LOOK FOR THE YELLOW FRONT—OPPOSITE PERRINE HOTEL

20 Per Cent or 1-5 Off on Ladies Suits, Coats, Dresses, Waists and Skirts

In our humble efforts to be a part of the general move throughout the country to bring down the high cost of living, and as a protest against the prevalent high prices we heartily join hands and make this large reduction on the lines shown. We do not conduct special sales of any kind, our selling prices being marked on such a close margin that we cannot justly do so, but at these times we are gladly forgetting any selfish motive of operating for profits, and make these sacrifices that our patrons may benefit in this move. The United Stores has always been the last to advance the price and the first to reduce them. We are not overstocked—we are not attempting to move undesirable merchandise. We do not even urge our patrons to buy, but simply offer this opportunity for them to save on needs in this line.

The original selling price is left on the merchandise, the reduction to be made at time of sale.

It is not only our duty to make the right known but to make it prevalent.—EDMUND BURKE.

CENTENARIANS

IN AN editorial on "The Olden Men" the Twin Falls Chronicle gives the statements of a physician who investigated the case of a Kentuckian who claimed to be 111 years old and who, according to that physician's opinion based on the old man's remarks, might be 100 years old.

The Chronicle concludes with the statement that "there have been few authenticated cases of men or women reaching the age of 100."

According to Dr. Arnold Lorand, the physician of the baths at Carlsbad, the Rumanians claim over 1300 persons above 100 years. The Carlsbad physician says that Germany is reported to have less than 50 centenarians in a population of 60,000,000.

The reason for the marked longevity of the Rumanians—the reason assigned by the Rumanian authorities—is that they drink "do gura," or sour milk in large quantities. Yogurt, joghurt, or kymetz, as it is variously called, is pure sweet milk soured by the aid of the marja bacillus germ. This germ is said to destroy all disease germs in the alimentary tract and to aid in the assimilation of food.

In recent years joghurt has become quite popular in many places in this country, being prescribed by physicians even to infants. A temperature above 115 Fahrenheit is said to be deadly to the marja bacillus.

Dr. Lorand names some 20 persons who have lived in Europe 100 or more than 120 years of age. The oldest named by him, an Austrian reached the age of 165 years. Lorand gives the name of an Englishman who reached 145 years, when being spoh a celebrity, he became a guest of the king, when rich food soon killed him.

If no better evidence as to a person's age is to be relied upon than the word of the person himself, then it is likely that the most centenarians are to be found among the negroes of the southern states. With the break down of so many negro communities with old age they seem given to imagine themselves veritable Methuselahs, and it is possible that the 1920 census takers have this year reported quite a many centenarians there as found in all Rumania.

THE EVERGREEN HIGHWAY

THERE is one feature of the good roads movement in Idaho which should receive the undivided attention and liberality of every person in the state, and that is the Evergreen highway. This highway is destined in time to be one of the most extensively used roads in the entire west, and by whatever amount of time the period prior to its most extensive use is shortened, by so much will the state be financially benefited.

Beginning at Salt Lake City, running north through Ogden and on to Portwall, the Evergreen highway then turns west, by north coursing almost parallel to the main line of the Oregon Short Line. The road then turns north by Payette and Weiser leading to Lewiston. Thence it turns westerly and southerly to Walla Walla. Crossing the Columbia to Pasco, the road courses the northern bank of the Columbia to Vancouver, Washington, where it meets the Pacific highway.

The important feature of the Evergreen highway is that by it, it put and kept in good condition more than half the motor car travel from the coast to the coast, will, on account of the security of the fat northwest, take this road at Salt Lake City in preference to going straight west over the deserts to California.

The tourist of the future, having good roads in all directions from Salt Lake west, will see that by going northward from Salt Lake he can reach Puget Sound, then go south along the Pacific highway to California and the southwest. In other words, practically every tourist who makes a trip from the east to the Pacific coast will prefer to see the Puget Sound line also, and would certainly go there by the most direct and in this instance, the best route. The tourist would not want to go to California and then northward and back. A few might go to California and make the return trip via Puget Sound but even in that event the Evergreen highway would get the travel of such tourists at least one way. The most important feature was such a road that practically all travel through Salt Lake would deflect at once northwesterly.

He did not know that he needed eye glasses till he tried to find the jelly which came with roast lamb in a Twin Falls restaurant.

A candidate for office would have some evidence that he was really glad to see the people if he made a trip to them in an airplane.

Why not have every candidate for office this year chip in its cents so that they can pave the Lincoln highway?

The persons who buy those spider silk French hose at $200 a pair would hardly care for a milner's guarantee.

If Shoshone would turn her name end to it, it would sound like a drunken man trying to say so-so.

Carranza keeps fighting as though he expected the love of all the world if he loses.

There certainly can not be very many profiteers, for so many people hate them.

Co-operation never got slanders until it tried to pick its nose into politics.

Is it the tools of a spud that handles it in the race with sugar?—Illustration by 'Dad' during the war.

