CUNO SAYS FRANCE INVADED RUHR TO CUT UP GERMANY

GERMAN CHANCELLOR MAKES STARTLING CHARGES IN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH WILHELM PHILIP SIMMS.

(By William Philip Simms.) Madras to The Times. Copyright 1923 by NEA Service, Inc., in United States and all foreign countries having copyright laws.

BERLIN, April 4.—In an exclusive interview which the writer in Wilhelmstrasse, Chancellor Cuno of Germany openly charged France with the dismemberment of Germany and the ruin of the German people.

If France accomplishes her purpose, according to Cuno, it will mean disaster and pennilessness for Europe and unrest for the world whole.

The German chancellor clearly made a bid for international mediation. He authorized the following statement: "Throughout the months of the Ruhr invasion Germany and the world whole has been waiting for France to show the ultimate aims of her action."

"That she is not bent on reparations is shown by the universal opinion—shared by the allies—that the invasion diminishes the means to get reparations."

"But at last one of France's most astute politicians, M. L. Loucheur (whose work as minister for the liberated territories has engaged universal attention), in a public speech has given a hint of the French motives."

"He proposed to tear the Rhineland zone definitely from Prussia. He further proposed to 'annex' the German provinces and to make an artificial political body of them."

"I am grateful to Loucheur. He specifically mentioned what Germany by bitter experience has known for centuries to be French policy: namely, dismemberment of Germany."

"There's not one answer to the French challenge: The Rhineland zone must remain an integral part of Prussia."

WILARD'S TRAINING TOO WILD

Boxing Commission of New York Has Summoned Former Kansas Champion to Gotham to Answer Charges of Laying in the Shade and Not Training Hard; Trouble with Sparring Star.

(By HENRY L. FAIRBELL.)
NEW YORK, April 4.—Reports that Jess Wilard is getting ready for the Floyd Johnson fight in the arena prepared for Jack Dempsey caused the New York boxing commission today to summon the former champion to New York to finish his training.

Wilard, it will be remembered, took Dempsey so badly often he was preparing to defend his title in Toledo that he refused to work when the local was in charge of the fight most of the time. He failed to get himself in shape for the perfectly conditioned Dempsey, and he lost the title. Through some of the boxing champions here today, the fight going to be transmitted, it was reported here yesterday that Wilard had cut out the training of his sparring partners in his Excelsior Springs camp and that the reports were spread about also that the former champion had severely chastised several of his training camp mates who had been too rough with him in practice.

The boxing commission apparently heard the stories and William Madison ordered the New York commission to see to it that he was in the best of his sports and let some of the big experts see him do his stuff.

Upon investigation it was found that the reports were at least partially true. It seems that Wilard was not satisfied with the work of his training camp and had dismissed all of his handlers by cutting him out of the sparring partners' pay. One of the sparring partners, Fred Johnson, who had been cut out at a strike, but he failed to go through with it.

Wilard, who is to fight at New York next week—$25,000—has been considered more or less of an uncertain quantity to go against Floyd Johnson, and provisions were made sometime ago to about John Firpo, the South American giant, against Johnson if Wilard should find at the last minute that he did not care to work for such little money.

So many stories have been passed around about the fight that the commission wisely decided to get Wilard here and see what he was doing.

Franklin's Place in History

In sheer intellectual power, Benjamin Franklin probably ranked foremost among the men of the Revolution, and was one of the most accomplished men of all history. He was a companion of savants and a favorite of courtiers, but through it all he remained an American of the good, hard type, and his life, his work, his ideas are American to the core.

Appeal Too Much Gladly

It appears that you're under the action of a lock. One animal in a city "too" was taught to unlock his door, and he was able to get into the right key and let himself in. But the experience taught, the keeper never to teach another animal. Twice this creature was found at large in the garden; he must have opened the doors with tools of his own making.

HODGIN WINS ELECTION

On one of the frankest and foughest platforms that was ever proposed to a municipality Shad L. Hodgin was yesterday elected mayor of Twin Falls for the next two years. He started the campaign with the pledge that there should be no mud-slinging as far as his ticket was concerned and he stuck to this platform to the finish. Because of his frank open-statements in the mass meeting the evening before the election it is believed that he won enough votes to win the contest. Twin Falls has every reason to be proud of their newly elected mayor and they can also rest assured that the city of Twin Falls will get two dollars worth of service for every dollar in salary he receives.

It was freely predicted before election day that his declaration against the Klan would defeat him but such did not prove to be the case. People generally like a man with convictions and a man who dares to stand for what he believes to be the right and in our opinion this declaration turned many votes to him. Not because people are so strongly opposed to the Klan as the fact that this was evidence that he dared to express his convictions regardless of the consequences.

