GIANTS ARE FAVORED TO REPEAT 1922

Winners of Last Year Must Be on Toss to Capture Flags in Respective Races but Depleters Figure Them to Do It; Cincinnati Strong.

(By FRANK L. PARHILL.)
 NEW YORK, March 18.—Both major leagues will be under way this time next week. Much will depend on how they start. Three teams in each league look formidable, but favoring of first may cause them to be swept behind next October.
 New York, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh look like the main rivals in the National league race. The Cubs might come through as third there and they might even beat out the Cards.
 John McGraw's proven ability to keep his New York Giants from getting pulled under his hot hand over their success will prevent the National league champions "suffering from the effects of two permanent windfalls. The Giants are a great money club and although they may not be stronger than they were last year they are not weaker.
 The pitching staff might include McGraw's name, but he jured his mittles around with such skill last season that he ought to be able to do the same thing this year. If he succeeds again.
 Pat Moran has built up a most impressive team in the Cincinnati Reds and if he has any luck in getting away fast he will have a most prominent contender. If Hobe Beck is allowed to pitch and is back in the form he was in when the Giants can't load any day of the season.

Passiac Team Sets World Record for Coach With Life's Ideal

PASSIAC, N. J., March 19.—After all the rules necessary for success in life are the same as those in turning out a winning basketball team.
 How absurdly simple they are, and yet, as friends of Prof. Ernest A. Blood, coach of the Passiac high school team, point out, how plain, how clear, and—yes, how hard!
 "Prof., as the students affectionately call him, now holds the world's record by having his team of juniors win 114 consecutive games."
 And here are his rules for success: "Take the offense and put the others on the defense, for the best defense is an offense."
 "Pass the ball, don't dribble."
 "Get your opponent changing you and then he cannot watch the ball."
 "Make two baskets to the other team's one."
 These few words, repeated into action, did what that has made "Prof." fame extend the length of the land.
 Coach Blood is not only that. He is physical director of all Passiac schools. And he feels that creating the star team that he has was only a logical outcome of his entire theory.
 For Coach Blood is more anxious to make "men" than players who dazzle the basket ball rosters. He force them in an early year, and when they reach this stage of life they know it will be impossible for them to be one of the others unless they show, not only skill of physical effort, but mental and moral stamina as well.

 And so, that's about all to this little story of life and basketball to the little town of Passiac. We might mention that before coming to Passiac, "Prof." was coach at Patuxent, N. C., where his basketball team won 101 games and lost only six. Three of them by the world famous professional team, the Buffalo Germans.
 But his friends say: Why mention it? Wherever he would go it would be the same. For "Prof." has an ideal. He merely is expressing it.

Attention, Farmers!

We have now about 5000 acres in sight. The price of sugar beets is higher. We have paid $8.75 per ton for the 1922-23 crop to date. Farmers are sure to get at least $1.00 more per ton for the past year's crop which will make $7.00 per ton.
 Prospects for the coming year are better than the past year's prices. Why not pick up 10,000 acres by putting a part of your land in sugar beets. We feel that early planted beets is the safest and surest crop you can plant. The price is sure and there is no other crop we know of that will bring as good returns. Why not take advantage of these good prices this year?
 Sugar beets get most of their sugar from the air and contrary to dogs given out are easier on land and put land in better condition than any other crop we know of. Stop and figure. It will pay to diversify. Ten acres of sugar beets will pay expense of running your farm.
 Mr. Land Owner, did you know that every acre of land planted to sugar beets the past year on the Twin Falls tract brought from $30 to $40 per acre rent!

Early Horseback Riding

The early Greeks and Romans rode horses bareback. They regarded it as unusual to ride in a saddle. In fact, the modern saddle with girth and stirrups was unknown to the ancients. Straps were fastened to his saddle and the harness of the horse. Saddles with trees came into use in the fourth century; stirrups three centuries later.

The thing new in beauty to a tree in full leaf is a tree bare; its every expedience of shape revealed, and its hold on the sky seeming as unshakably assured; and more than the beauty of shape and the outlining of sky, the solemn grace of prophesy and stately which every slender twig, every arching bough, every gray twig, and hidden leaf beckons.

In the majority of cases the midnight oil youth is now burning has been found to be cylinder oil. If an investigation were made we presume this would be found true in Southern Idaho.

There is something in life that brings success. We do not know exactly what it is, but we know what it isn't; it is never idleness, unfairness, intolerance, or failure to use common sense everyone possesses in some degree.

