GIANT POISON RING EXISTED POLICE THINK

Chicago Authorities Unearth New Victim in Hospital; Quantity of Arsenic Found in Bodies Exhumed; Women Arrested May Be Only Part of Poisoning Ring.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—A new victim of arsenic poisoning was discovered today by police as they investigated the activities of Mrs. Tillie Klimek and Mrs. Nellie Stimmel, held in connection with the deaths of their husbands, police said.

The latest victim was discovered in a Chicago hospital. He lived in the neighborhood in which the two alleged "poison husbands" resided.

Authorities believed the new evidence brought out their theory that a gigantic poison ring existed in that section.

The women, they contend, obtained husbands through matrimonial bureaus, had their lives insured and then killed them through arsenic poisoning.

Three of twelve bodies to be exhumed have already shown traces of arsenic poisoning. Three others are being tested by chemists and the other six will be taken from the ground this week. Attorneys were closely connected with the two women, now held and their deaths were under mysterious circumstances.

Authorities did not make public the name of the second man now in the hospital. Anton Klimek, fourth husband of Mrs. Klimek, died under arrest, he acknowledged from the effects of poison which his wife, according to police, has admitted administering.

Records of matrimonial bureaus were examined by deputies in an effort to determine the number of husbands Mrs. Klimek and Mrs. Stimmel obtained through that agencies.

PEGGY SCORED BY DEFENSE COUNSEL IN JURY ADDRESS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—Alberta Meadows indirectly and Peggy Callen directly were responsible for the tragic "Alberta Meadows" Defense Attorney Herrington declared today, dismissing the acquittal of Clara Phillips.

He told the jurors they must acquit Mrs. Phillips because the evidence against her was circumstantial and because she was mentally unaccountable at the time of the murder.

Mrs. Alberta Meadows indirectly precipitated the tragedy, he asserted, ended in her death when she told Armour Phillips that his wife had been unfaithful to him. Herrington asserted.

He then launched into a bitter attack upon the evidence of Peggy Callen, alleged eye witness to the killing, charged she had perjured herself again and again.

He parodied her testimony briefly during his address.

Herrington's address to the jury was a typical example of old style eloquence.

A huge man, in height and breadth of stature, and with deep rolling voice he swayed from side to side like a ponderous pendulum, as he built with elaborate compliments for all present.

His called attention to the exceptional intelligence of the jury in words of many syllables, asserted that Judge Houser should be occupying a pedestal in front of the bench instead of his opponents, the prosecutors, were also reciprocal at some carefully selected words of praise in the direction of Deputy District Attorney Smith.

Then Herrington was emasculating their benches in vigorous phrases with references to the "last good criminal."

The blackest picture the opposing counsel had painted was that of Mrs. Phillips, of manslaughter, he said. The learned counsel showed the victim as being committed in a fit of "temporary insanity, while in manslaughter.

"But," in an assuring tone to the jury, "you will not bring in a verdict of manslaughter. There are only two verdicts that your conscience will approve—not guilty because of insufficient evidence or not guilty because of insanity."

His quoted from the arguments of Deputy District Attorney Burke on Friday, emphasized that he had admitted that Mrs. Phillips had cause for jealousy, and he condemned the state for taking every opportunity to prejudice the case of the latter against the defendant.

Herrington's address was delayed by a two opening of court.

Mrs. Phillips sat quietly making no demonstrations that would indicate her emotions, but her brows at times knitted and her attention to Herrington's address denoted the supreme confidence in her defender.

WORKERS TO GO ON STRIKE

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 13.—The freight handlers along the water fronts of New York and New Jersey threatened to strike today.

It was reported that they will quit work tonight in sympathy with the lockout of 300 freight handlers of the Waverly transfer of the Pennsylvania railroad who have been on strike for several days.

The differences between the railroad and the union which precipitated the strike of the 300 employed had its inception in the railroad's request that the men work on Sunday.

BEGIN SELECTION OF JURY IN MINE TRIAL AT MARION

MARION, Ida., Nov. 13.—Less than one hundred spectators were in court when the quizzing of veniremen to obtain a jury to try the five men accused of participation in the Herrin massacre, opened today.

Business continued as usual in all parts of Williamson county with the exception of the trial crowds and farmers working at their fields, apparently unaware of court proceedings.

PROMPT ANSWERS COUNT MUCH IN CANNING CONTEST

Thorough knowledge of science of canning which enabled the Twin Falls team to answer questions promptly, whether asked by judges or audience, were large factors in winning the northwest championship according to Club Leader A. L. O'Reilly who returned from Portland today.

Samples of questions and answers which helped the Twin Falls member of club team win: Question: "Define botulism." Answer: "Dark, since whiteness indicates a bleaching process weakening the product."

"Can Mason jar tops be used again?" "Yes, if the enamel is unbroken and the edges even."

"Is intermittent process better than steady process; if so, why?" "It is better in southern states where necessary to destroy germs spore developed by heat. It half an hour would be necessary to destroy germs; at sea coast, how long will be needed at 3500 feet?" Thirty-six minutes. The reason was given. What precaution should be taken to keep cauliflower white after blanching? Get into jar immediately and do not overcook before canning."

They answered every question correctly and at once in excellent English.

The girls will take no regular riding before going to Chicago, but will practice a couple of days before starting.

NOCTURNAL AVIATION MAY BE NEWEST STEP

OMAHA, Nebr., Nov. 13.—Night flying for the air mail is it is eventually established, will make it possible for the air mail service to "get its own way, according to Postmaster General Hubert Work, who is attending a postal conference here today.

"Night flying will mean lighting the entire way at intervals of emergency landing fields clear across the country," Work said.

"It will mean that a special light is necessary that will penetrate any kind of a fog. We are investigating the possibilities but I cannot say just when night flying will be initiated.

"If it proves a success then it will mean that if mail can be carried that way, commerce can be carried in the same way and that, of course will open a big field of possibilities."

OIL CONFLAGRATION RAGES IN TEXAS; MILLIONS LOST

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 13.—A burning lake of oil already has caused property loss at $1,000,000, and was still raging in the Humble oil fields near here today.

The fire, started by a bolt of lightning, will cause property damage estimated at $2,000,000, authorities believed today. The lightning struck an earthen reservoir containing more than 500,000 barrels of oil.

Great steam boilers have been rushed to the scene possible to the rings of tanks on the Humble property and streams of live steam are being played on the spectacular fire.

A small artificial lake, caused by recent heavy rains, over which a film of oil has settled, is blazing and menacing several large tanks.

JAPS CANNOT BE CITIZENS SAYS RULING

Sutherland Declares Japanese Not White Men According to American Legal Statutes; Test Case Decided Against Ozawa; Education and Culture Cannot Alter Conditions, Declaration.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Japanese are not white men within the meaning of the American law and are not entitled to citizenship in the United States, the supreme court held today.

The high court affirmed a decision of the California circuit court of appeals in a test case brought by Takuji Ozawa of Honolulu, who claimed he was "white" and was eligible for naturalization as of American citizen.

The same time the court upheld the Washington supreme court in denying citizenship to Takuji Yamashita and Charles Uyeno of Seattle.

The decision held that the two Japanese were not entitled to naturalization under the United States laws and therefore could not enter a business partnership.

Justice Sutherland, reading his first opinion from the bench since his recent appointment by President Harding, delivered the opinion. He said:

"The determination that the words 'white person' are synonymous with the words 'a person of the Caucasian race,' simplifies the problem, although it does not entirely dispose of it. Controversies have arisen and will no doubt arise again in respect of the proper classification of individuals in border line cases. The effect of the conclusion, that the words 'white person' means a Caucasian is not to establish a sharp line of demarcation separating those who are entitled to naturalization, but rather a zone of more or less debatable ground, outside of which lie those clearly within and those clearly eligible and outside of which, upon the other hand, are those clearly ineligible for naturalization.

"Individual cases falling within the zone must be determined as they arise from time to time by what this court has called 'the gradual process of judicial inclusion and exclusion.'

"The appellant, in the case now under consideration, is clearly of the Japanese race which is not Caucasian and therefore belongs entirely outside the zone of the negative side. A large majority of persons of that race have not decided and we report the case definitely to the contrary. These decisions are sustained by numerous scientific authorities, which we do not deem it necessary to review.

"The briefs filed on behalf of appellant refer to considerations of climate and culture and enlightenment of the Japanese people and with this estimate we have no occasion to disagree citizens. If the court had decided Japanese can become citizens, all California anti-Japanese legislation would have been for naught," Webb declared.

Four Fatally Burned in Big Hotel Blaze

AVORY, Mass., Nov. 13.—Four persons were burned to death here today when the C. I. A. hotel was destroyed by fire. Several others were slightly injured.

Scores of guests were driven in their night clothes, which afforded no protection, out shortly after midnight.

