WAR'S TRACES PASSING IN FRANCE

Civilian Costumes Replace Soldier Uniforms in Streets of Paris

PARIS, May 8.—The man in blue has almost entirely disappeared from France as a civilian costume. He has been replaced those of war. So gradual has been the transition from war to peace during the last summer season that it scarcely has been noticed. But spring has brought the crowd out into the boulevards, the bigger cities and has brought the country's male population back into the fields. For the first time since 1914 a traveler might walk in the streets of Paris without seeing a man in the uniform of the French republic and for the first time that there has been a man in a blue uniform.

Strangely enough the American seem to furnish a very large share of the men in uniform seen on the streets in Paris. There were always plenty of them last summer season. The last man in khaki I saw was a man from Gay Paree, but they are still here, very conspicuous in their numbers. They include men attached to the reparations and other commission headquarters at 7 Rue Taitel officers attached to the graves' registration service, men passing through customs or coming back from the Army of Occupation on leave or official business, and scores of Red Cross workers who will wear their American uniform.

Certainly the Americans run second to the French, and a certain number exist in any of the big Paris restaurants on any night will generally show a proportionately large number of French. But no scarce has become the habit of the American soldier in the French capital that many a night in the crowds of dinner in Ciro's, Maxine's, the Casino de Paris, or any of the big Paris restaurants will not contain a single uniformed fighting man. A year ago they filled the tables.

The appearance of a squad of police in the streets is such an event that I never all stop to see what is happening. Generally it is a squad attached to some medical unit on the way to a military hospital. Even at the races, where soldiers and officers come by the thousands a year ago, few military men in sight are seen but the crowd. Only the cadets and some of the big military bands are conspicuous in their high caps with brilliant plumes.

Quite a number of British officers and Tommies still may be seen on the streets, along with a few Italian, some Serbs and a Rumanian or two. But the Benozes, the Moroccans, the Chinese laboring troops, the Greeks and all that queer band that make Paris the most picturesque city of the world during the war.

It is in the small towns and the open country that the transition is most striking to one who has seen rural or provincial France in time of war. This spring, for the first time in many years, the fields are being filled not by women, old men and boys, but by soldiers. The little hotels, the little restaurants, the little shops, the little houses of France are crowded with bands and war, are back in battle bands.

And in top it all, the last female taxi driver in France has just quit her job to marry her sweetheart, back from the Balkan war.

IMPROVED 'WEDDING' OF 'YOUTHFUL PAIR IS BROKEN UP'

PUEBLO, Col., May 8.—The romance of John Hartman, fifteen, and Margaret Hill, twelve, has been shattered and the youthful "room-mates" prosecuted by juvenile court authorities. The wedding of the young couple living as man and wife in a humble shack on the outskirts of the city.

Young Hartman and the Hill girl were engaged by their parents through coaxing of the city was investigated by police, who were given a full report by the girl's father, William Johnson, who was recognized as Miss Hill's father who was putting in the "where is Joe Hartman?" the officer asked.

HUGE OIL PLANT BEING BUILT FOR GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON, May 8.—For the purpose of distributing oil throughout the country as needed large refineries and storage tanks are being erected at a place called Skewon about five miles from Swansea. It is understood that the plant is being backed by the British Government, which owns a large interest in the Anglo-Ferrous Oil Company, the organization which is erecting the plant.

It is intended to bring the crude oil from certain ports to the Skewon port in the tank steamers owned by the Anglo-Ferrous Oil Co. and then pumped through direct to the Skewon works for refinement. It will then be pumped to other parts of the country and will not be touched other than by mechanical means during the entire process.

Over 400 acres of land have been set apart for the factory site in Skewon and for the building of the refinery, workmen's cottages, supply stores, canteens and a model home. It is estimated that the cost of the plant will be very great, but the company has estimated that the fuel and charges alone will amount to about $400,000 per annum.

