PRESIDENT COOLIDGE FAVORS WORK COURT

RAILROADS CLAIM SMALL PROFITS FOR '23

Transportation Lines Handled Large Volume of Business During Year But Claim That Profits Only Amount to About Five and Three-Fourths Per Cent on the Capital Stock.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Though the railroads of the country handled more freight traffic during the first nine months of 1923 than during the corresponding period of the reported earnings probably will not amount to more than 2 1/2 per cent on the face value of the property, it was stated today in the annual report of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Outstanding features in the report were: 1.—The unprecedented volume of traffic handled. 2.—The concurrent transformation of a car shortage to a surplus. 3.—Doubtful distribution of available equipment.

The transportation record was made possible by the control of power and cars, new locomotives and cars placed in service and increases in mileage per car per day and the loading of equipment, the report said. The net railway operating income for the year 1923 will approximate $1,000,000,000 the report said.

BUSINESS SHOWS IMPROVEMENT ON PACIFIC COAST

By ROBERT A. DONALDSON. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—Business, industry and increasing confidence on the Pacific coast will continue to show increasing prosperity during the coming year, in the opinion of Robert Goldwell, financier. The past year has been the most prosperous in the history of California, he declared.

San Francisco's docks are congested with shipping, both incoming and outgoing, Goldwell said. "The volume of business handled through the Golden Gate, particularly to the Orient ports, is larger than ever before. It is showing a steady gain month by month.

Real estate is booming. Sales in all parts of the state are mounting at a volume never before equaled. Blank rice, building permits, and receipts of the retail trade are showing steady gains. Industries are prospering.

This shows 300 planes of the Italian forces drawn up awaiting inspection by Premier Mussolini. Italy's air force is growing.

TAX REDUCTION BILL INTRODUCED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—A bill reducing taxes in accordance with Secretary Mellon's program will be introduced in the house of representatives by Representative Green, Iowa, shortly after delivery of President Coolidge's message today, Secretary Mellon was informed in conference with Green and other house leaders.

Mellon, it was indicated at the treasury department today, has been assured by administration leaders in the house that tax reduction will have a fitting place on the house program.

The Green bill will provide for reductions in the income tax on earned income.

Kidnaper of Little Mother Is Arrested

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Edward Bonick, 22, of Joliet, Ill., was arrested here today, suspected of kidnaping Rose Boritz, 12, the "little mother" of Mont Carlo, who disappeared Sunday.

Bonick's description, according to police, compares with that of a man with whom Rose was last seen.

The suspect admits, police say, that he lured in the vicinity of schools to attract young girls.

Police held three charges in connection with the disappearance.

One is that the girl is held captive; another that she has been abducted; and a third, that she has been forced to go away with a "foster" working in a switch yard west of the city.

UNEMPLOYED ARE SHOT BY GERMANS

WANNE, Germany, Dec. 6.—Seven unemployed were killed and many wounded, when thousands in a huge demonstration battled with police in front of the city hall today.

A small army of jobless also demonstrated at Leipzig.

RENTS ARE HIGH BECAUSE NO NEW HOMES BUILT

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—"Every city in America is suffering from high rents caused by the acute housing shortage," Lawrence Vetter, executive officer of the National Housing Association, who is president at the ninth national conference on housing, in America, said today.

"When there is once more a surplus of dwellings, landlords will be forced to reduce their rental charges," he said.

"The housing problem today is the problem of enabling the great mass of people who want to live in decent surroundings and bring up their children under proper conditions to have such an opportunity.

"It is also to a very large extent the problem of providing other people who do not enjoy decent conditions or are unable to achieve them from maintaining conditions which are a menace to their neighbors, their community and to civilization," Vetter said.

THE BALANCE OF POWER

PREACHER HAS ORGANIZED TO CLOSE DANICES

Pastor of Small Town in Illinois—Has Organized His Flock into a Force of Vigilantes and They Will Guard Road House to Prevent Traffic; from Entering This Den of Vice.

PLAINFIELD, Ill., Dec. 6.—Rev. G. E. Courter, militant pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church here, today organized his sturdy villagers to act as a living picket fence around the notorious dancing pavilion. Saturday night, after one hour's vigil against the invasion of Chicago's jazz band, the pastor is determined to close up the dance pavilion by his own force.