Many were overcome by smoke.

TIDAL WAVE REAPS HARVEST IN CHILE

Hundreds Homeless After South American Disaster; Rescue Corps Rushed to Scene of Devastation; Impossible to Estimate Property Loss.

(By LAWRENCE S. HAAS.)

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 13.—Fourteen hundred persons lost their lives in a devastating earthquake and tidal wave which rent the coast of northern Chile early Saturday, according to the most accurate available estimates today.

Starvation, pestilence and exposure are claiming additional victims in the wake of the disaster and relief caravans are pushing to aid homeless inhabitants of the stricken territories.

RAILROADS FAIL TO GET LOWER COAST RATES

Refusal to Cut Freights for Seaports Below Intermountain Points Defeated by the Interstate Commerce Commission, Which, at the Same Time Declines to Allow Discrimination Against the Intermountain Country, according to Attorney John W. Graham, former head of the Idaho public utilities commission. Mr. Graham looks after the work of the Southern Idaho Traffic Association since Expert Way resigned to become secretary to Senator Frank R. Goodings.

Formerly the roads charged as much from eastern points to the coast and back to the inland point within the intermountain zone, plus local rates. Now the Portland interests, in support of an action from Chicago to the coast cost $3.00, freight on the same article from Chicago to Twin Falls would be $2.00 plus $1.25, or a total of $3.25 for the shorter haul. This was changed some years ago. The roads contended that the interstate commerce commission with another plan asking that a lower rate be given the coast than interior cities. This the interstate commerce commission has denied, though it has also denied relief asked in certain cases by shippers, who had charges decreased on a mileage basis.

Rates are fixed by zones.

The Boise Story

BOISE, Nov. 12.—One of the most important decisions so far as the intermountain section of the United States is concerned was handed down by the interstate commerce commission Saturday when it denied application of the western carriers for lower rates on eastern points of origin to Pacific coast points on iron, steel, etc., without reducing rates to intermediate points. According to telegraphic information received by Carl Scoggin, attorney at Boise, Director General of Railroads Walker D. Hines, managing secretary, John Barker, chairman of Kansas City, Mo., and Thomas Cummins and secretary of its traffic bureau. The decision of the commission, according to

Lawyers Would Enter Fight Against Board of Trade at Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov.—13.—Attorneys for the American Farm Bureau Federation today filed a petition in Federal court asking that they be allowed to intervene in the suit brought by the Chicago board of trade to prevent enforcement of the act prohibiting trading in "grain futures."

Attorneys Newton Jenkins and Donald Richberg, of Kansas City, declared they represented 1,500,000 farmers asked that they be allowed to plead for enforcement of the act when the case comes up for disposition.

Supreme Tribunal Not to Reconsider Cases

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—The United States supreme court today refused to review the cases of Ben Rudner, Morris Rudner and Louis Rudner, convicted in connection with the fatal shooting between Pittsburgh, Pa., and the office of Canton, New Philadelphia and Dover in Ohio. The Rudners lived in Ohio and Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh.

Nauman and Ben Rudner were sentenced to two years in the Ohio Penitentiary and fined $500 each. Morris Rudner was let off with a sentence of three months in the workhouse.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 13.—Bellamy Storer, 75, of Cincinnati, former American diplomat, is dead in Paris, France, according to a cablegram received here today.

Storer was ambassador to Austria and Spain during the McKinley and Roosevelt administrations.

His wife, Mrs. Maria Longworth Storer, became nationally known through publication of the "Bear Maria" letters addressed to her by Theodore Roosevelt in connection with efforts to elevate the late Archbishop Ireland to a cardinalate.

NEGRO ARRESTED; THOUGHT TO HAVE KILLED UTAH MAN

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 13.—The murder of Peter Moroni Keyser, whose body was found on August 7, in Salt Lake City, is in the custody of the police, according to the detectives. Charles Williams, alias Edwards, colored, is alleged to be the man. According to the police, he has boasted that he has killed a white man in every state in which he has visited.

Williams was arrested at a local depot recently charged with a brutal attack on M. T. Fuller. Williams fought the arresting officer a desperate battle with a knife but was finally overpowered.

George Van Nickson another negro who was arrested in Green River, Wyo., and returned to Salt Lake City last night, is said to have implicated Williams in the murder of Keyser. His wife is also said to have furnished testimony which the officers say will convict the negro of the murder.

ITALY WOULD ASSUME ROLE OF MEDIATOR

Near Eastern Situation in Deadlock; Italian Premier Offers to Make Attempt to Get Powers Together; Angora Government Maintains Defiant Attitude; Britons Await Developments.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Premier Mussolini of Italy, moved today to mediate between the Turks and the French and British.

The fascisti chieftain suggested that a meeting of foreign ministers be held next week-end at Nice or Lausanne. It was at the latter place that the meeting between allied leaders and Ismet Pasha was to have been held this morning.

This parley was postponed when France and Britain failed to agree. Premier Poincare conferred with Lord Hardinge, British ambassador here, but refused to accept Lord Curzon's invitation to come to London for a conference on the Turkish crisis. However, he stated he favored a meeting of allied leaders before the peace parley is held with the Turkish representatives.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—England and France were disclosed today over the Near East peace conference at Lausanne as Turkish leaders warned that the Kemalists, restless because of postponement of the meeting, were near a clash with allied forces in Constantinople.

Lord Curzon, British foreign secretary insisted that the English cabinet back a conference, until the French and British agree on a program. The French hold, along with the Turks, that the conference should be held as soon as possible. Curzon's attitude would necessitate another postponement from November 20, the new date set.

Curzon feels that holding the conference on such short notice would result in French domination at the peace table. A cabled message, received today to discuss this situation.

Ismet Pasha, in an interview with the Turkish Anatolian correspondent, warned that the Constantinople situation is serious because of the postponement.

ATHENS, Nov. 13.—Refat Pasha, governor of Constantinople, has been arrested by British soldiers, according to an unconfirmed dispatch, from Greek sources today.

BAD BOOZE FATAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Three men are dead as the result of another "poison hooch wave" in New York city.

All the victims were found lying dead or dying in the street in Harlem. The medical examiner's office records gave the cause as "alcoholism."

Police started a rigid probe to trace source of the poison liquor.

EPWORTH LEAGUE ENDS SUCCESSFUL RALLY AT M. E. CHURCH SUNDAY

The Epworth league of the Methodist church completed a successful rally program on Sunday, November 12. In preparation of the rally a big membership campaign was staged by the members of the organization. This contest, which was led by Miss Dora Kuhns, leader of one side and Miss Mildred Elrod as leader of the losers, proved to be a drawing card.

The regular devotional services were led by Miss Bertha Bishop as leader for the evening, assisted by the leaguers who contributed to her, helped to make a successful meeting. President C. W. Tenny offered the opening prayer and Miss Gooding, college, gave a reading and Miss Ellis an address. The musical numbers were favored by a vocal solo from Miss Cowell, which was greatly appreciated by all present.

The president of the league then took charge of the meeting and gave a talk to all young people of the community urging them to be present and take an active interest in the league and looking forward to a big year's work. In addition to this there were announced the following officers were installed. The officers are: President, Miss Beede Carlson; first vice president, Arthur Harvell; second vice president, Miss Nora Jones; third vice president, Miss Alice Fyfield; fourth vice president, Miss Ruth Batchelor; secretary, Miss Bishop; treasurer, Alfred Herron.

Red Cross Roll Call Opens In Twin Falls

(By MRS. C. H. KRENGEL.)

The period from Armistice day until Thanksgiving has been designated as the time for the annual Red Cross roll call and the local chapter will this week give citizens an opportunity to enroll and help in the fine work of this organization. During the past year the Twin Falls chapter has confined its activity largely to the home service department. Many persons not in intimate touch with the work feel that so long after the close of the war there is little to be done for those who fought. However, the records of the local chapter tell a different story.

After the organization of the home service department in July, 1918, the office was open full time every day until January, 1922. Since January office hours have been kept only in the afternoon. The files show that aid has been given to 1213 service men as follows: Twin Falls, 840; Filer, 75; Hollister 42; Kimberly, 52; Hansen, 44; Murtaugh, 16; Heyburn, 2; Hazelton, 8; Eden, 9; Weidell, 3; Buhl, 43; Oakley, 5; Burley, 10; Gooding, 3; Rupert, 2; Hagerman, 1; Minidoka, 1; Hailey, 1; Shoshone, 1, San Jacinto, 1; Others, 45.

The help given is of various types including filing claims for compensation, back pay, travel pay, allotment, medals; lost property, reinstating insurance, securing vocational training, hospital and dental treatment, and finding employment. The claims for compensation require a great deal of time to adjust, as much evidence must be gathered and much red tape unwound. The secretary of the local chapter has written hundreds of letters regarding some claims. Assistance has been given in 278 such claims, 141 of which have been awarded to date.

