

DARING PILOT TEARS ALONG AERIAL PATH

Daylight to Dark Transcontinental Flyer Wins Way Westward in Effort to Reach Pacific Slopes by Night; Machine Purrs Smoothly Along Route.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 19.—Lieut. Russell L. Maughan brought his plane to a halt on Cheyenne at 2:32 p. m. (Mountain time), having lost six minutes from his scheduled time leaving St. Joseph.

The speed king leaped from his plane and rushed to a hasty lunch of bananas, coffee and sandwiches.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Lieut. Russell L. Maughan, "Speed King" of the army air service, started into the realm of fame with comparatively the same amount of speed with which he is now hammering through space on his transcontinental flight.

Maughan, only 27 years old, is an enthusiastic pilot, who was born in Logan, Utah, and before the war was a rancher. Telling quietest facts, he probably never dreamed of a quick of take that would one day find him shooting through the same air that he had once piloted overland, at a speed of more than 100 miles an hour.

MCCOOK FIELD, DAYTON, O., July 19.—Lieut. Russell L. Maughan ended his flight across the continent when he landed his plane on McCook field today at 8:33 a. m.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 19.—Wingman Russell Maughan, who ate breakfast in New York, and hopes to die in San Francisco tonight, left McCook flying field at 11:05 p. m. today.

He stood up in the cockpit of the Curtiss pursuit plane and bowed a farewell to the crowd of thousands gathered here, as mechanics started the propellers. He waved a hand as the plane took its first run.

Cheyenne, the third stop in the attempted transcontinental flight, began at 7:45 a. m.

Maughan was very tired and rested during most of the 35 minutes stop here.

UNEMPLOYED TO FILL JAILS OF SOUTHERN TOWN

NEW YORK, July 19.—A vast army of unemployed demanding upon Port Arthur, Texas, will attempt to bat the town into bankruptcy office of the Federal Reserve Bank today.

The advance was ordered in retaliation for business administered to three members of the organization, and the plan of foreign calls for a policy of passive resistance somewhat on the order of the German policy in the Ruhr.

"Thousands of men will fill the streets," said Arthur Arthur of Texas and home," John Stuyvesant, secretary of the Marine Transport workers said today. "They are descending on the town from all quarters. They will not carry a weapon nor will they argue the merits of the case."

"They will march and sleep there without funds—probably in jail—and force the town to recognize the I. W. W. or to take bankruptcy trying to feed it."

Shanks estimated 20,000 "hobblers" are on their way to Port Arthur today. The marchers will bring automobiles, riding, walking and about 300. He claimed 400 had left New York and 200 had gone from Houston. These two crowds led on all tankers, he said.

The order for the descent was issued by officials in San Francisco about a week ago and the first vanguard of the army should reach Port Arthur today or tomorrow.

AGED FARMER PUZZLED BY GRES' SUIT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 19.—Fredrick Greer, aged farmer, today declared he will brook no suit by his daughters for "back pay" for years of hard labor on the farm was filed because the women wanted all his property for themselves.

It was made an order from my own home, where I was born and bred, for fifty-four years, because I refused to turn over the bulk of my property to my two daughters. I never professed, as he speaks regrettably of the family wrangle and court action.

The aged man, sought through two states by subpoena servers to give him notice of the suit; was found by the United Press living the life of a recluse. In a large house where which he lived the only old farmer known in the town almost bare of furniture.

His daughters claimed that Fredrick Greer, aged farmer, today declared he will brook no suit by his daughters for "back pay" for years of hard labor on the farm was filed because the women wanted all his property for themselves.

Naturalization Should Be Given Ovation, Claim

WASHINGTON, July 19.—That the making of a foreigner into an American is a ceremony worthy public celebration, has long been contended by those interested in Americanization. It is a line recently approved by a vote from an address made before the department of immigrant control of the National Education Association at the last closed convention in San Francisco.

Mr. John S. Hedley, educational representative of the National Education Association, said that the ceremony should be conferred upon an alien resident with the highest honor that dignity at the command of the government.

"Citizenship in the United States should be conferred upon an alien resident with the highest honor that dignity at the command of the government."

"No matter what other ceremonies are observed by schools or civic organizations, there should be a brief ceremony at the actual time of naturalization. It is necessary to have a true representation of the value of American citizenship to the native American as well as to the man of foreign birth, and also to give an impression upon the alien the greatness of the ceremony."

SEARCHING THE WORLD FOR MANUFACTURING MATERIAL

Our manufacturers expend over $3,000,000,000 a year for products of other parts of the world.

The growing demand of the manufacturers of the country for the material produced in other parts of the world is illustrated by the latest import figures which indicate that the value of manufacturing material imported in the fiscal year which ended in June, 1923, aggregated nearly 2 1/2 billion dollars, as against an annual average of less than a billion dollars in the years immediately preceding the war.

Compilations made by the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York show that the total value of imports of raw material for use in manufacturing totaled about $1,500,000,000 in the fiscal year which ended with June 30, while manufacturers for further use in manufacturing aggregated about $750,000,000. The very high record made in the pre-war period was $635,000,000 of raw material imported and $300,000,000 of that the minerals and metals manufacturers for further use in manufacturing so that the record of the fiscal year 1923 is about 2 1/2 fold.

