

U.S. CITIZENS ARE MARCOONED IN OLD WORLD

Pitiful Stories of Extreme Destitution Are Told; Fund Is Being Raised for Relief of Suffering Americans.

BERLIN, Aug. 21.—A score of more of Americans were stranded in Berlin today and it is reported only through the charity of the American Benevolent Association, according to information received by United Press.

The association was short of funds and appealing for contributions. It has one of the most pitiful cases of that of Gustav Hahn, 75, of Los Angeles, his wife and two sons. Hahn told a pitiful story. He said that at the end of 1931 his wife received a check for $100 from a relative. Her mother was near death and asking Mrs. Hahn to take care of her. Hahn's wife had a poor maid, and she with the wife was responsible and Mrs. Hahn is brooding over the situation, became temporarily insane.

Doctors told Hahn his wife's condition probably would not improve. He could take her to Germany to see her mother. So Hahn sold his home and embarked with his wife and two boys for Berlin.

The family arrived in January. Hahn's mother had died the week previously. Hahn, stuck by news of his mother's death, required immediate medical attention but the family's meager funds were used to restore her health.

The husband was unable to find work and the family had to live in a cellar, eating out a bare existence with the aid of charity.

By the end of 1932, the family was in the most extreme want. One of the boys, who are 13 and 15 years old, died of hunger, hoping to work his way back to the "Gutter States," but was picked up at the station and returned to Berlin.

The society found considerable success among German-Americans in Germany. In many cases Americans who had positions here before the first great crash in the value of the mark had been discharged, employees explaining they must give preference to their countrymen.

Ambassador's Double Not Heard from and Atlantic City Waits

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 21.—The mysterious disappearance of Ambassador William Phillips in Atlantic City, N. J., was still being looked for just when it had been made the subject of an "apparently" hopeless hunt.

The man checked out of the hotel after giving newspapermen a sensational interview in which he dismissed everything from the possibility of a kidnapping. He was seen in Atlantic City under conditions on this island, and returned to his home in Atlantic City.

The book was considered the more absurd in that it was generally known the ambassador is in England and had been extensively mentioned in cable reports from London for several days.

Victims of the fraud accused themselves by saying the man bore a remarkable resemblance to a British ambassador.

PLACE BLAME FOR ROBBERY OF MAIL CAR

Daring Bandits Hold Up Oklahoma Train, in Wild Country—Escaping with Large Quantity of Registered Mail.

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Aug. 21.—Al Spencer's notorious "wild-o-the-wilds" gang was credited by authorities today with the daring holdup of a mail train near Okemah, Okla., at midnight.

The robbers after slugging four members of the train crew, disappeared into the fastness of the Osage country with 25 packages of registered mail.

The bandits slugged Fireman B. C. Towers and Engineer W. O. Miller over the boards with revolvers but as the train rolled to a stop, a volley of bullets was then sent through the windows of the mail car, forcing entrance.

C. D. Weiss and W. Hugh, mail clerks, true to the traditions of the service attempted to hold off the robbers but were severely punished for their efforts. The mail car was then fired westward through the hills amid a paring volley of shots from the train crew.

The train was nearing the end of a long grade and the engine, moving slowly through a desolate country one mile east of Okemah when the engine saw a red lantern waving across the track a short distance ahead. Brakes were applied with a jerk and the train halted to a dead stop within a few feet. A dozen masked men all heavily armed began firing as they stepped the engine.

TRIAL CRAFT TAKE OFF ON LONG FLIGHT

Airplanes Leave Both Pacific and Atlantic Coasts With Heavy Pouches of Mail for Delivery As Soon As Possible.

MITCHELL FIELD, N. Y., Aug. 21.—The modern pony express takes the air today, carrying 600 pounds of important messages. A United States mail plane will leave New York at 10:30 a. m. and is expected to terminate safely in San Francisco in 28 hours, carrying the mail from coast to coast in the fastest time on record. A plane on a similar route leaves San Francisco at the same time.

The innovation of the postoffice department recalls the days of pioneer times when messengers on horseback made their way across the continent. The pony express rider of old flung himself on one horse and onto another when his horse was tired, thus making his way across the continent in a matter of weeks.

SCORES HURT IN COLLAPSE OF BUILDING

Several Killed and Many Others Maimed When Masonic Temple at New York Burns; Rescue Gangs Work Feckishly.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Two firemen were killed and 47 injured today when the old Masonic hall in Brooklyn collapsed while burning.

