HOW TO COOPERATE WITH THE FARMERS

It is common with the farmer and here he needs. But always with him. Visit his farm and you will find his problems. The farmer's problems is not a problem to be cooperated with, the farmer is making for himself. The business man can do much to remove the depression of the farmer for the business in addition of Twin Falls. We should have a Farmers' night in the chamber of commerce and invite in from 10 to 25 farmers and make their acquaintance. Show the farmer that you are interested in him and his success. Commence a campaign of education which will help make the farmer and the business interests of the same mind. It may take a long time to bring this about but we will have a better acquaintance when this has been done. The ill diversified farmer and plant at least four different crops on your farm each year and remember that if only one crop was started here there would not be sufficient water in our canal to water this one crop in thirty days."

The above were a few of the most pertinent suggestions made last evening at the first number of public forum meetings which are planned by the chamber of commerce for the winter months. The meeting was presided over by Dr. T. J. Lloyd and the speakers were: Family Farm Agent Broadway, Mr. H. M. Brown, J. C. Wheeler of the Twin Falls Canal company, A. B. Swain, president of the chamber of commerce, W. T. Leslie and H. M. Brown.

Mr. Brown was furnished for his information by the "Twin Times" consisting of C. E. Wright, Robert Logan, M. G. Barry and Phil Goodwater.

Mr. Brown stated that 115,000 bushels of butterfat was produced here on this tract but that most of it was shipped out instead of being manufactured here at home. Railroad rates consumed most of the profit in this product and this butterfat should be sold here for 20 cents per pound instead of 12 cents.

Why are not more farmers members of the chamber of commerce? The subject assigned to W. T. Leslie, in his annual report of member ship of this club I did not find a single farmer on the list. He stated that all of the farmers I came home a few years ago the first thing I discovered was a sort of contempt on the part of the farmers for the business men and the sugar factory will not get the cooperation of the business men as they should a few years ago. You should go out and get acquainted with the business men and see their ways and their work. The farmers don't know what the chamber of commerce is doing. We need an educational campaign. The membership fee is too high for the farmer. We also need more industries on our farms.

ALL-STATE FOOTBALL PICKED BY CALDWELL SHOWS SECTIONALISM

In the picking of an all state football team, it has been a common thing for many called football experts to pick a team each year, and each year there is considerable argument concerning several players who are according to other experts, just as good, if not better than those chosen for the team.

A coach of Idaho has taken it upon himself to pick an all Idaho football team, and on this mythical eleven, he places one Twin Falls player, Clarence Garity.

He picks two Boise men and two Idaho Falls men, and the rest are chosen from Filer, Kelso, Burley, Pocatello and Caldwell.

The sports writer of the Times does not contest the knowledge of the coach who so arbitrarily stated some more arguments about the past football year, but he would like to know how this coach discovered that Merleman of Kelso was the better center than the one from Idaho.

Starting with his choice, it is found that Butler of Idaho Falls is chosen as the all state left end. This choice seems to be the work of this state's best player during the season. Jack O'Connell, left tackle for the team of Pocatello. We do not know O'Connell, but don't want to put a name on his feelings or ability, but it is a better tackle than John Barker of the Twin Falls team, then Carmel should be in college, as they don't make better tackles than John Barker.

At left guard Wilson is picked. This seems like a fair choice, that is, as far as he is known in this section. We can't judge the playing of a player until we have seen him in action, and as far as questioning the all state center, they are bound to be a little prejudiced.

Burley Guard Guffelink. We have not had the pleasure of seeing Stevens of Caldwell in action at right guard, but it is safe to say that this fellow Jackkin of Burley is just as good. Jackkin is entitled to credit on the playing of a player until we see the student charging and his ability to get through the line and break it away.

The choice of Delbert at right tackle is a good one. Delbert has demonstrated throughout the season that

SHORT LINE WORK FILLS BELS IDEA

Opinion of Member of Committee Is That Bona Fide Commencement of Work Is Sole Condition Required; Bowman Says Ground Is Unfit to Permit Continuance of Work.

That while there has been a good deal of talk on the part of railroad employees about the building of 22 miles of road between Hagerman and... the contract really provides only that the work of construction shall be started, and the interpretation placed from recollection on the permit of this interstate commerce commission to the Oregon Short Line today, the further progress of the work under the bona fide start, which was checked in the weather, the company had complied with conditions, whether that is true or not in a matter of later pretation.

Asked today in regard to the situation at Hagerman, Archie Bowman, manager for the Utah construction company, said that conditions were such, owing to frozen ground, that it was impossible to go on with the work. He said that the ground was in good condition, but he said that the ground was in good condition, but he said that the ground was in good condition, but he said that the ground was in good condition...

Committee Understanding. The committee in charge of the collection understood at all times that the people here would have to provide the right of way. It was stated by President Arthur L. Swain of the chamber of commerce, today, referring to the communication of Dec. 10, last, mentioned in the Times on several occasions, Mr. Swain stated that the committee collecting for the purchase of the certificate stopped when they had raised about $50,000 and the amount required on the right of way was not known then. Mr. Swain was inclined to accept as possible the version that a start had been made if the certificate required, but did not feel certain about the matter. He said he was convinced that some parts of the line beyond Hagerman had not yet been officially accepted, where there were no other surveys on the committee was promised a copy of the blue print as soon as it was done, with indications of where the line should cross bridges, in order to make estimates on value. He said he had not heard of any estimate of the right of way, though it had occurred to him when mentioned that it was probably the survey of $350,000, was probably a little high.

Case of Shippings. Mr. Swain suggested that probably the cause of misapprehension about the right of way was the action of the first meeting of the original railroad committee with Mr. Gray when the latter said that the right of way would be required, but does not in attendance might have overlooked the condition.

Tom March Application. Jumping a line in the short story of the committee meeting last evening, built up the account of what happened to the application of Mrs. Ella Hicks for a permit to run the Cambridge room. The wording should have been the committee to carry on the request of Chief H. O. Hoffman, in the application of Mrs. Ella Hicks for leave to run the Cambridge room. The substitution of the word "request" for the word "request" left the meaning directly opposite to what was intended.
