

SIX YEARS AGO TODAY AMERICA WAS IN THE WAR

Victory Has Not Brought Peace Says General John J. Pershing, Commander of the Expeditionary Forces in France; Today Marks the Sixth Anniversary of Our Entrance Into Greatest of All Wars.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The sixth anniversary of America's entry in the great conflict finds a problem arising out of it, it will be said, the first of which is the question of the United States' attitude toward the world.

"History has not brought peace," he states, "but that no one can force the will of the victor upon the vanquished, despite our hopes for universal tranquility."

The following interview by John J. Pershing, general of the armies of the United States, was given out today.

The sixth anniversary of our entrance into the greatest of all wars, the world's first pathetic war of trained officers and men, and our utterly deplorable condition of unreadiness.

Not nothing daunted, our civil promptly reacted to act as the moment was critical, and modern civilization being in the balance.

It is not only a tremendous and enormously increased cost, but with the world's health, the health of our nation's health, organized and instructed as far as time would permit, and the military sent to European battlefields.

Inspired by the loftiest ideals their virtues and decisive action eventually saved the allies from defeat.

But victory has not brought peace and the world is still in peril. Vital problems growing out of the war in which we participated remain unsolved.

After looking a commensurate position during the war, the situation of the world is not only a tremendous and enormously increased cost, but with the world's health, the health of our nation's health, organized and instructed as far as time would permit, and the military sent to European battlefields.

The moral forces of our country are needed as much today as in 1917. Moreover, in the face of these conditions and our own experience, and although the hope of universal peace lies in every heart, it must be said that no man is wise enough to foresee the future of our world.

MISLEADING DATA GIVE OUT ON MONEY SPENT FOR DEFENSE

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6.—Secretary of War Weeks today charged that misleading information is being broadcast regarding the $1,000,000,000 of money being expended for national defense, the cost of the sixth anniversary of America's entrance into the war to warn the public movements which he believes have for their purpose the undermining of the army and navy.

"These people," Weeks said, "include those forces in America who are preaching revolution and the establishment of a communist government and also those who seem to believe that any army or navy is unnecessary."

"Unfortunately," these elements, who are a very small minority of our people, are supported by considerable bodies of patriotic citizens, men and women, who lacking knowledge and information of the true situation, and apparently unwilling to be governed by the experience of the past are lending themselves to reduce if not destroy the military safeguards of the nation."

RECEIVERS ASKED FOR KU KLUX KLAN LATE PETITION OF CATHOLICS

This Petition is the Latest Development in the Legal Proceedings to See Which Faction Shall Control This Secret Organization; One Side Charges K. K. Fund in Danger.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 6.—A petition demanding that receivers be placed in charge of affairs of the Ku Klux Klan was filed in superior court here today by the Catholic clergymen.

The petition asked that all of the property of the secret society be turned over to the receivers until further "suitable and proper" can be elected to meet the order.

The petition was signed by H. S. Terrell, Z. R. Upchurch, A. E. Wooten and others.

The action was the latest move in the legal fight between rival Klan leaders for control of the order's affairs.

The petition was filed just prior to a hearing of a court hearing to determine whether the Klan should be placed in receivership.

Charges that the K. K. K. is without leadership at present and that the funds of the Klan are in danger, were made the basis for the petition, which alleges that "Emperor" Simmons is not in control of the order, because he retained the office of imperial wizard at the late Klonovalia and charges that Dr. Evans was elected to the office legally.

The imperial Klonovalia, the inner governing body of the Klan, is specifically named as defendant in the petition for receivership.

SPROUTING OATS FOR FOWLS

Essential Where Rosts or Other Green Feeds Are Not Available for Poultry.

Sprouted oats is rather a necessity than a luxury for poultry in winter, particularly if roots or other green feeds are not available. Only the best grade of oats plump and heavy should be used. They should be handled in such a manner as to reach maximum growth quickly. Six quarts of oats are placed in a ten-quart galvanized tin pail which is filled with water of a temperature not over 100 degrees Fahrenheit, to which has been added ten drops of formalin to prevent mold.

