THE VERY BEST IN IDAHO

I Mean the Best in More Ways Than One. First, the best land because it has been proven that it will produce more per acre than any other land in Idaho.

Another best reason is that the land is very cheap considering the richness of the soil, the splendid water right which gives you plenty of water all the time without any cutting down.

80 Acres, has 60 acres in alfalfa, 1 acre in grain excepting building site and 1 acre orchard. Land lays well and well located near school and not far to R. R. station.

60 Acres all in hay will produce from 7 to 8 tons at least per acre, one-half crop goes with place. Price $225 per acre. It would do your eyes good to look at this beauty.

LINCOLN SAW THE END.

EMPHATIC national convention of the republican party brings to mind one of the most astute acts of any politician in American history. It is the famous "Fremont question" which Lincoln put to Stephen A. Douglas during the Lincoln-Douglas debates.

The republican party had held but one national convention, that at 1856 at Philadelphia, when John C. Fremont was nominated for president. He was defeated by Buchanan.

Then came Lincoln's great battle with Douglas for the United States senatorship in Illinois. Lincoln had been to New York city and made his Cooper Institute speech, the ablest piece of political argument that was ever delivered in this country. It is told in history that one of the hearers of that masterly oration was so impressed that he took the same train as Lincoln, who was going into New England to make another speech, in order that he might study Lincoln's ennobled way of his powers.

Thus, when the Lincoln-Douglas debates began Lincoln was not an unknown figure in American politics. The program of the debates was arranged so that each candidate would speak at four or five points in the state, when they would meet for a joint debate. The newspapers reported fully the speeches of both, so that each read what the other had said.

Lincoln had been for years a close student of the laws concerning slavery. He was not an abolitionist. His speech to the Illinois republicans in state convention just prior to the great debate is said to have lost him the senatorship, but he believed what he had then said—"a house divided against itself can not stand."

He had studied Douglas' so-called "Squatter sovereignty" law, —let the citizens of a state or territory decide whether slavery should exist within the state or territory. Lincoln knew that the United States supreme court had decided, in the Dred Scott case, that a slave was property and could by its owner be taken into any state or territory as could any other chattel.

Then, said Lincoln to his friends, "I will ask Douglas when I meet him at Preport if under his squatter-sovereignty law, according to the constitution and the laws of the Union, the people of a territory, prior to the formation of a state, could prohibit slavery in that territory."

Lincoln's closest friends advised him not to put the question. "He can answer that question," said Norman H. Hall and others. "Yes," said Lincoln, "he can answer that question, and he may win the senatorship by his answer, but—" (History is not exact as to whether he finished by saying "I am after bigger game," or "he can never get the presidency after answering it." However it be, Lincoln put the question.)

Douglas answered, substantially, "Yes, because slavery being a domestic institution, the people of a territory could by legislation so oppose and antagonize its admission that they could keep it out by the exercise of the state's police powers."

Douglas was like an ostrich with his head under his wing—had it buried in the technique of public power. Lincoln's clear-sightedness was like unto that of a god of history—he saw all the inevitable results of Douglas' answer.

Douglas, "instead of ending the agitation of the slavery question," had "made it more dangerous than before," to quote the American. Two years after the debates he received the nomination of a divided party. Through the breach Lincoln went into the White House.

SHIPPING BY TRUCK

SOON will come ship-by-truck week, May 17th to 22nd. The importance of that form of transporting freight will be advertised more in the Atlantic coast than in any other section of the country.

There can be no doubt but what shipping by truck is in its mere infancy. The use of the truck will make for higher returns to farm lands and better roads whereby to reach such lands. The products of the farm will be brought to the city consumer cheaper by truck than by the cumbersome and slow farm vehicle of today, and be sold cheaper to such consumer.

The days called "ship-by-truck week" are, of course, for the purpose of advertising to the farmer, manufacturers, business men and general public the value of that form of transportation.

In Massachusetts, and likely other states, long convoys of trucks will, during that week, go over the state, carrying freight. All styles and sizes of trucks will be brought into use. There will be tank trucks carrying gasoline and lubricating oils. Machine shops on wheels will be in evidence; also trucks carrying tires, storage batteries and all manner of motor-car equipment.