Financial aid has been given in many cases. Sometimes this takes the form of grants to men or families in destitute circumstances. More often money is given as a loan until a man can get government aid or secure employment. Such loans are made only after thorough investigation; the men give their note, and very few have disregarded payment. From January 1, to October 1, 1922, loans and grants were made totaling $1,065.97 while during the same period loans were returned totaling $666.45.

Many people inquire if the Veterans' Welfare Bureau has not taken over the work of the Red Cross. They have workers only in larger cities and depend upon the Red Cross to reach the service men for them. Colonel Charles R. Forbes, director U. S. Veterans' Bureau, states:

"The veterans' bureau problem is a big one. Whether it be a matter of calling the bureau's attention to an unawarded claim or an ill man needing hospitalization, or of aiding the sick veterans over the time which must elapse before government aid can be offered, the Red Cross is always on the job with expert service and the necessary goods."

There are organizations among the service men and women which give help to their comrades, but it does not seem fair that they should carry the burden of post-war problems alone. The Red Cross is the only organization which gives every American citizen a chance to do his bit, to show that he has not forgotten. Apart from all the other worthy activities of the Red Cross, this work alone should call every man and woman to enroll.

RAILROADS FAIL TO GET LOWER

Mr. Graff, is even more wide sweeping than was expected, including denial of application of western carriers to put into effect lower rates on wool from Pacific coast points to the east without reduction of intermediate rates. The decision also contains provisions granting relief to the Southern Pacific on eastbound California products five cents higher than the application as well as granting relief on shipment of sulphur from Texas points to Portland. It also denies relief to carriers on rates on coffee, sisal and jutai from New Orleans to Pacific coast points.

Effect of Decision

A year ago last April the western carriers filed the application asking for permission to put into effect lower rates from eastern points of origin to Pacific coast points on iron and steel articles without making similar reduction in rates to intermediate points. The rate asked for was in some cases as low as 90 cents a 100 pounds while the rate to Boise was retained at $1.43½, except as the case to interior rate would reduce it. This case was another of a series of long and short haul cases which have been up from time to time, the first one of which was brought 34 years ago. Because of the long period of time during which long and short haul cases have been introduced there has been more testimony taken on cases involving this principle than on any other kind of case before the commission.

Some time ago Examiner Disque of the commission filed a report recommending that the application of the carriers be turned down, which the commission did in its decision Saturday, but also including the wool, coffee and other cases.

In the wool case the carriers asked for a rate of 91.35 from coast points to the east without requesting a similar reduction from interior points. The effect of the granting of such rate would have been forcing the shipment of wool from Idaho and other intermountain points through the Portland market. Examiner Disque recommending the granting of this application but the commission decided against his recommendation.

Will Cause Rate Cut

"I think that the result of this decision," said Secretary Graff Saturday, "will be a reduction of all transcontinental and intermediate rates. Rail rates are too high and in order that the carriers may get their share of the traffic I believe they will find it necessary to reduce the rates to some extent."

Hearings on the applications for relief which the commission turned down Saturday were held throughout the country. The Intermediate Rate association made a strenuous fight against its granting and employed Kerr-Knox-Gariner, former legal adviser for the interstate commerce commission, as its counsel. Mr. Gartner attended all of the hearings and conducted an excellent case. In the hearing held on the case to Boise local hardware firms testified that the granting of the rate would seriously curtail their trade territory and one business man testified that he would have to move his business to Portland should the prayed for relief be granted by the carriers.

The telegram received by Secretary Graff from Mr. Gartner Saturday regarding the commission's decision is as follows:

"Commission decision today denies westbound application along lines Disque report. Stranger. Denies all relief on wool, gives 90 days to iron and present wool violations, denies relief on coffee, sisal and jutai, grants relief Southern Pacific east bound California products, five cents higher than application. Grants relief. Aitchison and Potter dissenting.

NOVEL TITLES FOUND IN COMEDY FILM

The titles in "Too Much Business" which will be shown at the Orpheum theatre today and tomorrow, are decidedly novel. They add much to the comedy and many of them come as surprises to the spectator.

"Too Much Business" is a comedy based on Earl Derr Biggers' Saturday Evening Post story, "John Henry and the Restless Sex." It was produced by Jess Robbins with an all-star cast which includes Edward Horton, Ethel Grey Terry, Tully Marshall, John Steppling, Carl Gerard, Elsa Lorimer, Helen Gilmore, Mack Fenton, Tom Murray.

GREAT CAST IN "THE OLD HOMESTEAD"

The phrase "all star" has been much abused, but the cast of "The Old Homestead," which comes to the Rialto theatre today may truthfully be said to be of that calibre. Theodore Roberts, George Fawcett, T. Roy Barnes, Priscilla Bonner, Harrison Ford, Kathleen O'Connor, James Mason, Ethel Wales and others make up a list that is hard to surpass.

This Paramount picture is based on Denman Thompson's famous play in which that celebrated actor appeared for thirty-two years, but is far more extensive in character and presents a great drama with plenty of comedy and a smashing climax.

The story is familiar — how the son of Uncle Josh is falsely accused of theft and goes away to meet with stirring adventure and finally to be restored to his home and sweetheart, but there is far more than that to the story. There is adventure, love, human character in abundance, humor that is rich and spontaneous and pathos that is deep and convincing. Tears and laughter abound.

James Cruze directed with discretion and sympathy, this great story which was adapted by Porter Poore Sheehan and Frank E. Woods, scenarized by Julien Josephson and supervised by Walter Woods.

THEY SAY LLOYD DESERVES PLACE IN HALL OF FAME FOR "GRANDMA'S BOY"

"Grandma's Boy," Harold Lloyd's newest comedy in five parts, and his most ambitious attempt for Associated Exhibitors, comes to the Rialto theatre today. It is the comedy that Bob Sherwood in "Life," said should win for Lloyd a "room and bath in the Hall of Fame."

Lloyd is the boy who, all his life, has been gripped by fear. One day, after his weakness has been driven very forcibly home to him, and he is filled with shame, his little old-fashioned grandma tells him a marvelous story of how his grandfather, who had distinguished himself in the civil war, overcame his cowardice with the aid of a charm given him by a gypsy.

Grandma cites the boy the charm, and what he does then is too good to tell. Suffice to say that the boy finds that courage is a matter of self-confidence, and he comes out on top.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH OPENS REVIVAL TO LAST TWO WEEKS

Missionary Pastor of Southern Idaho Takes Charge of Meetings; Doctor Burks, the Pastor, Delivers Opening Sermon Yesterday.

Yesterday—the—First Christian church began a two weeks series of special meetings conducted by Rev. J. E. Slimp who is missionary pastor for south Idaho.

Her, Mr. Slimp conducted a very successful meeting here two years ago and the people of the church were pleased with his work. He will speak each evening through the week except Saturday evening.

Dr. Burks opened the meeting yesterday. At the services last night he spoke on the subject, "What is Christianity Anyway?" There was a splendid congregation present. The regular choir was assisted by Mr. Sanford Carlson of Ottumwa, Ia., a soloist.

Dr. Burks said: "A Christian is one who believes as Jesus did about God, man, sin, and prayer. The only textbook that will guide us into this knowledge is the Bible. Jesus is the Jesus God was divine, personal, spirit, whose will he came to make known and whose life he came to express as the imminent Father. Man is the offspring of this God, created in His image, that he in the characteristics of personality, with an instinct for religion. Sin is the great red fact outlined on the pages of the Bible, trailing its serpentine form through all history and throwing its black fetid shadows over every life. Jesus said, 'I came not to call the righteous but sinners to repentance.' Then what a key to prayer is the simple and defiant practice of our Master. How can any one ever be troubled about form or content in prayer with these prayers of Jesus before them."

IOWA, ENDORSED TO WIN FIRST PLACE IN BIG TEN RACE

Dope Points to Hawkeyes Again Annexing Championship of Western Conference; Michigan Will Make Strong Bid

CHICAGO, Nov. 13—Illinois, showing its usual fighting spirit, and Wisconsin the usual lack of that same quality, was the only outstanding feature in the western football battles on Saturday.

The Illini victory of 7 to 0, while expected in some quarters, was a surprise to the Badger followers. It eliminated the Wisconsin eleven as a championship possibility and left Iowa, Chicago and Michigan in the running.

Next Saturday Wisconsin will play Michigan and Chicago will meet Illinois. It is not at all improbable that either Michigan or Chicago will be eliminated.

Michigan and Iowa took title honors the best in the west, although Iowa showed nothing outstanding against Minnesota Saturday, whipping 28 to 14. Michigan had not been scored on yet this year and has won every game except the 10 to 7 win over Vanderbilt.

