Senator Lodge Says Subject Can Not Be Considered Till Fall

WASHINGTON, May 25.—There is no prospect of the senate agreeing to President Wilson's recommendation that the United States assume a mandate for Armenia, republican leaders believed today.

Several republican senators declared there was as much chance of the senate consenting to an Armenian mandate for this country as there is of the moon landing on the moon.

MEXICO CITY, May 25.—Adolfo de la Huerta, governor of the state of Sonora, who was elected provisional president of Mexico by the Mexican Congress last night, will take the oath of office on June 1. Congress was today summoned to meet on June 1 for that purpose.

It is before congress assembled for the balloting the late President Venustiano Carranza was buried in the Mexico cemetery under the name of a grief which was in contrast with the hostile feelings that were manifested against Carranza during his last days in office.

Gen. Alvaro Obregon, the conqueror of Carranza in the Mexican revolution, today announced that he would be responsible for Carranza's death.

Those include Yago Bonilla, former Mexican ambassador to the United States, and the late Mexican foreign minister, and who accompanied the body to the city, are under arrest in the San Carlos prison.

LEAGUE NATIONS NOT ALLOWED GREAT POWER

"Big Three"—France, Italy, and Great Britain Will Enforce Treaty

By FLOYD MACGRIFF, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent. LONDON, May 24.—The inter-allied supreme council—Great Britain, Italy and France—has no intention of delegating any large degree of authority to the league of nations until Europe has become stabilized and until Great Britain, France and Italy are satisfied that the chief provisions of the various treaties will be carried out. It was learned from an official source today.

This means that the real power in Europe will lie in the hands of the same machinery that exercised it during the peace negotiations. The three nations feel that if they relax their grip, important provisions of the treaties might be evaded. Having fought a terribly expensive war, the "big three" intend to reap what fruits they can and at the same time direct affairs back into more normal channels.

Irrigated Land for Cereals

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 25.—Under the stress of war-time needs, the production of cereals in irrigated lands in southern Idaho—the Snake River Basin—received an impetus which is stimulating the interest of that local farmers. The farmers previously regarded the growing of small grain on irrigated lands as practically a dead end. The new method of production, using the latter method of irrigation and cultivation, much of the grain which is produced can be marketed most profitably by feeding to stock.

The Bureau of Plant Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with the Idaho Agricultural Experiment Station through its publication at Aberdeen, Idaho, has made a careful study of the increasing attention given irrigated grain in this section of the country. The results, together with much valuable information concerning the various grains and the treatment of soil, are being disseminated in a bulletin soon to be issued for general distribution.

According to the report, the outbreak of the war has increased the production of wheat, oats, and barley in the Idaho section. The production, keeping pace with the extent of new land placed under irrigation, has been greatly increased at the expense of cotton, alfalfa, clover, and other crops. The war has also resulted from the substitution of this grain for wheat in bread making.

UNITED GENIUS AND BEAUTY

Many of America's Great Men Have Proved That the Two Can Co-Exist Together.

While Science had the mind of a god and the form of a boy, and many from that day on have said that beauty and genius do not go together, such is the case in the instance of the late, according to Charles C. Corwin, writing in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. With few striking exceptions good results will result from the combination. A full discussion of "Glowing Irrigated Grain in Southern Idaho" is found in the same issue, a copy of which may be had free upon request at the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

BRITISH PRESS BACKS WILSON'S MANDATE PLAN

LONDON, May 25. British newspapers today expressed the opinion that the American congress will receive the Wilson mandate plan with authority to accept a mandate for Armenia. Dispatches from Washington telling of the president's appeal to congress were given conspicuous display in the afternoon papers, and the most of them carried a commendation. "It is hardly conceivable that congress will refuse President Wilson's view," said the Star. "The United States is best fitted to take the Armenia mandate but it is unlikely that this will come to pass," declared the Standard.