Even this high record of nearly $2 1/2 billion dollars of imports in enormous quantity of manufacturing material which they must have for the very countries produce the same goods as our own. The foreign manufacturers are not producers of materials. The tropics find it more convenient to export raw materials which they present to the United States, and when we add the freight across the ocean, the duties paid on entering the country, the profits of the importers and the freight from the port of entry to the factory, it is quite apparent that the manufacturers of the country have paid in the fiscal year just ended considerably more than $3,000,000,000 for the manufacturing material they need.

NOT HIS JOB

"I'm not supposed to do that," said he. For never, once was he known to stop. "That's not my job, and it's not my care." So I'll pass it by and leave it there. And the boss who have him weekly pay. Least more than his wages on his that day. "I'm not supposed to do that," he said; "That duty belongs to Jim or Fred." For a little task that was in his way. That he could have handled without delay. Was left unfinished; the way was paved. For a heavy load that he could have moved. And then went on and he kept it. But he never altered his easy pace. And folk remarked on how well he knew.

The line of tax he was hired to do. For never, once was he known to stop. His hand to things for his concern. And there in his foolish act he stood. And for all he did, he was fairly paid. For he never was worth a dollar more. He got by his toil when the work was done. He knew too well when his work was through. And he'd done all he was hired to do. If you want to grow in this world young man, You must do every day all the work you can. If you find a task, though it's not your bit. And it should be done take care of it. And you'll never conquer or rise if you do only the things you're supposed to do. Edgar A. Guest.

PEACE

Strew the budding bloom of the Maytime sweet
On the grassy mounds in the cities still.
A cross at the feet, as a symbol most
Of the sacrifice to a nation's will.
A crown at the head, on the grass mounds green—
A victor's wreath for a Nation's won.
With a conqueror's mien, he lies serene,
For on battlefields his glory was won.

There's a story sweet, we all love to read
How the dear lost ones came to earth again,
And our Bible's creed tells us off indeed
How the angels came to the homes of men.
And perchance the dead of our country dear
Come down from Heaven in their angel form,
And hover so near that our words they hear
As we honor them with our praises warm.

And perhaps each one to his home on high
Bears a flower sweet, as a garden rare
That shall glorify and perchance outvie
The immortal bloom of that home so fair
In the pastures green of the heavenly land,
By the waters still, that forever flow
Where the angel hand wender hand in hand
In the radiant light of the great white throne.

Then from canons deep in each sheltered nook,
Bring the Spring's first bloom in each tender hue;
By the raching break in each curve and crook,
Find the dainty fern in their green dress new;
Gather lilies white that in warm sand hide
Till their swords of green cleave their bonds, and fare
O'er the Mesa wide to the foothills side,
Drenching every breeze with a perfume rare.

From the gardens old 'round the homesteads dear,
Gather all the wealth of the sweet old flowers;
Bring from far and near for each soldier's bier
Every blossom fair from Nature's bowers;
Weep no more for our brave!—thine hearts are sad—
For it's well with them for eye and eye!
Each dead soldier lad is a trophy glad
To the Nation's heart, Decoration Day!

—Carrie Christian Kunkel.

SQUANDERING TAXPAYERS' MONEY

The watchdogs of the treasury will have something to bark at when congress next meets. According to government officials in a position to know, there never has been so much junketing and so many committees functioning with unlimited expense accounts.

The public has heard nothing of this squandering of the taxpayers' money. There is a reason. There has been no adverse criticism among the senators or congressmen of the great expense being incurred by the junketers and the special committees, he cause leading members of the minority party are among the participants. For instance, the democratic national committee was virtually on the verge of denouncing these junkets and investigating committees, but upon investigation it was found that Senator Robinson (A.P.C.) minority leader in the senate, was on a cruise to Hawaii and Alaska, conducted by the war department, and had accepted all the perquisites and gratuities. It was also found that Senator Harrison (Miss.), whose chief pastime in the senate has been attacking republicans for extravagance, was a member of the reforestation committee, which has been treating all over the country, since congress adjourned, at the expense of the government.

Hundreds of thousands, if not millions of dollars, are being spent by special committees and their bills will be approved by the committee on audits and accounts without a murmur, unless some reformer who is not afraid to be unpopular, like Senator Smoot, who makes an honest effort to curb this reprehensible waste of the public's money become very unpopular in congress and their bills never get anywhere.

The way the taxpayers' money is being squandered by members of congress during the recess, was particularly emphasized when the special joint committee of the banking and currency committee authorized to find out why more state banks do not join the federal reserve system, tried to arrange to hold meetings in Vermont.

Some members of this committee argued that it was unfair for the government to ask them to stay in Washington and work in the sweltering heat. They felt they were entitled to all the comforts of the mountain breezes. Then, after firing of the mountains, it was decided to go to the seashore and hold meetings, the expenses incurred at leading hotels to be charged to expense accounts.