The oats are allowed to soak in this water for 48 hours during which they will have absorbed all the water. They are next spread evenly in the trays of the sprouting rack to the thickness of about an inch. The rack is kept in a room the temperature of which is maintained at not less than 60 degrees, and the oats are then turned over every day.

In from seven to ten days, according to the temperature of the room, the sprouts should be from four to six inches in height, which is the right for feeding. By this time the nutrients of the seed will have been exhausted and the sprouts will deteriorate in food value if not fed quickly. The oats will form a fat nearly four times the weight of the original seed. It should be fed in the tray, as it grows, at the rate of one square inch per bird per day. Once a day is enough to feed it. If managed carefully a new tray can be ready every day. A little experience will show how this can be done as it is purely a matter of investment, a certain quantity being prepared daily. For small flocks less than six quarts could be prepared at a time. Over-feeding tends to cause diarrhea. Of course, the sprouts must not be allowed to freeze and it is substantially to be warned. Anyone handy with tools can make a rack in the farm workshop.

FINISH POULTRY FOR MARKET

Plump, Well Fattened Fowl Will Bring More Money and Sell Far More Readily.
No up-to-date farmer would think of marketing his fowls or hogs in a poor condition. He would rather wait until he would mean a loss of money; but on young farms poultry is seldom properly finished before marketing. A plump well finished bird will sell more readily and bring a few cents more per pound, besides being worth more on account of the increase in weight, than a poor scrawny fowl. Moreover, producing finished poultry is a quick business and profits are soon realized.

PICKING OUT BEST PULLETS

Fowl Should Possess Carriage and Appearance of Vigor for Production of Eggs.
A good laying pullet will have the carriage and appearance of vigor that will give production. The pullet should be well grown, with fairly long back, well rounded breast, with good depth of body from the middle of the neck to the center of the keel bone. The keel should be long and carried well forward, and at the same time should extend well backward. The skin should be soft and pliable over the keel and around the abdomen.

PROPER CARE OF DROPPINGS

Mistaken Idea is Think They Will Freeze as Soon as Accumulated in Pile.
It is very natural to think that the cold weather will freeze the droppings as fast as they accumulate, and that, if they do pile up under the nests, it will make little difference. This is wrong, for the droppings never stay frozen very long in a house. A warm pile in winter is very trying on the fowls, which the droppings have been permitted to accumulate too long.

LESSON FOR APRIL 8

ABRAHAM THE HERO OF FAITH

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 22:1-19. VERSE—1:1-19. TEXT—Abraham believed God and it was counted to him for righteousness.—Romans 4:3. REMARKS—MARCH 15.—Romans 4:3-25. ILLUSTRATION—24; 25. PHIMARY TOPIC—Abraham Obeying God.

QUESTION TOPIC—Abraham, the Man Who Trusted God.
REVISIONS—ADULTS AND SENIOR TOPIC—Abraham, the Friend of God.
CHILDREN'S TOPIC—Abraham, the Friend of God.

1. His Call (Genesis 22:1-5).—The hebrew race, as such, had failed, and now we see God's purpose as to the redemption of the race taking shape. Therefore he singles out this lonely man to make him the head of a nation through whom redemption was to come.

2. His Separation (v. 13).—He was called to go out of his own country; to separate from his kindred and from an unknown land. There were all very dear to his heart but they were to be given up that Abraham might have God and be the father of all the faithful. Abraham was living among idolaters; therefore, he must separate himself from his kindred and be a lonely hermit for he was idolater. Following God costs much that is dear and precious in our eyes. To attain our highest good we must give up all life many things which are precious to the carnal nature must be sacrificed.