Iowa will have to defeat Ohio State. While the Buckeyes have not won a game they may be able to put the Hawkeyes in the test. If Iowa defeats Ohio, they will have only to meet Northwestern to tie for the conference championship, at least. While other conference trainers are claiming Iowa had an easy schedule, it isn't the fault of the Hawkeyes. While they were trying to get games a year ago, all of the so-called leaders—Chicago, Wisconsin and Michigan—were afraid to put them on their schedule after their strong showing in 1921.

MANY UNDEFEATED ELEVENS IN EAST

Princeton, High from a Great Victory of Illini, Is Becoming Very Strong; California Has Lost Prestige Heading Pacific Coast

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—After another turbulent week, in which form went astray, Princeton and Cornell still stride the football heap in the east.

The Tigers seem to be the champions for a week at least. They have won seven games and tied none and their victories were more glorious than those of Cornell who has won six games over less illustrious opponents.

West Virginia figured generally as an eastern team, has also won six games without being extended to the undefeated class since Nov. 4 and the fine Army eleven—but W. and J. have one—the same with Carnegie Tech and the Army has engaged in two no-decision contests with Yale and Notre Dame.

Princeton's season's many games between a first class claim on the eastern championship and the culmination of one of the best seasons the Tigers have had in years. Princeton's game is with Yale next Saturday and the Eli's have developed to a point where they are rated by many as favorites.

California, which overwhelmed Washington 49 to 7 Saturday, the latest of many victories, Cornell, with 224 points to its opponents' 7, and Princeton, with 207 to 7, are the only undefeated teams in the east, while Harvard, Dartmouth and Pennsylvania have each been defeated once.

Nichols still remains as the leading major team in the country, that has not been scored on and Notre Dame is next, with only 10 points allowed the opposition.

Casaba Artists Start Training at Berkeley

BERKELEY, Nov. 13—Basketballers at the University of California are beginning to warm up for the winter season.

Coach Leliana has started a training schedule which will grow more intensive as the football season draws to a close.

Bernie Fetter men, Leliana, Dobbil, Veit, Thompson, Kincaid, O'Neil and Hoffman, have reported for practice, as well as a number of stars and new men and a large freshman squad.

Each of the letter men has been placed in charge of a group of basketballs for positions on the regular team. They are coaching the squads in the fundamentals of the game, and passwork will be stressed.

The first actual contest will be the interclass game at Harmon gymnasium December 4. Eggleston, Larkey, and Coop will be missing from last year's varsity team, but there is plenty of excellent new material to fetch.

The Pacific coast basketball conference is divided into two sections this year. California, Stanford and U. S. C. formine the southern division. Four games will be played with each contestant, and the winner will play the winner of the northern section for the conference title.

BOXING

NEW YORK—Legal battle between Tex Rickard and rival promoters about the use of the state armories for boxing is thought to have been ended by the notice of Adjutant General Kincaid that armories cannot be used for boxing by the order of the governor.

NEW YORK—Negotiations to bring Joe Beckett to the United States to meet Tommy Gibbons and Jack Dempsey have been started by Tex Rickard, he announced. If the British champion beats Gibbons, he would match him with Dempsey.

Billiard Tournament Starts This Evening

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—Six of the world's greatest billiard players will start tonight in the first real tournament for the world's 18.2 balkline championship.

The opening match will be staked at the Pennsylvania hotel between Jake Schaefer, the present champion, and Ernest Schlanger, the German champion.

The matches will continue afternoon and evening until the schedule of 10 matches has been completed.

The players are contesting for a $1,000 diamond championship medal, $6,500 in cash prizes and the entire net receipts from the tournament.

The other players in the championship are Willie Hoppe, former champion, Welker Cochrane, Roger Conti, French Champion, and Eduard Horeman, Belgian champion.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP

BY MUDGUARD.

Before the Moscow-Twin Falls game last Friday the Moscow manager said that they expected to be beaten 65-0. Their fears were all but realized when they came from the field with the short end of a 54-0 score. Which is something Twin Falls has never done. They always go into a game to win. Moscow expected to lose and consequently were beaten before they came on the field.

"Baby" Moore, Garrity and Joe Lisher were the two stars for Twin Falls. Lisher opened the holes and Garrity consistently gained through the openings. Jenkins Werner, subbench, as Evans is saving the big halfback for the coming games for the state championship.

Perhaps the nicest tackle of the game was made by Seaver on the kickoff in the last of the game. Joe fell the Moscow fellow headon and stopped him in his tracks. Someone turned out the lights for Joe for a few minutes and he woke up on the sidelines. However he showed he had the stuff football players are made of.

The game was almost entirely free of penalties for holding and other unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of either team. This rather contradicts the theory held by a Buhl paper that Twin Falls always resorts to unfair methods to win all her games. There has only been this sort of playing with teams that do resort to these methods as the penalties show on the back of the opposing team. To play clean with and beat the policy of Twin Falls has always been for clean athletics.—Buhl Herald.

Another week of hard practice and then we play the champions of the Eastern division.

Three Peaks Out of Six.

Remnants of the ice age are particularly interesting in the Rocky Mountain National park, where huge valleys have been plowed out through countless ages, possibly 5,000,000 years ago. Glaciers transformed what was a single mountain mass into three peaks—Long's, Meeker and Lady Washington—as they are known, with Long's rising to an elevation of 14,255 feet, or nearly three miles above sea level.

GRID FEATURES

"Sleepy" Crowley, sub-Notre Dame half-back dropped the ball going over the Army line for a touchdown and the game ended in a scoreless tie.

Tex Hamner, Penns. full-back, failed to kick a goal after touchdown and Pittsburgh won the game, 7 to 6.

Fumbles by Gehrke and Spaulding were recovered by Princeton and converted into a touchdown and a field goal, Harvard losing 10 to 3.

R. E. Clark, Illinois quarterback, and brother of the famous "Pudge," kicked a field goal that beat Wisconsin 3 to 0.

Standing on his own goal line, Workman, Ohio State half-back, kicked a punt that carried with a roll back of the Chicago goal line a distance of 109 yards.

TIDAL WAVE REAPS HARVEST

the bottom. Then the great tidal wave swept in. Rushing across the land, battering down everything in its path, the mountainous sea records after a few minutes, dragging humans, houses, overturned vessels and a great mass of debris along in the undertow.

The huge wave, perhaps the greatest that ever spread over the Pacific reached Concholin in one direction and Arica in the other. At least this is the cause attributed by scientists for the small tidal wave early Sunday on the Gold coast of the Gulf of Guinea.

Wharves and shipping suffered destruction mounting into millions of dollars. The ships were tossed about like matchwood, small vessels overturned, masts carried away and wooden wharves smashed by the rush of water. Docks, railroad property and business houses along the water front were inundated.

Valparaiso, hitherto the city to suffer most in Chilean earthquakes, escaped practically unscathed.

Hasten to relief of these communities suffering greatly. It was the first to send out a hunger cry. The government was prompt to answer, Chilean cruisers being sent to Concholino with supplies, food and medicine.

Officers of the cruiser Chanchaco, reported by wireless known dead at Concholino, but expected this would be but a small part of the city's actual death roll if the latter ever becomes reachable. Great waves that swept in obliterated an entire community on the sea shore, sucking back into the Pacific many of the victims.

Thirty-five hundred persons were rendered homeless in this town. Two hundred of the most severely injured were treated aboard Chilean battleships.

At La Serena, which was spared the worst of the shock but where some were killed, the worst earth rent occurred on the site of the local cemetery. Hundreds of corpses were thrown from their graves, spreading the germs of infection.

A dispatch from La Serena said that between six and seven hundred are dead as a result of the quake in that vicinity. Coquimbo, one of the towns to suffer most is just a few miles from La Serena. Various dispatches from other parts of the north indicate a like number was killed in Vallenar, Copiapo, Huasaco and the inland villages, making an approximate total of 1,400 dead with additional death each hour.

Women and children naturally were numbered among the quake sufferers in the northern towns and apparently more were killed than men.

Hope Low Rates to Help Potato Price

The new rate on potatoes will be seven cents a hundred lower than the present, it was stated at the Farmers Service this morning. This rate which goes into effect November 25, will help prices somewhat locally, it is hoped. The car situation is improving. A number of cars for spuds arrived this morning.

TWIN FALLS WILL TRAVEL FOR GAME

Tentative arrangements for the football schedule were made Saturday at Pocatello at a meeting of the state school athletic association board which was attended by superintendent R. C. Mitchell of this city and Superintendent H. Snyder of Idaho Falls. Unless decided otherwise by mutual consent of both teams interested, the game for the Southern Idaho championship will be played in the southeast district. The championship of that district has not yet been determined as there is a tie between Blackfoot, Idaho Falls and Pocatello. Twin Falls is champion of the south central district and will play the winner.

Unless mutually agreed on, the game between the Boise valley district and the northern Idaho district will be played at Boise. The championship of the northern district is still in doubt.