We regret that the commission form sometimes spoken of as the "Black Law" requires a majority of all the votes cast for the election of a commissioner. Leslie and Keef are clearly the peoples choice for commissioners. Mr. Leslie had 284 more votes than his nearest opponent and Mr. Keef had 230 more than his nearest opponent.

Another election will be necessary between the four candidates receiving the highest number of votes and we believe that there is very little chance of any serious change in the final vote on this subject, but the city will be to a heavy expense and the voters to considerable trouble and anxiety in the meantime.

TURN ON THE LIGHT

Lists have been published of alleged patrons of bootleggers in Washington. These lists contain the names of officers of the United States army and navy.

The board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church sincerely and earnestly hopes that the war department and the navy department will use the utmost diligence in finding out whether or not officers have actually patronized bootleggers in contempt of their official oaths to uphold the constitution of the United States. Any officer who has been guilty of such conduct should be dismissed and disgraced and should leave the service.

It is unfortunate that Secretary of the Navy Denby, who would undoubtedly be deeply concerned, is out of the country. We believe that he will approve the most energetic action in that department.

The integrity of government, the sincerity of a great people and the honor of the war services are vitally involved.

It is safe to assume that a nation like the United States cannot be treated as was China in the opium war. The three-fold limit was not intended for outlawry, but for protection of legitimate commerce. Liquor smugglers came under the law of piracy which is not limited by lines drawn across the ocean. William J. Bryan.

WHOSE THE BLAME?

The relation between employer and employe has been gradually modified as the result of education, legislation, and agitation. The mere ability to employ workmen or clerks is not in itself a certain proof of beneficence of character and intention. Labor maintains that the employe or capitalist does not give work, but that the workman who performs his duty will need return no thanks for what he has earned. Certainly the tendency is away from condescension on the employer's part, from any attitude of lordly satisfaction in the mere fact of his own existence.

But social well-being suffers just as much from the attitude of many employes, who not as if a favor were being conferred upon a company by remaining in its service. Power and wealth are coupled to breed arrogance, but inflated, mistaken pride extends all the way down. Anyone who has worked in any kind of organization knows that boastfulness, conceit and a generally swollen ego are not confined to the manager's office. If all the time wasted by subordinates in telling their fellows what they would do if they were the bosses could be devoted to hard work, many a concern would show a stunner balance sheet at the end of the year.

So many men are enemies of everything but their own selfish interests that it is quite profitable to try it all off on the other fellow. In any country where revolutions are common a hard chief rule up in a town and begged permission to re-entend within its borders.

"But are you not in favor of General Blanks?" asked the head man, referring to the true president or dictator of the republic. "Yes, I think he's the greatest man who ever lived," replied the rebel, "but I'm against the government."

"Whereupon with loud shouts the villagers joined his banner. But in an industrial and commercial world this attitude does not get men far. It is what employes are for, not what they are against, that opens the doors of opportunity. It is the positive, con-structure, affirmative attitude of mind that alone carries the worker forward. It is the man who takes hold, who builds, who steps in where he is needed, that wins the coveted promotion, never the idle and faint-finger.

Young men constantly praise their own individual qualifications, and in the same breath cry because they have no opportunities. We blame them for not giving us more opportunity. But if we cry out our grievances until the end of time it does not change the fact that man's only manseiner is within, not outside. Saturday Evening Post.

Obviate. There is no great virtue in doing a thing that no one else wants you to do, simply because you are "obviate". If it is a matter of principle that is all right, but only fools stick to their own opinions when it is contrary to the opinions of other people, just to be contrary. Louie Goble, Democrat.

History of Calistoga. The so-called science of palmistry was known to the early Chinese, in the ancient Greek and Roman times, and popular on the Continent during the Middle Ages.

SOCIAL BUTTERFLIES IN "THE DANGEROUS AGE". You've often heard the phrase "social butterflies" but if you do not know what it means you are not acquainted with "The Dangerous Age".

Every body who has seen "The Dangerous Age" knows that it can be truly done in one of the new comedies. This handsome little star who is only three years old, has stolen her way into the hearts of the ordinary "folks" as the "Moles" the comedy which plays the parts of Friday and Saturday, she has become a picture studio; she decides to become a star and in the film she impersonates such famous people as Chaplin, Lloyd, Pola Negri and others. Alvin Brady is featured in a new picture that has not been released in but a few cities as yet. It is titled, "The Leopards".

"A Delightful Row" My wife had suffered from stomach and liver trouble for many years and had tried medicine enough to stink a ship so when I brought home a bottle of Mayer's Wonderful Remedy on the advice of my employe, she refused to take it. Her liver trouble hadn't helped her disposition but she had a big row, but she took it the next week. Her ailments had all disappeared. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the internal mucus from the bowels and allows the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One will capture it money refunded. For sale by all druggists everywhere.