3. God's Gracious Promise to Him (vv. 2-3). (1) "I will make of thee a great nation." This was fulfilled in a natural way in a great posterity (vv. 13-16) and in a spiritual sense. See John 8:38, Galatians 3:16-17. (2) "I will bless thee." God has wonderfully blessed Abraham in a natural and spiritual way and all greater realization of this promise is to come to Abraham's seed. (3) "I will be a great." Abraham was called the friend of God, James 2:23. Abraham is a universal name; (4) "Thou shalt be a blessing." World blessing has come to the world through Abraham and all greater blessing will be realized. (5) "I will bless thee that thou shalt be the father of the earth be blessed." This is the all-comprehensive promise of God because it is a natural way in a great posterity. (6) "I will be a blessing." This is the all-comprehensive promise of God because it is a natural way in a great posterity. (7) "I will be a blessing." This is the all-comprehensive promise of God because it is a natural way in a great posterity.

4. His Obedience (vv. 6-10).—He never settled down anywhere even in the land of promise. He was a true pilgrim. He was content to pass through the land because his eyes were fixed on a city which had foundations, whose builder and maker was God. This is the world as though he was going to make his home. He lives in the world but is not of it. His citizenship is in Heaven.

5. Abraham's Testing (11:17-19).
1. At the Command of God He Offered Isaac, His only Son. (12) "God led us into an unknown country we were simple in our preparation to laying his son on the altar of God." This is the way in which he obeyed God in going out from his country and kindred was not to pass through the supreme test.
2. The Promise of blessing was Wrapped Up in Isaac. (v. 18). It was not a promise which would take any descendant of Abraham but Isaac, the child of the promise, dark and the commandment with the promise, but faith does not consider difficulties.

3. The Supreme Venture (v. 19). Abraham so completely trusted God that he was willing to go all the way with Him, being assured that God would even raise him up from the dead, in order to make good his promises.
Hope.
Hope is a pleasant acquaintance, but an unsteady friend; not the man for your banker, though he may be for your traveling companion.—Hilbertson.
Answer, Knock at Your Door.
Have your visitors of God, but do never of your Jesus to answer the men who knock at your door.—F. B. Meyer.
Ingratitude.
Birds leave ingratitude to man.—Colton.

Glaze Butter to Preserve It.
A singular method of preserving rolls of butter from deterioration due to outside influences is said to be practiced in France. It consists in coating the butter with a glaze of melted sugar, laid with a soft brush. The surface of the butter is slightly melted and the protective varnish is formed. The process has also been introduced on a large scale in England.

W. J. BOXING COMMISSION HAS KILBANE WILSON CASE

Johnny Kilbano and Johnny Wilson Expected to Get O. K. of Boxing Commission Soon Both Are Past Fighters and Will Make Good Match; Dempsey-Gilbons Are Paced by Commission.

BY HENRY L. FAIRHELL
 NEW YORK, April 6.—News that the New York boxing commission has turned back and voided a summary denial for Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gilbons is understood to mean that the commission will turn lenient for Johnny Wilson and Johnny Kilbano.

The case of Kilbano, who is barred from boxing in New York, certainly demands a change of heart of the commission for several reasons. Kilbano is leniently inclined in declaring that the New York commission had no jurisdiction over him and had no right to suspend him when he had never asked for a fight in this state. If Kilbano should go to court, the commission might be required to appear in court.

Three Recruit Players Are Certain to Be Retained by New York Yankees

Of the need of youngsters taken south by the New York Yankees, but rather play with the stick. Tucker, a left handed batsman, can see his floor, but has much to learn as a hitter.

If Haines would hit like Tucker and Tucker could field like Haines both would win regular berths in the outfield.

Hainegon, with Buffalo last year, will be retained as their spring catcher. He is a great promise.

Idaho Falls Will Debate Here Tonight

This evening the Twin Falls and Idaho Falls debate teams clash in the high school auditorium for the annual tripartite debate. The Blue and White speakers will uphold the collection of the allied debts to the United States and the Idaho Falls debaters will speak in favor of the canceling of the debts. While they are debating here the Idaho Falls and Idaho teams will be working at Idaho Falls and Twin Falls affirmative and Idaho negative meet at the capital city.