SIX MASSIVE MEN BOB FIRST NATIONAL BANK

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 21. Six armed and masked men, called the "First National Bank of Pittsburgh" before noon today, and after beating John Jones, the assistant cashier, into unconsciousness, carried in an automobile with $150,000 in securities and $50,000 in cash. Jones was alone in the bank at the time. A posse was formed a few minutes after the robbery occurred and is reported to be close behind the bandits. "Want a job? UNITED STATES SETS TRAP GUN TAKES MANDATE OVER ARMENIA

President Asks Authority To Comply With Allies Request

WASHINGTON, May 24. President Wilson today sent a request to congress for authority for the United States to take a mandate over Armenia in compliance with the request of the San Remo conference. The president's message has been received by the House and Senate. Secretary of War Baker stated this afternoon that he did not believe the president had the right to take a mandate over Armenia without first consulting the allies. He would call for the form which General Harbord recommended in his report on the Armenian mandate.

The secretary stated that he believed the president's mandate would be a warship and marines be sent to enforce the mandate. The president has asked that a warship and marines be sent to enforce the mandate. In his small bay drove him temporarily insane, the president stated that it was "apprehended that almost at the same time that the senate resolution to be passed that there comes an hour when the San Remo conference of the United States to accept a mandate over Armenia. The president stated that he had no doubt that the allies would have stated that they made this provision, and from the smallest desire to evade any obligation."

MANY PUNISHED UNDER FOOD ACT

Government Loses But One Out of 50 Cases Prosecuted in Federal Courts.

AUCLTERATION IS CHARGED

Use of Spoiled Tomatoes in Canning in 24 of Ten Cases—Misbranding of Vinegar Results in Fine of $100.

Washington—Fifty food and drug cases are reported as having been terminated in federal courts in recent service and regulatory announcement supplement of the bureau of chemistry, United States department of agriculture. The charges of the government were upheld in 47 of the cases, but in one adverse action the decision of the bureau was in favor of the defendant of the goods.

Ten actions were based on the adulteration of tomato products, such as catsup, puree, pulp, paste, and like. The most frequent charge was that of decomposition resulting from the use of spoiled or rotten tomatoes in preparing the products. The specialists of the bureau of chemistry have given a great deal of attention to the improvement of tomato products. Not only have a large number of prosecutions and seizures been made, but experimental work has been conducted to aid the packers in developing methods to eliminate all spoiled tomatoes. There has been a marked improvement in the quality of such products, but some packers, either as the result of carelessness or from a deliberate disregard for the requirements of the law, still occasionally use tomatoes unfit for food.

Eleven actions on stock feed. Stock feed made from cottonseed meal or cake was the basis of eleven actions, the most frequent charge being that of misbranding because of statements on the label claiming a higher percentage of protein than was actually present in the feed. Since the percentage of protein present in a stock feed is one of the factors in fixing the price, this form of misbranding is of considerable importance for a higher price than its feeding value warrants. It is also misleading to the stock raiser in determining a proper price for the feed.

Canned salmon was the basis of four seizures. Spoilage of the salmon was the charge in three of the cases. In three of the cases the court ordered the salmon destroyed, while in one case the salmon was released for use by the manufacturer of fertilizer. The investigations have shown that some canners of salmon do not always conform to the requirements of the law in upholding their product. Studies by the specialists of the bureau of chemistry to improve the methods of packing salmon in order to prevent contamination are under way.

Other prosecutions and seizures covered by the bulletin of the bureau include a shipment of sardines which were destroyed, because they contained a part of fishy decomposition, and a partial animal matter, and three shipments of olive oil adulterated with cottonseed oil. An artificial vinegary substance as ether vinegar resulted in the party responsible for the violation being fined $400. One shipment which failed to appear to defend himself in the charge of adulterated butter, and was fined $200 and costs. A shipment of milk from which part of the butter had been extracted resulted in the party responsible being fined $10 and costs. A plan of no-contents was made in answer to the charge by the government of adulterated frozen composed party of lumpy, cream powder, and partial animal matter. A fine of $25 imposed by the court. A shipment of decomposed apple butter was destroyed. Two shipments of soaked ripe linn beans which were found to contain a poisonous material was a shipment of potato consisting partly of glue and containing copper.

MOTOR FUEL SUPPLY SHORT

Gasoline Cannot Be Relied On to Fill Demand—Alcohol the Coming Power.