PINT FLASK OF LIQUOR CAUSES GRIEF IN TOWN

ST. LOUIS, May 8.—A curious wife of a man who was a member of a past day, known as "Whiskey," caused a lot of trouble for the town of Old Union, Mo., last night.

Mr. W. C. Caldwell found the pint of beverage, which old inhabitants of the town had hidden away in a place possessing unusual properties which created a feeling of happiness and privacy that was not to be broken in the rear of her home.

By the usual system of search and seizure only when she is said to have glanced from her husband an acknowledgment of ownership of the bottle also information which conveyed through various channels to the St. Louis revenue office, resulted in custodian the law seeking and bringing into court the wife of John Whelan, who in the first place is said to have been proprietor of an establishment known as "Whiskey."

With Whelan to St. Louis came one-third of the population of Old Union, Mo., and many "respectable" citizens, all of whom did solemnly testify to the existence of the bottle and the fact that they were not the guilty of selling the ancient beverage.

Considering that business activities in Old Union had ceased while the most active element of the population neglected their municipal duties to prosecute the defendant, the court was wont to believe their assertions and freed the accused.

CALIFORNIA MAY DEEDS OF 'FAMILIES DETAIN HIS FAULTY'

BOSTON, May 8.—One of the most pathetic cases in the annals of the local immigration bureau came to light in the death in a Providence hospital of Manuel Amador, of Irvington, Cal. With Amador's death came the news that his wife and five children, the oldest seven, who had just come to this country with him from their home in the Azores.

BERLIN GROWS SHABBY AS VICE AND CRIME INCREASE

BERLIN, May 8.—When night falls in Berlin it hides the squalor, dirt and filth of the city. The only light is that of the gas lamps and the street lamps. The city is a mass of black and white, and the streets are a mass of black and white. The city is a mass of black and white, and the streets are a mass of black and white.

Life was earnest, but exceedingly cheap. There is a great deal of vice and crime in Berlin, and the streets are a mass of black and white. The city is a mass of black and white, and the streets are a mass of black and white.

Berlin is badly served by vice and crime. The city is a mass of black and white, and the streets are a mass of black and white. The city is a mass of black and white, and the streets are a mass of black and white.

The walls in Unter den Linden and other principal streets are covered with graffiti and signs of the population. They become dirty and torn.

TELLS REASON 'FW WOMEN MAKE FUN OF JAMBOREES'

Actress Asserts Sense of Humor Boys of Many Nations Will Come to London—200 Going from United States

By MISS LEE WHITE. Noted British Actress. LONDON, May 8.—A well-known theatrical manager told us recently that he was experiencing a great shortage of women who could be really funny. In fact, he said, there is only four or five of them on the bills.

Who these few who are fitted with the gift of humor may be, he did not pretend to guess, but the fact remains that they are few, and, in view of the importance of male impersonators, the question naturally arises whether women are really lacking in the ability to make a house laugh.

In spite of what may be said, however, I refuse to admit that they love anything to men as far as humor is concerned. That women can be really and truly funny is absolutely proved by the fact that some of them have become so successful as comedienne that their ranks are not, there is a reason for it. Women are not generally considered to be funny.

In the faculty circle the boy who can sing a comic song with gusto or lift a well-timed pun is applauded as clever. But let the embryo comedienne attempt to demonstrate the power of humor with which nature has equipped her and she will in nine cases out of ten be told by a shocked man that she is "unfit" or "even 'vulgar' in her behavior. And to the girl, whose humor spirit has been broken by the world's laughter, it is a bitter pill to swallow that she is given the impression that to be funny for the purpose of amusing her fellows is "not quite good form."

This Little Want Ad, Costing Less Than a Quarter, Sold 50 Sacks of Seed Potatoes for W. R. Chase in Less Than 15 Hours

Like much prevailing wrong men and women limit the appearance of the well-known, butals and offer to conduct strangers to these haunts of vice. If one speaks English there is a tremendous rush of these parasites. They crowd around one and literally fight for the right to lead you to a dancing place. Come, Englishman, come! Let me see you in my arms. Americans are also included in this invitation, for both English and Americans are respected, but even the desire to earn wages will tempt the wags to speak in a Frenchman. The French and the French in Germany passes all belief.