It is reported that a certain oil company started in this section of Southern Idaho some six or eight years ago with practically nothing and are now reported to be worth not less than a quarter of a million dollars. This would sound like a John D. concern. Perhaps this is the reason that another such a company was organized here the other day. None of us would object to such a growth.

A certain well-known judge was once trying a prisoner who was found guilty of stealing a saw. When the usual question was asked what he had to say why judgment should not be pronounced against him, he replied, "I only carried it for a job, your honor." "And pray," said the judge, "how far did you take it?" "Three miles, your honor," answered the prisoner. "Prisoner at the bar," said the judge sternly, but with a twinkle in his eye, "that is carrying a job too far. The sentence of the court is that you be imprisoned for three calendar months," thus giving him a month a mile.

BOISE FOLLOWS TWIN FALLS SUGGESTION

Some time ago the Twin Falls Kiwanis club gave a banquet for the farmers of this community. The event proved to be quite an interesting and helpful affair and the farmers and the city leaders felt each other's needs in a more forceful fashion than ever before. Both seemed to understand each others problems more completely and were more ready to co-operate for the general uplift of the community.
It seems that Boise heard of this get-together meeting and recently pulled me in the Kiwanis club of the Capital city. Here is an editorial from the Capital News commenting upon the good effects which resulted from same:
A city or a community is just as dependent upon those living tributary to it as are the latter dependent upon the city and community. Their interests are interlocked. The success of one reflects on the other and that is equally true of failure. They have much in common and any movement made to bring closer co-operation between the two is commendable indeed.

The Kiwanis club of Boise took the right step when, at its regular meeting this week, it invited to sit with its members some forty representative farmers of the Boise valley. Business men and farmers sat down, and for an hour and a half, discussed mutual problems of interest. They found they had a great deal in common. They came to a clearer understanding of the problems each had to solve. That avoids common sympathy and understanding. They spoke frankly about these problems and gave their opinions as to how they could be solved.
Business man and farmer struck common ground and common footing. They are closer together now than they were before the conference. And they will cooperate in the future as they have not in the past. Probably the best result of the joint gathering is the promotion of a better and more friendly feeling between the man who grows the produce and the man who sells what he grows. City and country should never be apart. If they are something is decidedly wrong and it should immediately be corrected.

No city can thrive when the agricultural community surrounding it does not entertain friendly relationships. And that also can be said of the agricultural community in its relation to the city or town. After all their interests are largely mutual. The farmer should have the undivided support of the people with whom he comes in contact in the city as a whole, and he in turn should speak well of those with whom he trades and assist in co-operating with the city or town.
The Kiwanis club movement is an excellent one. There should be more mutual gatherings of this kind between the business men and the farmer. They can be of great help to one another.

Drawn Work on Voile of Reeds Green

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

THIS VOILE BROOKS OF END all around green leaves little to be boasted for mid-summer afternoon wear, for its simple design seems almost as refreshing as its color and material. Drawn-work thread is used for decoration and to mark the top of the deep.
Groups of pin tucks placed at each shoulder give a little surplus fabric to the front, which is desirable in a material as sheer as voile. In the skirt, side slits dispose of an abundance of fullness with the right result.
The ash in of narrow ribbon tied at the center back and trimmed with the front with ribbon ruffles.
Completing this costume is a Neapolitan treated head hat, its generous crown being dotted down in telescopic effect. The trim edge falls slightly on the right side, where two large, round, white roses of shot satin, shading from almond green to dull yellow, are attached.

PRICES LOWER.
CHICAGO, March 18.—Prices were lower at the close of the Chicago Board of Trade today.
Wheat advanced to the weakness which was induced by profit-taking and a lack of constructive enthusiasm. Recoveries from weakness indicated the damage from the billiard was not as serious as at first believed. Export trade estimates of 750,000,000 bushels failed to affect the market. Breadstuffs estimated according to the usual method of wheat to ship compared with 51,000,000 last year. Weekly shipments also showed a large increase from the trade estimate.
Profits in wheat featured the trade in corn. Weekly shipments were estimated at 35,000,000 bushels against 27,000,000 bushels last week. The expected demand from farmers unable to get their cattle to market failed to stimulate Argentine reported weekly receipts but the report was light.
The report of dry profits was reflected in spot wheat, which opened higher. Weekly shipments were estimated at 25,500,000 bushels against 20,500,000 last week. Export demand was weak.

No Bird Census.
 He is the student from which to determine the largest flock of birds ever known. An auction once computed that a continuous stream of carrier pigeons observed by him included more than 1,100,000,000 birds. Wilson actually calculated that a flock observed by him was 240 miles long and numbered 2,229,272,000 pigeons.