The building, which was owned by the Fire and Marine Insurance Co., was built in 1880 and was being used as a dance hall at the time of the fire.

The police estimate 40 dead, however, was disputed by other tallies which were being made at the scene. Newspapermen who made a careful check figured there were only 20 deaths.

The old Masonic temple was a three-story building. Recently it was being covered by a fire which was discovered in it shortly after midnight. After the blast had been averted, the building was found to be a mass of twisted steel.

When the roof went down in a matter of minutes, many firemen were killed. Others were caught beneath the wreckage and portions of the building.

First reports were that 60 had been killed. Later reports revealed that the number of victims had risen to 47. Many of them were killed by falling masonry.

Others were discovered under heaps of hot wreckage which had fallen on top of them. Many were found crushed to death.

Some of the injured suffered burns which will result fatally. Many were seriously burned and cut by falling glass.

TWO BILLS LOOM FOR CUP TEAM

Tilden and Johnston Pre-empted of Net Stars Mentioned to Hold Foreigners at Bay.

BY HENRY L. FARBELL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—America's team that will defend the Davis cup against the Australian challengers will be named today by the nominating committee of the U. S. Lawn Tennis association.

Bill Tilden and Bill Johnston are sure to be members of the team and to them will be allotted the job of handling the four singles matches of the challenge round. Tilden doesn't stand very high with the association because he has been guilty of less majors several times but simply could not be kept off the team. Quite a lot of politics has been involved in the selection of the two members of the team, the idea being to beat one man who could play doubles well with either Tilden or Johnston or two men who would comprise a good doubles combination themselves.

From reliable sources, it is understood that Vincent Richards, although he is the third ranking player in the United States will not be named on the team simply because he did not play doubles with Tilden this year. Johnston would like to have his partner, Peck Griffin, named to work with him in the doubles. Last year the association would not permit Johnston to play in anything but the singles fearing that he was not strong enough to stand the strain of three heavy matches.

Dick Williams and Watson Washburn, the doubles combination of a couple of years ago, have a lot of politics pushing them forward as the best candidates. The Knesey brothers, for a while were considered as one of the best doubles prospects but they were badly trimmed yesterday in the first round of the national doubles championship and perhaps they are done for that.

KATHLEEN CONGRATULATES HELEN

After the match at Forest Hills, N. Y., Kathleen McKane (right), English champion, congratulates Helen Wills on her remarkable case. The California girl defeated Miss McKane 6-2, 7-5, surprising the gallery by her great victory in straight sets.

RITCHIE PUTS OFF HIS EASTERN TRIP

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 20.—Willsie Ritchie, former light weight champion of the world, who several weeks ago announced that he would attempt a "come back" to the ring and perhaps to a championship, has temporarily abandoned his invasion of the east. Ritchie planned to go back this fall and take on some of the boys, with Henry Leonard as his goal. Now his plans are somewhat uncertain as to when he will make it. It won't be immediately, for reasons. Willie sympathizes with Job.

"Can you imagine me in the ring with a bell where somebody could hit me? No I'll wait a while and leave the bells here when I go east," says Willie. ENTERED AT'S HOME BUSS Cy Williams, Phila. 1-30. Ward, Yanks, 1-8. Burns, Red Sox, 1-7.

COMING OUT OF IT

MEDFORD, ORE., Aug. 21.—If Jesse of this county, suffered a peculiar ailment when he was arrested on an embezzlement charge arising in Fremont, Ore., in which he seemed in a stupor and evidenced no desire to talk, hear or think, an attending physician prescribed two tablespoonful of salt hourly until the man's reason functioned. When the sheriff appeared with the third dose Jesse said he thought he was coming out of it.

They are in a perilous condition. The pirates came aboard the Harkness and demanded money. A fight ensued.

SNAKES BORN IN LONDON ZOO

Thirty Baby Reptiles Crawl to Light, but What Is Their Hope? They Will Live.

A most unpleasant surprise has been started at the London Zoological gardens, where a rattlesnake has produced a family of thirty babies, an exchange says.

There is nothing of conditions, infant softness about these tenfold triplets. They are monsters wriggling round their motherless mother looking lean, elegant and venomous in their snuff and butter-colored markings.

