UNACCEPTABLE PAPER STATES

Greeks Agree to Stipulations but Balk at Others; League Will Not Intervene Unless Requested to Do So.

ROME, Aug. 31.—The Greek reply to the Italian ultimatum is entirely unsatisfactory, the League stated today. This newspaper announced it had reliable information that the form and substance of the Greek answer were unacceptable because the note refused to pay for the military indemnity which was demanded and also modification of the demands with regard to saluting the Italian flag and other tributes to the honor of Italy.

ATHENS, Aug. 31.—The Greek reply to the Italian ultimatum of the 29th is rejected, the demand for an indemnity of fifty million lire and accepts four of the other demands, while rejecting the fifth, sixth and seventh clauses as rejected. The demands and the replies to each are substantially as follows: 1. Italy demands that Greece should be prepared to furnish the Italian legion. Greece accepts, offering an indemnity of fifty million lire. The chief of the Athens garrison to the Italian legion.

Italy demanded that all members of the Greek government attend a solemn mass for the victims in the Athens cathedral, Greece accepts, saying that members of the cabinet will attend such a mass. Italy announced the Greek fleet must bear the Italian colors and salute the Italian flag in the harbor of Piræus, the port of Athens. Greece offers to have a detachment of the Athens garrison salute the Italian flag in front of the city's location the day of the funeral.

The ultimatum stated that military honors be accorded the bodies of the victims as they are carried to their homes to take home. Greece agrees to the stipulation that the military authorities of Greece and Bulgaria participate in the ceremony. The fifth and seventh demands, which included official indignation in the inquiry to be conducted at the scene of the massacre, capital punishment to the offenders and an indemnity of 50,000,000 lire, are rejected on the ground that they are incompatible with Greek honor and sovereignty.

DENVER, Aug. 31.—The league of nations will not interfere in the Greece-Italy dispute, it was stated today by assassination of five Italian officers in Greece and the league requests intervention. Members of the league council will meet here today and the league has no right to intervene, unless by direct request of Greece.

COURT TEST POSTPONED UNTIL SEPTEMBER 21. Owing to the fact that he leaves tomorrow for Chicago, the trial of William H. Irvine, who was indicted for the murder of George Gardner, will be postponed until September 21. The trial was to have begun today at 10 o'clock.

Pony Express Brings Back Fond Memories of Frontier Times

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 31.—The riding boys of the pony express have sounded across the western plains again after an absence of 62 years. Starting from this city, the tradition of the wild west were revived by riders who set out to carry the United States mail by horse back from the Missouri river to the Pacific coast.

A stage extending 2500 miles was used the historic pony express to depict the forerunner of modern systems of communication, the airplane and the railroad. While the airplane is nearly able to span the continent in a day, the time record for the trip half way across the country by horseback, which the 125 riders hope to finish in seven days and 21 hours of actual riding time, it was made when the United States of President Lincoln was carried by the pony express in 1860.

Plans to have two teams of riders starting from St. Joseph to ride against each other on well as against time, were announced for the last minute. The only team to make the race was the farmers. The United States cavalry, who were expected to make the race, did not appear.

All who attended the ceremonial. The setting for the start of the first rider, Robert Lee Shoppard, was at 10 o'clock. The riders were expected to make it in 1850, as weeks of preparation could make it.

President Does Not Think Strike Will Be of Long Duration and Faces the Situation With Others in Apparent Calm.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—President Coolidge was ready today with a plan of federal assistance. To be put into operation in the event of an anthracite coal strike. He intends to keep the federal government in the attitude of helping by the federal assistance. All their interests in the anthracite coal strike. Mr. Coolidge has been informed that there is now a three month supply of anthracite on hand. That would give plenty of time to mine and ship the necessary bituminous, semi-bituminous and other coal substitutes. In his opinion, without resorting to extraordinary measures, the United States would be able to supply the nation's needs for coal.