Unless otherwise mutually arranged the state championship game will be played in the southern Idaho district.

May Play Here.

Coach Clinton W. Evans of the local high school has offered the winner of the southeastern section a bonus if they will consent to play the game in Twin Falls. The coaches of Pocatello, Idaho Falls and Blackfoot are conferring today to reach an agreement as to whether of the three teams will combat Twin Falls, champion of the south central district. It is expected that a decision will be in Evans' hands tonight.

BEARS ARE LOGICAL WINNERS IS BELIEF

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 13—Questions of football supremacy on the Pacific coast were given a big lift on the road to clearing up by Saturday's games, experts believed today.

California's defeat of Washington university 45 to 7, left Stanford practically the only obstacle between the Bears and actual hold on the coast championship. The University of Southern California's defeat of Stanford, 6 to 0, seemed to clinch the claim of the Southern Californians on second place.

That at the same time Stanford's feat of holding the Southerners to a single touchdown and that with a team minus its star halfback, Wilson, had brought unstinted praise believe that the Cardinals, barring the fact that they always play "way over their heads." In the annual game against California, have a fighting chance to score against the Bears.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Rehearsal—Rehearsal for the Messiah will be held in the downstairs room at the Presbyterian church this evening at 7:30.

Licensed to Wed—Philip Jordan of Twin Falls and Agnes Shawver of Buhl; William G. Brown and Lyda Green of Hansen.

Here on Hunt—C. Lee French, county auditor, and C. P. Crowley, assessor of Power county, returned yesterday after a two day pheasant hunt on Twin Falls. They called on county officers while here.

Begin Count Today—The county commissioners began the official count this afternoon. They will not finish today, it is thought. There will be no change as a result of the official count; the margin for the victory being too wide.

Surplus of Workers—Owing to the the temporary cessation of spud digging, there is a surplus of workers in this city today and the corners and employment agency of the farmer service are crowded with folks looking for jobs.

Boston Speaker Coming—Mrs. H. W. Peabody of Boston, the national chairman of the Building Fund committee for the Seven Oriental Colleges for Women, is expected on the afternoon train. She will be the guest of Mrs. L. L. Breckenridge.

Presbyterian Bazaar—The ladies of the Presbyterian church will give a bazaar at the new Elks' building on Saturday and Saturday of this week. Lunch will be served both days and on Saturday evening dinner will be served from 6:30 to 7.

Spuds for Realty—C. L. Lincoln of the Great Northern is here on a proposition from the Mutt River country of Montana, which proposes to take up 3,000 sacks of potatoes on a deal in exchange for lands, the spuds to go on part payments. He is at the Perrine hotel.

Will Move Barber Shop—E. D. Kail will move his barber shop into the Perrine building in the place recently occupied formerly by the Twin Falls Book & Stationery company. John Kosharek began the work of tinting the walls today. New and elegant furniture will be installed.

Frost Hurts Potato Crop—The heavy frost last evening nipped some potatoes near the surface. The extent of the damage cannot yet be ascertained but it is believed to be slight. It will now be necessary to leave the spuds in the ground about ten days, after which they can be dug without damage.

Brother Dies—Messrs. E. P. and C. B. Knapp received word Saturday that their brother, D. G. Knapp, had died recently at Lebanon, Kan., of heart trouble. He was 47 years of age and leaves a widow. He was here about ten years ago and spent several months on the Twin Falls tract and is fairly well known here.

Tolliver Honored—Rev. W. H. Tolliver was elected as a member of the state convention board of the Baptist church at a regular meeting of the state committee which was held last Friday evening in Boise. This is a signal honor to the leader of the Twin Falls Baptist church. I. H. Masters is already a member of this body and attended the meeting last week.

Bazaar—A grand bazaar, under the supervision of the Beehive and Sea Hive lodges and the Primary association of the I. O. S. church, will be held Thursday in the First Ward chapel, beginning at 10 a. m. A delicious chicken pie will be served during the day. A splendid program has been arranged, to begin at 4 in the evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Income Goes Democratic—Contrary to general prognostications, Lucerne precinct was carried by Alexander, who got 19 votes, while Samuels got 16 and Moses 13. The increases the lead of the former governor over his successful rival to 65, if the unofficial reports over the telephone should prove correct. Lucerne was generally classed among the precincts likely to go progressive.

See Utah-Idaho Game—The following Twin Falls people were in Boise Saturday and witnessed the Idaho-Utah football game: J. M. Maxwell, Norman Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Magel, Thos. McDonald, Roy Weaver, Albert Huntsman, Leon Martyn, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Dean, Frank McKee, Sim Smith, Ralph McDonald, Emily Huntsman, Marie Nunnely and Mrs. L. H. Masters.

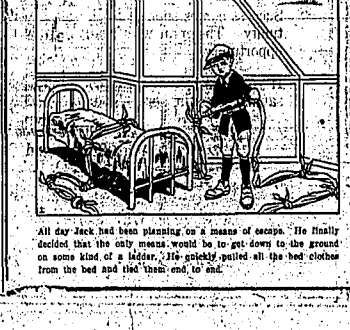
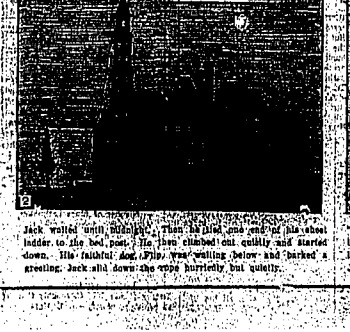
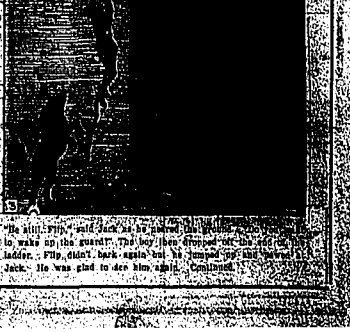
JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES



All day Jack had been planning on a means of escape. He finally decided that the only means would be to get down to the ground on some kind of a ladder. He quickly pulled all the bed clothes from the bed and tied them end to end.



Jack waited until midnight. Then he tied one end of his sheet ladder to the bed post. He then climbed out quickly and started down. His faithful dog, Flip, was waiting below and barked a greeting. Jack slid down the rope hurriedly but quietly.



"Be still, Flip," said Jack as he patted the dog. "You'll wake up the guard." The boy then dropped out the end of the ladder. Flip didn't bark again but he jumped up the sheet. Jack. He was glad to see him again. Continued.

THE ELECTION AND THE RESULT

Senate—Pledged to the enactment of a primary law 29; necessary to control, 23.

House—Pledged to the enactment of a primary law, 47; necessary to control, 33.

Calm has at last followed the state-wide election storm on Tuesday and the results may be reviewed nationally and without prejudice. The people have expressed their desires and their wishes through the ballot. The verdict was one of approval and satisfaction over the past four years of republican administration. They look to the republican party and its officers to give them relief from heavy taxation and to solve some of their economic problems. They indorsed the cabinet form of state government launched four years ago by Governor D. W. Davis and directed by him during his two terms of office. They elected C. C. Moore, present lieutenant governor, to take over the ship of state as chief executive. Mr. Moore should make an able chief executive. He is familiar with state and legislative problems. Being a farmer himself, he knows the difficulties of the farmer and his need for tax and economic relief. His experience as president of the senate makes him familiar with the necessity of placing before Idaho's lawmakers a constructive legislative program. To Governor-elect Moore, the Capital News extends congratulations and the hope his administration will be a successful one.

The people have spoken and have shown their preference for party and candidates. They need relief and they expect and hope to get it from the agents of the party in power. There is need in Idaho for the placing in force and effect of policies that will go to the heart of the trouble in this state that will improve the market conditions, that will open avenues for internal development and that will encourage our industries. There must come a curbing of the powers of local taxing boards that the tax burden will be lifted from the shoulders of those whose income from farm and occupation is not sufficient to meet overhead expenses.

Mr. Moore made his campaign on a platform offering relief for these ills. He made it clear that, while he is governor of this state, he will remain within the state and personally administer the duties imposed upon him by the oath that he takes. He has shown his determination to cut down and reduce, insofar as possible, the overhead expense of operating the state government. He has reiterated his determination to attack and to attempt to solve the problems that confront the farmers of Idaho. The Capital News trusts that he will be successful in carrying out this program and will willingly lend its support to Governor-elect Moore in placing it into operation.

