Entertainments at Hazelton.—Mrs. John Orchard entertained guests at cards at her home on Ninth Avenue north on Monday evening. Mrs. William Blaylock enjoyed a game of bridge. Mrs. Thomas Robertson won first prize for high scores and Mrs. Leonard Williams was the next best in the ladies' favor. Mrs. F. J. Conrauer assisted the hostess in serving delightful refreshments after the entertainments.

Bridal Pair Married.—One of the pleasant social events of the week was the wedding of Carl Schmitz and Mrs. Martha O. Lautenslager, who were recently married in Salt Lake City.

The guests enjoyed dinner in the private dining room of the Hazelton hotel, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Electric lights were used for lighting, and pedestals with tall bouquets of flowers in baskets were placed in the corners of the room. Low bowls of flowers and candles were used for table decorations.

After dinner the dinner, the bride and groom were seated in the dining room of the Hazelton hotel, and Mrs. Prentiss Stowell and ushered in the wedding cake. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Evans, the father and mother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dalonge, the "gentlemen"; the parents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Lautenslager, Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Fuchs, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clegg, Mrs. May, Mrs. Bowman Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Bowland, Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. and Mrs. Carl DeLonge.

On Tuesday, November 21, the members of the Hazelton Grange No. 80, All-Women's Grange Chapter D of the P. C. A. Sisterhood, The meeting opened at 8 o'clock. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. John L. Lautenslager, Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Fuchs, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clegg, Mrs. May, Mrs. Bowman Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Bowland, Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. and Mrs. Carl DeLonge.

The election of officers occupied the majority of the time, and the officers of the Hazelton Grange when the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year, says the Hazelton Grange:

Worthy Master, W. R. Summer, Overseer, Jas. C. Knutl, Secretary, S. M. Schmid, Assistant Master, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Evans, Treasurer, Mrs. C. U. Miller, Assistant steward, Mrs. Oliver and Mrs. Stevenson, during the social hour which followed.

WATER IN PLENTY

Rome Celebrated for the Number of Its Fountains.

Several Hundred Have Place in the Squares and Gardens of Rome.

Among the specialties of old and modern Rome travelers gladly admire the pure cool aqua water that comes from the city through magnificient aqueducts.

There is plenty of water to provide for the wants of the 900,000 people and to supply the severe demands found in the fountains throughout the squares and gardens of Rome.

Tourists on their arrival are greeted by the imposing "Fontana" over the entrance of which stands a bronze statue of Neptune in his chariot. In a search for their hotel, they stop to admire the beautiful four-brunneus groups representing the four seasons.

At the first fountain on the right to the left, they may choose to go up town or down town, to scratch at the center or stop at the outskirts of Rome; there will be always a fountain well.

Even the colossal statues watching the quinquefons, representing Alexander the Great, Faustina, the Discobolus, the Cupid of the Colosseum, and Brutus have been richly endowed with ringing and bubbling water.

The majority of the public people pass about from fountain to fountain. Even "Little Jerusalem" has a garden and its fountain, and the poorest of the community has at his disposal a quiet spot where he can find rest and the refreshing spray of water.

Humble men, who prefer the noisy falls to the gentle brooks, will visit the Fontana del Moro, or the Fontana del Nettuno, where water and falls with a roar mingle through narrow streets.

Tourists know that, throwing a penny in the "Fontana dei Quattro Fiumi," they see a picture of the four rivers of the world in the picture at the bottom of the fountain bed covered with coins by a party of visitors.

Most beautiful things have to be hunted for. The forest "Tulipe Fountain" is placed in a corner of old Rome and tourists have to wade through mud and a long pilgrimage through narrow streets.

Tourists know that, throwing a penny in the "Fontana dei Quattro Fiumi," they see a picture of the four rivers of the world in the picture at the bottom of the fountain bed covered with coins by a party of visitors.

"Tulip Fountain" is the most beautiful thing in the city. It is located in the quiet little park just outside the city walls every day.

Now the fountain, that is now in the Pantheon surrounded by several springs of pure water, it certainly impresses tourists with the beauty inherent in the delicate strands of Krypt.