Should the war debts be canceled? This evening the people of Twin Falls are invited to hear the local debate team which has been very successful in the first debate with Coosawato in which Twin Falls won all of the six decisions. The negative speakers for Twin Falls will be local residents, are, in order: Alfred Dean, Marshall Somerville and Edmund Decker. The affirmative team left yesterday for Idaho.

A Changing World

"We are living in a changing world, I never thought I could ever be cured of my stomach trouble. Medical science seemed unable to help me. But thank God we are progressing and now Mary Wondarick's remedy has delivered me from all stomach symptoms. I am again able to eat and sleep. It is a splendid, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhs from the stomach, kills germs and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At druggists everywhere."

Travels of French Explorer

Delmont, the early French explorer, and his band of pioneers called Pannamassou Bay in June, 1804, and named the first European settlement north of Florida. He landed on a small island in St. Croix river 20 miles from Moose Island (now Esplanade). He did not make a landing on the latter land, for the first house built by a white man was in 1771, when William Ricker settled on Moose Island.

JACK DAW IN TOYLAND

As soon as the train stopped the little wooden soldiers formed in a line and the guard stepped to the front of the engine and shouted the captain of the soldiers. And after much cheering, the queen bowed and looked up at Jack. Then she asked, "Who are you? You've never seen you before."

Jack smiled and explained that he was a visitor in a queen's dream. He had been in the dream of Toyland. There a little train of black horses were hitched to the queen's carriage and he was in the toll house was started. (Continued)

KISMET—APRIL 6

Six years ago this April 6, the United States declared war on Germany. We were told you with a lot of cheap articles about what our country did in the war—such things as statistics and the force we exerted in swindling the Germans. These things, you already know, O. T. to be more precise, each of us has his individual opinion.

On this April 6, your thoughts swing out and contemplate the world as the war left it—Europe, in particular. Things still are messed up badly. But they're steadily getting untangled. Europe is returning to hard work—increasing production. The people over there, dazed and psychologically nervous, are nevertheless learning their lesson, that you don't pay. Truth comes slowly. But it comes, in time. Compared with a year ago, Europe is emphatically in better condition. Her politicians still are eating fire. Time will remedy that also—restore sane leadership.

We have been expecting too much of Europe. Any one who knows history, realizes that it takes years—generations—for people to settle down after a big war. America hasn't totally recovered yet from the Civil war.

Any old-timer, particularly in the southern states, will tell you that the suffering, confusion and bitterness that resulted from the Civil war lasted for years and years. On a smaller scale, we went through what Europe is going through today and will for years to come.

So don't become discouraged when Europe has a natural receding periodically. Things are moving in the right direction over there—and a lot faster than public affairs lunatics tell us.

It takes longer to rebuild a house than to tear it down. As for America today, you'd hardly know we entered the war, except when you go out to buy something or when the tax man calls. Several millions still feel the war keenly, but viewing the nation in a broad way we have practically "recovered." This is demonstrated in the fact that the war is virtually eliminated from our minds. How many days out of a month does our part in the war pop up to your attention? And even then, how many minutes until you brush it aside?

On April 6, 1917, our congress took action that shaped the whole world's future for centuries to come. That day was a turning of the tide, one of the most gigantic dates in history. We are drifting too close to it to realize. The world came to a fork in the road. It turned to the right—and is going ahead steadily. Post-war troubles will diminish as the years roll on.

THE REAL YOU

Some of us have our outside in our souls instead of in our voices. Says David Gibson, dean of business writers. So, in the last analysis, we're all great singers. All we lack is the power of expression—a certain mechanical arrangement of flesh in the throat.

