

S. HISTORY TAUGHT WRONG SAY TEACHERS

Stemboat was invented by Fitch and Not by Fulton Is Claim of Ohio State Teachers; Original Model Is in Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., July 8.—Here evidence to dispute American history as it is taught in the schools: Robert Fulton did not invent the steamboat.

The steamboat was invented by John Fitch, a Connecticut Yankee, who later lived in Ohio.

At least that is what they teach now at the Ohio State University, where Fitch's original model rests in a glass case in the museum.

The mystery of the invention to find financial success in his invention but in the fact that the public would not patronize his conveyance after he had made two initial trials up the Delaware River.

People were afraid to venture on Fitch's strange boat and his scientific increase gave way to financial failure.

Former Minister to France Robert Livingston became interested in the idea of Fulton's and agreed to promote the idea.

The center in the mechanical rooms at the Ohio State University is claimed to be the first built by Fitch.

Flashes had been provided for the schools on a small scale with possibility of running off the tracks.

U. S. Bar President Sounds a Warning

Congress is Making Encroachments Which Are Dangerous According to Noted Jurist and May Become Memorable to Nation; Costs of Legislation Increasing Rapidly.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 8.—The constitution of the United States is the favorite topic of President H. Lee Sander, of the American Bar Association, at a meeting here today.

There are now pending in Congress nearly 100 proposals to amend the constitution, practically all of them conceived, fostered and urged by highly organized groups or committees.

As the only aspect for father's estate, the model engine went to the daughter of Fitch, who had married Dr. James Kilbuck, a physician in Connecticut in 1803, to lay out shares ownership and the title of Washington.

Congress Encroaching. "One of the just causes of complaint against the system of legislation in this country is the encroachment of Congress on the powers of the executive and judicial departments."

And what are the results? There are more than 750,000 men in the federal government, 340,000 of whom are employed by the national state and municipal governments.

Such has been the tragic fate of nations since history began. You will recall, the English parliament once extended its life from three to five years.

When adjournment was taken, Ralston's workers indicated that his full strength had not yet been revealed, but if the temper of the convention means anything the conference of this afternoon may determine the nomination.

FALLACY OF SO-CALLED GUARANTEE OF BANK DEPOSITS BY LAW

An Attempt to Create Integrity by Legislative Act—Mere Words No Good Substitute for Individual Responsibility, Says Bankers' Chief.

By WALTER W. HEAD, President of the American Bankers Association.
The bank deposit guaranty act intended to establish fictitious value—to create value by order of government. Adopted first in Oklahoma in 1909, this plan was carried into several western states and "differenced" for a brief time, to inaugurate serious issues in connection with our national banking system. Recent experience has proved, in this instance as in others, that sound economic law cannot be displaced by legislative fiat.

Walter W. Head

The Oklahoma guaranty deposit guaranty act as a result of the failure of a number of banks in the state. The system was misnamed at the start. It was not a guaranty, in any true sense of the word, but simply a form of mutual insurance. The various state banks were assessed a limited amount, in proportion to their respective deposits, to pay the losses incurred by failures. For a time all went well. The property incident to the development of territory, recently opened to settlement, prevented failures. The state guaranty act was brought about a crisis in the guaranty system of Oklahoma. In November, 1921, the failure of the Bank of Commerce of Oklahoma brought the estimated total liabilities of the Oklahoma Guaranty Fund up to $3,500,000. Guaranty funds are drawn from the interest, under the law which then existed, and the amount that the interest charge would cover was insufficient to meet the obligations. The guaranty fund was then assessed a maximum possible annual assessment.

Failure and Repeat
Other banks failed in the following months, and the plight of the State guaranty fund was becoming more and more desperate. State banks surrendered their state charters and entered the national system. By January, 1923, deposits in such state banks were $1,000,000, or only half the total of the year 1921. This was the condition when the state guaranty fund was again assessed a maximum possible annual assessment. The guaranty fund was then assessed a maximum possible annual assessment.

BILLION-DOLLARS A MONTH WEALTH GAINED IN AMERICA

By S. W. STRAUSS, President American Society for Thrift.

VARIOUS authorities who have been asked to estimate the amount of money which is being accumulated in this country by the people of the United States, have placed the sum at $750,000,000. One way of looking at this vast amount is to remember that the sum last year, the amount of our annual savings bank deposits.

And there is still another way of looking at it.

An eminent economist estimates that the total yearly savings of the American people amount to $12,000,000,000. This includes all the additions to our national wealth through the saving of money, through investment in stocks, bonds and through increase in value. It is the net annual profit of the great American family.

That a quarter to one-third of this wealth output of our nation was no greater than our annual net necessities of food, clothing, shelter and maintenance and that we have added only one-sixth of this great sum to our material resources.

The fact that we thus are able to pile up $12,000,000,000 in wealth each year is sufficient proof of the opportunities for financial progress that are held out to the individual in this country.

Where there is such opportunity for legitimate advancement, it is all the more desirable that as many of our people should seek advancement through methods that result in loss and defeat.

The situation is due partly to ignorance and illiteracy, partly to the gambling instinct which has partly because of the abnormal desire of thousands of our citizens to seek riches in a hurry.

