League Points with Pride to Its Success in the Saare Valley

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press State Correspondent)
GENEVA, July 22.—With production of coal in the Saare Valley reaching during the month of March and April, almost one-half, the League of Nations has been compelled at the close of the war, the League of Nations is pointing with justifiability at the administration, not only there but elsewhere, as a prosperity getter.

At the present time the league is again engaged in forcing the administration of the Saare Valley and the free city of Danzig, for the time being in control of the financial administration of Austria and Hungary.

In all of these four centers, the league has not only been able to set the financial and economic situation back onto a sound basis, but has been able to bring about a degree of prosperity, that is fast becoming a reality in both areas.

The prosperity that has been developed by the league's administration in the Saare Valley must have been reflected in the latest quarterly report of the League's governing commission for the district.

All previous records since the end of the war for coal production in the valley were shattered during the month of March when a total amount of 360,000 tons were extracted.

This figure is being steadily maintained since then.

This increased production has resulted in an "increased" coal traffic on the railways of the valley which now carries 600,000 tons a day against 35,000 tons last year.

Unemployment has also decreased to about one and a half per cent.

Coal Tax Suppressed.

As a result of the increased production, the league's commission has arranged for the suppression of the tax on coal and beginning next year the French mines will make a direct contribution to the transportation expenses of the mine owners equaling one-half of the entire budget.

An "example" of this increased prosperity, the league's commission has been able not only to balance the budget, but has also been able to finance on a sound basis, but even to provide for certain increased expenditures.

One of the latter items is for an increase in the military personnel, which at no time, as far as can be learned, has received adequate police protection, will replace entirely the present French army of occupation.

As other indications of the prosperity that has been developed in the Saare Valley, administration, it is pointed out, that 12,700 new lodgings have been constructed since 1921.

The number of automobiles in the valley, which totalled barely 400 in 1919, has increased one thousand.

River Traffic Increases.

The traffic on the river has also reached such proportions that the league's commission has arranged with the municipality of Saarbruck for the construction shore of a port entirely independent of the port for the mines.

Imports by water ways which in 1921 totalled only 37,000 tons increased in 1922 to 360,000 tons, while exports increased from 300,000 tons to 493,513 to 665,618 tons.

The league expects from now on to publish regular reports not only from the Saare, the free city of Danzig, but from Austria and Hungary, as well as from the success of its administration in these territories.

As a matter of fact, so great has been the success of the league, to date, especially in the Saare Valley, that other European countries whose finances are in bad shape, are investigating the possibility of asking the league to intervene and help them back on their feet. Portugal, especially, has recently been approached by the League's administration in these fields.

SAYS BRAZIL HEAD TO QUIT

Sao Paulo Rebels Issue Ultimatum Demanding Resignation of President Bernardes and Restoration of Full Suffrage to the People of the Republic.

MONTEVIDEO, July 22.—The revolutionists in Brazil, who overthrew President Getúlio Vargas, have issued a manifesto declaring fighting must continue until President Bernardes agrees to resign and full suffrage is re-established, according to dispatches arriving here from Rio de Janeiro via the Panama liner West World.

"We desire the same conditions that prevailed during the empire," the manifesto says. (Brazil had an imperial form of government, 1889-1930.)

White-clad revolutionaries in Rio de Janeiro, the seat of the revolution, are threatening to march on Sao Paulo if the rebels do not win, one American resident of Brazil said, a long civil war seems inevitable with the possibility of a breakup of the Brazilian republic.

The rebels, he said, will have no much chance to stand at a hand-to-hand combat with a butchery."

Hand Meets Gun.
Amid the strains of "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," revolutionaries from Brazil's white-clad youths, according to a radiogram received by the Associated Press from the Panama liner Pan-American, at 10 o'clock last night, accompanied by Governor "Cowboy" J. Hinkle, prepared for his fifth trial for contempt.

If the rebels do not win, one American resident of Brazil said, a long civil war seems inevitable with the possibility of a breakup of the Brazilian republic.

The first business session of the congress opened this morning at the Hotel Utah, Tomis, here, L. Tracy, president of the U.S. society, will speak on the subject and deliver a stirring appeal for patriotism.

The federal troops, now reinforced until they number more than 35,000, are encircling Sao Paulo and are getting up batteries of heavy artillery.

Thousands of refugees have fled from Sao Paulo into the interior, and toward Santos, which is calm. All railroads leading into Sao Paulo city have been cut and the famous portuguese capital is beleaguered on practically all sides.

Some mob depredations were reported. These disorders however are reported being checked ruthlessly.

BIG AMERICAN PACKING PLANTS IN SAO PAULO, INCLUDING THE $25,000,000 ARMANDO PLANT, OPENED DURING THE WORLD FAIR, WAS REPORTED.

Other reports reaching here say the federal forces have brought up several additional airplanes which are flying daily over Sao Paulo city, when weather permits.

The rebels do not indicate the rebels are near defeat and one message says they are extending their lines toward Santos where federal troops are entrenched.

