G. O. P. LOADED AND READY TO MEET CHARGES

Senatorial Investigation Into Alleged Campaign Fund Starts at Chicago.

Hays Makes Statement Declaring That Cox's Allegations Will Be Nailed With His Own Hammer.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Senatorial investigation of Governor Cox's charges that the republican national committee was planning to raise a $16,000,000 campaign fund, and that "aiders and abettors" were trying to "buy an understanding on the presidency" was begun here today.

Opening of the senate committee's inquiry found republican party leaders in an aggressive mood. "We'll nail Cox's charges with his own hammer," declared Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, as he prepared to take the witness stand to be questioned by Senators Kenyon and Flood, who will conduct the inquiry.

Budget About $4,000,000 Hays took with him to the hearing room in the federal building carefully prepared statements showing, he said, that he had no knowledge of the republican national budget is $3,076,000.

Hays said Fred Upham, treasurer of the republican national committee were subjected as the first witnesses. Upham was "armed with books and papers which he said would disclose to the committee in short order the complete truth and absurdity" of Cox's allegations.

LINE UP LABOR VOTE FOR COX

Reads of American Federation Aids Outfitting Campaign for Democratic Nominee.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Heads of the American Federation of Labor who have gone on record as favoring the election of Governor Cox, today planned a campaign, the object of which is to line up the labor vote for the democratic candidate.

The American Federation of Labor national political committee committee has issued a report which purports to compare the records of the candidates in line up for the stand point of labor. "Governor Cox," said the report, "has shown himself to be a man of fuller understanding of the needs of the working people a greater respect for their political rights and their property and a broader statesmanship in his public discussion of problems of the industrial world."

Budget This Year Is Set at $3,000,000 State Collections Not Included in National Fund But Made Separately.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Organized liquor interests in the United States have set out to elect Governor Cox of Ohio, and are making campaign funds for the purpose.

Hays read into the records a letter written by George T. Carroll, president of the New Jersey federation of liquor interests, under date of July 28, 1920, asking for a contribution to the party of Cox and keep the anti-union league out of power.

The letter, headed Cox's nomination a "great victory for us," Carroll's letter, addressed to "Good Brothers," said: "The organized liquor trade of New Jersey has set out to do its part toward the election of Governor M. Cox as the next president of the United States, and it becomes my duty to call upon you to help more than that, we are going to fight as we never fought before in a struggle of the anti-union league out of office."

"The nomination of Governor Cox of Ohio by the president by the democrats is a big victory for our interests and it can be attributed in a great degree to the activities of our trade organization in New Jersey and throughout the United States. We are proud and gratified that we can be relied upon to approve an amendment to the Volstead act, and it is now up to our trade organizations to stand unitedly back of the Volstead act."

Hays also produced what he said was a contribution of $25 to the democratic campaign fund. Heller and Carroll immediately produced the letter and Hays after having charged that "certain interests" were trying to subvert Cox. He said he was willing to submit evidence concerning these interests.

"Submit it," said Senator Kenyon. Hays then read the letter. The letter, headed "Cox's nomination in response to queries by Senator Flood" that "there is not, never was and never will be any agreement or understanding with men of large means to underwrite the campaign."

Hays said that his corporation had contributed to the G. O. P. fund and said he had not heard of any agreement or understanding in consideration of contributions.

"This liquor business is bad. You ought to go into that," said Senator Kenyon. "Governor Cox's charges are false in what they say and libelous in their purport. With the approval of the senate national committee," declared today when he took the stand as the first witness in the senatorial committee campaign fund investigation here.

Hays, in a long prepared statement, said the committee had approved the national committee's budget for the campaign this year called for $3,076,000. That amount, he said, was made up of $1,000,000 in state and local funds and $2,076,000 in national funds.

"The $2,076,000 does not include," said Hays, "collections for state and local funds, but it does include the $1,000,000 in state and local funds. The $2,076,000 does not include," said Hays, "collections for state and local funds, but it does include the $1,000,000 in state and local funds." (Continued on page 2)

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 29.—(By route with Governor Cox). Confident that as a result of numerous conferences in New York he has combined all the democratic groups into one big fighting machine, Gov. James M. Cox today was traveling back to Columbus, Ohio, to make preparations for his candidate's battle in the fall for work.

The candidate declared today that while in New York he was assured of unqualified support by the leaders of all the successful party factions such as the Wilson administration, "namely, the McAdoo backers and the Patner forces, and that all are "on their toes for the big fight."

Perferring the details, Hays said that the organization is essential to success. Cox must meet at every step in Ohio to it that the work of the national committee is perfected down to the last detail.