All are fully equipped to kill already. Is not there an odd way to the effect that in "Swamp" than a serpent's thanks to have a toothless child? Well, each of these children has a set of poison fangs of which any mother might be proud.

Shortly after they were born these independent infants objected to their mother's milk and started to shed their skins. This is still going on and making an untidy litter in the nursery.

It is very doubtful if the babies can be reared. They may live for a month without food, so there will be time for them with feeding milk. Each baby has a little button at the end of the tail, but there is not much hope that they will live to add the horny rings which turn it into a "rattle."

Argentinian Back in New York After Jaunt to Atlantic City; Crowds Are Missing at Dempsey Camp.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—After a livery up trip to Atlantic City to look over his training camp, Luis Angel Firpo was back here today to meet Horatio Lavelle, his trainer, who is to arrive from South America. Plans have been made to go to Atlantic City tonight and get ready to start training for Firpo's fight here September 14, with Jack Dempsey.

SAINT LOUIS, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, has the routine of his training for his fight with Luis Firpo well under way and the only trimming missing around the camp are the crowd that usually watch the champion in his afternoon workout. Dempsey trains at the same hour the races are under way and the crowd here are all race fans. The champion, however, seems to like comparative privacy and although the "gate" suffers he says he would rather work under the present condition.

Dr. Charles P. Strimling's reported wish that Henry Ford might be made president as an experiment recalls the time when a good many people voted for General Butler for governor of Massachusetts "to see what the old man would do." The Schemetzky wizard, who is a long-time socialist, lets his social philosophizing take him well outside the beaten path of the "comrades," but it is difficult to believe that if he has expressed the wish as quoted he meant it in other than a Polignovskian sense.

The collision in Colorado which resulted in the deaths of seven railroad employes directed attention again to the hazards of operation on lines, particularly single-track lines, lacking the protection of automatic signals. On these lines misunderstanding of orders or disobedience of rules has an enormously greater potential seriousness than where signals are installed. Any deviation from regular movements seems to be a cause of peril. A large number of serious accidents in the west and southwest investigated by the interstate commerce commission within a year, have revealed inadequate safety devices, negligence or misconduct of employes or faulty supervision. On the night of November 4 last year, with adverse weather conditions, three collisions occurred on the Wyoming division of the Union Pacific within a space of fifty miles.

It is a curious objection that the Newark News raises in the proposal of the United States coal commission that in the event of a strike the mines should be taken over by the president. "The president's powers" in such an emergency are admittedly uncertain. But the Newark News opposes the plan on the ground that "it would take the mines away from the owners, but not the pay from the miners." Surely the Newark paper does not suppose that if the miners went back to work, pending the adjustment of their dispute, they would consent to accept of any adjustment of the contract yet adopted. Nor can it be supposed that the government would take over the mines without paying the owners a fair price for every bit of coal produced. The United States government cannot seize property without paying for it, even in war, nor is there any likelihood of unremunerated conscript labor in the event of a strike.

"TAKING TARIFF OUT OF POLITICS"

"A Western Tariff Congress, called for the purpose of taking the tariff out of partisan politics and securing the adoption of a permanent tariff policy suited to the needs of the west, has been called to meet here early in October, the exact date to be announced later."

So says the advance program of the Western Tariff Association. This ambitious program has been started before, probably about once a year for the last 131 years. It always fails for the simple reason that an essential document known as the Constitution of the United States provides that congress shall have power to levy taxes, duties, imposts and excises to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States. Congress is rightly held to its right to decide what is required for "the common defense" and what makes for "the general welfare" of the United States, and as men and women are elected in accordance with their views on those things in regard to which congress is empowered to legislate, the question of revenue will be in politics as long as people disagree in regard to the principles on which revenue should be raised. Tariff will be in politics. The only way to get it out would be to change the constitution, so that a permanent executive board should fix the tariff and then agree on what unalterable policy it should proceed. What is needed is a good definition that will wear for ever and a permanent board that will be beyond the reach of the voters.

