

ARMY FLYERS REACH JAPAN THIS MORNING

Longest Leg of Flight is Completed Without Mishap First Two Planes Have Ever Flown from North American Continent to Asia.

PARAMARIBU, ISLAND KURILES, Japan, May 17.—The United States army today announced that the first of the big army flyers which left Denver, Colo., May 10, had after a successful flight from Chicago, Att. 141.

One of the most difficult flights ever attempted and the longest over the sea, the flight from the north Pacific and along the coast of Japan.

The flight was the longest leg of the ambitious effort of the army to span the globe by air and was considered one of the most important of the war.

Oriental News Agencies Greet Marathon Airmen; Extend Congratulations

TOKYO, Japan, May 17.—The following message from the news agencies and newspapers of Tokyo was sent to the commander of the American flyers today at Paramaribu Island, to bid the intrepid airmen welcome to the empire of Japan.

Commander, American Round-the-World Flight: "More than 70 years ago, a brave American naval officer, Commodore Perry, sailed his 'black ships' into the sea of Sagami and into Japanese territory.

Today you brave American army officers have led your 'ships' into the territorial waters of Japan and again into Japanese history, for your deed, will, without question, become an excelsior toward which advanced interest in aviation will strive.

For days since you so bravely set forth from the fertile shores of your native land, across the broad Pacific, you have braved death, braved unknown perils, suffered indescribable hardships for which you are to be honored.

Voluntarily, you offered yourselves as potential sacrifices on the altar of American accomplishment in the endeavor to bring to your nation the honor of being the first to conquer the globe by air. And that you have succeeded in this feat, concluding the most dangerous part of your journey is a remarkable generosity on your courage, on your ability to accomplish, the generally conceived impossible.

As the great nation you represent was the first to win the honor of crossing the Pacific by air, so now it has the honor of being the first to traverse the Pacific by that route. An honor indeed and one in which the world joins you in feeling justly proud.

And so, it will be incomparable pleasure that we, the news agencies and newspapers of Tokyo, through Mr. Iwano Wells at Paramaribu, Kuril Islands, bid you, intrepid airmen welcome to the empire of Japan.

Your feat is as yet far from accomplishment but we feel and hope you will succeed. And to this end, when you take to the air and far forth into the unknown air-world that lies beyond Japan.

May you have a safe and successful journey.

JOHNSON LOSES IN OREGON BALLOTING

Chief Executive Runs Ahead of California Senator at Portland.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 17.—Portland gave Calvin Coolidge more than a 2-1 edge over Henry Johnson in the primary, returns of yesterday's election indicated as they streamed today.

Coolidge had 65,000 votes out of 125,000 in the state-wide election, 25,000 as compared with Johnson's 12,000.

During the early part of the campaign Johnson was rebuffed as a strong possibility in Oregon which went for him in 1923, but his logan was in the middle west, crisscrossed his campaign.

Junior Prom—The members of the senior class of the high school were guests of the junior class at the annual reception Friday evening in the Elks hall. Overlaid was a canopy of rose and brown streamers and from which paros perched on flags were suspended. The window drapes were covered with aprons, flowers and among them the paros were also perched. Large bunches of aprons, flowers and floor lamps and daisies were placed around the room. It was a beautiful setting for the pastel shades of the dress worn by the girls, and one that will linger long in the memory of those present. In the receiving line were David Alfred, president of the junior class, and Mary Newman, Laird Johnson, president of the senior class, and Margaret Thomsen, Harriet Clapp, secretary of the junior class, and Hector Hestrich, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt, Miss Joy and Miss Debrahn. The program was very clever, one page dedicated to members of the senior class and the other to those of the junior class. A very enjoyable program was given, consisting of several songs by the I. F. T. Quartet, composed of Forrest Parroy, Elsworth McElhoolle, Leta Herman and Walter Brick. A dance by Honey White and a reading by Mrs. Herman Behringer. Punch and water were served throughout the evening. The music was furnished by the Devoey-Rice orchestra. The members of the Caldwell baseball team were also guests of the juniors. The patrons and patronesses were: Judge and Mrs. E. A. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Deas, Mr. and Mrs. P. Newman and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Alfred.

Health Hints
by the Father of Physical Culture

One of the gravest errors that can be made is to try to tolerate up declining digestive power with any of the numerous so-called aids to digestion. While it is foolish to tax a weakened digestive power with excessive quantities of food, one must first know to be able to digest, yet the stomach can no more maintain the power when relieved of the duties than the muscles. The simplest and plainest of foods taken in small quantities is the correct remedy for a weakened digestion. Many of the so-called aids to digestion not only do not insure the digestive powers all while they, distill liquor, butter and cereals, come in this class, and while they are necessary and they are certainly more dangerous for the old than for those in the prime of life. Appetition in the form of artificial food must also be classed as "Inorganic" digestive aids. There is real appetizer, they stimulate actively and general good health, but they are not a substitute for a decrease in the secretion of gastric juice. This fact leads to weakened digestion in the stomach, which stimulates the system to counteract by the use of artificial pepsin. The use of such an aid may temporarily increase digestive power, but just as surely as it does other things, it creates a dependence in the natural secretion. Such an effort is very like an effort to lift instead of walking, the surest way to get weary and weaker.

Pre-digested foods are, in the next, pre-digested foods, in so far as they live up to their claims, must be classed as artificial and because they weaken the natural digestive powers. There are, however, a few good wholesome and easily digested foods that are sometimes called "pre-digested" which are unadulterated, unrefined, unmanufactured, and which should not be included in this class. All artificial aids to digestion should be carefully avoided by those who will reach a ripe and normal old age.
