The Twin Falls Rotary and Kiwanis clubs together with a number of other loyal citizens put over one of the biggest campaigns for the Boy Scout work that has been finished in this city for many months. They are not congratulating themselves but the future citizens of this part of Idaho should do so. We are glad too that "Bill" Seiffley does not have to leave his happy home.

An announcement in the Times yesterday by President Bill Seiffley that Twin Falls had gone over the top in the Boy Scout drive was exceedingly welcome and appreciated. The Boy Scout movement includes people of all churches and all political parties and draws the line on no coming man who desires to grow up living an honorable and useful life.

The postmaster of the Twin Falls office states that business in his building has increased more than 20 per cent during the month of October which has just passed. This is indeed a good sign if we are to judge by signs and, we believe, the future is judged more or less by these signs. Business men generally state that the volume of sales has been growing with them and the general tone seems to be improving rapidly. We have a long way to go before we get back to normalcy, but we are glad that we are crawling up rather than sliding down.

We have been publishing from time to time lists of boys and girls names who have won a place on the honor-roll, but if these records are perused carefully the average reader will notice that there are many more on the roll of honor for not being absent and tardy than are there because of high school grades. We do not wish to minimize the importance of being neither absent nor tardy, but this is not sufficient boys and girls; you should get a higher grade than just being able to say "I was neither absent nor tardy last month." Let's hope that the parents of these children will take sufficient interest in their young to do something to get them on a higher honor roll than the above mentioned.

Without organization in modern life nothing can be done. Unless the people of Twin Falls in the business capacity get together and act together, they will not accomplish all that is possible for them to accomplish, and to the degree that they fail to cooperate to that end will they fail to function 100 per cent. We are going to get the railroad next year; perhaps work on it will begin soon. Unless the people in business here are all working together by that time, they will have more difficulty in making this a great trading center and wholesale center. Because San Francisco and Oakland did not work together to their fullest extent, Los Angeles, less favorably situated is ahead, and the cities at the Golden Gate are just waking up and seeking to recover lost barrels. In this struggle either or both will need the cooperation of the first factors on the new line from Wells to Twin Falls. It will not get into the Chamber of Commerce and work together the interests of Twin Falls will be secured.

TWIN FALLS TO HEAR NOTED SINGER

The next number on the Lyceum course will be put on next Tuesday evening and promises to be up to the high standard set for the program this year. Tandy McKeown, the singer of Hawaii, has a wide reputation and his number will undoubtedly be a treat. The number of five singers and musicians who have appeared in Twin Falls during the past year indicates that the reputation of the city for appreciative audiences has spread abroad.

THE QUEST FOR HAPPINESS

I wouldn't have run away from home if I had ever been treated like other girls—if I had been allowed to have a little fun. I wanted a little happiness, and I had to go away from home to get it.

These are the words of a 17-year-old girl who ran away from home to the city, was arrested and sent back home.

She was only a slip of a girl, with an innocent face, well educated, honest-hearted.

It is only another of the many, many instances of the sorrowful mistake that both children and parents often make—a mistake which renders impossible that happiness for which we all are searching.

The simple story teaches a big lesson.

The home, of all places in the world, ought to be the source of truest happiness to parents and children alike. It ought to be pervaded by an air of perfect confidence and understanding.

But it too often fails in its mission, and its members are driven out into the world on a question for what they think is happiness.

There is a volume of pathos in the simple statement of this young girl that she wanted happiness and that she had to go away from home to get it.

Noticed the Change.
When a sister had but little hair at the world worth doing, we must not wait until it grows much longer, then we have a heavy good looking hair and the baby's hair, he notices the change? "Don't her hair get longer?"

Must Jump In.
The fact is that to do anything to this world worth doing, we must not wait until it grows much longer, then we have a heavy good looking hair and the baby's hair, he notices the change? "Don't her hair get longer?"

Largest Slave-Holder.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 4
WORLD-WIDE PROHIBITION—WORLD'S TEMPERANCE SUNDAY.

LESSON TEXT—Ps. 111:4-8; Prov. 12:29-36.
GOLDEN TEXT—"I will not see wine when I drink; before me shall not be wine."—Prov. 31:6.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Taking Care of Our Bodies.
SECONDARY TOPIC—The Effects of Alcohol.
BIBLICAL MEDICAL AND PHYSIOLOGICAL TOPIC—Progress of Prohibition at Home and Abroad.
SOCIAL AND ADULT TOPIC—The Fight Against Liquor.