The present purpose of the conference is quite plain. It is to keep intact the present tariff. It says that one of the purposes so organized is "To oppose a revision of the present tariff act at this time." The real way to do that is to keep the tariff in politics and vote a republican ticket of the old school. Even Magnus Johnson is against the present tariff. This would involve voting against Governors Hill Sweet of Colorado, Jim Hinkle of New Mexico, Bill Ross of Wyoming, George Hunt of Arizona and Jim Sorahan of Nevada, but since McAdoo, Underwood and Ford, who are most prominently mentioned for democratic nomination are all in favor of a revision of the present tariff at this time, neither they nor their party can be depended upon to carry out the impossible condition demanded by the Western Tariff Association, and the democratic governors who trim on this question should be left at home by those who want no change in the tariff, since it is well to have an united party behind this sort of movement. If the country wants to take that view of the question there is no room for the existence of the democratic party.

Rivals in Role Write of Each Other Seeing Each Other Play

Gertrude Lang and Laurel Nemeth, who play the prima donna roles in the two companies of "Blossom Time," had the unique experience recently of witnessing rival performances of the operetta "Blossom Time" which appeared in the part of Mabel in the Forty-fourth Street Theatre company in New York, attended the matinee of the Shubert Theatre company of "Blossom Time," and Miss Lang, the rival Mabel, returned the compliment by visiting the Thursday matinee of the Forty-fourth Street. Their criticisms of each other are given below.

BY GERTRUDE LANG
ACTORS and actresses reflect their environment. And I noticed that in my company at the Shubert, but the singers went about their work with genuine love and respect for one of the great geniuses of song whose melodies they were called upon to render. Such a feeling naturally aids in the development of the art. Miss Nemeth has a beautiful voice, but more than that, she is sympathetic, a quality that makes her performance noteworthy and Trina Valera was sufficiently stirring and seductive as Bella.

BY LAUREL NEMETH
IT HAS always been my desire to see myself in the part of Mabel. I want the public to see Mabel and not Laurel Nemeth. And so my visit to "Blossom Time" the rival "Blossom Time" permitted me to study the character of the heroine. I wish to compliment Miss Lang, who, it seemed to me, submerged her identity in that of Mabel. She spoke with a most charming and sensitive glow, endeavoring to find a solution to the romantic tangle in which she was caught. Miss Nemeth was superb. Her voice was a Germanic Schubert, which is as it should be, though it was not bit better than Mr. Mendelssohn's. It is, in fact, is of Germanic descent. Mr. Donovan played Schubert with a full appreciation of the intention of the composer's soul and the immortality of his songs—in fact, was sincere, wholesome and understanding. Indeed, the whole company was splendid and perfect upon the excellent performance of the Shubert in selecting artists for the greatest musical success in the history of the American stage.

100° in the Shade or 10° below Zero!

One hundred degrees in the shade or ten below zero, meat deliveries in your retailer go steadily on, so that you may be assured of just the kind and quality of meat that you desire.

No city is so far removed from live stock production that it cannot receive its regular supply of fresh meats.

Compare this with the meat supply of thirty or forty years ago. Summer weather then meant salt or pickled meats in the country, and a limited variety of fresh meats in most cities.

Refrigeration, developed by scientists, has made it possible for Swift & Company, and other packers, to prepare fresh meats and ship them long distances in refrigerator cars, so that today, without regard to heat or cold, meat reaches your dealer fresh, clean and wholesome.

In addition to the fresh meats thus available, Swift & Company prepares a variety of tempting meats for hot weather:

Swift's Premium Coked Ham, mild and sweet, smoked over hard wood fires, is always delicious.

Swift's Premium Frankfurts, from our modern sanitary kitchens, offer a choice blending of meats and spices.

Swift's Sausage Specialties and Swift's Dry Sausage, ready to serve, help lighten the housewife's summer task.

In addition to these, a score of other Summer Specialties are made available by Swift & Company's research and development work.

Our profit from all sources averages only a fraction of a cent a pound.

MARKETS

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Good buying in corn which elevated the August futures delivery price to 86 1/2 cents, a new high on the crop and an approximate gain of 3 cents over the previous high, brought strength and a higher close in other grains in trading on the Chicago Board of Trade today.

Following a morning of indifferent trading, good buying developed in wheat and on the advance prices passed beyond last night's closing levels. The strength in corn was due to a good close of local buying and the strength on the part of shippers, some of whom covered September contracts in today's trading. Strong home markets throughout the country and the revival of the southwest demand were also strong factors. This demand tended to confirm reports of crop deterioration in that section.

Of six scored advances with good independent buying. The strength in other grains also reflected in the market on the cash demand and higher prices prevailed.