STAGE STUDIO FIGURES ON T. F. SCENES

"Wandering Daughters," An Impenious Production May Have Plot Put on Films Around Blue Lakes and Great Waterfalls in the Vicinity of This City.

"Wandering Daughters" may multiply meander around the enchanting groves of Blue Lakes this summer if the tentative plans of Thomas H. Rice studio, to lay the scene of a big production here should materialize. Location and characters for the play are both sought by H. Rice, representative of the Western Pacific in this city yesterday. The possibilities of the great Shoshone and the Twin Falls and other scenic spots around this city are being considered.

"Mr. Rice went to the northlake today and will return to the Hooper hotel this evening. He said that the question whether the troupe when organized would stop here or Blue Lakes and other scenic spots around this city are being considered.

This is not the first time in which Twin Falls has figured as a possible center of motion picture production. A local company once got up some very creditable films but they were put an end to the activity. It was reported at one time that Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford might appear.

ROAD GROUPINGS MAY HAVE EFFECT ON WELLS

Developments in California Seem to Offer Hope to Hope that Hill Line Area Interested in Idaho Central.

Interest in the story that the Idaho Central would eventually become part of the extension of the Hill Northern Pacific system is revived here by the offer of California capitalists to bring about a consolidation of the Santa Fe and the Western Pacific, the Denver and the Grand and the Northern Pacific. This latter is not a joint effort, but merely with reports of activities of the Hill interests but with the report that California capitalists had practically closed a deal with Central Pacific for the latter's interest in the Hill line.

Free Press Discusses Railroad. The Free Press, in its current issue, while not referring to the Idaho Central has this to say of the proposed consolidation of the Western Pacific and Santa Fe railroad systems under one new grouping, scheme now being considered by the latter's Finance Director, Combs, according to reports from San Francisco.

A recent conference of the Finance Director of the neighboring railroad companies in the preparation of evidence to guide the Federal court body in its reorganizing plan, number of speakers dwell at length on the possibility of a consolidation of the Idaho Central with the Santa Fe.

Settling Main, rail traffic expert of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and C. H. Gresham of the Los Angeles Chamber, raised the question of the consolidation of the Idaho Central with the Santa Fe.

C. J. Bradley, manager of the California Fruit Exchange, Sacramento, said that at least $200,000 would be required to move the Western Pacific on a competitive basis.

Greene said that with Sacramento Northern system owned by the Western Pacific, and the Denver & Grand water system, owned by the Santa Fe, continued as feeders, the proposed grouping of these roads would put them in position where they would be able more effectively to compete with the Northern Pacific activity.

VETERAN PEACE FIGHTER GETS SEVERELY HURT

Former Sheriff of Cassia County Badly Injured by Arm of Windless Which Swung Loose When It Got Out of Control.

W. O. Pratt, for many years sheriff of Cassia county, his term extending back to the days when Twin Falls was within the boundaries of that division, lies in the Twin Falls general hospital, which he entered yesterday afternoon, as a result of an accident caused by a windless which he was operating at the time of the accident, striking him in the back of the head shortly after midnight on Friday morning. He was brought to this city early Sunday morning, having in the meantime received surgical treatment in Jerome.

The windless is reported to have gotten away from control while engaged in the work of cutting around, striking the former Cassia county sheriff. This skull was not broken, and for a time it was thought that the consequences might not be serious. However, as he remained paralyzed it was thought best to bring him here.

COUNTY AUDIT OF ALL BOOKS TO BE TAKEN

Commissioners Will Have Examination of Records in Detail for the First Four Months Are Separate.

The board of county commissioners by unanimous vote has called for a four-year audit of the books of the county, lists to be in the hands of the board not later than April 9. All departments have the county hospital and county fair will be audited; these, too will be audited separately, as they have different sets of books from the county. The audit will be complete in all respects.

Teach Give Show Good—Those who have glanced over the program of the Idaho Technical Institute given recently by the school tomorrow night, say that it is excellent. Those who have read it in Pocatello and elsewhere, and who have come to Twin Falls to attend it there, say that the work is excellent, being a general work, does not adequately describe that it is first class in all respects.

Here an Business—J. Crocker, partner of Thomas Costello, is here from Moscow, Ill., looking after the interests of the latter. He expects to go to Los Angeles to visit the Costellos, who are in the city. Trullinger of the Baptist church. A telegram from J. W. Hayes, who adopted him when a boy, was received yesterday. Mr. Hayes requested that he be buried here and asked that any expense which he deducted from his money enough to defray be sent to him. The young man was worth of hundreds of dollars. His pet dog has been adopted by the little son of Glen Stuartman.