It will not be necessary for far western jurisdictions to duplicate the eastern display of truck possibility. Yet, it behoves all sections of the country to build the best possible roads and as soon as possible, for there can be no better form of investment for the whole people to make.

Build roads well and without undue expense of political contract methods, and the result can not fail to be better for the people than bank accumulation of wealth.

Our junior typist says Mr. Hoover must be a chemist, for he talks like he knew that the diffusion of gases varies inversely as the square roots of their vapor densities.

The Canadian authorities wish "Bluecher" pardoned so that he can be tried by them for the murder of another woman. That's a strong intimation that they know when humpers are not appropriate.

If Billy Bryan applies many more adjectives to the "net" head than he has to the "net" head, he will wish to sign a contract with him.

AMERICA NEEDS MIDDLE CLASS UNION BADLY

Capt. Abbott, of British Middle Classes Union, Believes Like Body Would Fill Long Want

By W. L. MALLABAR, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, May 14.—The recent railroad strike in America involved an object lesson of the need of an organization of the middle classes there for the defense of their interests. They must get together and move a buffer between organized capital and organized labor in sectional disputes. The middle classes need organization not only for the defense of their own interests, but also for the defense of the nation as a whole.

There was a view of the declaration made by Captain Stanley Abbott, general secretary of the Middle Classes Union, when commenting on the railroad strike in the United States.

"The Middle Classes' Union in England watched with great interest the strike in the United States," continued the captain. "There was a singular opportunity for the middle classes to make a stand in this country last year during the railroad strike, and I think I am correct in saying that we rose strongly to the situation. It was a great stimulus to the organization and resulted in a very large increase in our membership."

"Since that time branches of the Middle Classes' Union have been established in over 250 centres in the United Kingdom, and our present membership increase is at the rate of over 1000 per week. Similar movements have been started in America and Canada as a result of communications with our office here, and I am confident that they will in time exceed our numbers here."

"Miss Rosemont Bouthere is our organizing secretary for America, and she reports a tremendous enthusiasm in that country for the party. Miss Bouthere is at No. 51 Broadway, New York, and she, I know, receiving these requests for information regarding the aims and purposes of the Union from all parts of the States."

"It must be understood that we are not, in any sense of the word strike-breakers," but we believe that we have the right—in case of a disagreement between capital and labor—to carry on our daily work and if necessary supply the means of livelihood to us to do so.

"That is, should a dispute stop the trains we have the right to man them and continue their operations to such an extent that our daily work can be carried on and that food can be supplied to us. We are not interested in them individually, in the question of right in the matter, but we are firm in the opinion that both sides must be capitalists or employees, have the right to prevent us doing our work or obtaining for our families the food we need for their preservation."

"Exactly similar organizations are being started in France, Australia and South Africa. I firmly believe that the movement will extend throughout the world until such time as the capitalists and workers both realize that they have our backs as well as they."

"We are publishing our own paper, and we believe that it will be of great assistance in our work. We are forming committees on every topic that is of interest to the section of the people we represent. We have our own representatives in Parliament, Colonel Prentiss Newman, who is chairman of the Union, and he is bringing forward in the House of Commons a resolution based on one passed by the Parliamentary Committee of the Middle Classes' Union, to the effect that our organization is of the opinion that existing laws do not sufficiently protect the liberty of one individual or of the public, and it therefore calls upon the Government to immediately consider a royal commission to consider the long dealing with restraint of trade and restrictive laws and to report at an early date what amendments are desirable in the public interest."

"This will be the first step toward the revision, if not the repeal, of the Trades Disputes Act of 1906, which has been described as a 'Charter of Anarchy' on matters of laboring questions have been put in the House in the name of the Middle Classes' Union, and we are always anxious to bring up anything which in any way vitally affects the welfare of the middle classes."

