Press Believes An Agreement Has Been Reached Whereby Reparations Will Be Reduced; Germany to Get Loan and Assume Allied Indebtedness to U. S.; Rhineland States to Be Created.

LONDON, April 5.—France today sought agreement with Great Britain on reparations question and end of the Ruhr deadlock was in sight.

The French are understood to have made important concessions with a view to reaching the French-British accord.

Louis Loucheur, leading industrialist of France, conferred for two hours with Premier Donar Law at Dawlish. For two days he has been in secret conferences with Stanley Baldwin, prime minister in Donar Law's absence from London. Loucheur also spent last week-end with former Premier Lloyd George.

An important conference in France's Ruhr and reparations policies are believed to have taken place.

Loucheur, a former minister, is an influential envoy, but in view of his tremendous work in France, none could be expected to have authority for his country.

It is reported that Loucheur and Baldwin reached a quasi-agreement regarding compromise of French and British views.

The British press has no details of Loucheur's conversations with Donar Law, Lloyd George and Stanley Baldwin, but believes an agreement between France and the country has been reached on the following basis:

1.—Reduction of reparations to a considerably more modest figure than at present.

2.—Reparations to be devoted largely to rebuilding devastated areas.

3.—Germany to assume the allied indebtedness to the United States and to receive an international loan.

4.—France and the country to accept a buffer, which will be part of the Ruhr, but free from Prussian control.

Loucheur, former secretary to Chamberlain's cabinet, and Donar Law, premier, Thursday night and were conferred at length with Stanley Baldwin, prime minister, and reports that an agreement had been reached were put into circulation.

After one of the most intense campaigns in the history of the city, which ended in a tie vote, the election for Mayor and Commissioners was held yesterday. The election was a close one, with the result being a majority of 4 votes in the mayoralty, and a tie in the commissionership on the Hodgin ticket. The voters were thoroughly and fairly organized and in this respect the campaign was thoroughly and fairly conducted. The result was a tie in the commissionership, which was broken by the casting of a deciding vote by the voters. The result was a tie in the commissionership, which was broken by the casting of a deciding vote by the voters.

There has been much opinion given in the city as to the reasons for the campaign. It is believed that the campaign was so close because of the fact that the voters were so well organized and that the candidates were so well known. The result was a tie in the commissionership, which was broken by the casting of a deciding vote by the voters.

Mr. Hodgins has not expressed his appreciation for the vote given him, but he has expressed his appreciation for the vote given him, but he has expressed his appreciation for the vote given him.

Mr. Leotic's fine race as commissioner S. G. McAuley, who has no record, without affiliation with either party, made a splendid race considering the circumstances. His management of the street department has been questioned, and his personal integrity and veracity.

UTAH SENATOR WAITS SUGAR INVESTIGATION

American Sugar Refiners Accused of Hastening Jump in Price of Sugar to Cause a Lowering of the Tariff by Senator Reed Smoot of Utah; Investigation Urged by Many Statesmen and Others.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The senator from Utah today was charged up to American sugar refiners by Senator Smoot, Utah, one of the framers of the present sugar tariff rates.

"The senator asserted that the refiners have hastened prices in order to secure a reduction in the sugar tariff, to destroy the American sugar industry and to retain profit lost to the shunt in 1922.

Smoot strongly approved an investigation into the cause of the present price of sugar.

"The refiners control the production of sugar in Cuba and the price at which it is sold," Senator Smoot said. "With a lower rate of duty they can destroy the American production and which this is done both the American consumer.

"The present price of sugar is but the carrying out of the program of the sugar refiners. They have a threefold object in view. First, to secure a reduction in the rate of sugar; second, to create a prejudice against American producers with a hope that the American people will demand a reduction in the duty on sugar low enough to destroy the American industry and give them control of every pound of sugar produced in the United States and at a price fixed by them; third, to recoup their lost profits.

"The refiners have the entire profit of 1922 when they reduced the price of Cuban sugar to 1.67 per 100 pounds for the purpose of dealing a death blow to the American industry and give them control of every pound of sugar produced in the United States and at a price fixed by them; third, to recoup their lost profits.

American Individualism A Timely Message to the American People

By HERBERT HOOVER
Secretary of Commerce.

2—PHILOSOPHIC GROUNDS

ON THE philosophic side we can agree that intelligence, character, courage, and the divine spark of the human soul are alone the property of individuals. These do not lie in aggregates, in organizations, in institutions, in masses, or in groups. They abide alone in the individual mind and heart.

