Warren G. Harding Declares Republican Party Will Not Disregard Trust.

No Time for Trifling Dangers Lurking in Paris League of Nations Must Not Be Overlooked.

(The following article by Senator Warren G. Harding is the first of a series of four written by the presidential candidate at the request of the United Press. Governor Cox's article will be carried tomorrow. Those by Charles and Eugene Debs will follow on successive days.)

BY WARREN G. HARDING, REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT.

Written for the United Press.

(Copyright, 1920, by the United Press.) MARION, Ohio, Oct. 27.—The experience of this campaign has definitely strengthened the conviction which I entertained at its beginning, that the American people will insist that those who seek the office for which I have been nominated shall make their appeal for support with consistent and becoming dignity. They do insist, and in their right; that those who seek the greatest gift within the nation's power to bestow, shall frankly present their cause and claims; and it has been my earnest purpose fully and frankly to comply with this proper requirement of the American people. But I am also convinced that, whatever favors of the sensational or theatrical should be avoided by whoever makes this appeal.

As I know his best. So far as I lay in me, I have done my best to insure that this election should be the great school for the nation for which President Wilson asked and I am confident that when the people know it will be a school in which the people have been thinking deeply and rightly on the great issues of the day.

LAST DRIVE OF HARDING IS ON

Dash Into Home State Today Starts Week's Intensive Campaign Here.

MARRION, Ohio, Oct. 27.—Senator Warren G. Harding has set out from here on his final campaign trip through Ohio shortly after noon today, arriving at Cleveland for an address tonight. Harding will be on the road the remainder of the week, ending up his campaign at Columbus Saturday night. The nominee will travel on a regular train during the Ohio speaking tour and has a leisurely schedule which will permit of many road platform appearances. Whether he can keep up the pace set on previous trips depends on the cold from which he is still suffering. A rainy week at Marion has not helped his throat along very favorably, but his physician, Dr. H. E. Sawyer, has been spraying it regularly and doing everything possible to get it in shape for the strain of this trip. The statement of Representative C. C. Ferguson, regarding the alleged appointment claimed to have represented Senator Harding in conference with Nikolai Lenin, Bolshevik chief, was viewed by some of Harding's friends here as an excellent example of development and was instantly denied by the nominee. Harding denied having ever heard of Washington D. Vanderlip, who was said to have been Harding's representative regarding the Lenin appointment, but in the event of Harding's election, Vanderlip, the senator said, he has no agent such as Vanderlip is alleged to be and knows nothing of the matter.

The woman went to Voesch's apartment to collect the rent. Several hours later her husband went in search of her, broke into the room and found her body on the floor. There were several scratches in her abdomen and her throat had been cut. Voesch denies knowledge of the murder.

IT ALIANS SHOOT DEER IN SALT LAKE CITY

...more or less successful ten day open season on deer in this state closed last night. While all the hunters have not yet returned, all indications seem to be that about one out of every three or four of the boys managed to bag a "deer with horns." Quite a few deer have been brought back to the city and reports of successful hunts have also been coming in with regularity from the smaller towns of the state.

HEM FRIENDS DEN FOUND

...SAX, PHOENIX, Oct. 27.—Joseph Berges advises Diogenes to lie himself and his well-known lantern to Portland, Ore. to go to the hotel of one Joseph Ellinger at 418 Union street and hunt no more. For Ellinger, says Berges, is too honest man. This assertion was made by Berges following receipt of a check from Ellinger, covering a $55 debt and interest. The debt was incurred 34 years ago before Berges' wholesale flour business here was wiped out by the '83 fire.

HE IS SURE PLEASANT WITH HIS LAND

Read his letter to his friend Sid Blackfoot, Idaho:

