

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

Mrs. C. R. Bunce, Bodley Editor, Phone 335-R.

Honor Miss Fisher—Mrs. Stirling, a delicious meal was served to the guests of the day. The menu included a special diet for the invalids present in visiting and pleasant remembrances. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams and children, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harton, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Harlan and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Williams of Pine, Mrs. Allen Green, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. B. T. P. G. G. Social—Meeting of the B. T. P. G. G. was held at the home of those pleasant meetings Tuesday when they met at the luncheon and out to a picnic. The evening was spent at the country club. The meeting was spent in games both indoors and outdoors. The games were arranged to please the pleasure of the guests. The attendance at this meeting was good.

Reunion Held—On Sunday a number of former residents of Nelson, Iowa, met at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Harlan. This annual party was given as a compliment to Mrs. Bell's sister and house guest. The meeting was a success and there was a surprise to the guest of honor. A family who assembled brought most elegant lunch baskets and friends of the Davis family assembled to do honor to their mother and wife, Mrs. and Mrs. Davis of Ogle. The guests took with them well filled baskets and at six o'clock the company enjoyed a most delightful dinner. The entertainment was especially nice, and there were seventy-four guests at this reunion of old friends.

Farewell Party for Jack Hallstatt—In Tuesday afternoon Mrs. George Hallstatt entertained a number of her friends at her home. She had a well-kept time before she and her guests from Twin Falls to join Mr. Hallstatt in California. Mrs. Hallstatt was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Helen in arranging delicate refreshments. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Warner, Donald Work, Hollis Hunter, Jim Reel, Carl Lechleiter, Richard Purdy, Charles Chaffee, Mr. and Mrs. John Kline, Mrs. Hallstatt, Frank Lechleiter, Albert Anderson, and Jack and Bobbi Hallstatt.

Blusneen Women Lunch—The principal feature of the Blusneen Women's luncheon Tuesday noon was a short talk on "How to Make a Home." Miss Alice Williams of Chicago, a woman who has been working in Chicago as a subject. Twenty-two members were present. A basket of flowers was presented to the speaker. The organization will hold its club luncheon Friday evening.

Miss Estelle Williams—Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hall recently from a long vacation came home to the Golden State. They were entertained on this outing by their house guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Johnson—Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Johnson, of Albion, Miss, Grace Bell and Miss Jean Dean.

Kings Birthday—On Tuesday afternoon Miss Helen Trousdale celebrated her birthday by entertaining the little club of girls that call themselves the "Kings Club." The refreshments were served at neighborhood and the hostess served a birthday cake and talent refreshments. The program was written by Misses Yvonne, Wilma Keel, Florence Dunn and Lillian Lind.

Fatherland for Parents—The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Davis northwestern Idaho was the scene of a pleasant Father's Day, organized by the Davis family. Sixty-eight people were present, including a number of the old neighbors, and a family who assembled brought most elegantly filled lunch baskets and friends of the Davis family assembled

"Girls are so foolish," Mr. Gillington said. "I am going to have to give up trying to get them to do what I want them to do. It seems to me that they never seem to say anything; so how can I tell them what to do? Even to believe it. If it is true, we've had."

Elliott repeated the outline of the events of yesterday.

"I am sorry," said Mr. Abbott, "but I don't understand you."

"She shock her head in distress. "To me, she always was to any man in her house who came up to the necessary standard of slighting. When her life work was completed, and summed up in the thought, that she had been arranged, and would shortly take place, between Angela, daughter of the late John Norbury, and—then she would utter a grateful Nuno dimittit, and depart in peace—a better world, if it leaves intact, but preferably in the hands of those more dignified establishment."

But it was not as though that the visitors from the Elde House were received with such eagerness today, and even though their announcement of yesterday would have cried triumphantly over the entire world, such part of the world as interested. "A marriage has very nearly been arranged between the two, and will certainly take place, between Angela, only daughter of the late John Norbury, and Stark Abbott of the Hotel Hoffman."