Last Saturday night at the head of his church, Rev. Courter presided in his church, Rev. Courter presided over the "show," a road house which had been opened in the town approximately 200 men and women, boys and girls, against the evils of getting parties, drinking and dancing.

"I am not a reformer of a half but I am a reformer of the whole," he told the Illinois Free Press today. "But I am determined to keep this town clean, I am determined to keep this town clean, I am determined to keep this town clean."

"We closed up the 'black.' Now we are going to close up the 'white.' Which will mean they would have to stop the wild parties, it was told, the Illinois Free Press said today.

He said he was going to stop the wild parties from doing business.

HOUSTON, Texas, Dec. 6.—They didn't give me justice," George Vexant, found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of his driver, Miss Gertrude Elmer, said today in discussing the verdict.

"I understand what I did, but I don't understand what I did. I wanted to die for what I did."

PRISONER ASKS DEATH PENALTY

HOUSTON, Texas, Dec. 6.—They didn't give me justice," George Vexant, found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of his driver, Miss Gertrude Elmer, said today in discussing the verdict.

"I understand what I did, but I don't understand what I did. I wanted to die for what I did."

HOLLYWOOD IS CROWDED WITH MOVIE FOLKS

Thousands Are Turned Away from Hollywood Because They Expected to Make Their Fortune in the Movie Business But Find the Studios Overrun and No Place for Them.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Dec. 6.—The following is a list of the names of the Hollywood movie stars who are expected to be in the city for the Christmas season.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 6.—A busy day in the year there are about 100,000 people in Hollywood, more than in any other city in the world.

The flood tide of the holiday shows an abatement today, despite the fact that the seasonal exhibition in production has been in progress for several weeks.

This is according to the Hollywood chamber of commerce, which has recently become the most peculiar civic booster organization in the country.

"Don't try to break into the movie business," reads a little notice which says out on every piece of mail or express package leaving Hollywood.

"The letters we get and the foolish questions we are asked would be enough to break down the stoutest of us."

Many Sully Disappointed

"Parasitic make up schools and the number of unemployed who flock here steadily, only to find there is no work and no other means of support."

BOISE: CHURCHES WILL DISCUSS WOULD COURT IDEA SOON

BOISE, Idaho, Dec. 6.—Churches of Boise have decided in calling a mass meeting on December 12 to discuss the world court. It is Mr. Cracker, a former congressman, will preside and speakers will be Mr. Justice John C. Rice and Justice C. P. McCarthy.

CINCINNATI, O.—Nicholas de Albenza, 34, ran to catch a car, collided with a bus and the nose was crushed. A bystander picked up the nose and handed it to police who removed de Albenza to a hospital. The nose was sewed on and will be practically as good as new, surgeons say.

HARDING'S MEMORY HONORED

COOLIDGE'S 1ST MESSAGE

Farmers Are Offered No Relief in President Coolidge's First Message to Congress; Bonus Bill is Opposed; Reduction of Taxes Urged; World Court is Favored, While League of Nations is Condemned; Administration Leaders Are Not Satisfied With Message.

THE CAPITOL, WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 6.—President Coolidge today gave Congress and the American people his program and his platform.

In his first message to congress, a message stamped as the first act of his campaign for the presidency in 1923, the president laid his views on national problems. He dealt, more or less tentatively, with the whole range of national and international affairs.

The message was his first big test as president. The reaction of congress was disappointingly feeble. It was clear before Mr. Coolidge finished that he and his supporters must look for the broader reaction of the whole country before being able to measure the strength of the message.

Mr. Coolidge received the most respectful attention from the house and senate all through the reading of his 7,000-word address. He received considerable applause, but it was for the most part perfunctory and scattered.

His urgent advocacy of the reduction of taxes and his demand for prohibition enforcement was received sullenly. The fact that most of the members of congress read the address days ago and therefore were in no doubt concerning the president's recommendations undoubtedly was a element of dramatic surprise in the message today. There was no element of dramatic surprise in the message today. There was no element of dramatic surprise in the message today.