1. Principles of a Righteous Life (Ps. 101:3-8).
This is a psalm of David the king, and therefore shows the conduct of a ruler. It is divided into two sections—the first verses 3-4, and the second, 5-8, to the government of others. This part of the psalm can only refer to the destruction of the altar in the temple that all evil is to be uprooted and destroyed.

1. Personal Conduct (Ps. 101:3-4). (1) Kindness (vs. 3). (2) Good behavior (vs. 2). (3) All wickedness put away (vs. 3); all wickedness put away (vs. 4).
2. Government of Others (vs. 5-8). Only one is right in his own heart and he is at the center. A righteous man will be against (1) the slanderer (vs. 5). He will not tolerate such in his presence. (2) The man who is drunk (vs. 6). A righteous man and the liar are to be removed from his sight. (3) All workers of evil (vs. 7). It is the duty of rulers to see that all workers of wickedness of all kinds be cut off. The manufacturer and seller of liquor should be regarded as notorious workers of iniquity. Those who blight mankind for world gain are greatly wicked.

3. The Drunkard's Bitter End (Prov. 23:29-35).
1. Woe of those who indulge in wine (vs. 29). (2) The woe of those who cause wine to cry out, "Oh! Many, indeed, are the pains which men suffer because of strong drink. Identify the innumerable evils that are traced to its evil influence. (3) The bitter result, which causes one to cry out, "Alas! Many are the expressions of grief and regret which daily come from the lips of the drunkard. (4) Convention—sins and quarrels. The drunkard is always ready to take offense, and will strive to give it. (5) Habits and complaints. The winebibber's complaint is always the same. He is a victim of fate and of God. He sees everything wrong but himself. (6) Wounds without cause. These are wounds from "right to left"—a soldier-man would not have engaged, and from accident, and the result of intoxication. (7) Redness of eyes. This has reference to the bloodshot eye of the fighter which aims his vision. All these were coming upon those who larry long at wine.

1. The Attitude of Wine (vs. 31).
The drunkard's attitude toward the way of temptation. The only safe attitude toward strong drink is the attitude of avoidance, and the only way to total abstinence is not to even look at it.

2. The Drunkard's Bitter End (vs. 32-35).
1. Acute Miseries. "It biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." Strong drink, like the poison of a serpent, penetrates the whole system and ends in the most fatal consequences. 2. Intoxication of the senses. This excitement causes the eye to behold strange things. This denotes the fantastic images produced on the brain of the drunkard. Even when delirium tremens does not result, there are awful fancies which are beyond the possibility of realization. "Thou shalt see thine heart utter perverse things. His moral sense being prevented, his utterances portray the same. It is the fear; his words cannot be relied upon.

3. He is Inevitably in Danger (vs. 24).
His downfall, even at one who would lie in the top of a ship's mast where there is the greatest danger of falling off.

4. He is Inevitably in Pain (vs. 23).
The drunkard is utterly ignorant of what happens to him while under the influence of strong drink. Many feelings and wounds the drunkard has which he cannot account for.

The contest for membership—

Women to attract must Radiate Health!

BEAUTY is the magnet which attracts all eyes—draws back beauty—health—working silently—red blood tingling through the veins—the glow of youth in the cheeks—the spring of exuberance, of vim, of vitality in the walks—the ever graceful air untroubled by care or worry—All the charms of beauty. All the joys of health.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness that is not faded.

But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that career for attractiveness—that beauty? Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty. Attractive health—radiates beauty. Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty. Attractive health—radiates beauty. Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty. Attractive health—radiates beauty.

CAMPAIGN PLANS ARE UNDER WAY

Chamber of Commerce Campaign Executive Committee Selects Three Majors for Membership Crusade Beginning November 15; Teamwork Necessary for Greater Twin Falls.

The chamber of commerce campaign plans are developing rapidly and successfully. An important step was taken today when the campaign executive committee selected J. H. Graham, J. A. Kester and I. H. Masters as majors to lead the team work organization which will put the intensive campaign for membership November 15, 14 and 16. Three majors will meet today to select captains, then these captains will select all workers each making a team of seven men.

The campaign publicity committee today issued this statement: "The Greater Twin Falls chamber of commerce is to be built on the proved fact that a community can only be bettered by the intelligent use of its own resources. It is the duty of every citizen to serve intelligently the public welfare and apply the same to the team work of community affairs."

"Twin Falls can have whatever advancement and happiness it wants, but it must want those things badly enough to give the necessary effort necessary to their attainment. The modern chamber of commerce is the spirit of the community. It is a permanent and efficient public institution through which citizens may make his financial and personal investment for community progress. Twin Falls can get out of its present economic depression and the citizens of the city put into it in constructive manner, no more, no less."

