ROGERSON-WELLS RAILROAD STARTS TODAY

LABOR PARTY WINS IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

Conservatives Defeated in British Election; Premier Baldwin Badly Beaten; Labor May Select New Premier.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—A crushing and unexpected defeat was administered to Premier Stanley Baldwin and the conservative party in the general election.

Late this afternoon 313 labor and liberal candidates had been elected. This was more than a majority of the 615 seats in the house of commons and that time 87 constituencies remained to be heard from. At 7:30 p. m. today with only 19 districts to be heard from the standing totals were: Conservatives, 257; Labor, 184; Liberals, 167; Others, 10. Total, 556.

Premier Baldwin Defeated.

The party of a labor premier for England is to be beaten in the unexpected British election results, under which Premier Baldwin and his conservative party were crushed and labor and liberalists elevated to new dominant positions.

Labor Went into the Campaign with a Strong Platform for a Capital Tax.

While the conservatives and liberals and others, but in spite of this opposition labor increased its representation by 100 members. Labor remains the official opposition, the second in power.

With the retirement of Stan Baldwin and the loss of the conservative defeat, a labor-liberal coalition is not considered as likely at this hour. The labor party would not unduly interfere in politics. Hiram M. McDonald for the premiership in view of their second party status, while Edward Lloyd George and others would demand that the liberals would also dominate by demanding for tax reforms of some description, whether or not labor is able to meet its desire for a strait capital tax.

On the other hand, no prediction of the position of the conservatives in the general election under Lord Derby, Herbert Asquith or David Lloyd George. This would virtually a reversion of the Labor Government.

The one big outstanding certainty, however, is that at event no coalition will be formed and an unexpected gains of labor, with the liberalists, makes another general election inevitable in the near future.

The London Daily Mail today reported that "no confederacy has been formed, marked and unexpected appearance of labor with the liberalists, makes another general election inevitable in the near future."

LONDON, Dec. 7.—Unexpected gains by labor in the general election made Prime Minister Baldwin's chances of obtaining re-election almost impossible.

Coupled with gains registered by the conservatives, the labor sweep rendered defeat of the conservative proposal for a capital tax.

"With results from 200 constituencies yet to be heard from, it appears that the conservatives will lead with labor and the liberalists will lead with record for record and no party obtaining a majority large enough to elect a prime minister without a coalition."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The Do-It-Lucky route to Mexico, to distract the public from the treaty agreement between the United States and Mexico which would have strengthened the bonds of friendly relations between the two countries, according to a belief expressed at the state department.

Convict Convicts Suffer from Cold Before Recapture.

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 7.—Shirts of snow sufficient to related tales by four convicts who escaped from Lansing prison Sunday and who were captured huddled around an open fire in a snowdrift, were issued to them. No trace of nine others who escaped at the same time, have been found.

Two of the one-eyed, tall broad Indian, who escaped from the prison led the escape through an abandoned tunnel, told of the hardships met in the bitter cold, well-worn feet.

"We got lost in the woods Sunday night, but I got to the river, crossed by plow and rest by day, we were cold and wet. All of us got severe colds the first night, delaying our return to the prison."

Castro denied that he planned the escape and said he was lured off by another prisoner Sunday afternoon.

The three captured with him were George Dunn, convicted bank robber; James Clegg, a fugitive from justice. All were civilian clothes, which authorities believe were stolen from a store at Jarhale, Kansas.

DAHOA WEATHER.

Fair tonight and Saturday, cooler tonight.

TWO SUBNORMAL BOYS SHOOT PAL

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 7.—Two fourteen year old boys confessed early today that they had shot five year old Arthur Martinez, whose mind is backward, and yesterday wired to a post in an abandoned factory near the outskirts of the city.

The two boys, while Forester and Paul Dohler, first told the police that they found the body of Martinez. They are both attendants at school for subnormal children.

MEXICAN REVOLT IS QUIET IN ALL QUARTERS TODAY

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 7.—Twenty thousand rebels, with 2000 horses, 1000 machine guns and 100 heavy flying planes accompanying the advance, moved against the rebels in the northern states of Coahuila and Nuevo Leon.

It is believed that General Sanche, who headed a revolt against President Obregon in Vera Cruz, has joined the rebels.

It is learned he has sent a general column direct to Jalapa.

A clash is expected before the rebels surrendered, it is believed, this afternoon.

Wallace pointed out that the American government is still in the process of preparation to aid in the disposal abroad of surplus American wheat was recommended today by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace in a speech before the Western Conference on the wheat situation.

Wallace urged that this corporation be converted to a group American wheat producers, and that the heavy buying planes accompanying the advance, moved against the rebels in the northern states of Coahuila and Nuevo Leon.