Production both of mind and hand rests upon impulses in each individual. These impulses are made of the varied forces of original instincts, motives, and acquired desires. Many of these are destructive and must be eliminated through moral leadership and leadership of law and be eliminated finally by education. All are modified by a vast fund of experience and a vast plant and equipment of civilization which we pass on with increments to each succeeding generation.

The inherited instincts of self-preservation, nepotism, fear, kindness, and the desire for self-expression, for power, for adulation, that we carry over from a thousand generations must, for good or evil, be controlled by a workable system embracing our accumulation of experience and equipment. They may modify themselves with time—but in terms of generations. They offer in their urge upon different individuals, different impulses. But an civilization could be built or can endure solely upon the groundwork of unrestrained and unmitigated selfishness and the protection of the selfish impulses—for this we build for the future.

From the instincts of kindness, pity, and sympathy, and the desire for liberty; the mystic yearnings for spiritual things; the desire for fuller expression of the creative faculties; the impulses of service to community and nation, are molded the ideals of our people. And the most potent force in the life of the individual to attempt to defeat the potency of instinct and ideal, it would be found that while the individual is in the preservation yet the great propelling force of progress is the right ideal. It is true we do not realize the ideal; but we are a single person person that realization. It is therefore not surprising that society, a collection of individuals, cannot realize it. But that it lies in the ideal, that it is a condition for the first thing. Yet to attain this, the day has not arrived when any economic or social system will function and last if founded upon altruistic alone.

With the growth of ideas through education, with the higher realization of freedom of justice, humanity, the selfish impulses become less and less dominant, and if we ever reach the millennium, they will disappear in the aspirations and satisfactions of pure altruism. But for the present generation we are not at that stage of progress as a motive force to leadership and to production, let us die.

The will-o'-the-wisp of all breeds of socialism is that they contemplate a motivation of human animals by altruistic alone. It necessitates a bureaucracy in the entire population, in which, having obliterated the economic situation of each member, the functions of character and ability are to be arranged in relative authority by ballot or more likely by a "managing committee" or a "planning party," or other form of tyranny. The proof of the fallacy of these ideas as a stimulation in the development and activity of the individual does not lie alone in the chaotic failure of Russia, but it also lies in our own failure in attempts at nationalized industries.

Likewise the basic foundation of autocracy, whether it be class government or capitalism in the sense that a few men through unrestricted control of property determine the welfare of great numbers, is as far apart from the rightful expression of American individualism as the will-o'-the-wisp of socialism. The will-o'-the-wisp of autocracy in any form is that it supposes that the good of the whole is a special property of the divine attributes. It contemplates one human animal dealing to the other human animals his job, share of earth, of glory, and of immortality. The proof of the fallacy of these ideas in the development of the world does not lie alone in the grim failure of Germany, but it lies in the damage to our moral and social fabric from those who have sought domination in the America, whether employer or employee.

We in America have had too much experience of life to fool ourselves into pretending that all men are equal in ability, in character, in intelligence, in the ability to deal with the opportunities of the French Revolution. We have grown to understand that all can hope to assure to the individual through government in liberty, justice, intellectual wealth, equality of opportunity, and stimulation to service.

It is in maintenance of a society that these human qualities that our individualism departs from the individualism of Europe. There can be no such thing as the individual through the frozen straits of classes, or of castes, and no stratification can take place in a manhood by the free will of its particles. This standing of our individualism against stratification in its not only in preserving in the world an equal opportunity for the able and ambitious to rise from

CUPID LEADS PRINCESS TO ALTAR

Princess Yolanda of Italy and the man who marries Saturday, April 7. Count Carlo di Bergolo.

Miriam's Maidens. Two girls were giving a concert. Jean sings nicely, but Miriam cannot carry a tune at all. After trying repeatedly to sing the tune, Jean ran to her mother crying. "Mother, we can't have a concert, Miriam just couldn't sing."

Only Brava Deserve the Fair. My youthful lover had to pass the cemetery to come to my home. I found out he hired another fellow to come with him and wait outside, as he was afraid to go by the cemetery alone. It ended my love affair, as every maid loves a brave man.—Chicago Journal.

CAID OF THANKS. We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their sympathy and kindness during the funeral services and at the time of the death of our brother—Mr. W. J. Johnson.

Furthermore, the maintenance of a just and equitable government of the things of the spirit depends upon the ever-renewing will of approved individuals of those who rise to leadership. Our social, economic, and intellectual progress is almost entirely dependent upon the creative minds of those individuals with imaginative and administrative intelligency who create new ideas and discover to widespread application. No man possesses more than a small percentage of these minds in a single generation. But the thought has ever been given to our racial dependency upon them. Not that our progress is to be measured due to the fact that with our increased means of communication these rare individuals are today able to spread their influence so enlarged a number of lesser capable minds as to have increased their potency a hundredfold.

