There are many signs of better things for the Twin Falls tract and for the cities of Southern Idaho. Every indication would point to the fact that times are improving rapidly in this section of the Gem State and we will come into our own in the near future. The new railroad seems to be going ahead by leaps and bounds and many other improvements of a permanent nature are being made from day to day. New business enterprises are coming into Twin Falls and the other cities in this part of the state. Men are taking a new hold upon the problems of life and with renewed vigor they are pressing on to bigger and better things.

The United States Bureau of Education of the Department of the Interior has made available for the first time reliable facts as to the extent to which farmers' children are being educated in high schools. Complete returns from the states of Maine, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Montana, and Oregon show that 3.15 per cent of the total farm population are enrolled in high schools as compared with 3.55 per cent for the non-farm population. In three of the five states—Maine, New Hampshire and Oregon—however, higher percentages of the farm population are enrolled in high school than the non-farm population. In these states it is significant that through centralization of high schools more than 80 per cent of all high schools serving farm children are comprehensive four-year high schools while in the two states where lower percentages of the farm population are enrolled more than 50 per cent of all high schools serving farm children are small one, two or three-year high schools. Decidedly higher percentages of girls are enrolled from both farm and non-farm groups. On an average the percentages of girls enrolled are more than one-third higher than for boys. If education is worth anything for productive work, either we must depend more and more upon our women to do the productive work of the world or we must find some solution for the problem of getting our boys in school.

O

Everywhere we hear kicking and grumbling about the long drawn out Democratic national convention in New York City, but those who grumble should remember that there is one great issue at stake in that convention and that issue is what is causing the long fight. It is the fight of the progressive forces of the Democratic party against the reactionary forces of Wall Street which is represented in Governor Al Smith of New York state. In our opinion the money power of the East has spent untold sums to stage the convention boom for Smith and to prevent the progressive forces from getting control of the government. They are willing that any man should be nominated but McAdoo. It has even been suggested that the Republicans may be a party to this Smith boom to down McAdoo. There are enough Republicans in this nation who will support McAdoo to put him over if nominated and no one knows this better than the reactionary forces of the Republican party, so they are spending thousands of dollars to keep the Smith standards flying, knowing that every cent they spend to defeat McAdoo now will be saved in the national Republican slush fund later. Brother, before you growl again think this over and then ask yourself just as those delegates who stand for progressive government who are in New York City are saying to themselves, "Shall we sell out to the plutocracy of America or shall we stand for that which we know to be right even if it takes all summer?"

WHY THE ISSUE WAS RAISED

While mistaken in assuming that a third party is either necessary or advisable in order to get economic rights for the people, there is a world of wisdom in the statement at the La Follette gathering at Cleveland by Representative Laguardia of New York, candidate for the vice presidential nomination of the convention, who made a vigorous speech in which he charged that the religious issue was injected into the Democratic national convention by the Wall Street interests who wished to cloud important economic issues.

If Wall Street and J. P. Morgan or Henry Ford or any others of that kind were selecting a presidential candidate they would take Cardinal Hayes, Rabbi Wise or anybody else if they thought they could control them," Laguardia said.

The real purpose of injecting the issue was to get the delegates and the country divided over religion, which is the business of the individual citizen, and thus prevent the nomination of a candidate who would stand squarely on the Democratic platform. However, they will be disappointed; a progressive Democrat will be nominated;

Inch in Millions

It is no longer necessary to use a measuring tape even when dividing an inch into a million parts, because a new machine for comparing the standards of length has been made available at a reasonable laboratory in England.

This comparator is capable of accurately measuring the millionth part

Canal Company and Minidoka

Unit Protest About Conditions to State Reclamation Commissioner; Minidoka Unit Claims Whole System Is Illegal; Another Meeting Saturday.

Dissatisfaction was voiced by representatives of both the Twin Falls Canal company and the Minidoka unit at the meeting at Burley Saturday. What they said was that it was determined, after the filing of complaints, that the Minidoka unit should be held morally responsible in that it had not met its obligation to the canal system. It was agreed that further necessary steps will be considered. Immediate steps to the protection of the canal system will be taken.

The Twin Falls Canal company is represented by Mr. E. F. Gray who said that in his opinion that in each instance of natural flow or storage rights the state should have taken into consideration the rights of the unit. The canal company, the reclamation board and the state, in their action, should take into account the stream, and also should have considered excessive irrigation in the case of the Minidoka unit. The canal company, in its opinion, has been carrying the transmission of water from Jackson lake to the date rates of the users. It is pointed out that in its opinion that in each instance of natural flow, the Twin Falls tract is entitled to a share, not yet determined of the stored water.

In addition to the objections and demands which it contains, the Minidoka unit holds that the entire system of trading and storing water is illegal and that all water stored under the agreement.

Judge James H. Howell and Magistrate Burton Smith attended.

MOTHER OF TWIN FALLS HERBER IS DENIED INSURANCE

HOBBS, July 1.—Christine Vaudouher, mother of the twin sons of Mrs. Herbert, died at her son's home yesterday. She was 80 years old. Her son, Yannick Hobbs, a Basque sheep herder, is 16. He is the supreme expert in a decision which will affect the entire Basque population of Idaho.

The board held that she was not entitled to compensation.

An appeal was taken to the supreme court, which denied the claim.

Bilbao was shot in the head by one Carter, March 27, 1920, and died three days later. He was employed by James V. Hobbs, a Basque sheep herder, and casualty company, the insurer, appealed the case to the supreme court.

On April 10, 1920, Mrs. Vaudouher applied for compensation under the workers' compensation act. A hearing was held and it was decided that she was entitled to compensation because of her son's death but was not dependent on him for support. An order was issued making denying compensation and awarding $1,000 to the state industrial administrative fund, there being no dependents.

An appeal was taken to the district court which held that she was dependent on her son and an order was made directing the insurance company to pay him $1,000. The company appealed to the supreme court.

Case Heard Before Judge

The case was heard before Judge W. A. Balcock at Twin Falls. The supreme court ruled off all evidence which did not bear directly on the question of dependency, holding that the evidence was irrelevant.

Judge Balcock admitted more evidence, and this was thrown out, leaving the testimony insufficient to sustain the claim.

U. S. MINT FIRE CAUSES MUCH EXCITEMENT

DENVER, Colo., July 7.—Considerable excitement was caused at the United States mint shortly after one o'clock yesterday when the firm owners answered a call to the building.

Heavy smoke billowed from the windows of the north side of the building, and the fire department damage done. A supply of oil papers had caught fire in the boiler room while the janitor was burning paper in the furnace.