Representative Kahn, California, chairman of the house military affairs committee, started the bandwagon in connection with his discussion of immigration. "He strong stand in favor of adequate care and adequate hospitalization for veterans of all wars was likewise greeted from all sections of his audience. There is no other question in congress on this matter."

The complete text of the president's message starts on page 4 of this issue. We invite our subscribers to give this message very careful attention as it means much to this nation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Start concerning the prohibition law in the senate and house yesterday. The program of senator Edward I. Edwards, a leader of the so-called wet bloc in the new senate.

The first step of the veto should be to strike the prohibition law who do not vote as they drink," Edwards believes. He is prepared to do this.

The legislative fight of veto shops up like this: "The appropriations of $20,000,000 for construction of a run way and various big appropriations for various unaccountable prohibition bills."

PROHIBITION SHOULD BE ENFORCED IN U.S. CONGRESS FIRST

NEWS BOWLERS WIN FROM THE GOLDEN RULES

618 score. Left out away from a good many splits last night, and seemed to have found the right place to hit 'em.

Lewis showed a lot of improvement, picking up most of his spare and ending with 618 for the evening.

Art Fluke published the final accuracy in the last game, but his list was two felled to put him in the blue ribbon class.

Percy Thompson had a chance to be a hero in the last game, having 145 in the 7th frame, but a couple of errors forced him to be satisfied with 182. The old war horse left roundly into shape, and will take his place among the first few within the next week or two.

Last but not least comes Sir Harry Vasek. Harry did everything but make strikes. His best effort was in the first game when he hit 120, but the second showed him at 114. For shame, Harry.

Dan Sax: These are trying days, but some of us don't try hard enough.

Smashing the staples to the tune of 2531 for the three games and breaking the alley record, the News team made a clean sweep of the series last night from the Golden Rule quiet before the largest crowd of the season.

Starting out in the first game with a score of 902, the newspapermen topped the contest January 29, 1923, the afternoon installing 813 in the stadium. Bob Whitner went home with a score of 211, winning the nickel-plated cup ring.

In the second game the Golden Rule boys dropped to 722 while the News wood smelters continued their onslaught with a total of 825. "Pup" Kieffer started the home-folk in this game by smacking a score of 191 for 14th.

The last game of the evening was a tip superior with the News team rolling: 855 while the Golden Rule boys were pounding out a score of 710. Kieffer tickled his wood for 138 and won the fur-lined arm bands.

ZU ZIMS LOSE TO ROTARIANS

Hard Fought Contest Gave to Older Bowlers by Clear Margins; Large Troop of Rotarians Felt to Hoodlum Bowling Article of Other Days.

The Rotarians and the Zu Zims clashed last night at the Twin Falls bowling alley in a contest that was a bowling contest. The older organization taking care of the Zimmers, by winning the last game with a score of 158. His name, Rotarian President Kelley, hit down the law with a score of 158. His name, Rotarian pitcher from the Lu Lu, or rather the Zu Zim, was Ed Walters, who brought the crowd to its feet (they had to stand any how) with a score of 158.

On the other alley, another Zu Zim veteran smothered the Rotarians 592 to 490. Jack Peavey, who pulled down the polished surface for the 10th of 165, with his leg, pulled up with 148 for the 11th Jumbler, rather the Zu Zim.

Then another set of bowlers went into the ring and—but what's the difference who won? They bowled to have a good time and they had it.

SIDE LIGHTS

Jim Keel forgot about his rheumatism and howled with the rest of them, saying he felt fine. But today—Ah, that's a different story.

Arthur Peavey, Jr. gave the Rotarians a chance by bowling left handed. He claims he never bowled right handed, so the Rotarians allowed him to bowl from the port side.

M. C. Mitchell took a delight in using the ball and the gutter, and the Zu Zims took a delight with him.

Dr. Scott showed what he knew about bowling, and he made it snappy. Doc took off his coat and rolled up his sleeves, just to show the fans there was no trick stuff.

Bill Shill felt out of place, but after being zinned a couple of times he realized that it was just the way in the country than it does in the winter.