Young Della's father was partially affected. He was a little child, but he was brave and gave his consent to the plan of guilty.

"One parent of young men can protect them, but it is important to train these people when they realize that their sons were murderers and there was no use to fight for their freedom."

When we told the parents that there was no hope—that their son could not and should not go free if they were willing to place their sons at the mercy of this court, our only hope is that the court will spare their lives; whether they are sentenced to life imprisonment or to a maximum of 30 years.

None of the boys in jail.

Darrow then related the scene in the county jail when the boys themselves told him that the fistic had ended—that lab accomplishment should be made to go free.

He went to the jail and Darrow said "and told the boys how interested was their parents and their attorneys; but decided they only thing to do was to plead guilty and get out."

"And I want to tell you just those boys accepted the idea without a whisper. They really agreed to our plan. They showed us more chancery than when they really condemned the sentence."

Darrow was in conference today with Benjamin Bachrach, chief assistant defense counsel. They were preparing to present arguments to the court against hanging Leopold and Loeb.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowley, meanwhile, refiled his declaration—that nothing short of the gallows would satisfy the public mind.

Leopold and Loeb are said they are guilty; they must hang and they shall hang; until this is their sentence.

Crowley and his aides were gathering together their witnesses to support their plea for hanging.

AMERICAN FINN WINS OLYMPIC BY BIG MARGIN

WHITE HILDA WHO BREAKS WORLD RECORD Gets Training In America But Must Register As of Nation of Birth in the Paris Olympiad

NEW YORK, JULY 21—A scene of ingratiation, like nothing that White Hilda did in the opening event of the Olympic Games of 1924, United States Standard Athlete and distance runs throughout the year for several years. All he learned of his running game, all the best training could teach him to White Hilda did in Paris.

But under the rules of the Olympiad, White represented Finland at Paris. And when the starter's gun sent the men away on the first event of the twin and field programs, the Finn triumphed again, finishing with a world record, won the race with 200 yards to spare and was set on another lap of the huge Colosseum before the last, first American home finisher.

It was the flag of Finland that won up above the scoreboard, first to be honored because of an Olympic victory.

Spring's acrobatics, an acrobat will bring Hilda his success. Many acrobats triumph in the 10,000 entrants at Paris the greatest individual Olympic achievement of hands.

In the first place rain was falling exclusively, and the track was heavy. This means it is to runners who must run along for more than six miles. Their running shows drag on, the muscles are tired, they are hampered— even with an alibi, for proportion— more than short distances.

Running as though it were a day of spring sunshine, his most dangerous enemies, the field events named Wide. The two set out at a pace that quickly left the entire field behind.

Then the pace, with the Finn at his elbow, still held. Then, alas! Then Hilda lengthened his strides and gradually worked up to a past its rival. Stride for stride, he drew away from Wide, who could not match the terrific pace.

What would the American race become a one man affair, but the Finn never let up nor panted less. On his race as though the seven days of the old Finnish legend were slipping his heels. He was a tremendous animal at the finish with the third Wide a couple of hundred metres back.

Wide cut 12-1 seconds from his former record of his track, but what he would do now he had been pushed or led he knew the race was over, no one knows.

Hilda, thought he had another jump to go, and he was tearing along at a great speed, running round the landmarks of the field on his way.

When Olympic officials flagged him and finally dragged him from the track.

Four years ago, Hilda won the same great at Antwerp on that occasion setting a new Olympic mark in a new world mark. At the Antwerp games, the Finn's time was 30:36.5. At Paris it was 30:23.1.

No acrobatic, Hilda's, singular showing in the 16,000 days later, Hilda went out a couple of days later and won the 3,000 metre steeplechase without turning a hair—the first double winner of the games.

Presbyterians Play Methodists Tonight

The Methodist and Presbyterian teams are to furnish the baseball entertainment at Lincoln park this evening when they meet for the second time on the league schedule. The game will be played sharp at 6:30.

Major Ohlkelaker's team, which has not been beaten by the Presbyterians' undefeated, have planned to galm strength and are planning to give the first place holders a decided advantage. The regular Presbyterian team is looking for a big victory. They are expecting to fill the box with any player that can "set the ball" across and depend upon the infield and outfield support which has played a big part in the series.

With this change in baseball tactics, the fans are expecting some fast baseball this evening.

BOXING

NEW YORK, July 21—Jack Zivic and Jack Niestrzak will fight tonight at the International Athletic Club in another of the sugar factory bouts which have made a world record, won the race with 200 yards to spare at the finish but was set on another lap of the huge Colosseum before the last, first American boxer.

It was the flag of Finland that won up above the scoreboard, first to be honored because of an Olympic victory.

Carter Leads in Golf Tournament

CHICAGO, July 22.—With Capt. E. Carter of the Finsamoor club, Chicago, in the lead, 150 golfers set out today on the second 18 holes in the second round of the western amateur golf championship.

Captain Carter, once champion of Ireland, scored 34-35-69 in the first 18 holes. This was three under par for the course. His golf was masterfully played, his driving excellent.