EVENS MAY SEE RED SOX

BOSTON, May 14.—Johnny Evers threatens to bring with himself Harry H. Frazee et al. of the Red Sox for salary due him since the season of 1919. That war of claims slaved to play with the local American League club and won on the training trip, only to be released the night before the season opened. Now he wants the money that would have accrued to him had he been permitted to carry out the provisions of his contract, a thing that has been pretty well impossible to do and would have done if permitted.

21 BOWNS MUST STOP HIM

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—To share a comeback abjectly after being invalidated home from the World War with twenty-three separate wounds is a difficult proposition to say the least. However, it is not, so long as Jack Kelly, the Vesper Club reeler and American title holder, is attempting to win the diamond scruff on the Thames, in England. In July, the Philadelphia Star is determined that the big British player should come to the United States this season. For this reason he has started training to be in the best possible condition when the season opens. Like many of his brother American athletes, Kelly enlisted at the outbreak of the war.

Censorship Causes "Slight Disorders"

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Fears were expressed here today that trouble may have arisen in Honduras and Salvador, following receipt of notice that a censorship law has been established in these two countries. Dispatches received by the Honduras legation stated that there had been "slight disorders" on the border between Honduras and Salvador several days ago but were not serious. The legation had no advice as to the establishment of a censorship. The state department was without advice.

Musician Lulls Panicky Crowd

FALL RIVER, Mass., May 12.—Hundred of French Catholics in St. Anne's church for an Ascension day mass fled from the edifice in panic today when an explosion shook the church and it filled with smoke. An explosion of the office of the committee exploded causing the fire. W. A. Herdard, the organist, who had remained in his burning heater in the basement, struck a congregation, was found nearly unconscious but was revived.

President Sends Baptists Message

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The nation now faces a hard job than the question whether it is to help Christian people in other parts of the world to realize their ideals of justice and ordered peace," declared President Wilson today in a message which he sent to the Southern Baptist convention in session here. "I am sure that the nation will listen with the greatest deference to the utterances of the convention."

REVOLUTIONISTS NOT GOING OWN WAY IN MEXICO

Rumor That Monterey Has Been Retaken From Rebels

CARRANZA HIDING OR FIGHTING

Oregon Invites All Refugees Back, Guaranteeing Them Safety

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(Farmer-Carranza) leaders have practically all declared for the revolution in Mexico, according to the population agency here today. The report declared that there is little indication of further opposition to Carranza.

Reports that Saltillo has been recaptured by Carranzistas, were not credited by the revolutionary agency. No reports have been received as to the whereabouts of President Carranza.

Despite the victory claimed by the Oregon-Gonzalez forces no word has come from Mexico City of the proclamation of a new Mexican government. General Obregon has assured the United States consuls at Piedras Blancas that the revolutionary government desires the friendship of the United States and will accept full guarantees and protection to all Americans and other foreigners, subject to the state department's discretion.

General Obregon has issued a proclamation at Piedras Blancas inviting all refugees from Mexico, regardless of their political faith, to return with full guarantees.

Reports received this afternoon stated that efforts are being made to prevent a battle at Monterey between troops under General Salinas, federal commander and 600 rebel troops under General Mirón. The federal forces of rebels counting up from Saltillo and Nuevo Leon.

Reports from Nogales stated that General Ito and Oshaka, who were permitted to return to Mexico through the United States but who were held up near El Paso by rebels, have asked permission of the Sonora authorities to return to the state of Sonora and settle as private citizens. The permission has been granted. It is understood, and the general will return to Sonora.

Political conditions are reported in Yucatan. Two hundred prisoners in Yucatan have been released by routing rebel forces from San Sabun, Guadalupe. It is reported that forces under Colonel Gomez have joined the rebels and that they are now repairing the rail road between Piedras Blancas and Saltillo, with prospects of occupying this strategic position on that road within ten or five days. Complete order exists in Piedras Blancas with practically no change in authority, all subordinate state and city officials remaining in power nearly as usual. The customs house at Piedras Blancas resumed its regular functions yesterday and business is said to be normal.

An unconfirmed report reached San Antonio that Monterey, which went over to the revolution last week ago, has been recaptured by 15,000 Carranza troops.

