CLECH, Mich., June 6.—Early afternoon rain on the course during the final 18 holes indicated that a score of 236, or 237, would win the meet.

With only Cyril Walker, of the leaders in the field from Bobby Jones, with 200, was leading the field. A double two on the ninth hole by Jones was sensational.

Cyril Walker, with a 35 on the 18th hole, closed his round with a birdie shot, and finished with a 70, to tie in a tie with Bobby Jones for first place in 63 holes.

His card follows: 455, 454, 435—38—70—219.

On the 27th, ninth hole, Jones laid his tee shot on the green pin high and sank the putt easily.

Cyril Walker duplicated the drive when he hit his second shot and his first putt rolled by the cup and he took a three, tied him with Jones at the point on the journey.

The Oregon law requiring attendance at public schools, to the exclusion of private and parochial schools, has been declared unconstitutional by the Federal Court at Portland, Ore. The decision was the result of an injunction brought by Hill Military Academy against State officers to prevent them from executing the law. The law was strongly opposed by the private and parochial schools of the State. The court holds that the rights of parents and guardians were disregarded by this legislation. An appeal will be made to the United States Supreme Court.

From a 3 per cent to a 62 per cent purchase dairy acre county in seven years is the record completed in 1923 by Weber County, Utah. In 1916 there were only six purchased dairy acres in the county. As there is a good near-by market for milk and milk products, the county agricultural agent and progressive farmers of the county felt, in planning their agricultural program, that the dairy output could be advantageously increased. They decided that this could be done most satisfactorily through the introduction of better sires, and have been working on that line. By 1923, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, 800 purchased dairy acres were owned in the county, all of them from dams of three generations back with an official record of at least 600 pounds annual butter-fat production.

The wind that accomodatingly comes in at the kitchen window on a summer morning and into the library or across the front porch on a summer evening, when the architect has given due consideration to orientation factors in certain locations, becomes a veritable demon when it topples a brick wall or a billboard onto a pedestal. And, demon though it is, it is designated an "act of God." In law if the winds were hunking up a record run, this circumstance opens the way to a fertile field of excuses in court cases. The Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture was recently called upon to furnish evidence in a court case concerning a wall which went up in the afternoon and down at night; and in the lack of a justifiable vindictum, cross-examiners developed some embarrassing facts about the manner of the wall's construction.

WILL GERMANY EVER PAY?

Getting blood out of a turnip is easy, compared with extracting reparations from Germany. That much is becoming apparent, though it's hard to get at the truth. Both sides color their statistics. Figures don't lie, but figures are, as Kim Hubbard remarks.

In 1923, for instance, according to the Reparations Commission, the allies were able to squeeze out of Germany only about the equivalent of three and a quarter million dollars in cash reparations.

The Germans, in addition, delivered 111 million dollars worth of manufactured goods and other commodities on reparations account.

These two items do not include whatever France and Belgium were able to make in the way of profits out of their occupation of the Ruhr.

By the time the expenses of the armies of occupation were paid, not much was left in the way of net indemnity.

Up to the beginning of 1924, Germany had paid a total of only a little more than two million dollars, the Reparations Commission claims.

A third of this amount was in the form of deliveries of ships, war materials, cables and territory including the Saar mines.

Apparently Alsace-Lorraine is not included under surrendered territory nor the German colonies. These are worth billions.

Even considering these figures with an eye for propaganda, it's evident that Germany has not paid a cent more than she had to. For that matter, she never will.

How many nations would? Any?

At the peace conference, European diplomats began talking about reparations of from $6 to 189 billion dollars. Some of the American financial experts who were present said: "Germany will pay five billion dollars cash surely, six billions possibly, but not more than seven."

What Germany should pay and what she will pay, are separate and distinct matters.

All the gold that's left in Germany wouldn't be a drop in the bucket with what the allies want. France in particular.

How, then, will Germany pay? Her imports still are exceeding exports—unless she's juggling her figures, which is more than likely.

The leading nations want Germany to sell goods abroad, build up favorable trade balances and turn the money over to the war winners. Then the same nations surround themselves with high tariffs and every other conceivable fence to keep out German goods. They favor selling—but to some one else.

Skeptics have a glimmering suspicion that reparations

$50,000 SHEEP CASE ON TRIAL IN COURT HERE

Jury Will Be Asked To Determine Technical Meaning of Term "Strictly Fat When Applied to Ewes in Sale Contract; Much Legal Talent in Action.

Approximately 150,000 are involved in the suit on trial today in the district court where A. R. Bowman is plaintiff and L. F. Adams, T. F. Beach and W. H. Williams, defendants. The sheep company are defendants. The details of the suit lie in the difference of interpretation of the word "strictly fat," when applied to ewes.

Idaho Mail Club.

Bowman, who is 55 years old, came from Adams and Beach under a written agreement that they were to be strictly fat and in good condition. "The sheep were not 'strictly fat' because the cost of transportation, only to find, according to his complaint, that many of the sheep were in poor condition and not 'strictly fat.' He wanted to express his opinion that the sheep had not increased in weight, but had gained in fatness—measured from $3.75 to $4.

Poultry Train Hero.—The poultry train into the desert shortly before press time had been greatly impeded by a sand storm which had descended from some gathering who had anticipated going, but it is expected that there will be a good crop even before it leaves.

Taking Over.—Under Gustav Kuhn, president of the Twin Falls Co-operative Dairying Association, arrangements have been made to take over the Sterling Creamery plant at the present, in order to wait and determine what effect the dry weather will have on the feed crops.

Charges Insolence.—The plaintiff claims that Adams and Beach are practically insolvent, and proceeds from the sale of undelivered sheep were converted to bed head—insolent, the defendant claims, and that the money held by said company as a result of such improper conversations should be delivered to the plaintiff.

Mr. M. A. McDaniel, attorney.

Hoflin & Stephan, when questioned, very justified for the plaintiffs. Mr. Hodgin representing the firm in the case, while Mr. Stephan is on the board of directors of the dairying association, also a plaintiff's lawyer, Hayes Martin, Cannon & Hayes of Salt Lake City, and C. M. Wilson of this city, John P. Reilly of Portland, are attorneys for the defendants.

It is expected that the trial will be used in order to establish the meaning of the words "strictly fat" which constitute the bone of contention.