The sale of a sufficient part of our surplus wheat to countries which are not able to buy it would, therefore, be a good idea.

It is believed that the rebels will unquestionably have a helpful effect on the domestic prices when sold Wallace.

Wallace pointed out that the American wheat farmer today is suffering from a combination of low prices and heavy supply. He said the present price of wheat is equivalent to only about 20 cents in the pre-war period, the loss incurred to be minimized.

TIMES WINS ODD GAME WITH TROY BOWLERS

Two Fast Games Were Rolled Last Evening but the Second Was a "Doubled-up" as Far as Real Bowling Games Go.

The result of three and also won on Total Pin by an 18 lead.

The Times bowling team retained its place at the top of the list when they took the odd game from the Troy Laundry quartet after three games that were bitterly contested throughout.

No records were broken, but the fast times and high ball counts particularly in the last game where the Times boys nosed out a victory, 880 to 877. This was by far the best game of the year, which reached a climax at top speed, in this game Paul King was high with a score of 203.

The first game involved both teams in a tight struggle, but in the second game, won by the players got their bearings and the Times team managed to roll away with a 100 lead over Catherine 225. Charley Brueckner and Bill Bailey led for both honors in this game with 183 each.

In the third game the Times first seemed to be resting, the Troy outfit winning by a score of 742 to 743. With the exception of the King, Brueckner and Bailey, all of the Times team bowled far below their standard. Hank, however, won the fleece-lined cap in this game with a score of 193.

The lady who was not too heavily endowed with either cerebral matter or speculative fancy was visiting the noon. The keeper, with considerable tact, told her she had better go to the north where was $100. She did not suppose that's awfully old, responded the unimaginative one. "But what difference does it make to a tumor?"

Smallest City Hall at Liererville, Pa.

A pointy new to bear a city hall, but has been around since the city hall; but it is very rare, indeed, that you hear talk of the smallest. The city hall shown here is at Liererville, Pa., and it is the smallest city hall in the world. It is eight feet high, ten feet deep, and eight feet wide.

Bottle, Centuries Old, Forecaster of Weather

Path. Acad. of Sciences has sent a committee to a Brittany village to examine a mysterious bottle which is reported to foretell the weather with startling accuracy.

The bottle is sealed and contains a mixture of oil and water which is always liquid. It has been used for prognostication for three centuries, having been handed down from father to son for ten generations.

Round clusters gather in the bottle when the weather is bad, and white spots appear when it is going to snow. When ball is coming, the liquid grows viscous.

The accuracy of the bottle is so well known in the neighborhood that the family are often asked to telephone and find out whether to leave hay lying in their fields or what the weather is to be.

Two generations ago the family owned another such a bottle, but it burst and was lost. They have had during a September ball storm followed by a rainfall and then a drou-

Some real lively bowling games are being played each evening at the Twin Falls Bowling Alleys and those who enjoy this sort of sport should take time off to watch this sport.

Filer, credited by the census with a population of 1012, has thirty-nine students attending colleges. Many of these are boys and girls from the farms. The number in college is suggestive of general prosperity in the Filer district.

The snow of last evening is a welcomed visitor to our tract and will do much good to all concerned. It is time that our winter starts and some are of the opinion that winter does not begin until snow flies. This will help business in general and will not be a great hindrance to the other industries. The young will enjoy the snowshoeing and the older people will huddle closer to the stove or the furnace as the case may be.

Frank Inlow bought forty acres of raw sagebrush land near Wendell, cleared the same and seeded it to red clover and alfalfa. The second year he took $1100 worth of seed from eight acres and had a good crop of hay. He then sold his forty for $4000 more than he paid for it, and moved on a forty-acre tract owned by his father-in-law. He has now leased an adjoining forty. My Inlow is another man who thinks Idaho is all right.

England stands pat on the tariff policy which it adopted in 1914, results from the various election seats indicate today. There is one feature that is a surprise and that is the size of the labor vote, which in Great Britain is much more radical in tendency than the American Federation of Labor. Protection is hopelessly beaten and would have been unless the conservatives had won by at least 30 majority since nearly 20 prominent conservatives are free-traders. The chances seem to favor a conservative-liberal coalition. This will mean that the present tariff policy of the Liberals will be continued and that the latter can force through some moderate reform measures that will suit the more mild of the planks of the laborites, without accepting the more extreme measures of the party led by the radical but very able Arthur Henderson.