The primary issue was made paramount in the last campaign. The people have spoken on that issue, also. They elected to the incoming legislature a majority of the members of both houses who are friends of and pledged to the enactment of a state-wide primary law. The Capital News elected to champion the cause of a great principle like the primary, instead of the cause of any one candidate for office. This paper has stood consistently for that principle and intends to continue to stand for it. That a majority of the people of Idaho agree with the Capital News is evident from the election returns. They elected to the legislature a total of 76 legislators out of a possible 108, who are recognized friends of the direct primary, and a majority of whom are pledged to the enactment of such a law. The Capital News takes it for granted that the legislature will carry out the will of the people and write on the statutes a workable state-wide primary. This is the serious duty the people have charged the legislature with. The Capital News is gratified it played some small part in assisting in the election of such a legislature.

Prejudices and partisanship were aroused during the heat of the campaign. The issues were fought out and definitely determined on November 7. Elections come and go as do officials and legislatures, but the great state of Idaho continues on.—And now that the election is over let us settle down to doing something constructive for the state of our adoption, willingly accepting the verdict of the people and lending our aid and our support to the carrying out of policies that will be of real benefit to Idaho.—Capital News.

RESURRECTION ROCK

by Edwin Balmer

With Raven-tish Company

Luke gazed at his father, uncertain for a minute whether the old man were wholly serious. His father was never more serious than when he chuckled in satisfaction at his own smartness.

The next day, when Lucas completed his business with his lawyer, Jaccard, he himself made an appointment with a private detective who proved so competent that when Ethel left the house on Scott street that afternoon she had no idea whatever that she was followed.

"Started work 2:15 p. m. opposite — Scott street. Miss Ethel Carter, left, by front door, 2:25." So read that portion of the confidential report which was supplied to Lucas early that evening.

"Followed her to — N. State street where she rang, was admitted at 2:30 and remained until seven minutes to four. Inquiry established that number — is establishment of a Mrs. H. E. Davis, a professional *psychic medium of apparently high*class practice; no police-court record of arrest or conviction."

CHAPTER XII

THE young man who called himself Barney Loutrelle, had never, for himself and upon his personal errand, entered such a home as that on Scott street.

Ethel, upon the floor above, had been ready for many minutes, she had seen Barney approaching the house; but she had waited for the servant to let her in. At Mr. Loutrelle had come and then, shockingly, a tremor had attacked her when she reached the head of the stairs.

The sight of his strong, vigorous figure striding toward her had stirred a flutter in her breast which no amount of argument with self could quiet.

Miss Carew!" he spoke her name when she appeared.

"I'm so glad you're here!" she said, "oh, I'm so glad! A great deal has happened. I found out a good deal more about James Quinlan.

"I told the landlady where he lived that I was a Cullen and of course she confirmed it to him."

"Something had happened inside James Quinlan after Robert was shot down in times which probably made it impossible for any uncle who had taken grandfather's place here, to keep on controlling Quinlan in its old way," she said. "When I came over it was, it made Quinlan want to go to Resurrection Rock; I don't know whether he went there to find you. I can't quite see how that could be, but he certainly went there; and Quinlan was afraid to let me see him. That's quite clear. Grandfather was afraid, too, I think, of Quinlan coming to him. But Quinlan doesn't seem to have gone to St. Florentin at all; he went to Resurrection Rock; and Richard Quinlan found him there and killed him so that he could never speak to you." Ethel paused, then revealed to herself suddenly: "And the device carved on the mantel in that room." She did not need to mention what room; he was thinking of it, too.

"They were identical, Miss Carew," he said with a sudden emphasis which betrayed to her something of what he had pent up within.

For a moment more Ethel stood dazed with feeling for him—for that boy from the Indian shack in the Chatsworth woods finding, at last, something which seemed to his ring and to himself. Then her thought went to that photograph upstairs.

She went over with him in detail everything she had done since leaving him, including her call of that afternoon at Miss Perry's where, she reported, she had made an appointment for a sitting that evening.

She heard a servant opening the front door and realized that this was the hour at which Bennet dropped in to avoid and save with her.

"Hello!" he called before him, coming into the drawing-room; then, seeing Barney, he paused about challengingly.

"Mr. Loutrelle, this is my cousin Bennet Cullen."

"Loutrelle!" Bennet repeated, facing about to Barney again. "Do you use Loutrelle?"

The exclamation was so insulting that Ethel rejoiced that Barney offered no reply.

"What do you want here?" Bennet was demanding.

"Miss Carew knows why I am here," Barney replied quietly.

"I'll ask you to tell me!" Bennet attempted to command.

"That's not for," Barney said, shaking his head silently.

It was no use; and Bennet was alert-minded enough to recognize it.

Finally he became calm and the new plan of operations was thoroughly explained. He examined the envelope and postmark of Ethel's letter from Hinton Adkins; he again pronounced the entire affair a lunatic's

"I SEE A GREAT SHIP SINKING. IT IS GOING DOWN."

*hoax and then determined to accom*pany his cousin and Barney to the sitting with Miss Perry that night.

CHAPTER XIII

ETHEL explained the details of spirit communication, while Bennet, Barney and she drove to Mrs. Driver's in Bennet's car. Barney, having attended sittings in England, was perfectly familiar with the ordinary methods; but Bennet was almost wholly ignorant of the subject.

The medium wore a plain, gray woolen dress which clearly fitted the slender lines of her figure.

"Throw your friendsh'p! Mrs. Davol inquired as Ethel greeted her. She pointed to a chair close together with the herself took the large, leather chair near the center of the room.

"Somebody—I'll call her Miss Perry, for convenience, I'm told—is very pretty clear!" Mrs. Davol volunteered. "Sometimes—but of course, I'll tell you what I see."

Strangely, the presence of the medium, instead of intensifying for Ethel the solemnity of the room, had dispelled it.

"I feel a lot of force here," the medium said.

"She ought to feel the polite force," Bennet whispered derisively to Ethel, who made no reply, while she watched Barney who had apparently plied himself with a pad and pencil, which he took from his pocket, ready to record what would be said.

"I think sure well get something," Mrs. Davol continued. "I see a lot of a woman, very beautiful. She is no longer young; she is middle-aged; she—she can see water! I see a lot of water and people swimming; she is in the water; she is drowning; she is trying to swim. I see a great ship sinking. I think it is a steamer; it is going down. Yes; it is a steamer. I see many people in the water—but now I do not see her."

The voice of the medium halted, and Barney ifted in, from memory, the name of unimportant words, when the medium spoke too fast for his pencil to follow.

"I still see water," continued Mrs. Davol, "but not the same water; this is smooth and blue and very clear. Ice floats in it. I see trees on the shore and a child in a sled walking under the trees. She bears a hidden burden beneath her coat.—Now I see her more clearly—the burden she bears is a child—unborn—she stumbles and is afraid—she looks upon the water and seems to think to rest herself in—but now some one appears in a boat—paddling—it is a canoe—"

Again the voice of the medium halted; and now, though the description recalled nothing to Ethel's mind, yet the manner of this recital of vision lessened Ethel's feeling of fraud.

Mrs. Davol suddenly thrust herself back in her chair and gave a little and nothing I eat hurts me. I sleep like a log, have gained several pounds, and am in the very pink of health. Tanlac is one of the best strikes I ever made."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Will quickly remove stoppage in drains from sink, bath or stool for Sale by SALLADAY HDWE. CO.

"Now you see nothing behind you," she said to Ethel; and Ethel turned about, startled.

"Why, Ethel cried, bending forward, "Who do you see?"

"One who loved you much; he is tall, middle-aged, he smiles lovingly. He has brown hair, blue eyes; good features. He says he is your father. His hair is lighter than brown. Eva Davol says she knew you clearly. He has been trying to come to you many times before; but there have been difficulties."

"What did he want to say?" Ethel demanded again.

"He holds up something; a letter," the voice continued. "The letter is."

"What does that mean?"

"It is his name; no, he shakes his head. It is the name of a place; a city where something has happened."

"London?" Ethel put in again.

"Yes; London. He says it is the name of a person, too."

"What about that person?"

"He says important events will come; he wants to say, they are happening now with it. Now he is here; he is present. He is a brown-faced man with straight, black hair—an Indian—"

Barney put the next question in a strange word, and Ethel, glancing at his pad, saw that he wrote as his question

"Chichipten?"

"He nods yes," replied "Eva." "He was a Chichipten."

Prospector Was Elated Over His Find

"Tanlac has built me up so that I have regained my strength and energy and feel like a different person," said Henry Wilson, of Mineral, Wash., well known miner and prospector.

"For over two years my stomach bothered me a great deal. I got so I had no appetite, but everything I ate formed gas, which bloated me up so that I was miserable for hours. I also suffered from catarrh of the stomach, had dreadful headaches and dizzy spells, and with nervousness and inability to sleep, I got so run down and weak I was unfit for anything.

"But Tanlac corrected all my troubles and now I have a keen appetite

"There is some one here with much difficulty," this new voice said. Quite old. His words were hard to speak. He is with two others, both much younger. Eva has seen one of them before; five feels one of them was waiting for him, the old man not well built up. He had a long, pointed beard. He wants to speak but cannot—" The voice trailed off into murmurs, unintelligible and then inaudible.

