Male and Female Blackmailers Believed to Figure in Mysterious Slaying of Wealthy Los Angeles Citizen; Subsequent Know Him Well but Profess Innocence of Murder.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 19.—An alleged blackmail plot against Bertie Hamilton, slain aviator and club member, was being investigated today following confidential reports from friends that Hamilton had been in fear of his life and that a beautiful blonde who had been in his office had threatened to "expose" him.

The police said they were informed that Hamilton had paid $1000 to the woman less than a month ago and they thought it possible that she spent the afternoon and evening of the day she was murdered bargaining for his reputation with the same man, woman.

He had a huge business deal, it is said, and it was a matter of men's affairs, his character or reputation which he had refused to police. "God knows where this thing will end," Hamilton was quoted as having said in a newspaper interview. "I am a friend a few days before his death, and I am sure that my friend was made to go no further information from him."

Mrs. Estelle LaBarge, a photographer who informed the police she had been with Hamilton on the night of the murder, and on the night previous to the murder, she declared Hamilton took her to two motion picture shows and then drove her home, arriving there within 15 minutes of the time he was killed. She said they were out about 8:10 in the evening.

The night before she had been a member of the police. "Hamilton frequently had me type his letters and I have seen his handwriting," she said. "He took me out on some parties, but I never saw him with any woman, and I haven't the faintest idea why he was killed or who killed him. I am sure I don't know where he had been before 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and I am sure I never saw him on the night of the murder, and I am sure I never saw him on the night of the murder."

LABOR LEADER IS VICTIM OF CHICAGO FEUD

Steve Kelleher Dies in Gun War; In Illinois Cafe With Hundreds of City's Elite Present; Shooting Is Result of Strife for Control of Labor Unions; Excitement Prevails.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Steve Kelleher, prominent Chicago labor leader, was killed by Daniel McCarthy, another labor leader, in a spectacular gun war in a crowded cafe here today.

Mrs. Thomas Golden, an innocent bystander, was wounded in the shooting. McCarthy fled but was later captured and taken to a hospital.

The shooting was the result of a dispute in the ranks of the Chicago Building Trades union. Kelleher was the twenty-fourth victim of labor feuds in Chicago during the past 10 years.

More than 200 men and women, including many society matrons, were in the cafe at the time of the shooting. The cafe was the headquarters of the union.

The battle was an outgrowth of the feud between "Big Tim" Murphy and the other Chicago labor unions. McCarthy, a former protégé of Thomas Kearney, once president of the Chicago Building Trades council, was seated at a table near the dance floor.

As the Kelleher passed McCarthy's table, Mr. Kelleher said: "McCarthy, you are a double-crosser. You Kearney made you and you threw him down." McCarthy took out a revolver and fired.

McCarthy stepped to the table, took McCarthy's arm, and started to lead him away. McCarthy shot to McCarthy as he hurried his back.

"You bet I will take care of that double-crosser," Kelleher yelled, pulling out his revolver and firing two shots into the air.

There was a rustle of silk as the night club patrons rushed for the door. A woman screamed and fainted. McCarthy jerked free from Teasdale, pulled a revolver and fired one shot, striking Kelleher directly between the eyes.

Steve dropped dead. Patrol wagon backed up to the doors of Teasdale's and most of those who saw the shooting were taken to headquarters for questioning.

FINGER LOSS MEANS LITTLE TO CHAMPION

Bill Tilden Retains Every Stroke in Repertoire Despite Amputation of Finger on Right Hand Which Was Hurt in Play.

BY HENRY L. FAURELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Bill Tilden, the New York tennis champion, may be lacking a part of his right hand, but none of his skill or game is missing.

Although he did a two-set match in Vinto Rye, N.Y., both 11-9, in his last exhibition here since the operation, the tall champion showed critics yesterday that his game is as good as ever.

Leading in Tilden's number ranking because he has lost his right hand, Tilden's progress today was such that he will lose to the younger men who he is right as he was yesterday.

Tilden showed everything "that he ever flashed on a court," his forehand and back hand were as hard and accurate as ever, his volleys were as brilliant, chopped and sliced with all the skill of form that carried him to the world championship in 1922. One way he seems to be missing is not on his end of that finger.

He does not favor the finger and he goes about every stroke in his repertoire with perfect confidence. He will still hurt his hand, but he does not intend to humor it.

BIG TIME OWNERS IN SPRING MEET

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 10.—The American league baseball owners meet here today to transact their annual spring business, such as publishing the schedule and making a few late trades and talking over the coming season.

Rumors that Eddie Collins, White Sox second sacker, would be sold to the Yankees, were revived in hotly lobbied as the managers gathered.

Colonel Jacob Ruppert, accompanied by his partner Colonel Hamilton and his check book, were out hand to make a last desperate effort to obtain Collins from the White Sox. The only comment the manager made was that it was cold.

Clark Griffith, Washington owner, was running around the hotel corridors looking for a right-handed pitcher. The "old fog" had little to say, but appeared to be hunting hard for players.

Connie Mack, pilot of the Athletics, said he expected the White Sox to finish nearer the top this season. Incidentally, seven other managers or owners indicated that they expected to win the pennant.

BOYCOTT THE BOOTLEGGER

As long as the public patronizes the bootlegger he will be encouraged to continue in his trade and will even resort to murder to protect it.

As long as some Columbus persons continue to buy from bootleggers, crime with the rum runner as the promoter is bound to exist.