John McClinton admitted at the start that he had never bowled before, and after throwing the first two balls in the gutter, he was unaccountably elected George Watson the Second. Of course John was trying to damage the maple wood while George fiddled with the cherry wood but even at that there is a slight connection.

George Eastley showed he is a bowler by striking on the alley three times straight.

Judge Walters was present but did not indulge, claiming he didn't know about bowling, although he admitted hearing "Eck's Peak on the subject once when he was in Colorado.

It was a shame that the Zimmers could win at least one of the first three games, as the girls did so want the Zip Zowies, or rather the Zu Zims, to win, and they went home with heads bowed, left hand down with grief as it were.

Such is the fortune of war, but as one of the Zu Zims said: "We are not through with the Rotarians yet, and if they give us a return game we will etc. and once more etc."

THE CITY DEFICIT

There is nothing very alarming in the fact that there is a deficit of $36,000 instead of a surplus of $12,000 for warrant redemption, so long as the fact that there is such a deficit has been discovered. The present administration will run nearly $10,000 under its budget and if the existence of the deficit had been shown in the costly audit last year, and the administration then in power had adopted similar radical retrenchment in its much larger budget a considerable part of the deficit might have been wiped out. The deficit itself has undoubtedly been growing during nearly all the years of the life of the city, for when times were good and everybody happy it was an easy matter to spend money for the public good, and as things were swimming along nicely, nobody paid very much attention to whether the receipts exceed the expenditure or not.

The old administration did right in securing an audit. It made two mistakes in method. It did not insist that the work be done by a certified public accountant under the laws of Idaho; it "paid too much for its whistle." The result was that the audit was not what it should have been, the deficit was not shown up, as it is now revealed, a phantom fund of $50,000 taxes payable which was nonexistent was discovered as a mirage and the people were led into the delights of a fool's paradise.

When it was determined to have a five year audit, under the Tucker administration bids were called for under certain published conditions. Clarence Van Dusen, certified under the laws of the state of Idaho and a very famous accountant, made a bid, and offered to give a guarantee that he would do the work for a sum not to exceed $2,000. John Wolfenden, who was not a certified accountant under the Idaho laws, offered to do the work at a lower per diem, and estimated that the work would cost the city $3,000, but would not give a guarantee of any sort. Wolfenden's bid was accepted and it cost the city $4,459, and hundreds of dollars for its publication.

Still, the principle of an audit is good. Had there been an audit every year from the foundation of the city, the deficit would never have accumulated. The best thing is to let bygones be bygones. It will not take the city long to get rid of this old legacy of debt, which is after all a small item, and as there will be an annual, understandable, audit in the future, the debt will soon be wiped out.

IS ROMANCE DEAD IN TWIN FALLS?

Romance is not dead in Twin Falls. As one travels back and forth through the city parks, past the various trees and possible places where there is room for a pair of initials, one finds pair after pair that have been made.

Memories of 1,000 forgotten loves are above the newly carved initials, true to all traditions scrawled within a heart. The big penknives are still at work, although there is a tendency today to make the initials smaller and work in a verse now and then when they have time, usually culminating in perhaps one or two lines and a desultory finish.

COOLIDGE VIEWS TOLD IN ADDRESS TO CONGRESS

President in His Message to Lawmakers, Defends Policies.

TO FOLLOW HARDING'S IDEAS

Is Opposed to League of Nations, but Favors World Court—Wants Disabled Veterans Cared For, but Is Opposed to Granting a Bonus.

Washington, Invaluable Coolidge in his first message to the congress had the following recommendations to offer: Since the close of the last congress the nation has had President Harding. The world knew his kindness and his humanity, his greatness and his character. He has been a great success in his life. He has made justice more certain and peace more secure. The surprising tribute paid to his memory at the close of his term of office is not the occasion for extended reference to the man or his work. In this presence, among those who know and loved him, that is unnecessary. But who were associated with him could not remain together the same as our other chief executives. We are proud of his example, to take up the burden which he was permitted to carry. It is our duty under the support the wise principles of government which he represented.

Foreign Affairs.

