

TWIN FALLS DAILY TIMES

VOLUME 4 NUMBER 301

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, MONDAY, APRIL 10, 1922.

OLD VOL. XIII - NO. 65

DAUGHERTY SEEKS TO REMOVE OBSTACLES TO WAGE CONFERENCE

OLD INDICTMENTS STAND IN THE WAY

Motion to Quash Is Expected to Be Made by Attorney General As First Move by the Government in the Giant Strike of the Coal Miners.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 10.—Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty said today that his office is for presentation of the government's case in the giant strike trial, which probably will begin in May.

Daugherty said he expects the trial to begin in May.

The attorney general was understood to be preparing a motion to quash the indictments against the miners charged against 220 coal mine owners and miners, officials of railroads and the government, and the coal companies.

Daugherty said he expects the trial to begin in May.

Many operators in refusing to enter into arbitration were asked to give as their reason the "pending charges which were aimed at collective bargaining and arbitration," Daugherty said.

They declared the nature of the indictment prohibited such conferences as provided by the scale agreement.

DRIVERS' DEADLIEST INJURY.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 10.—The most dangerous and fatal injuries to drivers of motor vehicles in recent years was disclosed by Federal Judge McHugh, here, today.

He said that the restraining order prevents all further attempts of the United States Workers' Adjustment Board to ban drivers from West Virginia and Eastern Kentucky and orders the ten colonies in Mississippi disbanded.

The temporary injunction was granted to the drivers during the present confederacy, Judge McHugh said.

The ten colonies in Kentucky have been in existence for more than a year. The miners were selected from among the best known men throughout the country.

DRIVERS' WAR PLANS.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 10.—Revolts of the drivers of motor vehicles during the price and distribution strike last winter may be necessary if the miners strike is prolonged, according to a statement made by the drivers' association.

A revolt is almost a certainty, the drivers were told, to prevent the miners from getting away to prevent suffering to food sections.

Certain small industries already are being prepared.

DRIVERS' LOCKED ORDER.

DENVER, April 10.—The Victor-American Fuel company, the largest oil company in the state, has sent to the state oilmen open ranks to date, according to an announcement by officials of the company, the oilmen's plan will be followed.

DRIVERS' LOCKED ORDER.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 10.—The United Mine Workers threat to seize the coal properties in the Conference region of Indiana and Ohio has been denied by the coal and wire company.

The coal and wire company's headquarters are in Indianapolis, where the company's big plant is in operation.

DRIVERS' LOCKED ORDER.

CHICAGO, April 10.—The battle between the two oil companies continued at the annual convention of the railroad department of the American Petroleum Institute, held yesterday.

The meeting is expected to continue two weeks.

Amundsen Starts For Seattle in Aircraft; Will Seek North Pole

NEW YORK, April 10.—Captain Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer who first reached the South Pole, left here this morning for the 11,000-mile monotonous flight to Cleveland, on the top of the Great Lakes, and Seattle, Washington.

The route is through Cleveland, Chicago, Green Bay, Cheyenne, Salt Lake City, and San Francisco, California.

At Seattle the explorer will make final preparations for his five-year flight across the north pole.

ANOTHER AIRPLANE DEATH.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 10.—Pilot Duke of the British express plane which crashed in New York a day ago yesterday died over Oklahoma, the pilot here today, seventh victim of the terrible accident in the history of transoceanic civilian aviation.

Principles of Safety.

THE TWIN FALLS DAILY TIMES

Official Newspaper of the City and County of Twin Falls
Published Every Evening Except Sunday by The Times Printing & Publishing Company, Twin Falls, Idaho.

H. MARTENS

General Manager

Entered at the Twin Falls Post Office as Second Class Matter as of April 1, 1918.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Daily, one year, $6.00
Daily, six months, $3.00
Daily, three months, $1.50

Lewis' reported Illinois should give the world unceasingly. He may yet die young.

Some men try to get in on the ground floor, but there are more who seek access to the ceiling.

The United States has money coming from all over, but its debtors are repaying nothing at all over.

Wouldn't it be a good plan, just as soon as prices are down to a reasonable level, to put weights on them?

The man who encourages the person who wants to give him something for nothing is usually riding for a fall.

There seems to be no way of denying the bullet to the woman who yielded to the fat of plucking the eyebrow:

Sometimes a man does not realize that he is on the downward glide until he discovers that the brakes do not work.

When a man has cornered about all the money he thinks he needs he feels qualified to tell others about the advantages of being poor.

It would perhaps be too much to believe that Germans feel dolorous over those large orders for granite stone for war memorials from England.