It is only when the sun begins to creep up the sky that the revolutionaries get out into the streets to face the pitched-battle police scouring the thoroughfares from peeling and rotting cabbage stalls.

FLY ACROSS PACIFIC

Giant Flying-Boats Planned for the Trip. Will Cross From California to China, 8,775 Miles, in Four Hops.

New York—Two giant flying boats for the first flight across the Pacific ocean are being planned, according to the Manufacturers Aircraft Association.

The flight has been made possible, the aviators say, by an invention of Edison Doolittle of East Greenwich, R. I., whereby these Liberty engines are coupled to one 18-foot propeller.

The proposed route from San Francisco to Honolulu, China, a distance of 7,610 nautical miles, or about 8,775 and miles. Stops will be made at Honolulu, Wake Island, Guam and Manila.

The flight has been made possible, the aviators say, by an invention of Edison Doolittle of East Greenwich, R. I., whereby these Liberty engines are coupled to one 18-foot propeller.

The new boats will have three engines and power plants, each containing three high compression Liberty engines, or nine motors to each ship.

The boats will be trimhulls with a wing spread of 130 feet, as compared with a spread of 120 1/2 feet of the N-1 boats.

The boats will have a wing span of about 1100 feet and will fly at an angle of 16 men. The hulls will be 67 feet long, 22 feet lower than that of the N-1's.

The cruising radius will be estimated at 2,100 nautical miles, nearly twice that of the N-1 craft.

Three high compression motors will drive each of the three propellers. Each unit of three motors will be installed in a separate engine, thus making possible repairs while in flight.

Enough gasoline has been carried to permit a cruising radius of 2,500 nautical miles without stopping.

CALLS FRENCH UNFAIR TO YANKEES

Paris Writer Alleges That Boxers from America Do Not Get Square Deal

By NEWTON C. PAINE
PARIS, May 8.—Complaint that American boxers are no longer treated fairly by French officials is made by Jean Auger, well known French sport writer, in an article on "Boxing and Boxers" in which he complains for fair play for American fighting in French arenas.

"There was a time," says Auger, "when to be an American boxer was enough to win favor with the French public. That was in the days when Willie Lewis created wild enthusiasm in Paris by his scientific boxing. Harry Lewis had his portion of success, and other Americans, including Jeff Smith, who is our most now, had great popularity.

"But times have changed. We must confess the fact is that today American boxers are not only no longer popular, but that they often obtain from the ringside critics the reputation that is beneath the most obvious degree of politeness.

"At the Nouveau Cirque and at the Cigoo de Paris, I have noticed with address that when an American meets a Frenchman or even a Belgian the crowd commences from the first round to show a disgusting partiality. I know that this is the case with all the other big fights, and it is none the less to be regretted that the French public have a reputation of being the most polite in the world, including those who have nothing better to say than to cast aspersions on boxing bouts.

"If these people have no politeness they should at least respect Americans who laugh at the 'noble art' would like to know where we would be had we not had Frank Gray, who opened the first big French boxing arena and who created the first big French boxer, Fohlen, or had we not had a Willie Lewis to teach us how to box our fists? All those who know the history of boxing know how many of our boxers owe their success to this man Willie Lewis. As a matter of fact, there is not a French fighter of any note who did not take lessons from this incomparable pugilist, Harry Lewis, and Fohlen, for their part, laugh us in the face and our American managers learned all that they know from Americans. I understand very well that it is in the opinion of the Frenchman to see a man of our own nationality defeated by a man of another nationality instead of the victor it would be a lot better to know good sportsmanship.

