Enemy Reported to Be Retreating in Panic Along the Line of Vistula River

PARIS, Aug. 18. (1:30 p. m.)—The Russian army will be "completely defeated" if the Poles can maintain their continuing offensive three days longer, according to official advice received by the French foreign office from Warsaw today.

The military situation was described as "continuing most favorably" and it was declared that the Bolsheviks might withdraw from Warsaw in the event of danger of being utterly crushed.

SO THE PEOPLE MAY KNOW

Reports that continue to gain circulation, in which it is evident that there is some intention to injure The Times, repeat the false statement that The Times is to discontinue publication.

The Times has denied these reports and rumors, but despite the assertions made by this newspaper that all such rumors are false, there is an insistent determination on the part of someone to keep the reports alive. It appears that in this case, as in many others, some neighbors know more about the plans and purposes of the other fellow's business than he does himself.

The Times wishes again to deny the reports. It is said that a lie dies hard, and certainly the lie about The Times is having a hard struggle to give itself up to oblivion. Emphatically again, however, The Times IS NOT GOING TO SUSPEND PUBLICATION NEITHER AT THIS TIME NOR AT ANY TIME IN THE FUTURE.

CLEVELAND, O. Aug. 18.—Outlaw strikes of coal miners were believed imminent in some of the coal districts due to the failure of the state committee of the miners and coal operators to agree on a supplemental wage increase last night.

ELKS Squires, editor of the United Mine Workers Journal, said there will be no strikes and that the matter can be amicably adjusted.

Leaders Regard the Situation Critical

Victory for Poles Must Come Within Next Few Days or Bolshevik Will Win

LONDON, Aug. 19, 2:30 p. m.—The Bolsheviks are evacuating Vilna and removing their headquarters to Grodno, according to official advice received here this afternoon.

The about-all-pole indicates that despite Polish and neutral reports that the Russians are being routed, the Bolsheviks are still in the lead. The Reds are moving their headquarters 150 miles closer to Warsaw.

MOSCOW, Aug. 19. (via wireless) The situation in Poland between Polish and Russian representatives were not resumed at 11:30 yesterday, the official Bolshevik statement stated today.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The Poles were reported today to be desperately pushing their line forward and to have captured the Husiatyn, in a race against time.

Balanced against continued Polish successes along nearly the entire 600 mile border were the apparently well-established fact that President Wilson and General Wgand have pledged practically all their reserves with the Bolshevik reserves are virtually untouched.

Victory Hangs in Balance. In view of the situation, military experts here believe that the Polish victory must become even more pronounced within the next few days or conditions will be reversed and the Reds will again assume the offensive.

Another factor in the race against time was the moral advantage to be won in the armistice negotiations at Minsk through holding the whip hand in the military situation.

Apparently the Polish counter-offensive was developing in three distinct movements—the first, which had cleared the Danzig corridor, extending eastward from Graudenz (fifty miles south of Danzig), the second, under Pilsudski's personal command, centering between Minsk and Grodno (northwest of Warsaw and Siedlce) and the third, extending from Siedlce southeastward along the course of the river.

The two latter movements are practically one, obviously having for their double objective the driving of the Bolsheviks back from Warsaw, and forcing a wedge into the Red center.

Danile Sector Cleared. Apparently the Polish counter-offensive was developing in three distinct movements—the first, which had cleared the Danzig corridor, extending eastward from Graudenz (fifty miles south of Danzig), the second, under Pilsudski's personal command, centering between Minsk and Grodno (northwest of Warsaw and Siedlce) and the third, extending from Siedlce southeastward along the course of the river.

REPUBLICAN "OLIGARCHY" BLAMED BY COX FOR THE PRESENT DAY CONDITIONS

Sharp Fire Is Directed at "Reactionary" Leaders in the Senate; Asserting They Have Prevented Lower Living Costs and Blocked Tax Reductions in Hope of Accusing Democrats to Be Responsible; Nominee Urges Prompt Ratification of Peace Treaty.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. Aug. 18.—The republican "oligarchy" of the senate is "directly responsible" for the unsettled conditions through the country, Governor James M. Cox, democrat presidential candidate, charged here today in his first speech in Indiana.

The governor again directed a sharp fire at the "reactionary" republican leaders asserting that they have prevented lower living costs and blocked tax reductions in the hope of placing the blame upon the democrats.

Normal conditions will return with ratification of the peace treaty "with such additions as are renumeration and helpful," he said, adding that the democratic platform is to enter the league of nations with the least possible delay after March fourth, 1921.

Cox charged that while "progressive democrats" are being accused of "reactionary" leadership with reference to every vital question, "the reactionary republican leaders are passive and hypocritical."

"If they would follow their own footsteps backward, and they are so used to moving in that direction that they would not need a compass, they would find that every condition against which they now inveigh is of their own creation," the candidate said.

"They discuss the high cost of living without apparently realizing that it is the result of the war and the government's policy of borrowing money to finance it."

Women to Resist Every Effort to Invalidate Vote

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—"Now that you have the vote, what are you going to do with it?" was a practical politician asked Mrs. Alice Paul, chairman of the national woman's party, today as they discussed ratification of the suffrage amendment by Tennessee yesterday.

"We are now in a position to begin our real fight," replied Mrs. Paul. "We have been here for accomplished after years of strenuous effort has been merely preliminary."

"The 'real fight' is the one to bring to women full equality with men, she said. To do this suffragists said many steps must be taken. Among these: "Consolidating" the ratification victory by resisting every effort to undo ratification, either by legislative or court action.

Arousing to their opportunity the hundreds of thousands of American women who have been indifferent towards the vote, so that they will use their franchise in behalf of their franchise.

It is not only our duty to make the right known but to make it prevalent.—EDMUND BURKE

HARDING OR COX?