A statistical wireless has figured that Uncle Sam's strategographers at Washington spend $5,000,000 of his time every year "doling up." Just what about the $12,000,000 of his time they would otherwise waste thinking about how terrible they looked!

WHAT IS THE BIG IDEA?

A single phrase is often an epigram. Peering beneath its apparently meaningless groupings of words one discovers an expression of clearness, conciseness and age-old truth. There is the question asked so frequently and so casually as to seem almost trivial, "What is the big idea?"

But suppose each of us asked himself this question seriously and searchingly. Every life depends for success and usefulness on the nature of the thought which rules it. The artist, the writer, the musician, the philanthropist, the merchant, the college president, each has found or shall find his true place in life in the nature of the idea that dominates it.

Man is cowardly or heroic, worthless or useful, wretched or happy; by this one fact—what is the big idea?

PUBLIC OPINION COUNTS

"Biographies of those who did something to attain unusual prominence often include the statement that the subject of the work 'had a fear of public opinion.' This is meant to be praise of the highest kind and usually it is regarded by the reader. It implies that the person had convictions of his own and was courageous enough to act on them."

It is a fact, however, that there is a great deal of prejudice and superstition to be found in the natures of some very able men. Such as they have gone up the ladder not because of their characteristics, but in spite of them. The truly great person is not tempted to put his ear to the ground or to let tessels about by every trivial lecture of impulsive chattering. But he does have a deeply-rooted respect for the thoughts of his fellowmen. And he takes serious account of public opinion, because he knows that in the long run it is usually right.

ROGERSON

While his father, J. T. Willis is absent.

Ernest Peterson and Sunday, Jr. are in Rogerson's home returned to Rogerson Monday after a week's visit in the country east.

Ed Terpstra shipped to Rogerson Tuesday.

George W. Johnson is a passenger on the Twin Falls Tuesday.

J. B. Avery was in town a short time Tuesday for supplies.

Teenie Blaine of Three Creek, Idaho, is in town.

Charles Larkins was in Rogerson Monday from Meridian.

Frank V. Eaton of House Creek is spending the week in Rogerson.

Levie Madsen has been continuing his vacation some time now. An attack of the flu has caused him to improve.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Finch and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Finch are here Sunday where they stayed last week.

Mrs. Davis, who spent several days in Rogerson on business, returned to her home in Shoshone Basin Saturday.

Mrs. Carl Ahlstrom of Twin Falls is staying at McMillan hotel this week during the absence of Mrs. Davis.

T. W. Brown of Brown's Creek left Saturday for the Pacific coast on business.

Frank V. Eaton of House Creek is spending the week in Rogerson.

Levie Madsen has been continuing his vacation some time now.

An attack of the flu has caused him to improve.

W. M. Illes went to Rawlson on Monday from Shoshone Basin. From Rawlson he is spending the week in the country east.

Grant Willis, who has been trapping in winter in the vicinity of Gold

City, is in town.

The Misses Irma and Daisy Herdix returned Monday from Twin Falls where they attended the Christmas.

The Willie Shoshone Baso was in Rogerson Sunday evening to hold

W. G. Fenderon.

NOTICE

My wife, Katie M. Fenderon, has my bed and board without cause for any bills she may make.

W. G. Fenderon.

Storm Country Polly

By GRACE MILLER WHITE

Illustrated by E. H. Livingston

(Copyright by Louis, Bowen & Company)

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Dropping a disabled share in the hills, a quiet settler lives with his father, small boy, and a dog. The old man is an adjuster in the family business, and the lad is a willing girl of the neighborhood. They are a happy family.

Evelyn sprang to her feet and confronted her mother. Her face was drawn, her eyes crumpled, and her hands gripped tremulously.

"Well, this time," she answered,

"I'm telling you the simple truth. I

"...and who does our lit?" Interjected Evelyn.

"Your cousin, Robert Fenderon!"

was the quick response.

"He's been helping me," explained Evelyn.

"Mother, I can't stand it any longer."

"Don't talk to me like that," retorted the mother.

"I'm not talking to you," declared Evelyn.

"Then we aren't rich?" she demanded.

"Darling," the mother interposed,

"and what more would you care for each other? He is so rich and so handsome. Now, isn't he?"

A grim smile leapt from Evelyn's lips as she faced her mother again.

"I'm going to see him again," she announced.

"And he'll tell you, too,"

said the mother, despite clutching the white blouse.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she added.

"I'm going to see him again," she repeated.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

"I'm going to see him again," she insisted.

"Without telling him anything," she insisted.

