MELLON DENIES KLAN AND LEAGUE OF NATIONS LEFT OUT OF PLATFORM REPORT

Secretary of Treasury Admits That Liquor Permits Were Found in His Distillery But They Were Forged; Called to Testify for Mellon's Liquor Theft.

NEW YORK, June 26.—After failing to get an audience with the Secretary of State, the Klan and League of Nations were forced to leave the platform report of the Democratic convention.

Colonel Thomas D. Federer

of the Klan, the League of Nations and 1,000 delegates were denied admission to the distillery of the Mellon family, where they were met by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Frank

Hubbard, who told them

that the Klan and League

had been invited to the distillery to inspect it,

but that they had been denied admission because they had forged their permits to enter the distrillery.

Mellon said he had no objection to the Klan

and League of Nations

being admitted to his distrillery, but that he had

no objection to the Klan

and League of Nations

being denied admission

to his distillery.

After several attempts to question

Mellon, which were objected to, Colonel Federer was allowed to speak again.

"I am here to speak for the Klan and League of Nations," he said.

"We have been denied admission to your distillery, but we will be admitted to the convention."

"Our Klan and League members are here to send any delegations to the St. Paul convention," said Mc-

Kane, "for fear of communists coming to the convention."

There are not more than 25,-

000 communists in America, members of the Klan, per cent of the League of Nations, will be in St. Paul.

The Klan and League of Nations are the most effective instruments in the country, and they are the most effective instruments

in the world," he said.

With Condit and McAdoo as candidates of the old parties and LaFollette as our candidate, we will fail to win the election," he said. "We will fail to say the last, 'will be interests.'

VETERANS FAVOR PROSECUTION OF DIRECTOR FORBES

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 26.—By unanimous vote the delegates to the fourth annual convention of the Disbanded Veterans Association of America, held in Kansas City, voted to prosecute Director James A. McFarland in connection with his removal from the Bureau of Investigation. The resolution demands prosecution of McFarland for his alleged management of affairs of the bureau. The resolution was introduced by the committee on internal security of the association, which was made up of two members of the Disbanded Veterans Association and one member of the American Legion.

KLAN AND LEAGUE OF NATIONS LEFT OUT OF PLATFORM REPORT

UNITED PRESS HEADQUARTERS, Wash., Hotel, New York, June 26.—After an all-night struggle marked by unkind differences, the Klan and League of Nations were forced to drop from the Democratic platform for 1924, complete but for planks on the Klan, League of Nations and the Ku Klux Klan. The League of Nations would be forced to front on today at a meeting of the resolutions committee.

Although alternative planks, representing the extreme, moderate and centrist views on the League and Klan, were presented, the compromisive declaration on behalf of the League by the committee was virtually adopted, though the League did not support the Klan plank.

That means the final decision will be squarely up to the convention.

Whether the extremists or the moderates will prevail is now a question of life and death.

Constitutional amendments would be voted on, instead of the planks in the original platform.

The agricultural plank, modeled after the Klan plank, which has long been urged by Senator Norris, Nebraska, would remain.

Pennsylvania Bars All

Athletes with Degrees

The athletic council of the University of Pennsylvania recently passed a rule barring all athletes who have received a degree from receiving any athletic scholarship. At the same meeting, five minor sports were dropped from the list of games recognized by the university. These minor sports are football, baseball, basketball, rifle shooting, and trap shooting.

The passing of the decree rule sets at rest a point of contention that has existed in Pennsylvania for years. This rule was passed in 1922, but was rescinded again in 1923, but amended on a retrospect basis.

Long Drive by Golfer

Peter Wilson of Fort Washington, Cal, is the latest golfer to cross a state line in his search for the world's record scratch. After traversing the Mississippi, Wilson's tee shot at the thirteenth hole was hole high to the right. The ball was recovered and Wilson's score was 220 in 201 yards during 18 holes played.

Whaling used the lively ball.