As federal officials state up the situation even if there is an anthracite strike, it will not be of long duration. All their interests in the anthracite coal strike. Mr. Coolidge has been informed that there is now a three month supply of anthracite on hand. That would give plenty of time to mine and ship the necessary bituminous, semi-bituminous and other coal substitutes. In his opinion, without resorting to extraordinary measures, the United States would be able to supply the nation's needs for coal.

John Hays Hammond, chairman of the United States coal commission, conferred with the president today. Hammond merely gave Mr. Coolidge the latest report from Harrisburg, and they discussed such measures as might be put in operation in the event of a strike.

First of all there is no intention of taking the situation out of President's hands for the present. He will be allowed to continue his efforts to get anthracite coal. It has secured Mr. Coolidge that he will so limit the strike in that direction. The president has the maintenance into the federal government will cooperate with him fully in trying to insure adequate facilities for interstate transportation of that coal.

There is no protest, though of an embargo on semi-bituminous coal shipments to the west from Pennsylvania and West Virginia, as was reported a day or two ago. It was emphatically stated in a high administrative quarter today that there would be no such embargo.

COVINGTON, Ohio, Aug. 31.—(The "Pop Geers" of American fame today revealed himself today as the greatest of equine trainers. The man, who in his 72nd year almost 40 years of training experience by urging the gelding Anastro to a world record of 2:02 over a half mile track, revealed the secret of his success in his ability to win the hearts of horses. "Pop" declared all his distinct experiences he has never used the whip for any purpose except to show that he was loose.

"You've got to talk to horses," he said, "and they understand by your tone what you're saying." Geers admits that he takes letters from his horses that he writes and his explanation is that "they're worth it." He doesn't look his 72 years but takes exercise every day and his beard drooping in the over present clear view looked but always well shined.

War Between Italy and Greece Would Probably Involve Other Nations of Europe; Urge Italy to Be Very Cautious.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Europe is shuddering before the Greece-Italian conflict having in mind the catastrophic consequences of the Balkan outbreak of six years ago, which it parallels in a striking way and fearing that Italy's first anger may result in permitting negotiations or intervention by the league of nations.

It is believed that Italy and Greece would certainly not be confined to those countries. Conditions are such that one war or the other would lead to another with all Europe being again involved in a devastating conflict.

Italy would have no special objection in subjecting Greece proper. Italian troops might be sent to Greece and other nations, but invasion of Greece by a large force would be very difficult.

Italy has long desired a foothold in the Balkans and has been endeavoring to reach that goal since the Serbs would never tolerate Italy's conversion of the Adriatic into an Italian lake. Italy would probably promptly close the Panama Canal (Panama-Liverpool) and land Italian troops in the Balkans toward the Aegean coast. In event of a Greek-Greek war, Italy would be expected to become involved.

ANDERSON BEATS BILLY JOHNSTON. California Bows Before Visitor's First Cup Match.

FOUNTER HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 31.—James O. Anderson, tall center of the "Amateur" team, put America one down in the opening match for the Davis cup here this afternoon with a most surprising and unexpected victory over William M. Johnston of California, one of the American best at 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, 7-6 and 6-3.

Six thousand spectators were thrilled at the battle that was waged between the two stars. Every point of the match was so bitterly contested that it hardly seemed possible the players could withstand the strain of play and the intense heat which set upon the courts and the concrete stadium.

Erizo Knows How to Use His Portside Limb Now; Is More Than Hook and Flesh Hanging His Side.

(By HENRY L. FAHRELL.)
 ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 31.—It is apparent from Luis Angel Erizo's training work here that he has more of a left hand than he has permitted the public to believe. It was weakness on his port side in all his previous fights that caused the experts to predict that he would not go far with the two-handed Dempsey when they meet for the heavyweight championship in New York, September 11.

Erizo is showing a nice left in his spring and he has acquired a hook to supplement the conventional right in training for Willard he showed the same thing, but when he started to fight the former champion he apparently forgot he had anything hanging to his left shoulder. Perhaps he knew he could win with his right and, chose to concentrate his other side.