In all his conferences Cox emphasized that the democratic cause must be carried to the people in a most aggressive manner. W. C. McAdoo pronounced the governor today was one of the most active campaigners. The governor today was watching closely developments of the senate campaign expenditures committee investigation in Chicago and had sent Senator Flood a committee member, a copy of his Pittsburgh speech which he "usually addressed to the senatorial body."

To Reply to Harding. New data on the league of nations was given the governor in his conferences and he indicated he will reply to Senator Harding's proposal to "abandon the league and put teeth in the Volstead act," when he speaks at the Ohio State fair tomorrow. Among those who discussed the league with Cox at New York were: David H. Francis, John F. Bassett, Smith College; John F. Moore, Harvard professor; David H. Moore, Boston, former legal adviser to the senate committee; and Earl C. Brown, former under secretary of state. The industrial situation was discussed with Thomas C. Chubb, former member of the president's industrial commission.

PLATFORM ADOPTED BY THE REPUBLICANS AT POCATELLO

We, the republicans of Idaho, at convention assembled, looking with confidence and assurance to the future of our great state, and to its past achievements and realizing that the future welfare of our nation commands the return of the republic to party to power in the nation, do hereby adopt the following platform embracing the principles of the republicans of Idaho.

We approve and endorse the republican platform adopted at the Chicago convention and we believe that future congresses should make constructive legislation in accordance with the provisions named in that platform.

We are proud of the selection of Harding and Coolidge as our standard bearers. We pledge our wholehearted support of the republicans of Idaho to Harding and Coolidge in the coming election. We endorse the republican candidates for president and vice president. In the coming election we will support the republican based upon law and on the constitution of the United States, and which will keep sacred the traditions of our forefathers which have so safely guided us over this century to a quarter of national existence. We believe that our foreign policy should be based on the principles handed down to us in the past by such patriots as Washington, Jefferson, Monroe, Madison, and Lincoln. We believe that no principle of independence or our national constitution shall be abrogated or nullified without the consent of the American people and we, as republicans, congratulate the people of the United States for electing their nominees for the office of president, Senator Harding, who will in no wise violate the principles upon which this nation was founded, and the president-elect of our government.

We believe that our forefathers acted with wisdom and foresight in the selection of our three great departments of government. We insist and demand that these three departments of government shall continue to function and perform their respective duties in the maintenance and protection of the United States. The return to the republic will insure to the nation guarantees that our government will be freed from excessive taxation and from the burden of debt.

AGAINST CLASS DISTINCTION.

This is a government of the people, for the people, and by the people, and we condemn any attempt to divide the citizenry into two or more national classes and all attempts to divide the individuals to create class feeling and class hatred. All branches of our government shall be made to function so as to serve every individual citizen equal to all other citizens alike and opportunity to enjoy the blessings of life, liberty and personal property.

Man's first duty is the protection of his home and family. On the same principle we believe that first concern should be the home interests of the citizen. The plan America for Americans has always been a republican slogan and the republicans of Idaho hereby pledge all nominees for congress to a policy which will give to the citizen the right of living and which will look for the prosperity of the United States and for the equality of all the world.

At this time when prices, home production are in most instances below the cost of production and large foreign imports, especially of such commodities as steel, we already devalued markets, and increasing widespread disease in our important industries, we demand that an emergency tariff be enacted by congress on all such foreign imports at the earliest possible date and such duties to be levied as will bring home market prices are stabilized to a point at least equal to the cost of production and we demand that such tariff legislation shall be enacted so that our home producers and manufacturers and laborers an equal opportunity when measured against world competition.

We endorse the enforcement of all laws, both state and national, which fear or favor in any person or class. We encourage thrift and the habits of saving to our citizens. A wise and just national state administration will add to our citizens the habit of saving the benefits of our national people and national resources.

ENDOWED BIRTH.

We heartily endorse and commend the patriotic stand taken by Senator W. E. Borah in his opposition to the proposed endowment of nations. His great fight for the preservation of American citizenship has made every citizen realize his debt.

We heartily endorse our friends T. B. Smith and Burton L. French and desire to show our unqualified support.

We commend the people of the state of Idaho for electing the administration that the republican party has given the state of Idaho during the past two years and invite a re-endorsement with the political significance of the two previous years.

We commend and endorse the cabinet form of state government substituted for a hopelessly inefficient system existing in Idaho. We believe Idaho governmental scheme has really exposed the defects and made state officials definitely responsible.