Leadership is a quality of the individual. It is the individual alone who can function in the world of intellect and in the field of leadership. If democracy is to secure its authority in moral, religion, and statecraft, it must stimulate leadership from its own mass. Hence leadership cannot be replenished by selection like queen bees, by divine right or bureau, but by the two poles of ability, character and intelligence. Even so, leadership cannot, no matter how brilliant, carry progress far ahead of the masses, but must be of individual units. Progress of the nation is the sum of progress in its individuals. Acts and ideas that tend to progress are born out of the mind of the individual mind, not out of the mind-of-the-crowd.—The crowd-only feels it but no mind in it which can plan. The crowd is credulous, it destroys, it consumes, it hates, and it does not but it never builds. It is one of the most profound and important of exact psychological truths that man in the mass does not think but only feels. The mob functions only in words and emotion. The despotic feeds on mob emotions and his leadership is the leadership of sentiment and of emotion. The despotic desires no criteria to the real need; they can be determined only by deliberative consideration, by education, by constructive leadership.

How He Cured His Rupture

Old Sam Collins Cured His Own Rupture After Doctors Said "Operate or Die!" He Hemed and Book Sent Free. Captain Collins, called the seas for many years, then sustained a bad double rupture that soon forced him to not only remain ashore but to seek medical attention. He tried doctor after doctor, and trust after trust. No result! Finally, he was assured that he must either submit to a dangerous and abortive operation or die. He did neither. He cured himself instead. Captain Collins made a study of himself, of his condition—and at last he was rewarded by the fruit of the method that so quickly made him a well, strong, vigorous and happy man.

- YOUR WILL POWER

It takes death to enable us to appraise people at their real worth. Sarah Bernhardt has passed into history. With the perspective of only a few days, the thought probably is occurring to many of you, that Sarah Bernhardt the woman was a greater character and even more interesting than Sarah Bernhardt the actress. Years from now her name will be spoken as we today refer to Lotta, Balth and other theatrical stars of the long ago. And at that future date, when young people ask you about the Divine Sarah, the indelible impression that will come to you first will be the way she battled to keep alive.

Time after time, for months, the greatest medical specialists of Europe "gave her up." But Bernhardt fought on. Her refusal to die, her tenacious clinging to life by sheer determination, was a rare example of the power of mind over matter.

Death won the fight—finally. But Sarah Bernhardt heroically held death at bay for weeks. The power of mind over matter is mighty, but death is the ultimate victor over every living thing.

Any one who had followed the career of Sarah Bernhardt knew that she would "die hard." Her will power, as much as her natural genius and her excellent training, made her career a great one. For, in her early years on the stage, she encountered disappointments, money difficulties and failures that would have discouraged most of us to quit.

Bernhardt was 22 before Donat "discovered" her. Real fame began to come by the time she was 25. Her will power had kept her going until her training and talent won recognition. While success came comparatively early, she had been battling since she was a precocious child of 14.

Early in the world war, Bernhardt had an accident, considered slight at the time. Given the choice of having her leg amputated or quitting the stage, she chose amputation.

How many women, with one leg cut off at the knee, would have the courage to appear in public at all, let alone on the stage, where thousands of eyes would be fastened on her as the star?

Will power, by other name is Bernhardt.

From the career of Sarah Bernhardt, we learn two important and helpful things:

- First: The power of mind over matter.
  - Second: Success is due as much (possibly more) to will power as to natural ability, training, education and influence.
- The mightiest force within you is your will power. Do not underestimate it.

MARKETS

GOOD BEING ON CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE TODAY

CHICAGO, April 5.—Good buying developed following a slight decline in grain prices on the board of trade today and the closing was strong. Evidence of increasing export inquiries for wheat, mostly Manitoba and durum, with continued reports of unfavorable crop conditions in the southwest induced buying by local traders. Cables from Australia reported severe drought.

Corn prices held fairly steady, the same export inquiry of the grain. Corn producing companies in Chicago found difficulty in obtaining grain. Reports from portions of Iowa and Illinois stated that elevators were selling grain back to feeders and farmers.

Considerable speculation appeared in May oats, causing the market to show much volatility. Milder weather has allowed farmers to proceed with planting held up by the recent cold spell.

HELP FOR GIRLS WHO WORK

Mrs. Lodie Tells How Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Tyros, Pa.—"A friend told me how Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her wife, so my husband bought me a bottle because I was so run-down, and a nervous weakness, no strength in my body and pains in my left side so bad that I could hardly do my work. Before I was married I used to work in the factory, and had pains just the same then as I have had since I have done my work and I would not be without a bottle in the house now. It has stopped the pains all right and I have found out that it is a wonderful body builder, as it has made me well and strong. It is going to be my old reliable with my husband, and I am always willing to tell other women how it has helped me. You can use this letter as you wish as I can honestly say that my words are true." Mrs. H. LODIE, R. D. No. 4, Box 60, Tyros, Pa.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such ailments as indigestion, constipation, etc.