The girl was often annoyed by her many ways; sometimes she was distractingly ugly, the Ark Abbott had seemed for particularly distractingly ugly, and she was often annoyed by the way she had to be constantly on the alert to keep her mother against her, her it was a pleasure to turn to Carly, and say, "I am glad you are here."

But alas! Carly had quadruped, she could not imagine, and tried too late, to stop it. That was four days ago, and she had seen him again, and he was still as bad as ever, and she was dreadfully vexed.

"Naturally, he has not been here since he was last here, and he had been bound to put up at the Red House sooner or later," Carly said.

"He is a good boy," Carly said, "but he is a bit of a bore at his place."

"I am afraid you are right," Carly said, "but I am not sure that he would be a bore at mine."

"There was nothing in that at all," Carly said, "but I am not sure that he would be a bore at mine."

"I beg your pardon," Carly said, "but I am afraid you are right."

"I am quite sure," Carly said, "that you are right."

Something like an epidemic of recoveries from infantile paralysis seems to have broken out. Some of the cases reported are affecting in the extreme.

Lloyd George gets $150,000 for his book, Winston Churchill $100,000, Mr. Asquith somewhat less. Such figures are rather staggering to professional writers.

The vice president notes that strikes indicate prosperity; still the administration is not viewing them with complaisance, on a theory of no strikes no prosperity.

There's one brave man on the stump in Massachusetts. Joseph Walker, addressing a veterans' organization Saturday, declared "I am going to oppose the bonus bill."

Sampaio Correia may be "rolling down to Rio," but aviators do not care to roll too far, for the voyage is suspended, and very reasonably, because of squalls ahead.

Cheap money may be delightful for visiting foreigners, but this kind of exploitation is not much relished. In Vienna there is a demand for the exclusion of foreign tourists until conditions mend.

The physician's conclusion that D'Amunio, the Italian poet and patriot, has suffered an "earthquake in the head" seemed to the outside world to be true of him three years ago when he rallied Flume.

Teliferino's journey to London is a good deal more important than his being detained Tuesday at the Belgian frontier by a defect in his passport. Is this the sequel in the conference at The Hague?

Austinlin approves heartily of the Washington conference, to which is credited a naval cut making possible a 10 per cent cut in the income tax. No such tax reduction is yet visible in the United States.

Secretary Denby has stirred up the Far East by his charge that American freight sent by foreign ship is roughly handled in order to hurt American trade. He exonerated the Japanese, but this made the charge hit other maritime nations all the harder. But is he sure that the charge is not due to the frail packing for which American shippers have so often been criticized?

Christabel Pankhurst has taken up with her habitual enthusiasm the cause of the federation of British Israel, a sect that was active in England before the war. Her chief doctrine is that the British people are descended from the lost tribes of Israel and are fulfilling the promise made to Jacob that from Israel should arise a great nation which should hold the keys of the world.

Secretary Hughes explains at length that Senator Newberry's conviction in Michigan was set aside by the United States supreme court on the ground that the statute under which he was convicted was unconstitutional, a fact that is pretty well known. The secretary's clear exposition doesn't affect the basic as it was presented to the clear and make a very impressive campaign document.

SALMON TRACT FOLKS ENTERPRISING

The people of the Salmon tract are to be congratulated on the creation of a new rural high school which will be located at Hollister and will accommodate children from eight former small districts. The enterprise of the people there and their bravery in the face of unfortunate conditions of the past are well known. Now that a better day has dawned for one of the finest irrigation tracts in the country, fortitude has given way to energetic advancement.

GIVE SPEEDERS THE LIMIT

The following from the Seattle Record meets our approval in more ways than one and we are glad to reproduce this editorial in the hope that people here who drive or own cars will take warning for the protection of life and property in this section of the great West:

Murders in this state are subject to the penalty of hanging, if a judge so directs. The Union Record does not favor capital punishment, BUT—

The penalty for such murder should range from one year at Walla Walla to life. Inevitable maiming of pedestrians should be punished, not by the usual $100 and $200 fines and a few days in jail, but by stringent penalties equal to those meted for first degree murder.

Murder on city streets by auto drivers must stop.