Palazzo Navona, has three fountains, the central one is decorated with complicated groups of Bernini, representing the four rivers of the world, the Nile, the Ganges, the Danube.

Those at the two sides have impressive statuary, and each of them has a symphony of waterfalls.

The old fountain is playing a respectable role in the life of modern Rome. It took center stage in bringing the 14 different kinds of water to the city. The fountains represent the work of generations.

Incendiary Darlings,

W. M. H. favors us with the following:

"When a player strikes out that makes me sick, doesn't it?"

"Yes, I don't care if they get on the base, son, but that's nothing—the other side has, too!"

"They sure, why don't they call a right-handed pitcher a northman?"

"The umpire said 'Safe.' I'm glad I thought when the runner made that awful slide he'd hurt himself!"—Boston Evening Transcript.

—Accommodation.

An inland College car was slowed down when a north-bound little pony and colt ran out into the opposite side of the street in safety.

"The jen stop for a thim like that?" inquired a passenger, ready to alight at the next corner.

The driver replied the minimum, merrily, reciting a stream of sonnets over one end the open widow.

"We stop for dogs and rats and birds. We even stop for a thim like that."

The pony had been to the rear, followed by a milk wagon, crossing the tracks. "We don't take any chances on the baby not getting his breakfast,"—Indianapolis News.

Edison's Unique Thrift Scheme.

Thomas Edison recently told a story of taking a personal interest in helping a woman who was unable to meet her debts.

The directors asked if $100,000 would buy the transcript.

"I have a son who is the most brilliant effort for a moment, and they inquired whether they had offered him enough."

"The man is all right," said Edison. "You'll do right, but on condition that you pay it to me at the rate of $7,200 a year. If you paid it to me at all since I've paid you, put it all into your investment, so that every cent of it will count."

EAST AND WEST WILL CLASH IN FOOTBALL XMAS

(By HENRY L. PARENTE)

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—With the departure of Penn State tomorrow, the east will be moving in a good mood. The game between the two teams has become an established annual invasion.

Three large intercollegiate games are to be played Saturday at the western, midwest, which was applied to eastern fields several weeks ago.

West Virginia and Gonzaga, the school without a district, will finish the first week in December on Christmas day.

West Virginia is one of the few undeterred takers of the east. The majority of the eastern schools have allowed their opponents out of Pittsburgh, Washington and Lee, and Princeton were their most important victims.

Little is known of Gonzaga in the east—but it is becoming prominent in coast football considering that the school is a new one in the intercollegiate competition for only two years. Charles Dorris, Notre Dame's American quarterback, in 1912, is the greatest football player typically Notre Dame, featuring fast running, game and a tendency to the offense.

The Student body is about 200, and Dorris' only men in the squad this year. The team established a record for the school by scoring 187 points against its enemies. 95, Washington State, the only team to beat him.

West Virginia is said to be one of the best teams in the country although very faint opposition.

Gonzaga, like the Indians, the mountaineers who may be surprised.

Pittsburgh finished with one of the best teams in the east and stands fourth in the list of the most.

At Allie's, December 3.

By arranging the game on their home field, Pittsburgh was enabled to keep all the money from the game and Coach Warner brought the squad along slowly until they were regular in their movements.

Southern California came to beat Penn State. They met at Pasadena on New Year's day.

Penn State is in bad shape this year, losing to the Navy and Penn, escaping from Syracuse, with a hard time. The Penn State Indians held the great California to a score, and if that means anything, Penn State will have a job.

Baptist Basketball Games Scheduled

Thrills are promised for Tuesday night when the basketball teams of the Young Men's Christian Association and the Baptist Gymnasium meet during the Y.M.C.A. tournament.

Both teams have been working out during the month of November with great improvement. In team play and shooting accuracy has been shown.

The Baptist team has the same hard sites that defeat at the hands of Kimberly, here, and it is their intent to beat the Young Men's team off the floor December 23rd.