Athletes May Not Write

According to a new ruling of the athletic council of the University of Pennsylvania, an athlete who is a representative of the American team, will be permitted to write for any newspaper, magazine, periodical or news agency. The council also ruled that the representative of his selected team will return to this country after the games in Paris.

Moral education is more than an attempt to save young people from vice. The best way to shield one's life from evil is to be ruled by great, positive ideals of the duty and worth of our human gifts. The chief task of our schools should lie to have young people feel in their hearts what a splendid thing people might make together on this globe if they only cared enough and knew enough to do so.—Henry Neumann.

The Times called attention to the fact that Ku Klux Klan was not a national issue and should not be taken into the democratic convention for that reason. Now Senator C. C. Dill, writing for the United Press Association, practically states the same position in a front page story in today's issue of the Times. He says that this was injected into the convention to defeat McAdoo and now it has got beyond their control and will perhaps defeat the party in the fall election. There is little doubt that the republican party will capitalize this issue to the limit and we have good reason to believe that the G. O. P. has already started overtures to the Klan. If this issue causes McAdoo's defeat for the nomination then we doubt whether the party can win at the polls this fall. In case Meadon cannot get a majority we are inclined to think that Newt D. Baker will be the next choice of the convention.

It is probably useless to point out to George Bremen of Illinois that in carrying on a campaign to falsely imply that William G. McAdoo is the candidate of the Ku Klux Klan, he is endangering the success of the democratic party in November, since Bremen, as the representative of the big interests in Illinois would rather see the democratic party defeated than as progressive as McAdoo elected president of the United States. This is a common state of mind of big interest "representatives" everywhere. The Klan charge will be resented by the non-klan and anti-klan followers of McAdoo quite as strongly as by the Klan members themselves. Many of them will feel that it would be better for the democratic party to lose than to elect the sort of person that Bremen would favor. The democratic party must be the party of some progressiveness or go out of business. It has no other reason for existence. Nevertheless, it is safe to predict that Bremen will not rule the New York convention and that whoever is nominated will be progressive in spirit and in fact.

INDIANS FORM SERVICE CLUBS

Indian schools throughout the southwest have taken an active interest in the work of the American Junior Red Cross. Thirty "Fit for Service" clubs have been formed in the Sogor Indian school at Colony, Okla., and in the Chilocco, Okla., school the juniors are carrying on a school improvement campaign.

At Haskell Institute, the government Indian school at Lawrence, Kan., the class meetings have been given over to Junior Red Cross work, each class constituting a unit. Class officers serve as officers of the junior organization.

Many of the older Indians also are keenly interested in the Junior Red Cross and one woman in New Mexico was so anxious to possess a junior button that she offered to trade a hundred pieces of pottery which she had made.

The pupils in the Indian Schools throughout the country are carrying on Junior Red Cross school correspondence with white schools in the United States and with many schools in foreign lands.

VETO OF POSTAL SALARIES BILL

In voting the postal salary increase bill President Coolidge has displayed political courage of a high order, for the bill's death at his hand will probably be resented by thousands of postal employees their friends and relatives, whose votes will be needed by the president in November. The increase in salaries carried by the bill was also reasonable enough to win a large degree of popular approval. An exceptional amount of newspaper support had been accorded the bill. The disappointment in the postal clerks throughout the country will be keen and if the postal service does not suffer from consequent demoralization the government will be fortunate.

The president's familiarity with these facts is to be assumed and his veto must have been written because of his high sense of obligation to safeguard the treasury from an unwaranted deficit. Congress made no special provision for raising the money required ($60,000,000), to meet the extra salary payments. The tendency to pass bills making a large deficit inevitable and alienating the secretary of the treasury accounts for the president's action in this particular case. He will be accused by democratic partisans of having vetoed the bill partly because it carried the house corrupt practices measures as a rider. That charge is not to be regarded seriously, particularly as he declines he would have signed the rider had it been sent to him as a separate measure, but the veto is the more difficult to justify because the desirable corrupt practices provisions would have been enforceable in the important presidential campaign—Springfield Republican.