The South American does very little clubbing in his work now and he flashes a very good right uppercut. It was a right uppercut, landed by Jose Willard in his last stand at Toledo, that nearly finished Dempsey.

Experts watching Erizo discount his form saying that he will forget all his style when he is hurt and will revert back to his natural rough and unpolished method of fighting.

Bernard Cook, the perfect technician and is every respect "is" a better man than Jose Willard in his mind is sound, he is fast on his feet for a big man and his morale is perfect. Despite the fact that he has placed himself in the hands of trainers whose only knowledge of boxing has been acquired through motion pictures, Erizo is being taught along lines that would win fights now and he says he will pound at 210 or 212 pounds. He shows no symptoms of being or getting stale.

Solid Permanent Water Trough for Sheep Flock
 - Ordinary wood troughs are unsatisfactory; subject to decay, and when in use are often impractical because they are so easily overturned.
 - All these objections have been overcome in building the type of trough shown in the illustration. It is made of a rich variety of concrete, one part of cement being used to one and one-half parts of clean sand to three parts

A Solid Permanent Water Trough.
 - Of well-quality pebbles or broken stone. The inside is troweled smooth, so as to facilitate cleaning.
 - This trough is designed particularly for the watering of sheep, as it is therefore, set low and deep in the ground for the convenience of the animals drinking from it. It "holds" the probability of freezing.

Very Satisfactory Milk Substitute for Calves

(Prepared by the "Federal House Experiment")
 A very satisfactory milk substitute for feeding calves after the second week has been developed by the United States Department of Agriculture. The mixture consists of 50 parts finely ground corn, 15 parts three-eighth milk, 15 parts finely ground rolled oats, 10 parts dried alfalfa flour, 10 parts skim milk powder, and one-half part salt. It is stirred up with warm water at the rate of 1 pound of milk to 9 pounds of water. The feed is increased gradually as the whole milk is decreased, until at the time the calf is 60 days old it is getting only the grain. At this time 1 1/2 to 2 pounds of milk mixed with water will constitute a calf's feed. Whenever there are indications of scour the feed must be reduced.

When calves are vigorous, the following schedule may be followed in changing from whole milk to the substitute:

First week—Whole milk.
Second week—Whole milk, one part, and one-half part grain.
Third week—Three parts whole milk, one part grain.
Fourth week—Whole milk and grain, equal parts.
Fifth week—Whole milk one part, grain three parts.
Sixth and seventh weeks—Should be equal parts milk and grain.
Eighth week—Milk less than grain. Milk less to be very high in price to justify the use of substitute during the first two weeks of the calf's life.

Right Care of Horse in Harvest Quite Important

Horses working in the best should be fed only a limited amount of hay in the morning and the noon feeds, and should be given a liberal amount of grain, preferably oats, with from 10 to 20 per cent of bran added. They should be watered in the morning before being fed and should be allowed water again after feeding. At noon, when a horse is in the field they should be given a limited amount of water. If they are not followed by feed and again be watered before going to the field. The water should also be given in the evening feed, and when they are given all the water they will drink.

It is an excellent practice, also, to water the horse in the middle of each day. A drink of this kind is as refreshing to the horse as to the man and will be repaid by better service on the part of the horse. The water should also be given to avoid overheating and injury to the wind, which may result in permanent lameness.

The breeder should be warned with cold salt water at night to prevent shoulder galls and neck sores. The collar should also be carefully cleaned when taken off. J. H. Montgomery, University Farm, St. Paul.

Immense Damage Done Annually by Ox Worm

An estimated 100,000,000 annually is caused by the ox worm, a cattle pest found in all parts of the United States. This pest is well known by the milkmen and dairymen in the north or larval form when it produced the little lumps that are found in the cow's milk in the spring. The white worm is very much like the root worm and it resembles a large fly.

