Mrs. J. W. Wheeling—Society Editor—Phone 1339.

National "Garden Week" is an all-around affair, and every club has a distinct part to play in making the week a happy one.

A program has been so prepared that every club, regardless of geographical location and climatic conditions, can present something to cover a twelve-day period.

It is said that the thinking of one generation influences the next, and the next generation. A few years of intensive garden activity, especially with the school children, will result in a better understanding of America's Garden National of the World.

We are depending on you as a club organization to plan for the observance of National Garden week, April 22-28, and to let us know what you are doing. Your name, every club responding and its plans will be published.

Don't fail to have a part in this great and patriotic work.—Shirley K. Sherman.

Community Service Department
The Community Service department of the Twentieth Century Club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. H. W. Clapp, president, who read a very interesting paper on our naturalization laws. This department is the only one that will continue to meet during the year.

M. & N. Club—Members of the M. & N. Club, Mrs. Fred Thompson, Mrs. Mark Jamison, meeting, after the close of their year, were elected to the board: Mrs. Fred Thompson, vice-president; Mrs. Clark Bowditch, secretary; Mrs. Mark Jamison, treasurer; Mrs. Walter Purcell, chairman of the social committee; reports: Mrs. C. W. Griggs; delegates to Rural Federation; Mrs. A. J. Requa and Mrs. Hamilton.

Wednesday Bridge Club—Mrs. Charles Macaulay entertained for the weekly meeting at her home. High score was won by Mrs. H. L. Spafford and second high by Mrs. L. Wright.

Informal Reception for Mrs. Manning—Music lovers of the city have been invited to meet Mrs. Manning at her home Saturday evening. Guests given by Mrs. C. A. Ennes, Mrs. H. G. West and Mrs. I. H. Masters at the time of the reception were Mrs. Jessie Day and Mrs. D. C. Gristoff. To honor the occasion of five and a half years of service to the city, Mrs. Kennedy Packard,

Community Spirit
A healthy citizenry is the greatest insurance against business depression. A keen realization on the part of business men that real-estate development must precede city growth, that real-estate investment is a good investment, is important to insure the strength permanently to your population to sell him a home or an investment in real estate, all help the home. Bankers should co-operate with the real estate men, and especially the loan men, in advertising the loan market, in advertising all available capital into enterprises that would build up and develop the city instead of penalizing this market by lending large amounts of money to those who need add prospectus to sign other city at the expense of their own.

Antique Oil Lamp Final Shot.
For three long years I have kept, fattened on the cattle of the Artisan plains, plain one ranch alone, in one year, he sold 50 fine white-faced yearlings. A government hunter, a man named Johnson, shot him down with a single shot from a rifle with the roar eight missing. The wolf weighed 75 pounds after the skin from shoulders to head was removed, and was the largest ever seen on the range. He was a great hunting trophy, over thousand dollars in stock alone.—Scientific American.

Business Cycles Committee Reports Expansion Period Is Proper Time To Guard Against Pitfalls of Depression

Mrs. H. W. Chouchek and Mrs. C. J. Schreder.

Harmony Club—Mrs. J. A. Campbell was hostess for the Harmony club last night. The October fund-raising covers were laid for twelve. In the bridge games following luncheon high scores was won by Mrs. A. E. Miller, Mrs. A. Alexander was a club guest.

It is said that the thinking of one generation influences the next, and the next generation. A few years of intensive garden activity, especially with the school children, will result in a better understanding of America's Garden National of the World.

Paint and Morals-Related
Undoubted Psychological Effect on the Morals of Community That Encourages Unethical Practices.

The close relation between paint and mud was emphasized at the thirty-fifth annual convention of the National Paint and Varnish Association. That freshly painted houses stimulated their occupants to buy more paint, and that more paint was demanded by W. T. Scott, St. Louis, executive secretary of the finance and audit committee of the association who had run conducted "clean-up" programs in 7,000 cities of the United States.

"The psychological effect of a freshly painted house upon the occupants is the same as that created by wearing a new suit of clothes. Painting a house gives the occupant the feeling of the occupants but increases the property value as well," he said. "The time will come when unsightly frame dwellings of the type that are so frequent in the country will be a thing of the past. Results of the beneficial results of the work we are doing have spread to such far flung points as China and Japan and we have had inquiries from these countries as to what we are doing."

Handy Incinerator.
An incinerator in which to burn refuse, which is to be used in heating the dinner of fire and prevents burning papers from being powdered by the wind. When it is full it is carried away from the building and disposed of.

A piece of small mesh chicken wire about three feet and ten feet long will do for the cylinder part, reinforced by pieces of heavy wire lashed in the top and bottom and four wire loops made in the middle. These pieces form a square which forms the top and bottom and may be fastened to heavy wire staples and the bottom fastened to the cylinder all around.

Atmospheric Thermometer
An English fisherman found the usual way to receive the letters of a distant farmhouse demolished by the storm and suddenly turned a salutary side to the weather. It was to stand on resounding mountain peaks, and to stand in the valley without the companionship of light.—Joseph S. Auerbach.