"I suppose," said Bennet, leaning again to Ethel's ear, "this is the spirit's control; her 'control' Little Eva spoke that piece."

"Can you describe the man better how?" Barney inquired of the medium, writing his own question as he had recorded the others.

"He shows me a capital Q," the voice of "Eva" continued rapidly and distinctly. "Now a J with it; the J is before the Q; J Q."

"Q!" Bennet challenged.

The voice did not reply directly. "Eva feels like a blow in the breast; there is pushing from it. He does not know he is giving this. He has not done it on purpose; they have tried to make him forget that but Eva gets it from him. I am happy," he says. It is true, I am happy. He can say that but that is all now. He holds up in his hand a torch—flaming torch. Associated with the torch is the word Golito. The younger man leads him away."

Ethel looked at Barney who had stopped writing and turned to her but made no comment; Bennet waited silently; and Ethel knew that she would tell them the reference to James Quinlan was as clear as to herself.

Now that 'Golito' and torch stuff mean anything to you?" Bennet demanded of her.

She bent her head to tell him that it did not as the medium began to speak again.

"Some one stands behind you," she said to Ethel; and Ethel turned about, startled.

"Why, Ethel cried, bending forward, "Who do you see?"

"One who loved you much; he is tall, middle-aged, he smiles lovingly. He has brown hair, blue eyes; good features. He says he is your father. His hair is lighter than brown. Eva Davol says she knew you clearly. He has been trying to come to you many times before; but there have been difficulties."

WOMAN COULD NOT WORK

Made Strong and Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Paul, Minn.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a long and painful period. I used to get up with a pain in my head and pains in my lower parts and back. Often I was unable to do my work. I read in your little book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have to say I feel so well and strong and can do every bit of my work and not a pain in my back now. I recommend your medicine and you can use this letter as a testimonial." — Mrs. PIUS MAHER, 801 Winslow St., St. Paul, Minn.

Just another case where a woman found relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Many times these tired, worn-out feelings and pains about the body are from troubles only women have. The Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for just this condition. The good results are noted by the disagreeable symptoms passing away one after another.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a Woman's Medicine for Women's Ailments. Always reliable.

Deputy.

How to Open a New Book.

To the layer of books there is nothing so exasperating as to see a new book ruined by careless opening. To open a new book correctly, let it rest on its bound edges then put one back carefully down and next the other. Turn down a portion of the leaves, alternating back and front until all the leaves are down. A new book opened this way a few times will not be ruined by the leaves coming loose.

Number of Stars Estimated.

Astronomers have counted the stars in typical districts and from these partial counts here and there we get some idea of the total number of stars and there are estimated to be between two and three thousand million stars. —A. Thomson in "The Outline of Science."

Will you be any better off next year than this? Say yes and come to Linke's, Idaho. We will show you how to put ahead. You can't afford to pass up the opportunity.

Treasurer.

Anyway, it's a Pretty Legend.

There is an ancient Chinese superstition that if you eat enough peaches you will live forever. Many years ago, it is said, a Chinese girl, believing in this superstition, gave her sailor sweetheart a peach seed to carry for luck on a trip to America. While in this country he lost the seed, and from it grew the first peach tree in the United States.

Idaho Editors Visit Twin Falls Power Plant at Shoshone

"About $20,000,000 will be spent, in this state by the Idaho Power company within the next ten years to keep pace with the growth and development of this state," said W. R. Putnam, general manager of the company at a banquet given by the Idaho Power company to about 30 editors and publishers from various sections of Idaho who joined the power company in a three-day inspection trip of the company's plants and transmission lines throughout southern Idaho. The party started from Boise Saturday morning with an inspection trip to the Swan Falls power station about 35 miles southwest of Boise. They returned and witnessed the football game between Idaho State university and Utah. Sunday morning they started from Boise in Trask brothers big motor busses for Hagerman valley and the Malad power station. From there they went to the Thousand Springs power station and thence on into Twin Falls.

This morning they left for Shoshone Falls and will continue their journey this afternoon to American Falls power site and from there will go to their respective places of business.

They were greatly delighted with Shoshone Falls, and the wonders of the falls and the power company's big plant at this place.

The Idaho editors were welcomed to Twin Falls last evening by L. H. Manners, editor and publisher of The Times. Mr. Manners told of the wonderful growth this city had made from a sagebrush desert some seventeen years ago, and praised the people of this city and stated among other things that this was the best city in the west. "It is a better trading center than many cities of 25,000 population; it has more paved streets and sidewalks better and finer equipped churches than the average city of its size. Crops produced on the Twin Falls tract were larger than grown elsewhere and wheat had been produced here during the past year which yielded 104 bushels per acre, beans yielded 54 bushels per acre, potatoes five to six hundred sacks to the acre and other crops in a like fashion," said Masters. He then welcomed the visitors to this beautiful city and asked them to take a look at our beautiful school buildings, parks and other public buildings and private homes.

Power Business Going

W. R. Putnam spoke of the growth of the Idaho Power business in this state and stated that during the first half of this year the increase in the number of power and light consumers in Idaho had increased to 1906. This is a much greater growth than was made all last year.

The question confronting the power company now was whether they would be enabled to get sufficient capital to keep pace with the growth and development of their power business in this state. He said it would depend largely on the attitude of the people as reflected through their public utilities commission. He stated that if this commission makes it so hard for them to borrow capital that their continued development might be hindered.

Eastern Holding Company Here

In other words he stated that his holding company was operating in 34 other states, but if Idaho made conditions too hard for this concern they might even resort to pulling out of Idaho entirely. He even suggested that the state might take the entire plant and holdings of the Idaho Power company over and that his company would be glad if the state would.

Rates May Be Raised

When questioned he intimated that rates would be raised in certain parts of the state because the power users were not paying an equal and just rate and that these rates must be adjusted so that all will be on an equality. He said among other things that the rural customer caused a great deal of trouble because generally he was not willing to pay a higher rate than his city cousin, but this is necessary because of the lower consumer power in the rural communities and the service must necessarily be higher.

Valuation Not Reports Fixed

The public utilities not only fixes the valuation of our plants and equipment but may also fix the rate of earnings which shall be permitted. In other words, if the valuation of the Idaho Power holdings may be fixed at too high a valuation and yet the utilities might at the same time fix the rate which the power company should have as an earning at such a low figure that investors would not only wish to sell their interest in this company but no more money could be borrowed for development purposes.

Bankruptcy Raises Interest Rates

Mr. Putnam stated that the fact that so many irrigation projects had taken the bankruptcy in this state that the interest rate had been increased to such a degree that these projects have lost the state over $20,000,000 in increased interest rates.

Shoshone Falls Station.

The Shoshone Falls power plant is located on the Snake river, in Jerome county, about three miles northwest of the city of Twin Falls. It is taken its water from the Snake river and, because of the irrigation diversions at the Milner dam, about 35 miles upstream, presented a problem for complete development which in its essence, depended upon the somewhat peculiar water conditions set up by those diversions. Below the Milner dam, being closed entirely during the low water season, allows no natural stream flow of the river in its channel below, but below the dam the channel receives what little surface run-off develops, some water from irrigation seepage, and from springs along the canyon and in the river bed, and these are the waters upon which Shoshone Falls depends during the irrigation season.

L. B. Perrine Started Project.

The initiation of the water power development works took place in 1901, when L. B. Perrine, known as the man who dreamed the vision of the Twin Falls irrigation projects, and associates undertook the work. At this time the native stretch of country which we know now as the Twin Falls country was in its original desert condition, the irrigation projects not having been commenced and, in fact, being hardly more than mere dreams. The only outlets for any power that might be produced, feasible or conceivable at the time were at the village of Shoshone, about 30 miles north, and perhaps to supply power for the contemplated scheme of an electric railroad between the village of Shoshone and Shoshone falls, affording a side trip from the Oregon Short Line railroad. Because necessary capital could not be procured, due to the chimera of the outlook, the construction work was but intermittently carried on until, in 1904, the Shoshone Falls Power company was formed by the same people to carry on the work. This company, too, failed of its object because of the difficulties encountered, and it was not until 1907, that the development was finally carried through to the operating stage, by the Kuhns, who had at that time culminated, heads behind them and who were the forerunners of the Twin Falls north side irrigation project. They formed the Great Shoshone & Twin Falls Water Power company, which operates in the field of the present small financial difficulties overlook the management. The installation made in 1907 necessitated the building of a tramway from the head, high in the canyon, about 600 feet below for the carriage of the materials and equipment for the building of the works, which in itself was quite an undertaking.