We further favor the state of response to the demand of the people of Idaho, and in 1909 passed a direct primary law and there after at subsequent sessions did attempt to strengthen said law and to bring it to perfection. Notwithstanding the honest and intelligent legislation of this kind the direct primary was largely unsatisfactory in its operation as a single wide measure. This was due to the concurrence of both republicans and democrats who have reported at the last session of legislature that the present direct primary law passed in its place has developed defects and must be amended and improved so as to prevent all that is conducive to good government in the direct primary law, which is absolutely protecting the rights of one people in party organization.

We regret the unapprovable conditions which have delayed the construction of a north and south highway in Idaho and favor the completion of such a road as speedily as work can be progressed.

The republican party of this state declares itself to be in favor of all by congress, and every man and woman of the world war and Spanish-American wars, and approves of some effective legislation in lieu of the four-fold plan recently before congress so that these soldiers will be able to realize a proper, substantial benefit.

We favor the enactment of such laws as will give executive men a preferential right of re-employment on all carry over articles in the employ of the state of Idaho; as will benefit the students of the state of Idaho, who are admitted to the state soldiers' schools in the state of Idaho; as will provide for the creation of a state welfare commission to investigate the conditions of the world war, and for an appropriate compensation and retirement for such legislation.

It is not only our duty to make the right known but to make it prevalent.—EDMUND BURKE.

HARDING AND THE LEAGUE.

Senator Harding has set forth his position on the League of Nations in an uncertain order and to the general reader his logic and sincerity of purpose are bound to make an appeal. One significant phrase in his speech of Saturday was as follows: "Am I right in saying that we needed only the outbreak of a war between Poland and Russia to make us realize at least one of these things which, in the words of Secretary Lansing, we would have been 'let in for' but for the restraining hand of the senate, and to fetch home to us the danger of committing our country in advance to causes that we know not of?"

A few days ago, according to news dispatches from London, a delegation representing an organization calling itself a society for the prevention of war, made an appeal to Premier Lloyd George to use the allied power in defense of Poland. The reply that the premier made is worthy of mention. He said, according to the newspaper reports, that while the formation of an international army would be an ideal solution of the European problem, it could not be put into effect because the European nations could not furnish the troops, and the United States had "withdrawn from cooperation."

In other words, the senate of the United States had not completed the pact which Mr. Wilson had tried to force upon the nation to do the thing which Europe would very willingly agree to—that of furnishing the men. Nothing can be clearer than this statement of Mr. George to show what the United States would now be doing if the league of nations covenant was ratified. Thanks to a republican congress and to some democrats who have not yet become "rubber stamps" the league covenant has not been ratified. And if Mr. Harding is ebbed it will never be ratified. There are too many dangerous pitfalls in the league covenant as it now stands to allow this nation to become a party to its enforcement.

When one thinks the whole situation carefully over, Mr. Harding's plan of an international tribunal, patterned after The Hague conference, is the only logical and sane solution of the problem of war. Arbitration of questions arising between nations is the first step toward perpetual peace. A League of nations, armed to the teeth, prepared to coerce nations into following certain demands, will never make for peace, regardless of what Mr. Cox or any other stump speaker may say to the contrary.

BIG WATERFALLS DISCOVERED.

WATERFALLS that rival in beauty the most splendid cascades of the Pacific Northwest have just been discovered on the western slope of the Cascade Mountains in Oregon. Although within 40 miles of Portland, a city of 200,000 people, no white man, so far as the records show, had even seen them until a few weeks ago.

The falls lie almost in the center of the Bull Run forest reserve, set aside by the government to protect Bull Run lake and Bull Run river, the source of Portland's water supply. It is this, of course, that accounts for the fact that the falls were not discovered long ago. The reserve is closed to all visitors except employees of the government and of the city of Portland who may go there on business, a precaution taken to protect the timber of the watershed against fires that might be started by careless campers.

The reserve, which includes 222 square miles of mountain and forest, was set aside by congress in 1892, and has been closely guarded ever since. It may be that in the early days some of the men who inspected the reserve came upon the falls, but this is unlikely, as they could hardly have failed to make a record of their discovery. The geological service made a survey of the district but the falls do not show on their maps, although all other waterfalls are marked, says Popular Mechanics Magazine.

The falls were found by three officials of the water bureau who had been tracing a new trail that leads from Bull Run lake to the headwaters of the water system, a distance of 21 miles. Up to the present time, the only trails between these places led along the mountain ridge, above Bull Run river. They decided to explore Falls creek, a tributary of the Bull Run, which had been noted for minor falls that were already well known. Penetrating with great difficulty up this stream, they came into a deep box canyon, and abruptly rounding a turn, were in full view of the lower of the unknown falls. They found that the stream at this place drops over a series of three shelves, two close together, and the other a quarter of a mile above them.

