WISCONSIN HIRAM LATE RETURNS SHOW SENATOR DEFEATS WOOD HANDS DOWN

Early Returns Favored Gen. Wood in Country

JOHNSON GOBBLES UP PORTLAND

Robert N. Stanfield Gets Senatorial Nomination Over Abraham

PORTLAND, May 22.—Johnson jumped ahead of Wood 613 votes from second position early this morning where he was 283 votes behind.

The returns from 22 counties including Malheur county put Johnson farther in the lead of Wood than the latter has at any time been ahead of him.

Hiram Johnson carried Multnomah county and the city of Portland, a total of about 2980 votes counted in this county Johnson had a lead of 224.

The first returns last night showed Johnson to be leading Wood 1000 votes ahead of Wood 613 later returns from the rural districts showed Wood ahead of Johnson 1000 votes in the rural districts.

On early returns, it seemed that Wood would carry the state by about 16,000 and that Johnson would carry Multnomah county by 2,500.

Robert N. Stanfield has apparently been nominated for United States senator over Albert Abraham.

The completion of incomplete returns for president for 15 counties including Multnomah up to an early hour this morning showed Wood, 61,300; Johnson, 60,107; Wood, 3,770; London, 1,419; Polk, 1,202.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22.—Late returns in the Oregon primaries put Johnson in the lead. Multnomah county, which is the largest in the state, landed such a strong vote in favor of Johnson that he is outdistancing Wood in the rural districts.

The returns as tabulated at the 8:30 o'clock show: Johnson, 37,722; London, 14,119; Hoover, 752.

PORTLAND, May 22.—Johnson polled a heavy vote in Multnomah county, the returns reading Hoover, 752; Johnson, 2,521; London, 707; Wood, 1,247.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22.—Hiram Johnson has a lead over General Wood of 1,681 votes, the latest returns from twenty-three counties showing Johnson ahead of Wood.

The vote at 10 a. m. stands: Johnson, 64,811; Wood, 63,200; London, 2,265; Hoover, 752.

With every report from the rural districts Johnson is gaining. The returns from the city of Portland and Multnomah county generally, as well as the city of Astoria, are in Johnson's favor.

Within a few hours Johnson has cleared a position of safety in the city vote, being Wood 1,621 ahead of him.

Chamberlain Wins

PORTLAND, May 22.—At 8:30 this morning Johnson had a lead over General Wood, since then he has taken the lead in lands and bodies. Election of Chamberlain as candidate for president has polled 623 votes. He is the only democratic candidate for president on the ballot.

Henry Cabot Lodge has polled the heaviest vote for vice president on the ballot.

JOHNSON MAKES CLEAN SWEEP IN OREGON

Bankers May Pledge to Stay Neutral

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—No truce has been found early today between Cleveland Bergold, the notorious "slacker" banker, escaped from the regular army guards while "blowing his wealthy mother here, a kidnaped man here, a woman here, and by the federal and local officers here. Many points have been notified to look out for Bergold and the car in which he escaped.

Considerable mystery was thrown about the report of Bergold's visit here. He is undergoing a sentence of five years confinement in a military prison on a government sentence for desertion and evasion of the draft. He had served only a few months.

Accompanied by two non-commissioned officers a guard, Bergold came to his home here on a confidential mission, according to his relatives.

It was upon receipt of Bergold's confidential report of his activities in the A. H. General that Bergold was permitted to leave prison, the secretary of war stated.

The statement of the secretary of war follows: "The escape of Bergold was brought to attention yesterday afternoon by Gen. Harris, at Fort Leavenworth, Mo. I had no previous knowledge of any desertion, confidential or otherwise, on Bergold's part and did not know that he had been brought from the prison at Fort Leavenworth to this city."

"After his escape I was informed that Bergold prior to his arrest had secured a large sum of money in a bank in Philadelphia, Pa. He had made application to have Bergold brought under guard, and accompanied by his lawyers, to set the money."

Attorney E. A. Walters, special assistant state attorney during the trial, is expected to be summoned before the jury yesterday afternoon with a powerful appeal for punishment of the defendant.

The case went to the jury at 4:20 p. m. yesterday had that body, with a choice of seven verdicts ranging from first degree murder to justifiable homicide before it considered the problem until after midnight without reaching a decision. At eight o'clock this morning the jurors went into session again and emerged at 9:30 with the verdict of voluntary manslaughter which officially places the killing of the baggage burner by Carver as done "during sudden quarrel or heat of passion."

The maximum penalty under the law is ten years imprisonment, with a minimum of one year and three months in the state penitentiary.