"I've been thinking of you lately and really miss you. I'm getting a little more. Why, just think, Sid, you've got four or five acres here to farm, you know. How would you like to have one acre of grain with an investment of $200 per acre in interest on the deferred payments on your land, and then you have the trees and the labor and when you come to figure it all out it's too darned much. Besides, Sid, you can't tell how long the prices are going to stay high and land values are tumbling at a little bit would sure hurt where the values are so high. Besides, I know just as much per acre as you do and then my land will double in value in the next few years while yours can't possibly double and it's doubtful if it ever gets any higher than you do as we have a better right rate to the big milling centers in the east. I don't want to discuss it, but I've done so much better since I came here and one of my neighbors just across the road who bought last year has been offered twice as much as he paid for his land out of his second crop. The same is about the same as it is all around and we can raise just as many spuds to the acre and just as many beets as you can. Of course we don't raise all kinds of fruit here, but we can raise a couple more than you can and buy my peaches and fruit that kind. This is an excellent country and you would make money with you cows. I could not store bills all summer with cream checks and when I get all my crop in I won't owe but very little for my farm. Of course I get six years deferred payments, but I am going to cut out the interest. You've got your make a clearing here and you'll always do it, but the hills here are higher than I did. The trouble is so many of the boys in the town don't get away from the old town, they want to stay in it if they can, just like the old folks. Listen, I don't buy my folks out to two more years, and they sure think it's fine to be away a couple more years. This summer and they're trying to get out and move while they can get such bargains here. You should come out and see for yourself. It would do you good. It's a part of God's country and it's a place to live. Write to me in sending love to your folks. I'll be glad to hear from you."

TO BOOST FOR GOOD ROADS

RECREATIONAL, commercial and agricultural purposes of the entire west will make a drive on congress this winter for federal aid for the longest and most scenic wonder course ever conceived by the national park service.

Utah, Nevada and Texas have joined in the campaign for the permanent improvement of the 5,500-mile highway connecting eleven national parks and many forests, definite steps toward which will be taken in a convention of the National Park-to-Park Highway Association, in Denver, November 11 to 13.

They will send delegates to the convention, which, among other things, expects to memorialize congress for $100,000,000 for the hardening of the nation's wonder way. This scenic highway is not only equal in the world, in mileage and grandeur, according to Nelson T. Holter, director of the national park service in the Washington department.

It is the only highway bearing the official recognition and approval of the interior department and the American Automobile Association. Tourist traveling by auto will make the trip next year via this course mapped out by the official dedicatory party now completing the circle swing.

The party, including officials of the National Park-to-Park Highway Association, as well as state officials, started from Denver, August 26, in a motorcade that will have completed three over the 8th. The dedicators are at present in Arizona.

Temporary repairs on dirt roads are being made to aid from principal cities with the national playgrounds, will be held in the winter, the scenic running nose of which joins the ever convention to thoroughly convince congress that it will be incentive to greater development not only of the recreational facilities of the west, but industrial and agricultural pursuits as well, thereby benefiting the entire country.

Utah will send a big delegation prepared to take the 20th National Park, recently dedicated, be connected with the longest scenic road scenic highway by a branch road leading from the Grand Canyon.

Governors and United States senators and congressmen in the twelve most westerly states, members of the appropriation and fiscal committees, of the congress, and officials of industrial and financial interests of the entire country, have been asked to participate in the road conference in Denver.

The other nine states directly concerned in the preliminary plans are Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona and New Mexico.

SAME OLD STUFF

AMOR will sometimes creep in at a political function, such as a funeral, and make a place for a smile, where tears are the rule, so perhaps it may be expected in a political campaign.

pected or not, the contention that we vote for peace or war at a presidential election gives obvious room for the smile.

Politicians indulge in a lot of horse play. We always like to believe the best we can of them, but when they resort to the old bluff stuff that we are in for war or peace, according to the stand to take in this presidential election, it makes us peevish at first, but then we have seen too much of it to be so.

It is the same old talk in substance that prevailed in DIME. "Hept up our war." The revision is "The league will keep us out of war." Why not tell that to the combatants in the twenty-two wars now being waged? We've heard that talk before, and even the public sometimes gets tired of having its slight intelligence snuffed.

MRS. CATT FLOPS

MRS. CARRIE CLIPMAN CATT, who vowed she would remain neutral in politics, has flopped over to Governor Cox and the league of nations. Mrs. Catt is a suffrage leader and fought long and hard for the cause. She forgets that it was the southern states which gave the necessary two thirds for the success of the amendment, but this is nothing by Mrs. Catt. She regulates her pledge to remain neutral, and forgetting the debt she owes to republican statesmen, avows the league and the politics of wobbling. The fair-minded women of America will not be quenced by Mrs. Catt's action since she herself so lightly repudiated her promise to remain out of this campaign as a partisan. She has earned the right to be disregarded as a leader, and her words should be words written in the sand.

