BEAN CROP IS INJURED SLIGHTLY BY THRP

Bug Man from University Extension Says Little Pest Does Little Damage to Crop on Tract; Fields That Have Been Injured Have Suffered from Obscure Disease; Plant Pa. Obscure to Arrive Today to Study Situation.

Thirty is doing no damage to the bean crop that amounts to anything worth mentioning. It was stated by Professor P. F. Whitehead, whose it is thought he that the certain fungus on some plant to "hammer" the trouble which has led to the showing up of some fields in the west—and which has appeared in less degree and intensity in other parts of the state is due to a disease of which he is unable to determine the nature, since it does not belong to his department of work. Professor W. H. Harker, plant pathologist, will be here this evening to look over the situation.

Confidence in Beans Growers express every confidence in the bean crop this year. The few fields plowed up in the west end have possibly been contaminated the same crop. A few raindrops are awaiting the verdict of the plant pathologist before deciding on a course of action.

LA FOLLETTE'S RUNNING-MATE MAY BE DEMO

Two Prominent Progressive Democrats Are Considered for Second Place on the LaFollette Ticket; Krooman and Wheeler Are Two.

CLEVELAND, O., July 3.—A platform of economic reform—calling for further farm aid and greater protection of the children of labor—has been drawn for adoption by the progressive convention which tomorrow afternoon in Cuyahoga county will elect the two major political parties.

The convention of 1000 delegates representing progressive groups in every state, plans it is learned today by the press, to elect LaFollette, its candidate, as free in his race against the demagogue and the reactionaries.

Leaders gathered by the western party to elect a president from the three-candidate field, will not act as an independent and not act as a distinct "third party" group.

A telegram asking LaFollette to explain a word in an open letter for reading before the convention was forwarded to him in Washington this morning.

Lower normal taxes, higher surtaxes, government operation of vital public utilities, revulsion of the public sentiment for lower freight rates and government aid for farm marketing will be demanded.

Lower normal taxes, higher surtaxes, government operation of vital public utilities, revulsion of the public sentiment for lower freight rates and government aid for farm marketing will be demanded.

It was agreed that the president would remain in Washington throughout the summer and one of his speeches making for the ticket would fall upon LaFollette.

Dark horses were still the favorite, but the number and one of the same odds as Governor Al Smith—100 to 1 compared with 3 to 1 against, respectively.

Underwood, Ralston and Blitch were the favorite dark horses, with betting on each of them at 100 to 1.

When a President of U. S. Was Elected by Congress

A Leaf Out of History a Hundred Years Ago Tells of a Deadlocked Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 3.—The history of the election of an American president was recalled in the House of Representatives today. A historical record of the election of John Quincy Adams, Massachusetts, in 1824, an independent candidate, was read in the House of Representatives.

The four candidates in the field were John Quincy Adams, Massachusetts, secretary of state; Henry Clay, Kentucky, speaker of the house of representatives; Andrew Jackson, Tennessee, general; and William Crawford, Georgia, secretary of the treasury.

The bitter campaign that followed the country was split in sections, and a record of the election of Adams was read in the House of Representatives.

AMERICAN'S HERITAGE

(By HAL COCHRAN)

Out in the open, today folks are grappin' For sunshine and fresh air and rest. A picnic affray is the cue of the day And with freedom we all appear best.

Through long years of schooling, we've engendered self-cultiv; Old Glory is boldly unfurled.

It can't surprise that we're realizing, From cities, 'way out to the sticks, The world can't 'enclave us; 'twas freedom it gave us.

4TH COMES FIRST

Fourth of July isn't what it used to be—outwardly. While saved his pennies for months to get enough explosive and fire to burn his fingers and endanger his life.

Most of that is buried with the past. The politician may talk by radio. But the blacksmith now owns a garage or filling station and puts in the day at the wheel.

But nothing can change the spirit of the Fourth of July. It is Uncle Sam's birthday—anniversary of our political independence. That independence is not yet completely achieved.

SAFETY FIRST FOR THE FOURTH

A few years back the loss of human life from Fourth of July celebrations was very high. In 1903, 3449 persons were injured and 466 died from the effects of fireworks jubilation.

To the World war preventive doses of lockjaw anti-toxin were neglected, and the use of this agent was delayed until symptoms of the disease appeared.

In war wounds and in wounds due to fireworks in Fourth of July and other celebrations, the lockjaw comes from the dirt introduced into the wound.

Cure and caution must be especially exercised. Prevention is better than cure. We do not need to take the lessons and painful impulses out of our celebration of the nation's birthday.

Farmers Warned of Harmful Methods of Irrigation in West

PORT COLLINS, Colo., July 3.—Belief that the millions of dollars spent on irrigation of arid lands of the west may accomplish no permanent good unless drastic measures are taken to enforce proper methods of distribution of water has been expressed by Dr. Charles A. Lory, president of Colorado Agricultural college.

In some of the older irrigation districts Dr. Lory explained he had drained the natural salts from the soil, profoundly affecting the character. It also has resulted in an increase of bacterial from which takes nitrogen from the air, giving an excess to the ground.

Nitrogen, Dr. Lory explained in proper quantities is beneficial to soil, but in excess makes it sterile. No satisfactory means of combating this soil sterilization through excessive and improper irrigation has been found, he said.

Figures presented by Dr. Lory warned farmers that unless they find some means of correcting present irrigation practices, much of the plains region of Colorado and other western states may "with a few generations again be the stamping ground of buffalo, antelope, coyotes and rattlesnakes, making the homes on deserted farm properties."

Democratic Party Failed to Secure Majority in 51 Ballots. The delegates appear to be growing angrier as the vote of state election starts little or no change. Everyone is increasingly weary and wishes it were over. More than 100 delegates have come home and others are going to leave to go if something doesn't happen soon.

Through it all, the milling and confusion attending on the crowded floor, the "chicken and the spafic" democrats and the almost unrelenting warfare of colored backbiters in the California section, Bryan moves bravely.

Other leaders are more vigorous and apparently much more businesslike in the way they rush about, but Bryan never falters. His is the confidence of past success. And the very few galleries here hint shows their fear him.