Mineral oils vary very much in their quality. Some of Mexico are particularly rich in the heavier ingredients, and are therefore exceedingly adapted for use as fuel. The lighter oils have more kerosene and gasoline. The prospect of gas—this supply of fuel for the coming winter has been increased enormously within the last few years, but the growth of the output has been only moderate, as shown by the growth of the automobile industry. There are now 7,000,000 automobiles in the United States; by the end of the present year there will be 10,000,000. Nothing is more certain, than that the supply of gasoline will not keep pace with the increasing demand. We shall have to look to coal gas as a source of motor fuel. Already "thermo" is a by-product of the distillation of petroleum, and is being used for this purpose in considerable quantities. Another fuel available for carburetors and engines are kerosene, which can be obtained in unlimited quantities from molasses, unmarketable potatoes, and all sorts of vegetable wastes.

Meeting the Demand

Meeting the demand for more efficient telephone service is just as difficult as meeting the demand on any other public concern—whether it be an over-crowded grocery store, a popular ticket window, a bargain counter or anything else where supply is running short. Conditions are unusual throughout the entire manufacturing, mercantile and domestic world. Deficiencies in telephonic facilities which have been quite obvious for some time are directly due to these abnormal conditions. Materials are scarce—manufacturers are not able to meet demand—telephone supplies cannot be had—the war diverts all activities in other directions, and they are just beginning to come back. Until the normal level is struck, there is bound to be shortage of supplies and this means unavoidable deficiencies. The telephone service is probably no better or no worse than the general average of the business and domestic world. The telephone management is in a vigorous campaign to get its service back to the old standard of speed and accuracy. Patience and co-operation on the part of the public will greatly aid in bringing about mutual satisfaction.

It is not only our duty to make the right known but to make it prevalent.—EDMUND BURKE.

MORE SO-CALLED FACTS.

IT'S about time to gain your respects to that very enlightening publication, "Facts About Sugar."

It is really a treat to read such a single-jingle array of words which the great man allows to be phoned off as argument.

Of course all the news reports and all the statements made by governmental and other investigators of the sugar question, to this effect that speculation only is what has caused the high prices.

Today's news reports inform us that the supply is unshared as large as heretofore, that hundreds of carloads have been unloaded, as it were, on an out-of-the-way side tracks of Chicago, many with the labels torn off to escape detection as sugar cars.

Labor to this blue-ribbon driven said assate editor: "The price of sugar is considered high mainly because comparison is made with the abnormally low prices that have prevailed for years past."

In other words, 25 cent sugar is high because it is compared with five and six cent sugar of a few years ago—just a few years prior to the time when some 12,000 millionaires were being created annually by the war needs of a Nation.

Says the fair-minded (God save the mark!) editor of "FACTS" (don't neglect the quotation marks) "Legislation, regulation, prosecution and intimidation are powerless to overcome a world-wide economic condition."

The most natural question which a man in a confederate of absurdities as is here quoted suggests to a person ever guilty of doing even the smallest amount of thinking, is why would the dealers in sugar hire a writer to deceive them into a belief that he is giving them facts? Is it possible that they are—those dealers—so absolutely ignorant of the average intelligence of the clod turner as to believe such statements would be believed by him?

The "Facts" editor, whose name is E. W. Mayo, and who omits his surname from number 82 Wall street, New York City (are you to go any further?), approves of the measures that Attorney General Palmer is taking—or was supposed to be taking, or meditating—to limit the speculation in sugar, but, says psychologically out Mr Mayo: "The consuming public will be benefited if it expects any great reduction in prices as a result of such efforts."

Unquestionably all the symptoms for "sugar," pure and unmitigated gaudy bull brassery, are not a classifying of such sickly halterdash. It is not even "sickled" or with the pale cast of thought for no such mass of stupidity could ever have emanated from the least effort at thought.

We are glad to get "Facts About Sugar." Of course we know that there are bound to be trade journals. Such publications, like other banes of our economic system, have their grades; there are each journals and trade journals. But how any of the wise men who worry on their head-gearing activities within hounding distance of Wall street can get a clientele to support a journal which seeks to palm off such "skimbable-skimble stuff," as Shakespeare term it, is beyond the ken of most mortals, we wot.

The unearthing in Chicago by the International News Service of millions of dollars worth of sugar with other stored food products, goes not add to the probability that those of "FACTS" is making any colorable attempt to stick to the truth.

NOAH WAS A "NUT," TOO

(Brooklyn Eagle.) Samuel G. Taylor, a judge of the New York Supreme Court, in his introduction to the "Fool's Errand," has noted that while Father Noah was building the ark for long years, the architecting out around on sofas and dived him and called him a crazy man and worse.