Underling. Wheelbarrow

Useful to Handlo Cans
Anyone who has tried to carry a large filled milk can or to push it on an ordinary wheelbarrow, will appreciate the use of one of the underlings shown in the illustration.

The frame of an ordinary wheelbarrow is used, but the regular body is removed. A platform is suspended under the frame, by means of flat iron bars, so that the user stands within a few inches of the ground. The rear brackets are made in two pieces, and slot, as indicated, so that the platform can be adjusted to suit the height of the user. The platform itself is made of one-inch bars held in each side by lengths of angle iron. The center of gravity is so low that the load can be carried without danger of tipping.

Expensive Equipment Is Not Necessary for Dairy

Centuries, to common belief, expensive barns and equipment are not necessary for the production of clean milk, says the dairy department of the New York State College of Agriculture.

When in the winter of the cow, milk contains no dirt and few, if any, bacteria. It is during and after milking that cows become dirty. The dirtiest cows come from sources are dirty nests and under, dirty pall and other vessels, and a dirty barn.

A little care eliminates all of these dirt sources. It is not necessary, however, to have elaborate equipment.

The farm with the simple equipment should add it later to exercise care than he had a lot of complicated equipment.

The New York State College recommended that the tests and under of the cow be cleaned with a damp cloth before milking; that all utensils be sterilized after milking; and that if he did lay aside 20 per cent of his income he would still be indulging in wasteful habits.

There are rigid rules and regulations that the farmer and his family might practice saving of any considerable sum of money. On the other hand, a little care and a lot of common sense will do more to save him money than any amount of new equipment.

Milk, under these guides, will be free from dirt and will contain only a few bacteria. In order to prevent this, the milk should immediately be transferred to a can and cooled to near 60 degrees Fahrenheit. If possible, straining of milk is unnecessary.

Alfalfa Most Excellent

Feed for All Dairy Cows

The farmers are asked to have their alfalfa tested.

All the ratios which are fed to dairy cows, alfalfa hay being the last from the standpoint of value. Its feeding value is due to its protein content and its palatability.

In the West, alfalfa is our cheapest roughage; and for this reason some farmers are inclined to feed it alone to their cattle. This is a mistake. "To do this from this great feed," says Dr. W. W. Walckens of the Colorado Agricultural college, "would be as bad as an unbalanced diet in the kitchen in respect to the quality of the feed constituents. The animals cannot be kept up in health and vigor and they will fall off in production when Russell, to a certain extent, is fed. The result is a loss of grain and during the winter's sufficient feed for an excellent dairy ration."

Cooling Cream Promptly

After Separated Is Best

The cooling of cream immediately after it is drawn is pretty important, say the experts in this case. Too often, however, the farmer selling cream fails to realize that there would be a corresponding improvement in his cream if it were cooled immediately after separation. The most efficient cooling can be obtained by use of a surface cooler, over which the cream is passed in a thin film, while water is passed through a tube. Ordinarily the volume of cream is insufficient to justify the use of such a cooler. In that case it would be put in a tall, cylindrical can of the ubiquitous type and placed in a cooler until thoroughly cooled.

"Never Gave Right Answer." "Right, which is right, is fast as lightning, if it gets to the right answer," says the Washington State Extension Service News.

NO FIXED RULE FOR AMOUNT INDIVIDUAL SHOULD SAVE

By S. W. STRAUS,
President American Society for Thrift

WHAT percentage of a man's income should he save? This is a question that frequently arises, and a brief discussion of it may be of interest to many who have given but little thought to the matter.

Some time ago the United States Savings System was established, and the first year, 1921, the amount spent by the public in Clermont, Oregon, to visit relatives, they operated one camp accommodation.

Henry and Mrs. John Myers, and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Sorenson, spent $100 in their vacation. Kansans, too, are spending a lot since leaving Oklahomans and that is why far the clearest and best lit- erature on the subject is that of the savings and tax authorities were most accomodating and courteous, and that they greatly preferred pay camp.
