Issues

LONDON, April 13.—Practical politics in England will largely turn on economic questions for the next five years. Prices, wages, profits and the high cost of living are the live political issues which will determine the fate of Governments.

Five years' wastage of war, five years of unparalleled destruction of wealth and dislocation of industry cannot be repaired as soon as peace comes.

It is not the inflation of the currency nor the lack of transport that is the real cause of the high prices of today, but the simple fact that in every necessity of civilized life, the productive efficiency of the world has still to be restored, and the wastage of war has still to be made good.

Two immediate remedies have been proposed, and the continually being urged upon the people of this country. I believe that both are unsound.

First, there is the remedy proposed by the extremists of the Labor Party—that we should check excessive profits altogether, that we should nationalize the industries of the country in the hope that out of that freedom experiment a satisfactory system will be evolved.

At the other extreme are the people who urge that the old doctrine of freedom of trade, freedom of competition, the complete removal of all restrictions and controls, is the sound economic method of lowering prices.

The Krus remedy will be found somewhere between the extremes advocated by the Labor Party on the one hand, and the great trading interests on the other. We shall not nationalize our industries, and so destroy the commercial system upon which our wealth and prosperity have grown during the centuries.

Nor can it be necessary, on the other hand, that the trusts and combines and the profit-takers should be given a free hand to exploit the public as they please.

Some middle path of safety and wisdom must be found. There must be some form of supervision and control, extended over prices and profits, to the benefit of the consumer.

LONDON, April 12.—Aeroplane jetneys, carrying one passenger besides the pilot, with a speed of 110 miles an hour and able to keep in the air five hours, the machine costing but $700, are predicted as possible and practical. It may be just possible in the space of the future Mr. Handley Page, noted aeroplane designer and manufacturer.

Mr. Page says his research and experimental department has proved such a machine is feasible any time the public demand for it develops. It would weigh 25 horse-power.

In America, Mr. Page says, automobiles soon will be so numerous that they will have to become congested and that the aeroplane is the only alternative for those who demand comfort, speed and the ability to travel quickly.

Mr. Page, who developed the largest and most powerful multiple-engine flying machine, believes the aeroplane of the future will be light on one, owing to lowered cost of operation. An aeroplane jetney, he says, can be as cheap as its road sister.

DADAIST ART IS SCORNED IN LONDON

Critics Scoff at New School of Picture Makers From Switzerland

LONDON, April 14.—Even London artists, art circles and they can no more far-fall to get the idea of the "Dadaists."

The Dadaists are holding forth over in Switzerland, whence come the "Dada" accounts of their art exhibits.

Three large chunks of wood, one orange, one blue and one green, placed on a background of multicolored brush-branded carpet tacks and four hundred and a postage stamp gazed lovingly at the two boys' hats and a piece of embroidery in the foreground.

Of another, said a Dadaist: "That is a beautiful portrait in a landscape."

And the correspondent avers this is what he saw: "Some triangular pieces of colored paper with a few fragments of copper wire, a cabbage stalk and several toothpicks, arranged here and there in artistic confusion."

Who in what is "Dada" any way? London's advanced artists are asking.

HAVE YOU PICKED UP A CHICK, CERISE COPPIN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—To be buried in a black coffin isn't stylish. Take pink, carmine, red, blue, lavender, purple and white—these colors are most in demand nowadays.

Sometimes we get an order for a striped coffin, or a green one. Vincent asserted, "The color usually is in accordance with the last will of the deceased."

Almost every variety of coffin now sells for five times the price of a few years ago, Vincent said. The strictly modern, hermetically sealed bronze casket brings $2,500 wholesale.

Usually it is an old man who thinks his relatives will properly look after his burial," said Vincent.