The real you is revealed in what you like and appreciate, rather than what you can do. We're all singers, we're all dancers, we're all actors. Maybe we cannot paint a picture. But our souls have the artistic sense—the desire to paint, also appreciation of art when we view it at the museum. Flattering to the vanity, but true.

All of us are inwardly clever, artistic, shrewd, wise and good. But only a few of us can express what we feel. The rest "can't get it out." It's like a cork in a bottle.

You are reminded of this when a friend, with a voice like filling a saw, tries to convey to you a melody he has heard and which he is carrying in his soul. He has the message, all right, but he can't get it across.

Wisdom resides in every soul. So-called knowledge and education merely are spades with which we uncover our hidden wisdom. The uncovering, we call "developing." But the real power is there all the time, latent, dormant; otherwise there wouldn't be anything to develop.

We all have evil streaks in our make-up. The people we call good are the ones with the ability to keep their evil nature suppressed—locked up. Others haven't yet found the key, so the evil runs at large.

Good lies buried, dormant, in our make-up, same as evil. It also has to be uncovered (developed). A more difficult job in some cases than others.

Often it takes a heavy blow—sorrow or misfortune—to bring out our better selves, our finer emotions. And sometimes the same sorrow or misfortune sets loose the evil nature instead of the good. The qualities, good or bad, were there all the time waiting to be brought forth.

Theoretically you may disagree with some of this reasoning. But you cannot disagree with the great truth lurking in the background. That truth is this: In the make-up of every living human, there is the buried tremendous power and marvelous ability. To bring this out is the problem of life, of success, of happiness, of destiny.

The Real You is a vast storehouse of treasures, waiting to be opened.

Attention, Farmers!

We have now about 8000 acres of beets in sight. The price of sugar beets is going higher and is now $3.75 per ton for the 1922-23 crop to date.

Prospects for the coming year are better than the past year's prices. Why not help us get 10,000 acres by putting a part of your land in sugar beets?

Sugar beets get most of their sugar from the air and contrary to popular opinion are easier on land and put land in better condition than any other crop we know of.

Mr. Land Owner, did you know that every acre of land planted to sugar beets the past year on the Twin Falls tract brought from $30 to $40 per acre rent?

and at the end of the year stood at $1,558,852.37. The mortality increased somewhat as compared with the previous year, and the total amount of claims paid was $55,376. This was a record for one claim paid every 24 seconds of each business hour of eight hours, or just about 1000 a day during the year, including Sundays and holidays. The amount paid to policyholders averaged $50.81 a minute of each business day.

Along with this great increase on the business side, the welfare work done by the company, in behalf of the health of its industrial policyholders, kept pace. Metropolitan has made more than two million free visits to sick industrial policyholders, bringing the total number made since this service was inaugurated to over sixteen million. The company has distributed altogether one hundred and seventy-two million booklets and pamphlets giving hints on hygiene and prevention of illness and this, in cooperation with the general activities which are widening each year on the part of all official and semi-official health organizations, has resulted in extending the life expectancy of industrial policyholders by eight and one-half years since 1911.

A Trip of a Thousand Thrills

Electrification of St. Gotthard Abolishes Smoke Nuisance, Gives Fullest Vision of Scenic Beauties and Makes Longest Tunnels a Delight.