The Blister.
Men that never hold the Bible in extreme—"which," as Martin Luther so truly said, "if everything else in our language should perish, would alone suffice to make our existence possible."—will not be content to be in the valley without the companionship of light.—Joseph S. Auerbach.

Protective Liner.
A protective liner from rain, fire, insects, etc., for the protection of furniture.

Persons will resort to trees on tops of houses during the coldest frosty night, and will never, if possible, let themselves be confined in a house.

HERBERT HOOVER

OWEN D. YOUNG

This time to guard against the recurrence of a business depression like that which threw 4,000,000 men out of work, the nation must be alert. During last such period of business expansion as the country's new experiences, according to the report of the committee on Unemployment and Business Cycles appointed by Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, in its report on the Chairman of the President's Conference on Unemployment.

General measures recommended to aid the business man in safeguarding himself from inflation are: control of credit by banks and the Federal Reserve system; control of private construction; competition with private business during boom times by control of reserve funds.

The committee's report asks for his particular commodity line to be increased by the government authorities with the exception of the Survey of Current Business, issued by the Department of Commerce, and the Bureau of the Census, which are to be made public in the matter of furnishing information to the public and to credit institutions.

Besides the Chairman, the Investigative individual, Joseph T. DeFazio, of the United States Chamber of Commerce; Mary Van Kleeck, of the Russell Sage Foundation; the Amherst, Mass., Foundation of the American Federation of Labor; Clarence M. Wesley, president of the American Arbitrator Committee; and Edward F. H. Jackson, Secretary of the American Conference on Unemployment. Economic experts are asked to give their views on ways to take for future for the pocketbooks of every citizen of the United States.

Results of an exhaustive study,

the committee headed by

Owen D. Young, president of the General Electric Company, has recommended that business men increase their individual business companies as much as possible to the state of society and demand in the first place to increase the number of unemployed.

The action of the city commission in passing the resolution offered by Commissioner S. G. McAdoo of the street department for a general clean-up day next Wednesday is commendable. The town is comparatively clean, but there are odds and ends that need looking after, debris here and there that should be gotten out of the way, and a little general "primping" that should be done. Twin Falls ought to be made the cleanest town in Idaho, and by united effort of its citizens it can be made so.

Tomorrow and Saturday are Library days in Twin Falls and everyone is urged to contribute one or more books to the public library of this city. No greater contribution can be made to the upbuilding of this community than to give a good book to the library and have same circulated throughout this community through the years to come. The potent influence of that book and the inspiration which it will afford will live long in the lives of the young and old of this part of Idaho and while your contribution may be forgotten the good influences will live and spread for generations to come.

One of the important tests, to put to a candidate for city or county office is: "Does he play square with his friends and keep his pledges?" Does he make pledges to get elected on and then break them as his wishes demand. The fact that a man is a member of a certain organization of high standing in the community does not mean he measures up to that standard. Men can be measured by years of study and observation on the part of their neighbors better than by platform promises and the agitation on the part of a number of political agitators who seek to elect some one because of friendship, affiliation or some other notion that may have entered their head and caused them to become enthused for their particular candidate.

Public Works Program for Unemployed

WASHINGTON—Members of Congress who have studied business depression in the United States and attendant unemployment problems, and the federal government's efforts to take the initiative in the formation of a public works program to meet unemployment emergencies, are preparing to get behind legislation in the next session to meet this situation.

The present conference on unemployment problems that is going on recommended that federal, state, and municipal governments seek to expand public works during periods of financial depression. This was followed by the formation of a committee which after offering some measure of relief, no permanent action was taken; however, now a bill has been introduced as the result of action by an organization of public spirited citizens, headed by George F. Peabody, of New York, who, along with the formation of a comprehensive program of public works to guard against future cyclical periods of business depression and unemployment.

This organization formed to uplift this legislation, is known as the National Unemployment League, and its proposed legislation was introduced last night by Senator Franklin D. Roosevelt (D., N.Y.), and Senator John W. Hausermann (D., Minn.), before a bill for creation of a commission to lay the foundation for a policy of expansion of public works in time of depression.

Pending this legislation, while it is being considered in the next conference, Representative Martin B. Matson (Rep., Ill.), chairman of the appropriations committee, is already engaged in working out a scheme for an extensive public works program already authorized, with a view to helping the unemployed situation.

The bill calls for an "investigation of the needs of the nation for public works to be carried on by federal, state and municipal agencies in periods of business depression and unemployment."

Now a bill has been introduced as

Pays $100 for Harem of Six Beauties

PANAMA, N.J.—Frank Manusas of Homestead was his way to work in a factory on a cold morning. An affable stranger took a seat beside him:

"My friend," he said, "I am a world traveler and have just returned from Turkey. I have been traveling around the world for many years. Before you, you see, two of them," and he indicated two pretty and stylish women across the car. The stranger went on:

"I am going West on business. We are going to my harem. That is to say, we are sure they will be in kind and loving hands."

