FOE'S FORCES OCCUPY POINT TO NORTHWARD

Foreign Office at Paris Receives Text of Comment on Polish Situation; Washington, However, Denies Any Statement Forwarded; May Have Gone Direct From White House.

PARIS, Aug. 8.—The sudden of the lady was receiving a note from Washington bearing on the Russian-Polish war. The middle part of the note arrived first. It was reported this portion of the note said that while the Moscow government did not represent the Russian people, the Russian army was comparatively a national organization, fighting for national defense and that the United States did not desire to interfere in Russia's internal affairs.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—State department officials today admitted knowledge of a note from the United States government to the French foreign office on the Russo-Polish situation. White House officials refused to issue a Paris dispatch stating that such a note was being received at the foreign office there. Under Secretary Coby said there was "no foundation" for the statement that a note had been sent. Under Secretary Davis also declared no note had gone through the department, but House members received a note sent directly from the White House which went through the usual state department channels.

MARSHAL FOCH AND ADMIRAL BEATTY SUBMIT OUTLINE OF ACTION AGAINST RUSSIANS

HYTHE, England, Aug. 9. (6 p. m.)—The conference of Premier Lloyd George and Milner on the Russian situation ended late today in "complete accord," it was stated. HYTHE, England, Aug. 9. (6 p. m.)—The conference of Premier Lloyd George and Milner on the Russian situation ended late today in "complete accord," it was stated. It was officially announced that Marshal Foch and Admiral Beatty, the Bolshevik representatives will be allowed to remain in England pending the outcome of the armistice parity at Rinsk on Wednesday, according to this report.

HYTHE, ENGLAND, Aug. 9. Resuming their conference at 10 a. m. today, Premier Lloyd George and Milner laid out the plans for military and naval action against Russia, submitted by Marshal Foch, Field Marshal Wilson and Admiral Beatty. The reports were drawn up by Foch, Wilson and Beatty during the night. They worked over them until shortly before dawn.

FRANCE FAVORS ACTION. Premier Lloyd George was understood to be striving his hardest to find a way out of the dilemma without actual hostilities, which was requested the French were urging immediate, decisive military action. The probability was that unless the new Russian note, which was expected to outline fundamental peace terms, changed the situation, the premier would compromise on a policy under which they would ask Poland with munitions, and Marshal Foch, who had determined definitely whether Russia named Poland's integrity. In the event that Poland's independence was maintained the ally would adopt more drastic measures.

There were rumors that Lloyd George would try to turn the lower house of Russia over to the league of nations, thus avoiding antagonizing the laborites who sympathize with Russia.

Called Press Staff Correspondent LONDON, Aug. 9.—The Russian cabinet is going before the British cabinet tonight and before parliament tomorrow, according to dispatches reached at the conference between Premier Lloyd George and Admiral Beatty today. Milner planned to start for Paris this afternoon, where the final plan probably will be placed.

WAR IN AIR FLEET. White Lloyd George and Milner were over the arrangements for military and naval action submitted to them by Marshal Foch, Field Marshal Wilson and Admiral Beatty. The Russians were pounding the forts of Warsaw with artillery while masses of Russian troops were marching on the city.

"A Greater America" is Keynote of Speech of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Accepting Demo's Nomination for Vice President of Republic

Organized Progress at Home and Our Relations With the World, Are Problems Praises Governor Cox Declares Ohioan Is Well Qualified to Lead the Nation in March of Progress

HYDE PARK, N. Y., August 9.—"A Greater America" nationally and internationally, was the keynote of the speech here today of Franklin D. Roosevelt, in accepting the democratic nomination for vice-president. He declared that the nation's greatest problems are the solution of two great problems by the next national administration—"our relations with the world, and the pressing need of organized progress at home."

As for home problems, he said, we have been awakened by this war into a realization of the need for the kind of reorganization which only a clear thinking business man, experienced in the technicalities of governmental procedure, can carry out. We need to do things, not to talk about them. He appealed for "firmness and generosity" in the campaign, declaring that "inasmuch as partisanship was barred during the war, it should not be resurrected now."

However, an agreement was reached and today's developments promised to show which side was right.

SO THE PEOPLE MAY KNOW

It has come to the attention of The Times that a solicitor for the Twin Falls Daily News is spreading the report that The Times is drawing a list of names for a "pulling out" fund. This would be a serious blow for the News—if true. Unfortunately for the little paper, it is NOT true. The little paper is having claim to being the "biggest" paper in the local town and claims a few other things that are not necessary to mention here because this is being written in a "straight" series, although it is all we can do to keep from laughing out loud at the noise our contemporary is making. Capital is also trying to be made out of the increased subscription rates for The Times. The "well informed" solicitor of the News' position on this matter is being written in a "straight" series, although it is all we can do to keep from laughing out loud at the noise our contemporary is making. ## CHURCH AS A PUNISHMENT

A New York Justice lately sentenced a couple of lads who had stolen a motor car to attend church twice each Sunday for six months. He did so, he said, in the belief that it would do the boys good, and at the same time be a matter of punishment to them.