A former Carranza official who fled to El Paso declared that dissensions have broken out among the revolutionary leaders at Torreon as a result of rival claims of the chieftains. Two thousand Mexican soldiers, who he reported to have remained loyal to Carranza are said to be fighting the revolutionaries in the state of Durango.

WILL DISCUSS RIGHTS OF MAN

Four Sunday Evening Addresses at Presbyterian Church—Educational Rights, Sunday

At this period in the post-war reconstruction of social, ideal is the discussion of individual rights is opportune. The church as a vital social institution is very deeply concerned with the welfare of the individual and must frankly accept responsibility for the leadership divinely entrusted to her.

Pulpit discussion is a means of awakening the public and directing public opinion. The pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Asher H. Brand, has announced four Sunday evening messages on "The Rights of Man." These four are: "Education," "Rights of Man," "The Religious Rights of Man," "The Political Rights of Man and the Industrial Rights of Man." In each address on four consecutive Sunday evenings. In addition to the usual musical program, the service will be made more enjoyable by the additional musical program of the new Presbyterian orchestra which will play every Sunday evening.

AN AVERAGE OF OVER 1,000 PEOPLE have had Dr. Bennett for five Sunday services. The service is so interesting and helpful that it is being held every Sunday.

NOMINATE DEBS AS CANDIDATE OF SOCIALISTS

Convention Then Adjourns to Washington, to Urge Pardon of Candidate

By GEORGE R. HOLMES (N. S. Staff Correspondent).

NEW YORK, May 14.—For the first time in the history of American politics a national political party today nominated for president a man who is serving a prison sentence for violation of a federal law.

Eugene V. Debs, of Indiana, known among his sympathizers as "Danderine No. 2523," was unanimously chosen to head the 1920 ticket by the socialist national convention here today. His nomination was effected amid tremendous enthusiasm.

Debs' nomination will signal an immediate campaign for his liberation. The socialist movement will tomorrow here tomorrow night and recognize as a committee of the whole in Washington on Saturday. A demonstration will be staged at the capitol in favor of his liberation and a delegation will call on congressmen and senators and at the White House to urge that he be freed.

The socialist speakers will press President Wilson for a pardon, pointing out that it is an impossible situation for a presidential candidate to be in prison for a "political" offense. They will urge that such a state of affairs would be more in keeping with a Mexican or southern American republic.

It is the fifth time that Debs has headed the socialist national ticket. He is a nearly 65 years old and has been identified with the socialist party since its foundation. As a presidential candidate in 1912 he polled 90,000 votes. In July, 1918, Debs delivered a socialist address in Canton, Ohio, for which he was indicted, arrested, tried and convicted for violation of the espionage act and sentenced to 10 years in jail. He is now serving his time in Atlanta penitentiary.

LUNATIC ADMITS KILLING BANKER TO GET MONEY

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—The mysterious murder of H. J. Holtby, former relief banker of Ontario, was said to George Goldbach, thirteenth inmate of a state insane asylum today by the man's own confession. Goldbach, according to official report, is said to have admitted strangling the aged capitalist with a knotted rope. An insane desire to rob and murder was given as the motive.

Widow Cries for Joy

"I couldn't eat anything but raw eggs and sweet milk and was so weak I could hardly walk across the room. I would have been in my grave today if I hadn't taken Mary's Wonderful Remedy when I did. When I think how I have suffered with my stomach and how good I feel now I cry for joy." It is a simple, harmless preparation that restores the entire system from the intestinal tract and always dissolves inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money is refunded. At drug stores everywhere.

Incorporated for $25,000 Paid Up Capital May 1, 1920, $30,000

Groceries, Coal, Sacks, Binder Twine, Lumber Warehouse Facilities

Announcing the Opening OF THE Rochdale Store

Monday, May 17th

the Twin Falls Rochdale Co-Operative Association will open their store in the building formerly occupied by the Corbett Furniture Co., Across from Postoffice

It is the intention of this store to handle many lines of merchandise, that the public will want, but at present, groceries only will be handled. An option on the warehouse and five lots opposite from the Southern Idaho Wholesale Grocery company's warehouse has been secured and the purchase of this property will be announced in the very near future. Here lumber, coal, twine, sacks and other lines will be handled to the advantage of patrons and stockholders.