Will Erect Monument to Col. Roosevelt in Cuba

New York.—A monument is to be erected to Theodore Roosevelt in the city of Santiago de Cuba to commemorate his part in Cuba's fight for freedom, according to an announcement made at the national headquarters of the Roosevelt Memorial association. The project is in charge of a committee of the Rough Riders' association backed by the Roosevelt Memorial association and the Rotary club of Santiago.

The monument will take the form of a figure in the form of Roosevelt wearing a Rough Rider, set on a granite pedestal. The last is now being modeled by James Earle Fraser, the famous sculptor, whose statue of Alexander Hamilton on the steps of the Treasury department in Washington was recently unveiled by President Harding. Also for the monument has already been selected by a committee of distinguished citizens of Santiago a prominent point of the boulevard leading from the city to San Juan Hill.

"This monument," said Colonel Roosevelt, "will commemorate the day that Colonel Roosevelt himself regarded as the greatest day of his life. Shortly after the battle he stated that he would rather have led the charge up San Juan Hill than to have served seven terms in the United States penitentiary. He frequently remarked in later years that the battle of San Juan Hill had made him freest.

The field it they call out to his place.

Mr. Kull had a large yield last year and he will be better this year. Times he predicted that corn would be a week later than last year in maturing and he says that this will be verified, but that it is still two weeks earlier than in the great corn belt of the Mississippi valley.

He particularly warns against further irrigation as that will delay the maturing of the crop. The samples which Mr. Kull brought today are among the earliest to mature, but not as large as other crops in the field. The corn in the Yellow-belt experiment planned to hit many of which have grown from two to seven big ears.

Old Superstition.
 In Java, where such is made for the body of a drowned person, a live snake is thrown into the water, and if it comes to the surface it is held as the body of the drowned person. To prevent this, the snake is held in a shop in a suit, over which a live snake is given nothing to eat till it dies.

NEW SURVEY ORDERED BY SHORT LINE

Much of the Old Tenmile Line Is Found Unsatisfactory for Heavy Traffic Contemplated Under Present Plans; Will Reduce Grade to One Per Cent Over Summit; Will Be Finished by October 1.

The Oregon Short Line surveyors are to run still another line over the summit northeast of Wells according to authorized information which has just reached the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Several reconstructions have been made over the summit and in the vicinity of the Idaho-Nevada state line to insure the selection of the most feasible route possible for the new railroad. The maximum grade of the proposed line is to be two per cent, which indicates standard main line construction.

While road progress is being made by the surveyors, the work will require considerably longer time than was at first estimated. The maximum grade is so great that the surveying cannot be completed until the latter part of September or the beginning of October. Apparently, but little, if any, of the old survey meets the exacting requirements as to grade and curves of the new road which it is now proposed to build. The indications are that considerable volume of through traffic will be routed over the new line through Twin Falls.

The information received today by the chamber of commerce concerning the new survey is mostly attributed to high Short Line officials in Boise recently that the survey would be located on the Rogers-Wells line as to let the contract for construction about October 1.

Twin Falls County Sends Lambs to the Salt Lake Sale

Other consignors included Carlwood from Phil and Clark and Robert Blacklock, president of the American Association of American Mr. Blacklock has just returned from an overseas trip where he visited England, Scotland, and Wales. Prejudice Against Heavy Lambs in Many Quarters

Of late years there has been a growing prejudice among consumers against heavy lambs. There is no doubt that the texture of meat of a large animal is coarser than that of a small one, but the difference is so slight that it would take a scientist to detect it.

The real trouble is that in certain quarters the word lamb has become a mere plastic. It has been applied to sheep of all ages with the result that the consumer feels that he is getting a bargain.

In reality lambs are no exception to the general rule. Small animals of other classes are not usually preferred to large ones. There is no doubt that lamb properly grown up to 175 or 200 pounds weight is better food than that of any other animal of the same age. At the same time, it should be consumed without any marked.