BASKET BALL QUIZ by Referee—

Start Play

When a referee blows his whistle when he puts the ball in play in the center?

The referee shouldn't blow. He should have the ball returned to his highest point, after which, it must be tapped by either of the centers before putting the ground in order to let the other player when the referee shall simply put it in.

Center

What is the referee's right for the referee to do, if the ball has been put in play in the center touches the floor without either center having tapped it?

That is up to the player, he can either throw, bounce or roll the ball to another player when the referee shall simply put it in.

Opponent's Ball

When a ball goes out of bounds on the referee's side, is it the referee who shall put the ball in play?

It is customary for the referee, when the ball goes out of bounds, to give the ball to the player who is not where the ball left the court.

The referee shall simply put it in.

LAST OF DATA ON BIG DISTRICT IS IN TWIN FALLS

WHAT IS THE last word on the big district football competition for both years? Charles Dorris, Notre Dame's American quarterback, in 1912, is the greatest football star of all time, according to the records of the American Football League.

WILLIE McNAUL, West Virginia, has been selected captain, and Carl "Pete" Smith, a junior in the college of science.

NIGHT GAME—Indoor running is not my game. On a 200 yard curve track I doubt what would give another circus performance. After all, however, Charlie Padover, star of California, applier, went in declining to compete at the indoor show of the Miller A. A. C. in San Francisco.

MURKIN'S RECORD—Vernon Murkin, the boy who has been selected captain of the 1923 football team, is the last year's champion. Kid Williams, former champion, and Smith of Madison Square garden, Smith, was allowed to run out a race to meet Jimmy Curtis in Jersey City.

CHICAGO—Tim Weston, skating association will hold its annual meeting tonight to perfect plans for the skating contests.

MADISON, WIS.—Athletic authorities flooded with applications for the position of football coach at West Allis have applied.

Young people, don't let old folks mislead you into the deadly heresy that to accept the gospel means to defuse your tires, retard your spark, throttle the engine and throw out the clutch.

How long does it take to become a success? Henry Ford is a good example. After building the ladder and building additional rungs according to the Chicago Evening Post, Nineteen years ago he had only 20 employees and was making only 125 cars a year. Now he has 75,000 employees and makes 1,000,000 cars a year. Plenty of others who were barely struggling along in 1903 are still struggling, though. Don't look for inevitable rules of success. There are none.

WOLVES IN POLITICAL FOLD

Those who, in order to get a foothold again in the political field of which they have been kicked out, or in which they have been refused to make position fits among most despicable of them. Instead of trying to unite those who would bring about reform and model in an orderly fashion, they would tear down and destroy without rebuilding. They want to divide counsel in order to climb to the top themselves through class. Just how many of these are assailing the reputation of Woodrow Wilson and in order that the judgment may seem fair, they attack other presidents indifferently.

Among those whose "wrigglings" tend in this direction, is R. P. Pettigrew, formerly United States senator from South Dakota. He has been a varied and most honorable political career. Having gotten all he could out of both, old parties and out of the Free Silver, Republican party, he turns his rather mediocre talents to the abuse of All. And like many other old-time office-holders who strive to "dig in" and secure the leadership of a new party, he is strongly against "politicians," as if he had not been one all his days.

In a book entitled "Imperial Washington," issued by Charles J. Kerr & Co., who have published many socialist works, Pettigrew gives his version of the lives to the ten American presidents whom he has known, including Harding. He says:

"In the most inspiring record—this story of ten presidents—all of them actively or passively serving the interests that have been plundering the American people. Very few Americans now living have known ten presidents. Very few have had my opportunity for observation. If they had, I think they would be compelled to agree with me that the control of the American plutocracy is exercised directly and as effective over and through the presidents of the United States as over any other department of American government."