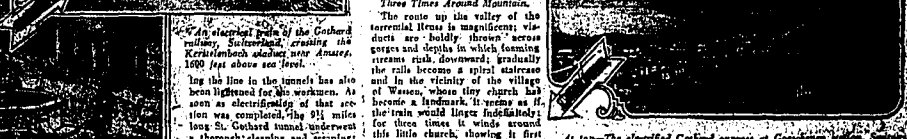

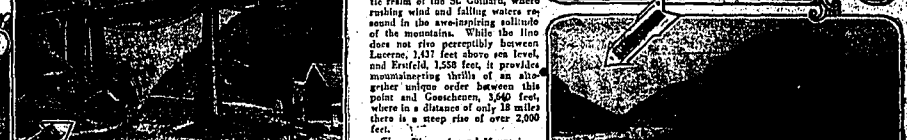

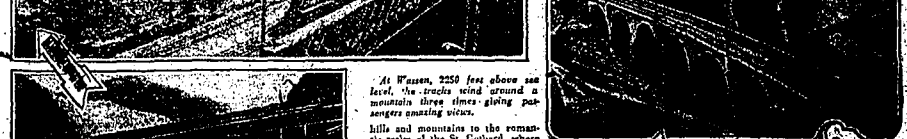

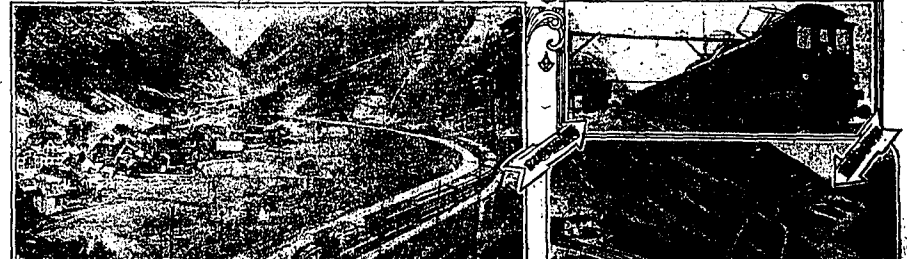

NOTHING new under the sun? The grandeur and majesty of the Alps are as old as the Alps themselves, but the opportunity to see that grandeur and majesty in peace and the fullest of vision is new—for not until the Lucerne-Chiasso section of the world famous St. Gotthard line was electrified could the smoke nuisance be abolished and freedom of sight granted. The electrification is for a distance of 137 1/2 miles. This gigantic project has just been completed. It ranks among the engineering marvels of the world.

Two huge power stations, one at Amsteg, near the northern entrance to the St. Gotthard tunnel, and the other at Biotta, about five miles beyond the southern entrance, supply energy. Amsteg is used during the summer, when the Reuss supplies the water. Biotta is available in winter. This latter plant utilizes the accumulated water of Lake Ritom, 6,000 feet above sea level and about 2,950 feet above Biotta. The natural depth of the lake has been increased by a 23 foot dam and the conduit draws off the water 100 feet below the dam crest. The available storage capacity is estimated at about 900,000,000 cubic feet.

History of St. Gotthard Line. The railway was introduced in Switzerland in 1844 with the construction of the Basel-St. Ludwig line connecting with the Jura line. By 1868 there were 621 miles of normal gauge lines in use and in 1869 the Federal authorities decided for a railway through the St. Gotthard, which involved the boring of what was then the longest tunnel in the world, slightly more than 1 1/2 miles.

Work on this gigantic undertaking which was begun in 1873 and ten years later the line was formally inaugurated. The line was generally recognized as an epoch-making achievement and it immediately took its place as one of the great arteries of European steam traffic.

With the passing of years and the increasing demands of the electric age, it was realized that transforming the system to electric traffic was the only way to meet the increasing demands of the electric age. Final plans for the electrification were passed in August, 1913, a year before the outbreak of the great war which actually interrupted the work. It was not until the year 1920 that the electrification was actually completed.

At Wasser, 2250 feet above sea level, the tracks wind around a mountain three times giving passengers amazing views. The hills and mountains in the romantic realm of the St. Gotthard, where rushing wind and falling waters resound in the awe-inspiring tallness of the mountains. While the line does not rise perceptibly between Lucerne, 1431 feet above sea level, and Erstfeld, 1550 feet, it provides moonlighting shells of an altogether unique order between the point and Goschenen, 3640 feet, where in a distance of only 18 miles there is a steep rise of over 2,000 feet.

Each emergence into daylight presents a new aspect of this romantic region and the travelers are ever during from one site of the carriage to the other. Many repeat this trip to the thousandth time.