Somehow the heavier breeds are marketed in an unsatisfactory condition for the purpose of keeping the weight within what is considered the market standard. This is done by the use of a large amount of feed.

ALL CONTACTS SURVEILLED BY FINE PROSPECTS

Assurance of Hotel with Sewer and Waterworks Adds to Certainty of Railroad in Making Residents Work with View in the Camp.

That everybody at Contact is working with enthusiasm and with assurance of success, owing to the certainty of the speedy construction of the railroad from Rogers to Wells is the statement of J. A. Clair of the Contact Towing company, who returned last night from the big copper district where he went with C. A. DeVaux of California and Texas, who on his return announced the construction of a hotel and improvements to cost $250,000 in the immediate future. The plans include the building of a five-story hotel, modern in every respect with a sewer system and waterworks system.

The townsite of Contact on which the hotel is to be constructed, has been the property of the Gray company and the fact that he now holds it and is proceeding with so much confidence to invest so much money in it is an assurance that he has the absolute assurance that he will see the railway of the line in the near future.

So confident of the success of the venture are Mr. DeVaux and his associates that tracks and other machinery are partly on the ground already, and the material needed will be purchased locally.

KIDDIES' DISPORT AT TOURIST PARK

Children's picnic supreme in the tourist park met and this morning. If a count had been made this morning, the least number of people would have been from Arkansas traveling in a covered wagon. It was a most interesting party with Miss Mousie second, with a party of small children, and a family with 2 or 3 children had no showing whatever.

The children were not only conspicuous in number but by their conduct. Tourists camping near the tourist park were surprised and laughed, but all good naturedly. They reported that last night there was an interesting party among the small campers than in usually of the park. This morning games of football, jack knife, marbles and other games were in progress in nearly all corners of the park. And the grown-ups enjoyed looking on as much as the youngsters enjoyed the games.

Agister Lien Not Necessarily Ahead

That while he ruled in the case of Gould & Frost the preference of the plaintiffs took precedence over the mortgage of the Portland Cattle Loan company, this was because the contract for feed, which was made by the plaintiffs, constituted an lien, was made prior to the chattel mortgage, was a statement by the court which should be of interest to the lender of the reduction of the amount of the United States to a relatively low price.

The Times correctly stated, "Gould & Frost of Hild had an agister's lien which took precedence over a chattel mortgage which was not specifically giving the reason why it did and this was construed by some to mean that the court ruled that an agister's lien, flowing from a contract made after the filing of a chattel mortgage, would take precedence over such mortgage, which was not stated, and would not have been true if it had been stated.

PIONEER STUDIO MAKES BIG PICTURE OF SHOSHONE FALLS

One of the largest photographs ever sent out from this city was shipped this week by the Babcock studio. The picture is in black and white and is a sepia tone. It is one of Mr. Babcock's most popular photographs of Shoshone Falls.

It is understood that the buyer of the view will have it hung in the Butte Chamber of Commerce. The Babcock studio has been better than similar orders last year. It is a most interesting picture of Shoshone Falls.

This might be considered as another evidence that money is gradually being brought more plentiful and that the Twin Falls country is on the way back to its former prosperity.

Leigh Banbury Will Continue His Courteous Treatment of Our Patrons During September Before Returning to California

We are surely encouraged and gratified over the generous patronage rewarding our efforts to conduct a nice, clean, comfortable swimming pool. This season has been the best of our four seasons' experience.

We wish to express our thanks to the schools of the surrounding towns for their class meets and picnics during May. We had with us the schools from Shoshone, Gooding and Gooding college, Bliss, Hagerman, Wendell, Jerome, Bluff, Castleford and Filer.

The biggest week day we had, except July 4th, was when Gooding and Filer schools happened to meet on the same day. We thank all of these schools for this year's patronage and hope to have the pleasure of their company again next summer.

We Heartily Thank You All BANBURY NATATORIUM