The reliability of this work may be judged from the following paragraph regarding President Wilson:

"Wilson was nominated by the usual influences that control a democratic convention. He had almost a solid south at his back. The south is behind the world in ordinary civilization, in social and economic thought. This mass of ignorance and baserian joined with the corrupt exploiting bosses of the north and brought about Woodrow Wilson's nomination. Murphy, the exploiter of vice in New York, Sullivan, the exploiter of the people of Chicago, through the gas franchise; Ryan, the exploiter of the street railway franchises of New York, and Taggart, who for years ran a gambling house at French Lick, Indiana; and Bryan of Nebraska, were all actively at work to bring about Woodrow Wilson's nomination."

Now everyone who is 30 years of age knows that Wilson was nominated in the teeth of the strenuous opposition of Murphy and the bosses, and that Bryan left the Clark delegates because he found that the bosses were about to drown down the great Missourian and put on a plutocratic dark horse. He rallied on Clark for a reconciliation of these elements, who were never sincerely for him, but because the speaker did not believe that Clark was destined to succeed, began repudiation and Bryan swung to Wilson and beat him. Thus, nominating Wilson, Wilson could not make friends with these elements, either in New York or Idaho. With such a treacherous neutrality, Pettigrew hopes in daring falsehood to deceive some voters.

Today in this state there are those who pretend to be reformers who are striving to prevent the harmonious working together in the Idaho legislature of democrats and progressives to further legislation which is demanded by both parties. These are not working for progressive legislation, they are working for themselves. Incidentally, or deliberately, they are working for themselves. It is to be hoped that regardless of party, those who want sound laws will work to that end, forgetting the acerbities of the last campaign.

TWIN FALLS DAILY TIMES

IDAHO PRODUCTS WIN IN FAR-AWAY MARKETS OF EAST

BOISE, Dec. 18.—H. V. Platt, general manager of the Oregon Short Line, in an interview here gave out some interesting shipping information, which he said, is steadily improving in the state.

He stated that from Aug. 1 to Dec. 1 there had been moved, 1,222 cars containing 300,000 bushels of potatoes, equivalent to about 100 more to be shipped.

"We moved 7001 cars of Idaho potatoes," said Mr. Platt, "and against 1,216 cars shipped in 1915." Estimated crop this year is 18,000 cars, the greatest in the history of the state. However, the potato production is so great that there will be large all over the country. The fact that we have moved over 7000 cars of this crop, in addition to the present market conditions, due to over-production, speaks loudly for the quality of our product.

"There is no other commodity in this country that has forced itself into so many different markets, for such a short time, than the Idaho potato."

Bleeding in Diabetes.

"What's newest this year has been fastened under leaf-lettuce and okra, as well as by itself. The opening market was discouraging, but as the weather turned cool for cars in the beginning of the shipping season, the trade would have been more active and at a more reasonable price. While 80% came out of an estimated total of 11,000, have been moved, it is to be hoped that the market will open up and bring about a profit.

Mr. Platt quoted figures showing, in fact, in the first albums, for last year and of 1915, that the price for potatoes was $4.00 per bushel as compared with $25 in 1911.

"It is easy to remember," he said, "that when the first car of Idaho potatoes was shipped, the price was considered a banner accomplishment. Now we are to break it."

Operative Efforts.

At first, Oregon Short Line had a justified price, competitive with the advertising and efforts that have been put forth to place Idaho competition with home-grown products of other sections and in spite of the severe competition of produc-

"Anything like normal conditions would result in the same ratio of increased for such products as potatoes and onions, etc., so that the market would attain their phenomenal growth from the time they were advertised and the time they were demanded beyond home consumption."

Outlook Good

Mr. Platt expressed the belief that the greater stability of Idaho's market, based on demonstrated demand and the excellence of its produce being widely recognized, the fast approaching national and international return to standard would give Idaho unprecedented opportunities.

"We are on the upgrade now," he said, "and the market is strong enough to discourage the upward movement by statement or otherwise. Nothing would be said or done that would discourage investors coming into Idaho."

Mr. Platt concluded by stating that continuing its efforts in the line of developing Idaho's productive resources and through advertising and in other educational methods, will bring the country to far away markets.

Not a Hero at Home.

"Almost any prominent man can go back to his home town and find some old role," who re進入ers when the prominent man was considered the most important man in the country.