"However, I was disgusted the conduct of Frenchmen has become at once recent bouts I want to cite this example:

"I know an American who has lived in France more than twenty years and he has been as long as I have in the American. An ardent lover of boxing he is at all matches; he knows many sables in France and is in the best of relations with all of them, but solely because he is an American this man as he was least, he was to match the other night, was attacked by three or four sables who acted with the greatest violence. I myself was the victim of this aggression several years ago save to Louis Fohlen, then manager of Lewis, and Georges champion of Europe, 500 francs was paid him in launching Lewis on his career."

BOB JONES IN INTERCOLLEGIATE GAMES

Bob Jones, the star Atlanta pugilist, will be seen in intercollegiate competition at the Nassau Lakes next summer. He will represent Georgia Tech in the championship tourney which will be staged from June 22 to June 23. Dr. Lavelle Walker of Columbia, the present title holder, left behind his laurels that week. Last year he was very successful on the mats and a clash between him and the Georgia Southerner will be something well worth while.

Walker is one of the longest drivers seen in many days in the amateur ranks and he is deadly in his sentences. Unlike Bobby he is not one of those temperamental but brilliant fighters. He never loses his pulse and a combat between the two should be a treat.

BASEBALL NOTES

Connie Mack got away first in the spring training trip anyhow.

Bradley Hogg has retired from the game to practice law in Memphis, Tenn.

Dr. Jay Andrews, a veteran of baseball, has been chosen secretary of the Tulsa club.

The baseball fans are looking forward eagerly to the opening of the baseball season.

Bill Pithery is going to get another chance to earn a steady job on the Yankee pitching staff.

Spokane has decided to take a berth in the Brown-Brown Pacific Intercollegiate combination.

The sale of the Newport News club of the Virginia league to a stock company has been effected.

The annual rumor that Charley (Dutch) Schmidt will return to baseball is sure the rounds.

The Braves are sure to finish in the first division, according to the way they have it topped in St. Louis.

Ontario cities will have 12 more of home teams in the final league season than will the Michigan cities.

With everything coming to the sun it was but natural that the price of a baseball ticket should go killing.

George McQuillan, former National league pitcher, has been sold by the Kansas City A. A. club to Columbus.

Joe Lewis, former Texas league pitcher, has been engaged to teach the baseball squad of a college at Dallas.

The San Antonio club has filed an amendment to its charter increasing the capital stock from $3000 to $25,000.

Both the New York Nationals and the New York American league clubs have announced higher prices of admission.

Claude Davenport, a brother of Dave, has signed a contract to play with the San Antonio club of the Texas league.

The Memphis and St. Paul teams during the training camp will make a tour of several Kentucky and Tennessee towns.

Mark Gowdy and Rabbit Maravalle are all members of the Boston Braves, despite the reports they would be traded to the Tigers.

A young brother of Bob O'Farrell, the Chicago Cubs center, has been signed by the Florida Three League club for a trial. He is a third baseman.

Deary Vance, who has had two or three trials with the Yankees, has been released by the Sacramento club to the Memphis club of the Southern league.

Walter Johnson and Ty Cobb are two stars who will work this year under hollock contracts. Both stand for two years before the 1920 campaign opens.

They are going to call Jack Coombs, pitcher, former Yankee of Detroit, this year. Maxie Nick Altrock will call himself chief of the Washington pitching bureau.

The owners of league ball teams are looking the whole country over for good players, and doubtless thousands of the youth of the land wonder why they aren't being recognized.

WANT LABOR PROFITS

SEATTLE, Wash., May 8.—Unless permitted to make larger profits on sugar, Seattle's market jobbers will quit handling this commodity, according to statements made at a hearing before the kids county fair price commission here today. Jobbers agreed that they are allowed to take a profit of seven per cent on $124 a hundred pounds. United States District Attorney H. C. Saunders, suggested $1.00 would be enough and the jobbers agreed to this figure. They are now looking $1 if the committee grants the requests of the jobbers. Retail commodities will be forced to pay 25 cents a pound.