It is very unfortunate that the family found in destitute circumstances this week, which is said to be only the more extreme of several similar cases, should have come here in search of work on the strength of the idea that there would be lots doing in account of the construction of the railroad south. There will be no place for extra men on that account before spring. The Utah Construction company already has in its service all the men that it needs and can pick up additional help locally wherever it requires them.—The field at Coeur d'Alene is well-filled. There are about 20 at work at Jurbridge, and everybody is full handed there. The moving of American Falls will not take place until spring. The farm work is practically all done and the sugar factory will close in about two weeks, throwing several hundred more out of employment.

A NEGATIVE, CONSERVATIVE MESSAGE

By JAMES D. WHELAN:

Those who looked for an ultra-conservative document from President Coolidge will not be disappointed at the address presented yesterday. With a few exceptions the message, let it be said in no offensive sense, bears in upon the altar of Bilibrium, "The God of Things as They Are." He assumes that the League of Nations issue is a closed incident. The history of mankind and of America show that there is no way of waving an issue out of existence with a wave. The loss of an election does not settle a question that cries to heaven for an answer. President Coolidge's idea of world court discussion which can be carried on indefinitely at leisure, in regard to a tribunal to which we and all of our allies could go, or from which they might remain away, without violation of moral obligation in either case, will not arouse much enthusiasm. That the rest of the world will abandon the present court to establish such court is unthinkable. The president makes a plausible argument for a weak court that will not be established and is not worth establishing.

The president defends the present Esch-Ummons law, wherein he will find himself in opposition to practically all the democrats and to many republicans. He properly favors freight readjustment for farmers, but proposes no plan.

He rightly opposes the recognition of Russia but does so for the weakest reason. There might under certain circumstances be reason for recognition of a government that under pressure had been forced to repudiate its debts but as that practice is, there can be no reason for recognizing a state that uses its diplomatic corps to foment trouble in friendly states. Yet this last argument is overlooked while the other is emphasized. He correctly points out that we can trade with Russians without recognition and are doing so, and properly says this should be encouraged.

The tariff law is praised in a conservative and guarded way, but to his credit he said, the president does not urge an increased and futile tariff as a remedy for the wheat farmers. On the other hand, his foreign policy does not hold out much hope of opening markets abroad through stabilization.

Some kindly things are said of the colored population and the generalities regarding protection of their rights, where violated is sound, but he seems to have no plan since he throws the whole back to local mutual performance. The president says some kind of things of civil service, much disregarded of late. He coldly rejects the soldier bonus plan.

The president properly insists on enforcement of the prohibition law and properly favors restriction of immigration in our capacity for assimilation. In favoring a constitutional amendment permitting the extension of the minimum wage and regulation of child labor, President Coolidge sounds the first definite and positive note in a very peaceable message.

On the general subject of reclamation he says nothing, but so far as the issue of deferred payments is concerned, the following which is all he has to say on the subject sounds good.

By reason of many contributing causes, occupants of our reclamation projects are in financial difficulties, which in some case are acute. Relief should be granted by definite authority of law, empowering the secretary of the interior in his discretion to suspend, refund, and reassess all charges against water users. This whole question is being considered by experts. You will have the advantage of the facts and conclusions which they may develop. This situation, involving a government investment of more than $145,000,000 and affecting more than 300,000 water users, is serious. While relief which is necessary should be granted, yet contrasted with the government which can do not should be no. The established general policy of these projects should not be abandoned for any private control.

A Case of Intolerance

By REV. J. H. HALSTON, D.C.
Secretary of Correspondence Department,
Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

TEXT.—If ye do an evil, I will be unto you as an evil—Heb. 12:1.

The question of intolerance in the Lord's service is one of great interest, especially at a time when there is a strong desire among us to unite the world. The bulk of humanity seems to be organized into a number of religious bodies.

Probably the most popular sphere of thought is the question of intolerance to be observed in our service.

As we consider the subject of Christian doctrine, intolerance is illustrated in the conduct of Daniel and the three Hebrews in the fiery furnace in the Old Testament, our Lord Himself was not tolerant of those who deserved His Father's house no money longer. The form His interpretation of the law of God was to command the people to love their neighbor as themselves, but He did not give any man the right to interfere with the love of his neighbor.

Martin Luther came to the place where he found that the further he studied the Word of God, the more he became aware of the previous heritage of sin and the inherent character of man, and England drove them by force of arms to America.

When he sent Peter at Antioch he withdrew him to the fire, for he was to burn.

Philip the Apostle came to the place where he found that the further he studied the Word of God, the more he became aware of the previous heritage of sin and the inherent character of man, and England drove them by force of arms to America.