AMERICA MUST SECURE PEACE OF THE WORLD

America to lead the way to construct a peaceful world. The republican party, and I am a republican, intend that this life should not be in vain.

Reflecting this, I have discussed with all earnestly the dangers which are in the park league of nations. This is no party question, but one of the greatest importance. This is a time for knowledge and earnest consideration, and I know my duty is to bring before you the facts which have before me, and which I believe will be very clear to all the world when it is made known to them.

My duty is to bring before you the facts which have before me, and which I believe will be very clear to all the world when it is made known to them. My duty is to bring before you the facts which have before me, and which I believe will be very clear to all the world when it is made known to them.

THE LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY

Address Delivered at the Annual Meeting of the Wyoming Stock Raisers' Association, Casper, Wyo., Sept. 17, 1920, by John Clay, in the Live Stock Oratory.

Not so many as all his glory, but the industry and good feeling of the live stock raisers in my humble opinion antedate the question. It is no immoderate to say that the live stock industry has been in the path to solve and although my lifetime has been spent in the live stock industry, I have never lost my faith in the industry.

members do not feel any too friendly towards them. A road that is built for the benefit of the community is justified. At the same time, it is not to be considered a ground for criticism of the management of the Federal Reserve bank.

With these observations, I add that the live stock industry is a business that is growing and that it is a business that is growing and that it is a business that is growing.

The last republican meeting of the campaign for Twin Falls people will be held Monday evening at the high school auditorium when Dr. E. W. McClure of Salt Lake City and Shad L. Edgins, county chairman, will make speeches on the issues confronting voters in the present election. Dr. McClure is secretary of the national woolgrowers' association and will confer with the many problems that are confronting sheep men today. He is especially well versed on the tariff question, and his interpretation of the present sheep and wool situation should prove very enlightening to the local men to whom the lack of a wool market means something more than a theory of government. The meeting will be followed by special music by the Twin Falls Quartette. The quartette consists of the following musicians: Miss Sara Thomas, formerly of New York, soprano; Miss Emma Smith, contralto; Harry M. Barrett, tenor; Elmer Oldhus and Miss Mary Hampton, pianist.

The action had its inception last summer, when a neighboring farmer brought the complaint. The case was appealed to the district court and the dismissal yesterday brought the proceedings to a close.

Viola Dana Comes to Screen in New Play

Local picture followers will have the opportunity today at the Idaho theatre of seeing the premier of Viola Dana's latest production, "The Chorus Girl's Romance," from the short story by F. Scott Fitzgerald.

The romance is that which springs up in a most odd manner between Merita Meadows, musical comedy star and chimney expert, and Horace Farbox, who is the academic prodigy of Yale.

Henry Heath wrote the screen script for this Metro picture, which was directed by William C. Bowland, photographed by John Arnold, and costaged with special art interiors by A. E. Frothingham. Gareth Hughes is Miss Dana's leading man.

On one side of the window is a miniature hot school house with pupils sitting at desks and a teacher on the other side is a picture of the new junior high school building now under construction with a toy auto school truck loaded with children in front of it. A study of building facilities of much interest shows that Workmen studied by oil of candle light lamps used the light reflected from playing logs, and today the present generation has the advantage of all that improvements that have been made since the days of the great steamships.

RODENTS FACE HARD WINTER

Campaign to Be Waged Against Pests in This County During Cold Weather.

Plans are already being formulated for an extensive amount of work to be done in Twin Falls county the coming winter for the extermination of rodents and pests, according to a statement given out this morning by E. E. Powers, county agent.

The fight to be waged will be directed particularly against squirrel, rabbits and sparrows. The operations will be fought all over the county and the rodents will be met on the territory where they are still prevalent.

In carrying this work, the local office will have the aid of Prof. W. E. French, rodent control specialist of the extension department of the state university, who is expected to spend several days here after the movement is thoroughly organized.

Thousands of dollars have been saved to farmers of the county in past years through the medium of this work and it is planned to make the campaign of a more comprehensive nature than ever before. To this end the cooperation of farmers over the state is sought to the greatest extent.