By this time Manusas' eyes were popping and his heart palpitating. "I hate to part with my wife," he said, "but I must. I am leaving for the Orient. I am a kind man and I will let you have them for $100—all six of them."

Manusas had just that sum in his pocket. He had the change ready. The stranger reached into his coat and handed him $100. An hour later he stood weeping in the Homestead police station. No. 45 Hill Street, Homestead, was a large vacant lot.

"It's all right," comforted the police captain. "It might have been worse. The same guy had a trolley car last week to a fellow who works in the laundry shop up there."

"Oh there you will find a well-

PRICES DROP AFTER HEAVY BUYING ON BOARD OF TRADE

CHICAGO, April 12.—Heavy profit-taking caused a recession in prices of the board on the Chicago Board of Trade today.

Considerable selling developed in wheat, corn, cotton and sugar, but the market was still firm. The market in large and medium size meal sold to be received over the wheat belt, bales 50 lb. fell over parts of Kansas where the wheat crop was said to be poor.

Trading in corn was dull. Country offerings in Spanish and Mexican corn were the highest in price. Corn and beans were the most popular.

Wheat was offered developed in oats, despite a small profit advance, very higher.

DEMPSEY WILL FIGHT ANYONE ANYTIME SAYS WORLD CHAMP

LOS ANGELES. April 12—The entry into the coal mining business did not stop Jack Dempsey from the fight game, he is concerned, Jack Dempsey declared here today.

Dempsey arrived in Los Angeles from New York last night.

"I am ready to defend my title at any time," he announced. "I am not afraid to fight. I might be forced to do so, but I am not afraid."

His next fight, he said, is with ridiculous black in the smoke," whatever that means.

His son, Jack Stevens, his manager, he said, would go to New York to witness the "bulk" fund fights there.

Demps' arrival coincided with his departure for his new home.

Dempsey explained he had bought 800 acres of coal and other land in Carbon county, Utah, and that a mining company had been organized.

City would be built on the property.

BOWLING LEAGUE CLOSES TONIGHT TROY TEAM WINS

Rendahl-Wright Bowlers Win Two of Three Games from Rogerson-Cafe Team; Troy Laundry Takes First Two Games from Alvord and Mott Quintet.

Troy Laundry Team Stands at the Head of the List with 27 Games Won and 13 Lost.

The final games in the Twin Falls bowling league will be staged tonight at the Twin Falls bowling alleys. The champion for this place already has been determined, however. Dry has this crown tucked away under their belts and are smiling along with the rest of the league. Their record stands at 16 wins and 11 losses. The team which comes closest to doing the same thing is the Shire Market, who stand at second place, but the close figures make it difficult to determine the champion.

On the other hand, if the J. E. Stee Team wins all three of its games tonight it will be the third place team.

Only two of its games it will need for third place, in most any event these very likely to be a run off between the teams for second and third places.

The last night open for the J. E. Stee rollers against Wright, Larson, and Dry, will be the third one to the Dry boys by the score of 524 to 518. Both teams did some bad howling but the scoring was not as high as 122.

The first of the double header last night was won by the Rendahl-Wright team, who beat the Alvord and Mott team, and the second, the third one to the Rogerson-Cafe boys by the score of 524 to 518. Both teams did some bad howling but the scoring was not as high as 122.

Indianapolis, Indiana.—"Now I want to tell you that what induced me to take your medicine. It seemed that I had a nervous breakdown and I was so bad that so no one could carry a child its full term. I was so bad that at one time I was troubled with a nervous breakdown and I was about to wreck. The doctor thought that would not be good for me to have a nervous breakdown again, so I decided I would never be well and strong again. But I told them I was going to get well, that I was not going to let the disease get the best of me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took six bottles of it, and I am now a healthy woman. My children have recommended the Vegetable Compound ever since, and if you see me now, you will know why I am so well. I am now a healthy woman. Mrs. Mary F. Henricks, 224 Detroit St., Indianapolis, Ind.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general tonic effect upon the entire reproductive system, so that it may work in every respect effectively as nature intends.

Case Against Connor Dismissed by Court on Motion of State

The case of the state against Constable John D. Connor was dismissed yesterday by Probate Judge D. P. Durrall on motion of Prosecuting Attorney George C. Oliver. The attorney gives his as his version of the matter, which the officers have accepted. Connor claims that he and his wife, Mrs. Inez Connor, were living in the auto of the latter. Connor says that after they had started home he became suspicious, perceived some men in the auto, and when that Connor, he lit his own expression "climbed in fire frame." The fight around the pool table, where Connor claims he was beaten, the auto found a jug containing what was believed to be moonshine. Connor says that he was not drunk, but was too nervous and that he was in no way responsible for that he was in his presence.

Connor was arrested last evening and was held over Saturday morning. He was held by Police Justice Kennedy Packard. He will be tried this evening or tomorrow morning. Officers say that Connor had been drinking, but he denied it.

The case against Flora for selling liquor on Sunday was dismissed by the court yesterday. It denied that she owned or was in possession of any liquor and denied the Connor version of the affair.