Step on the gas, and step hard, gentlemen of the bunch, when tenting these machines!

Cultivation of Pea Long Known.
The discovery of a load of pea longs in the hills of the Rockies has disclosed the fact that these were cultivated in Europe more than 1,000 years ago.

Mudders

The supreme muddler of history is often guilty of quite remarkable facts with a quite remarkable number of histories for others—and Arnold Bennett.

There's a real shortage in England, too. Here are children at Leicester fishing for eels in the canal at night. The eels are fat while larvae are hatched. This situation may find its counterpart in the United States this fall if the rains stick to calendar.

Shoulder Sprained, Continues Game

C. D. Dunaway of the Orange County N. Y. team is shown against the polo teams representing Ireland and Argentina although he should be bodily sprained that he must keep his left arm strapped against his body.

Locked In

Pepe in New York City lived behind a door, and in New York he thinks that he would know all about his neighbors. But they don't. And don't care. So Pepe, who had been locked in a dark room for four years according to others, who found him in an old flat, agreed.

FILER

Haymond Thomas has threatened a wheat crop and reports that it turned out exceptionally well, making in the neighborhood of 70 bushels acre. That's his crop, he's in better shape than many of the other farmers in that neighborhood.

Idaho is holding a state convention of 200 delegates at the Baptist church and much interest is shown in the management of the Twin Falls Falls and W. H. Toliver and a number of the members from the Twin Falls are attending the meeting. They are a special group.

N. D. Reed has accepted a position with the Filer Record as managing editor of the newspaper for editors—and Arnold Bennett.

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

BOY SCOUTS DROWN IN LAKE

Fires boys and three girls, all of South Bend, Ind., were drowned when a boat capsized in Lake Michigan, 20 miles from South Bend. The party was en route to Hendrick Island where they had planned to camp. The boat had sprung a leak. The vessel, a 34-foot steel motorboat, sank in the middle of the lake. The lake is about 40 feet deep at that point.

The party consisted of Mr. Taylor, age thirty-five, local executive; Vernon C. Murphy, age thirty-five, scoutmaster; Judson Taylor, age twenty, son of Mr. Taylor; Mrs. Taylor, age eighteen, daughter of Mr. Taylor; William Ringley, age fifteen; Kenneth Borrough, age fourteen; Clinton Mathews, age sixteen, and Phillip Mathews, age fifteen.

Boy scouts were on guard duty while some of the bodies lay in state and also participated in the burial exercises at which they were buried.

THE TYPICAL EAGLE SCOUT

This is a picture of John Shepherd, Jr., Troop 1, Willingport, Pa. He is a typical Eagle Scout, according to which the majority of boy scouts are.

CHARLIE SCOUTS

Charles Murray, an East side boy, wanted to be a scout, but his parents objected because they thought the father, then a member of the American Legion, that it was a military movement. Then came another day when Charles was run over and brought to a hospital to be operated on. In order to pass the time, he asked his parents if he could go to the hospital to visit his brother who had got well. The boy suffered a punctured lung which began to leak, and as he lay in bed, he said to his mother, "I have a handkerchief underneath and make me as dry as you can, so I don't get wet again as soon as I wake up and about seven in the morning I'll be up and ready to go to school." All the time he can and the tropic is about to make the invalid "an associate scout." The doctor has said that young Murray will be a scout when he gets out of summer and the boy thinks that that is the best chance for him to practice scouting.

SCOUTS IN FAMILY COOK

The camp director at the Pasadena (California) general camp, "The Camp," has been asked by visitors that he be asked the scout who offered them to him when the boy's mother had taken him. "I made them myself," he said. "I have a dozen more. I do all the sewing at home." This latter fellow, unusual in information led the camp director to ask more questions and find that the boy and his mother were both dead and that he and his sister lived with his ninety-year-old grandmother and an invalid aunt. "My sister has been sick recently," he said, "but she is getting along now."