Furthermore, the Twin Falls Times hereby challenges any person or persons to dispute this claim, and is willing to stand the expense of an audit of the circulation records of any newspaper published in Twin Falls, such audit to be made by three certified auditors, one to be chosen by the Times, one by the other two papers, and the third man to be chosen by the two appointed by the papers. FRIGHTENED MR. PALMER AND ILLEGAL CENSORSHIP

City Phil Francis, editor New York American, former editor San Francisco Call and Stockton Mail. New York has been laughing at Attorney General Clegg and his police arrangements made to cope with the "Red Revolution."

There is no newspaper in circulation in this country which is not under the thumb of the federal government. As a matter of fact, there was of the slightest danger of any revolutionary outbreak, the federal government was simply a bureaucracy of Mr. Palmer's excited imagination.

TAKING LIFE SERIOUSLY

That is a rather unusual story from Chicago about the young man who shot himself. It is a story which should be read by every young man who is contemplating a career in the military service.

When I say that there is no danger of an attempt at revolution I do not mean to infer that there is no disloyalty or that there are no classes and among a lot of people who do not accept the national government as their own.

The Birth of the Co-operative Movement in Twin Falls

On a beautiful summer evening last year four large farmers accidentally met at the same corner and a few miles from Twin Falls. They sat on the porch and watched the sun go down. As was natural the conversation soon drifted to the problems confronting the farmer of today; how they grow better at a price set by the purchaser, regardless of the cost of production, and then thought the sugar made from those beets at a price which represented an abnormal profit; how they sold their wheat at a low price and then paid a high price for their flour; how they sold their wool and hides at a comparatively low price and paid a very high price for their clothing and shoes. They received no money for their eggs and butter—simply a credit memorandum.

They decided that the only remedy for this situation was for the farmers to take things into their own hands; to operate an up-to-date store in Twin Falls where the profits would return to the purchaser, thus helping to reduce the high cost of living; where cash would be paid for everything bought from the farmer. They agreed that too many middlemen were non-producers and lived at the expense of the producers and consumers. That an organization of farmers should meet with an organization of consumers.

It was late in the night when these men separated with the determination that, having good seed come to Twin Falls, they would from their deliberations Dr. John E. White was approached and asked to push the movement. For several months he has been working hard organizing the forces. A thorough investigation showed that the Rochdale Plan was the one best adapted to local conditions. A meeting of stockholders was recently held and the following influential men were appointed directors: F. W. Blunk, C. E. Eldred, C. W. Griggs, C. H. Hempelman, F. Henneman, W. W. Parzih, A. J. Requa, E. W. Shanks, John B. White.

The Corbett building, near the postoffice, was purchased and on Monday the doors of the institution were thrown open. The mood optimistic could not have foreseen the avalanche of business which immediately came its way. All the week the clerks have been busy waiting on the supporters of the co-operative movement. Time and again the shelves have been replenished with new goods from the plentifully supplied store room.

An option has been taken on a warehouse and several lots opposite The Southern Idaho Wholesale Grocery Co. Here it is proposed to deal on a large scale in lumber, coal, scales, binder twine, etc., etc. Important announcements in this connection will shortly be made.

Saturday will be the big day. Every person in Twin Falls county is invited to come and see the store of the Twin Falls Rochdale Co-operative association. Many regular clerks will be added to the epidemic trade.

When you make a purchase at the Co-operative store you not only get the best value for your money but you uphold the principle underlying the movement.

The good wishes of the whole community will attend upon this honest effort to increase the buying power of the dollar, the standing of the man who comprises the Board of Directors is sufficient guarantee that the enterprise will be carried out loyally. These men are giving their time for the good of the community. They are not doing this for the sake of the money. The community will be benefited by this institution the big day.

"LESS PROFITS"
Our Motto

THE FIRST WEEK OF THE GREATEST CLOTHING SELLING EVER HELD IN TWIN FALLS IS OVER, AND WITH ALL ITS WONDERFUL SUCCESS WE BELIEVE IT'S ONLY THE BEGINNING. WE ARE PROUD OF HAVING TAKEN THE LEAD IN MAKING A DETERMINED ATTEMPT TO STOP THE UPWARD FLIGHT IN PRICES.

PRICES ARE LESS THAN WE CAN BUY THE SAME GRADES AT WHOLESALE, AS WE PAY AT LEAST $3.00 TO $10.00 MORE FOR FALL DELIVERIES THAN WE PAID FOR THE SAME GRADE THIS SPRING. THE CONTEMPLATED ADVANCE IN WAGES FOR ALL MANUFACTURERS, WHICH WILL BE AT LEAST 20 PER CENT, AND WHICH IN ALL PROBABILITY WILL BE ALLOWED TO ALL TEXTILE WORKERS AND TAILORS, IS ENOUGH EVIDENCE THAT PRICES CAN NOT COME DOWN.

Less Profits More Business Is the Word

AND PRICES WILL NOT COME DOWN UNLESS WAGES PAID TO OPERATIVES ARE LOWERED, AND WAGES ARE ADVANCING, NOT DECLINING, AS SOME WOULD HAVE US BELIEVE.