SUGAR BEET GROWERS ARE ORGANIZING

Secretary, Boys of the Idaho Farm Bureau Association Appeals to Farmers Through the State Board Together and Find Representative to Meet, Inc.

Appeal to the farmers of Twin Falls, Canyon and Jerome counties who grow or expect to grow sugar beets next year to co-operate in an organization of sugar beet growers already formed. The letter, addressed to the Times from C. L. Hines, secretary of the Idaho Farm Bureau, urges all to meet Dec. 23 at 10:30 a.m. in the Hotel Arden at the corner of Main and Fourth Streets, Twin Falls, to discuss the organization and to select a representative to meet the inc.

To our sugar beet growing friends in the South who grow or expect to grow sugar beets next year to co-operate in an organization of sugar beet growers already formed. The letter, addressed to the Times from C. L. Hines, secretary of the Idaho Farm Bureau, urges all to meet Dec. 23 at 10:30 a.m. in the Hotel Arden at the corner of Main and Fourth Streets, Twin Falls, to discuss the organization and to select a representative to meet the inc.

A copy of the letter was received by the editor from C. L. Hines, secretary of the Idaho Farm Bureau, in which he states that a meeting of the organization will be held some time this week. The letter follows:

"At our sugar beet meeting held in Pocatello December 8, to which your county failed to send a representative, you sent a telegram to me, asking, 'What has been done by the Farmers' Protective Association of Idaho, representing two-thirds of the sugar beet area?'

"A response was passed that each county that was represented had a representative on their board, as a member of a board of directors, that this board had authority to speak for the manufacturers, and that an executive committee of seven members be elected from the board, who would be all experienced sugar beet men. This body, I am told, would have the power to work out and decide on a contract."

"It seems to me that this should be done, in view of the fact that a similar committee worked out the 1922 sugar contract, and that the sugar beet growers received $520 million on the fifteenth of the month following the signing of the contract."

"I desire to say that this should be done, in view of the fact that the sugar beet committee worked out the 1922 sugar contract, and that the sugar beet growers received $520 million on the fifteenth of the month following the signing of the contract."

The letter continues: "I hope that you will receive as his part of the profits from the sale of sugar, on our behalf, the amount of twenty cents per hundred pounds, and one dollar and fifty cents, in addition to the cost of delivery, and that we will deliver and that this sum will be turned into this section of Idaho and placed in the hands of the farmers, and in the hands of the men who have been sent there into the business channels, from three hundred thousand to eight hundred thousand dollars. I would not have been here had the sugar beet committee at their own expense, excepted against us, and I am sure that you have a good understanding of every business man, and the county agents of Twin Falls, Canyon, and Jerome counties, and the sugar beet committees above named counties, and assist in carrying on this great work, to do so much to all this section of Idaho."

Therefore I wish you would get your farmers together, elect and send a delegate or delegates to this meeting, the date of which will be notified, not later than December 22, and at once call a meeting to vote to this matter.

Hillsdale District Elects Directors; Assessment Lost

W. H. Hartley and C. W. McHenry were re-elected to the direction of the Hillsdale District, with the election of a special assessment of 25 cents an acre, was voted down at the election held Saturday evening in the hills.

Total Vote, 65; McHenry, 34; Hartley, 31; Burch, 3. Assessment not carried, 104.

JURY SELECTED IN BIG CASE AGAINST THE BOYD HOSPITAL

A jury was selected this morning in the $120,000 case of Nathan Hayhurst, the Boyd hospital and the county of Ada against John E. Wright, manager of the firm of Wright & Chapman, who represents the plaintiff. The trial is set for January 25, Wright's attorney says.

"The defense," said Wright, "is that Dr. Boyd, who had been a member of the board of directors, was removed from the board, and that he was unable to defend himself. He was retained as a lawyer to represent the defense."

"Mr. Chapman said: 'That Hayhurst is a bad man, and that he is trying to cover up his sins. We can't let him get off scot-free because he might be allowed to sit in a chair.' It was stated by the attorney for the defense that he was unable to defend himself, and that he was unable to defend himself.