Attention, Farmers!

We have now about 6000 acres of beets in sight. The price of sugar keeps going higher. We have paid $6.75 per ton for the 1922-23 crop to date. Farmers—do you get at least $1.00 more per ton for the past year's crop which will make $7.00 per ton.

Prospects for the coming year are better than the past year's prices. Why not help us get 70,000 acres by putting a part of your land in sugar beets. We can easily planted beets is the safest April sowing you can plant. The price is sure and there is no other crop we know of that will bring as good returns. Why not take advantage of these good prices this year?

Sugar beets get most of their sugar from the air and potassium to beets given out are easier on land and put land in better condition than any other crop we know of. Stop and figure, it will pay to diversify. Ten acres of sugar beets will pay expense of running your farm.

Mr. Land Owner, did you know that every acre of land planted to sugar beets the past year on the Twin Falls tract brought from $30 to $40 per acre rent?

Who'll Be the Majority-Floor Leader?

The questions of the speakership of the house and the Republican floor leadership in the next congress will be discussed all summer. The fact that Campbell of Kansas, Mondell of Wyoming and Forney of Michigan will not ornament the next house makes these two questions quite interesting.
 The Eastern press seems to think that Speaker Gilbert will be re-elected if the Eastern Republicans don't insist upon having the floor leadership.
 One of the Western candidates for floor leader is William J. Graham of Illinois (formerly Kentucky). He has served three terms. Nicholas Longworth of Ohio is another. He has served nine terms. Sidney Anderson of Minnesota is a third. He has served six terms.
 The prospect of a lively fight among the Republicans delights the frequent press of course. The New York Times, for example, after scoring Graham on general principles goes on to remark:
 "The Anti-Grahamites pretend that Illinois would have too much power if her Mr. Graham should be floor leader in the next house and for Mr. Madden chairman of the Appropriations committee. Nevertheless, power should be in proportion to the intellect that wields it. Besides, Mr. La Follette's little group of Admirators will make the life of the next Republican floor leader miserable. The La Folletteans have a candidate of their own, Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin, but it will be much more fun to carry a floor leader of another faction than to stick to a leader of their own, if they could elect one."

The Paragon Basket Does Away With Wash Day Backaches

Think of the wonderful conveniences of a clothes basket on four sturdy COLLAPSIBLE LEGS, holding the washed clothes well up from the ground within easy reach. No more dust from the dry, ground to sift in and soil the newly cleaned clothes. And, better still, NO MORE BENDING up and down while you are hanging the wash.

Remember also, that the Paragon basket carries no mud or snow back into the house to soil your floors. It stands on its legs, away from all dirt, and the clothes are right at your finger tips.

This Paragon is light, easy to move about, yet it is of remarkably strong construction. It will actually hold more than 200 pounds when standing on its legs.

This basket saves the back in many wash day operations — hanging the wash, taking it down, when you iron your clothes. The legs are collapsible — a slight pull on the levers with the fingers opens the legs and a slight push folds them up. As a baby basket, it can't be beat.

NOTICE!
 A carload of these baskets is now on the way and will arrive in a few days. Place your order for your Automatic as soon as you can and we will deliver it right away. The basket will be delivered as soon as the carload arrives. If you are not sure these baskets are what you need, you may return your basket.

Your Opportunity To Solve Your Wash Day Problems

The buying power of a dollar certainly reaches larger proportions when it will place in your home an Automatic Electric Washer and in addition secure the back-saving Paragon Clothes Basket, which is listed by the manufacturers to sell for $7.50.

Here's the Details of This Wonderful Offer

You place your order for an Automatic Washer and make a deposit of only ONE DOLLAR CASH. We deliver the washer to your home, together with the Paragon Clothes Basket. You get both the washer and basket for the regular price of the washer alone. Next month you pay $5.00 more and $5.00 a month thereafter until the price of the washer has been paid.

The Automatic will more than pay for itself every month, because it will save time, work, clothes and laundry bills.

985 Automatics Sold to Our Customers Last Year.

Nine hundred eighty-five housewives in Idaho became owners of the new copper tub Automatic Washers in 1922. Several hundred more will be using the Automatic before this campaign is over.

This new model is the result of 20 years of experimenting by the manufacturers, and it stands today as the greatest washer value obtainable for the price.