The snow fall in particular demands that thoroughness of work as well as in the extermination. Thoroughness will offset only a slight gain compared with that which may be accomplished when thorough organization, farmers' volunteers from neighborhoods to help make the fight a success are wanted, and they breed, and determinations as to will be rendering a real service to proper methods in mitering the themselves and their community by and spreading the grain will setting in touch with the county agent.

DEAR OLD PETE:

Just would you the one sweetest day of my life! Since early this morning, when I got an invitation to visit E. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. factories, I've been in the midst of millions of Camel cigarettes.

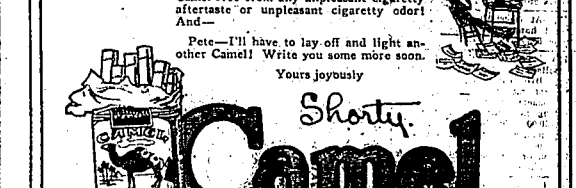

Man—the happiest idea of you or I ever had as to the size of this Reynolds enterprise, or the number of Camels manufactured daily, is simply piker-stuff! Wipe off the slate and start fresh! Why—Pete, it seems to me like a couple of those cigarette-making machines could keep half the nation smoking Camels steadily—BUT—honest to goodness, there are hundreds of these machines bating out Camels at the rate of 27,000 an hour—EACH!

Pete, you wouldn't have to consult a guide book to know you were in the Camel factories! The atmosphere is charged with that wonderful aroma you get when you open up a deck of Camels! And, you know, old elephant—you've had a trunk full!

As the Camels dropped into the containers I figured the delight each one would supply! And, how Camels mellow, mild body would hit the right spot and how Camels refreshing flavor would cheer up some smoker's jaded appetite! And, each Camel free from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor!

Pete—I'll have to lay off and light another Camel! Write you some more soon.

Yours joyously

INSPECTOR OF MINES

William M. Snow

Mr. and Mrs. Independent Voter:

What about Senator Nugent's record? Do you ever hear it attacked by any responsible individual or newspaper?

Senator Nugent has served in the Senate of the United States since January 22, 1913; during the most momentous period of American history. Many men in congress proved unequal to the task, failed in their actions to reflect the sentiments of their constituents, and have been returned to private life. Senator Nugent's record justifies no such action. It is a monument of clear thought, honest and sincere efforts, unselfish service and without exception, progressive legislation.

His is not a campaign of violent promises or "make" issues. His record is clear. It is flawless. He has proven that he may be trusted with the problems of reconstruction, many of which will come before the finance committee of the senate, in the councils of which he takes a leading part.

No individual or association, willing to accept and abide by a square deal, has anything to fear from the re-election of Senator Nugent. On the right side of every question.—W. J. Bryan.

He is unselfish in his devotion to the best interests of Idaho.—W. G. McAdoo.

CONNOR CANDIDACY RECALLS OLD TALE

Filer Resident Candidate for Commissioner, Measures Up to Highest Standards Required

Strength of character, strictness of purpose—these are what are demanded of those boys of public officials. It is refreshing to find a man who measures up to them. Wishing to know that such men can be prevailed upon to lay aside their own affairs to give attention to public duties. Here is a true story.

One time not many years ago, but before the days of the flunk and wrenching gambler had passed, Shoshone county was in the political grip of a bunch of gamblers. Then it was that T. D. Connor was nominated for sheriff of that county. A delegation from the gamblers waited upon Mr. Connor and asked him what he would do if elected sheriff.

"But," what can any honest man do but enforce the law," was the reply.

But Connor was defeated for sheriff, but a public sentiment was created by that strong stand which led to the abolition of gambling in the metropolis of the mining district.

The nomination of Mr. Connor brings this old story to mind to the Wallace Press-Times which says: His many friends in Wallace are pleased to know that T. D. Connor, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Elmer, is now a candidate for commissioner from his home district in Twin Falls county and that his success is likely. Mr. Connor was formerly mayor of Wallace and the people of this city heartily endorse to this day his cleaning out of Pine street. Later Mr. Connor ran for sheriff and was approached by some men who desired him not to enforce the law in some respects. If elected to their vote and influence. This he refused to do although he knew what it would mean to him. But he has never regretted his stand.

Mr. Connor is a successful and competent man and those who know him in his many years' residence in Connor's home town will make no mistake in selecting a man so well fitted as county commissioner. Wallace Press-Times.