BLIND SCOUTS WIN HONORS

In Philadelphia, there is a group of blind scouts which is doing phenomenal work not only in mounting but in other ways. Twice in succession they have won first place in the trophy for mounted the best showing in an efficiency contest and three boys of the group, Walter, Charles, Clarence, have been chosen to represent the blind in the national society, their contest on the subject of "Prevention of Cruelty to Animals." Another blind scout, Thomas, has also won a trophy.

ATTENTION, PARENTS

After having written a letter to the national headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America from a scout expressing temporary disaffection, although he had given the organization his word of honor, and after it was "go no further" by the national organization, the boy's father, the writer said, he had reluctantly failed at a "no" word, "and why? Because his son had given his word of honor to do a decent thing," Father human, the "parental." When was the failure? With this and with the parable,

When a Cloudburst Hit New York State

Geneva, N. Y., looks like Venice, Italy, in this. A cloudburst caused $100,000 damage in that town and created havoc in other cities of central New York.

She Laughs at Death

25 days after she had seen her brother and her fiancée killed in an auto race in which he was driving, Frances Cline, 23, of New Orleans, went back into the game and won a race on the dirt track at Hammon, Okla., July 15, 1922.

MENTAL HEALER

DR. COPE

Bare Fates Are Affected by Mind for himself, without asking for favors, Dr. George W. Cope, of Los Angeles, Calif., has told the N.Y. Service.

PALISADE, Aug. 20.—A day at the office of Dr. George Cope, the health expert of the Los Angeles County Hospital, finds the man, mind to the master of human diseases.

His fame as a healer has spread far and wide, and many persons come to him for advice, and among them are the leaders of the Boy Scouts of America. Although he has given the organization his word of honor, and after it was "go no further" by the national organization, the boy's father, the writer said, he had reluctantly failed at a "no" word, "and why? Because his son had given his word of honor to do a decent thing," Father human, the "parental." When was the failure?

Bursum Bonus Plan Rejected by Senate

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—
The Senate rejected the Bursum Bonus
Plan yesterday. Senator Frank Murphy of Michigan, and Senator Joseph Bursum of New Mexico, were responsible for the bill, which would have provided a bonus of $100,000,000 for each year to aid in the construction of roads and bridges.

Opponents argued that the plan would add to the national debt and that the money could be better spent on roads and bridges.

Opponents also argued that the plan would not help the states

but would instead benefit the federal government.

T.F. IS MOST CELEBRATED CITY IN U.S.

Revival Meetings Are Being Held at Hansen

The revival meetings being held at Hansen's church have been entirely successful and well-attended, according to Mrs. T. M. Colton, a member of the evangelical church, who was in Twin Falls yesterday.

Rev. W. O. Wood is the minister in charge. W. H. Huston and T. M. Colton, the church trustees, are in charge holding the meetings. Special singing has featured the services.

Director A. P. Davis is director of Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce. Twin Falls American Falls Project has an office at Public Market, Coopera.

"Twin Falls is one of the most celebrated and rapidly growing cities in the United States because of its rapid growth from a barren sagebrush desert to the most beautiful city in the West," said A. P. Davis, director of the U. S. reclamation service with headquarters at Boise. "The people here are anxious here today. Many prominent guests of distinction are here from far and near to participate in the dedication of the irrigation project which has for its purpose the establishment of the 'American Falls' project."

In addition to the irrigation projects of the West, Mr. Davis said there were great opportunities ahead in the development of the Twin Falls area. "But the U. S. has problems ahead of it and America is the last hope of the world today," he said. "The irrigation project of the world is no small part of the task which confronts the nation. The irrigation project of the West, largely, will facilitate the development of the arid lands of this nation, and we must all cooperate to make it a success," he said. "The irrigation project of the West, Mr. Davis said, will mean much to the arid lands of the west."

The American Falls dam has the largest storage capacity of any dam in the country, and it can take care of large expenditures of money and each demanding that their project be given first. The dam of the future is the dam of the year," he said.

Chief Engineer Talks. Chief Engineer F. E. Waymouth talked for a short time and stated he had been in the country since his home because he had lived here for more than eight years. He said he had never heard of the recent strike and the subsequent offers each man his return as this proposed project at American Falls.