USE THE TRENCH FOR IRRIGATION

Scheme Conserves Water and Labor—Best Way to Reach Roots of Plants.

The proper amount of moisture is almost as essential as enough warm sunlight, to produce a good garden crop. Too much moisture is worse than too much sunshine, for the latter case the soil can be loosened, conserving what moisture the ground holds.

When the season is long and hot, with very little rainfall, the cottage gardener, if thoroughly interested, takes advantage of almost every opportunity to play the loss on his growing crop, thinking of course that he is doing just the right thing, perhaps even using plants or devices to stop up a hole in the water supply.

The ditch irrigation plan will be found most beneficial and interesting, if used as it is in sections where it is the only way—a series of ditches along each row or a small group of rows, then when the watering is being done, trap the stream through one ditch in the other, until the entire garden is given a good watering.

During a long drought, even a week will suffice when the ditch watering plan is used. The ditch may be kept each time after irrigating, or it may be left open. By closing the water is practically sealed in and naturally

Popular Girl Gains 23 Pounds On Tanlac

Had Fallen Off to Only 97 Pounds. Because of indigestion; Feels Spicendic Now.

"When I began taking Tanlac my weight was down to 97 pounds and I was sick until discouragement; but I now weigh 120 pounds and feel a lot of pleasure in eating. I have lost this wonderful medicine." This is the recent statement of Miss Kathleen McIntosh, a popular girl of 27 E. 7th St. N., Portland, Oregon.

It was indigestion for me to get a good night's sleep. My condition just kept getting worse, and it didn't seem any time at all that I fell from one hundred and fifteen pounds to ninety-seven, and was so dreadfully run-down I just didn't know what to do. "Mother insisted that I try the Tanlac treatment, and since the time I finished my first bottle I have never been bothered, with the heartburn or sourness. My digestion is now perfect, and I can eat the richest kind of food, things that I didn't dare touch before, and I never have a minute's trouble afterwards from the pain or constipation. I can sleep so soundly now that it would take a big noise to wake me up, and I always feel strong and well. The Tanlac treatment has certainly done me a world of good, and I gladly recommend it." Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 35-million bottles sold.

RAILROAD MEN WILL BE HERE FOR MEETING

Short Notice Renders Large Reception Impossible but Representatives of Various Bodies Will Be There; Great Public Interest in the Visit.

Arrangements were made today by the Chamber of Commerce to entertain Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the board of directors of the Union Pacific system, President Carl H. Gray and the other officials of that system and of the Oregon Short Line mentioned in the press statements. The train is scheduled to arrive here at 6 o'clock but is reported to be losing time. The party will leave at 10:30 tonight.

Owing to the shortness of time was deemed impossible to make arrangements for a large general meeting. Hence a banquet was arranged at the Hagerston hotel to begin immediately after the arrival of the party in this city. Those present will be the members of the board of directors and the members of the railroad bureau of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce; the railroad delegates from the Butte and Klamath clubs, directors of American Union district; Mayor J. B. Tucker, Joseph E. Blad, J. H. Hagen, and William M. Lambdin, who made such a close race for the position of mayor last Tuesday.

A delegation consisting of President Arthur E. Swain, of the Chamber of Commerce, Chairman F. W. Dunke, of the railroad bureau, E. F. Gray of Cottrell and Senator Martin J. Skene of this city will meet the railroad men on their arrival.

The Big Question Everybody is asking "What About the roadmen?" Of course, it is a question that opinions must be expressed. Those who think that the

BIG DISTRICT LAW IS MINUTE —IN ITS DETAIL

Every Step Must Conform to Provisions of Statutes, Local Commissioners Follows Effort to Get Back into the Weir.