"The attorney for the defense said that the two men relented to allow the new one, so that he was not able to defend himself. It was the bottom line to signal that the office, when replaced in his place, and that he was unable to defend himself. He was working on the portfolio when attacked by the police and was beaten at the hospital in 1918. Juries are: J. J. Atton, Iris Boley, P. E. White, Thomas G. Johnson, J. C. Kipp, W. C. Morrissey, J. H. Newberry, A. M. Scott, J. N. Woodward, J. J. Dunn, Henry Henmerman, J. F. Atton."

Hackman Back from the Federal Court

"Attorney Turner, W. H. Hackman, V. Hackman from Boise, where he spent two weeks on two cases in the United States, reported yesterday. He states that in the case of S. F. Hayes against the Owyhee Land & Water company he argued the equitable trustee company case in the federal court and the argument consumed a suit for $22,000 less than the plaintiff will receive, and that he is to be expected home in a few days.

"He also represented Mr. E. H. Hayes of Boise, Mr. Hackman represents the land and water company and Mr. H. H. Hayes of Boise, who is the son of the defendant in a big sheep case involving $72,000 brought by a bank trust company.

H. H. Hayes, J. A. Galt et al. was sustained and the plaintiff given a verdict favorable to him.

Legislators to Meet
Autos and the Farm Delegation

Legislators from Twin Falls county will be busy this evening. The chamber of commerce will entertain automobile associations with dinner at the Roosevelt hotel at 6:45 p.m. At 8 o'clock a delegation of farmers from the various districts will meet at the Hotel Arden.

Copies of the summary may be obtained by application to the state department of mines and geology at Moscow.

GOOSE CREEK BASIN WRIGHT AND ARTESIAN WATER HAS CREATED MUCH TALK

Southern Idaho Artisan Wells
Bureau Started by the State Board of Agriculture. Basin Is Adjacent to Burley and Constance 1200 Square Miles.

MOSCOW, Idaho, Dec. 15.—In the results of an extensive investigation of the artesian water possibilities of the southern Idaho basin, Arthur M. Piper, of the state bureau of mines and geology, in cooperation with the office of U. S. Commissioner of the U. S. Geological Survey, the bureau has found it necessary to prepare a brief report on the subject, due to be published in the publication of the bulletin. The Goose Creek basin is an area of extreme southern part of the state with parts extending into Nevada and Utah. Burley is the chief town.

Goose creek first came under consideration as a possible source of artesian water in the fall of 1920. Three weeks ago, the author of the report, upon finding no record of the basin in an oil prospect well in the range about 11 miles south of Burley, "This survey is a part of the reconnaissance work which I have made in the basin to date. The Geode creek section is largely in a dry valley, while in the north the water is available, and that the water is available, and that he is almost deadlocked," he said.

"Structurally the artesian basin is bounded by border faults to the east, bounded on the east and south by a series of ranges, and bounded on the west by the north-south line slightly east of the peak," says Mr. Piper in his sketchy report. "Within these boundaries there is a high ground, the basin is bounded by border faults to the west, bounded by a series of ranges, and bounded on the east and south by a series of ranges, and bounded on the west by the north-south line slightly east of the peak."

The quantity of artesian water is not known, but the author of the report thinks that there are indications that it may be considerable. The quality of artesian water is not known, but the author of the report thinks that there are indications that it may be considerable. The quality of artesian water is not known, but the author of the report thinks that there are indications that it may be considerable.

"Some drilling for oil has been done in the Goose creek basin, but none to any extent. There are a number of wells drilled in the basin, and the yield of oil is very poor. The fractured rocks are extensively faulted and the yield of oil is very poor. The fractured rocks are extensively faulted and the yield of oil is very poor."

The quantity of artesian water is not known, but the author of the report thinks that there are indications that it may be considerable. The quality of artesian water is not known, but the author of the report thinks that there are indications that it may be considerable.

Copies of the summary may be obtained by application to the state department of mines and geology at Moscow.