COOLIDGE'S VIEWS TOLD IN ADDRESS TO CONGRESS

Educational Welfare

Our national government is not doing as much as it legitimately can do to promote the welfare of the people. Out enormous material wealth, our natural resources, in whole form of society, cannot be considered safe until their benefits reach the merit of every individual. This is not a suggestion that the government should control, manage or regulate the people's inevitable products of life. There is no method by which we can either be relieved of the results of our own folly or be guaranteed a peaceful life. There is no method of development or character of industry, of theft, and of self-control. These do not come from the government, but from the people themselves. But the more we do, the more we shall be expressive of steadfast determination, always vigilant, to maintain conditions under which these virtues are most likely to develop and secure recognition and reward. This is the American policy.

It is in accordance with this principle that we have enacted laws for the protection of the public health and safety, production of nutritious drugs and healing liquids. For purposes of national uniformity we ought to provide by constitutional amendment and appropriate legislation, for a limitation of child labor, and for all other subjects within the jurisdiction of the federal government, a minimum wage law for women, which would undoubtedly find sufficient power of enforcement in the interests of public opinion.

American institutions rest solely on good citizenship. They were created by people who had a background of self-government. New arrivals should be taught to do their duty to America. America must be kept American. For this purpose, it is necessary to continue a policy of restricted immigration. It would be well to make such immigration of a political nature, and to limit it to those at the source, and based either on a prior census or upon record of naturalization. Either method would assure the permanence of those with the originality and energy of the immigrant citizens. I am convinced that our present economic and social conditions warrant a limitation of those to be admitted. We should find additional methods of employment for the great mass registration of all aliens. Those who do not want to be partakers of the American spirit ought not to settle in America.

Veterans

No more important falls on the shoulders of the United States than the adequate care of its veterans. Those suffering disabilities incurred in the service must have sufficient hospital beds and compensation. Their rehabilitation and vocational training must be completed. All of this service must be clean, must be prompt and effective, and must be administered in a spirit of frankness and deportment. Our agricultural schools ought to have thorough courses in the organization and co-operative methods.

Diversification is necessary. Those farmers who rate their living on their lands are not greatly in distress. Such lands are very valuable.

Those who are in distress, however, must be assisted in finding other materials to start in this direction should be financed through a government agency as a temporary and emergency expedient.

The remaining difficulty is the disposition of exportable wheat. I do not favor the permanent interference of the government in this problem. That probably would increase the trouble. By increasing production it is evident that the private government assistance to exports, and authority should be given the War Finance Corporation to grant, in its discretion, the most liberal terms of payment for fat and grain exported for the direct benefit of the farm.

Muscle Shoals.

Heated by a reduction of national and local taxation. He must be assisted by the reorganization of the freight rate structure which could reduce his costs on his production. To make him competitive with foreign countries he must be given a full refund of his taxes.

He must have organization. His customers with whom he exchanges his product must find a market for his product. He must be organized, and there is no way for agriculture to meet that unless he is organized. The acreage of wheat is too large. Unless we can find a market for his product we must stop raising for export. Organization would help to reduce costs.

Systems of cooperative marketing created by the future theorem, will be the best way to combat unemployment without doubt should be assistance, but they cannot wholly solve the problem.

Our agricultural schools ought to have thorough courses in the organization and co-operative methods.

had it in for her, newsways whatever. She naturally believed that everything and everybody liked her, for that was the way she shaped, there being no one who would dare to place the girl in the position that would allow of anything "to cross Bonnie Bell" in any way, shape or manner.

Curly, however, had no objection to change her views when her father took her to the city to live. It took more than immense wealth and her sunny disposition to get recognition.

RETURN OF AN OLD FRIEND

If press critics count for anything and we know they do, then Curly will be a little off, epithet and all, when she comes home again next Saturday, but the king, who he wanted to say, and said so, the heroine, "Bonnie Bell" Wright, the popular player of "Allie Gandy," was the star of his eye, and this what he said of her:

"Bonnie Bell pleased her people, who took to her the saddle like a duck takes to water. There was 16 she could ride any of the stock we had, and if a bronx pitched when she mounted, she thought it was all right, she thought it was just a way horses had and sometimes to be put up with that didn't mean it was any better. She was no better. She never did think anything or anybody in the world

MODEST, yet new, modish, yet becoming, is the fashion authorities' comment regarding the new 23-24 season's hats. Long, wide brims, and wide bands, some or decoration are the chief characteristics. The "underside filling seam is opened just enough at the back to draw the band over the head. This is the best way to appear full without losing slenderness, and the waist line is trimmed just enough to balance with the skirt trimming.

The hat with a brim may be of brown or black silk, Canton or heavy satin with guipure and lace; or of crepe-chiffon plucked out and lined with broad-toed kid. The large French knots are made of the heaviest rags silk in a color to harmonize with the dress material.