BUSINESS DISTRICT MANAGED WHEN BLAZE RAGES THROUGH SMITH-RICE OFFICE BUILDING

United Stores, Wrights, and Professional Offices Wiped Out—Red Cross and Sugar Company Records Safe—Police on Trail of Suspects

Fire Loss Estimates

Table with columns: Stock, Loss, Insurance, Net Loss. Lists various businesses like United Stores, Wright's Department, C. M. Smith building, etc.

Police are today on the trail of suspects, believed responsible for the fire which, early this morning, swept the C. M. Smith and W. P. Rice buildings on Main avenue north, containing Cotillion hall, the United Stores, Wright's department store, Salladay Hardware company and various professional suites, causing a loss estimated at $350,000.

The careless dropping of lighted match in Cotillion hall is suspected by the police to have been the cause of the fire, which was discovered at about 2 o'clock a. m.

Owing to an alleged delay in telephone service it was some time before the fire department was notified and could reach the conflagration, which had assumed formidable proportions.

The firemen, with the able and timely assistance of a number of volunteers, succeeded in gaining control of the situation by 4 o'clock and saved the adjoining business blocks.

The Smith and Rice buildings had, however, been badly gutted by the blaze. Two of the three stores on the lower floor lost practically their entire stock, while Cotillion dance hall was turned into an open air pavilion, its roof wholly gone.

The results of Miss Elizabeth Greenwald, who roomed in her stenographic suite in the Smith building, was a terrific nature of the fire. She and smoke trapped Miss Greenwald in her suite and she was rescued by Henry and the ladder and stair department just as she was preparing for the leap and the jump.

As to Miss Greenwald's apartment in the building and Miss M. J. Todd, proprietress of a hair dressing establishment, who roomed in the building, the only other occupants of the building at the time. They responded to the alarm and were rescued, having sufficient warning to get away.

Among the losses were druggists and a shoe store. The fire was reported to Albert Nielsen of the Blue Bird architect, who has been conducting a dance in Cotillion hall. His losses amounted to $800.

Attorney Turner K. Hackman narrowly escaped the loss of a highly prized document which he was managing on his office wall, unharmed. Mr. Hackman, who spent fourteen years in the state penitentiary, is a member of the national chambers at the national capital and secured his early inspiration from the penitentiary.

SENATOR HALE TELLS DANIELS SENATE'S POWER

Daniels Informs U. S. Had Plan for War With Germany

SAYS ADMIRAL VIOLATED RULES

"That is for the Committee to Decide," Says Senator Hale

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The United States had a plan for war with Germany prior to America's entrance into the world war, Secretary Daniels stated today before the senate investigating committee...

"The navy had detailed plans for war with all possible enemies," Daniels declared. "Did you have a plan for Germany?" Senator Hale asked. "We did," Daniels said. "Did you have a plan for possible war with England?" Hale continued.

"I decline to discuss anything concerning a country with which we are friendly," Daniels declared. "Were you kept posted as to the changing of the foreign policies between 1914 and 1917?" Hale asked. "The statement of the president to the cabinet and the questions discussed recalled by the senator are not to be divulged," Daniels replied.

"Traditions and rules of the navy were violated by the senator in making charges against my department," Secretary Daniels told the committee.

"That is for the committee to decide," Senator Hale replied. The cross examination of Daniels received into a question of Chairman Hale when Secretary Daniels questioned the facts outlined by Chairman Hale and Hale read charges made by Sims.

Admiral Sims did not cast reflection on the navy but sternly charged the navy," Hale declared. "You cannot make charges without casting reflection."

"The rules of the navy department prohibit reflection upon any officer by member," Admiral Sims made the personal charge that officers of the navy department lacked the will to fight and that Admiral Benson was anti-British," Daniels charged.

of the revolution." They declare that the uprising did not violate the Mexican constitution. The rebels had already proclaimed himself dictator in defiance of the constitution. The rebels, among them, Carranza and his advisers were rebels. This proclamation by the rebels was based on the fact that Carranza had been received at the new capital and had decided that the fugitive president should be apprehended if captured.

Carranza was in his sixtieth year and had served as president and president-elect for about six years. He came prominently into public affairs in Mexico when he assumed the leadership of the northern revolutionary forces that deposed Victoriano Huerta in 1914. With the assistance of the rebel leaders of Zapata and Villa the Carranzas waged relentless warfare against the troops supporting Huerta until 1914. Huerta retreated and fled from Mexico and the revolutionists entered Mexico City.

Carranza pronounced himself first chief of the constitutionalists in 1914 and ruled the Mexican republic from Mexico City and Queretaro until May 1917, when he was regularly elected. He was elected for a year, but in the chief cause of the insurrection against him was his determination to make Venustiano Carranza, former Mexican ambassador to the United States, his successor. Carranza being in the way of the rebels, the rebels fled to Mexico, although he was always claimed himself as a democrat.