Waiting a step to cold-blooded murder of those employed to enforce the eighteenth amendment rests with the people. Columbus can do its share by stamping out those engaged here in the illegal manufacture and sale of intoxicants, either through the courts or by means of the boycott.—Columbus Citizen.

HULL BRANDS REFLECTION ON WILSON AS ROT

Since the statement was made here by Rev. L. E. Burger, at one of the Ku Klux Klan meetings that 85 percent of the appointees of President Wilson were "members of a certain church," coupled with the intimation that this was the Catholic church, Times has done a little investigating on the subject.

Answering your letter of the first instant, relative to certain wild-eyed local rumors there, I would say that when such silly rumors are corrected in one community some agitator starts them again in an adjacent neighborhood, and so on, with the result that any attention to such talk, pro or con, is an endless chain proposition.

Frederic J. Haskin, is author of "The American Government," the most widely read political book on that subject, and one which has received unstinted praise from scholars everywhere.

In response to a request for the names of those Catholics holding prominent permanent appointive positions under President Wilson, he gives the names of several persons, none of whom were cabinet members.

Replying to a letter asking for any information he might have in regard to the percentage of Catholics appointed by President Wilson, he gives the names of several persons, none of whom were cabinet members.

"I have not been able to analyze the appointments of his administration with reference to religious affiliation. I am quite sure, however, that no such percentage of his appointees as indicated, namely 85, were of any one religious denomination.

"Personally I do not believe that President Wilson was in any sense controlled or greatly influenced by the Roman Catholic church. As to the League of Nations I am clearly of the opinion that the first president was a Protestant.

Other prominent Protestant countries connected with the League of Nations as at present constituted, besides those mentioned above, are Sweden, Norway and Denmark, though, as pointed out by Dr. Watson, there are at this time more Catholic than Protestant countries in it.

MISS GLADYS STUDLEY, beautiful New York society girl, who gives Taniau full credit for her remarkable return to health.

Miss Gladys Studley, a beautiful and popular society girl, residing at 419 West 119th street, in Manhattan, New York City, is among the thousands of New York City people who are praising Taniau for the return of their health, strength and happiness.

"For three years past," said Miss Studley, "I have been in a very badly run down condition and when I began taking Taniau, I had little hope of ever being my normal self again. My nerves were so unsteady that at times I could not keep back the tears. Some days I enjoyed my meals and other days I simply had to force myself to eat. I had no energy and the least exertion would leave me completely exhausted. My complexion was becoming sallow and I could not get any sleep. Taniau is sold by all good druggists. Over 25-million bottles sold."

had become almost unbearable and my whole system seemed to be crushed out under its burden of ill health. Well, it wasn't many days after I began taking Taniau until I knew I was on the right road to recovery. My appetite increased, my tired feeling like an entirely different person. My complexion is even better now than it ever has been and everyone is asking me what has brought about such a great change. I am no longer so excited for the way Taniau helped me back to health that I have lost an opportunity to recommend it. It certainly is grand medicine."

... AT THE ... THEATRES

A production calculated to open a new departure in the way of original musical comedy endeavor is scheduled for Leveering Theatre tonight. It bears the euphonious title of "Father on His Vacation" and is based on the internationally popular cartoons of George McManus, "Fringing Up Father." All the best loved characters from the cartoon, yet over-welcome, jiggle down to music. "Father's" antics will be seen in the flesh. They will cavort, make merry and "carry on" as it were through new and fresh adventures, to the tune of lively melodies and laugh-provoking dialogue; scenic, surprise innovations, specialties, infectious fun, completing an entertainment certain to create an insatiable demand for what is new and wholesome in modern amusement.

"June Madnes" is the kind of photoplay that hits the mark because the picture contains the elements that go to make an overwhelming popular success. It has a stirring story that throes with breath-taking pace; it has a star in an expert comedienne as well as one of the most fascinating actresses on the screen; it has a new and rare revelation; and it has the skilled workmanship of Harry Beaumont to combine these elements of excellence into a most interesting picture. At Orpheum today and tomorrow.

RED CLOTH AND BILL DONT MIX, SAYS LAUREL
An Ithurbart Vastellan, the matador, is "killed and buried" at the Orpheum theatre. Stan Laurel naturally was enlisted to wage near-mortal battle with what was advertised to him as being a story that throes with breath-taking pace. "That was the biggest mistake I ever made in my life," declared Laurel with real feeling. "Of course the bull was supposed to be killed and sent by the leg to a big cage. The rope did not come within range of the camera. That the scene had no sooner started than the fun began and the only fortunate part of the affair was that the picture was taken from a sort of corner. It hadn't been arranged that way there might have been no more Stan-Laurel comedies."

SUPER CROOK PHOTOPLAY
"Missing Millions." Alice Brady's first Paramount star picture, which opens at the Idaho theatre today or three days, is said to be a superb "rook photoplay, based on two of Jack Doyle's famous Boston Blackie stories, which were published in a leading magazine. Miss Brady has

MARKETS

PRICE IRREGULAR. CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—The grain market was quiet and erratic today and the close was irregular. Wheat opened strong on the influence of higher foreign markets, but broke sharply due to heavy profit-taking and toward the close rallied strongly as a result of short covering and evidence of some export demand. About 20,000 bushels of hard winter wheat were sold at 1 1/2¢.

On approval. A little time and then explained triplets to a day later: "Triplets all ways come to poor families. It's when God sends them a whole line of angels to look after them, and they don't have money enough to pay the expenses to take 'em back."—Boston Transcript.