O. E. CARLSON

Candidate for county council member.

O. E. Carlson, a long time resident of Twin Falls county, farmer and business man, is a candidate for county commissioner. He has served the county for six years in this capacity and his experience should give him the earnest commendation of the voters on November 2. His official record has been excellent and he promises, if elected, to conduct the affairs of his office as economically as good judgment will permit.

THE GIST OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

QUESTIONS ANSWERED FOR THE WOMAN VOTER.

By Mrs. George Bass, Chairman Women's Bureau Democratic National Committee

1. What is the League of Nations? It is a union of the civilized nations of the world (formed by the Treaty of Versailles)—a sort of international society with headquarters in Switzerland.
2. What is its purpose? The league seeks to bring about world peace— (a) By settling disputes between nations by peaceful adjustment instead of by war; (b) By reducing each member nation gradually to reduce armies and navies (this means, of course, the reduction of taxes and the high cost of living); (c) By making treaties public so that all citizens may know what their governments are doing; (d) By undertaking to better working conditions and the welfare of women and children everywhere.
3. Who belongs to the League of Nations? Thirty-seven nations have already joined—all the principal countries (aside from the former enemy nations who are allowed to come in later)—EXCEPTING THE UNITED STATES AND BOLSHIEVIST RUSSIA. Any self-governing nation may be admitted and any member may withdraw after two years' notice.
4. Why is the United States "Outsided"? Because a republican senate, ignoring the fact that our American boys fought and died in a "war to end war," has twice wittingly refused to ratify the peace treaty, and so bring the United States into this league for peace.
5. How is the League of Nations Run? (a) By an assembly of delegates from each nation in the league, for discussion of international affairs. It is something like a big, international conference where the small states may be heard. The assembly may recommend action to the several home governments. (b) By a council of nine delegates (the United States, Great Britain, Italy, and Japan, to be always represented) which inquires into the causes of disputes and makes recommendations for their peaceful settlement. The council is the real governing body of the league. All positions in the league, including that of secretary, are open equally to men and women.
6. What are the Rules for Nations? On all vital points the vote must be unanimous in both bodies. In the assembly each separate nation and self-governing colony has one vote, although they may send three delegates to cast this one vote, representing different interests. Then the nations in the league agree to cut off the offensive entirely from all trade and intercourse. The council.
7. How does the League settle disputes? No, nations in the league agree to submit in arbitration disputes threatening war. Six months are given to investigate and report. No until three months later (giving time for threats and cooling off) may a member actually go to war, and not then, if one nation in the quarrel accepts the recommendations made. In the case of disputes with non-members, or between non-members, the outsider is first invited to come into the league. Legal tangles (such as the making of a treaty, etc.) are settled by a permanent court of international justice. In spite of republican opposition to the league, the noted republican jurist Willoughby was already abroad for the task of establishing this court under instructions from the league council.
8. How does the League settle disputes? All nations in the league agree to submit in arbitration disputes threatening war. Six months are given to investigate and report. No until three months later (giving time for threats and cooling off) may a member actually go to war, and not then, if one nation in the quarrel accepts the recommendations made. In the case of disputes with non-members, or between non-members, the outsider is first invited to come into the league. Legal tangles (such as the making of a treaty, etc.) are settled by a permanent court of international justice. In spite of republican opposition to the league, the noted republican jurist Willoughby was already abroad for the task of establishing this court under instructions from the league council.
9. What is Article XI? This article states that members of the league guarantee to respect one another's territory and protect it from aggression (the same principle as our own Monroe Doctrine) which has made for peace on this continent for nearly a hundred years. It means that if our country is in peril, she may call upon other nations in the league for aid. Article X does not apply to domestic troubles, such as revolution or civil war, unless the peace of the world is thereby disturbed.
10. Can the United States Declare War Without Consent of Congress? No, congress by our constitution is the only power in this country having authority to declare war. But first, within the league itself, the United States by its right of veto may refuse to enter any war.
11. Why do Women Want a League of Nations? Because it saves the mothers of the future from sacrificing their sons to war. Because it is the only practical working plan to replace conflict, bloodshed and sorrow by peace and good-will.

As the Democratic Candidate I FAVOR GOING IN—Governor James Cox, Accepting Nomination.
