NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

LITTLE WOULD BE GAINED BY MIXED BATTLE

Dempsey-Lewis Scrap Not Viewed with Favor by Ring Fans; Dempsey Would Stand Good Chance of Winning but Not If Lewis Grabbed Him.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—It is extremely doubtful if there would be much advantage in having a heavyweight boxer champion of the world, and heavyweight Lewis is, heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, would be to the advantage of either sport.

In the first place the chances for such a bout are remote enough so that fight-and-wrestling fans would lose no sleep over the probable outcome, and in the second place, the material it would provide, anything.

"It's pretty safe bet that nothing in the principality would content to risk the safety of his own life to satisfy his own curiosity in the master, and if the curiosity of the public is to be satisfied it will be one of the costliest propositions ever undertaken,"

Probable figures which the champions would demand can only be guessed at, but it's not much of a guess that the price would be a matter of seconds after it started.

If Dempsey lands first, well, and make no mistake about it, he would be good for the fighting name; but if Lewis got him, he would be good for the stock would at once begin to sink.

In either case it would be more or less a matter of luck and their representatives would be hard put to it to have every right in the world to yield for another match, like if either man came through without a scratch.

Their respective "wounds" the fighters will land on a dry fast turf. Thrusting storm clouds were whisked away during the night and dawn is bright and sky is clear.

The wind which is expected to make accurate passing and kicking exceedingly difficult.

The National League rule forbids a player to play with his team in the last 24 hours, but the increase in the last 24 hours, Derek's men outweigh "Gloomy Gus" Hunter's warriors by six points.

There is no doubt that the handicapped U. S. C. will be further handicapped by the wind, which depends to a large extent upon their position in the field.

The Penn States have a slight advantage in straight football, but the Trojans are capable of a powerful onslaught which even held the Champs to a "wonder team" to a low score this fall.

California is the only team which has defeated U. S. C. this year while three others have been beaten.

Mrs. Warrene and James Lindner and Justice Lawrence Hansen are shown from Bush for the day.

YOU IN 1923

What does 1923 hold in store for you? Better things in a money way, probably, for the outlook is that there will be more prosperity to be divided among the American people.

As for other things that go to make up happiness, a good thought with which to start the new year is that life is what we make it, and real happiness a condition of heart and mind.

Ahead, then, with pep! Time is giving us a new deal with the cards. Forget mistakes of 1922 and begin afresh.

The start of a new year is always fascinating, because it opens the door of the unknown. The curtain rises on a new act of the eternal drama life.

The plot is not yet and dried in advance. You, as one of the actors, help shape it. Many who started in previous acts will fade to the back of the stage—or be carried out through the wings, stilled forever. The lead roles are always changing.

What now Mansfield or Irving or Bernhardt will spring into the limelight and fame in 1923? No one knows. The future is veiled.

More than any year of the past, 1923 holds promise for great spectacular events in man's delineation of the unknown.

A powerful undercurrent became evident in humanity during 1922—a spiritual awakening, a renewed interest in the hereafter, in our purpose here on earth, and that mysterious depth known as the subconscious mind.

Psycho-analysis and similar phenomena, incorrectly called "cracks," are also leading up to some sensational new development for humanity at large.

Shall we, in 1923, talk with Mars or Venus by radio or mental waves?

Shall we discover new celestial powers that have been lying dormant in us, waiting until Destiny is ready for us to use them? All of us have been vaguely conscious that such latent powers exist. Occasionally they are manifested by mysterious happenings that no one can satisfactorily explain.

The world wide titanic struggle was the forerunner of something new and tremendous. Great spiritual or psychic forces shod civilization to its foundation. Leading up to what? We may know before the end of 1923. Forward, across the threshold of the unknown.

LET ALL DO DUTY

By JAMES D. WHELAN.

Headlines in the Sunday newspapers, correctly voicing the sentiments of the writers, were all hopeful regarding League affairs, this hope being based in every instance on the belief that the Harding administration has at last realized the necessity for acting participation in the affairs of the world in order to avoid an unspeakable catastrophe. That the administration realizes this is undoubted. But the president will go beyond the negative operation of giving good advice if he feels that the American people are behind him, cannot be questioned. That something beyond expression of good will is needed is evident. The spokesman of the administration, Marie-Sullivan, exults because President Harding has taught the senate that the executive is the negotiating power of the government. For this let us be thankful; let us not forget the administration by recalling the fact that our present executive signed what was called a "Declaration of Independence" on the part of the senate when President Wilson assumed to exercise the right exercised by American presidents from the foundation of the country. This declaration was itself a proclamation of independence from the authority of the constitution of the United States. But let us be glad that it is rescinded by one of the signers.

But this is not enough. The sentiment of the Borth resolution was right. It was a feeble step in the right direction. The statement of the president implied as much. Let us hope that the executive indicates that the gravity of the foreign situation is realized and that realization is up to the president to deal with it will be followed by steps to put into effect a policy aggressive enough to meet the situation. This will carry us into the League of Nations. Harding was elected because 31 leading friends of the League of Nations assured the American people that his election was the only way whereby this country could get in. Borth is coming over. The people are waiting for the goods to be delivered, revolution abroad will cut off our foreign markets and retard the prosperity which is to follow liquidation.

Let every American voter give the administration to understand that it is with a desire to make good the pledge given in its behalf by the 31. Partnership should have no part in this. It is a fight to push forward prosperity and to abolish that spirit of hate against every other people, now manifest in all nations.

That the administration is turning to the light is a cause for extra congratulation in addition to the prosperity that is beginning to dawn here and in other places following the depression which came when the co-operation between the nations of the world during the war gave way to suspicion and hate. If the executive shall go to the light the writers are indeed right. It will be a happy New Year.

In England, "John Bull," organ of the unspeakable Bottomley, is framed for dishonesty, is appealing to prejudice against all

The Twentieth Century Club will entertain the members of the club at the club, and the club will entertain the Campfire Girls and the Boy Scouts in the old other nations, and against the United States, in particular. Similar sentiments are expressed by powerful and sinister factions in every nation in Europe. But in spite of all this, there is reason to hope and believe that the masses in all countries will grasp the teaching of Christ, whose name Jesus (Savior) was manifested on earth on the day of which this is the anniversary, and will comprehend that when God came to live and die to save all mankind, the members of all races must be essentially the same in their humanity regardless of the accidental or incidental differences that may appear. This realization will offset the work of militaristic and monopolistic influences that seek to keep them at variance for selfish purposes.

At the close of another successful year we take this opportunity to thank the patrons whom it has been our good luck to serve during the past year. May our business relations with you be as pleasant in the future as they have been in the past.

A Happy New Year to all.

The island, who supports your purity in advance, that is what two human dandies attempt to do in "Seaside Tide," directed by George Melford, opening for the first time at the Idaho theatre today. You can further imagine the exciting action that will be in "Seaside Tide" as it follows the moon through the clouds of a tempestuous night. The chief interest centers about the great strength of a woman, the role being played respectively by Jeanne Kirkwood and Lila Lee.