No one should lose sight of the fact that a billion dollars a year flowing through illegal channels means not only that the general business has been deprived of that much money, but that a heavy burden is placed on the public through impaired business activities and a loss of jobs.

The financial capacity of a man, his limitations and the amount of money he is able to accumulate are not in his mind—that such representations will often be offered to defend or justify from business principles as measured by the ethical scale of the age.

Does Twin Falls Wish to Continue to Play Baseball

(An Editorial.)

The crisis in baseball has been reached in Twin Falls and we stand at the point, Manager G. E. Cosgriff is not getting the support which a manager deserves who will undertake to furnish high class baseball for a city the size of this town. Money is scarce and few possess very much of it in tangible form, but we spend a certain amount for amusement, and we are willing to spend a reasonable amount for good baseball but there is too much of a tendency to "grab" in this town.

The Blues have lost some games which they should have won. "Fat" Cosgriff should have done some things different than he did, but had you been in his place, would you have done any better?

In the second place, what have you really done this year? To help make a winning team for Twin Falls this season? Your answer must be "crab," because that is about all the encouragement that Cosgriff has received.

No one has time to go out and raise money to help support a baseball team, and Cosgriff has a regular business which he must look after in order to make a living.

He has asked some of the business men to confer with him and try to raise some money, but they are all too busy to go out and spend an hour toward this community move.

Twin Falls likes to watch good baseball and we have a splendid team but with such support as the last three games were given it is no encouragement to try to stage good baseball here.

"If anything is done worth while some one must pay the fiddler and it is your turn to pay, but you have failed. The fiddler will stop fiddling unless somebody begins to pay." The Blues.

American Fall is coming here next Sunday, and this may be the last game of the season unless better support is given. Somebody, and there should be quite a few of them, go out and sell 1,000 tickets for this game and you will have a team for the rest of the year.

The weather was again perfect for Olympic sport with no wind, plenty of sun and a fast track.

CHRISTIANS AND METHODISTS TO PLAY TONIGHT

Tonight the "Knickerbocker" and the "Columbian" will receive bats in the annual game at 6:30. These two teams are the same number of games. The Christians lost their last game to the "Knickerbocker" and the Methodists in turn defeated the Baptists, who are hovering around the bottom tier of the league.

Eddie Martin of the Twin Falls high school team is playing for Manager Harry Pittman and his boys and is too fast for the average Twin Falls hitter. Eddie has a great swing and has been making runs "scoring" and if the Methodists can find a catcher that will hold him out of the "square" he is assured.

However, when the rules are changed in the near future to conform to their own game of these young stars are likely to be the class of the league.

Manager "Dip" Patrick of the Columbian has several good mound men and will probably use the following tonight:

Tom Many Old Stars

Quite a number of the members of the Twin Falls league team are "whether or not" players, that is, they do not have the equipment. Some of the church teams are practicing "old time" baseball and using newspaper editors, college stars, "hand-holders" of every stamp and there are several "interlopers" playing heavily. This class of players is trying to make the Twin Falls league look too much like each church is trying to shut out "ringers" in order to win the game which the majority of fans want to bring on the young men and boys of the church and Sunday schools.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's hero—Dottie Miller of St. Louis, cardinal first baseman, who was knocked unconscious and driven to the hospital by a pitch was reinstated after making what looked like an impossible catch of a foul in the fifth inning. The Cards went on a rampage and socked out 20 hits, which counted for 15 runs against the Chicago Cubs.

The Pittsburgh Pirates advanced to within a half game of third place when they vanquished the Brooklyn Robins 9 to 5.

Weak hitters on the mound for the Boston Red Sox took both ends of a 4 to 0 victory from the Philadelphia Athletics 6 to 2 and 6 to 3.

TWIN FALLS—MAN TAKENS TENNIS AT PORTLAND JOURNEY

PORTLAND, Ore., July 8. Henry H. Graham, tennis champion of Idaho, who is making a tour of games in Spokane, Portland and Astoria, this morning won his second victory in Portland. He defeated the local champion who is Oregon's ranking tennis player.

This morning Graham defeated the local champion in the Oregon tournament. The score was 6 to 1 and 6 to 1.

Several players were "bored" in his battle to the finals because of his records. These were Ray Eby, Harry West, Catin Wolfard, Harry Gray, Herbert Scott and Henry Graham.

Graham will work at Spokane by defeating Hiram Shuler of Spokane. This gave the Twin Falls star the means for his Island trip.

In the match today Graham won two victories by the score of 6 to 2 and 6 to 1. Graham's record in 1923 was 15 to 1.

Want a change at luncheon?

Then try this remarkable new recipe—think the woman who sent it to us. Ready in 3 minutes with QUICK QUAKER.

HERE is a different luncheon—different from any you have ever known. A friend sent us the recipe. It was so good and so simple we tried it. Now it's sweeping over the whole country, most amazingly. You, too, may like it.

Ingredients: 2 cups QUICK QUAKER, 1/2 cup water, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 level tablespoons cooking oil.

Bring water to a boil. Add cocoa and sugar. Stir until well blended. Add QUICK QUAKER and milk. Cook 3 to 5 minutes. Serve hot or cold with cream. Wonderful child, moulded and served with care.

Standard full size and weight packages: Medium 1/4 pounds, Large 3 pounds, 7 oz. Cook in 2 1/2 cups.