It is a far cry from that gopher, with structure to Albert Einstein's hyperbole, but the man whom his neighbors called a "nut" has his vindication also, after 27 years. Noah lived down at Rook bank, Staten Island. He had a wife and 13 children. He was fond of them, too, but they all had a hard time with him.

WOOD AND JOHNSON

The opposition of various republican leaders to Gen. Wood will be misunderstood, it is supposed by persons who have not read his record, of course, made pro and con as to the ability with which he would administer the office and the value of the services he would render.

The general assumption that a republican victory is absolutely assured next fall is no longer shared by many republican leaders who are the true friends of the party. They find the time too chaotic to establish such confidence and they are doubtful as to what will be the result of the vote.

WISE MAN BUYS CLOTHING NOW SOUND ADVICE

The calamity which happened in this city last week, destroying great stocks of dry goods, laid a heavy weight upon the community.

And on account of the shortage of merchandise all over this country, the merchandising that was destroyed is practically irreplaceable and is a great loss to the community as a whole.

Child welfare was the principal thing considered and it was deemed to more correctly help this disaster, most and initial steps toward the relief were taken.

CARPENTIER TO GO 15 ROUNDS WITH LEVINSKY

World's Light Heavyweight Championship Is The Prize They Are After

By JACK VEILOCK (H. N. S. Sporting Editor) NEW YORK, May 24.—The signing of Georges Carpentier and Jack Dempsey for a bout for the world's light heavyweight championship was hailed with approval by boxing fans throughout the country today.

Despite repeated assurance that he came to fight Jack Dempsey if possible many Americans and it is hoped to believe that Carpentier would want to return to France without drawing on the gloves in a prize contest on this side of the pond, so his matching was welcomed.

Carpentier in his country today, the heavy and light heavyweight titles to Europe. His match with Levinsky will be a title fight and it is hoped to meet Jack Dempsey he must defeat the latter—a task that shows the heavyweights aside from Jack Dempsey has been able to perform decisively.

BOXING NOW LEGALIZED IN YORK STATE

By JACK VEILOCK (H. N. S. Sporting Editor) NEW YORK, May 25.—Boxing came back into its own in New York state today for the first time since the Frawley law went out of existence several years ago.

Under the Frawley law in signing the Walker bill brought the game back to place it was enjoyed since the old Horton law days, for the Walker bill provides 16 round bouts in a decision.

GOSSIP AMONG SPORTS

University of Wisconsin football team has scheduled annual games with Chicago at Stagg field for the next five years. This country doesn't want war with France, but there's no telling what will happen if Carpentier fails to kick the slippard slippard. One hundred and ninety-three nominations have been made for the eight cury of members of the Kalamazoo grand circuit meeting. The Massachusetts Institute of Technology plans to enter a crew in the intercollegiate regatta. Lou Hillman, the trotting queen, has found a 'big nut' by Elvash. The Polo association has added an army representative to its executive board in order to aid in promoting the sport in the United States army. Novel British industry. In every year the scientific men named Drummond discovered one solitary aronia plant in the woods of St. Tammany parish in Louisiana, and it is reported that today at the Arnold arboretum, New Harvard has written to New Orleans asking to have Louisiana searched again for the rare growth, and the New Orleans Garden society has offered a prize of $5 for the discovery of another one. Harvard also wants Louisiana searched for a certain variety of ash, discovered near New Orleans about a century ago and never seen before since.

Don't Let Catarrh Drag You into Consumption

Avoid Its Dangerous Stages. There is a more serious stage of Catarrh than the annoyance caused by the stopped-up air passages, and the hoarseness and spitting and other distasteful features. The real danger comes from the tendency of the disease to continue the course downward until the lungs become affected, and then dread consumption is on your path. Your own experience has taught you that this disease cannot be cured by any other local application.

The Better the Printing of your stationery the better the impression it will create

Moral: Have your printing done here. Billie Hillings cried, coaxed and entreated with the Senator that he fire his stenographer immediately. The senator's first refusal to take a foolish step on account of his young wife's whim led to gallons of tears shed both by herself and her devoted but sensible husband. Billie has arranged for a reconciliation supper when an sudden twist in affairs leads her to elope with a Bulgarian count. How the senator is moved to tears, feet aching, and almost cruelly ends this story and also ends the Ladies' streak in little little hillings for all time to come.