Will Not Cut Prices--

There has been some apprehension amongst merchants that the Rochdale store was going to cut prices. The Rochdale store will not cut prices. Goods will be sold at regular prices, but the dividends that accrue will be divided amongst the patrons, whether stockholders or not. Those who are stockholders will receive a greater dividend than the non-stockholders. Every person making a purchase will receive an interest in the profits. There will be an accurate account of each purchase made and at the end of six months this profit will be returned to you. The advantage in buying here comes from the fact that you are given savings in proportion to the amount you purchase. Remember that no matter how much you buy, whether or not you are a stockholder, you will derive benefits from your daily purchases.

Shares are Still Selling--

This is a co-operative company and shares are still being sold. You can buy as small an amount as $10 but not more than $100. Each person receives one vote, no matter how many shares are held. On October 7th, a 6 per cent dividend will be declared on stock. Thus you are investing your money at a good rate of interest and you are also receiving dividends from your purchases for a stockholder will naturally become a purchaser.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—The solution of the high cost of living largely lies in the solution of the rail transportation problem.

"American railroads—the best and most efficient in the world—today are actually four years behind the industrial progress of the country."

"Whereas congress has provided a revolving fund of $100,000,000 to meet the equipment needs of the railroads, a minimum of $1 billion and a half dollars are needed right now to bring the equipment up to the present needs of our industries, he added.

THE END OF A PERFECT DAY Every Sunday night attend the Methodist church and hear Dr. Bennett. His subject Sunday is "What Gives a Town a Black Eye?"

Blaymiller, Post Co. Hamilton City, Cal. Gentlemen:

A man can certainly make good in this Valley, if he is willing to work. There is no better country for the growing of almonds, peaches, olives, apricots, prunes, and pears. I have been here for twenty years. In addition to owning a fine forty acre ranch, I am interested with Rosenberg Bros. of San Francisco, in the ownership of 240 acres of prime and fertile pear orchard. For the information of newcomers I can say that olives will grow almost anywhere in this valley. Almonds and apricots will grow on 80% of the land, and peaches and pears do well on the sedimentary soil. Peaches will grow on about 80% of this land. Your El Camino Rancho is in a class with the best land in the valley. Last year we produced 116 tons of dried prunes from fifty acres, which sold for 10c per pound. The climatic conditions here for drying fruits are fully equal to the Fresno country. I can truthfully say that a man can get more land value here for a given sum of money than in any other section of California.

Yours truly, HENRY E. ALLISON.

Escaping from Asylum, Appears at Home, Abuses Parents; Reaches Jail

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 14.—Crawden, a little city about 20 miles from here is recovered today from a three-day reign of terror as the result of the escape from the Jackson State insane asylum who held the village at bay as he patrolled the streets with a loaded shotgun threat against all who came near him.
The incident—Lain Dayton was finally overpowered by sheriffs and deputy sheriffs from Pittsburgh cities called to the rescue but not until two of the officers were wounded in a gun battle. One of the officers, Deputy Sheriff Higg died from his wounds. The other is not seriously wounded. Dayton himself was shot by sheriffs but he is not dangerous injuries.
The trouble started Sunday evening when Dayton suddenly appeared at the home of his mother and father in Crawden. He began abusing them and then took the streets where he muzzled incoherently. Police of Shelbyville came to the rescue yesterday and only succeeded in subduing the maniac when two of the officers rushed him as he was leaving a bank with his gun across his shoulder soldier fashion.

President Says It Would Carry Power to Limit Executive Printing

WASHINGTON, May 14.—President Wilson this afternoon vetoed the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.
The president stated that he objected to section 8 of the bill which provided that no government department shall issue a journal or magazine or newspaper unless authorized by the joint committee on printing, the committee on appropriations and the committee on the joint committee on printing to determine what information the executive department shall give to the country.