OLD-TIME BALL PLAYERS PLAY "OPENING GAME" OF SEASON ON A CHICAGO STREET

NELSON WINS DECISION FROM FRANKIE REGAN IN FAST BOUT; VERDICT IS VERY UNPOPULAR

Idaho Falls Scrapper Puts Up Clover Battle and Has Crowd With Him—Regan Wins Three Rounds, Nelson Two and Five Are Even

In a fast bout of action from bell to bell, Al Nelson defeated Frankie Regan in last night's main event. All 12 rounds were for the most part filled with never-ending and interesting exchange, while at times both boys in their endeavor to land the old steep puncher, fought cleverly and resorted to boxing, both boys landing rights and lefts to the face. Twin Falls is not devoid of colored fans, a good collection being lured high up in the balcony.

The boxing bout opened with a four round bout between Ed Slaughter and Jack Norris. Norris yielded 120 pounds and Slaughter 118, both boys put up a good fight. Norris was given a well earned decision. Both boys are clever boxers and the crowd was well pleased with the opening bout.

The second bout was between Billy Woodhead of the Twin Falls and Young Horse of Burley. Horse knocked Woodhead out in one minute's fighting last night at Burley. Last night the father was turned and Woodhead knocked Woodhead out in the first round, with three right smashes to the mouth and nose.

The evening's program was closed with a four round bout between Vito Lopez of Burley, Horse knocked Woodhead out in one minute's fighting last night at Burley. Last night the father was turned and Woodhead knocked Woodhead out in the first round, with three right smashes to the mouth and nose.

The seventh round—Nelson started the round with that left to face. Regan sent two lefts to Nelson's body and followed with right to face. Even round.

The eighth round—Not much doing in the eighth round, lots of standing. Regan sent in right to the face; Al gets best of exchange of lefts. Regan looks better in a clinch. Even again.

The ninth round—Nelson starts things going with quick right to face, followed by two more to the face. Nelson sends again to the ropes. Nelson's round.

This was the hardest and fastest round of the whole fight. Regan lands right smash to Nelson's nose, and followed it up with one to the mouth. Blood was running from Nelson. Lots of exchanging. Regan getting best of exchange. Regan gets in two more lefts to face. Round ends, everybody cheering for Regan. Regan's round by a big margin.

The eleventh round—Nelson comes strong, forcing Regan against ropes, followed by a clinch. Nelson striking the neck of Regan's head, no response. Regan's hands left to face. Round Regan's.

The Itching and Sting of Blazing, Fiery Eczema

Seems Like the Skin Is on Fire. The disease of Eczema is in the blood, the source being caused by an infection which breaks out on the skin. The itching is almost unbearable and the skin becomes so sore with the burning irritation. A cure from local applications of salves and ointments is impossible, because such treatment can only bring the pain temporarily. The disease can only be eradicated by going deep down to its source.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

At London (England), Frank Morris knocked out Earl Jordan in the second round of a scheduled twelve-round bout.

At Long Branch, N. J. Red Allen of Canada easily defeated Ed Spratley of Southport in eight rounds.

At Marlboro, Mass.—Joe Lynch gave Billy Fitzsimmons a boxing lesson in 12 rounds.

NOMINATION OF JOHNSON MEANS LEAGUE ISSUE

If Republicans Name Johnson, Democrats Will Take Wilson

By WILLIAM PHILIP SHAW (I. N. B. Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, May 8.—If the republicans at Chicago do, the democrats in San Francisco will name Wilson.

The other hand should Herbert Hoover find the column of his party tied to the lanes at Chicago, the league of nations would assume far less importance as a campaign issue.

Frankly and categorically I will not accept the nomination for vice president.

Today folks are asking: Will Johnson be able to block laws of the old guard opposition at Chicago? If not then what will be his? Will he agree to a compromise of candidates and will that candidate be an "irreconcilable" or will he be of a "Lodge or Hoover type"?