Four players—Jimmy Marion of St. Louis and George Dawson, Rudy Knepper and George Wickell, all of Chicago—led for second honours, with scores of 70-72, 72-72 and 73-73. John Dawson, Chicago, and Frank Dyer, Memphis, finished in a tie for third place with cards of 72-72. Thirty players had cards of 72-73.

Thirty more golfers are to qualify for match play—Chick Evans, the present title holder being automatically qualified. A score of 163 for the 36 holes probably will be necessary to stay in the running.

CINCINNATI,—Oscar Johnson's tour license has been granted the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox, by Commissioner K. N. Landis, after J. McGraw announced today:

The action of the Twin Falls city council in deciding to take action toward eliminating poplars which are breaking up the sidewalks is commendable, especially in view of the cautious manner in which it is proposed to proceed to carry out the plan is worthy of praise. The letter of the law will be observed. No tree will be condemned unless it is clear that it is injuring either the sidewalk or the pipes. The members of the council expressed regret that any action was necessary, but where it is clearly required it would be criminal negligence to fail to act.

The marking of the Old Oregon Trail is in move in the right direction and should call forth the hearty co-operation of every one in this community. Some of the pioneer mediators of the Twin Falls tract drew water from this point on Rock Creek where this trail crossed as long as fifty years ago. This is remarkable and every effort should be made to bring to the present generation those facts which link up this section with the early history of those who blazed the trail through this part of Idaho. Proper markers should be established and this historic trail should be pointed out to tourists and the younger generations.

The Twin Falls court of honor of the boy scouts held a meeting Sunday in a wonderful place for such an organization. It was up in the mountains next to nature and near the place where scouting receives its greatest impetus. The scout cabin is a favored spot with the boys and one which brings inspiration for such a movement. But the two scout camps are to be congratulated on the splendid work they are doing in this great movement for better citizenship. This is the time and place to build for better citizenship and we are of the opinion that more real constructive work can be done through this agency and in this time of life than ten times this same effort put forth later in life at some political or other educational session. Better citizens can be created easier by beginning right rather than by allowing wrong habit to be formed and then put forth corrective measures in the shape of reforms.

Make a suggestion to the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce on what can be done to place the Twin Falls tract more fully on the map. The chamber of commerce has asked that this be done and if you have an idea or suggestion worth while write same down and mail it to the secretary and he will look after it in the proper fashion. Suggestion is the life of a community and new ideas are what keeps the world moving. So if things aren't going to suite you perhaps you can suggest how they might be improved. We have discussed through these columns the feasibility and possibility of a rim-to-rim bridge and the purchase of Blue Lakes for a country club and also to connect this city and the southside up more closely with the northside and The Times would like to have communications or suggestions on which one of these ideas is the better. We suggest that you write us your idea of this suggestion and which you think is the most feasible for the amount of money to be expended. We might ask "Would you favor a new water supply for this city?"

REGISTER AND VOTE

It is the duty of every American citizen to take an active interest in politics and the places that such activity can be made effective are in the primaries and at the polls. A voter might be an authority on government, but he is utterly worthless as a citizen through failure to convey information possessed to others and through neglect to vote.

The light manner in which many voters approach the subject of the exercise of the ballot is something appalling. Most men and women will give careful consideration to the question of the immediate expenditure of money. Yet it ought to be quite obvious that a change in freight rates, in tariff rates, in electric light and power rates, all of which more or less depend on the political action of the people, will mean a great deal of money one way or the other to the citizen during a year. Aside from the question of patriotism as a cold-blooded business proposition, it's time to study, not with prejudice but in the coldest light of reason all these issues, and vote intelligently. For where there is so much involved, there is bound to be extensive propaganda. The wide ramifications of this are surprising to those who are not students of the subject. The dramatic comparison of the strategy of politics to that war made many years ago by Senator Ingalls of Kansas holds true to a great extent. The most elaborate schemes for deception are planned and practiced.

Some folks say that they are too good to enter politics. Well, then, they are too good to enter business, for the corrupt politician is generally in close touch with some corrupt business interest. The fact is that this parochial talk about being too good to perform political duties in reality means too cowardly or too lazy. Politics is the business of everybody and the shirkers are responsible for its corruption.

Leading Magazines Seek Articles Giving Plans for Program of 1924; More Entertainment This Year Than Ever Before; Great List of Cash Prizes and Many Special Offers.

Two leading magazines of the amusement world have requested J. M. Markel, secretary of the Twin Falls County Fair association, to prepare articles giving in detail information concerning the fair.

The results are indicative of interest throughout the country in the exposition of products of the most successful irrigation project in the world.

From "The Billboard" comes a letter asking for a letter telling of the equipment and entertainment features of the county fair and also for photographs of the fair and its secretary.

A third communication has come from "The Clipper," the sheet newspaper.

More information will be provided guests of the Twin Falls county fair this year than ever before, according to Mr. Markel.

Persons attending the fair have been invited to attend all the running events: golf, tennis, basketball, baseball, football, and night riding at the fair, which will be held at Filer, September 9-12.