One senator, a member of the committee, put his foot down hard on the proposal. He said it was a most outrageous betrayal of public trust and an unbridled and unauthorized expenditure of the people's money. Despite this senator's protest, however, the majority of the committee members, intend to hold meetings at

YOU CAN LEARN TO SWIM IN 40 MINUTES

A practical course in swimming by a nationally known swimmer and author—that's THE TIMES' newest feature!

Lyba Sheffield, one of the world-famous "Sheffield Sisters," has just joined our staff. She's going to teach swimming. The world fame Lyba and her sister, Mita, won in national and collegiate aquatic events qualifies her as a swimmer. Her phenomenal success in organizing and teaching swimming in San Francisco's high schools and as swimming instructor in University of California summer session qualifies her as a teacher. The nationwide approval of the Sheffield Sisters' book—"Swimming Simplified"—qualifies her ability to write clearly. This is an unbeatable combination. If you can't swim, be sure to read her articles and learn the great water sport. The series starts July 20 in THE TIMES.

various places throughout the country on the ground that only in that way can they get at the real objections as to why the state banks are loth to join the federal reserve system. Mandatory publication of a list of these committee members and the expense accounts of individual junketers might have a deterrent effect.

The above is taken from the Press Post, one of the Smoot newspapers of Utah. We do not agree with praise for Smoot because we are of the opinion that he has never practiced what he is seeming to preach in the above pronouncement.

Long Not Conversationalists. Addition, show these people how long they have been considered the model style was shy and about when with people in conversation, but was indignant and satirical. Gray and Albert seldom talked or smiled. Rousseau was remarkably ripe in conversation, without a word of fancy or eloquence in his speech. Milton was unscrupled and sarcastic when such pressed by strangers.

Enormous Pecan Tree. The largest pecan tree in the United States is near Langston, Tex. Nut obtained from it one year have been sold for $500. When the tree was sprayed recently by the state inspector of forest trees he used 100 gallons of spray. The tree is more than 100 feet in height.

Or the Price of the Picture. It is not a law quickly the merit of a picture can be determined after we know the artist's name and national. Gray and Albert seldom talked or smiled. Rousseau was remarkably ripe in conversation, without a word of fancy or eloquence in his speech. Milton was unscrupled and sarcastic when such pressed by strangers.

SELF-DENIAL.—Whoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it.—Mark 8:34, 35.

WHY YOU ARE WHAT YOU ARE

By EDNA PURDY WALSH

WHAT ARE THE SIGNS OF MUSIC?

If music has a mission to perform in the world, it has even more power in building the bodies, heads and faces of those who are gifted in music. Music in the spirit develops the faculty of tone—an area the size of the little "beard" in the frontal part of the frontal forehead, close to the hair line. Just where the face rounds off to from the side head. It is one and one-quarter inches above the angle of the superciliary arch.

ment in this area, as well as large auditory cortex in his ears. The ear fin is very thin when music is very effective, and sometimes almost transparent. Fluffy hair is a usual accompaniment of the musical temperament, the volume itself is vibratory and musical, rising up and down on the scale as the individual speaks. Most of the musical geniuses have foreheads very large in the side. Those of the strongly executive type have large lips, optimistic noses and in the brain the upper spirals are elevated in the center. The wide forehead in the region of fine bridge skill, a faculty of feeling, and a fine appreciation of color, as well as sound.

"PLAY SPIRIT" IN BUSINESS

Secret of Success, According to Man Who Has Reached Top of Commercial Ladder.

The best work is done in the spirit of play. Any man who goes to business with but-one thought, asking grimly how much he is going to get out of it in dollars and cents, will probably get actually less dollars and little if any of the joy of the man who approaches his business from quite a different angle—from the angle of doing something worth while, building, creating, serving.

If a man likes adventure, he ought to find adventure in his business. It is there. All he needs is the wish and determination to discover it. It is in the lines of opportunity or the stimulation of economic achievement or contact with able and alert minds or the training of young men—he can find these, too.

The profit-las-to-comes, of course. That is proof of clever playing. But the game itself, the sport and zest of it all, is a different matter.

JAVA SUGAR BEGGINS READY FOR PLANTING THE RICE CROP

The Bureau of Forestry and Domestic Commerce of the United States has just issued an admirable commercial and industrial handbook on the Dutch East Indies and British Malaya, prepared by John A. Fisher, Trade Commissioner of the United States.

It revealed a mining of 255,000,000 pounds in 1921. The tea industry also has profited greatly from the establishment of a government tea experimental station and laboratory where scientific investigation is conducted.

The islanders' "white" population of the world's rubber is produced there, but the rubber, besides black and white pepper, also includes chili pepper, cloves and nutmeg, medicinal herbs, cardamom, and rice.

Nearly half a million acres in Java alone are devoted to the production of sugar and that island ranks third among the sugar producers of the world, supplying nearly the markets of Japan, Great Britain, and Hong Kong.

The islanders' most important source of supply for coconut oil, most important is vegetable oil, which is produced in Java, Sumatra and the smaller islands.

Sumatra leaf tobacco is a favorite wrapper in the United States and commands a high price, while European markets absorb large amounts of both Java and Sumatra tobacco.