But the wise judge really did a very foolish thing either from the standpoint of punishment or profit to the boys. The chances are that it will do nobody any good, nor deter anyone else from going without similar crimes. Where boys have to go to church, such conditions it begets a spirit of resentment in them, and instead of the religious teaching under such circumstances doing them good, it may do a lot of harm.

Boys should be encouraged to attend church because it is pleasant and profitable. They should under no circumstances be permitted to look upon it as punishment. This is the trouble with too many church attendances now, old and young. They look upon attending divine worship as a sacrifice or punishment, instead of finding in it consolation and comfort. They seem to think that it pleases a Superior Being for them to sit upright so many hours a day, regardless of what they are thinking about while sitting there. They suppose that they will receive credit somehow for having gone to church on Sunday school, as if the mere act of sitting in a certain room had any virtue in it. Unless one is in accord with the spirit of worship, unless he receives something in the way of inspiration, unless he is impressed with the glory of the universe and the majesty of the Creator, and seeks to get into closer touch with both, going to a place of worship will avail nothing.

"HE DIED IN GREAT POVERTY"

THE Poet's Corner in Westminster Abbey in England contains the bones of more illustrious poets and literary men than any other shrine on the face of the earth. It is the resting place of genius grown weary of the cruel struggle for existence. It is a place of sacred memories for all who enjoy the songs of the great bards who wrote in English language. Here in a noble structure, resplendent with the artisan's clearest handiwork, they lie; and a world in passing does homage to them.

A visitor to this corner of Westminster Abbey reads on the tablets devoted to these great literary figures with almost unfeeling regularity these significant words: "He died in great poverty. Poverty and lack of appreciation in life seem to have been the lot of the majority of the world's great poets. And a world which failed to do homage to the breathing and animated product of the poet to date realizes his worth and in remorse attempts to make reparation by a devotion to the spirit of his work, which lives after him."

So it is written on their epitaphs that they died in their old age forgotten by the world, in great obscurity and dire poverty, but, cognizant of the enduring worth of their writings, their bones have been here interred in Westminster Abbey. The crowning place of kings and the tomb of sovereigns.

Germany didn't realize how high the price of paper was coming when she tore up that strip.

The fact that our manufacturers will cheaper in Europe proves that charity isn't the only thing that begins at home.

It is doubtless whether a Mexican convention could nominate a candidate for President with less than forty ballots.

The Communist party has no right to complain about the high cost of living. The pants furnish free ration.

The cost of a loaf of bread doesn't trouble the country as much as the cost of the other kind of loaf.

In this wonderful land of opportunity the son of a poor parent may grow up to be a brick mason.

Another explanation of divorce is the fact that women don't think it necessary to dress up at home.

Job had his life troubles but it might have been worse. They didn't frisk him for an income tax.

How times change! Once they burned widows, and now they won't even burn our boards.

What does profit a man to go to Cuba and get full if the sea is rough coming home?

CONSERVE OIL, WARNS U. S.

Consumption in United States is Exceeding Production, Says Bureau Director

Washington, D. C.—With oil consumption in the United States exceeding production, Director Manning of the bureau of mines predicted that in less than twenty years the supply will be exhausted, unless steps are taken to conserve it.

If the demand for gasoline and other oil products continued to increase as has during the past few years, the United States, he said, would have to depend on other countries for part of the supply.

The geological survey estimates that in all, about 20 per cent of the supply in all oil fields in the United States has been exhausted. Director Manning said that the field of north Texas, he said during 1920 would be less than last year.

"Producing fields in Louisiana have proved to be large, but not as extensive as they had anticipated," he said. For a number of years Mexico fields in the United States will have to depend largely on Mexico, Venezuela, and Colombia, according to Mr. Manning, who said that fields in other countries, with the exception of Russia, were largely under the control of Great Britain, France and the Netherlands.

FOR HEALTH AND BEAUTY

There may be sufficient storage capacity in the average home for the potatoes which are raised in the garden, but it is not always a very good thing to have a surplus of potatoes. It is especially true when the potatoes are of the variety which is a low crop because of its early maturity. An efficient storage house would be most independent of the buyer and beyond the reach of a car shortage. It is the fall season that the potato crop is at its peak. It is essential to have a storage house for the potatoes which are raised in the garden. It is made of soil and four, soil and roof may be made with soil and roof. It is a matter of common sense to have a storage house for the potatoes which are raised in the garden.

REARIVELY GIVEN OF FINANCIAL CONDITIONS

Financial and Business Conditions in the United States

The board also announced that it had received more than two million applications for adjustment of wages.