Pays Big Dividends. "A modern chamber of commerce will pay big dividends—if the expense of other communities is to be taken as a guide. In the opinion of business and community leaders here, the dividends of precisely the same character we invite in a truly responsible and financially sound chamber of commerce. The dividends return in increased population, in increased values, in increased tax sources and in the opportunity that is given you to help in the building of the greater city."

"It is only necessary to observe the achievements of other communities that can be accomplished through a united citizenship organized to work for the good of the community. Our own chamber of commerce with its limited income and handicapped by small membership has done many constructive things. A few of these accomplishments listed below has shown us our own great possibilities."

"Work done in promoting the new Rosecrans-Wells railroad has been the greatest work of the chamber of commerce that will give the Twin Falls community and city business in general."

"Direct assistance has been given to the farmers in furnishing emergency harvest labor as well as continuing efforts put forth to secure lower freight rates. We intend our entire organization to the farmers' committee on information and the canal board to effect the organization and bond election of the American Falls district. General advertising, effective support and maintenance of the tourist park, proper handling of correspondence, mailings, massing publicity, and various local entertainments and publicity stunts have been arranged to attract business, pleasure, investors and shoppers to Twin Falls. Money has been saved to businessmen by constant check on the investigation of solicitation calls through activities of the blue card committee."

Railroads and the Commercial Lines Need Telegraphers

"That the railroad and commercial telegraph offices are in need of operators and have been for some time is the statement today of F. A. White of Denver, who says that operators can be secured in good positions. White is opening a school over the Golden Rule street Monday afternoon. White is a train dispatcher for 20 years, for several years of which time he was chief dispatcher. He has had 10 years of service on press work on the U. P., the A. P. and the Denver where for the business a total period of 28 years, 10 years of which were as commercial telegrapher for the Postal Telegraph and Western Union systems."

LOCAL BRIEFS

Error in Butter Bill—There was an error in the price of butter and butter in the Times yesterday, which is corrected today.

Telegraph School to Open—F. E. White of Denver will open a school of telegraphy in rooms over the Golden Rule next Monday.

Cover Goes in Prison—E. J. Noonan, sentenced last week by Judge Holbeck for passing a forged check, was taken to the penitentiary today by Sheriff M. E. Kitch.

Christian Science Talk Tonight—W. W. Patterson will give a talk on Christian Science at the high school auditorium tonight, at 8 o'clock as previously announced. He is from New York City and is said to be a very able speaker.

Fair Weather is Predicted—Fair weather is predicted for the next 24 hours by the U. S. government report and the Dr. H. A. Parrott barometer and both stood right up and down and even had a little sprinkle came down.

Many Things Shipped out—These are busy days at the depot and the air resembles that of a manufacturing city, with the heavy smoke of the freight engines. Agent D. E. Sullivan says that immense amounts of grain, spools, auto tires, apples and other products are being shipped. He says that he has not had time to begin to check up on last month's totals.

Nagar Employee Scalded—Larry Kelen, who lives three miles north of the city and who has been employed by the city for some time, was scalded by a hot water pipe which the lock blew off a Kelly pump, but he got out of the water in time and was taken to the hospital. He is in Twin Falls County General hospital. The doctor is said to believe that he will recover completely.

Court is Sustained—The supreme court yesterday gave its decision sustaining the ruling of Judge Givlin of Jefferson county. In the divorce case of Goldie Morrison and Frank Morrison, according to information received here by Bethwell & Co., attorneys at law, the supreme court sustained the divorce granted by Judge Givlin. The divorce was granted on the ground of desertion involving a reduction of the amount of alimony allowed the plaintiff in the lower court.

Held Many Dresses—Almost half of the dresses advertised by the Idaho Department Store in the Times Wednesday evening were sold out by Thursday night. It was announced at the store that it is expected that the rest of the dresses will be gone long before the expiration of this event.

Asen Alcohol. "Up to the present there no industrial use has been made of acorn, but recent experiments show that alcohol can be made from them. Shelves are packed with acorn, 40 per cent of starch, which can be readily ascertained and then converted into alcohol."

Fool Question. T. B. asks: "Is a man always contented with his lot if he has a dream house on it? No, there also must be a garage."