How Can I Save Money? Wise buying means economy. The way to buy wisely is to read the advertisements.

- because advertised products are good products. —because merchants tell you of their bargains through advertisements. —because almost every new opportunity is offered through an advertisement. —because practically every unusual buy is advertised. —because you save time and trouble by choosing what you want and where to get it from the advertisements instead of hunting all over town.

How can I save money? By reading the advertisements. Not today only. But every day. You'll save money by keeping up with every opportunity to get full value in buying—by reading the advertisements regularly.

General Public Invited to Session at Parish Hall to Consider Vital Matters

Discussion of plans for the celebration of July 4 as well as many other matters of vital interest will take place this evening at a meeting of the members of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and the general public at Parish hall at 8 o'clock...

Several plans to celebrate the great day in American history have been arranged for 1920 and at this evening's session one will be decided upon and arrangements made for a big time for everybody. Twin Falls has usually celebrated the Fourth in a grand and extensive way that left little to be desired and those who are heading the movement to celebrate this year plan to come up to the standard of other years if not eclipse it.

The Chamber of Commerce believes that if the wishes of the general public are obtained, a better decision definitely made relative to the plans for a supreme gain due a better celebration will result. There will be a usual minor feature regardless of the nature of the event but there may be something unique in the minds of the public spirited citizen which will add to the enjoyment of all.

The question of the celebration of the Fourth will doubtless be the big one to be settled in the meeting but there will be others of importance and interest to the people of the city and county. A capacity crowd is expected.

Eays What Arms Have Done for Liberty Spirit Will Do for Justice

NEW YORK, May 25.—A heroic quality has come to America, says President Wilson in a memorial day message to the American Legion...

President Wilson's message in full follows: We approach the annual celebration of Memorial day with our hearts filled with tender and grateful memories of those who have given their lives for America...

It is cheered by those who are comrades in arms and who shared with him the most bitter hardships and glories of war. It is exalted by the people generally, who take it as an annual occasion to renew their loyalty and draw fresh inspiration for the tasks of peace from the memory of the sacrifices which were made so freely in times of war...

General Public Invited to Session at Parish Hall to Consider Vital Matters

Discussion of plans for the celebration of July 4 as well as many other matters of vital interest will take place this evening at a meeting of the members of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and the general public at Parish hall at 8 o'clock...

Several plans to celebrate the great day in American history have been arranged for 1920 and at this evening's session one will be decided upon and arrangements made for a big time for everybody. Twin Falls has usually celebrated the Fourth in a grand and extensive way that left little to be desired and those who are heading the movement to celebrate this year plan to come up to the standard of other years if not eclipse it.

The Chamber of Commerce believes that if the wishes of the general public are obtained, a better decision definitely made relative to the plans for a supreme gain due a better celebration will result. There will be a usual minor feature regardless of the nature of the event but there may be something unique in the minds of the public spirited citizen which will add to the enjoyment of all.

The question of the celebration of the Fourth will doubtless be the big one to be settled in the meeting but there will be others of importance and interest to the people of the city and county. A capacity crowd is expected.

PRESIDENT OF B.O. OPPOSES HIGHER RATES

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Opposition to increases in passenger fares was voiced by Daniel E. Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad appearing before the Interstate Commerce commission in support of rate increase asked by $1,000,000,000 in increased revenues. "Passenger fares would have to be increased to four or five cents a mile to place them on a parity with freight rates," Willard said. "Unquestionably such an advance would be unwise."

Willard said that it could be possible to fit a surcharge upon Pullman passengers but he did not attempt to say specifically what such a charge rate for Pullman accommodations might accomplish.

At the end of federal control the roads were returned to the private owners in a worse condition than before, Willard said.

If Any Person Interested in Advertising in Advertising Believes that any newspaper south of Nampa and Boise or in all Eastern Idaho has as large a circulation as has the Twin Falls Times Such person is welcome to inspect the mailing lists of this newspaper, and is in fact, urged to do so. The foreign advertiser generally conducts his business along such systematic lines, that the newspaper with small circulation does not get from him a long time contract, or one of size. It is observable that The Twin Falls Times carries a LIBERAL amount of foreign advertising.