He studied law, but his political activities in politics. But Carranza was elected senator and was finally appointed governor of the state of Coahuila. He was the only one of the Diaz rebels Carranza supported Francisco I. Madero and was appointed minister of war in one of the Madero cabinets.

Pictures of Carranza, with his flowing hair, mustache and one eye, were made his appearance familiar to Americans. He was described as quiet, dignified and taciturn, but extremely stubborn once he had made up his mind. His stubbornness was shown in his attitude of unyielding hostility to American because he had conceived the idea that American capitalists were trying to subjugate his country.

May Choose Huerta. WASHINGTON, May 22.—A report that Huerta had been appointed provisional president of the republic was credited in official circles today. According to advice direct from Mexico City the Mexican congress decided to postpone the election of a provisional president until Monday. However, indications were that de la Huerta will be chosen.

Why Denim? Wanda Hawley's Wearing a Basket

Wanda Hawley-Realart Star wearing costume of woven straw and flowers

Every indication is that 1920 will go down in fashion history as a year when the flower basket, a new gown, designed by Edith Camp, a supposedly "flower star" of the fashion page or designers have always played a more or less important part in your wardrobe. In modern fashions, the basket is a popular and useful. It is made of straw, ribbon, and other materials, and is used to hold flowers, ribbons, and other accessories. It is a very practical and useful item, and is becoming more and more popular. It is a very practical and useful item, and is becoming more and more popular.

Miss Hawley, when and other flowers were used, and the effect is undoubtedly new and unusual. As for comfort, Miss Hawley declares that her basket gown is just as easy to walk or dance in as any other ball gown which she has worn. While it cannot be said to be practical, the basket gown will ever become a fashion model. It is interesting to know that the kind of the basket costumes for those luxurious little fashion picture stars. It is only fair to state that the basket gown is not that every woman could "go away with" and wear of the same as this one was due to the fact that the city of the basket and pick Mrs. Hawley, who is herself the picture article in the whole basket full of beauty.

The stars because the Yankees grabbed Babe Ruth.
 The collar was never a very popular position for a baseball team to occupy, but we presume it will be different this year.

Pitcher Ad Lynch, formerly of Washington, who refused to play with Babe Ruth this year, has been transferred to Des Moines.

Babe Greiner, though showing good form in a couple of essays, is getting back to playing form after a season spent in the outfield.

The Phillies will need Cravath's hitting this season, and it will not be surprising if the loss of the Phillie device is to go to right field.

The Giants say they have the batting and show on the right kind of pitching, they will romp home a winner of the National league pennant.

Joe Haines, making his bow as a Cardinal before the home fans, established himself as a batter who would be a great help to Hickey's team.

George Whitlow's work as the "hot runner" is proving satisfactory to the fans. The manager says that his playing is improving with each game.

Dave Robertson has been showing his normal speed this spring and hasn't been bothered with the weak leg which slowed him up last season.

The Boston Red Sox had an idea early of the Brewers, who play with money pooled for Babe Ruth. It was a great idea, and it's still a great idea.

Fans at Kansas City are trying to do up a shorter name for William E. Counseller, the big right-handed pitcher from Canada, who has joined the Blues.

Otis Crucker, the Kansas City youngster, who is making a good showing, weighs 216 pounds, and is fast on his feet, too. He will be kept as utility pitcher.

Marty Kaufmann, who is the property of the Brewers, will play with an independent team in Brooklyn, managed by Jeff Tesreau, former Giant hurler.

More than fifty amateur baseball teams will be playing in Memphis this season under the direction of the M. A. A., of which Billy Hark, boxing promoter, is director.

Cleveland fans believe that this is Cleveland's year and decline to chance.

POWER OF DOLLAR IS EASILY SHOWN

Keep One Moving and See What It Will Do for Your Community.

PAYS MULTITUDE OF DEBTS

When it is Sent Out of Town, How to Pay for What Can Do Dought at Home it is Done Forever.

(Copyright)

It is a rather wonderful thing, when you stop to think about it what one dollar will do. If it is kept at home. This has been illustrated in a striking manner on several occasions by means of a very simple experiment. If you want to see just how important a role a silver dollar or a dollar bill plays in the life of a community here is the way to do it. Just attach a tag to the dollar and turn it loose, with the request that every person who receives the dollar attach a note on the tag as to how he received it. Smith, the plumber, who first possesses the dollar, buys some groceries from Brown and pays for them with the dollar. About that time Jones, the plumber, who had done some work for Brown, sends his collector around and Brown pays the bill with this dollar. Jones owes Green, the printer, a small advertising bill, so he sends this dollar to pay his bill. Green had just put in his cash drawer when he comes back. The millman, to whom Jones owes a debt, for milk delivered at his house, Green takes the dollar out of his cash drawer and pays the bill. For some time Black has owed White, the carpenter, for some work done in his dairy house, so now he takes the dollar that Green has paid to pay his bill. White will owe for some lumber that he bought from Smith, the lumber dealer, so he takes the dollar and squares up his account with Smith. Smith now has his dollar bill. Brown has been able to pay his plumbing bill. Jones has squared up with the printer, and so on, all around the circle.