For us peace means everywhere. We desire to perpetuate it always by granting full justice to others and requiring of others full justice to ourselves. Our country has one cardinal principle to maintain in its foreign policy. It is an American policy. It must be an American policy. We intend to our own affairs, conserve our strength, and protect the interests of our own citizens; but we recognize thoroughly our obligation to the peaceful settlement of the disputes of our own judgment, the time, the place, and the method. We realize the common bond of humanity. We know the responsibility of our leadership.

Our country has definitely refused to adopt and ratify the covenant of the League of Nations. We have not felt warranted in assuming the responsibility which its members have assumed. I am not proposing any change in this policy; neither is the senate. The incident, so far as we are concerned, is closed. The League exists as a foreign entity. We hope it will be helpful. But the United States sees no reason to limit its own freedom and independence of action by joining it. We should be careful to recognize this basic fact in all national affairs and govern ourselves accordingly.

World Court.

Our foreign policy has always been guided by two principles. The one is the avoidance of permanent political alliance which would sacrifice our proper independence. The other is the peaceful settlement of our disputes between nations. By example and by treaty we have advocated arbitration. For nearly 25 years I have been a member of The Hague tribunal, and have long sought the creation of a permanent World Court of Justice. It is in full accord with both of these policies. I favor the establishment of such a court intended to include the whole world. That it has and has been, an American policy.

Pending before the senate is a proposal that this government give assent to the Permanent Court of International Justice, which is a new and somewhat different plan. This is a very important question. It should not assume an artificial importance. The court is merely a convenient instrument of justice in which we should like to see every dispute brought. It should be discussed with entire candor, not by a political but by a judicial method, without reservation and without prejudice. Parisianism has no place in our foreign relations. As I view it, the proposal presents the only practical plan which many nations have ever agreed, though it may not meet every desire. Therefore, I commend it to the favorable consideration of the senate, with the proposal reserving clearly indicating our refusal to adhere to the League of Nations.

Russia. Our diplomatic relations, lately so largely interrupted, are now being resumed. But Russia presents notable difficulties. We have every desire to see that great people, who are our traditional friends, restored to their position among the nations of the earth. We have reflected their pitiable destitution with an enormous charity. Our government offers its abolition to the carrying on of commerce by our citizens with the people of Russia. Our government does not propose, however, in entering into relations with another nation which refuses to recognize the sanctity of international obligations.

Strange Blind Fish of Cuba.

Fishes which dwell in the fresh waters of the United States inhabit the waters of Cuba. Some of these have evidently developed differently from marine forms in the waters they now inhabit. Two of these are eyeless spines, inhabiting streams in caverns. They have no relatives in the fresh waters of any other region. The blind fishes in American rivers belong to a wholly different type. Some of the Cuban fishes are compared to the fresh waters of the other West Indies.

The collar and cuffs, by the way, are of white organdie with black-binding trim in delft or old blue organdie. The "drag" of navy charmen with self-covered buttons. The tiers are straight and the top one is placed so as to cover the seam where the blouse joins the straight one-width-of-material skirt. Even with the tiers, three yards of 54-inch material will do. Having received the findings, Judge Babcock discharged the jury from further service and took the legal questions under advisement. Shearer and Smith are assistants of the Fliter Hardware company. ## JARBIDGE TO BE HELPED BY THE RAILROAD

Machinery Will Be Brought in More Quickly and Cheaply; Tremendous Strike Made by Alpha Mine Where $1000 a Ton in Gold Is Being Produced.

That Jarbridge, which is situated over the immense strike of ore in the Alpha which yields $1,000 to the ton, and looking forward to the opening of the 100-ton mill by the Hlyzer about New Year will be greatly benefited by the construction of the Rogerson to Wells road was the statement made today by W. L. Hudson of the United Gold camp. Mr. Hudson says that the big strike on the Alpha was made on the 400-foot level, the entire shaft is filled with low ore and the width of the vein is unknown.

"We will be able to get our machinery much more quickly from San Francisco than at present," Mr. Hudson said, and the same statement applies to cyanide which comes through San Francisco. The benefit will be very great in this particular. It will also be of great advantage to those having local business in the county since to be able to go straight through from Rogerson instead of going around by Odean. Next summer will be a great one in the camp, and today as many men as ever before will be employed.