GOVERNOR COX, in his Whirling speech, is reported to have "stormed the republican position," and attacked the senatorial oligarchy, which he said was trying to add the presidency to its domain.

He is further reported as saying, "Senator Harding is straitjacketed by a senatorial ring," but that he, Cox, "could not be kept muzzle" on his front porch by any ring.

Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Cox's running mate, charges the plight of Poland "upon those little, narrow men in the United States Senate, those little, narrow men who today control the machinery of the republican party."

Mr. Harding, on the other hand, in his speech at Marion, Ohio said: "There is a tendency today to bludgeon talk with politics," and "I want to turn your thoughts to a service in our columns, (meaning newspaper). There is one service for the American press—not partisan, but patriotic, for which there is a call today. America needs journalism in righteousness, and a new concentration in morality." Call it reaction if you like, we need the old standards of honesty, the old standards of fidelity. It could call for but one distinction. I would like yours to be known as an honest people. We need the stamp of common, every-day honesty everywhere," he said.

"If our governments and their diplomats in Europe had been rigidly honest peace might have followed the armistice within 30 days. If we could only be genuinely honest with one another, we would put an end to industrial and social unrest and if we were only honest with God we would become a moral and religious people again."

Take the foregoing utterance of the three candidates, two for the presidency and one for the vice presidency, compare them and draw your own conclusion as to the dignity, breadth and depth of these men, and decide which of these candidates measures up to the ideals that should be set for an occupant of the high office of chief magistrate of this great republic. No comment is necessary for the guidance of the intelligent patriotic American voter.

THE SUFFRAGE VICTORY

CONGRATULATIONS to Tennessee! The sixty years struggle of the women of America to secure equal suffrage has been won. There may be some dissenters, but it is believed that the majority of women, as well as the majority of men, will hail the victory as one of the greatest steps in progress this nation has taken since the able founders of the country put their signatures to the declaration of independence.

There never has been a legitimate argument against woman suffrage. But the battle has been waged bitterly by those who opposed it. The victory is therefore all the more a source of gratification to those who have been on the firing line in its cause. The anti-Tennessee have not given up hope of yet defeating the ratification on technicalities, but it is to be doubted if they will get very far with their efforts, any more than the anti in the former question have been able to get very far with their desire to again make the booze industry paramount in the country. The clock of time has moved ahead, and not all the anti in the world can move it back again!

The next step in making the amendment binding will be the promulgation of a decree from the secretary of state. The 19th amendment to the constitution of the United States will then be in force.

Nine States refused to ratify the amendment. They are Alabama, South Carolina, Delaware, Georgia, Virginia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Maryland and North Carolina.

PUTTING 'EM ON THE MAP

KICKING up the dust of the big road as they ran, two excited boys moved toward the little red schoolhouse. In front of the building they came to a sudden halt before a new post around which they danced with delight. On top of the post was fastened a bright box bearing the legend "Spring Creek School, Box 26, R. F. D. No. 1."

Proudly the boys gazed at the box, and then Jim said: "We'll get our mail now, I'll bet you?" And Charles replied, "Sure!" Fanning their eyes we never thought to put up a school mail box until the Junior Red Cross suggested it."

As they turned their steps homeward, after they had peered into the box and had raised and lowered the little tin flag on its top which was to signal the rural mail carrier, they talked of the many things the Juniors had done for Spring Creek School, and they agreed that the best of all was the mail box, which, for the first time, put their teachers and their school in touch with the world. Now all papers, magazines and letters, instead of lying in the village post-office until called for, or going astray because of faulty addresses, could be delivered as promptly to the school as the mail which went to the farm houses along the route of the rural carrier.

Poor transportation by the railroads has been the chief contributing cause of the high prices on nearly everything, according to most authorities. With the increases allowed the railroads, thereby permitting them to be more efficient, the prices will tend to come down, or at least not go any higher than they are at present. Will the profiteers please cut this out and paste it in his hat!

Are the Best Tires too good for the Small Car Owner

EVERYBODY agrees that it is generally desirable for merchandise to be graded. A good principle that often comes out at the wrong end for the car owner—the man with the upkeep on his mind—the tire bills to pay.

He feels that tire economy should be a personal contract with the tire-user. Not a transaction with his car, whether it be big or small.

Reasoning tires in human terms instead of trade custom has written this policy for the United States Rubber Company—
Build all tires to one standard and let the tire user choose his own size. When the oldest and largest rubber manufacturing concern in the world focuses all its resources upon one grade, one quality, it makes one client—and that is the whole public.

This single ideal is visible in any U. S. Tire factory, at any U. S. distributing branch, in any U. S. dealer's store.

Seeing that the tire-user gets his economy mileage along with an unlimited guarantee. Policies are harder to make than tires. Probably the deepest reason why U. S. demand keeps always ahead of the number of tires the U. S. makers can supply.

ITALY SHOWING WORLD HOW TO MEET DESTRUCTION PERILS

No country in Europe has approached the problem of reconstruction and adjustment to the new situation in world affairs with more intelligence and energy than Italy, according to Willis H. Booth, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust company of New York, who has just returned from Europe. Mr. Booth went abroad during the month of July to attend a conference which represented the American Bankers Association at the organizational meetings of the International Chamber of Commerce in Paris, and after the meetings of that body in the early part of August, returned to Italy, where he made an extended survey of business and financial conditions.

In attempting to estimate conditions in Italy, it is sufficient to recall the Triple Alliance, when Italy left the Triple Alliance, but she only severed her political associations with Germany and Austria, but she retained the chief sources of her food supplies and raw materials for industry. Her action secured notice upon the economic condition of the world time forward her industrial and banking enterprises were to be distinctive. This amounted to a complete change in the course which the commercial life of the country had taken.