Details regarding the construction of the American Falls dam which were looked over at the meeting this week are exceedingly intricate, according to Secretary W. F. Alworth, who is back from the meeting on the 2nd and who came in today to consider the admission of officers in the Springfield-Aberdeen district which were sent out and was sent to get back. The board in its meeting this afternoon in the first place, the beginning of the description has to start in a certain way and every detail has to conform to the state statutes. Then it has to be examined to see if it conforms with the federal statutes, and finally it must be sent to Washington to find out if there is any conflict between the statutes of the state and the nation, and if so whether either is a merely directory.

Great care was taken in drafting the laws under which it is necessary to proceed. The sections which are under construction today are positioned to get out of the big district after its formation. They were allowed to go. Then when the situation was called they tried to vote and it was pointed out by the fact that they had no votes outside. Then they petitioned to get back, which made it necessary for them to call an election and advertise the same four weeks. This period is now elapsed, it is understood that there has been objection to their return placed on it. Had there been objection filed it would have been necessary to either re-petition to come in, or to call another election for the big district, including their land.

No Objection Filed It was stated in 3:15 this afternoon that no objection had been noted to elimination of the Springfield-Aberdeen application and there was no objection in their admission though formal action had not been taken.

SMITHS SEEK TO STOP MEAT MARKET FROM INSTALLING PLANT

City, Ind.—Unless the Cincinnati Reds will give him more than $100,000 salary, Eddie Housh will quit when they outlay baseball, he said today. Word from Cincinnati said that the Red officials would not meet his demands.

Wayward Dog—Paulie: Once upon a time we asked an automobile bug what made him jump when he walked and in did not reply that one of his cylinders was not firing.—Arkansas Thomas Cat.

SMITHS SEEK TO STOP MEAT MARKET FROM INSTALLING PLANT

C. M. Smith and Nancy M. Smith last evening filed suit asking $2000 damages from F. W. Dunke for alleged injury to the building at 125 Main avenue north, through the construction of a balcony which they asserted is too heavy and will injure the property. They also asked that the balcony be removed and Jacob Shearer be enjoined from permitting the installation of the U. S. Meat market in part of the building. Two weeks ago, the city commission was asked to issue a permit for the changes made, but on reading of the report of Burton E. Moore, architect, that the balcony was entirely new, no action was taken.

If the mountain won't come to Mohamed, Mohamed will go to the mountain.

Too many people who need glasses put off getting them with the excuse that they can't afford them. Now, these people ought to have glasses or their eyes will get worse and since our mission in this world is to correct defective eyesight and remove eyestrain it doesn't seem right to look on and allow these conditions to exist.

We would that we were in a position to bring the first remedy about, but we are sure, with the wonderful prospects that this tract has, it will not be long before property will be with us again. But in the meantime we can—and will—bring for the balance of this month, make prices on optical work so low that there will be no excuse for anyone to neglect their eyes.

One word more before we quote prices—Please do not think that because the price is reduced that we will cut down the quality of our optical work, for the past three years we have worked hard to establish a reputation for the highest class optical service in the city of Twin Falls, that we have accomplished it is evident by the hundreds of testimonials we have on file from satisfied patients, to which any one who is interested, has access. We mean to keep up our hard earned reputation at all cost, and we make this sweeping guarantee that we give one year's care and guarantee of satisfaction, irrespective of price. And now with the above explanation we trust that you will take advantage of the following wonderful offers—

—Kryptok Glasses—

All shell, gold filled, or rimless frames (these are the invisible one-piece bifocal glasses without seam or hump far and near in one lens) $17.50
Visible bifocals, any frame $12.50
Toric lenses, any correction to fit your eyes, in finest either rimless shell covered, or heavy gold filled frame (spectacles or eyeglasses) $10.00
Reading glasses with large-periscope lenses, including case, etc. $ 8.50
Aluminum frames $ 7.00
Gold filled frame $ 7.00

This is not a gag or a stunt but an honest-to-goodness effort to bring the price down so that you will not put off having your eyes taken care of, but do it now!

Just as a courtesy if it is possible for you to make an appointment we will appreciate it—our phone number is 1256-J. Dr. Davis will personally examine every case.