Armistice Day Observance Is Under Discussion

"The question of the observance of Armistice day and the extent thereof has been raised in the city by the proclamation of Governor Charles F. Dillon. It is a matter now being discussed by the city council. The date to be observed; November 11 falling on Sunday. The rules passed on by merchants in this city regarding the closing in that the stores shall close on certain occasions which are national holidays, and the list does not include Armistice day. Last year, the stores closed from 12 a. m. to 4 p. m. and the program of the legion held in the New Orpheum at 7 o'clock. Governor D. W. Davis proclaimed Armistice day as a holiday last year."

ALL SAINTS EVE CELEBRATED IN TOWN OF FILER

FILER, Idaho—All Saints' eve was celebrated in Filer, this year following a number of similar parties, the eighth grade of the Central school participated with a musical party in the basement of the school building on last Friday evening. A number of the members of the school were also present to enjoy the fun.

At the high school the members of the four classes combined in a general make party and frolic that was followed later by an hour of dancing at the Odd Fellows' hall in honor of the visiting Hurley football team. At the best party of a fictitious character Theodore Hicks was a sardonic carrying a banner marked "Votes for Women," received the prize. Refreshments appropriate to the season were served by the students before retiring to the hall.

On Tuesday evening the Filer Young Men's club entertained at the high school in honor of their different schools of the town. The entertainment was planned to take place at the reception that had been held annually for the teachers and was a marked success. The evening was spent in playing basketball games that were played between teams composed of clubs, members and ladies of the faculty and another between the husbands of club members and the men of the faculty, the personnel playing were Mesdames M. J. Good, J. Mallory, G. Brown, F. Abin, C. Tucker and E. Pack, and Messrs Andrews, Berg, Graybill, Stevens, Gray and Mrs. Brown, who was from the former town with a goodly margin but in a well contested game. Miss Andrews of the high school faculty, proving too strong a center and all-round player for the opposing team, was the star of the evening. Her skill at Moscow where she was a basketball captain and star, making her play an outstanding feature of the evening.

In the game for the men, Messrs. O. Stealy, C. W. Coak, A. Craig, A. Small and Raymond Graves were matched against Messrs. G. Deaman, H. Peck, F. Brize, C. Tucker and Tomlinson, the faculty team winning by a narrow margin from the opposing team in a hotly contested game that was a thriller from start to finish, and especially so when young Mr. Tomlinson of the high school faculty appeared to be seriously injured and a physician being called. Dr. McMillan, the local veterinarian responded and producing a lengthy butcher knife from his coat, carefully removed the trouble which proved to be four yards of unbroken wire that had lodged in Mr. Tomlinson's abdomen. At the conclusion of the games the guests repaired to the assembly room where five of the club members presented a farce, entitled "Spooks." The cast was unusually well taken and the playlet produced a fitting pleasant closing for the entertainment of the evening which closed with the serving of dairy Italian refreshments. The evening being cordial that had been made attractive with the color of the season in decorating the tables and walls.

The Boy Scouts stand for a square deal.

BODY OF BABY IS FOUND IN CANAL BY J. COMPTON

When Jim Compton went down to look at the fish in the pool under the bridge across the high line canal yesterday afternoon he found the body of a prematurely born infant wrapped in a copy of a Salt Lake City paper of July 1 and weighed down with a rock.

Mr. Compton went to the home of J. W. McPhail and Mrs. McPhail at once to show the object of the search. Deputy Sheriff E. F. Preter, Prosecuting Attorney Taylor and Deputy Coroner E. G. Sturdivant went to the scene at once and found the infant under a board where Compton had left it. It is assumed that the body was thrown from the bridge by those wanting to dispose of it. No clue has been found. The water in the high line is low and clear and Mr. Compton saw no way fish that he decided to have a closer look, and noticed the paper. He stepped into the mud and reached down pulled it out the bank. It was 4:50 Thursday when the officers got to town.

Narrow Escape of Tourists When the Auto Turns Turtle

Nobody was injured beyond a few bumps when the car of Irwin Hutchinson turned over near Hills Saturday afternoon and threw the occupants, consisting of Hutchinson, Mrs. Hutchinson, his wife and little baby, mother and step-father out. The Hutchinsons live at Kinshut Falls, Ore., and were coming to visit Mrs. Lincoln and family to whom they are related.

The steering gear got out of order and the brakes failed to work promptly. Fortunately the car turned to the right and did not run over an embankment.

WE HAVE GOT $9000
We have got the $2000 needed for the "Boy Scout" was the statement of President W. T. Sully of the Rotary club this afternoon when asked about the fund-raising on the drive. He said that they did not have the details figured out, but knew they had the sum named.