Construction Problems Difficult

The natural conditions of the river bed and the peculiar formations and faults found in investigation set up very difficult construction problems, which were not to be solved for many years, and required several small tunnels to effectively connect and control the flow. The main tunnel through the rock wall to conduct the water from above the falls to the power house, which had been commenced by the initiators of the project, was driven through to completion and lined with cement. A cement building was erected to house the first machines installed, one 850 horsepower turbine and one 600 kva. generator; which, in 1909, were joined by the installation of a second unit comprising one 1200 horsepower turbine and one 600 kva. generator.

Transmission lines were constructed southerly from Kimberly, Twin Falls, Buhl, Filer and Hollister and to the Salgion river dam for its construction; northerly from the plant to Jerome and Shoshone; westerly to connect with the Lower Salmon Falls power station; and easterly to Milner and Oakley, giving service also in the construction work of the Oakley dam.

After the financial reverses of the Great Shoshone company, the plant and the system were acquired, in 1916, by the Idaho Power company, which, in its process of making over the entire service system, established interconnections with the existing transmission systems over other sections of the county, eliminating so far as possible, the unnecessary duplication which had been made by the earlier companies.

Shoshone Plant Enlarged.

Following the orderly program of expansion which had been arranged, after consideration of the many problems which confronted it, the Idaho Power company, in 1921, proceeded to the work of enlarging the plant to its maximum capacity, which was governed by the minimum flow of the river, and which so controls it today. The slide-bill roads were built to the head, and stored and a newer and stronger ferry boat built, operated by electric power, necessary as a means of transportation of the heavy traffic which the building of new works demanded. An exhaustive study was made of the bed of the river channel by boundaries, borings and detailed investigations, and the engineering work which was done to overcome the many natural obstacles, to development required the finest careful handling in many extraordinary ways, and some of them extremely perilous in the undertaking. Crevices in the rock formations, which the predecessors had tried to close, were successfully filled in, and sealed over by ingenious contrivance, so that, with the rocky substrata, where possible, as abutment points, a series of five concrete dams was thrown above the falls, which successful working of the plans. The existing power house was greatly enlarged by a steel reinforced concrete building, which housed the generating unit then installed of one 14,000 horse power turbine directly connected with one 12,000 kva. generator. The present output capacity ranges from 8300 horsepower to 17,000 horse power, the normal capacity being about 13,500 horse power.

WHITE STARTS DRIVE FOR THE GOODING SCHOOL

Campaign to Meet Challenge of Eastern Board to Grant Appropriation Begins Here; President Tenny Speaks yesterday.

Rev. E. L. White and his congregation started their campaign in earnest last night to meet the challenge of the Methodist board of education, which has just appropriated $5,000 for Gooding college, with the understanding that a similar amount be raised in southern Idaho and eastern Oregon.

President Charles Wesley Tenny, who had been invited by the Epworth leaguers, to give the address of the evening, called attention to the fact that $1 from each and every member of the Methodist church in this territory, would more than cover the appropriation of the national board, and gave a brief history of the growth of the college, which is to be the institution's home. According to his statement, the college is already bringing or keeping within the Twin Falls tract, about 170 students each year, which, according to the estimate of President A. E. Upham of the University of Idaho, spend something like $85,000 with the business men of this territory.

Offering Taken.

At the conclusion of his address, an offering was taken, and today a canvass will be made among the Methodist church, which is about 850.

Among those who subscribed last evening, were:

E. L. Ashton, $10; George Herr $5; Fred Hear, $2; Frank Hear $1; Florence M. Brown $1; C. W. Hess and family $2; A. M. Barrett $1; Mr. and Mrs. William Baker $2; Cash $150; Henry N. Champlin $2; T. Women of Orient Seek a Higher Education Now

Four Hundred Million Women in Ask Appeal to the Men and Women of America.

(By Mrs. Arthur E. Braver.)

Great is the physical suffering in the three great countries of Asia—India, China and Japan today caused by ignorance of physical laws, utter lack of sanitation, impure living, incredibly early marriage and motherhood, cruel superstitions which make childbirth a frightful tragedy, lack of knowledge regarding the care of children, leading to barbarous treatment, and intense and needless suffering, and absence of medical aid.

Pleading for Education

These women ask for the higher education to help them cope with the inhuman conditions existing in the Far East. They have proved that they can learn and they can teach, and now they plead for the opportunity to prepare themselves to serve their own people.

Self determination has come to the women of the East. Now the women of the West stop their work and games and enjoyment for a moment and consider the needs of these women and help them to come to their own aid!

Rockefeller Gift

The immediate need is for buildings and equipment, and has been secured and one million dollars is forthcoming from the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Fund to provide the Seven Oriental Colleges for Women if the people of America will raise two million dollars.

Mrs. H. W. Peabody Coming

Mrs. H. W. Peabody, national chairman Building Fund committee, says that the success or failure of these colleges and medical schools depends on the local group.

Mrs. Peabody is coming to Twin Falls. She will speak at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Peabody is greatly interested in what is known as the

TWIN FALLS WILL HEAR ADDRESSES ON CANCER TREATMENT

Physicians in Twin Falls Will Give Addresses before Rotary, Kiwanis and Twentieth Century Clubs on Prevention of Breast Disease.

The Idaho League for the Conservation of Public Health has sent out several tracts and pamphlets concerning the control of cancer and has urged every city in the state to observe the period from November twelfth to the eighteenth as educational week on the prevention and cure of cancer. Dr. L. P. McCalla, Idaho director of the American Society for the control of cancer has written Dr. D. L. Alexander and other Twin Falls physicians calling them to cooperate in putting over a big educational campaign on this subject.

If proper arrangements can be made Dr. C. H. Scott will address the Rotary Club luncheon on Wednesday on this subject and Dr. D. L. Alexander will speak before the Kiwanis club tonight if time permits. Another physician will address the Twentieth Century club and several other organizations will have this subject presented to them before the 18th of this month.

Vital Facts About Cancer

1. During the Great War, the United States lost about 50,000 soldiers. During the same two years 150,000 people died of cancer in this country. Cancer is now killing one out of every ten persons over forty years of age.

2. Many of these deaths are preventable, since cancer is frequently curable, if recognized and properly treated in its early stages.

3. Cancer begins as a small local growth which can often be entirely removed by competent surgical treatment, or in certain external forms, by using radium, X-ray or other methods.

4. Cancer is not a constitutional or "blood" disease; there should be no thought of disgrace or of "hereditary taint" about it.

5. Cancer is not a communicable disease. It is not possible to "catch" cancer from one who has it.

6. Cancer is not inherited. It is not certain even that a tendency to the disease is inherited. Cancer is so frequent that simply in the law of chance there may be many cases in some families, and this gives rise to much needless worry about inheriting the disease.

7. The beginning of cancer is usually painless; for this reason its insidious onset is frequently overlooked, and is too easily neglected. Other danger signals must be recognized and competent medical advice obtained at once.

8. Every persisting lump in the breast is a warning sign. All such lumps are by no means cancer, but even innocent tumors of the breast may turn into cancer if neglected.

9. In women continued unusual discharge or bleeding requires the immediate advice of a competent doctor.

Greatest Educational Movement in the world today." Those who have heard Mrs. Peabody declare that she is a most interesting speaker. A crowded house is expected by those having the arrangements in charge.

No admission will be charged.

BOY SCOUTS TO ADOPT CONSTITUTION AT THE MEETING WEDNESDAY

A constitution will be presented at a meeting of the Boy Scouts of Troop 4, Wednesday night. The committee, which consists of Lloyd Jenkins, Joe Deiss, Vernie Murray Clit Rigg and Arthur Peavey, has taken a great deal of pains in getting up the document, which is said by those who have seen it to be a fine piece of work.

Another interesting feature will be reports on how the members got the 67 pheasants for the pheasant dinner given last week to parents and friends of the organization. The boys shot 67 pheasants and prepared them themselves. They were cooked

Joint Committee Met Sunday P. M. for Conference

A joint committee from the various organizations and churches met Sunday afternoon at the Baptist bungalow and made final arrangements in regard to the coming of Mrs. H. W. Peabody of Boston. Plans were discussed and several measures were adopted. Miss Edna Graham was elected chairman of music, and Mrs. W. O. Crotty, chairman of entertainment. Rev. W. H. Tolliver spoke at the meeting and made many valuable suggestions in regard to ways and means. Dr. Emma Crossland, who represented the Business Women also gave good advice. Mrs. L. T. Breckenridge, local chairman, presided at the meeting

Does Advertising Pay?
Advertising Pays when you get a bonafide circulation of paid subscriptions. Free copies and free subscriptions cannot be relied upon by advertisers to bring the same results as the regular paid subscriber.
The human race appreciates those things most which they pay for in legal tender. It requires some sacrifice to get the subscription price to a Daily Newspaper these days and yet that subscriber reads his paper a great deal more than the fellow who picks up a sample copy now and then on his doorstep.