It is getting so that a string of beaded coal cars attracts about as much attention as a circus train once did.

When the Frisco traveler observes one shaking the shiny black cast, he reaches instinctively for a fire alarm.

The Colyum Rule

By G. C.

TO MOLLE WITH A MOLL.

There was something about you overlooked. The note that nestled on your snowy back. You always kept yourself so tightly tucked. I had not known if it was blue or black.

But on the night that to the dance we went. And you wore that green dress cut down quite low. My head, upon your shoulder slightly bent.

'T could but discern the mole's dull, mossy glow.

And now as I look fondly in your eyes, I wonder if you're all you seem to be.

For I cannot forget my keen surprise When I learned what you had concealed from me.

If one reformer can take the just out of life, think what's coming to us when all the reformers get busy.

A dispatch says that the babies have been cut off in the Loma sector. Very good, but why not cut a few of them off in the neck sector?

The only things that haven't increased in price these days are, faithfully prayers.

AND A HORSE DENTOR TO DRIVE A HOUSE?

A friend who told us that a man must be a philosopher to be able to write editorial articles for newspapers is probably the man fellow who holds that a person must be an astronomer to look up at the stars.

With America still out of it the league of nations has only one leg, says the Springfield Republican. We presume America is the other leg and all Europe is waiting to pull it.

There is a certain brand of woman who would rather be conspicuous than be out of style.

There are two kinds of men—the man who does things and forgets them and the man who has been to college and won't let you forget it.

Under educational conditions obtaining in this country, the schools have done remarkably well; but to put the whole truth about the profession of teaching in America into a single glowing sentence—there is no such thing. There are some professional teachers—a few who have made a study of the work they are doing, who have planned to continue as teachers permanently, and who are constantly keeping pace with the onward and upward progress of teaching. These are not all in the "higher" institutions of learning; they are in elementary schools and in kindergarten; they are classroom teachers in the elementary grades and high schools; they are principals, supervisors, and superintendents; and a few of them are teachers in normal schools and in college and university departments of education as well as in the usual college and university departments which require men of great learning.

Knitting for Assey Wins Her Husband

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 30.—A romance of the late war was concluded in the marriage of William Saunders of Canton and Miss Deane Allison of St. Louis. While at Jefferson barracks Saunders received a letter knitted by Miss Allison. He wrote to her and received a reply. After the young soldier received his discharge he proposed marriage and was accepted.

RAHE BROWN'S CHIEF

SAINT LOUIS, Aug. 30.—Louis, the 18-month baby of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hill, who reside at 3225 North 11th street, north of the city, died yesterday morning and was buried when found by her parents. The older children of the family play along the banks of the stream and the baby had been out of sight of the mother but a few minutes until she was missed. The alarm was given by the mother who with neighbors began a search for the child and soon found the lifeless body of the little one, lying in the stream. Two physicians were immediately summoned, but life had been extinct for quite a time. Funeral services were held from the family residence at 10 o'clock this morning.

ROWING LAURELS ARE WON BY YANKEE CREWS AT BRUSSELS

BRUSSELS, Aug. 30.—America added to its rowing laurels by winning three of four events yesterday and finishing second in the other. The most popular races were the eight crew, which the navy crew won and the single scull, which went to Jack Kelly of Philadelphia.

The United States national academy crew established a new world record for 2000 meters in six minutes, five seconds, defeating the London crew of British stars by half a length.

Kelly's time in the single scull was minutes, 35 seconds. Both he and the Knudsen, Herford, were exhausted at the finish.

In the double sculls, without coxswain, Kelly and Paul Costello won in seven minutes, 2 seconds, with Italy second and France third.

Silverman won the four oared race in six minutes, 41 seconds with the Philadelphia barge club second and Norway third.

In the two oared race, with coxswain, in which America had no entry, Duke was first, France second and Switzerland third.

Duke Kobanowaku, Honolulu, set a new Olympic record in the 100 meter single scull at Antwerp. He won the time in one minute, 22 seconds, bettering the old mark by one second.

Another new mark was made in the 200 meter hand stroke when the team won in 10 minutes, 4 2/5 seconds, compared with the old record of 10 minutes, 15 2/5 seconds.

The 200 meter hand stroke went to Almhurst, Sweden, with Henning Sweden second, Antwerp, Finland, third, and Havel, Oakland, Calif., fourth, in three minutes, 4 2/5 seconds.