Now what might have happened. Suppose that Smith, instead of paying his groceries from Brown, had purchased them from a mill order house in a far distant city and sent the dollar to pay for them. Brown would not have had that dollar to pay Jones, the plumber. Jones would not have paid the printer's bill; the printer would have had to stand off the mill man; White, the carpenter, would not have got the money for the work he had done for the millman and Smith would not have got the money which White owed him for groceries.

This is all so simple that it requires no student of economics or professor of mathematics to figure it out. Any one can see that when Smith sends that dollar to Chicago or some other city where the mill order houses flourish, that the dollar is gone so far as Smith and Jones and Green and the rest of the people in Smith's town are concerned. That dollar will never come back to pay any bills in Smith's town. All the things that stand out most strikingly, but is most often overlooked, is that Smith, the man who first spends the dollar, is hurt just as much when he sends that dollar out of town as is the home grocer from whom he might have bought his groceries.

Now just multiply this one dollar by a hundred or a thousand or ten thousand. One dollar may not seem to make much difference in the average town, but a thousand dollars or even a hundred dollars does make a difference. One man's dollar will pay a dozen or a hundred small bills, a hundred or a thousand dollars will pay a dozen or a hundred big bills. When Brown, the grocery man, or a thousand dollars and can't pay it, he is headed for the bankruptcy courts. When Jones, the plumber, can't collect the money which is due him from Brown or maybe a dozen Browns, he is headed in the same direction as Brown. And so it goes all around the circle until it hits Smith or a dozen Smiths who have sent their money out of town to aid in the fortunes of the mill order men.

Buyer One Who is Hurt.

Thus, it will be seen that this buy-at-home proposition is really a selfish one with the man who buys the goods. He is not hurting the home merchant when he sends his money out of town, any more than he is hurting himself. Every resident knows that his livelihood depends upon whether business in his town is good or not. If business is not good he cannot make good living for himself and his family, no matter how hard he may work, and business cannot be good if the home merchant is not buying money. This is a plain business proposition for every man and woman in the community. By spending their money at home they are helping the home merchant only incidentally. They are hurting their own bread winner when they have sent their money to the mill order house, they are not only hurting the home merchant incidentally but—this is more important to them—they are likely to be taking the bread out of the mouths of their own children.

Property Values

Have greatly increased. The old standards of estimating the worth of property fall very much short of replacement cost under the new conditions. Few people have increased their insurance in recognition of this fact, with the result that the great majority of property owners are TODAY under-insured. Are you one of them...

We are asked--
 "What are the reasons for the extraordinary accomplishments of the Ensign Remedies?" "How is it possible for them to permanently cure Adenoids, Appendicitis, Arterio-sclerosis, Bright's disease, Cerebro-spinal meningitis, Constipation, Dizziness, Gout, Gravel, Rheumatism, Heart disease, Piles, Rheumatism, Sexual disorders, Tonsillitis, Varicose veins, Venereal diseases, etc.?"

We reply that there are three important reasons why the Ensign Remedies readily cure the above hundreds of other difficulties:
 (1) They are wholly bio-chemic in composition. Material foreign to the construction of a human body never enters into the Ensign Remedies.
 (2) The Ensign Remedies are not confined to the 12 tissue salts of Bechster. More than one hundred cell and tissue salts are employed in the Remedies. This is the secret of their almost unlimited range of action.
 (3) They are prepared after the Homoeopathic plan of trituration and attenuation. This process reduces the tiny salt particles many times smaller than found in fruits, vegetables, etc., and assures perfect assimilation.

BASEBALL STORIES

Outside of the catching department, the Pirates don't look half bad.
 Babe Adams looks as good as ever, and that is saying considerable.
 Pitching is always a gamble, but a bet on the Cleveland staff this year is a good bet.
 Bobby Ruth seems to be happy in his new surroundings with the Washington team.
 A star catcher is just as necessary to a ball club as well fielding and power as a clever pitching staff.
 The Boston Red Sox are still in a rut. The sale of Ruth to the Yankees didn't help a bad situation any.
 John Kelleher, shortstop for the St. Joseph team of the Western League, will manage the team this year.
 The Cleveland fans have graduated to many players in the Indians that it may be called "T. Hunter's farm."
 Infielder Gullie Rupp of the Cincinnati National League team has been called to St. Paul, American association.
 Jimmy Burke has a peppy hand of Brownies to start of another season, but he hasn't stretched to any extent.
 Cleveland fans believe that this is Cleveland's year and decline to chance.
